SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Classic cars are the specialty of a new Auburn Boulevard automotive business. McElroy's Repair and Restoration opened with a recent ribbon cutting.

For the celebration, 50 classic cars packed the shop's parking lot. A '50s band played, shave ice was dispensed and auto-freaks exchanged rod-chat. "A car show seemed a great way for the community to get a feel for our operation," explains owner Steve

McElroy. "People are attracted to the body lines, the colors and the history of these vehicles."

The mechanic's passion for classic cars was ignited by his father. "Dad (Patrick McElroy) loved older cars," the son recalls. "When he was young, he had hot rods. We planned to build one together, but he passed away before we could get to that."

"I'd trained and worked in general automotive. After dad died, I rebuilt a Chevy Chevelle in his honor. That changed my interests. I got a job at a hot rod shop and eventually took my training and knowledge to my new business."

McElroy chose his Auburn Boulevard (Citrus Heights) location for proximity to parts vendors and for the road's long automobile tradition. Also known as Lincoln Highway, the route was created in 1913 to promote leisure driving. "We're on the Classic Route 40," notes McElroy. "We're proud to be part of that history."

The shop services pre-1970s vehicles. "We do everything we can to keep them safe and sound," says McElroy. It's important to keep them on the road and keep their history

SacRT Awarded $30 Million to Improve Light Rail System

SacRT News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) was awarded $30 million in state grant funding through the Transit and Intercity Rail Capital Program (TIRCP) to help make major improvements to the Sacramento region's light rail system, reduce greenhouse gas emissions, and support jobs.

The California State Transportation Agency (CalSTA) awarded SacRT funding to help fund three major projects. SacRT will receive $23.6 million as part of a nearly $600 million Light Rail Modernization Project an additional $5 million to support connectivity and planning at Sacramento Valley Station (SVS) to prepare for future development at the Railyards, and $1.5 million for contactless fare payment devices onboard buses and light rail vehicles.

Light Rail Modernization Project: SacRT is currently working on modernizing the light rail system with new low-floor light rail vehicles, converting 29 light rail stations on the Gold Line to accommodate new low-floor vehicles, and adding a "passing track" at the Glenn/Robert G. Holderness Station in Folsom to provide 15-minute service, rather than the existing 30 minutes. TIRCP funding will support the purchase of eight new low-floor light rail vehicles to replace vehicles that have passed their useful life. Low-floor light rail vehicles will produce operational efficiencies by speeding up train operating times and optimizing boarding convenience and safety along with needed increased capacity.

Sacramento Valley Station (SVS) Transit Center: SacRT partnered with the City of Sacramento and Capitol Corridor Joint Powers Authority on a project to improve connectivity of multimodal transit in the downtown core. Funding will support the construction of a new north-south aligned light rail

100 Tutors to Be Hired

By Thomas J. Sullivan

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - California Teaching Fellows Foundation (CTFF), a 20-year, Fresno-based, non-profit foundation, new to the Sacramento area, is accepting applications through July to hire over 100 tutors to serve transitional kindergarten (TK) through 8th grade students in the San Juan Unified School District.

CTFF currently employs over 2,000 tutors as "teaching fellows" and currently serves over 300 school sites throughout California. New hires who will work in Sacramento County will start in August, said Jackie Moreno, CTFF marketing and development director.

"This new partnership will create academic support programs for students and educators in over 30 additional school sites in the San Juan Unified School District," Moreno said.

"Our initial focus will be on schools serving students in Citrus Heights, Carmichael and Arden-Arcade," she said. A complete list of participating schools in the district is still being compiled.

New teaching fellows who are offered a position by CTFF will have to submit Live Scan fingerprints and pass a background check, Moreno said. Teaching fellows will be paid $17 per hour, and paid bi-monthly, typically working between 20-25 hours at their school site. All will have access to in-house life coaching, paid training, and valuable school worksite experience, Moreno said.

"We encourage interested applicants to apply online at www.ctff.us/ application," Moreno said. Upon completion of their initial application, a telephone or virtual interview is then scheduled.

Previous experience is not required as ongoing professional training and personal support is provided for new hires, according to CTFF.

