California Supreme Court Dismantles No-Bid School Construction Contracts

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Last week, the California Supreme Court issued a unanimous decision in a very complex - but very important – case that had been percolating for more than a decade, dealing with how local school officials evade competitive bidding on construction projects.

The case began in 2010 when Fresno Unified School District persuaded its voters to approve a bond to build new schools and upgrade old ones. In 2011, the district sold more than $100 million in bonds from that issue and an earlier one, and in 2012 awarded a $36.7 million contract for a new middle school to Harris Construction Co.

The contract with Harris, which had been a major contributor to the bond issue campaign, was structured as a "lease-leaseback" deal in which the district leased the school site to Harris for a nominal sum, Harris built the school and the district then leased the completed facility from Harris.

"Lease-leaseback" arrangements have been common for years, providing a way for school systems to build new facilities without borrowing money themselves. Typically, the "leaseback" runs for several decades, after which the district becomes the owner.

ever, Fresno Unified made it. However, when Davis payments to the contractor and once the school was completed in 2014, it used bond funds to immediately acquire ownership from Harris. Meanwhile, another contractor, Stephen Davis, had sued the district alleging that the Harris lease-leaseback deal was a subterfuge to avoid competitive bidding.

The district won two rulings from a local trial judge that the deal was legitimate, but both were overturned by a state appellate court and over a half-billion dollars eventually Fresno Unified asked the state Supreme Court to determine whether the Harris deal was a legitimate contract protected under state law. Last week, the court declared that it was not, sending the case back down the legal ladder to determine what damages will be

San Diego attorney Kevin Carlin, who represents Davis and has carved out a niche career of challenging questionable school contracts, says that Harris Construction may be forced to pay back the $36.7 million it received for building Gaston Middle

The case has reverberated in other ways. The superintendent who approved the and suggested that the contract, Michael Hanson, was fired by the school board after the suit was filed. Critics cited Hanson's close personal relationship with Harris Construction's president, Michael Spencer, including the firm's sponsorship of a gala event to honor Hanson, and the hiring of Harris as a consultant before the contract was awarded.

investigation, although newspapers.

In the Harris project, how- nothing official came of started winning his case, it sent shudders through other school districts that had used lease-leaseback in the same questionable manner.

In 2015, just a week after an appellate court ruled against the Harris contract, a lawyer for affected companies, P. Randolph Finch, outlined a plan "to mitigate our losses" by seeking legislation to legitimize questionable contracts.

"We have clients with well of current backlog," Finch wrote, "and another billion in completed projects, at risk on the Davis case. Consequently, we need a devoted industry effort to press these legislative changes."

Using a parliamentary loophole known as "gut-andamend," a bill to absolve contractors of liability was drafted, but never enacted.

In 2004, the staff of the State Allocation Board, which parcels out school construction money, had described how lease-leaseback rules were being distorted, questioned the legality, declared "the integrity of the use of general obligation bonds... must be above reproach," lease-leaseback law be clarified.

Officialdom ignored that warning but now the Supreme Court is telling school officials and contractors to play fairly or suffer the consequences.

Never Have Just One

Dear Dave,

I'm hearing more and more about "de-dollarization" and how several countries are moving away from the U.S. dollar as their basis of international trade. Will this affect the strength of the dollar, and should I be concerned about how I'm saving and investing because of this?

Zack

Dear Zack,

First and foremost, I care enough about you to say you may be spending way too much time on the internet, buddy. You're drifting into the realm of conspiracy theories here, so let's slow down and take a look at some facts.

And Another Thing

The Memorial Day Celebration will be on Monday, May 29 at the Performing Arts Theater

By Bob McGarvey

Children in our Folsom Cordova Unified School District are ready for the 2022 -2023 school year to be completed. We have three grandchildren going to school in the FCUSD and I am sure they are as ready for their summer days with no school work, as are all of the other kids. I would like to think they have all the fun they are looking forward to. Summer time is when kids in the past, present, and future have had the most free time they have all year.

