Prickly Treasures in Bloom

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Exotic Xerophytes are prickly gold for collectors in tune with the craze for cacti. More than 400 fans recently packed the Carmichael Cactus and Succulent Society's 45th annual Show. Flowering brightly, hundreds of plants changed hands.

"We had one of our best-ever shows," reported society President Eric Trygg. "A hundred people were waiting for our doors to open on the first morning. In two days, we made more than 1000 sales."

Collectible cacti are trendy but not cheap. Specimens that sold for $10 a decade ago can ring the register now at $30. At the Carmichael sale, rare plants were offered with $600 price tags. Some customers paid upwards of $400 for their selections.

Most of the inventory came from Southern California. Growers also offer plants - from Mexico, Asia, South Africa and the tropics - at shows all over USA.

"Collecting has become lucrative," explains society member

Lorelei Dewe. "Many people re-sell plants for much more than what they paid for them. A plant you gave $30 for ten years ago could be worth over $600 now. I don't sell mine - I get too attached to them."

Festival proceeds support Carmichael Cactus and Succulent Society activities. The group has over 100 members, who meet at 10 am on the first Thursday of each month at the Carmichael Park Clubhouse. Annual membership dues are $15 per year or $20 per family. For information, visit www.ccandss.com ★

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Balmy weather greeted nearly 700 musicians at the Community Band festival in Carmichael Park last weekend. More than 800 fans sweltered, danced and applauded.

The annual Carmichael tradition celebrated its 50th year with back-to-back concerts by 19 bands.

The Sacramento Youth Band kicked off two-days of marches, pops and symphonic selections.

Saturday's "Jazz Evening" featured two swing and jazz ensembles. Perennial crowd pleasers, the Ophir Prison Band, marched onstage on Sunday morning.

Closing the event, the 20-piece society band "Symphonia Phonotone" presented dance music of the 1920s and 30s.

On June 17, Carmichael Park District's concert season begins with a 6:30 pm concert by the variety pop band Kicks. For information on this season, visit www.carmichaelpark.com ★

Carmichael Bank of the West Branch Changes Ownership

The Bank of the West branch in Carmichael Village Shopping Center at 4001 Manzanita Avenue and Fair Oaks Boulevard is joining the BMO family.

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - The Carmichael branch of the Bank of the West at 4001 Manzanita Avenue is scheduled to see new exterior signage installed soon as owners BMO Harris Bank, N.A., complete their rollout of the bank's new business name.

BMO signage has already been installed at the former branch of the Bank of the West at 7831 Greenback Lane in Citrus Heights.

The Bank of the West website continues to announce the ongoing name change to BMO to its customers. Inside the local branch, in the Carmichael Village Shopping Center near the corner of Manzanita Avenue and Fair Oaks Boulevard, it was "business as usual," as tellers and branch managers at the Carmichael Branch busily attended to customers with their banking needs.

Local residents may remember that 4001 Manzanita Avenue was once home to The Westerner Drive-In movie theater, operated by United California Theaters in the early 1960s. It closed in 1981.

In its place, the Carmichael Village shopping center is home to Ace Hardware, Starbucks, Leslie's Pool Supplies and Bel Air Market.

An outside lobby ATM machine bore the dual logos of Bank of the West and BMO until the conversion is complete. BMO is headquartered in Chicago, Illinois.

BMO's acquisition of Bank of the West, headquartered in San Francisco in February brings its nearly 1.8 million customers into BMO and extends its banking presence through more than 500 additional branches and commercial and wealth offices in key U.S. growth markets, according to the company.

As the 8th largest bank in North America by assets, BMO is positioned in three of the top five U.S. markets, has a footprint in 32 states, and expanded both its national specialty commercial businesses and its digital banking platform to help its customers to make real financial progress in all 50 states in announcing the acquisition earlier this year.

Until conversion of the banks' systems, expected in early September 2023, Bank of the West customers in Carmichael will continue to be served through their respective BMO and Bank of the West branches, websites and mobile applications.

