WW II Ace Promoted to General

US Air Force Chief of Staff General Charles Brown Jr. congratulates Bud Anderson on his long-awaited promotion to Brigadier General. Aerospace Museum Executive Director Commander Tom Jones (US Navy ret.) applauds the centenarian.

MCCLELLAN, CA (MPG) - Culminating a legendary aviation career, WW II pilot Bud Anderson last week achieved the honorary rank of Brigadier General. America's only surviving Triple Ace will be 101 years old next month.

en route to unveiling the new B-21 nuclear stealth bomber in Southern California. Both events, said General Brown, were equally historic.

"Shoulders the Air Force stands on are those of gentlemen like Bud Anderson," he said. "I certainly consider him General officer material."

More than 200 invited guests applauded the centenarian's appointment.

In addition to Anderson's star insignia, he now has

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Goldie was very wary of the team from the Bradshaw Animal Shelter as they walked into her encampment. Tethered to a makeshift pole with two ropes tied together, she stood and barked, tail tucked under her body as she shook - unsure of the situation. But as soon as the top popped on a can of wet dog food and it was offered to her, she immediately came forward to taste the special treat.

Goldie is a tan pit bull mix, living with her unhoused owner on a corner lot off Orange Ave. She looks healthy and happy - glad to be with her owner and certainly not underfed but weighing in at nearly 60 lbs, all dog owners know, it can be expensive to feed large dogs.

Goldie's owner is so grateful for the large bag of dog food left for both Goldie and his brother's dog who he is caring for. He asks Animal Control Officer Jessica Solano for advice on how to introduce the dogs to each other, so they can cohabitate peacefully. After providing several suggestions for successful introductions, Officer Solano promises to return the next day with a basket muzzle, to allow the dogs to safely meet, and hopefully become friends.

Before heading out for this effort, Officer Solano emptied out the Pet Pantry at the shelter, a stockpile of donations for pets in need - typically donated by the residents of Sacramento County. Some treats, bones and toys - in addition to food. In order to fill up the truck with enough food to feed unhoused pets, Officer Solano grabbed several bags of food from the shelter's food supply.

Officer Solano locates another dog, a Belgian Malinois puppy, a dozen yards away, tied to a leash that is staked into the ground. These types of tethers are common to see for pets in the unhoused community, often due to the lack of stable alternatives. His owner isn't in the encampment, but the pup bounds right up to Officer Solano and allows her to check him for fleas. She makes a mental note

Public Works Team Finishing Projects for Rainy Weather

City of Rancho Cordova News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Rainy weather is here, which means the City of Rancho Cordova's Public Works team is busy finishing projects and ensuring construction timelines will be met. The team recently completed two projects that provided improvements around six elementary schools and the Bear Hollow Stormwater Basin.

Cordova School Zones Project

This project provided key safety improvements around six elementary schools in Rancho Cordova including Cordova Meadows Elementary School, Cordova Gardens Elementary School, Rancho Cordova Elementary School, White Rock Elementary School, Cordova Villa Elementary School and Abraham Lincoln Elementary School.

Project improvements included high-visibility crosswalks, ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) compliant curbs, speed feedback signs and a rapid-flashing beacon.

"This project will not only make traveling in these areas safer, but also easier," said Principal Engineer Edgar Medina. "Safer and easier travel routes encourage students and families to walk or bike to school more often, which promotes a healthier lifestyle and air quality."

High-visibility crosswalks use patterns that are more visible to pedestrians and drivers from farther away. They are often used in combination with a rapid flashing beacon or highly visible signs. Speed feedback signs notify drivers about whether they are following the speed limit.

The project began in Spring 2022 and was completed in Fall 2022.

Bear Hollow Stormwater Detention Basin Fence Replacement

This project replaced the fencing surrounding the Bear Hollow Stormwater Detention Basin with new post and cable and wrought iron fencing. The basin is located in the Stone Creek neighborhood on Bear Hollow Drive and North Mather Boulevard.

"The fencing acts as a gentle reminder to people who enjoy the basin to be mindful of the growing trees and the wildlife and consider their safety as they enjoy this beautiful recreational area," said Principal Engineer Dalia Fadl.

Soon, there will also be new informational signs about this natural habitat that is home to many birds and other creatures.

Nielsen the 'Dean of the Senate' Says Thank You and Farewell

From the Office of Jim Nielsen

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Senator Jim Nielsen, R-Red Bluff, issued the following statement of gratitude to the people he has had the honor to serve as he retires from the California State Senate.

"I am retiring from public service at the end of this year and wanted to take this opportunity to say thank you and farewell.

"I was first elected in 1978. Since that time, I have represented 19 counties in Northern California – from the Central Valley to the Napa Valley and up through the Sacramento Valley.

"Taking care of you, the constituent, has always been my first priority and the focus of the staff who worked with me to serve you, from issues with the DMV to the EDD, from the Oroville Dam break to the devastating Camp Fire, from budget fights to water rights.

"Nothing has been more important to me in my career than helping to make a positive difference in your life.

"Your support through the many years means so much to Team Nielsen.

"To the many millions of you that I have had the honor and privilege of serving, please accept my deepest and sincerest heartfelt thanks.

"My wife, Marilyn, and I plan to spend more time together, visiting our children and grandchildren, traveling and enjoying life. "We don't know exactly what God has in store for us, but we are excited about the possibilities.

