Bill Signed to Crack Down on Street Racing and Illegal Sideshows

From the Office of Jesse Gabriel

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On Monday, September 19, Gov. Gavin Newsom signed Assembly Bill (AB) 2000, which will prohibit street racing and sideshows from occurring in parking lots across the state.

The bipartisan measure, authored by Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel (D - Woodland Hills), aims to crack down on dangerous driving – including street racing, "sideshows," and street takeovers – which continue to cause injuries and fatalities across California.

"Far too frequently, street racing and illegal sideshows devastate families, harm innocent bystanders, and cut short young lives," said Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel. "Communities in the San Fernando Valley and across California are sick and tired of this reckless behavior. I'm grateful for Governor Newsom's leadership on cracking down on this dangerous activity and signing this commonsense measure that will save lives across our state."

"AB 2000 will help us save lives and prevent further crashes and drivers going to prison for manslaughter," said Lili Trujillo, Founder and Executive Director of Street Racing Kills, a non-profit created in 2014 after Trujillo's 16-year-old daughter, Valentina, was killed in a street racing incident. "An exhibition of speed in a parking lot is way too common now and people are being hurt and killed, AB 2000 is definitely a great tool to help us save lives."

"There are countless stories every week throughout California about illegal street races and dangerous sideshows shutting down streets, causing accidents, damaging neighborhoods, and endangering lives," said Assemblymember Vince Fong (R - Kern County), a joint author of the measure. "They are unpredictable, destructive, and can lead to senseless deaths that devastate families. AB 2000 is an important and needed step in cracking down on illegal sideshows to make our communities safer."

Across the state, COVID-19 has caused a sharp rise in illegal street racing activity as drivers took advantage of roads emptied by stay-at-home orders. In 2020, the California Highway Patrol responded to more Continued on page 5

Rivals Bring Muscle to Mayoral Race

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Two candidates are muscling into Carmichael's honorary mayoral race.

Kerri Mandes is a fitness trainer. Ronnie Sylvia sells real estate and works out five times a week. Both have biceps flexed, vying for the mayoral sash. The community can meet the contenders during a Mayoral Mingle event at Oakmont senior residence on September 28.

The mayoralty is a Carmichael Chamber of Commerce appointment that carries no civic power. The victor undertakes ribbon-cutting, tree-planting and sits on the Chamber board. A job bonus is the opportunity to promote business interests.

September-through-December campaigns raise funds; each donated dollar is counted as a vote. Put simply, the candidate who drums up the most cash wins the mayoral sash. Proceeds go to the Chamber and to community non-profits of the candidates' choice. Firefighter-turned-realtor

Rivals Kerri Mandes and Ronnie Sylvia are contesting Carmichael's 2023 Honorary Mayoralty.

Ronnie Sylvia quelled Bay Area blazes before changing careers to allow more time with his wife and three young children. These days, he sells real estate for EXP Realty. He also helps merchants acquire commercial properties through CDC Small Business Finance. In addition, Sylvia and his wife have a store called Once Upon a Child Citrus Heights, which sells gently-used toys.

In his spare time, the candidate works out in a gym and hosts a social media platform called "The Rescue Ronnie Show." Segments assist charities and share business and real estate knowledge. "It's important to share," he says. "My family and I have helped Shriners and fundraised for fallen police officers' families. I teach my kids to give back. I chose Carmichael Kiwanis Club as my charity because they make the community better. That's what I care about."

Rival Kerri Mandes is a fitness/nutrition guru who specializes in personal and group training. The Del Campo High graduate got her Kinesiology degree from Cal State Hayward, and taught in Bay Area gyms before moving home to launch Kerri Mandes Fitness in Carmichael. Her two adult children are already seconded as campaign helpers. "When I told them I was running for mayor, they said: mom – you're doing what? Now they think it's cool," she reports.

