By Shelby Golden,
Cordova Recreation & Park District

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Recreation & Park District's (District) Community Engagement Program is underway! The Community Engagement Program, spearheaded by District General Manager Patrick Larkin, is a quarterly program that focuses on giving back to the community.

During this quarter, the District collaborated with the Folsom Cordova Unified School District (FCUSD) Homeless Student Services. FCUSD Homeless Student Services helps ensure homeless children have an equal opportunity to obtain a high quality education and provides resources to families. Throughout the quarter, District staff and Board of Directors contributed various Target gift cards. On December 17, 2021, District staff presented FCUSD with donations totaling $940 to be used for new shoes and clothing.

"I'm proud of our generous and caring CRPD staff for their continued support for the unhoused students in Rancho Cordova. Many of the CRPD staff are residents of Rancho Cordova so this opportunity to work with FCUSD for the students in need has special meaning," said Larkin. "We look forward to more opportunities to work in partnership with FCUSD to make the community stronger and to meet the needs of our most vulnerable youth."

CRPD is proud to collaborate with FCUSD Homeless Student Services to help support local students.

Cordova Recreation & Park District is one of the largest independent special districts in Northern California serving over 130,000 residents and four school districts in the greater Sacramento area. CRPD provides over 42 parks and recreational facilities, a full-service 18-Hole course at Cordova Golf Course, as well as youth & adult sports, camps, enrichment classes, educational programs and special events for the community. ★

to Require
'Complete Streets' in New Planning

Caltrans Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Caltrans announced its new policy for all new transportation projects it funds or oversees to include "complete street" features that provide safe and accessible options for people walking, biking and taking transit. This policy will expand the availability of sustainable transportation options to help meet the state's climate, health and equity goals.

"California must reduce dependence on driving without sacrificing mobility and accessibility," said Caltrans Director Toks Omishakin. "As Caltrans and local transportation agencies prepare for the influx of new federal infrastructure funding, it is important that we provide safe, convenient, sustainable and accessible alternatives to driving to achieve our climate goals while equitably serving all Californians."

A complete street provides mobility for people of all ages and abilities, particularly those who are walking, biking, using assistive mobility devices, and riding transit. Complete streets offer several benefits, including enhancing safety and creating more sustainable transportation options to decrease dependence on driving and improving public health by encouraging active transportation like walking and biking.

As part of the new policy, Caltrans commits to remove administrative barriers and partner with communities and local agencies to ensure more projects on state and local transportation systems improve the connectivity to pedestrian, bicycle and transit facilities, and accessibility to destinations. If not appropriate to the context or community of the project, projects must receive approval from Caltrans before complete streets features are excluded. ★

Winter Shelter: There to Save Lives

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Volunteer Joe Bryant said about the Winter Shelter, "I think it is there to save lives. People are human beings, they deserve love, dignity and respect."

The HART (Homeless Assistance Resource Team) Winter Shelter was cancelled in winter 20/21 because of COVID. While back in action now, this year's Winter Shelter is not what it used to be. "We used to have 30 come, but now we only have facilities for 15," said volunteer Lisa Goodwin-Yates. "And we only have 4 weeks, normally we go for 2 1/2 months." The volunteer facilities, usually churches, offer their building for a week and provide all the dinner food. The program starts with intake, which this year is held at The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints at 2400 Cordova Lane in Rancho Cordova. Those who want to receive services need to be there by 5 p.m. As night captain, Goodwin-Yates greets guests at the intake location and helps them check in. "Then I'm going to go over to the church with them, and have dinner with them, make sure that everybody gets a cot and a sleeping bag, and knows where the bathrooms are and feels welcome."

Fay Kerekes, who leads the program, has been involved in these efforts since Rancho Cordova HART began more than five years ago. "Our minister at the time at United Methodist Church asked me to go to the first meeting, so I did," Kerekes said. "I've been there ever since."

This year, starting on December 27, 2021, the program has been experiencing a slow start. "The first night there were two (guests) and the second night there were three," Kerekes said. "The third night there were none and the 4th night there were none." Only one which organization to give to directly and add more money if they wish.” SAFE employees could choose from among dozens of nonprofits, including food banks, groups providing support to families battling cancer, organizations assisting Afghan refugees, and other organizations providing services to women, LGBTQ+, and underserved populations.

Other teams volunteered to stuff stockings for children and sort food at food banks.

SAFE provides $400,000 in philanthropy, grants, scholarships, and direct donations each year to nonprofits and students. SAFE focuses its giving on three pillars: health; financial education; and current and former military personnel.

CHP Highlights Changes to State's Traffic Safety Laws

California Highway Patrol News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - As we head into the new year, the California Highway Patrol (CHP) is educating the public on traffic safety laws that were passed during this year's legislative season and signed by Governor Gavin Newsom. The laws take effect January 1, 2022, unless otherwise noted.