In the coming months, BMO will continue to provide Bank of the West customers in Carmichael with key information about how the combined bank will serve them, including the plan for the conversion of their current accounts.

The bank has automatic teller (ATM) locations inside local Walgreen's Drugs in the area which will feature the new BMO signage.

The BMO branch at 4001 Manzanita Avenue in Carmichael is open Monday through Friday from 9 am to 5 pm and closed weekends. For more information, call (916) 487-1100 or visit: <https://www.bankofthewest.com/customer-service/branch/california/carmichael/4001-manzanita-ave>★

Students Ride FREE on SacRT

A study by the University of Texas found that RydeFreeRT not only improved school attendance, but it also reduced transportation barriers to get to jobs, internships and extracurricular activities. Photo courtesy of SacRT

SacRT News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) is entering year four of the RydeFreeRT fare-free rides for youth program. Launched in 2019, RydeFreeRT was the first unrestricted youth fare-free ride program in the country. The program allows all 265,000 youth living in SacRT's service area, from transitional kindergarten to 12th grade, including home-schooled students, foster and unhoused youth to ride all buses and light rail trains for free, all day, any day of the year.

The RydeFreeRT program has helped boost student ridership, which now accounts for nearly 25% of all SacRT bus and light rail rides over the last year compared to 8% before the launch of the program in 2019. In fact, student ridership is on pace to carry nearly 3.5 million youth in FY 2023, double what it was in 2019 pre-pandemic. This demonstrates that students and youth are one of the most price sensitive groups impacted by transit fare.

"We value our young people and that means helping them get to school, jobs, and activities," said SacRT Board Chair and Sacramento County Supervisor Patrick Kennedy.

The ridership growth is a testament to the success of the program, which initially aimed to reduce truancy and absenteeism in schools. However, a study by the University of Texas, which evaluated the program, also found that RydeFreeRT not only improved school attendance and reduced congestion from vehicle pick-up lines, it also successfully reduced the transportation barrier to get to jobs, internships and extracurricular activities after school and on weekends.

"We're introducing a new generation of riders to transit," said SacRT General Manager/CEO Henry Li. "Research shows that people who ride public transportation at a young age are more likely to use it as adults, building ridership for life."

As students head into summer break, SacRT is reminding them and their families that youth in kindergarten through 12th grade can continue to ride the entire SacRT transit network, including SacRT buses, light rail, and SmarT Ride on-demand microtransit service for FREE! To ride free, students need to show a valid RydeFreeRT card.

New RydeFreeRT cards with a valid date of June 1, 2023, through June 30, 2024, are being delivered at various school locations and Sacramento Public libraries. The current RydeFreeRT card is still valid through June 30, 2023. Cards are also available at the SacRT Customer Service and Sales Center at 1225 R Street in Sacramento (adjacent to the 13th Street light rail station).

The RydeFreeRT program is possible with funding from all member jurisdictions that comprise of SacRT (the cities of Sacramento, Citrus Heights, Elk Grove, Folsom, Rancho Cordova, and the County of Sacramento).

New RydeFreeRT cards are available at schools, public libraries and SacRT Customer Service and Sales Center.

Legion Holds Fundraiser Ball

By Elise Speiss

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - For decades the American Legion and its counterpart, the American Legion Auxiliary have been known for their tireless work helping veterans at home and overseas in a myriad of different ways.

Carrying on this legacy, May 20, 2023 was a special evening of fun and relaxation but with a most important purpose: to raise funds for the American Legion's program signature program, Operation Comfort Warriors (OCW). Attendees came from all over Northern California from all levels of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary. The event took place at the Doubletree Hotel in Sacramento.

Sylvia Thweatt, Commander of Post 637, greeted attendees, calling for the opening ceremony with Posting of Colors by the Folsom Marine Corp, singing of the National Anthem, and Chaplain Terry Ledford giving the invocation.

As is tradition with the armed forces, the program continued with eight toasts, each followed by a response to honor our government, active armed forces, military families, others who serve including non-military first responders, and our fallen who have died in defense of freedom.