"We're looking to hire from a diverse pool of candidates who are genuinely passionate about teaching and helping students to succeed," Moreno said. "CTFF also wants to encourage applicants from those just starting college who want to gain field experience in education leading towards a satisfying teaching career."

New hires will also be provided with 40 hours of paid professional development coursework annually, allowing them to continually learn and improve their skills in areas like tutoring, classroom management, and creatively engaging students in learning activities.

The leadership of CTFF feels it has a critical role in helping to combat the ongoing teacher shortage by inspiring college students and others in career

State Requires Sharing Your Data

By Kristen Hwang,
CALMatters.org

In March 2020, as Californians hunkered down for what many expected to be a two-week lockdown, high-ranking health officials were scrambling to find out how many COVID-19 patients were hospitalized, how many were in intensive care and how many beds remained available.

With no system in place for hospitals to report this information to the state and share it, Secretary of Health and Human Services Dr. Mark Ghaly, the state's public health director and other staff had to call 426 hospitals to assess the situation.

Now, officials hope to avoid similar scenarios in the future by changing the way patient data is collected and shared. Legislation passed last year requires all health and human services providers to sign a statewide data-sharing agreement. This includes hospitals, doctor's offices, nursing homes, public health agencies, laboratories, mental and behavioral health providers, substance use treatment facilities, insurance plans, public health departments and emergency services.

The final version of the agreement was published July 1. Most participants will have six months to sign the agreement and a year to begin sharing data.

If implementation goes as planned, a doctor or case worker could request a patient's full medical and social services history in real time. Patients could view their own records easily, and government agencies would also have access to more reliable aggregate data on patient outcomes and demographics — rendering the pandemic scramble obsolete.

The health care industry already amasses incredible amounts of patient data. John Ohanian, chief data officer for the state Health and Human Services Agency, likens it to "freeways of information." The problem is, not everyone has an onramp to the freeway.

"Our goal was — and the governor's goal was — to make it mandatory that people exchange information and provide rules of the road and guidelines so it can be done well," Ohanian said.

It's a huge endeavor for the state, and not everyone is on board.

In a public comment responding to a draft of the agreement, the California Hospital Association and California Association of Public Hospitals and Health Systems complained that the requirements exceed the statutory authority of the law that established the data-sharing requirement. When contacted for clarification, hospital association spokesperson Jan Emerson-Shea said there was nothing to add beyond what was in the letter.

The California Association of Health Plans also commented that parts of the draft proposal go beyond the scope of the new data-sharing law, including the proposed governing body that would oversee compliance. The association also pointed out potential conflicts with a parallel federal effort to create a national data exchange for health data.

Other groups, including the County Welfare Directors Association of California, County Behavioral Health Directors Association and Planned Parenthood Affiliates of California, raised concerns about data privacy and security. They also want patients to be given the ability to choose whether their data is shared and noted that addiction and mental health records are more strictly protected than other health data. In a letter to the state, Planned Parenthood asked to delay implementation by one year.

According to a state analysis, the proportion of medical and social services organizations that currently use digital records and share that information with other providers varies widely based on sector and location.

While 97% of family physicians used electronic record-keeping methods in 2020, those who didn't tended to be small independent practices or they were in rural areas. Likewise, 90% of medium and large hospitals also used electronic-only patient records, but only 70% of small hospitals in the state used digital records.

The report found a little more than a third of addiction treatment centers used electronic records to document treatment plans and view laboratory results. Less than half of nursing homes used electronic records and only 10% reported that their systems connected with local hospitals.

Some of the organizations with the fewest digital record-sharing systems are government agencies like county public health and social services departments. The state Legislature's approved budget includes $50 million over two years to help small doctor's offices, rural hospitals and community organizations invest in the technology needed to comply with the law.

Even before the pandemic, community clinics and social services providers like homeless shelters say disconnected record-keeping systems caused chronic problems.

On a broader scale, the patchwork of digital accessibility has made it difficult to reduce health disparities for conditions like heart disease and diabetes, both before and during the pandemic, said Kiran Savage-Sangwan, executive director of the California Pan-Ethnic Health Network and a member of the data exchange advisory group.