Carmichael Artist Awarded for 41st Annual PBS KVIE Art Auction

PBS KVIE News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Celebrating PBS KVIE's decades of creating an accessible venue to bring art into the homes of Northern Californians, the 41st annual PBS KVIE Art Auction will showcase 276 works of art by emerging, well-known, and world-renowned Northern California artists. PBS KVIE art curator Jill Estroff has announced that Carmichael artist Varya McMillan has been recognized with an award after submitting her art to the annual curated competition.

McMillan's "The Kite" won a Juror Award in the Figurative category. The artwork will be featured as part of this year's auction, a live three-day event broadcast on KVIE Channel 6 and online at kvie.org/artauction that airs on Friday, Sept. 30 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 1 from noon to 10 p.m., and Sunday, Oct. 2 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

"We're so thankful to artists who have freely submitted their work to the Art Auction this year," Estroff said. "Art should be out in the world. My favorites are from observations near and far as well as interpretations of the physical and imaginary places we inhabit. Some pay homage to internationally renowned artist Wayne Thiebaud, who passed away last year at the age of 101."

The entire Art Auction collection will be on display at the station through September 28, offering visitors the chance to see the artwork up close and bid before the live auction. Visitors are welcome Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A complete list of the artists curated into the collection, plus images and information on every piece of art up for bid, is online at kvie.org/artauction. An awards ceremony to announce the Best of Show and first place in each category will be streamed online at kvie.org/artauction on September 13.

Proceeds from the auction help support PBS KVIE local productions and community outreach services. This year's auction is sponsored by Wilke Fleury, Bank of Marin, Krogh & Decker LLP, Nick Sadek Sotheby's International Realty, and Mansour's Oriental Rug Gallery.

The Scoop On New Business

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Seven years ago, entrepreneur Todd Miller began one of Sacramento's most unexpected success stories. And business is still picking up.

His Doo Doo Squad service removes excrement from more than 6000 Sacramento properties per month. Recently establishing Carmichael headquarters, Miller sends out a fuel-efficient and strikingly embellished Toyota Prius fleet every morning. By day's end, 12 technicians have scraped, shoveled and bagged dog waste from hundreds of homes.

"They're good workers; we pay them well, with bonuses," says the boss. "They're doing something not everyone wants to do." Indeed, there's money in muck. Initially based at his Natomas home, Miller's business boomed when pandemic lock downs inspired increased pooch adoption.

The former marketing specialist hatched his new career while helping his invalid mom pick up after her dog. "I got good at it," he considers. "I saw a need and a niche. I decided to use my marketing skills to benefit myself, not others." He offers a $12 per week service for dogs – large or small. Doo Doo Squad office manager Missy Waddell answers calls to (916) DOG-POOP and the company's radio jingle is a symphony to – guess what.

Workers are trained specialists. "It's a skill set," explains the boss. "We clean yards in far less time than it takes dog owners; we save them time and bending. If a cat poops in a customer's yard – okay, we'll pick that up as a courtesy. Someone once paid one of our guys to clean up after a pet tortoise. It was a big tortoise. But generally, we do dogs only.

"Our protocols ensure technicians and dogs are safe. We get to know customer's pets and their habits. One Wiener always used the top of his master's upturned canoe for his bathroom. In the office, everybody knew that pooch as Poops-on-Canoe."

More routinely, Miller's squad patrols patios, pool-sides and petunia beds. Technicians scoop, bag and dump their pungent prizes in owners' trash cans. "We don't bring the stuff back with us," Miller laughs. "At the end of the day, the guys often smell like they need a shower. I let them take their cars home at night, it saves time and commuting costs. It's not like they'd go on a date with "916 DOG-POOP" written all over their car."

Doo Doo Squad is not unique in its services; other companies do the business elsewhere. But Miller's operation is among the biggest of its kind in Northern California and the founder is considering franchising the name. "There will always be a call for what we do," he reasons. "No one likes picking up poop."