The meaning/explanation of the empty POW/MIA table set for one, set next to the stage, was read by Martha Romano, followed by the final toast made with water, to represent those who have not in 2022 which benefited 5,500 veterans. He said, "Last week I submitted our 51st grant request for 2023, providing a grant (an elliptical bike) to our chaplain, Terry Ledford, (U.S. Army Retired). Chace reported they have given out a dozen of the elliptical bikes to veterans. It is reported that exercise equipment is the most requested item from OCW.

Ledford gave his testimony of how the stresses of the military had affected him, saying, "Being in the military can be stressful on the body." Even though he would have liked to make a career in the service he was forced to retire early in 2015 after 26 years in the military. He now has braces on both his feet, making it hard to walk. Recently, he joined the American Legion which gave him direction as he was able to help other veterans. He then reached out to OCW, saying he could not walk well and could not run. He was given a grant and received his elliptical bike in the beginning of May.

Upon receipt of his bike and working with it he felt blessed. He said he felt freedom for the first time in a long time with his machine, built to imitate running. He said, "First the American Legion gave me purpose and OCW is now helping me to rehabilitate (strengthening his muscles for a longer life)." He thanked the Legion for all they have done and continue to do for him, and Douglas Chace for being there to give him hope again.

Tickets for the ball included a full buffet, live music and dancing, raffle prizes, silent auction, and full bar. The evening ended with dancing until the lights went down and music ended. Attendees gained a new appreciation of our wounded, ill, and injured veterans and those who care for them.

While the care at many military hospitals and warrior transition units is extraordinary, The American Legion's Operation Comfort Warriors (OCW) program was created to provide "nonessentials" - items that help wounded warriors recover but don't usually show up as a budget line on government, such as the elliptical bikes, Xboxes, and home exercise equipment, the most requested item. ★

It's Not A Joint Venture,
It's A Marriage

Dear Dave,

When my wife and I got married, she had about $70,000 in savings and I had a lot of debt. We bought some property from her parents to build a home on, and she made a 20% down payment on the land from her savings. We've paid off some debt, and she has more in savings now. But I feel guilty and it seems unfair to ask her to pay on our debt with her savings since most of it is debt I brought into the marriage. How do you feel about this?

— Sonny

Dear Sonny,

This question tells me you're a good guy with a good heart. But let me ask you a thing or two. When your wife gets sick, is it unfair for you to take care of her? You didn't cause it. It's not your fault. Of course, it's not unfair. I'm not mad at you, buddy. I'm just throwing your own logic right back at you.

Dave Ramsey Says

Maybe these next lines will sound familiar: for richer or for poorer, in sickness and in health. The old "Book of Common Prayer" continues the vows and says, "Unto thee, all my worldly goods I pledge." This is called oneness. It's called unity. And it's what a good marriage should be about.

Do you get what I'm saying, Sonny? The two of you are in this together. This is not a business partnership or joint venture. It's a man and a woman pledging themselves, and all they have and are, to each other. I understand your feelings, but if you're not careful, that kind of guilt will stand in the way of you two creating a successful marriage—both financially and emotionally.

When you got married, the "me" and "mine" became "we" and "ours." You got all her stuff, the good and bad, and she got all of yours. Now it's time for you to work as a team to make the bad stuff go away and the good things even better. What's fair (and what's right) is to combine all of your income, all of your assets and all of your liabilities.

I know it's uncomfortable, but you've got to choose courage. Ask her to go all in on this with you and attack your debt together. Work toward making your dreams come true together as one.

That's what's fair, and that's what's best when you're married.

— Dave

Newsom's Expansive Health Care Promises to Californians Remain Elusive

By Dan Walters,
CALMatters.org

Five years ago, while running for governor, Gavin Newsom pledged to transform California's medical care to a single-payer system similar to those in Canada and western Europe.

Newsom backed single-payer legislation, which had passed the state Senate, saying there was "no reason to wait around."

"I'm tired of politicians saying they support single-payer but that it's too soon, too expensive or someone else's problem," Newsom said.

His position helped solidify support for Newsom among the proposal's progressive advocates as he duelled with a fellow Democrat, Antonio Villaraigosa.