Communities of color make up 63% of the state's population but represent more than 80% of all enrollees in Medi-Cal, the state's health system for people who can't afford health insurance. According to a California Health Care Foundation report on health disparities, Black and Latino residents are far more likely to experience preventable hospitalizations for conditions like asthma, heart failure and diabetes than white residents. The same groups are also the most likely to report delaying health care due to cost or lack of insurance.

In recent years, the state has launched ambitious plans to transform the Medi-Cal system through an initiative called CalAIM, which aims to address the root causes of failing health, like food insecurity and housing instability. It offers coverage for services not typically thought of as medical needs, such as housing. CalAIM, along with the state's Healthy California for All Commission, which is exploring what a single-payer health care system could look like in California, relies on data.

"I can't think of a thing on our list of huge transformations that won't either depend on or benefit from this effort," Ghaly said. "All of these data systems having some ability to come together around the individual is going to accelerate — whether it's a social worker or an emergency room nurse — their ability to provide more comprehensive and coordinated services." ★ transition to pursue a career in education.

"CTFF is committed to developing future teachers and leaders who contribute to positive changes in the lives of students, their schools and their communities," said Mike Snell, CEO of the California Teaching Fellows Foundation.

The foundation was initiated at Fresno State University's Kremen School of Education and Human Development in 1999 to provide paid early field experience for future teachers which would enhance teacher preparation.

"The work of our "teaching fellows" is not only important to the students they work with, but also for their own personal and professional growth as they go on to pursue their own careers in education," Snell said in a press release. "I look forward to our partnership with the San Juan Unified School District."

The San Juan Unified School District reports a student population of over 50,452 students, according to the district website. There are 67 schools in the district; 46 are elementary schools, 23 are middle schools, and 17 are high schools.

"San Juan Unified is excited to partner with California Teaching Fellows Foundation as we move to increase expanded learning opportunities for our highest-need students in the district," said Dr. Debra Calvin, assistant superintendent of educational services at San Juan Unified.

San Juan's "Bridges After-School/ASSETS" programs is also hiring part-time staff. This program also provides homework support, enrichment and pro-social recreation to approximately 3,000 district students, grades K-12, in 29 programs at 29 different school sites. Prospective applicants can call Kim Fields at the district office at (916) 971-5933 for more information.

"This new partnership (with CTFF) will strengthen the district's capacity to provide additional access to safe and supportive enrichment programs for our students through the engagement of quality staff that represent the community and have a strong interest in careers in the education field," Calvin said.

CTFF was founded in 2006 as a 501(c)(3) as a nonprofit as it grew to meet an increased number of requests from school districts throughout California for expanded learning support. CTFF now partners with over 50 school districts in California to staff programs at more than 300 K-12 school sites.

In its new partnership with the San Juan Unified School District, CTFF will soon be able to serve more than 30,000 K-12 students in the greater Citrus Heights, Carmichael and Arden Arcade area with supplemental classroom, after school and summer program instruction, tutoring and mentorship opportunities.

SacRT Awarded $30 Million to Improve Light Rail System

station to connect the SVS to the future Railyards Plaza. This will catalyze the neighboring Railyards and River District developments while prioritizing transit ridership and active transportation.

• Contactless Fare Payment on Transit: SacRT partnered with the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans), Visa, Littlepay, and SC Soft to offer a contactless method for payment on board light rail trains to help improve the customer fare payment experience. The innovative touch-free fare payment technology allows riders to tap a contactless credit, debit, prepaid card, or contactless-enabled mobile or wearable device (e.g., smartwatch) to pay fare when boarding light rail trains. The TIRCP funding will help expand the program to buses and on all new light rail trains.

SacRT is truly thankful for the 2022 funding from the California Transportation Agency's Transit and Intercity Rail Capital Program," said SacRT Chair Steve Miller. "These funds put us one step closer to replacing our aging light rail fleet with entirely new and modern, low floor vehicles and making improvements at the Sacramento Valley Station for easier connections from buses and light rail to Amtrak and the Capitol Corridor trains."

"I want to thank CalSTA Secretary Toks Omishakin and Chief Deputy Secretary Chad Edison for these grant awards that will help modernize SacRT's light rail system and provide connectivity to regional partners," said SacRT General Manager/CEO Henry Li. "Over the last few years, we have secured millions of dollars to improve the convenience and accessibility of our light rail system to the customer experience and quality of life for the Sacramento Region."

