RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - "It's not hoarding if it's books," was the message on the T-shirts worn by Fitrah volunteers advertising their non-profit online book reselling business. Fitrah empowers Sacramento County's most vulnerable youth: those who are in the foster care system, court-involved, homeless or out of school. "We empower them by letting them run our businesses," said Nadia Niazi, president and executive director of the nonprofit. During COVID, Niazi decided to focus on collecting and reselling books online, but things moved slowly, and Fitrah had its grand opening and ribbon cutting in Rancho Cordova on September 29, 2022.

Several years ago, Canadian-American Nadia Niazi made the acquaintance of a 60-year-old woman who had been homeless for 19 years. In visiting the homeless encampments, Niazi became aware of a lot of homeless youth, many of whom have "aged out" of the foster care system, now no longer eligible. Over 800 children and youth in foster care attend school in Sacramento County school districts. Phyllis Needelman, who is secretary and member of the Fitrah board, said that there are programs that will extend support for several more years if the youth continue their education. But often, she said, "Education is the last thing they want to think about." Needelman works in foster youth services at San Juan Unified School District.

Program participants receive training and mentoring in the skill-based work of operating the bookselling business, and also receive help with personal development such as resume writing, interview techniques, obtaining an ID and setting up a bank account. The name Fitrah refers to the Arabic word relating to the state of a person at birth. "Every single youth is born pure, innocent, and deserving of a future to thrive

Measure A on November Ballot will Make Long-Awaited Improvements

Yes on Measure A News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The citizens’ initiative Measure A on the November ballot will fund long-awaited improvements to Sacramento County’s roads, bridges and transit system. Every city and community in Sacramento County will benefit.

The Yes on Measure A campaign represents a broad-based coalition led by labor, business, transportation, air quality advocates and others. The initiative will raise $8.5 billion over 40 years to improve the quality of life for all Sacramento County residents, reduce traffic congestion, improve air quality, and help drive economic growth for decades to come. Measure A must receive more than 50% of the vote to become law.

“Sacramento voters have an opportunity to support an $8.5 billion generational investment in local transportation infrastructure,” said campaign Co-Chair Michael Quigley, Executive Director of the California Alliance for Jobs. “A vote for Measure A is a vote for transportation improvements residents have long demanded – improved road safety, expanded transit access, better air quality and more jobs.”

Measure A’s highest priority is to fix potholes and repave deteriorating streets. In addition, it will invest in: Safer streets, intersections and routes to school; American River Parkway safety, maintenance and preservation; Bike and pedestrian improvements throughout the region; Senior and disabled transportation improvements and reduced fares; Congestion relief and freeway interchange modernization; A new south-county expressway connecting Highways 50, 99 and Interstate 5 to reduce congestion and shorten travel times between Folsom and Elk Grove.; Extension of Light Rail to the Airport; Improvements to major commute routes through our neighborhoods; Critical steps to fight climate change; Bus/light rail safety and service improvements; Creation of over 3,000 good-paying jobs.

Measure A will require citizen oversight, audits and annual public reports. And it will provide the local financial match to secure hundreds of millions of additional state and federal investment dollars.

The ballot initiative will require compliance with state and federal environmental laws and mitigation of greenhouse gas impacts to meet regional goals. A formal agreement between Sacramento Transportation Authority and Sacramento Area Council of Governments ensures regional coordination and compliance with these provisions.

Measure A also includes projects that will finally address needed river crossings: Replacing the 111-year-old I Street Bridge across the Sacramento River. Supporting planning for a new American River Bridge from downtown Sacramento to South Natomas.

Low-Cost Clinic Keeps Pets Healthy and Home

Vaccinations, microchipping and licensing cost a small fee that proves priceless when owners have safe, healthy pets at home where they belong. Image by J C from Pixabay

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Pet owners whose animals venture outdoors can be keenly aware of the possible dangers to their animals, such as rabies and other illnesses as well as pets becoming lost. However, indoor animals may occasionally get out and face the same risks. In partnership with VIP Pet Care, the Sacramento County Bradshaw Animal Shelter offers low-cost vaccination and microchip clinics every third Thursday of the month, 3 - 5 p.m. at 3839 Bradshaw Road, Sacramento, CA 95827.

In addition to keeping pets healthy, the clinic focuses on making sure pets can safely find their way home. Most pets who get lost and find their way to the shelter have no identification tags and no microchip, making reunification difficult.