The bill stalled in the Assembly, and after winning the election, Newsom began edging away from the single-payer concept, citing difficult barriers. One is persuading the federal government to give California the $200-plus billion it spends on Californians' health care — about half the state's total medical expenditures.

Newsom segued into pursuing universal health care, meaning all of the nearly 40 million Californians would have some sort of coverage, and came close last year.

At the time, "About 3 million Californians reported being uninsured in spring 2022," a report from the Public Policy Institute of California notes, citing census data. "Nearly seven in 10 (68%) are Latino, about 38% are noncitizens and 80% have low or moderate incomes (below 400% of the federal poverty line)."

Some of the gap was closed in the 2022-23 budget, drawing on what seemed to be a nearly $100 billion budget surplus, by extending Medi-Cal coverage to undocumented immigrants otherwise ineligible for federally subsidized insurance.

"Beginning no later than January 1, 2024, Medi-Cal will be available to all income-eligible Californians," the final 2022-23 budget declared.

The expansion of Medi-Cal — California's version of the federal Medicaid program — was made easier during the COVID-19 pandemic when federal authorities relaxed eligibility requirements. This year, enrollment topped 15 million, or nearly 40% of the state's population.

Under his "California Blueprint," universal health care is still Newsom's professed goal. However, at the moment, coverage appears to be shrinking, and with the state facing chronic budget deficits, reaching it before Newsom's governorship ends would be difficult, if not impossible.

The federal government's "continuous enrollment" pandemic policy is expiring and hundreds of thousands of Californians who benefited from it will once again have to prove their eligibility.

Newsom's revised 2023-24 budget, unveiled last month, projects that Medi-Cal enrollment will decline by more than a million people, still more than a third of the state's population but moving away from the universal coverage Newsom has sought as a single-payer substitute.

Single-payer advocates are, unsurprisingly, annoyed by Newsom's failure to deliver on his 2018 promise. They gave him some heat when he appeared at last month's state Democratic Party convention.

Covering all Californians would be expensive. Medi-Cal coverage costs federal and state governments about $10,000 per enrollee. No one knows precisely how many Californians still lack coverage today but 2 million is as good a number as any, and including that many more in Medi-Cal could potentially cost another $20 billion a year.

Meanwhile, single-payer advocates haven't given up. Last week, the California Senate passed Senate Bill 770, aimed at implementing a plan for single-payer coverage developed by the Healthy California for All Commission, which Newsom created in 2019.

The bill would direct state agencies to begin talks with federal officials about participating in a California single-payer system.

"It's time we made real progress toward eliminating the inequities and injustices of our fractured healthcare system," a co-author of the bill, state Sen. Scott Wiener, a San Francisco Democrat, said.

As Newsom finally learned, it's much easier said than done.

Grand Jurors' Association Adds Twelve New Trainers to Its Cadre

Beginning in late June the trainers will fan out across the State in teams of three or four and begin the challenging work of sharing their experience and knowledge. Photo courtesy of CGJA

California Grand Jurors' Association News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Each Year the California Grand Jurors' Association (CGJA) looks for potential trainers from among the jurors it trains in order to further its core mission of taking on the education of civil grand juries throughout the State. This year 12 new trainers joined the association's faculty, bringing the total to 31. Consisting exclusively of volunteers, the training staff, experienced trainers, and new trainers gathered recently in Sacramento to learn techniques and strategies, review training materials and build camaraderie.

Beginning in late June the trainers will fan out across the State in teams of three or four and begin the challenging work of sharing their experience and knowledge to make each county, and our entire state, better — one report at a time.

California is the only state in the Union whose Constitution mandates that a grand jury be sworn in each year. Each civil grand jury's task is to act as a watchdog of local government with a requirement to write at least one report on one aspect of county government.

CGJA coordinates with counties throughout the state to meet with and share best practices for their jurors to be the most effective in making positive changes to all aspects of local government. Every area of grand jury service is reviewed in each two-day seminar provided by the volunteer trainers; everything from strategies jurors may use to determine the topics to investigate to conducting interviews to producing effective reports.