"You can be assured that I am not riding off into the sunset...I am riding off into the sunrise.

"Farewell and God bless."

Some fun facts about Senator Nielsen's legacy in public office: Nielsen is the 23rd-longest serving State Senator. Of the 4,465 people who have served in the California legislature, Nielsen is the 34th-longest-serving. That is in the top 1 percent ever. Nielsen was elected Senate Republican Leader in 1983, when he was 39 years old, making him the youngest known person to ever hold that office. ★

City Receives Clean Air Award from Smoke and Tobacco Free Coalition

City of Rancho Cordova News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In the month of November, the City of Rancho Cordova received a Clean Air award from the Sacramento Smoke and Tobacco Free Coalition. The award recognized the city for the adoption and implementation of a comprehensive flavored tobacco ordinance. The ordinance, passed in June, prohibits the sale, offer of sale, or distribution of all flavored tobacco products, which often end up in the hands of youth.

"Our goal is to help keep Rancho Cordova youth safe," said Rancho Cordova Mayor Donald Terry. "We are honored to be recognized by the Greater Sacramento Smoke & Tobacco Free Coalition for our efforts towards a smoke and tobacco free community in 2022."

Rancho Cordova was the first city in Sacramento County and one of 73 cities in California to prohibit smoking in outdoor dining areas.

In 2020, the city passed an ordinance that prohibits smoking inside and outside multifamily residential properties, except for in designated smoking areas, protecting those living in these properties from the adverse health impacts of secondhand smoke.

Thank you, Sacramento Smoke and Tobacco Free Coalition! ★

Bera Helps Secure $15.2 Million for County Health Department

Office of Representative Ami Bera, M.D.

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On November 29, 2022, Representative Ami Bera, M.D. (CA-07) announced that the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) has awarded the Sacramento County Health Department $15,264,533 in funding to improve its public health infrastructure and strengthen its ability to recruit and retain public health care workers. The funding is provided through the American Rescue Plan, which Rep. Bera championed and voted for in March 2021.

"The COVID-19 pandemic has highlighted the importance of having a public health infrastructure that can prevent, detect, and respond to emerging health threats," said Representative Bera, who previously served as Chief Medical Officer for Sacramento County. "As a doctor, I am proud to help secure over $15 million in federal funding to help Sacramento County improve our health care services and keep our communities safe and healthy."

The CDC Public Health Infrastructure Grant Program provides flexible awards directly to state, local, and territorial health departments, to help ensure they have the people, services, and systems they need to promote and protect health in their communities. The grant includes significant resources that Sacramento County can use to recruit, retain, and train its health care workforce. ★

SMF Named WSJ's Top Airport

Sac County News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento International Airport (SMF) was named the top airport in the nation according to the Wall Street Journal's 2022 Airport rankings. Compared to the 50 other airports surveyed, SMF received the highest score overall.

The top 50 busiest airports were surveyed and then divided into two sizes - 20 large and 30 midsize. The airports were then measured on 19 categories including experience from on-time performance and security waits to customer-satisfaction scores and ticket prices. The categories ranked were further grouped into three broad categories - reliability, convenience, and value.

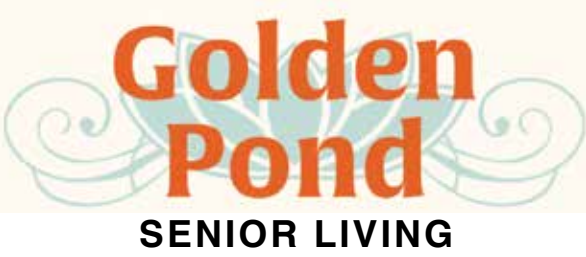

SMF ranked highest among all airports surveyed in the reliability category and also ranked high in arrival and departure times, low flight cancellations, quick taxi and security clearance times, and a max walking distance of only 1,213 feet.

"The SMF team consistently provides our customers with a safe, comfortable and enjoyable travel experience," said Cindy Nichol, Director of the Sacramento County Department of Airports. "Living our values every day clearly makes a difference, as we make our customers our top priority. We see each day as an opportunity to improve and accomplish more together by collaborating; communicating and taking pride in what we do."

In 2019, SMF similarly won the top mid-sized airport award - the award was not issued in 2020 or 2021 due to the pandemic.

The Sacramento County Department of Airports is responsible for planning, developing, operating and maintaining the county's four airports: Sacramento International Airport, Executive Airport, Mather Airport and Franklin Field. For more information, visit sacramento.aero. ★ to bring back flea treatment when she returns the next day. After giving the pup a can of wet food as well, the team leaves three large bags of dog food at the encampment.

The next stop is at a nearby library, where Officer Solano spots an unhoused woman with four small dogs in and around a shopping cart, sitting in front of the library using its wifi for her laptop. As she spots the animal control truck coming, she quickly leashes her dogs to the cart with ropes that are nearly threadbare. The fear on her face suggested she thought she'd be cited for having her dogs unleashed. Instead, Officer Solano brings her dog food for her little brood and also leaves new leashes to help keep the dogs safe.

As the team continues to move through the south unincorporated county, they pass a row of cars, trucks and RVs parked on the side of the road with at least one dog crate visible. Officer Solano makes her way vehicle by vehicle, asking if anyone has animals in need of food. Turns out there were two large dogs, a small dog and one cat living in the encampment - all with owners extremely grateful for the food, but more grateful for the fact that they were seen and cared for.