Yesterday we were very fortunate to get tickets to the Sacramento Choral Society when they presented "Carmina Burana." It is a cantata composed in 1935 and 1936 by Carl Orff. According to the Encyclopedia, "it is a manuscript of 254 poems and dramatic texts mostly from the 11th or 12th century, although some are from the 13th century. Twenty-Four poems in Carmina Burana were set to music in 1936 by Carl Orff. His composition quickly became popular and a staple piece of classical music repertoire."

I believe that sharing the background information may help understand the performance on Saturday. The Sacramento Choral Society & Orchestra was led by Dr. Donald Kendrick, the Music Director. The program was introduced by Dr. James McCormick the President and CEO of the Sacramento Choral Society. In addition, he said "Tonight, we celebrate all of the Mothers in our audience. see you next time.

Thank you for bringing into the world so many talented singers, musicians, and conductors."

He also said, "We are thrilled to welcome back a recently-revitalized Sacramento Children's Chorus to our Carmina Stage this evening." One of our grandsons, Ryan McGarvey, was singing in that chorus and he sang in that very elaborate performance. We were all very proud of him, and he truly enjoys singing. We will have to watch him as he grows up and develops more.

I hope everyone's mother had a wonderful Mother's Day weekend. In the United States the holiday is celebrated on the second Sunday in May. Over 40 international countries also celebrate Mother's Day. Some of them celebrate the holiday on different days, and I hope the mothers in those countries were able to celebrate their day too.

Something which is coming up very soon will be the Memorial Day celebration on Monday, May 29 at the Performing Arts Theater at Cordova High. I was thinking of working on moving our celebration back to the VA Hospital at Mather. With the weird weather we have had this year I decided to wait until next year. The Memorial Day celebration this year, in addition to honoring all Veterans, will be focusing on Vietnam Veterans. More information will be coming up about that in my next SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - More than 450 community members came together to raise $640,000 to help local children succeed in school at United Way California Capital Region's 100th anniversary gala on April 29. The event held on the eve of the organization's 100th birthday at the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium included dinner, keynote presentation by San Francisco 49er Arik Armstead who cofounded the Armstead Academic Project, fund a need, silent and live auctions, raffle for tickets to Game 7 of the Kings vs. Warriors playoff series the next day, and dollar-for-dollar match courtesy of the Capital Region Foundation.

The local United Way has raised more than $671,000 toward its 100th anniversary goal announced in February to raise $3 million to help 10,000 kids excel in school by 2025. "This night was the culmination of 100 years of work in this community to end poverty for local families," said Dr. Dawnté Early, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region. "We know education is a proven ladder out of poverty, and we know school is square one for reaching families in need. Our 100th anniversary campaign is the launching pad for our next century of work to make sure our community's children succeed in school and thrive as adults."

United Way California Capital Region has found one place in each community to reach the most families in need: School is square one for ending poverty. United Way uses its Square One approach to end poverty for local families by helping children excel in school, investing in families, and strengthening schools with resources to address increased poverty and deep roots of racial inequality.

The local United Way offers a wide array of programming and services to ensure children and their families have the resources they need to succeed in school and in adulthood. From a regional reading tutoring program and school-readiness services for incoming kindergarteners to an income program for foster youth, guaranteed income for families, free tax preparation services and more, United Way has created a holistic approach that starts in schools.

Former Financial Advisor Sentenced for Scheme to Steal Funds from Elderly

Sacramento FBI News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Tyler Rigsbee, 33, of Cameron Park, was sentenced on May 1, 2023, to two years in prison and ordered to pay $158,960 in restitution for committing aggravated identity theft, U.S. Attorney Phillip A. Talbert announced.

According to court documents, from 2016 to 2021, Rigsbee worked as a FINRA-registered financial advisor at a major bank in Sacramento. During his employment, Rigsbee targeted elderly bank customers and stole $158,960 from these victims' accounts.

Rigsbee stole $113,160 from one elderly victim's account by using the name and identity of the account beneficiary to fraudulently transfer the funds into another account that Rigsbee had set up and controlled in the beneficiary's name. Rigsbee next stole $45,800 from the account of a second elderly victim by transferring funds in incremental amounts into a separate account that Rigsbee had set up and controlled in the victim's name. Rigsbee then pocketed the money by transferring these funds into his own personal bank account.