Sideshow Definition and Penalties (Assembly Bill (AB) 3, Fong): This new law strengthens penalties for those convicted of exhibition of speed if the violation occurred as part of a sideshow.

Beginning July 1, 2025, a court will be permitted to suspend a person's driver's license between 90 days and six months if the person is convicted of exhibition of speed and if the violation occurred as part of a "sideshow." Section 23109(c) of the California Vehicle Code (CVC) (exhibition of speed) will define sideshow as an event in which two or more persons block or impede traffic on a highway for the purpose of performing motor vehicle stunts, motor vehicle speed contests, motor vehicle exhibitions of speed, or reckless driving for spectators.

The courts will be required to consider a defendant's medical, personal, or family hardship that requires a person to have a driver's license before determining whether to suspend a person's driver's license.

Equestrian Safety Gear (AB 974, L. Rivas): Requires a person under the age of 18 to wear a properly fitted and fastened helmet when riding an equestrian animal, such as a horse, mule, or donkey on a paved highway. This bill also requires all riders or their equines to wear reflective gear or a lamp when riding after sundown.

A person riding an equestrian animal in a parade or festival, or crossing a paved highway from an unpaved highway, is exempt from all helmet, lighting, or reflective gear requirements.

Tribal Emergency Vehicles (AB 798, Ramos): This bill provides that any vehicle owned or operated by a federally recognized Indian tribe is considered an authorized emergency vehicle as defined by Section 165 CVC when responding to an emergency, fire, ambulance, or lifesaving calls.

Class C Drivers Allowed to Tow Trailer (Senate Bill 287, Grove): Effective January 1, 2027, drivers with a class C driver's license may operate a vehicle towing a trailer between 10,001 pounds and 15,000 pounds gross vehicle weight rating, or gross vehicle weight with a fifth-wheel and kingpin or bed mounted gooseneck connection, provided that the trailer is used exclusively for recreational purposes for the transportation of property, living space, or both.

The driver will be required to pass a specialized written examination demonstrating the knowledge of the CVC and other safety aspects relating to the towing of recreational vehicles on the highway and possess an endorsement on their class C driver's license.

Currently, this exemption is in place for drivers towing a fifth-wheel travel trailer provided the driver passes a specialized written exam and obtains a recreational trailer endorsement.

As a reminder, the following law took effect on July 1, 2021:

License Points for Distracted Driving (AB 47, Daly; 2019): Using a handheld cell phone while driving is currently punishable by a fine. As of July 1, 2021, violating the hands-free law for a second time within 36 months of a prior conviction for the same offense will result in a point being added to a driver's record. This applies to the violations of talking or texting while driving (except for hands-free use) and to any use of these devices while driving by a person under 18 years of age.

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

Climate Action Plan End of Year Update

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - In September 2021, Planning and Environmental Review (PER) – now part of the Community Development Department – released a draft of the Climate Action Plan (CAP) that was meant to be the Final Draft. Based on valuable community feedback, and in response to the Board of Supervisors resolution declaring a climate emergency, the CAP is once again being updated.

Notable updates to the CAP include:

Strengthening language related to achieving carbon neutrality by 2030, including work by the Climate Emergency Mobilization Task Force on the Climate Emergency Response Plan expected to begin in early 2022, revising the Carbon Farming, Infill Development, Increase Organic Waste Diversion, and Urban Greening measures, incorporating measures from the Strategy Options Appendix F, and cleaning up errors identified during the outreach process.

“We remain committed to developing the best Climate Action Plan for Sacramento County that addresses residents' concerns and places us on a path toward the ambitious goal of carbon neutrality by 2030,” said Todd Smith, Principal Planner. “We are working hard on the CAP updates and look forward to the community's feedback.”

The next draft of the CAP is due out in February 2022. Public comments will be accepted for a period of 30 days following the release of the draft CAP. A board workshop on the CAP will be held in March 2022.

guest each day was present for the first two days of the new year. “We’re just sticking to it and trying to get the word out. Sometimes people are pretty ensconced in where they have all of their stuff. Nobody is giving up, so we’ll keep looking and keep offering. The volunteers are eager and not disillusioned and are willing to move forward.”

Volunteers are still needed for the duration of the program, which continues through January 22, 2022. Those interested can go to <https://www.just-serve.org>, enter Rancho Cordova HART Winter Shelter into the search box, and click on either HART Rotating Winter Shelter Intake Volunteer, or Night Shift Volunteer Assistance, and select to volunteer for the open date on which you wish to help.