The team's final stop was another RV parked along South Watt with two dogs chained up outside. Officer Solano grabbed the last of the food in her truck to leave by the RV, but as the team approached the RV, the owner came walking from the opposite direction, having made a quick trip over to the nearest gas station. One of the dogs barked and barked, even as her tail wagged, but the other dog was eager to play and gets pets - even from strangers. As the dog's owner opened the door of the RV, another large dog came running out, ready to jump and lick and play. In addition to food, the team left large bones and harnesses to help contro the dogs.

The day was a success - feeding and providing care for a dozen pets. But the need is much larger than that. Hundreds, if not thousands of pets are living with unhoused owners. If you'd like to donate food or resources to help feed unhoused pets, learn more about how to help pets stay with their owners.

a gold trimmed standard. "I never expected my own flag," he marveled. "This blows my mind."

Auburn resident Anderson started his career at McClellan and became General there 80 years later. He acknowledged modern fighter pilots inhabit different cockpits and a different world. "We flew completely by hand," he explained. "Today, it's all automatic stuff. But I'm as proud to wear this uniform today as I ever was. My message for young people is if they have the ambition to be in the Air Force, they should have at it. If you work hard, you can be what you want to be."

Anderson's legend includes 116 wartime combat missions. The fighter pilot earned Triple Ace status by shooting down 16 ¼ enemy aircraft. At 22, he was made Major. Later a test pilot, he flew pioneer jet fighter missions and took the controls of more than 130 types of aircraft. Thirty years of Air Force service included duty in post-war Korea, Japan, Southeast Asia and the Pentagon.

Anderson's decorations include two Legion of Merits, five Distinguished Flying Crosses, the Bronze Star, 16 air medals, France's Legion d'Honneur and Croix de Guerre awards. Through sheer longevity, the highest-scoring US fighter ace alive is also among few remaining Fighter Aces in the world.

A staunch supporter of the Aerospace Museum, his hangar appearances are supported by hundreds of fans. For his promotion ceremony, Travis Air Force Base supplied a color guard, a brass band and a raft of uniformed personnel. Staffers and civilians joined the veteran in singing the Air Force Song, shared birthday cake and drank his health in bourbon.

Because Anderson famously named all his P-51s after the whiskey preferred by fighter buddies, the Aerospace Museum boasts an Old Crow Café. For a promotion surprise, Old Crow manufacturers dispatched a ceremonial barrelhead (bearing the P-51 profile) from Kentucky. As Anderson and General Brown downed shots, the legend warned: "That's dangerous stuff, sir."

Top-brass military ceremonies normally involve months of preparation. To promote Bud Anderson before his 101th birthday – and to take advantage of the Chief of Staff's California visit – Aerospace Museum administrators pushed the event from concept to conclusion in weeks.

"It took Bud three years to become major during the war," said Museum CEO Tom Jones. "He was promoted to colonel 14 years later. After he retired in 1972, it took 50 more years for him to become a general."

"This was a once-in-a-lifetime event for Bud – and for all of us who were here." ★

‘There is No Gift Without a Giver’

Story and photos by Shaun Holkko, assistant editor

ROSEVILLE, CA (MPG) - Each holiday season, consumers shop for the best gifts to give their loved ones for Christmas. Now this year, there is a new and easy way to give to those who are less fortunate: the “Light the World” Giving Machine.

The Giving Machine is sponsored by The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (LDS Church) and is located at the Westfield Galleria at Roseville. Organizers for the machine held a grand opening ribbon cutting ceremony at the mall on Wednesday, November 30.

“The machines don’t do the giving, they are simply the facilitators for your giving,” said Jay Pimentel, LDS Church area communication director and the ceremony’s host. “These machines are set up here, and we set them up a few days ago to make sure they were up and running and working, and just in those few days there have already been 1,579 donations with people just walking by.”

An entertaining part of the ceremony was when Pimentel explained how to use the machine. One member of the audience, dressed in old school clothing to portray fictional character Ebenezer Scrooge, did not understand the purpose of the machine.

Following some explanation from Pimentel and two other old-time characters, Mr. Scrooge became one of the biggest advocates of the giving machine that you could find at the Galleria.

According to Pimentel, in 2021, California’s giving machine was in Oakland and raised over $15 million. The LDS Church covers the administrative costs like credit card processing and operating fees. The giving machine in Roseville benefits five non-profit organizations that were represented Wednesday: the

Placer Food Bank, H.A.R.T, Al-Misbaah, Catholic Charities and CSW.

“We are a Feeding America food bank. I know the name doesn’t imply that, but we cover Placer, El Dorado and Nevada County,” said Dave Martinez, executive director of the Placer Food Bank. “Currently we serve well over 100,000 individuals a month. This giving machine is very important for us this year. We have to deal with fires, snow, plus just how people are impacted day to day with the food cost. It’s really hurting our middle class.”

Each non-profit spoke about their organization and then selected from the machine an item to be donated to their respective causes. Other dignitaries in attendance included Roseville Mayor Krista Bernasconi, Rocklin Mayor Bill Haldin and Loomis Mayor Jennifer Knisley.

Once an item is selected for donation to the Sacramento Giving Machine, the placard falls to the bottom of the vending machine and creates a pile among the other items that were already donated.