Each year over 1,000 jurors are provided with CGJA's training — a credit to county governments and CGJA. More than 100,000 Californians have been civil grand jurors and each year, California's civil grand juries across 58 counties issue nearly 500 reports.

Counties are currently in the annual juror selection process, often aided by local chapters of CGJA, some of whom work closely with the Superior Court's presiding judge to assist with recruitment, orientation, and vetting the applicants.

To learn more about California's one-of-a-kind civil grand jury system, CGJA's 4th edition of "California Civil Grand Juries: History, Law and How they Operate" is available as a free download at <https://cgja.org/californias-civil-grand-juries-0> For more information, go to <https://www.cgja.org>. To apply to serve as a grand juror, check out the website of the Superior Court in your county.

The California Grand Jurors' Association is an all-volunteer, nonprofit organization 501(c)3 dedicated to promoting, preserving and supporting the civil watchdog function of California grand juries. Each year, CGJA provides training to grand juries to help them more effectively fulfill their state constitutional authority to, among other things, investigate and report on the conduct of local government as an arm of the Superior Court. ★

What If I Delay but Die Before Claiming Social Security?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: Hypothetically, if I plan to sign up for Social Security at 70 and pass away before that, I will get nothing. My spouse would still get a boost in the amount she receives because I made more, but everything I put into the program vanishes. I haven't reached my full retirement age yet and I still have income, but if I sign up now at 63 my benefits will be withheld due to my income. Then at full retirement age (presuming I elected to claim earlier) a re-calculation will take place and my monthly amount would be adjusted. Well, what happens if I decide to wait until 70 but pass away before I claim? Are my contributions repaid in a lump sum, or will I (or someone else) still lose everything? Signed: Uncertain About My Future

Dear Uncertain: You are correct that if you pass away before collecting your earned Social Security benefits you won't personally get anything. Social Security has, since inception, been a "pay as you go" program where those currently working and contributing to Social Security pay benefits for those currently receiving Social Security. That means that if you die before collecting, the monies you contributed will have already been used to pay other recipients, but the contributions you made may still entitle your dependents to benefits on your record. For those who are in their early 60s, average longevity is mid-80s, meaning your spouse would likely collect benefits on your record for more than two decades, any minor children could collect until they are adults, and any permanently disabled child you may have would get benefits from your record for the rest of their life as well.

The Social Security payroll taxes you contributed were not put into a private account in your name. And, on average, it is to the beneficiary's advantage the program doesn't work that way because that personal account would be depleted fairly quickly after you claim — rather than getting benefits for the rest of your life, you'd only get benefits (plus interest) from your personal account, which would run dry pretty fast. FYI, we have researched this very carefully and found that, on average, all payroll taxes contributed to Social Security by an individual will be recovered within about 5 years of starting benefits. The actual length of time to recoup one's contributions varies somewhat depending on lifetime earnings and contributions made, but lower earning beneficiaries will recover everything contributed through payroll taxes within about 3 years, while it could take as much as 5 years for higher earners to get back everything they've paid into the program. And for clarity, since self-employed individuals pay both the employee and employer portion of the payroll tax, it does take longer for those who own their own business to recoup what they've contributed. Nevertheless, on average, most who claim benefits will get considerably more from the program than they paid in Social Security payroll taxes.

As to your specific question, if you die before collecting, the contributions you made weren't deposited in a personal account for you and won't be paid out in a lump sum. Rather, the payroll taxes you paid while working were used to pay benefits to beneficiaries receiving at the time, and those working and contributing after you die will fund the benefits paid to your spouse or disabled adult child until they die, or to your minor children until they are adults. The Social Security benefits you earned aren't just for you — your eligible dependents will also benefit from your record.

Where Did All the Money Go?

Newsom's plan to cover California's ballooning budget deficit

By Alexei Koseff,
CALMatters.org

California's estimated budget deficit has grown by $9 billion since January, Gov. Gavin Newsom announced, though the governor downplayed the severity of its potential impact on critical government services and programs.