Diane Anderson, who volunteered with her husband Jim, outlined some of what happens when a guest comes in. “(We) take their temperature, I have them hand sanitize, then they check in at this table. Then they get a personal interview, and (we) enter all the information.” Social distancing is observed. Guests leave behind their bikes, backpacks, everything but a small bag of personal belongings. Once at the facility, each person is assigned a numbered sleeping bag, which is theirs for the duration of the shelter. Two nighttime volunteers keep watch and make sure everyone is safe. Guests’ property is kept in a locked room at the intake site and guests are bused back in the morning to pick it up and go out for the day. ★

CRPD Launches Board Election Districting Process

CRPD News Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Cordova Recreation & Park District (CRPD) is seeking public input on the drawing of area boundaries for the CRPD’s Board of Directors elections.

The Cordova Recreation & Park District has elected its Board on an “at-large” basis since its founding in 1958, where candidates from all parts of CRPD run on the same ballot for multiple seats. To promote geographic diversity on the Board and ensure compliance with the California Voting Rights Act, CRPD’s Board of Directors adopted a Resolution in April 2020 of intention to transition elections to a “by-district” system, following the release of 2020 Census Data. During this districting process, the Board of Directors invites the public to participate and share their perspectives on how their neighborhoods would be best represented in new election areas.

The Board of Directors is required by state and federal law to follow certain districting criteria, including keeping populations as equal as possible, protecting minority voting rights, keeping Director areas contiguous, and to the extent possible, preserving communities of interest.

The Board of Directors will receive a presentation with more information about the districting process at a Public Hearing at their January 19, 2022, Regular meeting. It is anticipated that the Board will narrow down the map options to a draft proposal in March 2022 and adopt a final map in April 2022. The first elections utilizing the new map will be held in November 2022.

To learn more about the districting process, please visit <https://crpd.com/districting/>.

Cordova Recreation & Park District is one of the largest independent special districts in Northern California serving over 128,000 residents and four school districts in the greater Sacramento area. CRPD provides over 43 parks and recreational facilities, a full-service 18-Hole course at Cordova Golf Course, as well as youth & adult sports, camps, enrichment classes, educational programs and special events for the community. ★

FCUSD Press Release

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Folsom Cordova Unified School District Superintendent, Sarah Koligian, Ed.D is named the 2021 California Superintendent of the Year, by the Association of California School Administrators (ACSA).

Dr. Koligian was awarded at the Annual ACSA conference in San Francisco in November and featured in the ACSA publication EdCal.

“Dr. Koligian has steered our ship successfully during the pandemic, arguably the most difficult year in public education, with student success and well-being as her north star,” said Angela Griffin Ankheily,

Folsom Cordova Unified School District is proud to have Sarah Koligian, Ed.D, Superintendent of the Year. Photo: FCUSD

Director of Communication and Community Engagement. “To be honored as the Superintendent of the Year by her peers in the state speaks to her strength and inspiration as a leader amongst leaders.”

“Sarah is an outstanding and imaginative leader, collaborator, and a kind and caring colleague,” said David W. Gordon, Sacramento County Superintendent of Schools. “Her district is a unique mix of affluent, working-class, and immigrant communities. For the leader, this presents tremendous challenges in wisely deploying resources, but more importantly, keeping the board and community together in supporting policies that give all district students the opportunity to succeed. Sarah has been masterful in striking this balance.”

Dr. Koligian has been recognized as one of Sacramento’s top 300 Business Leaders for 2019 in their recent publication. She was also recognized by the National Association of School Superintendents in their January 2020 edition.

Presently, Dr. Koligian has been nominated as a candidate for the National Superintendent of the Year through the School Superintendents Association (AASA). All State Superintendents of the Year will be honored in February 2022, during the AASA National Conference on Education when the National Superintendent of the Year will be recognized.

The Folsom Cordova Unified School District was founded in 1949 and has been working to continually provide all students with excellent educational instruction and opportunities. We serve roughly 21,000 students, pre-K to adult, in both Rancho Cordova and Folsom. ★

Early Winter Storms Provide Much Needed Sierra Snowpack

Californians need to be aware that even these big storms may not refill our major reservoirs during the next few months. Photo Madscica | Dreamstime

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Department of Water Resources (DWR) conducted the first snow survey of the season at Phillips Station. Early winter storms this month provided a strong start to the season and some drought relief, but California remains in a drought.

The manual survey recorded 78.5 inches of snow depth and a snow water equivalent of 20 inches, which is 202 percent of average for this location on this date. The snow water equivalent measures the amount of water contained in the snowpack and is a key component of DWR's water supply forecast. Statewide the snowpack is 160 percent of average for this date.

"We could not have asked for a better December in terms of Sierra snow and rain," said DWR Director Karla Nemeth. "But Californians need to be aware that even these big storms may not refill our major reservoirs during the next few months. We need more storms and average temperatures this winter and spring, and we can't be sure it's coming. So, it's important that we continue to do our part to keep conserving - we will need that water this summer."