William Jessup University President Dr. John Jackson was one of the last speakers and admitted to being an “absolute Scrooge” and disliking Christmas. Jackson said this was the case because he was young, newly married and “had no money.”

“Every year I felt the stress of being able to find gifts at Christmas and every year I found myself in a really bad mood,” Jackson recalled. “The worst part about this whole story is during that time I was a pastor, so I was a pastor Scrooge.”

“I was supposed to put on a bright shiny face and celebrate Christmas... but I was angry and frustrated because every single Christmas we were young, poor and struggling to buy gifts and that was a frustrating experience.”

When did things change? When Jackson and his wife welcomed their first child into the world and he “began to see Christmas through the eyes of awe and wonder.” That’s when his perspective shifted.

“The truth is, Christmas is really not ultimately only about the gift, it starts with the giver,” Jackson explained. “If the heart of the giver is right then the meaning of the gift gets magnified. You’re never more like God then when you’re giving. There is no gift without a giver.”

The Giving Machines will be open at the Galleria until January 2. ★

Public Notice

Extent of Groundwater Contamination Eastern Sacramento County

Groundwater in a portion of eastern Sacramento County is contaminated. Contaminants include industrial solvents and chemicals resulting from the manufacture and testing of rocket and missile systems and production of chemicals.

The map shows the approximate extent of contamination in the vicinity of the Aerojet Superfund Site where contaminant concentrations exceed regulatory standards established to ensure safe long-term consumption. There are currently two regulatory actions (Western Groundwater Operable Unit and Perimeter Groundwater Operable Unit) that require Aerojet Rocketdyne to halt the spread of contamination, remediate the contamination, and restore the groundwater to beneficial use. Aerojet Rocketdyne has installed and is currently operating the treatment systems necessary to remediate and restore the offsite groundwater. Additional system modifications are anticipated to be completed in the next several years. Groundwater in portions of areas south of the Aerojet Superfund Site is also contaminated. Other regulatory actions are addressing these areas.

Drinking water in this area is primarily provided by public water supply systems, which monitor water quality and shut down impacted wells under the oversight of the State Water Resources Control Board-Division of Drinking Water.

And Another Thing

Whatever it may mean to you, I hope it continues to allow all of us to share each other's friendship

By Bob McGarvey

It is hard to believe that I am working on this column on December 2, 2022, and this year is close to being done. The general election is over with some incumbents winning and some propositions either passing or failing. Most of the holidays are gone with Labor Day, Halloween, Thanksgiving passing on with many needy people receiving meals which were given to them at the Rancho Cordova Food Locker. There were many volunteers who worked there that day, and they were wonderful helpers. Thank you all.

Our mail box is full of ads from many sources. Most businesses are hoping for great success in their sales as we get closer to Christmas. There will be many popular movies that will be on television like movies like "White Christmas", "A Miracle on 34th Street", "It's a Wonderful Life", "A Christmas Carol", and many more. I don't know how many of those we have in our home, but I am glad we also have a movie about a baby in a manger scene. That is about the wonderful Christmas story which began it all.

Our granddaughter asked me why we don't have snow here in Rancho Cordova. There seems to be snow many other places like the mountains, so we should get some here in Rancho Cordova, too. She is 7 years old, and she has 4 older brothers who also asked for snow when they were younger. Even when I was Mayor of Rancho Cordova, I couldn't bring in the snow around their home. Maybe tonight when the temperature is supposed to be the 30s, and it is supposed to be raining, maybe there will be enough of the mixture between the two that there will be snow here. I, mean why not? Now that I've said all that, we will have to see. I'll have to put that in my next column. Did it really snow? Like most kids, I hope 'snow'.

I really enjoyed being given the honor of turning on our Community Christmas Tree lights on the 27th of November in Village Green Park. Over 5,000 people had the opportunity to share the evening together and enjoy the opportunity to meet some people you already know and maybe make some new friends. We have been able to have some great events in the Village Green Park: International Festivals in May, movies in June, bands there in August, and share the time and enjoyment as we did on our community Christmas Tree. Rancho Cordova has many more opportunities to share these events together than any other community.

Something is on the front page of the "Grapevine Independent" today (Dec. 2) which isn't seen or heard very often on newspapers. Over the picture it says "Rejoice, Christmas is Here". I won't go too far with Rejoice, but most newspapers just say Merry Christmas. Many people think of religious reasons to rejoice, while so many just think of Christmas as another holiday in which they can share presents and get a day off of work. Whatever it may mean to you, I hope it continues to allow all of us to share each other's friendship.

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we'll see you next time. ★

How Did Confidential Gun Permit Data Get Leaked?

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

California Attorney General Rob Bonta and the state's gun owners were already warring over the state's very tight gun control laws when, on June 23, the U.S. Supreme Court issued a landmark decision that could threaten the constitutionality of at least some of the restrictions.

Gun owner organizations had sued to overturn some of the state's laws, such as a 10-round limit on magazines, and had some success in federal court. The 6-3 June 23 ruling, overturning a New York law restricting concealed carry permits, signaled that other restrictive laws in other states, including California, were in jeopardy.

Bonta quickly said that he wanted the Legislature to keep as many California guns laws on the books as possible. "In the wake of mass shootings in Buffalo and Uvalde, and with gun deaths at an all-time high, ensuring that dangerous individuals are not allowed to carry concealed firearms is more important than ever," he said in a statement.