Re-Elect Assemblyman Ken Cooley

Assemblyman Ken Cooley and his wife of 47 years, Sydney, have made their home in eastern Sacramento County since 1977. They raised their sons here and passed their love of camping and hiking in California's mountains, rivers and lakes. As a young man, Ken worked in the Legislature and today he is the only sitting lawmaker who has run a multi-year program of active executive branch oversight and also supported a successful veto override. Both are vital to fulfilling the Legislature's role as a co-equal branch of government.

Ken's experience and skill have earned him leadership duties in the State Capitol as Chair to both the Assembly Rules Committee and the Joint Senate and Assembly Rules Committee. As a strong advocate for the communities he represents, in recent budgets he helped local projects access about $50 million dollars in state funds.

Ken believes the most uniquely "American method" in problem-solving – seen in churches, service clubs and PTA's – is based on listening, so that all are encouraged to speak up so a sense of the group can emerge, often reflecting parts of all the ideas shared. Ken thinks this "American method" is how all governments should make decisions.

In 1962 at age 8, Ken wrote JFK. Today it seems such a bold step, but Kennedy inspired many. To this day, Ken laughs recalling that at age 8, it seemed clear if one writes the President, they must of course use their whole name – JFK's White House reply was sent to "Kenneth William Cooley."

The inspiration stuck so that at age 11, he shadowed the City Manager of Las Vegas, Nevada for a day. Ken went on to study government at U.C. Berkeley. Graduating from Cal in 1977, Ken and his wife made Rancho Cordova their home that year. Today, Ken and Sydney's grandchildren are at these same tender ages when his own respect for public service was becoming established.

Final Farewell for Queen Elizabeth II

By Susan Maxwell Skinner

It was a spectacle few will see again. A Queen – perhaps the greatest monarch in history – borne to rest with pageantry beyond Cecil B. De Mille. Monday’s funeral

The nonagenarian bore the yoke of duty until death.

Service came at a price. Her babies lacked a mum’s hands-on guidance and later blundered into mistakes she so deftly avoided. But three Windsor generations’ heartfelt mourning was a masterpiece only the Queen’s horses and men could achieve; meticulously choreographed by the lady herself.

The massed pipers, gun carriage and swaying naval phalanx was not just pomp. Pragmatic to the last, Elizabeth II knew great pageantry stirs sentiment. What better tonic for royal continuance? What better kick-start for her heir’s succession?

Ten thousand military officers and the tears of a grateful nation accompanied an Empress into legend. Elizabeth was not born to her role, yet this accidental monarch managed sovereignty so peerlessly that her death was – for millions – like the loss of a mother, a grandmother or great grandmother.

The Queen encapsulated the Greatest Generation. Her radio voice comforted Londoners during Hitler’s blitzkrieg. Her wedding dress was purchased with clothing ration coupons. The Navy bride followed her husband’s deployments, and she paraded children at her coronation. As a Commonwealth leader, she walked a steel tightrope through 70 years of diplomacy. During pandemic, she reassured locked-down subjects, “We will meet again.”

demonstrated the brood’s profound love.

When I was a little girl, I waved to the Queen from a street crowd. In pale flesh, I beheld the icon from New Zealand’s stamps and pound notes. When I met her many years later, I was told to address her as her ma’am. Through nerves, I called her “mum.” She looked at me askance, but the irony was surely not lost on the mother of the Commonwealth.

I was then a court correspondent in London. Palace press corps members saw her frequently, but the jokey banter of Charles and Diana’s entourage was absent with the Queen. Some people called her shy; I found her reserved. I recall achingly polite conversations about the weather. Her sapphire gaze was beguiling. But in disapproval, what she called “the look” could silence cannon fire.

Stoicism is not the same as snobbery. As much as her 15 prime ministers, the Monarch knew adaptability was key to survival. In tune with her times, she knighted rock stars, agreed to pay taxes, shelved her minks, mothballed her yacht and shook hands with activists.