"Congratulations to Sacramento Regional Transit in your success of securing new funding from the competitive TIRCP program. With this state funding, SacRT will help lower greenhouse gas emissions in our region and improve public health and mobility across the region and California," said Assemblymember Kevin McCarty (D-Sacramento).

SacRT was previously awarded $265 million in funding for the light rail modernization project, which includes the purchase of 36 new low-floor light rail vehicles. Siemens Mobility in Sacramento is building the new train cars and the first cars are expected to be delivered in summer 2022.

CalSTA awarded nearly $800 million to 23 projects statewide to expand transit and intercity rail service and reduce greenhouse gas emissions. TIRCP funding is provided through Senate Bill (SB) 1, the Road Repair and Accountability Act of 2017, and from the Cap-and-Trade program proceeds. Bandleader John Skinner died in 2017. His widow Susan Skinner will lead the band for a performance that she says is bittersweet for all members. "John made it clear to us he expected the band to wind down if he could no longer lead it," says Skinner. "This final performance will be a tribute to him. We could find other trumpet players, but no one could replace John's personality and leadership."

Kings Find Needed Sharpshooters in Huerter and Monk

By Shaun Holkko, sports editor

LAS VEGAS, NV (MPG) - Live from the strip in Las Vegas, Sacramento Kings general manager Monte McNair formally introduced two of the team's newest sharpshooters to the media on July 8.

The Kings welcomed Kevin Huerter and Malik Monk to the team Friday afternoon at a press conference held at the Thomas and Mack Center. Both players bring much-needed shooting depth and floor-spacing to Sacramento.

"We had goals going in [to the offseason] about what we wanted to accomplish," McNair said. "Certainly, adding shooting, size, versatility, defense, depth, as well as a coach. We don't think we're done, but we never feel we're done. With these two guys, [they are] two pieces that are going to fit great with the rest of our guys and give us a lot of those things that we were looking for."

Huerter is a 6-foot-7 shooting guard going into his fifth season in the NBA. He was acquired July 1 by the Kings in a trade with the Atlanta Hawks in exchange for Maurice Harkless, Justin Holiday and a future first round pick, according to ESPN. In 74 games with 60 as a starter, Huerter averaged 12.1 points, 3.4 rebounds and 2.7 assists in just under 30 minutes per game for the Hawks last season.

Monk is a 6-foot-3 shooting guard entering his sixth year in the league. He signed with Sacramento as a free agent June 30 for 2-years and $19 million, according to ESPN 1320 Sacramento. In 76 games with 37 as a starter for the Los Angeles Lakers last season, Monk averaged 13.8 points, 3.4 rebounds and 2.9 assists in just over 28 minutes per game.

Huerter, 23, had spent his entire career with Atlanta until being dealt to the Kings.

"I had a vet tell me in my first two years, 'you never experience the true NBA until you get traded,'" Huerter said. "That for me was like my first true NBA-moment feeling. It's the first time you change teams and meet a whole new group of guys, new organization, so I'm really excited to be here. I feel wanted."

Monk, 24, played one season at the University of Kentucky and played alongside Sacramento's speedy sensation, De'Aaron Fox. The duo led the Wildcats to a 2017 Sweet 16 appearance and became very close.

"I talk to Fox everyday man, so it really wasn't a conversation right before I signed," Monk said. "Got a call from Sac, said they wanted to offer me, so I called Fox to see what he thought about it and made the decision after that. I'm ready to play with my teammate, my brother."

Huerter comes to Sacramento with many nicknames in tow, including K-Von, Red Velvet and Red Mamba. The 23-year-old said Kings fans can refer to him by any nickname except for K-Von, as that one was exclusive to the ATL.

"I guess that means not one has fully stuck, yet I guess if I got three or four of them," Huerter said. "I think my favorite one when I was in Atlanta was the K-Von. I think that was just something that, you know Atlanta, you know the people there, that was something that was kind of funny. They took Kevin and made me Atlanta's version of Kevin which was K-Von. So, I think that one can stay there."

