Let Springtime Color You!

Holi Festival Reflects the Openness of Asia

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - With the arrival of spring, members of the Sacramento Telangana Association (STA) celebrated the Holi Festival of Colors, according to the Hindu calendar, on Saturday, March 19, at Village Green Park.

Anil Reddy Kondakrinidi, STA Director At-large, said, "The festival has been spreading world-wide and now is in the Sacramento region in its fifth year, with 558 adults and 333 kids registered online, which equated to approximately 1200 participants attending."

Rick Sloan, Cordova Recreation and Park District Board of Director, observed: "Attendants were happy, for this time, Holi was celebrated—not somewhere in a cement parking lot—but at the center of Village Green Park in Rancho Cordova."

This year's more civic approach is much more in tune with the way in which the festival apparently occurs in India—out in the open streets, parks, outside temples and buildings.

The heavily forecast and somewhat misty weather in Sacramento this past weekend also lent itself to the festival, reminiscent of the strong precipitation often associated with their native

Honoring and Celebrating Women's History Month: Alma Wilson

City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - As we celebrate Women's History Month throughout the month of March, we invite you to get to know some of the notable women in our Rancho Cordova community and their triumphs.

At the March 7, 2022, Rancho Cordova City Council meeting, the City Council recognized Rancho Cordova resident, Alma Wilson for her 100th birthday this March 13, during Women's History Month.

Before settling in Rancho Cordova, Alma grew up in Atlanta where she attended the only high school for Black students in her city. After high school, Alma received a Bachelor of Liberal Arts from Morris Brown College and went on to teach elementary school for over 20 years. Her husband, Robert D. Wilson, Sr., was an original Tuskegee Airmen. The Air Force took them to different bases in the United States and England. They were stationed at Mather Air Force Base in 1964, and the two liked Rancho Cordova and decided to call it home. Together, they had four children and were married for 50 years at the time of Robert's death in 1997.

"It doesn't feel any different to turn 100," said Alma. "Take each year as it comes and keep on striving. Do what you can, as long as you can."

Alma is a member of Cordova Baptist church in Rancho Cordova, and she has five grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. She enjoys reading and doing crossword puzzles, which she says keep her mind sharp.

Please join us in wishing Alma a very happy 100th birthday!

Farewell, ARCO!

Kings Organization and Fans Say Goodbye to the 'Old Barn'

Story and photos by Shaun Holkko, sports editor

SACRAMENTO CA (MPG) - ARCO Arena, Power Balance Pavilion, and Sleep Train Arena are three names that were synonymous with the home of the Sacramento Kings for 28 years.

ARCO Arena officially closed Saturday in Natomas for good, as members of the Kings organization and fans said their final farewells to a building that opened in 1988 and meant so much to a city for so long.

"This is a shining example that in Sacramento there was a time when we were at the top of the basketball world and this is where you had to come to see the 'Greatest Show on Court,' so that gives us hope," said Doug Christie, who played shooting guard in Sacramento from 2000 to 2005. "This building is different than Golden 1 (Center). Golden 1 has things to walk around and see. But here, there was 17,000 people already sitting in their seat. When we came out of that tunnel it was energy, if you didn't have it, they gave it to you."

Christie, now an assistant coach with the Kings, Vlade Divac and Brad Miller were the former Kings players in attendance Saturday. Olympic gold medalist Ruthie Bolton made an appearance to represent the Monarchs, the former WNBA team that won a championship for Sacramento in 2005 before disbanding in 2009.

"This was the venue (where) the fans were the soul, and we were the show," Christie said. "That mix is something that you don't find. We were white-hot before Miami. We were beautiful basketball before Golden State. The only thing we didn't do is put a ring on it. I told (Kings' owner) Vivek (Ranadivé) when we were standing here, 'It's gonna happen, it will. And when it does, right on the bottom down there, just put ARCO because that would be so very fitting.'"

Ranadivé, who kept the team from moving out of Sacramento in 2013, and former owner Gregg Lukenbill, who brought the franchise to the 916 in 1985, each spoke

Saturday morning about the former home known to many as the "Old Barn."