For only $30, pet owners can buy the extra security that has proven to reunite many owners and their pets. Though visible tags are the first line of identification for animals, they may wear off, fall off or get lost. Unlike traditional ID tags, permanent microchips can contain owner contact information, pet information and Bradshaw Animal Shelter's contact information, and most vets and shelters can easily scan them.

"A microchip greatly increases the chances your pet will be returned to you when lost," said Annette Bedsworth, Director of the Bradshaw Animal Shelter. "It just takes a moment to scan, and then we can quickly reunite pets with their families. Sadly, most pets who enter our shelter are not microchipped, and we have seen many beloved pets stay for several months before their owners finally tracked down where they were. It's heartbreaking."

Pet owners can take advantage of the clinic's affordable microchipping services on the third Thursday of every month, as well as prevent illness. Pets with up-to-date vaccinations and preventive care are protected from illnesses including heartworm, kennel cough, Bordetella, parvo and Lyme disease. If unvaccinated animals contract illnesses, an owner may face costly treatments and surgeries for these preventable diseases. And when pets receive rabies vaccinations, it not only helps to prevent them from contracting the disease from bats, skunks, and raccoons, but it also protects residents from contracting the virus if bitten by an infected animal.

Licensing can be done at the same time as vaccinations and microchips for as little as $15. Owners may also conveniently purchase a license online. This inexpensive service proves a pet's ownership and home address, and animals found by County animal officers can be returned immediately to the home, saving the stress of a shelter stay for the animal and the owners.

Vaccinations, microchipping and licensing cost a small fee that proves priceless when owners have safe, healthy pets at home where they belong.

Don't have a pet? The Bradshaw Animal Shelter has many available pets for adoption looking for loving homes. Adoptions include spay/neuter surgery, vaccines and microchipping. Visit the Bradshaw Animal Shelter's website to view a list of adoptable pets. ★

January 2018 was Gleason's official start date with Cordova Community Council and The MACC. The MACC had its grand opening and official ribbon cutting in February 2018 the first show being Danny Schieble and his tapagami (tape art) exhibit. "In addition to local and regional artwork," Gleason said, "the MACC has procured several excellent traveling exhibits." "It takes a lot more time to start something from scratch, to build something, than it does to take over something that already has processes and guidelines and things in place," Gleason said. "I would rather create something than just take over something. It was a once in a lifetime kind of thing. . . ## Re-Elect Assemblyman Ken Cooley

ABOUT KEN COOLEY

Assemblyman Ken Cooley and his wife of 47 years, Sydney, have made their home in eastern Sacramento County since 1977. They raised their sons here and passed their love of camping and hiking in California's mountains, rivers and lakes. As a young man, Ken worked in the Legislature and today he is the only sitting lawmaker who has run a multi-year program of active executive branch oversight and also supported a successful veto override. Both are vital to fulfilling the Legislature's role as a co-equal branch of government.

Ken's experience and skill have earned him leadership duties in the State Capitol as Chair to both the Assembly Rules Committee and the Joint Senate and Assembly Rules Committee. As a strong advocate for the communities he represents, in recent budgets he helped local projects access about $50 million dollars in state funds.

Ken believes the most uniquely "American method" in problem-solving – seen in churches, service clubs and PTA's – is based on listening, so that all are encouraged to speak up so a sense of the group can emerge, often reflecting parts of all the ideas shared. Ken thinks this "American method" is how all governments should make decisions.

SACRAMENTO REGION HAS BEEN THE COOLEY'S HOME FOR OVER 45 YEARS.

Ken Cooley has been a leader and raised his family in this community for more than 4 decades. After moving here during the second year of their marriage, Ken and his wife Sydney raised their two sons here. They got active in Little League, Soccer, Scouting and youth camping as they grew. Hiking, biking, camping and river rafting were all part of what Sacramento and its nearby mountains provided for Ken and his young family. Ken was also an area Scoutmaster and has participated in hundreds of Eagle Scout Courts of Honor over the years. Today, camping is an activity he enjoys with his grandkids.

New Laws Trade One Gerrymander for Another

By Dan Walters,
CALMatters.org

California once had a history of epic political and legal battles over redrawing legislative and congressional districts after each decennial census.