"But past that, it's really whatever you guys like or feel comfortable with."

Monk played the first four years of his career with the Charlotte Hornets under the guidance of team owner, Michael Jordan, arguably one of the greatest basketball players of all-time. Last season, he played for the Lakers and alongside LeBron James, another one of the all-time greats.

"Life changing experiences from both aspects," Monk said. "With Jordan being the owner, I see things from that side. With LeBron being a player, I see things from his side. So, I got a lot of life changing experiences with those guys."

Huerter, Monk and the rest of the Kings will now attempt to halt the longest playoff drought in NBA history at 16 seasons beginning in October. ★

Losing Ground in Protecting Our Air Quality

Commentary by Senator Brian Dahle

For decades, California has been the nation's leader in reducing tailpipe emissions from cars and trucks and other aggressive work to clean up smog. Southern Californians old enough to remember their eyes stinging from air pollution in the old days know how important that work was.

But now, the state's hard work cleaning up the air is going up in smoke.

California has always had fires, and summer and fall smoke used to be an occasional annoyance. But the mega-fires the state is increasingly seeing send up so much smoke that the air quality gains made over the past years are being lost.

As the L.A. Times recently reported, California's 2020 wildfires sent up so much smoke that we reversed decades of progress in improving air quality. This is no surprise to Californians who spent months under apocalyptic dark skies, but it's a sad confirmation of how much progress has been lost.

And while 2020 was a record-setting wildfire year, 2021 was nearly as intense. It would have set a record if 2020 hadn't come first. This air pollution isn't just unpleasant. It is deadly. Stanford researchers, as the Times reports, estimate up to 3,000 premature deaths from the smoke in our air.

As a member of the state Legislature, I've been fighting for healthier forests for a decade. I've written legislation to get the government's bureaucracy out of the way of fire prevention, launch a major reversal of "no management" management practices, and supported and expanded the Sierra Nevada Conservancy, a champion of healthy forests and watersheds. I wish I could say it was enough.

A large part of the problem is leadership. The current governor says the right things, but real work to keep communities safe and reduce wildfire severity is scarce; there has been no significant reform to California Forest Law in the last 20 years. We still manage our forests under policies that reflect the reality of the 1960s, not today.

This administration is great at issuing press releases but very bad at follow-through, as multiple reports from Capital Public Radio reporters documented over the past year. State and federal policies still put countless barriers in front of the work needed to actively thin overgrown forests (in some places 400% overgrown). We can do better. We can more aggressively waive long reviews under the California Environmental Quality Act for fire-safety projects.

Environmental groups cling to the power to stall and stop projects under these laws in the name of protecting forests. Still, I defy any of them to take a tour of Plumas County, where the Dixie Fire burned a million acres last year and tell me that it is a healthy environment.

We must consistently support the local governments and nonprofit Fire Safe Councils that plan and organize fuel work. Competitive grants primarily drive the state's current system. CalFire does its best to fund essential projects, but too many communities don't have the organization to ask. Many rely on volunteer groups to handle this critical public-safety work. I have the highest admiration for the people who step forward to help their neighbors, but the critical fire risks we're facing demand a 21st-century response. We have to tap the nearly forgotten wisdom of the ranchers, and the California Native tribes before them, who learned that fire in California is inevitable, but burning on purpose in the right season is safer and better for the environment.

The risks of prescribed fire are serious, but we need to expand our capacity to burn where we can do it safely. And we must work with the federal government, which manages nearly half the land in California, so it does its part to change course. Our national forests are a California treasure, but in recent decades their extreme, barely managed fire risk has made them a bad neighbor. The wildfire crisis is destroying watersheds, leveling whole towns, and blanketing the state in smoke that is literally killing Californians even if they live miles from the fire lines. We must do better.

California Streamlines Access to COVID-19 Testing and Treatment

CDPH News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) and OptumServe are upgrading testing sites across the state to provide both testing and treatment for individuals who test positive and qualify for COVID-19 treatment.

Test to Treat sites allow individuals to get tested, be seen by a provider, and receive a prescription for antiviral pills. This will improve access to COVID-19 treatments for uninsured Californians, especially in communities hardest hit by the pandemic, a foundation of California's SMARTER Plan.