"I know this is a bittersweet moment for everyone because there is some amazing memories," Ranadivé said. "I describe this place as a communal fireplace. The firepit is the arena, the players are the fire, they lit that fire. The fans huddled around that communal fireplace and it's been an amazing fireplace. So, thanks to all of you for the memories."

Also in attendance for the farewell were politicians, Sacramento Mayor Darrell Steinberg and Vice Mayor Angelique Ashby, as well as former Kings coach and broadcaster Jerry Reynolds.

"This is very emotional because there isn't a Sacramentan who hasn't been part of this community for decades who doesn't have incredible memories of experiences here at, I know it's Sleep Train, ARCO Arena. It's what it is, ARCO Arena," Steinberg said. "The memories, even the painful ones, are all good."

The "Farewell to ARCO Arena" event was open to season ticket holders starting at noon Saturday and to the public from 2-6 P.M. Fans had the opportunity to walk through the old arena, take photos and write farewell messages that will remain on the site.

The Kings also gave away an abundance of free boxes of team memorabilia like jerseys and signed basketballs that were stored over the years at ARCO, to those who were willing to brave the long line. The event was one last get-together for Kings fans at the place they called home for many years.

It is well documented that Sacramento has struggled for many years on the court, as the current team is 25-48 and close to missing the playoffs for what would be an NBA record 16th consecutive season. However, the Kings' best years in Sacramento so far were at ARCO, including nine playoff appearances, eight consecutive from 1998 to 2006, and a trip to the 2002 Western Conference Finals.

In 2013, the arena set a Guinness World Record for loudest indoor sports roar at 126 decibels.

"I truly appreciate the soul of this building," Christie said. "I never knew that wood, metal and plastic could make such a sound. But it was a sound that I will never forget."

Off the court, ARCO hosted concerts, high school and college sports, WWE, MMA, Disney on Ice and so much more.

After fighting for years to keep their team in town, Kings fans were rewarded in 2016 with the Golden 1 Center. Now, the space in Natomas that they once called home will be demolished in the coming months to make way for a new medical center and hospital.

"One of the epic moments of my life was to be able to stand here, and I'll just repeat what I said, I said, 'This is your team, and it is here to stay,' Ranadivé said. "This is a place that has been giving for years and years so I'm really happy that that tradition of giving is going to continue as we open a world-class hospital over here so it's going to keep giving to the community.

"As bitter as it is, it's also sweet because we have a beautiful new arena downtown. As great as the past has been, the future is going to be even better." ★

Holmes Speaks at Kid's Banquet

By Terence Lee, Crossover Basketball

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Crossover Basketball organization celebrated the 2022 middle school basketball season on Tuesday, March 15 at River City Christian Church.

This year's season consisted of four teams with 8 to 10 players per team. Games were played on Monday evenings for six weeks. Through Rancho Cordova's Measure H Community Enhancement Fund, the league hosted Richaun Holmes from the Sacramento Kings as their guest speaker for the celebration dinner.

Crossover Basketball's focus is to build character, confidence, responsibility and faith in their players. Holmes reflected on these attributes when speaking to the middle schoolers. The 6-foot-10 center stated that his success in the NBA has come because of a strong family foundation and hard individual work.

After Holmes spoke, he took photographs and signed autographs for the kids and their families. Team awards were distributed while attendees enjoyed a nice meal consisting of pasta with meat sauce, salad, garlic bread and brownies for dessert.

The 2022 high school season for Crossover Basketball begins on March 28 and spots are still available. Please visit www.rivercitychristian.org/crossover for more information. ★

Regional San Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Water Commission recently announced that Regional San will receive about $4.3 million in additional Proposition 1 grant funding from California's Water Storage Investment Program (WSIP). These funds will help finance Regional San's Harvest Water Program. This additional funding adds to the previous $287.5 million in WSIP funding, for an overall total award of about $292 million.