She bent only as far as her principles allowed. The Queen gave no

In keeping with royal tradition, more than 140 Royal Navy ratings pulled a Victorian gun carriage bearing the Queen’s casket. interviews; nor did she pander to the press. She believed a monarch should be seen – hence her bright ensembles – but heard as little as possible. In an age of celebrity narcissism, the world’s greatest celebrity eschewed exposure of emotions or private life. Her children divorced; a son was disgraced; a grandson defected. The matriarch seethed or grieved in private. Her husband died; she soon donned lavender ensembles and returned to work. Her policy to neither explain, complain or comment served her well.

The Queen nevertheless knew the age when few questioned colonialism – or Britain’s right to the Koh-in-Nor diamond – were over. Abdicating from dynastic problems on September 8, her final coup was to unite stewing elements of the Commonwealth in mourning.

Elizabeth II’s most crucial legacy is the king she groomed. What Charles missed in motherly cuddles was not stunted in his training. The mentor likely hammered in responsibility to a changing society over tea and scones.

When Elizabeth ascended, her realms were emerging from war years with adoration for Queen and Country. Charles III inherits national crises and a complaining Commonwealth. But as passionately as one Sovereign believed in contending monarchy for the times, so will her heir.

Elizabeth II was the right Queen for her era. Thanks to her unflinching example, I believe Charles III will be the right King, for his. ★

Commission, Not Allowance

Dear Dave,

What is the right age to begin giving children an allowance?

– Ben

Dear Ben,

In my mind, there's never a right time to give kids an allowance. Instead, work out a plan to pay them commissions, and assign them age-appropriate weekly chores.

This can be done with very simple tasks starting at an early age. When the work gets done, they get paid. If they don't do the work, guess what? They don't get paid. This helps teach them a healthy work ethic, and it introduces them to the idea that work creates money.

Simply giving kids money is a sure way to plant the seeds of entitlement in a young mind. You don't want your kids growing up with the idea they deserve money simply because they're alive. Of course, there are things kids should be expected to do without pay, too. When you're part of a family, everyone needs to understand they have a responsibility to pitch in and help out sometimes!

Dear Dave,

My husband and I are debt-free. We are in our mid-20s, we also have a full emergency fund and we each have 401(k) plans with our employers. Currently, we are looking at life insurance. We do not plan on having children, so what length term policies would you suggest for a couple in our situation?

– Ashlie

Dear Ashlie,

I'd recommend you both find good 15- or 20-year, level term policies, with coverage amounts of 10 to 12 times your individual incomes. If you two have a change of heart, and decide you want kids later, I'd recommend converting those to 30-year term policies, still at 10 to 12 times your incomes. Why? You'd want the insurance to be there to protect than 25,000 calls involving illegal street racing activity statewide, an alarming increase of more than 3,500 calls from the year before.

In Southern California, street racing and sideshows have become extremely popular. In August and October of 2021, respectively, a Calabasas teen was among three people killed by apparent street racers in a three-vehicle collision in Burbank caused by street racing, and a Woodland Hills woman was killed and seven others were injured after a driver lost control while racing. Just last week, police arrested three dozen people at several illegal street takeovers in and around Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley.

Statewide law enforcement groups have identified driver's license suspensions as an effective tool for the deterrence of illegal street racing activity. Expanding on AB 3, which was signed into law last year, AB 2000 allows courts to issue a driver's license suspension for the exhibition of motor vehicle speed during a sideshow taking place in a parking lot – an area not currently covered under the law – and thereby helps to further deter individuals from engaging in these dangerous activities.

Bera: Bipartisan Bill Protects Physicians from Medicare Pay Cuts

Office of Congressman Ami Bera, M.D.

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - U.S. Representatives Ami Bera, M.D. (D-CA) and Larry Bucshon, M.D. (R-IN), introduced on September 13, 2022, bipartisan legislation to provide critical relief to physicians who are scheduled to receive Medicare payment cuts. The Supporting Medicare Providers Act of 2022 would ensure payments to these providers are kept stable and extend certain increases in payments for physicians' services under the Medicare program through 2023.

"As an internal medicine doctor by training, I know that cutting payments for physicians further strains our health care system and the ability for health care professionals to provide the best care for their patients," said Representative Bera. "It's time Congress reforms Medicare provider payments to ensure that we have a stable Medicare payment system so that we can transition move towards value, not volume."