California is launching 146 OptumServe Test to Treat sites throughout the state over the next couple of weeks. A Test to Treat locator map is available for Californians to easily see where they can access these services.

"We are working to ensure that Californians who have symptoms of COVID-19 have access to rapid testing and immediate treatment, regardless of insurance coverage," said CDPH Director and State Public Health Officer Dr. Tomás Aragón. "Our goal is to help Californians recover if they get COVID-19 and ensure high-risk patients have access to treatments that can keep them out of the hospital."

California's expansion of Test to Treat sites aligns with the federal government's Test to Treat initiative in the National COVID-19 Preparedness Plan. Testing and treatment provided at OptumServe locations is designed for people without insurance. Sites will offer tele-health medical services and provide antiviral pills (Paxlovid or molnupiravir) or prescriptions to eligible patients. Services will be free of charge.

While COVID-19 vaccines and boosters remain the safest way to prevent the virus, COVID-19 treatments can lower risk of severe illness and hospitalization. They work best when taken soon after symptoms begin. If a person has symptoms, they should call or email their health care provider right away to ask about testing and if they qualify for COVID-19 treatments. If they don't have a health care provider or don't hear back from their provider, they can visit a Test to Treat location to get rapid testing and find out if they are eligible for treatments.

Communities may have other Test to Treat locations not included on the Test to Treat locator map. To learn about other locations, people are urged to contact their health care provider or local health department. Testing and treatment will be free of cost to all patients at OptumServe locations, but other treatment facilities may charge for the administration of an antiviral. Individuals should check with their insurance provider to see if their plan covers treatment.

Get Vaccinated or Boosted When Eligible

With COVID-19 cases increasing statewide, public health experts urge Californians to get vaccinated or boosted when they are eligible. Vaccination appointments can be made by visiting myturn.ca.gov or calling 1-833-422-4255. The consent of a parent or legal guardian may be needed for those under age 18 to receive a vaccination. Visit Vaccinate All 58 to learn more about the safe and effective vaccines available for all Californians age 5 and up. ★

Defendant Sentenced for 1st-Degree Murder of Natomas Library Branch Supervisor

Sac County DA News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Honorable Steve White sentenced Ronald Seay to life in prison without the possibility of parole.

On April 20, 2022, a jury convicted Seay of the first-degree murder of Amber Clark. The jury also found true a personal use of a firearm causing death allegation and the special circumstance allegation of lying-in-wait.

Amber Clark was the branch supervisor for the North Natomas Library. On December 11, 2018, Ronald Seay arrived at the library parking lot, parked his car with a direct view of the library exit and waited for Amber Clark to get off work. When Ms. Clark left work, she exited the library and walked through the parking lot to her car. As she walked past Seay's car, Seay quickly exited his car and followed her. When Ms. Clark got into her car, Seay opened her driver side door, shot her 11 times with his 9mm semi-automatic pistol and left the scene. Ms. Clark succumbed to her injuries at the scene. Sacramento police detectives quickly discovered that Seay had previously been served with a Notice of Trespass by Ms. Clark in her capacity as the branch supervisor. Ms. Clark issued the Notice of Trespass because Seay repeatedly violated the library's rules and code of conduct, became verbally aggressive and refused to leave the library. Seay appealed the ban, and the appeal was denied.

Seay was arrested on December 12, 2018, and a search of his car revealed two 9mm semi-automatic pistols. It was later confirmed that all 11 shell cartridges found at the scene were fired from the 9mm semi-automatic pistol located in Seay's car. ★

Defendant Convicted of 14 Counts Child Sexual Abuse of 2 Girls

Sac County DA News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Shawn Golden pled to 14 counts of committing a lewd act on a child.

Between June 2014 and August 2020, Golden repeatedly sexually assaulted two girls. Both victims were 12 years old when Golden began abusing them. During the investigation, evidence led detectives to digital storage devices, laptops, and other electronic devices belonging to Golden. The devices had videos of Golden engaging in sex acts with the victims and surreptitious photos of the victims.