Harvest Water was established to meet Regional San's goal of increasing the use of recycled water by providing tertiary-treated wastewater for farmers - demonstrating Regional San's ongoing commitment to environmental stewardship.

Harvest Water represents one of the largest agricultural water reuse projects in the United States. Once complete, it will provide up to 50,000 acre-feet per year of drought-resistant recycled water to irrigate up to 16,000 acres of permanent agriculture and habitat conservation lands near the Cosumnes River and Stone Lakes National Wildlife Refuge in Sacramento County.

"Regional San takes its commitment to environmental stewardship very seriously," said Christoph Dobson, Regional San's General Manager. "Securing these funds helps our efforts to provide a safe and sustainable water supply for agriculture, irrigation and habitat protection. It also reduces the need for groundwater pumping, a critical need in today's drought conditions."

Next steps include continued planning efforts with local farmers and development of designs for pumping, transmission and distribution systems to convey recycled water from the wastewater treatment plant near Elk Grove to farmers in southern Sacramento County. The first phase of the recycled water delivery system is expected to be operational by 2025.

Learn more about Harvest Water at regionalsan.com/harvestwater.

Social Workers: Making Communities Better

Social workers in DHA work tirelessly to help those in the greatest need of services become self-sufficient and independent. MPG file photo

By Laurie Slothower, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Social workers make communities better. They help protect children, youth, and the elderly from abuse. They connect people suffering from substance abuse and mental illness to services. They link people challenged by homelessness, poverty and lack of healthcare to housing, benefits and employment. They help severely disabled individuals live in the least restrictive environment possible.

March is National Social Work Month, and Sacramento County joins the National Association of Social Work (NASW) in celebrating this great profession and in sharing this year's motto, "The Time is Right for Social Work."

The goal of Social Work Month is to inform the public, policymakers and legislators about the way social workers meet people where they are every day and help them live to their fullest potential.

Sacramento County employs almost 600 social workers in many different County departments. The Department of Child, Family and Adult Services (DCFAS) and the Department of Human Assistance (DHA) have the largest numbers of social workers on staff.

DCFAS social workers link individuals and families to services that promote the safety, health and well-being of community members across all ages. Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, they continued to provide in-person visits, working on the frontlines along with doctors, nurses, law enforcement and other essential employees.

At DHA, social workers help families who are experiencing homelessness, domestic violence and other family crises. They help clients learn job-seeking skills. A team of social workers specializes in helping clients navigate the challenging disability benefits process. DHA also has a social worker in the General Assistance Program making referrals to service agencies.

In addition to these efforts, DHA also has social workers assigned to the Homeless Outreach and Encampment Teams working with Sacramentans experiencing homelessness to navigate public benefits and shelter/housing options.

"Our DCFAS social workers are everyday heroes and I feel privileged to be a part of this team," said Michelle Callejas, Director of the Department of Children, Family and Adult Services.

"The social workers in DHA work tirelessly to help those in the greatest need of services become self-sufficient and independent. It is because of their efforts and the efforts of those they work with across department and jurisdictional lines that Sacramentans can thrive and be safe," said Ethan Dye, Director of Human Assistance.

Social work is one of the fastest-growing professions in the United States, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. At the same time, Sacramento County has an ongoing need for social workers to help the community's most vulnerable residents. The Human Services Social Worker and Human Services Social Worker (with Master's Degree) positions are on continuous file, meaning the County is always accepting applications. If you're interested in applying, visit saccountyjobs.net. ★

Revised Sacramento County Housing Element Approved

Sacramento County Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Board of Supervisors voted unanimously on March 8 to adopt a resolution amending the Sacramento County General Plan, including the Housing Element.

The Board of Supervisors approved the initial General Plan Amendment amending the Housing Element of the Sacramento County General Plan back in July 2021, and Planning and Environmental Review (PER) submitted the adopted Housing Element to State of California Housing and Community Development Department (HCD) for certification in July 2021.

On October 28, 2021, PER staff received a letter from HCD requiring additional changes for certification.

Between December 2021 and February 2022, PER staff worked with HCD and the Sacramento Housing Alliance (SHA) to address all concerns and comments related to the Housing Element.