Reps. Bera and Bucshon have been long standing champions and have led successful efforts to mitigate proposed cuts in health care payments. Last week, they issued a Request for Information regarding the implementation of the Medicare Access and CHIP Reauthorization Act of 2015 to identify steps Congress should take to stabilize the Medicare payment system, without dramatic increases in Medicare spending, while ensuring successful value-based care incentives are in place.

In 2023, physicians face more than 8.42% payment cuts, this bill would stop the 4.42% cuts in Medicare payments providers will face on January 1st.

"The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' 2023 Medicare Physician Fee Schedule proposed rule, if implemented, will result in untenable Medicare payment cuts for physicians and jeopardize patients' timely access to primary care. That's why the American Academy of Family Physicians endorses the Supporting Medicare Providers Act of 2022, which will avert these cuts and ensure physicians can continue serving Medicare patients for another year. Importantly, this legislation signals that more administrative and legislative action is needed to ensure sustainable Medicare physician payment, transition to value-based care, and address health disparities. The AAFP continues to advocate for payment reforms that appropriately invest in primary care and ensure physicians have the resources and flexibility they need to care for all their patients. Only then can we truly move the needle on health equity, better population health, and health care expenditures," said Sterling N. Ransone, Jr., MD, FAFAP, President, American Academy of Family Physicians. ★

Regional San Recognized again as a Utility of the Future Today

Regional San News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - For a third time, the Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District (Regional San) has been recognized as a Utility of the Future Today. Along with 34 other forward-thinking utilities worldwide, Regional San was acknowledged as a utility that is recovering resources from wastewater, engaging communities, forming unique partnerships, and building an internal culture of innovation.

“At Regional San, we’re committed to incorporating sustainable principles and effective resource management into our daily business practices,” said Christoph Dobson, Regional San’s General Manager. “We’re honored to be recognized once again as a Utility of the Future Today, which speaks to how we’re supporting the social, economic, and environmental sustainability of the communities we’re privileged to serve.”

Regional San’s landmark recycled water program—Harvest Water—demonstrates our ongoing commitment to environmental stewardship by increasing the use of recycled water in the Sacramento region. Harvest Water will be one of the largest water recycling projects in California and will deliver up to 16.2 billion gallons per year of recycled water to an estimated 16,000 acres of farm and habitat lands in southern Sacramento County. The program will also increase groundwater levels and groundwater storage capacity, support habitat improvement efforts, and advance regional water sustainability.

The Utility of the Future Today

Recognition Program was launched in 2016 by a partnership of water sector organizations, including the National Association of Clean Water Agencies, the Water Environment Federation, the Water Research Foundation, and the WaterReuse Association. Input was also provided from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The goal of the program is to guide utilities of all sizes toward smarter, more efficient operations and resource recovery.

The program applauds the achievements of utilities that focus on resource recovery such as energy, nutrients, and recycled water; community partnering; and leadership in social, economic, and environmental sustainability. Applications for the program are reviewed by a selection committee consisting of peer utility general managers and executives. Since its inception, the program has honored 228 utilities from across the U.S. and in Australia, Canada, Denmark, and New Zealand.

September is National Preparedness Month

Ken Casparis, Sacramento County PIO

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - September is National Preparedness Month and the Sacramento County Office of Emergency Services (SacOES) would like to remind residents about the importance of being prepared for the various disasters and emergencies that could happen at any time.

The theme of the 2022 National Preparedness Month is “A Lasting Legacy,” highlighting the fact that the life you’ve built is worth protecting, and you should prepare for disasters to create a lasting legacy for yourself and your family.

“National Preparedness Month is a great time to talk with your loved ones about the types of disasters and emergencies we might face, and start making a plan to prepare for these different scenarios,” said Mary Jo Flynn-Nevins,

Sacramento County Chief of Emergency Services. “You can set yourself up for success by preparing for disasters before they happen.”