The Legislature, dominated then as now by Democrats, would create maps that enhanced the party's prospects of gaining, or at least holding, power and if the governor was a Democrat, the gerrymandered districts would become law.

That happened after the 1980 census when then-Gov. Jerry Brown signed redistricting bills that were especially one-sided. The late Congressman Phil Burton, who largely drew weirdly shaped, but highly partisan, congressional maps called them "my contribution to modern art."

The initial set of maps was challenged by Republicans via referendum and voters rejected them, but Democratic legislators and Brown simply passed slightly amended versions.

However, if the governor happened to be a Republican, he would veto the Democrats' maps and the state Supreme Court would step into the impasse and appoint a special master to draw replacement maps that tended to favor neither party. It happened under Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan after the 1970 census and 20 years later under GOP Gov. Pete Wilson.

A twist on the process occurred after the 2000 census. Although a Democrat, Gray Davis, was governor, leaders of both parties agreed on what amounted to a bipartisan gerrymander, freezing in place the partisan status quo in the Legislature and congressional delegation. An indirect threat that the Republican-led U.S. Justice Department would thwart a Democratic gerrymander forced the compromise.

The obvious self-interest of Capitol politicians dictating the shape of legislative and congressional districts ultimately sparked a backlash — a 2008 ballot measure to shift legislative redistricting to a 14-member commission of five Democrats, five Republicans and four declined-to-state independents. Two years later, voters extended the commission's authority to congressional districts.

The professional politicians in both parties didn't like losing their authority. Democrats were particularly unhappy since they had legislative majorities and the national party tried to thwart having the commission change congressional districts.

Nevertheless, the commission drew new districts after the 2010 and 2020 censuses and while their maps may have been imperfect, they more fairly captured the population's very diverse makeup.

So if it's a good idea at the state level, why not for local governments, such as city councils, county boards of supervisors and school boards, which are just as prone to self-interested redistricting?

In 2016, the Legislature decreed that a 14-member commission would redraw districts of Los Angeles County's five-member Board of Supervisors. A year later, virtually identical legislation was passed for San Diego County and this year, clones were enacted that affect Fresno, Riverside and Kern counties.

All five measures, however, deviate significantly from the state model of even-handed party representation. They require that county redistricting commissioners reflect the partisan makeup of each county's registered voters.

That means Democrats dominate the Los Angeles and San Diego commissions and will do so in Fresno and Riverside counties as well. Republicans have a slight voter registration edge in Kern County, however.

In effect, therefore, these county redistricting commissions are being stacked to enhance the power of the dominant local party — exactly contrary to the party-neutral intent of the state commission.

Sponsors of the local bills said they were needed to prevent county supervisors from gerrymandering their own districts. But as constituted, the local commissions will be empowered to create gerrymanders of a different kind.

Institutionalizing party control of local redistricting also further undermines California's historic commitment to non-partisan local government. That's not progress.

Dan Walters has been a journalist for nearly 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★

The City of Rancho Cordova Receives Project of the Year Award

City of RC News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The City of Rancho Cordova was honored with a Project of the Year award from the Sacramento Chapter of the American Public Works Association (APWA) for the Cordova Vineyards and Cordova Lane Street Rehabilitation project.

The first phase of this project was completed in Summer 2022. When both phases are complete, this project will restore 12 miles of road and over 4,000 feet of sidewalks, curbs, and gutters in two of Rancho Cordova's most established neighborhoods.

"Thank you to city staff, project partners and the City Council for making this project possible. We would also like to thank the APWA Sacramento Chapter for this honorable recognition and the residents for their patience during project construction," said Public Works Director Albert Stricker.

In addition to new roads, sidewalks, curbs and gutters, this project will provide ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act) upgrades at 40 intersections and 1,700 feet of storm drain upgrades. Well-functioning storm drains are especially important during fall and winter months when they help prevent localized flooding.

"The Cordova Lane and Cordova Vineyards neighborhoods were established in the 1950s and 60s, and we are very excited to greatly improve these road conditions," said Edgar Medina, Principal Engineer. "Residents in the area can expect the new, rehabilitated roads to last thirty years or more."

Both phases of the project are supported by the city's Community Enhancement & Investment Fund. Construction on phase two is currently underway and is anticipated to be complete in Winter 2022/23.