"The Revised Housing Element includes program clarifications that respond to the State of California Housing and Community Development Department and Sacramento Housing Alliance comments," said Todd Smith, Principal Planner. "With the approval of the Board of Supervisors, the adopted Housing Element will be resubmitted to the HCD, and we are confident that it will be certified."

Two versions of the approved Housing Element are available for review on the PER Housing Element Update webpage: a "clean" version and a version with changes tracked. ★

We Stand with the People of Ukraine

Max Semencko

Commentary by Betsy Mahan

Sacramento has one of the largest Ukrainian immigrant populations in the USA, and they are stepping up to help the besieged, freedom-loving people of Ukraine push back against Putin's aggressions.

While President Trump was our leader, Russia was in check. During the Bush and Obama Administrations, Putin successfully restored control over parts of the former Soviet Union, and now he's back on the battlefield because of Biden's weakness.

While Putin was able to ignore any consequences of crossing Biden, he underestimated the resolve of the Ukrainian people to remain independent of Russia. Their bravery and patriotism has been admirable and worthy of our respect and assistance.

One Sacramento resident who has a personal stake in the Ukraine's survival is local businessman and candidate for Congress Max Semencko. With family under siege in his former country, Max is stepping up to inform Sacramentans on the circumstances that led to this invasion, and how to help the people of Ukraine persevere.

Below are Max Semencko's observations:

"Vladimir Putin has shattered European security and is threatening nuclear war against any country that stands in his way. Putin's war against innocent Ukrainians is criminal and an attack on the fundamental principles of sovereignty and self-determination that underpin global security. NATO and the west have no choice but to recognize what's unfolding in Europe. The world must stop Vladimir Putin.

I was born in Ukraine, and I understand why Ukrainians want to join NATO: Peace, security, freedom. Ukraine declared independence in 1991, when the communist Supreme Soviet of Ukraine proclaimed that Ukraine would no longer follow the laws of USSR. What the people of Ukraine didn't do in 1991 was ask to remain a part of a Soviet Union. Nor did they want to continue living under Russian laws.

Putin claims Russians in Ukraine are estranged from their homeland, are under attack, and that Russia is coming to their defense. In 2014, Putin began issuing Russian passports to ethnic Russians in Crimea and areas in eastern Ukraine. Crimea was invaded and annexed to Russia soon after. Putin has since continued his asymmetrical form of cultural warfare in eastern Ukraine while arming and directing "Russian rebels" to fight a war of "independence" against Kiev.

I support heavy sanctions on Russia and engaging our allies to ban Russia from international banking and financial markets. The USA must step up aid for Ukraine's resistance, and when Vladimir Putin threatens nuclear retaliation, President Biden and our NATO allies must communicate our resolve to halt Russian aggression in equally strong terms.

This new reality demands a new posturing and resurgence of NATO forces into eastern Europe. We must immediately demonstrate by our actions that the United States and NATO will fight back and reverse any further Russian aggression.

The USA and our allies have blindly tolerated dependence on Russian energy supplies, in effect financing their wars. It's not too late to return the United States to its status as an energy independent nation, and as a Member of Congress that will be one of my priorities.

I am personally supporting and working with Revived Soldiers Ukraine, a non-profit that is providing aid to Ukrainian families and healthcare to wounded soldiers. You can join me and donate at www.rsukraine.org.

Please pray for peace - for the United States, our soldiers, and our leaders. Pray for the safety of our friends and allies facing the enemy, Ukrainian leaders, families, and those on the frontlines."

Sacramento voters should contact their Member of Congress and demand that the USA return to energy independence and stop funding Russian aggression. Contact information is available at SacCountyGOP.com. ★

I am glad that after two years we will have the "Kids Day in the Park" this year, the "Rancho Cordova International Festival" will also be celebrated this year; we will be celebrating and honoring our Veterans on Memorial Day (May 30); we will be celebrating a three day weekend on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, that will be July 2nd, 3rd, and 4th with the parade; there will be the Capital Air Show, the Veterans Day, and more people feeling comfortable when we light up our Christmas Tree lights. There will be many other events we can enjoy this year after having to miss them for two years because of the coronavirus. All this happened because of the vaccines which helped fight off the COVID-19.