Four days later, Bonta's Department of Justice unveiled a new website aimed at giving the public access to data about criminal justice, including how many Californians had concealed weapons permits. Very quickly, however, website users, including some in the media, discovered that if they hit the right button, they could access supposedly confidential personal information about gun permit applicants and holders. As the data breach unfolded, many gun owners saw it as deliberate retaliation by Bonta to spoil their celebration of the Supreme Court decision, even though he shut down the leaky website, issued public apologies, promised an independent investigation of how it happened and even sent letters to permit holders to "offer my sincerest apology..."

While gun owners' reaction was understandable, given the years of political and legal wrangling not only involving Bonta but his predecessors, such as Vice President Kamala Harris, and Gov. Gavin Newsom, the juxtaposition of the Supreme Court decision and the gun permit data leak was probably coincidental.

Last week, Bonta released the 61-page report on the data breach investigation by a prominent law firm, Morrison & Foerster, which concluded that it was caused by the errors of the ill-trained technician who operated the website, compounded by managerial failure to double-check its integrity.

The law firm said, "improper exposure of confidential personal data by DOJ, while unacceptable, was unintentional and not connected to any nefarious purpose. The investigation found that the data exposure was due to a lack of DOJ personnel training, requisite technical expertise, and professional rigor; insufficiently documented and implemented DOJ policies and procedures; and inadequate oversight by certain supervisors."

The detail of what Morrison & Foerster's team discovered is mindboggling. Repeatedly, the technician, identified only as "Data Analyst-1," insisted that the site did not allow users to access the personal data, but after it was initially shut down and then reopened, access continued to data of 190,000-plus Californians.

The report said "confidential personal data was downloaded approximately 2,734 times, in full or in part, across 507 unique IP addresses," adding, "The investigation could not accurately determine the number of public visitors who may have only viewed, but did not download, the underlying dataset."

What occurred on June 27 plays like a broken record. Repeatedly – even chronically – California's state government has attempted to use information technology with poor results.

Systems fail to deliver promised results and/or experience years of delay and immense cost overruns. Just last week, a legislative committee delved into how the secretary of state's office spent tens of millions of dollars to upgrade its site for accessing campaign finance reports and it still has a cranky and unreliable system.

That's the real scandal. Dan Walters has been a journalist for nearly 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★

City Year Sacramento Announces Cynthia Hester as New Board Chair

City Year News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - City Year Sacramento, an education nonprofit that recruits young adults for a year of service in public schools, is pleased to announce that Cynthia Hester has been selected as the organization's new Board Chair.

"Cynthia leads with empathy and puts human connections at the heart of everything she does," said Macey Amissah-McKinney, Executive Director of City Year Sacramento. "Whether it's across global cross-functional marketing teams, customer advocacy programs, or leading her team through the challenges of an ever-evolving industry, Cynthia strives to find both effectiveness and empathy. We are excited to have such an exceptional leader join our Board of Directors."

A passionate storyteller and marketing leader, Cynthia is an effective senior executive with experience in global marketing, customer advocacy, strategic planning, and DEI. She is focused on showcasing the human impact of innovative technology and how it can make a difference in people's lives. Cynthia currently serves as the Director of Global Customer Programs for Google Cloud and has held roles at HP, VMware, Salesforce, and New Relic.

"I'm excited to take on this new role for an organization I deeply believe in," Hester said. "With the impact the COVID-19 pandemic has had on the academic achievement of underserved students, the work of City Year has never been more important. I am inspired by City Year's strategic vision to create the conditions for the students farthest from opportunity to meet their potential and to develop diverse leaders who can work across lines of difference."

Cynthia is actively involved in supporting grassroots organizations focused on women's health, social justice, education and environmental issues that impact our world. Her philanthropic work includes support of Unapologetech, The Femmy's (Femtech Awards), Future Females Slovenia, The Biomimicry Institute, Center for Environmental Health, Bay Area Cancer Connection, The Humanity Lab and Ever Forward Club. She has served as board chair of The Biomimicry Institute, AIDS and Breast Cancer Emergency Fund.

"We are very delighted to welcome Cynthia Hester as Board Chair," said City Year Sacramento Vice Chair Jen Ablog. "Cynthia is an extraordinary leader, and she is deeply committed to supporting City Year's mission, corps, students and schools." ★

Public Health Awarded Grant for Child Safety Seats

Education classes and training on the installation and use of child safety seats will be available for parents and caregivers. Courtesy photo

Sac County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County Public Health, along with partner agency Mercy San Juan, will educate parents and caregivers on how to properly secure children in a safety seat.

The $71,500 grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety (OTS) pays for a variety of community outreach events, including education classes and training on the installation and use of child safety seats to parents and caregivers, specifically focused on underserved and refugee communities.

The car seat safety program includes Child safety seat inspection events and education classes. Child Passenger Safety Technician (CPST) training and recertification courses. Child safety seats at no cost for families in need. Partnering with local organizations on car seat safety community outreach efforts in underserved communities.

The program runs through September 30, 2023.

"The OTS grant funding is critical in helping families, caregivers and education professionals keep children safe," Dr. Olivia Kasirye, Sacramento County Public Health Officer said. "Protecting children is everyone's top priority, and properly secured car seats are one significant way to prevent harm to children in the event of a crash."