For more information about current Public Works projects, visit CityofRanchoCordova.org/CurrentProjects. ★

Sac State Athletics News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento State defense produced a dominant first half and the offense overcame a slow start to roll past Northern Colorado, 55-7, on Saturday night at Hornet Stadium.

The Hornets, which entered the game ranked fourth in the AFCA FCS coaches poll, improved to 5-0 overall and 2-0 in the Big Sky Conference. The start to the year is the best in the school's Div. I era and the second best in school history, trailing only the 6-0 mark of the 1991 team. UNC dropped to 2-4 overall and 1-2 in league games.

The defense did not allow a first down in the first half and limited the Bears to 27 yards in the first two quarters. The unit recorded a fourth-down stop on the opening drive of the game and then followed with five straight 3-and-outs to end the half. The defense has now posted nine scoreless halves and 34 scoreless quarters over the last two seasons.

It took the Sacramento State offense some time to get revved up, but the team eventually found its rhythm. The Hornets were stopped on fourth down tries on their own on the first two drives of the game and had to punt on its third series.

The team broke through with a 9-yard rush from Marcus Fulcher with 4:23 left in the first quarter. Asher O'Hara added a 5-yard rush up the middle of the field five seconds into the second quarter and Fulcher followed with his second touchdown on a 4-yard rush. The final points of the first half came from the leg of Kyle Sentkowski who made a 46-yard field goal as time expired.

Sacramento State wasted little time scoring in the second half, finding the end zone on a 45-yard pass from Jake Dunniway to Marshel Martin to cap a 4-play, 75-yard drive to start the third quarter.

Northern Colorado pieced together its most successful offensive drive of the game on the ensuing series, earning its initial first down and eventually scoring on a 2-yard rush from Elijah Dotson with 6:43 left in the third quarter. The Bears attempted an onside kick which was recovered by Sacramento State and the Hornets scored four plays later with a 17-yard rush from Cameron Skattebo.

The defense recovered a fumble on the next offensive series by the Bears and the offense responded with an 11-yard strike to Parker Clayton four plays later to make it 45-7 at the end of the third quarter.

Sacramento State ended its scoring with points in the first and last minute of the fourth quarter. Sentkowski made his second field goal of the night with a successful attempt from 41 yards just 48 seconds into the period. The final score came on a 6-yard run from redshirt freshman quarterback Dorian Hale.

The Hornets finished the night with 622 yards of total offense on 97 offensive plays – both season highs. The team rushed for 332 yards on 59 carries and scored five touchdowns. Skattebo led the way with 124 yards on 18 carries. The quarterback trio of Kaiden Bennett (59 yards), Asher O'Hara (57 yards) and Hale (41 yards) combined for 157 rushing yards.

Dunniway completed 20-of-28 passes for 258 yards and two touchdowns while O'Hara and Bennett added five additional completions. In all, 10 Sacramento State receivers caught passes in the game, led by tight end Marshel Martin who had nine receptions for 103 yards.

Northern Colorado finished the game with 175 total yards and nine first downs. Both marks were season bests for the Hornet defense which has allowed less than 200 total yards of offense in two games this season.

Sacramento State will next play at Eastern Washington on Saturday, Oct. 15, at 4 p.m. ★

Empowering the Most Vulnerable

Stallion King, the first client to complete the Fitrah program training, with Nadia Niazi, president and executive director. King now serves the organization as trainer and volunteer coordinator.

Continued from page 1 regardless of their race, religion, or gender," Niazi said. With her vision, energy and ability, Niazi has collected a cadre of enthusiastic and able volunteer helpers, who work with the youth who have joined the program.

Amreen Keval met Niazi at an event unrelated to Fitrah, but when they got to know each other, she was invited to join the board. She declined, but is now operations manager, preferring hands-on work more than an administrative or financial position. "I have a 17-year-old, he's a senior and . . . I'm going to college fairs with him," Keval said. "A lot of these foster kids don't have that kind of support, where they have the guidance such as, 'You need to be doing this now, this is how you apply for college, this is how you apply for financial aid.' We want to fill that niche."

The first client to complete the program was Stallion King, who is now a volunteer trainer and coordinator. Addressing the large group attending the grand opening, King said that she had lacked confidence when she started with Fitrah, and never in the past would have felt able to address a group such as she was doing. "Fitrah for me over time has become a family," King said. "With the love and support from them, I'm able to conquer everything." Three other participants in the program received their certificates of completion at the event: Emily Evans, Annie Lindberg, and David Diaz.