Golden faces a maximum sentence of 34 years in state prison. Sentencing is set for August 19, 2022, at 8:30 a.m. in Department 26 before the Honorable Shama Mesiwala. ★

Meet San Francisco's Newest Giant: The Yerminator

1-on-1 exclusive with Yermín Mercedes

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - With two outs in the top of the ninth inning of a 15-4 blowout between the Chicago White Sox and Minnesota Twins, Yermín Mercedes swung on a 3-0 pitch and crushed it to left center field for a home run.

Most people would think that such a moment deserves cheers and admiration from the winning team's manager. However, that was not the case on May 17, 2021. White Sox manager Tony La Russa, who was 76 years old at the time with more than three decades of MLB managerial experience, called the moment a "big mistake" when he spoke to the media following the 16-4 victory.

According to Mercedes, he was surprised when he heard his manager's comments to the media. La Russa said one thing to him privately in the locker room, and then said the opposite in his post-game press conference.

Baseball is America's national pastime for a reason, and with that, comes an old school mentality from some people like La Russa who employ platitudes like the "unwritten rules" of baseball. La Russa's disapproval went on to have a negative effect on the rising star and Mercedes was never as productive for Chicago statistically following that fateful day in May.

"We don't have that rule in baseball," Mercedes told the Messenger Publishing Group before making his debut with the Sacramento River Cats on June 21. "He's an old manager. In that moment after the game, he came into my locker and he talked to me and said, 'I got you, you're okay, it's my fault.' Because I never saw the sign and he never gave me the sign. I think he gave it to the (base) coach, but he didn't give it to me.

"I always go to home plate and make a swing; do the best I can do in the game for the whole team."

The Yerminator went from leading MLB in batting average (.364) to suddenly plummeting back down to Earth (.271) near the league average. The drop in production led to him being demoted back to Triple-A. Mercedes suffered an injury during spring training this year and had surgery in March before eventually being designated for assignment on June 12.

While with Chicago, Mercedes showed flashes of greatness. The Dominican Republic native set a major league record as the first player in modern MLB history to begin a season with eight consecutive hits, earning him MLB Rookie of the Month honors in April 2021. On April 2, 2021, Mercedes made history as the only White Sox player to record five hits in his first major league start.

"Big Yerm," as he refers to himself, said he didn't do anything abnormal during the hot streak. He just stuck to his daily pregame routine and approached the plate during each at bat with the goal of making solid contact.

"I never imagined I [would] be 5-for-5 in my first game in 2021," Mercedes said. "Then the next day, I go 3-for-3 so in that moment I had 8-for-8. My next at bat I just popped out to center field and said 'Wow, it's unbelievable.' Because I never, never imagined I would make it 8-for-8 in that moment."

On June 18, the San Francisco Giants claimed Mercedes off waivers, giving the excited 29-year-old a fresh start and a new home. Mercedes made his debut for the Giants' Triple-A affiliate, the Sacramento River Cats, on June 21. Just like in his first start for Chicago, Mercedes recorded a hit in his first at bat for Sacramento, as the starting first baseman. Mercedes went 2-for-5 in his first game for the River Cats.

It didn't take long for Mercedes to get the call to return to the big leagues as on June 26, the Giants recalled him from Sacramento to replace infielder Brandon Crawford who was placed on the 10-day injured list. Mercedes was 5-for-16 at the plate with two walks in four games for the River Cats.

Mercedes was optioned back to Sacramento three days later on June 29 after outfielder LaMonte Wade was activated off the IL. Then four days later, the Yerminator was back like he never left, returning to the Giants on July 3 to replace infielder Thairo Estrada, who was placed on the COVID-19-related IL.

"I know I can help the team out there," Mercedes proclaimed with confidence. "I know they need me because I'm a good baseball player, I know that. I need to focus on working hard every time, every day coming to the ballpark. It doesn't matter what the people say because when the people talk about you, it's because you're important. If you aren't important, the people don't talk about you."

Mercedes provides the Giants with defensive versatility as he regularly plays first base, catcher and designated hitter. With highly touted prospect Joey Bart recently demoted back to Triple-A, that could open a door for Mercedes to stay in the major leagues for the long run as a catcher.