A few important things to consider during an emergency:

Think about kids: Prepare your kids for disasters and emergencies. Take time to make a plan and have conversations about preparedness. Help them know how to stay safe and navigate potentially scary situations.

Think about your emergency kit: An emergency kit should have everything you need to survive for several days. Keeping your kit stocked with necessities like food, water, and medical care can make the difference in the face of a disaster. Consider unique needs of your family. Include supplies that might be needed by pets, older adults, and those with disabilities in the event of an emergency.

Think about your disaster plans: Disasters can happen anywhere, any time. That’s why it’s important you’re prepared. Do you have a plan for yourself, your pets, and your family? Consider the specific needs you might have in an emergency.

Think about your pets: Add these items in your emergency bag in case you need to evacuate with your four-legged buddies: A selfie with them in case you get separated; Medicine & grooming items; Collar with an ID & a leash.

To learn more about National Preparedness Month, visit the ReadyGov website. To learn more about the organization that coordinates the overall Sacramento Countywide response to large-scale incidents and disasters, visit the SacOES website. ★

COVID-19 School Closures Undermined Learning

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Whether California's schools should remain open or be closed was a hot issue when the COVID-19 pandemic was raging in 2020 and 2021.

Although medical authorities quickly concluded that children had a much smaller risk of being infected or experiencing severe effects if infected, California schools were mostly closed, in large measure because teachers and their powerful unions insisted on it.

With schools closed, local administrators scrambled to provide on-line classes, what became known as "zoom school," but they were poor substitutes for the real thing — especially for English-learner students and those from poor families.

Those children — roughly 60% of the state's nearly 6 million public school students — were already trailing their more privileged contemporaries academically when the pandemic hit. The closures made it worse, for obvious reasons.

They tended to lack internet access and proper equipment for on-line classes. Their parents were often compelled to work outside the home to make ends meet, so kids were often left to fend for themselves. Absenteeism from on-line classes was widespread.

Affluent parents, particularly those who could easily work from home during the pandemic, made certain that their kids attended on-line classes, helped them with their school work, formed informal collaboration groups and/or hired tutors. Thus, the ill effects of closures were mitigated. And, of course, private schools, such as the one Gov. Gavin Newsom's kids attend, either remained open or minimized closures.

For months, politicians from Newsom downward quarreled over how the schools should function and angry parents formed the core of a movement to recall him from office. Newsom survived the recall, but the educations of millions of kids did not, as new data confirm.

While the state Department of Education has not released 2022 academic test data that would allow comparisons with pre-pandemic results, individual school districts are doing so and the numbers from the state's largest school district, Los Angeles Unified, are stunning.

About 72% of the district's students are not meeting state standards in math and 58% are behind in English, essentially wiping out five years of progress that it had recorded prior to the pandemic.

"The pandemic deeply impacted the performance of our students," LAUSD Supt. Alberto Carvalho said. "Particularly kids who were at risk, in a fragile condition, prior to the pandemic, as we expected, were the ones who have lost the most ground."

While the district released gross data, it did not break down the test results by ethnic or economic subgroups. The Los Angeles Times, however, gleaned the detail from a school board document marked "not for public release."

Why the secrecy? Apparently, it was to mask the particularly disturbing data about Black and Latino kids.

"About 81% of 11th-graders did not meet grade-level standards in math. About 83% of Black students, 78% of Latino students and 77% of economically disadvantaged students did not meet the math standards," the Times reported.

We won't know how the state as a whole fared until — and unless — the Department of Education finally releases 2022 complete "Smarter Balance" test results. But there's no reason to believe that what happened — or, more accurately, what didn't happen — in Los Angeles isn't also true of other systems, particularly those with large numbers of at-risk students.

The educational deprivation that California inflicted on its kids is not only shameful, but will reverberate for decades. Children who fail to master the basics of education in lower grades will be ill-prepared for high school and post-high school training and education. If they are not prepared to take their place in the work force, the state's economy will suffer.

Dan Walters has been a journalist for nearly 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★