Start-up entrepreneur investor Ingrid Rosten is on the Fitrah board. The thing that Rosten sees that is different with Fitrah from some other programs is the hands-on work and pay to work. They get mentored along the way, but just by doing that work and learning the skills, it boosts their confidence so much that they are able to "take on life from a different lens."

The Fitrah program has sponsorship and support from many organizations, such as United Way, CASA, JPMorgan Chase, and many others, and in the past has received a grant and SHINE award from SMUD.

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the trustee: CA-21-896992-NJ. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916-939-0772, or visit this internet website <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-

21-896992-NJ to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE OWNER-OCCUPANT: Any prospective owner-occupant as defined in Section 2924m of the California Civil Code who is the last and highest bidder at the trustee's sale shall provide the required affidavit or declaration of eligibility to the auctioneer at the trustee's sale or shall have it delivered to Quality Loan Service Corporation by 5 p.m. on the next business day following the trustee's sale at the address set forth in the below signature block. ## Sac State Athletics News Release

SAN JOSE, CA (MPG) - Sacramento State men's soccer alumnus Benji Kikanovic has been named the San Jose Earthquakes Young Player of the Year for 2022 as the club announced its annual team awards.

The award is given to the most impactful player 23 years of age or younger on matchday one according to the club's press release. After spending the 2020 season with the USL Championship affiliate Reno 1868 FC, Kikanovic signed with San Jose for the 2021 season, appearing in 17 matches and scoring four goals and an assist on 20 shots.

This year, Kikanovic has taken a tremendous leap in his second professional season, setting new career highs in appearances (29), starts (15), minutes played (1,312), goals (six), and assists (3). His six goals rank third on the team as of

Oct. 5, while the three assists are tied for fifth.

He finished with a pair of goals — his first of the season — in a 2-1 victory over Chicago, kicking off a run of three-straight matches with a point. He added goals in starts against Portland (July 23), Atlanta (Aug. 6), and Los Angeles FC (Aug. 20), while coming off the bench to score against Minnesota in the club's last match on Oct. 1.

Kikanovic played two collegiate seasons for the Hornets, appearing in 34 of the 35 matches from 2018-19 and making 33 starts. As a freshman, Kikanovic led the team with five goals — including a pair of game-winners — and four assists, picking up Big West Conference Co-Freshman of the Year and all-conference second team laurels. A year later, he finished with four goals and an assist to earn his second straight all-league second team honor. ★

And Another Thing

I think all of us are ready for the rain drops to fall

By Bob McGarvey

My wife and I took a walk in the evening in our neighborhood, and there were a few leaves that had begun to fall. Granted, there aren't many colorful leaves that "drift by my window," but there were a few crunchy leaves which allowed us to make that familiar autumn sound. I am not sure when the weather forecasters will guess we will get some rain, but I think all of us are ready for the rain drops to fall.

It won't be long before we will be celebrating Halloween, and there will be many little (and a few big) gremlins, witches, and other little costumed creatures (kids) who are going through neighborhoods and enjoying themselves at parties saying 'trick or treat'. Most of the time they get a bag full of candy, eat too much, and still wish they had more. Hopefully, that will be all that happens this Halloween and we hope no one gives our kids any drugs etc. Many of those kids never heard of "All Hallows Eve", but that's another story.

The holiday after Halloween will be Veterans Day on November 11. In other countries they celebrate Armistice Day and Remembrance Day while we are celebrating Veterans Day. All of them mark the end of World War I. Since then, we have also celebrated the end of WWII, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, the Gulf War, War in Iraq and Afghanistan. This coming Veterans Day there will be a blood drive for Veterans in front of City Hall, and there will be flags flying along Folsom Blvd, but no ceremonies that we usually have in The City of Rancho Cordova.

I am sorry that we won't have our usual ceremonies and have different ways of honoring our Veterans, but I will be working for Memorial Day and Veterans Day next year. I started the ceremonies on Veterans Day in November of 2006 when I was Mayor of the City of Rancho Cordova, and most of the time we have been able to continue the ceremonies of honoring our Veterans on those two days. Next year, 2023 we will have the ceremonies on both of those days, and we will honor our Veterans. I asked some kids when WWI ended, and most only knew it may have been in their history books. They didn't know that the hostilities of WWI formally ended at the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918, when the Armistice with Germany went into effect. Armistice Day changed to Veterans Day in 1954.