During a press conference at the California Natural Resources Agency in downtown Sacramento, Newsom unveiled a revised spending plan that will rely on some additional fiscal maneuvers — including shifting funding sources and internal borrowing — to address a projected $31.5 billion gap in the 2023-24 state budget.

"We have a $31.5 billion challenge, which is well within the margin of expectation and well within our capacity to address," Newsom said.

Despite the growing shortfall, California's overall budget is now expected to be $306 billion, including special funds, less than a 1% decline from a record $308 billion in the current fiscal year.

Newsom proposes to close the deficit by shifting an additional $3.3 billion in existing commitments out of the general fund, including paying for $1.1 billion in climate spending and $1.1 billion in college student housing projects with bonds, and pulling back another $1 billion in unused money from programs such as middle-class tax refunds and utility bill support for low-income residents.

Under the governor's plan, the state would also borrow $1.2 billion from special funds and increase by $2.5 billion a tax on managed care health plans to address the spending gap. Extensive savings would remain largely untouched, though Newsom did propose to make a $450 million withdrawal from one reserve account.

California's fiscal picture has largely worsened since January, when finance officials projected the state would face a deficit of $22.5 billion. Newsom called it a "modest shortfall" and proposed to delay billions of dollars in spending commitments, reverse recent steps to shore up the state's fiscal health and shift around funding sources to limit program cuts.

Enduring high inflation, turmoil in the regional banking sector and a showdown in Washington, D.C., over raising the federal debt limit have all deepened the economic headwinds. California relies heavily on income taxes from its wealthiest residents, whose earnings have taken a hit with drops in the stock market.

Monthly tax revenues came in billions of dollars below forecasts this spring, and fears of a recession continue to loom, which Newsom said could reduce state revenues by tens of billions of dollars even in the mildest scenario.

"That is an uncertainty that we must take very seriously and very soberly," he said.

Adding to the unpredictability, most Californians don't have to file their income taxes until October because of the intense damage and disruption from winter storms. Officials estimate that $42 billion in payments will be delayed until the new deadline.

The governor's updated budget proposal kicks off a month of negotiations with the Legislature, which must pass a budget by June 15 to get paid, though some items may remain unresolved after the July 1 start of the fiscal year.

Legislative leaders have been largely optimistic about the budget situation, noting that the deficit is less drastic than during the last recession more than a decade ago and arguing that they have plenty of fiscal tools at their disposal to avoid deep spending cuts. Last month, Senate Democrats pitched increasing taxes on large corporations and suspending a major business tax credit to raise new funds, an idea that Newsom quickly rejected.

The governor reiterated that it was not "the right time to raise taxes and I was crystal clear on that." He also took off the table — at least for now — dipping deeper into the state's reserves, which he said should be maintained while the state weathers the broader economic uncertainties.

"No one can be wedded ideologically to conditions that may present themselves, but right now, we're able to submit a budget that we think is prudent and it's balanced," he said. "Those are conversations for another day."

Newsom closed his remarks by encouraging the Legislature to show restraint, both in what it seeks in a budget deal and with costly proposals that lawmakers may try to advance to the governor's desk later this year, which he said he would have to veto.

"You don't have to be profligate to be progressive," Newsom said, trotting out what has become a favorite turn of phrase. "We tend to write checks that we can't keep and then we let people down."

Aside from a brief economic downturn at the start of the coronavirus pandemic, most legislators have faced only budget surpluses and growing revenues during their tenures. Because of term limits, just a handful were around as California's economy tanked in 2008, forcing deep spending cuts.

With less money available next fiscal year, the challenge is getting everyone to agree about what should take the hit. Some lawmakers have already raised objections to potential cuts for climate programs and public transit funding that the governor proposed in January. Assembly Democrats are pushing to raise funding for subsidized child care because of complaints from providers that reimbursement rates are less than their costs.

Republicans, who represent a supermajority in the Legislature and whose votes are not needed to pass a state budget, dismissed Newsom's approach to the deficit as irresponsible. In a statement, state Sen. Roger Niello of Fair Oaks, who serves as vice chairperson of the Senate Budget Committee, said the governor should not count on avoiding a recession.