"Like seat belts for teens and adults, correctly installed car seats are the best protection for children while they are traveling," OTS Director Barbara Rooney said. "Car seat programs are an important traffic safety ally."

Sacramento County residents can contact Riley Stoltenburg at StoltenburgR@sac-county.gov or call (916) 875-6094 for more information.

Funding for this program was provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety, through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. ★

DWR Awards $5 Million for Delta Communities to Improve Flood Emergency Response

DWR News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Department of Water Resources (DWR) on November 16 announced awarding $5 million in funding for seven emergency response agencies within the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta to increase their ability to respond to flood emergencies. This funding will help to improve the emergency response efforts for first responders and help these communities prepare for threats of flooding in the Delta, which is increasingly vulnerable to flooding from storm events and sea level rise.

Planning for flood emergencies should be a top priority even though California is in the middle of an extreme drought, with anticipation of a fourth dry year. Recent studies have shown California communities, especially in the Delta region, are at increased risk of flooding due to climate change.

"DWR works with communities across the state to prevent flooding, but we must also be prepared to respond when flood emergencies put public safety at risk," said Gary Lippner, DWR Deputy Director of Flood Management and Dam Safety. "This funding will help bolster emergency response efforts in flooding events, which may happen at any time."

November 16's grant awards will provide funding to Delta emergency response agencies to develop flood safety plans, conduct training and emergency exercises, create and distribute flood fight materials and invest in communications equipment. Award recipients from the November 16 announcement include: San Joaquin County: $1.6 million; Yolo County: $1.56 million; Bethel Island Municipal Improvement District: $462,000; Bradford Island Reclamation District 2059: $450,000; City of Sacramento: $306,000; Hotchkiss Tract Reclamation District 799: $305,000; City of Isleton: $250,000.

A complete list of these grants and previous grant awards can be found on the Flood Emergency Response Projects Grants webpage.

Since 2012, DWR has been awarded $50 million in flood emergency response grants to improve local flood emergency response and contribute to increasing public safety. Specifically for the Delta, DWR has awarded $30 million in grant funding over the last 10 years to Delta communities.

DWR is committed to providing hundreds of millions of dollars in grant funding to communities to respond to increases in extreme weather impacts as a result of our changing climate, whether it's flooding or drought. Soon, DWR will announce funding awards totaling $85 million for emergency and long-term water resilience projects through the Small Community Drought Relief program and the Integrated Regional Water Management program. The selected projects will support strategies to improve regional resilience through water quality improvement, increased water supply and upgrades to aging infrastructure.

For communities still in need of assistance, DWR is currently accepting applications for the Urban Community Drought Relief program to support projects that build climate resiliency and emphasize water conservation efforts. ★

Judicial Watch Files Appeal Challenging FBI's Withholding of Communications

Judicial Watch News Release

WASHINGTON, D.C. (MPG) - Judicial Watch announced today it has filed an appeal challenging a U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia decision allowing the FBI to withhold records of communication between the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and several financial institutions about the reported transfer of financial transaction records of people in DC, Maryland and Virginia on January 5 and January 6, 2021 (Judicial Watch, Inc. v. U.S. Department of Justice (No. 22-5209)).

The appeal, filed in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, comes in the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) lawsuit filed by Judicial Watch after the FBI failed to respond to a February 10, 2021, FOIA request (Judicial Watch v. U.S. Department of Justice (No. 1:21-cv-01216)). Judicial Watch is asking for:

All records of communication between the FBI and any financial institution, including but not limited to Bank of America, Citibank, Chase Manhattan Bank, Discover, and/or American Express, in which the FBI sought transaction data for those financial institutions' debit and credit card account holders who made purchases in Washington, DC, Maryland and/or Virginia on January 5, 2021, and/or January 6, 2021.

In its appellate brief, Judicial Watch argues: This appeal arises from what appears to be an unprecedented abuse of the financial privacy of thousands of Americans. Substantial and compelling evidence demonstrates that the FBI sought and received records from financial institutions of anyone who used a credit card or engaged in other transactions in the Washington, D.C. area on January 5 or 6, 2021. This would include many thousands of persons living in the Washington, DC area, including possibly members of this Court.

In its appeal Judicial Watch points out that the lower court was mistaken when it upheld the FBI's Glomar response (neither confirming nor denying the existence of records) because the FBI previously acknowledged the existence of the records in multiple ways. For instance, court records filed in support of a criminal case include the FBI's statement of facts that provides the defendant's address, which was obtained through "his Bank of America account and recent Expedia transactions."

In another case, the FBI "confirmed that it obtained records from PNC Bank and discusses in detail the multiple ways that it used the financial data."

Judicial Watch cites two additional cases where the FBI describes in publicly available court records its use of financial records in the January 6 investigation.

Judicial Watch concludes: [Judicial Watch] more than adequately demonstrated that the FBI may have sought and received records from financial institutions of anyone who used a credit card or engaged in other transactions in the Washington, DC area on January 5 or 6. If so, this would be an unprecedented abuse of the financial privacy of thousands of Americans. [Judicial Watch's] FOIA request to investigate this should not be blocked by a meritless Glomar response.

"We want the details on what looks to be an unprecedented abuse of the financial privacy of countless innocent Americans by big banks and the FBI," stated Judicial Watch President Tom Fitton. "The FBI's cover-up should be rejected, and the records made public."

