Owyoung grandmother to 3 Eagle Scouts earning $48,000 in Legacy scholarships

Sacramento Elks Lodge No. 6 had a very unique Legacy Scholarship presentation. Beverly Owyoung has been a member of the Lodge for nine years, and she just became the first female member to officially have a grandchild win a Legacy Scholarship. Beverly has four grandsons, and they all are Eagle Scouts. Her oldest grandson was an Eagle Scout and graduated from high school before Beverly was an Elk. Her next two grandsons were members of the Boy Scout Troop 259, sponsored by Elks Lodge 6. They both won Legacy Scholarships, but their mother was a member of Elks 6. They thus received their Legacy awards as the their mother's sons. At a special awards luncheon on Friday, July 8, Beverly's youngest grandson, whose parents are not Elks, received his Legacy Plaque inscribed with "Bryant Fong, grandson of Beverly Owyoung." His $4,000 scholarship is renewable for three more years, making it worth $16,000. By the time Bryant graduates from college, Beverly's three grandsons will had the potential to have received $48,000 in Legacy Scholarships. These scholarships are available to the children and grandchildren of anyone who has been an Elk for the previous two years.

Carmichael resident Shlanda Breeden crowned Mrs. California Heartshine

Carmichael resident Shlanda Breeden was crowned Mrs. California Heartshine, awarding her the opportunity to represent the Golden State on the national stage at Disneyland next year. As Mrs. California, Shalnda is using her reign to act as a community leader and advocate on behalf of her community while partnering with organizations geared towards aiding animals that are battling diseases.

Service is at the forefront of Shlanda's passions. She created her own personal initiative: Canine for Cancer after her dog named Dutch. A bullmastiff, Dutch was diagnosed with stage 4 cancer. Many people are forced to put their pet down when facing the high costs of veterinarian care that comes with being a pet owner. But with Shlanda's initiative, she provides life-saving financial information to pet owners to direct them on ways to cut down expenses for their pet's veterinary care. Shlanda has partnered and volunteered with the Sacramento SPCA's annual fundraising event the Doggy Dash, which is held each year in William Land Park. Shlanda is now raising funds for Canines for Cancer by partnering with the Heart Shine Organization for the Pageant for a Cure event.

Outside of her dedication to service and animal care, Shlanda is a multifaceted titleholder. She is currently a student at Grand Canyon University and will a bachelor's in business management in October. She also works as an accounting officer for the state of California and is the owner of a pet party business called Kit Kat Poochie Parties. At the parties, she provides cakes with beef, chicken, lamb, turkey, and salmon fillings. Shlanda has a love for sports and is a die-hard Dallas Cowboy fan.

An ambassador, leader, and educator, Shlanda plans to use her title to continue spreading the word that pet owners can afford medication for their fur friends while being financially responsible.

The Miss Heartshine Pageant is an all-ages, progressive national pageant system that celebrates inner beauty through a program that empowers, inspires and change lives. The pageant awards an incredible prize package filled with opportunities and scholarships and is also a certifying organization for the Presidential Volunteer Service Awards. This Miss Heartshine Pageant prides itself on helping girls and women grow their confidence and leadership skills through positive experiences, community service events, personal development workshops, modeling, and performing opportunities.

Upon hearing about her crowning, Shalnda told this publication that she was so excited and surprised to be crowned state Queen Mrs. California. "I thought what a blessing to be chosen to have such an important role as State Queen," she said.

As State Queen, she said her title means she can utilize her platform to educate people on how to better take care of their sick pets financially to where it is cost-effective.

Shlanda said the first thing that came to her mind was -- how would I be able to afford to get the medication that I need to help my fur baby get better?

So she took on a second job knowing the medication alone would be very costly. During her journey caring for Dutch, she came across a veterinarian who suggested not getting the medicine through the veterinarian because it's more expensive that way. She took his advice and went to an outside pharmacy based in Scottsdale, Arizona called Diamond Back and purchased a chemo pill for Dutch. "I believe at the time the chemo pill was $89 instead of me paying over $200 at the veterinarian hospital. The Prednisone that she needed to get to keep Dutch eating was only $1 at Walmart. Suffice it to say, she learned you can go to an outside pharmacy to get medication for your pet instead of going through the veterinarian's office. "It's much cheaper that way. Some veterinarian doctors won't do it, but most will. You just must find out which veterinarian doctors are willing to do that for you," she said.

Fair

fornia's most celebrated events had tens of thousands of fairgoers gather to create new memories, laughs and reunite with their loved ones, despite the temperatures reaching triple-digits in Sacramento.

Live music and refreshing wine slushies were the perfect combination to cool off from the heat in the newly expanded and renovated Save Mart Wine Garden. "We're so thrilled Opening Day was a great success," said Rick Pickering, Cal Expo General Manager and CEO.

"It's fun seeing so many people and families out having a great time and enjoying their favorites at the new additional food trucks and other additions. On Opening Day, I witnessed a family who had not seen each other in three years, and they reunited with one another at their favorite place, the CA State Fair to take part in their traditions," he said.

Chaka Khan engaged the crowd and brought everyone from the young and the old to their feet with her sultry, soulful, captivating performance. And the night capped off with spectacular fireworks show. The exciting shrills coming from the rides and the positive buzz from first-ever California Cannabis Exhibit, were among the main attractions on day 1.

The California State Fair runs daily through Sunday, July 31st at Cal Expo. You can also check out all the attractions online at CaStateFair.org or download the CA State Fair app to help map out each visit to this year's Fair.

The California State Fair is an international award-winning fair, receiving top honors at the International Association of Fairs and Expositions out of more than 1,100 fairs worldwide. The California State Fair is dedicated as a place to celebrate the best the state has to offer in agriculture, technology and the diversity of its people, traditions and trends that shape the Golden State's future.