"We are concerned that his crystal ball may be cloudy," Niello said. "We would recommend that the state take a more sustainable path on spending and reduce the desire to borrow during this time of high and increasing interest rates." ★

A Dad's Daughter

It's fascinating when you think about dads and daughters. Either they are the little princess or the daughter that my mother would always accuse me of being... "just like your father"... especially when I got one of my stubborn streaks going. Of course it didn't help when I would thank her for saying that. Don't know why she always got angry when I thanked her. Like...right! My dad has been gone a very long time, and I do miss him still.

He was a strong man with a short fuse, but got over it just as quickly. Sounds like yours truly. Dad passed on so many lessons without even realizing he was doing it. He never gave up was the best. He was born in Ilasco, Missouri, but his mom took him back to Romania when he was just two years old. His father was a brilliant man who spoke some 11 languages with little education. He just had the knack for it. But he did not have the knack for being a responsible father. He did not return to Romania with his family. He became an interpreter for the Ford Motor Company in Detroit, Michigan when it was a real powerhouse. When my dad was fourteen, he had to declare whether he would stay in Romania or return to the USA. Here's where I can say my dad was as strong. He literally said he was born in the USA and wanted to return. But no one gave him a hand... not even his own father. His own father told him... "I gave you wings, now fly." BUT DAD NEVER GAVE UP!

He worked long and hard, lying about his age to get whatever job he could get. I don't have enough time to share the whole story, but he became a Furrier and made it to Metro Golden Mayer studios in Hollywood to design fur coats for the stars including Betty Davis. When ulcers took their toll on his health, he worked his way up to making airplane wings in a plant and then turned to, of all things, taking on the arduous task of becoming an Ironworker. Yup, walking on those two inch girders several stories up in the sky, including the Sears Tower in Chicago. And I can tell you, he succeeded in every job he took on...right to the end when cancer took over and his heart gave out.

I think it's important to realize that dads do have a significant influence on their daughter's life. My dad taught me to never give up, no matter what the situation. I would like to think he would be proud of my accomplishments today.

So why do I tell you this abbreviated version of my life with dad? I think it's important to realize that dads do have a significant influence on their daughter's life. My dad taught me to never give up, no matter what the situation. I would like to think he would be proud of my accomplishments today. He got to see the beginning of my work in Television and Radio, but not my writing a book and my sharing stories with you in this column. But I do think about dad often, and his words still ring in my ears. NEVER GIVE UP! I won't dad.

Happy Father's Day.

DOVIA Recognizes Volunteer Managers and Volunteers

DOVIA News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Directors of Volunteers in Agencies (DOVIA) celebrated volunteerism on Thursday, May 18th with a reception honoring the nominees and winners of the Youth Volunteer of the Year, the Individual Volunteer of the Year and Volunteer Manager of the Year awards. The reception was held at Eskaton Village Carmichael, 3939 Walnut Avenue, Carmichael.

Six youth volunteers were nominated for Youth Volunteer of the Year, twenty individual volunteers were nominated for Individual Volunteer of the Year and three volunteer coordinators were nominated for Volunteer Manager of the Year.

The winners are:

Youth Volunteer of the Year

Rose Luo - Rose is a longtime teen participant at the Sacramento Public Library's Arcade branch. She re-joined the volunteer team after the library reopened to the public during COVID-19 and immediately took on a more prominent volunteering role. A talented artist and dedicated helper, she soon shouldered two monumental tasks: illustrating their seed library dividers to better advertise the collection and assisting with teen events every Saturday.

Individual Volunteer of the Year

Thuy Nguyen - Thuy serves in the Outpatient Services Department, Kaiser Permanente South Sacramento. She escorts patients to their assigned bed, helping get them ready for surgery. She checks on patients after surgery providing whatever comfort items are needed. Thuy served as one of their Volunteer Trainers. In this position she helped with training new incoming volunteers; however, she also assisted with review and update of all documents. This requires working closely with the department liaison to assist with communication and information disbursement.