In February 2022, Judicial Watch filed an opposition to the U.S. Capitol Police's (USCP) effort to shut down Judicial Watch's federal lawsuit for January 6 videos and emails. Through its police department, Congress argues that the videos and emails are not public records, there is no public interest in their release, and that "sovereign immunity" prevents citizens from suing for their release. ★

Partnership to Accelerate Decarbonization Set for Long-duration Energy

SMUD News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - ESS Inc. ("ESS") (NYSE:GWH), a leading manufacturer of long-duration iron flow batteries for commercial and utility-scale energy storage applications, and the Sacramento Municipal Utility District (SMUD), the nation's sixth-largest, community-owned, not-for-profit electric service provider, announced an agreement to provide up to 200 megawatts (MW) / 2 gigawatt-hours (GWh) of ESS' environmentally safe and sustainable long duration energy storage solutions.

The agreement calls for ESS to deliver a mix of its Energy Warehouse™ and Energy Center™ long-duration energy storage (LDES) solutions for integration with the SMUD electric grid beginning in 2023. SMUD will deploy the LDES systems in support of its 2030 Zero Carbon Plan which aims to reduce thermal generation, maximize local solar generation, provide neighborhood resiliency, and increase social justice and equity. LDES is a key component in SMUD's decarbonization plan, without compromising reliability or low electricity rates.

"SMUD is striving for a clean energy future that increases grid resiliency, supports under-resourced communities and maximizes local economic development," said Paul Lau, CEO and general manager of SMUD. "Long-duration battery technologies move SMUD's 2030 Zero Carbon Plan forward by expanding our dispatchable renewable energy resources and opening doors to innovation, job training and development opportunities in the green energy sectors."

As part of this multi-year agreement, ESS intends to set up facilities for battery system assembly, operations and maintenance support and project delivery in Sacramento, creating local, high paying jobs. In addition, SMUD and ESS plan to establish a Center of Excellence to expand the workforce and knowledge base for LDES technology in partnership with higher education institutions. The Center will provide advanced LDES technical training, creating a statewide skilled talent pool to help build and maintain California's fast-growing long-duration energy storage resources.

"SMUD is a pioneering and progressive public utility that puts its words into meaningful action – in particular its pursuit of a decarbonized grid that will build resiliency, enhance job opportunities, and provide benefits for all customers," said Eric Dresselhuys, CEO of ESS. "Our agreement will be a critical component of SMUD's Zero Carbon Plan. We're pleased to partner with SMUD in realizing their 2030 Plan."

SMUD's ambitious goals are ahead of California's statewide zero-carbon target of 2045, which is the most advanced in the country. The addition of 200 MW / 2 GWh of storage, when coupled with renewable energy sources, is equivalent to removing 284,000 metric tons of CO2 emissions per year and will provide enough energy to power 60,000 homes for 10 hours.

ESS iron flow technology provides cost-effective long-duration energy storage and is ideal for applications that require from 4-12 hours of flexible energy capacity. ESS systems provide resilient, sustainable energy storage well-suited for multiple use cases including utility-scale renewable energy installations, remote solar + storage microgrids, grid load-shifting and peak shaving, and other ancillary grid services. ESS technology is safe, non-toxic and has a 25-year lifespan without capacity fade. ★

Sac State Lands School Record 18 All-Big Sky Honors, MVP Awards

Sac State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A school-record 17 players earned 18 all-Big Sky Conference football honors, it was announced on November 23. The group is comprised of nine players on the first team, four on the second team and four on the third team.

For the first time in school history, Sacramento State swept the individual awards with running back Cameron Skattebo named the Big Sky Offensive Player of the Year and nickelback Marte Mapu named the Defensive Player of the Year. Troy Taylor was named the Co-Coach of the Year, sharing the honor with Montana State's Brett Vigen. Taylor has now earned the award in 2019, 2021 and 2022 - all three seasons he has led the Hornets. This season, Taylor led the team to its first undefeated regular-season record in school history going 11-0 with wins over four ranked FCS opponents and a victory at Colorado State. Sacramento State was 8-0 in the Big Sky Conference for the second consecutive year and has won 19 straight conference games which is the second longest streak in league history.

Skattebo is the third Sacramento State player to earn Big Sky Offensive Player of the Year following running back Charles Roberts (1998, 1999) and quarterback Kevin Thomson (2019). Skattebo was also named to the all-Big Sky first team after a season in which he rushed for 1,251 yards. The sophomore also caught 24 passes for 281 yards and finished the year with nine total touchdowns (5 rushing, 3 receiving, 1 kick return). He had seven 100-yard games during the season, including a season high 201 at Eastern Washington. The Rio Linda, Calif., native is currently sixth in school single season history for rushing yards and is second with an average of 7.41 yards per carry. Skattebo was also named a finalist for the Walter Payton Award which is presented to the top offensive player in the FCS.

Mapu joins linebacker Matt Logue (2005) as the only players in school history to be named Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year. The senior ranked second on the team with 65 total tackles, including 6.5 for loss and one sack. He tied for the team lead with a pair of interceptions, added four pass breakups, two quarterback hurries and forced a fumble. Mapu, who started all 11 games during the year, had at least three tackles in each game and tallied five or more in eight contests. He was recently named a finalist for the Buck Buchanan Award which is given to the best defensive player in the FCS.

Sacramento State became the first team to sweep the Big Sky Offensive and Defensive Player of the Year awards since Montana State's Denarius McGhee and Jody Owens in 2012.