In five games so far with San Francisco, Mercedes has gone 4-for-11 at the plate with two doubles, two runs scored and two walks. Defensively, he has started once at catcher and first base, respectively, with the other three starts as the designated hitter.

"The future has not been written," John Connor said in the 1984 film, The Terminator. "There is no fate but what we make for ourselves."

Whether or not Mercedes remains with the Giants long term is yet to be seen. However, whenever an opportunity presents itself, the Yerminator will be ready. ★

Clean Cars 4 All Program Provides Money to Replace Gas Cars or Ride Transit

SMAD News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District (Sac Metro Air District) is currently accepting applications from income-eligible residents in Sacramento County for grants that will help them replace their 2007 or older car or truck with a hybrid or electric vehicle or opt-in for a transit card from Sacramento Regional Transit (Sac RT).

Depending on income, qualified applicants may receive up to $9,500 to purchase or lease an eligible car, along with up to $2,000 towards charging credits or charging equipment; or residents can opt to receive up to $7,500 in transit cards for use on Sac RT busses and light rail.

“Disadvantaged communities are typically the most impacted by air pollution and often face financial barriers to transition to lifestyles that are environmentally friendly,” said Mayor Pro Tem Eric Guerra, current Chair of the Sac Metro Air District. “Providing opportunities for residents in these neighborhoods to exchange older, high-polluting vehicles helps solve the financial strain they are experiencing with high gas prices and helps improve air quality and public health as well.”

CC4A is part of California Climate Investments, a statewide initiative that puts billions of Cap-and-Trade dollars to work reducing greenhouse gas emissions, strengthening the economy, and improving public health and the environment – particularly in disadvantaged communities.

Residents in Sacramento County should visit www.SacCleanCars4All.org to take the Eligibility Quiz now, while funds are still available.

The Sac Metro Air District is responsible for monitoring air quality, reducing air pollution, and enforcing air quality regulations, and helps to achieve statewide carbon reduction goals. The District develops and administers programs to reduce air pollution levels below the health-based standards established by the state and federal governments and improve air quality in our region. Learn more about the District at www.AirQuality.org. ★

CDFW Awards for Ecosystem and Watershed Restoration

CDFW News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Department of Fish and Wildlife (CDFW) announced the selection of 23 projects to receive funding for projects to restore and protect multi-benefit ecosystem restoration and protection projects under its Proposition 1 grant programs.

The awards, totaling $26 million, were made under CDFW's 2022 Prop. 1 Watershed Restoration Grant and Delta Water Quality and Ecosystem Restoration Grant Program Proposal Solicitation Notice.

Of the $26 million, approximately $21 million was awarded to 15 projects statewide through the Prop. 1 Watershed Restoration Grant Program. Approximately $5 million was awarded to eight projects through the Prop. 1 Delta Water Quality and Ecosystem Restoration Grant Program to projects that directly benefit the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

"California's fish, wildlife and their habitats are facing continued impacts from climate change including persistent drought conditions," said CDFW Director Charlton H. Bonham. "These impacted species need strong conservation and protection efforts now more than ever. The projects that were awarded funding this year represent a collective effort to meet these challenges and push toward our conservation goals under California's 30x30 Initiative."

The approved projects complement CDFW's ongoing initiatives toward species recovery and provide resilience to climate change, representing priorities outlined in the solicitation, as well as the California Water Action Plan, State Wildlife Action Plan, Sacramento Valley Salmon Resiliency Strategy, Delta Plan, California EcoRestore, Safeguarding California Plan, the California Biodiversity Initiative and the fulfillment of CDFW's mission.

Projects approved for funding through the Prop. 1 Watershed Grant Programs include:

Acquisition Projects: 2022 Upper Truckee River Watershed Acquisition ($1,500,000 to California Tahoe Conservancy); YMCA Camp Jones Gulch Conservation Easement ($1,002,000 to Sempervirens Fund).

Additional projects are still under consideration. General information about CDFW's Prop. 1 Restoration Grant Programs, as well as a schedule for upcoming grant solicitations, once available, can be found at www.wildlife.ca.gov/grants.

Funding for these projects comes from Prop. 1 bond funds, a portion of which are allocated annually through the California State Budget Act. More information about Prop. 1 is on the California Natural Resources Agency website. ★