Fast Forward 2022 - When COVID hit, and volunteers were given an opportunity for "leave of absence," everyone except Thuy decided to take leave. Outpatient Surgery was suddenly not an option. Instead of taking the easy route, Thuy walked in and said, "Where do you need me?" She became an ambassador.

Here is a list of the types of services she performs: wheelchair round up and cleaning, Personal Protective Equipment distribution, Admissions Kits preparation and distribution, Greeter/Ambassador coverage and training, member escorts and general information. All these services helped to coordinate visitation, navigation, and safety.

Volunteer Manager of the Year

Lynn Pesely - Lynn Pesely is the Coordinator for the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps. During the COVID-19 pandemic she supported Sacramento County's testing and vaccination clinics and other efforts supplying hundreds of volunteers. 424 volunteers served a total of 28,000 hours, an economic value of $1.4 million, for COVID-19 response at vaccination and testing clinics, COVID-19 Hotline, case investigation, after-hours calls, courier, and logistics.

The silver lining of COVID-19 was the 700 volunteers who stepped forward to help in a time when most people were staying home. Volunteering not only helped strengthen the Sacramento County Office of Emergency Services/Public Health COVID-19 response effort, it helped the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps volunteers (MD's, RNs, LVNs, EMTs, Dentists and more medical professionals and non-medical volunteers) to make it through the pandemic by giving them a reason to get up and get dressed in the morning to go out and help the community which also helped give the volunteers purpose.

Lynn often had too many volunteers trying to secure the same shifts - a good problem to have! Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps volunteers often served multiple days a week, including overnight and weekends. Sometimes 20 volunteers were deployed a day at 5 different locations. During the COVID-19 response, 20 volunteers served 500+ hours, earning a Gold Presidential Service Award and 6 of those served 1000+ hours. 15 volunteers served 250+ hours earning a silver presidential service award, and 51 volunteers served 100+ hours earning a bronze Presidential Service Award. The volunteers who came onboard during COVID-19 are now dedicated to the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps program, continue to volunteer for a variety of events, have started friendships with other members, and some even support the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps Foundation with donations on the Big Day of Giving. In addition to the COVID-19 response, Lynn's volunteers have also supported the Sacramento County Office of Emergency Services' response to wildfires and the recent winter storms and flooding.

DOVIA (Directors of Volunteers in Agencies) of Sacramento provides a forum for exchange of information on relevant issues facing professional volunteer managers. # Korean National Sentenced for “Bust Out” Bank Fraud Scheme

FBI News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Hee Soung Oh, 47, a Korean national residing in Southern California, was sentenced on June 1, 2023, to two years and nine months in prison for bank fraud and bank fraud conspiracy, U.S. Attorney Phillip A. Talbert announced.

According to court documents, between January 2017 and September 2017, Oh participated in a nationwide check kiting “bust out” scheme in order to obtain cash from banks. The scheme’s participants obtained a real Republic of Korea passport that was altered to bear a new photograph and name, which they used to open bank accounts with a small amount of cash. The accounts were dormant until a time the participants believed the bank would allow the account holder to deposit a check and make withdrawals before the check actually cleared. At that time, the participants wrote checks from a different bank account with non-sufficient funds, deposited those checks into the dormant account, and then withdrew cash from the dormant account before the checks cleared. The participants would access funds by purchasing a money order and then depositing the money order into yet another bank account associated with the scheme.

The bust-out scheme resulted in an actual loss of $273,800 to the banks, and a total intended loss of $466,318 based on additional, unsuccessful bust-out attempts.

This case was the product of an investigation by the IRS Criminal Investigation and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Assistant U.S. Attorney Audrey B. Hemesath prosecuted the case.

Korean nationals Jong Eun Lee, 48, and Kyung Min Kong, 55, were previously sentenced: Lee to 22 months in prison and Kong to seven years and nine months in prison. Charges are pending against Ki Jang and Bon Soke Hong, who were indicted on Oct. 21, 2021. The charges against them are only allegations; they are presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. ★