There was an article in last weeks Grapevine Independent about proposition 47. I can't find anything good about giving thieves and thugs tickets and a slap on the wrist for stealing thousands of drugs, big TV sets, jewelry, etc. That proposition has changed felonies to misdemeanors and the crooks are back on the streets because the items they steal are worth less than $950.00. Small businesses are not the only ones who are suffering. Bug businesses have to pass on those losses to their customers too. Unfortunately, AB 1599 which would repeal proposition 47 failed. There are three new bills which are aimed at repealing 47. We will have to watch them.

And Another Thing There will be Many Events we will Enjoy this Year

I haven't talked about building a plaque or monument or wall to name and honor Rancho Cordova's Veterans. That hasn't been mentioned for a while, but it is not forgotten. We can never forget our Veterans and that they have protected our freedoms and liberties in our country. When that is finally done we will have the names of the Veterans we know, and a place for those who's names we haven't received. There are unknown soldiers here just as there is a place in Washington D.C. for the "Unknown Soldier". After two years of having to miss Memorial Day and Veterans Day ceremonies, we will be honoring our Veterans on Memorial Day, May 30, 2022. It will be done in the Cordova Performing Art Theater at Cordova High at 10 AM.

The Rancho Cordova River City Concert Band will be performing at the Koreana Plaza (KP Market) on April 9, 2022, 3:00 PM. Our Band will also be performing at the "Rancho Cordova Memorial Day Ceremony". If you have been able to go to their performances in the past at the KP Market you know what wonderful music they provide to everyone who is able to attend. If you haven't been able to go to the show before, and you will be able to come to it this time, you will be very happy that you attended. The musicians are superb, and you can tell they are coming and performing because it is what they truly want to do.

Our city also has the Light Orchestra, or it's official name is the "Symphony d'Oro Rancho Cordova". It's mission is to entertain and educate audiences in Rancho Cordova and surrounding communities by providing high quality music. The Symphony is happy to once again share a live performance, April 9th at 7:30 PM in the Cordova Performing Art Theater. This is an free concert. For admission you must provide proof of COVID-19 vaccination status OR prof of a negative COVID test within 72 hours. Masks are appreciated but not required. April 9th will be quite a fantastic day full of music and entertainment. Please come if you can. You will truly be happy you live in the City of Rancho Cordova

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we'll see you next time. ★

"I'm incredibly proud to secure over $3.76 million in funding to directly support nine projects throughout Sacramento County," said Representative Bera. "These investments will support vital water infrastructure projects in our region, will improve public safety, and will fund the construction of important youth and recreation centers. This funding will go a long way in making Sacramento County healthier, safer, and stronger for generations to come."

Funding secured by Representative Bera will support projects in Citrus Heights,

She travels the world for the best information to make our lives better. She is a wellness consultant, and has made extraordinary contributions in the fields of nutrition and balanced living. Dr. Susan Smith Jones is the founder and president of Health Unlimited in Los Angeles. With our upside-down world today from the pandemic to war, Dr. Jones has penned "Uplifted" 12 Minutes to More Joy, Faith, Peace, Kindness and Vitality. She shared these tips on POPPOFF.

- 1. ADOPT AN ATTITUDE OF GRATITUDE. Be grateful for everything that's going on in your life, whatever the circumstances. This attitude can foster happiness and peace of mind, assisting you to live more fully.
- 2. WALK BAREFOOT OUTDOORS ON THE NATURAL GROUND. This is called earthing or grounding and you will be absorbing salubrious electrons through your feet into your body to boost your immunity, vitality and mood.
- 3. STRENGTHEN YOUR FAITH. Faith is an invisible and invincible magnet that attracts to itself whatever it fervently desires and expects. In 2 Corinthians 5:7 we read: Worry ends when faith begins.
- 4. LIVE BY THE GOLDEN RULE. Treat others with the compassion you wish to receive, and you will instantly feel more joy and peace. This starts with being compassionate with yourself and letting go of any negative self-talk.
- 5. FIND WAYS TO VOLUNTEER YOUR TIME. When you share your love and time with others, your brain's pleasure and rewards centers light up like a Christmas tree, and you release the neurotransmitters serotonin and dopamine, feel good chemicals which combat anxiety and depression.