Toward the end of his scheme, Rigsbee attempted to conceal his theft by stealing $16,700 from a third elderly customer's account and attempting to funnel that money into the second victim's account to partially replace what he previously stole. However, this transaction was flagged, and the funds were reverted.

This case was the product of an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Assistant U.S. Attorney Elliot C. Wong prosecuted the case.

Farm Bureau Applauds State Senate Passage of SB 505

Farm Bureau Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Farm Bureau is applauding the state Senate for its passage of Senate Bill 505, which was approved with resounding, bipartisan support and now moves to the state

Senate Bill 505 expands the insurance "clearinghouse" program of the California FAIR Plan, the state's insurer of last resort, to allow commercial insurance policies under the FAIR Plan to move back to the admitted commercial market. California Insurance Commissioner Ricardo Lara is a co-sponsor of SB 505, along with the California Farm

The Farm Bureau previously worked with Commissioner Lara and Sen. Susan Rubio, D-Baldwin Park, to pass SB 11 in 2021. That bill allowed farmers and ranchers who lost or were denied coverage in the competitive insurance market after devastating wildfires to obtain alternative coverage through the California

FAIR Plan. SB 505, also by Sen. Rubio, would provide opportunities for agricultural producers to move back to the competitive market, with affordable commercial policies protecting farming and ranching operations.

"California's farmers and ranchers need insurance options to safeguard their ability to continue producing the food that America needs," said California Farm Bureau President Jamie Johansson. "Senate Bill 505 provides agricultural producers who turned to the California FAIR plan the ability to return to the competitive insurance market to protect farming and ranching operations. SB 505 is widely supported by insurers, brokers and agents. We applaud Sen. Rubio for her leadership on this issue, and we encourage the state Assembly to pass this important legislation so that it may be signed into law to provide affordable coverage options producers."

for California's vital food "California businesses do best when they have more choices for insurance coverage," said Commissioner Lara. "While the California FAIR Plan is an important safety net when businesses cannot find any other insurance, giving them more options must be our top priority. I am proud to sponsor Senator Rubio's important pro-consumer legislation creating a clearinghouse program for businesses to more quickly exit the FAIR Plan and get back into the competitive insurance market, something we already have for homeowners."

Sacramento County Fair News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Fair is excited to announce that the All-Alaskan Racing Pigs and All-American Duck Races will be performing at the 2023 fair. These popular events feature adorable racing pigs and ducks competing in high-speed races. The shows are suitable for all ages and are always crowd-pleasers.

"We are thrilled to have both the All-Alaskan Racing Pigs and All-American Duck Races at our fair this year," said Fair CEO Matthew Cranford. "Their shows are always a hit with our guests, and we can't wait to see them in action."

Though a cross-species race offers some interesting possibilities, attendees do NOT have to choose between which species to root for. Both the All-Alaskan Racing Pigs and All-American Duck Races will have multiple FREE performances daily. Don't miss your chance to see these cute and talented animals in action and root your favorite on to victory. But even if your pick doesn't win, you'll delight in their hilarious defeat.

These events also offer a fun opportunity for Bart Noll, leader of the All-Alaskan Pig Races... crowd-watching. Says Noll, "I don't even watch the races anymore. I watch and listen to the crowd. There's no better sound than the kids' excited laughter. And some of those kids are in their 80s and 90s!"

Adds Cranford, "So, that's getting to watch and enjoy three species for the price of one. And the price is right. All free with your Fair admission." Mark your calendars for the 2023 Sacramento County Fair and come see the All-Alaskan Racing Pigs and All-American Duck Races.

Established in 1937, the Sacramento County Fair is dedicated to the safe and fun education of the greater Sacramento community and its youth in agriculture, business, and technology. A value-driven family event, Fair guests enjoy the friendly atmosphere, traditional county fair competitions, agricultural displays, hands-on activities, carnival, specialty food and festival-style entertainment. Close to 10,000 school children take advantage of free educational school tours and over 5,000 compete for awards in the livestock and competitive exhibit programs. The theme of 2023 Fair is: Where Tradition Meets Tomorrow.