This coming year should be interesting after the final results of the election are turned in, and we see who our elected officials are in our city, who the Supervisor is, who our Assembly member is, who our State Senator is, and who our federal elected officials are, and who they are when they are sworn into office. Then we can all sit back and see if our electeds are willing to compromise. I know some people don't like to compromise, nor do they want anyone else to compromise, but it is either that or you accomplish nothing. We have one month and two days before we vote. No matter what you want (or not) please use your franchise as a citizen of the United States and VOTE!

One more thing that I have to talk about is that our City Manager Cyrus Abhar is going to retire. Cyrus has been a part of our city since we became a city. He is an engineer and was the director of public works until we hired him as our City Manager 7 years ago. I was able to work with him when City Council Member Linda Budge and I were a sub committee to clean up and beautify the historic Kilgore Cemetery. That is just one of the first items we did as a city. Cyrus Abhar gave us the direction we needed and led us so we were able to protect and beautify that cemetery ..

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we'll see you next time. ★

Folsom Lake College Announces Presidential Transition

Former Folsom Lake College President Dr. Rachel Rosenthal has been appointed Interim President, effective September 1, 2022. Courtesy headshot

FOLSOM, CA (MPG) - Dr. Whitney Yamamura, the President of Folsom Lake College, left the college on Aug. 31, 2022, after serving in the position for over five years. Dr. Yamamura was the third president in the school's eighteen-year history. Former Folsom Lake College President Dr. Rachel Rosenthal has been appointed Interim President, effective September 1, 2022.

Dr. Whitney Yamamura began his presidency in July 2017, as the culmination of his more than three-decade career in the Los Rios Community College District. The district which serves nearly 70,000 students in the greater Sacramento region is the second largest community college district in California. Within the district, Yamamura proudly served at all four Los Rios Colleges (American River, Cosumnes River, Folsom Lake, and Sacramento City Colleges) in a wide range of positions both inside and outside the classroom, starting as a teaching intern in 1989 before being hired as a part-time adjunct faculty and then full-time tenured faculty teaching economics and working his way up the administrative ladder as area and center dean, vice president of instruction, and interim president.

During Yamamura's tenure at Folsom Lake College, he guided the institution through the update of the college's Facilities Master Plan which included the planning and design of the college's new science building and phase two of the Rancho Cordova Center, supported the implementation of new placement standards which empowered all students to place into transfer-level English and math courses, expanded the Rancho Cordova Promise program to include military veterans, broadened support services for students of color and underserved populations including the creation of the college's Equity Center, supported the transition of the college's Harris Center for the Arts to managing partner VenueTech, developed new career education programs and business partnerships, institutionalized the Prison Reentry Education Program to serve incarcerated students at five correctional partner facilities and formerly incarcerated students upon their return to the college and the community, and successfully navigated the college's transition to fully remote operations and instruction during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"In more than three decades in Los Rios, Whitney Yamamura served the students, faculty, and staff of our colleges with grace and compassion, and our colleges - as well as the students we serve - are better off as a result of Dr. Yamamura's service," said Dr. Brian King, Chancellor of the Los Rios Community College District. "Dr. Yamamura served as the President of Folsom Lake College at perhaps the most challenging time to ever be a college president, and yet was still able to move critical work forward on behalf of our students. He will be sorely missed, both personally and professionally, by everyone in Los Rios. We are exceptionally fortunate that Dr. Rosenthal has agreed to temporarily pause her retirement to return to the college until the search for a permanent president is complete."

As a fourth-generation Japanese American and Sacramentan, Yamamura has deep roots in the community. He is the grandson and great-grandson of farmers and farmworkers. His father's family was interned in California during WWII and his father later taught in the Elk Grove Unified School District for more than 30 years. Yamamura has been active in the community having served on the boards of the Folsom

Tourism & Economic Development Corp., the Citrus Heights and Natomas Chambers of Commerce, and the Sacramento Asian Chamber of Commerce, while maintaining professional memberships with Asian Pacific Americans in Higher Education, the Association of California Community College Administrators, and as Vice President of the Asian Pacific Islander Trustees and Administrators Association. He was named Folsom Chamber of Commerce Educator of the Year in 2020 and was co-recipient of the national Asian Pacific Americans in Higher Education (APAHE) Annual Award in 2018.