Joining Skattebo on the first team offense were wide receiver Pierre Williams, tight end Marshel Martin, guards Jackson Slater and Brandon Weldon, kicker Kyle Sentkowski and all-purpose player Asher O'Hara. Williams earned first team honors for the third straight season and follows Roberts (1998-2000) and wide receiver Fred Amey (2002-04) as the only players in school history to do so. This season, Williams caught 35 passes for 514 yards and six touchdowns. He currently ranks second in school history with 2,762 career receiving yards, is tied for third with 21 touchdowns and is fourth with 170 receptions. Williams and Amey are also the only players in the history of Sacramento State to have at least 500 receiving yards in all four years of their careers.

Martin returns to the first team for the second consecutive season. He led the Hornets this season with 43 receptions, 587 yards and eight touchdowns. During the season, he caught at least five passes in five games and had touchdowns in six contests. The junior already owns all the career receiving records in Sacramento State history by a tight end and is currently seventh in the school record book with 1,786 career receiving yards. His 21 touchdowns are also tied for third while his 135 career receptions place him sixth all-time at Sacramento State.

Slater and Weldon anchored an offensive line which helped produce a school record 2,757 rushing yards during the season. Both started all 11 games with Slater at left guard and Weldon at right. The honor is the first for Slater who is a true sophomore from Bellevue, Wash. Weldon, a senior from Compton, Calif., returned to the all-Big Sky teams after earning second team honors a year ago. He owns a 36-game consecutive starting streak which is the longest among active members of the team.

Sentkowski earned his second consecutive first team award. The senior kicker made 14-of-17 field goal attempts during the season, including a stretch of 13 in a row. He also set the school single season record with 59 made PATs. The Blaine, Wash., native is now sixth in school history with 208 career points. He also ranks third with 35 career field goals and 103 extra points. Sentkowski is also the school leader in PAT percentage (.990) and second in career field goal percentage (.814).

O'Hara was named all-league as an all-purpose player for the second straight season. The quarterback has been a touchdown machine this season, becoming the first player in school history to rush for at least one touchdown in all 11 regular season games. O'Hara finished the year with 19 rushing touchdowns which is tied for the second most in program history. He also threw for eight scores while completing 62-of-80 (.775) pass attempts during the season. The senior had two 100-yard rushing performances during the season, posting 101 yards against Utah Tech in the season opener and 129 against Idaho. He currently has 797 rushing yards which is the most by a quarterback in school history.

Armon Bailey was the team's second first team selection on defense. The linebacker set career highs with 78 total tackles including 12.5 TFLs and six sacks to lead the team in all three categories. Bailey added four pass breakups, three quarterback hurries, forced two fumbles and recovered one. The Vallejo, Calif., native was credited with at least four tackles in all 11 games and had seven or more in eight of the final nine games of the season. He was twice named Big Sky Defensive Player of the Week during the year.

Offensive linemen Nathan Mejia and Troy Stiefel, defensive tackle Jett Stanley and cornerback Caleb Nelson each took home second team all-Big Sky honors. Mejia started every game at center during his redshirt freshman season while Stiefel returned to the lineup to start every game at left tackle.

Stanley earned starts in each game at defensive tackle. The junior doubled the output from his first two seasons combined with 35 tackles during the year, including 2.5 for loss. His biggest performance came in the win against Montana where he had a career high 10 tackles.

Nelson was named second team all-league following his first season with the Hornets. In 10 games, he had 32 total tackles, including 1.5 for loss. Nelson had a memorable debut at Sacramento State as he returned an interception 98 yards for a score against Utah Tech. He also had a team-best 10 pass breakups during the season and blocked a field goal against Montana.

Quarterback Jake Duniway, running back Marcus Fulcher, defensive end Killian Rosko and punter Cal McGough were named to the all-Big Sky third team. Duniway repeated as a third team selection following a season where he completed 147-of-243 passes (.605) for 1,872 yards and 16 touchdowns. The senior tossed touchdown passes in the first 10 games of the season, including two or more in five contests. He is currently sixth in school history with 5,030 career passing yards, sixth in career completions (372), seventh in career attempts (603) and tied for seventh with 33 career touchdowns.

Fulcher earned the honor as both a running back and punt returner. The versatile junior scored eight touchdowns during the year and had 706 all-purpose yards. He rushed for 349 yards and six touchdowns on 60 attempts (5.8 yards per carry) and also caught 33 passes for 228 yards and two scores. The Fresno, Calif., native was a dangerous return man, averaging 12.4 yards per punt return including a season high 44 yarder in the win at Colorado State.

Rosko earned his first all-Big Sky recognition following a season where he had 34 stops, including five for loss. He played a large role in the team's win against Montana with a career high nine tackles and also had seven in the victory at UNI.

McGough finished his freshman regular season by averaging 40.6 yards per punt with a long of 50. He was called upon just 26 times during the season but managed to land 12 inside the 20-yard line and had only one touchback. McGough also accounted for one of the biggest plays in the Causeway Classic with a 20-yard run on a fake punt to keep the drive alive which resulted in a Hornet touchdown.

Sacramento State will continue its season in the second round of the NCAA FCS Playoffs on Saturday Dec. 3, against the winner of Davidson-Richmond at 2 p.m. from Hornet Stadium. Tickets can be purchased for $10. ★