- 6. STRIVE TO GET 7-8 HOURS SLEEP AT NIGHT. Studies reveal that when you get more sleep on a regular basis, your stress level abates and you become a more compassionate, positive uplifted person.
- 7. CARVE OUT TIME TO MEDITATE DAILY. Practicing meditation will change your brainwaves in a positive way, and make you feel calmer, less anxious, more compassionate and optimistic and even help increase your income.
- 8. WHAT YOU EAT AFFECTS YOUR MOOD. If you want to feel more uplifted daily, you must eschew foods made with white sugar and white flour and choose to eat foods as close to the way nature made them as possible with lots of fresh fruits and veggies.
- 9. EXERCISE TO FEEL HAPPY AND UPLIFTED. Just ten minutes of aerobic exercise doubles the level of norepinephrine in the body, a chemical to happiness. Try to work it in at the beginning of your day to reap the benefits all day and have no excuses later in the in the day to skip your workout.
- 10. SPEND TIME IN NATURE. Nature calms us down and reduces anxiety. Whenever possible, find ways to exercise outdoors. In her book "Uplifted" she writes about a disease she calls NDD... "Nature Deficit Disorder." Too much time away from nature wrinkles our soul and deprives us of a cost-free "visual valium" experience. Our moms were right when they said "Go outside and play. To this she added..."Go outside to play and pray.

How Will Newsom's Gas Price Relief Promise Work?

By Dan Walters
CALMatters.org

It's time once again for some fun with numbers, in this case data surrounding the sharp spike in gas prices.

Although the recent uptick in fuel prices varies from community to community and even station to station, a good estimate of the increase, perhaps a bit conservative, is $1 per gallon. It's mostly due to global oil markets reacting to the Russian invasion of Ukraine and efforts to punish Russian President Vladimir Putin with economic sanctions.

Last week in his State of the State address, Gov. Gavin Newsom dropped his previous proposal to offset the gas price increase with a very small "pause" in a scheduled state gas tax increase.

"Now, it's clear we must go further," Newsom said. "That's why, working with legislative leadership, I'll be submitting a proposal to put money back in the pockets of Californians to address rising gas prices."

That was it — no details, just a vague promise. While we await some indication of what Newsom intends, let's put a buck-a-gallon price increase in numerical perspective:

—Californians own and drive 29 million automobiles and light trucks, such as pickups and SUVs;

—Each year, they rack up 330 billion miles of automotive travel, an average of about 11,000 miles per vehicle;

—Motorists burn 15 billion gallons of gasoline each year, which averages out to 517 gallons of fuel for each vehicle (43 gallons per month) and an average of 21 miles to the gallon;

—Therefore, on average Californians are paying an extra $43 per month to drive, if one assumes the price increase has been $1 per gallon.

Higher costs for refueling their cars can certainly be painful to those in lower income brackets or those, such as long-distance commuters, who are running up high mileage counts. But unto itself, $43 a month shouldn't be a critical issue for many Californians.

That said, we tend to focus on sharp price increases in everyday commodities, such as gasoline, as an indicator of high inflation. It's a squeaky wheel in political terms — and politicians feel compelled to grease the wheel or face a popular backlash.

So what can Newsom and legislators do to offset higher gas prices in this election year?

The tax increase pause Newsom originally proposed would have cost about $500 million or a $17 annual savings per vehicle, hardly worth doing.

However, fully offsetting the jump could be a major hit on the state budget. At $1 per gallon, it would require the state to rebate about $15 billion to motorists for a full year — almost exactly what the prison system costs — or just over $500 per vehicle.