"It's truly been my privilege to serve our students, our faculty and staff, and our communities. Folsom Lake College is a special place," Yamamura shared. "I am forever grateful to my wonderful mentors and so many great people who supported me along the way. I know Folsom Lake College has a bright future and I will watch proudly as it continues to grow and prosper."

To honor Yamamura's legacy and dedication to removing barriers and providing resources to historically underrepresented students, the FLC President Yamamura Scholarship for Equity has been established by the Los Rios Colleges Foundation. The scholarship will support the ongoing efforts of the college's Equity Center and students from disproportionately impacted populations. Students will be able to apply for the scholarship starting January 2023.

Yamamura has accepted a promotional opportunity to serve as the Chancellor of the Coast Community College District in Costa Mesa, CA, and assume his new position as of Sept. 1, 2022.

Dr. Rosenthal, who served as Folsom Lake College's second president from July 2012 to December 2016, has paused her retirement and has returned to serve as Interim President starting Sept. 1, 2022, while the Los Rios Community College District conducts a nationwide search for Yamamura's successor. ★

CDFW News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - California's 2022-2023 general tree squirrel season is open from Saturday, Sept. 10, 2022, through Sunday, Jan. 29, 2023.

Tree squirrels may be taken only in open zones during the open season and in observance of the shooting hours for resident small game, which is one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset. A map of the state's tree squirrel hunt zones can be found on the California Department of Fish and Wildlife (CDFW) website, along with the full tree squirrel regulations.

Four types of tree squirrels are game species in California. The Western gray squirrel and the Douglas squirrel are both native to California while the Eastern fox squirrel and the Eastern gray squirrel have been introduced and not native to the state. These tree squirrels can be hunted under authority of a hunting license in California and no other validations are required. To learn more about how to hunt for these squirrels and their distributions, habitat and patterns, watch the "Hunting California Tree Squirrels" recorded webinar on CDFW's YouTube channel.

A fifth species of tree squirrel, the Northern flying squirrel, is not a game species and may not be taken. Northern flying squirrels are small tree squirrels that are native to the boreal forests of North America and can be found as far south as the Sierra Nevada. They are seldom encountered due to their nocturnal nature and preference for mature forest habitats with complex canopy structure.

Tree squirrel population levels fluctuate from year to year based on prevailing weather conditions and the annual production of nuts, acorns and seeds for forage.

National forests provide some of the best opportunity to hunt tree squirrels in California. Bureau of Land Management lands and CDFW wildlife areas may also provide opportunity for squirrel hunting. As a friendly reminder, nonlead shot is required when taking any wildlife with a firearm anywhere in California.

Please plan accordingly. For more information, please see the CDFW non-lead ammunition page. ★

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Recreation & Park District's (CRPD) Community Engagement Program continues with a Sock and Underwear Drive! The Community Engagement Program, led by CRPD General Manager Patrick Larkin, is a program that focuses on giving back to the community.

"I'm proud of our generous and caring CRPD staff for their continued support for the unhoused students in our community. Many of the CRPD staff are residents of Rancho Cordova so this opportunity to work with FCUSD for the students in need has special meaning," said Larkin. "We look forward to more opportunities to work in partnership with FCUSD to make the community stronger and to meet the needs of our most vulnerable youth."

Throughout September, CRPD collaborated with the Folsom Cordova Unified School District (FCUSD) to collect socks and underwear for students in need. On September 21, 2022, CRPD staff presented FCUSD with over 800 articles of clothing for students.

"We are extremely grateful for the generosity of the Cordova Recreation and Park District. Because of your generosity, the basic needs of our most vulnerable students are being met," said Director of Social Emotional Learning and Educational Equity Dr. Iyuanna Pease. "Your valued partnership helps us eliminate barriers to learning. Again, we send a heartfelt thank you for your kindness and partnership."

CRPD is proud to collaborate with FCUSD to help support local students.

Cordova Recreation & Park District is one of the largest independent special districts in Northern California serving over 128,000 residents and four school districts in the greater Sacramento area. CRPD provides over 43 parks and recreational facilities, a full-service 18-Hole course at Cordova Golf Course, as well as youth & adult sports, camps, enrichment classes, educational programs and special events for the community. ★