The trick will be to make rebates large enough to have some positive psychological response from California motorists but small enough to avoid a major budget impact.

Would $100 per car — enough, perhaps for one 20-gallon fillup — sufficiently impress Californians that their politicians' hearts are in the right place? Even that relatively small amount would cost the state budget about $3 billion.

Rebates of any size would be relatively easy to distribute if done on a per-vehicle basis, since the state already has data on vehicle ownership.

It would become infinitely more complex to focus relief for those who are feeling price increases most keenly, such as low-income motorists or super commuters. That could become a bureaucratic nightmare on a par with the dysfunctional Employment Development Department.

The rebate promise is now on the agenda and it will be a very interesting situation to monitor.

A talk on Christian Science

Thursday
April 7
7:00pm PT

Prayer and Healing
Explore the connection

Sponsored by Fujiko Takai Signs, CSB
Christian Science practitioner and teacher
A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship

Carmichael, CA: Around the world people are looking to prayer for solutions, safety, and well-being. Fujiko Signs, practitioner of Christian Science healing and international speaker, will present an online talk titled, "Love without limit, Life without fear," Thursday, April 7 at 7 PM, online at www.tinyurl.com/yc286hfd and in-person viewing at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmichael located at 4949 Kenneth Ave. in Carmichael. The lecture online link can also be accessed directly at the church website ChristianScienceChurchCarmichael.com

The talk will focus on universal healing precepts found in the Holy Bible, especially in Christ Jesus' life and teachings, showing how they are available for anyone to understand and experience through the lens of Christian Science. This live web lecture is free, open to the community, and hosted by First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Carmichael.

"We will explore the relationship between prayer and healing through the universal divine truth that unites us," says Signs. "We will talk about the practical understanding of God as ever-present love so we can make progress, unafraid like trusting children."

Sharing examples of healing from her own life and professional practice of Christian Science, Ms. Signs will explain why Christian Science is both Christian and scientific, meaning that people can prove its effectiveness for themselves, as fully described in the book Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, written by the founder of the Christian Science movement, Mary Baker Eddy.

Ms. Signs will also touch on the life of Mary Baker Eddy, a mid-nineteenth century American woman, who came to understand, confirm, and teach what she felt was original Christian healing. Eddy herself said she was especially inspired by Jesus' demand, "He that believes on me, the works that I do will he do also; and greater works than these will he do, because I go unto my Father" (found in the Gospel of John 14:12 in the Bible).

For over 150 years, people around the world have worked to follow Christ Jesus in this practice of Christianity and continue to do so today, experiencing healings of physical ills and personal difficulties.

Fujiko Signs has been a Christian Science practitioner for many years, helping people on a daily basis through this scientific approach to prayer. Based in Tokyo, Japan, she speaks to audiences around the world as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Holi Festival Reflects the Openness of Asia

land of India and providing a backdrop for the DJ music, dancing, performances, and color throwing.

For those who adhere to Hindu belief, Holi is an annual opportunity for soul searching and praying, in order to extricate the interior life of the evils of past errors and conflicts and turn to forgiving and forgetting.

“Over 800 packets of color were distributed,” according to Reddy, who said the dousing of colors was a way to reflect the season of flowering, blooming and newness in nature.

From kids and adults alike in the hundreds was heard, “Happy Holi! Happy Holi! Happy Holi!”

“And, just like that,” Sloan noted, “people started blooming—just like flowers.”

Sloan said he was left with the impression that the Indian festival was analogous to painting, where “people arrive as blank canvases and, throughout the duration of the event, become unique art pieces in exhibit.” Therein lay the significance of color in the human consciousness and identity, much celebrated in the religions of southern Asia.

Reddy took a moment to thank

Councilmember Garrett Gatewood for having strongly supported the celebration in Rancho Cordova from the outset, several years ago. Councilmember Gatewood encouraged the STA adding, “there’s a hope the festival will bring in some 5000 visitors to the city in the year to come.” Councilmember Siri Pulipati was also present participating in the festivity. ★