Californians only need to look to last winter and the state's disappointing snowpack runoff due to high temperatures, dry soil and evaporation as a reminder that changes to our climate mean it will take more than an average year to recover from drought.

"California continues to experience evidence of climate change with bigger swings between wet and dry years and even extreme variability within a season. A wet start to the year doesn't mean this year will end up above average once it's all said and done," said

Sean de Guzman, Manager of DWR's Snow Surveys and Water Supply Forecasting Unit.

December is the first of the three typically wettest months of California's water year. Significant January and February precipitation would be required to generate enough runoff to make up for the previous two winters that were California's fifth - and second-driest water years on record.

California has experienced wet Decembers before only to have storms disappear for the remainder of the season. In 2013, the first snow survey provided promising results after a wet December, similar to this year. However, the following January and February were exceptionally dry, and the year ended as the driest on record, contributing to a record-breaking drought.

On average, the Sierra snowpack supplies about 30 percent of California's water needs and the snowpack is an important factor in determining how DWR manages the state's water resources. Its natural ability to store water is why the Sierra snowpack is often referred to as California's "frozen reservoir."

As spring sets in, the snowpack begins to melt. Water that is not absorbed into the ground, called "runoff," trickles into mountain streams, which feed rivers and eventually aqueducts and reservoirs, where it can be stored for use throughout the dry season. Climate change is affecting California's snowpack, as more precipitation falls as rain and less as snow. Excessively dry soils and dry, warm spring temperatures are also reducing yearly runoff.

Due to these climate-induced changes, DWR is investing in partnerships and implementing emerging and proven technologies to improve forecasts of precipitation, seasonal snowpack, and runoff to support more efficient water management now and to help estimate the impacts of climate change on future flood and drought conditions. Forecast improvements and monitoring enhancements increase the reliability of data used to inform water managers about flood risks, allowing opportunities to create more storage in reservoirs ahead of big storms while also ensuring water supply reliability in periods of dry or drought conditions.

DWR conducts five media-oriented snow surveys at Phillips Station each winter near the first of each month from January through April and, if necessary, May. ★

And Another Thing

I Hope the Rain and Snow Will Continue in 2022

Well, here we are in the new year of 2022. Are you looking forward to this new year with happiness, or with unhappiness? William E. Vaughan said “An Optimist stays up until midnight to see the new year in. The pessimist stays up to make sure the old year leaves.” I think of myself as an optimist and that the new year 2022 will be much better for us than 2021 was. Now one thing that was good at the end of 2021 was that we have had much more rain and snow than we had the year before. I hope the rain and snow will continue in 2022.

Quoting another person, Melody Beattie, she said, “The new year stands before us, like a chapter in a book, waiting to be written.” We have been writing new chapters in the book about “The City of Rancho Cordova” over the last 18 and ½ years. I can look back over the many years before Rancho Cordova became a city, and each one of those years was a book that talks about Rancho’s history. A new chapter which will be written later this year about our cities population. It will then be a population of over 80,000 residents.

Another thing which will be quite a change for Rancho Cordova. The Sacramento County Supervisors voted 4 – 1 to change the boundaries for the next 10 years, and that will be quite a change for us. The District 5 will continue on the west side of Sunrise Blvd, but on the east side of Sunrise Blvd we will have District 3.

Supervisor Don Nottoli, who represents District 5 said, “The redistricting process was done in a public venue, and he appreciated comments submitted from the public. He said he recognizes “it’s not a perfect process,” but the final map reflects much of the direction and guidance given.” That will be the first time Rancho Cordova has been split on the Sacramento County Supervisors boundaries. There will truly be some interesting meetings when our city meets with county supervisors on different matters. With Don Nottoli not running for the office again, then there will be a new Supervisor for District 5 after the election on June 7, 2022, and Supervisor Rich Desmond (District 3) who is the newest member of the Board and was elected in 2020. We will have to see how it goes with the new Supervisors and the new Districts boundaries.

I am working on this column on Monday, and while I am working on it there are many questions about how the different school districts will operate. I am wondering about how the coronavirus

Sheriff Jones and DA Schubert Announce Arrest in Series of Hate Crimes

Offices of Sac County Sheriff’s Department and District Attorney

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - On December 22, 2021, detectives from the Sacramento Sheriff’s Office arrested 33-year-old Nicholas Wayne Sherman in connection to a series of hate crime related incidents in Carmichael between October 4th and October 20th, 2021.

Sherman was charged with one felony count of desecrating a religious symbol on the property of the Shalom Le Israel synagogue in Carmichael. Sherman was charged with 12 additional misdemeanor counts of terrorism by symbol for placing Aryan Nation flyers containing a swastika on the doorsteps of numerous Carmichael homes, and one additional misdemeanor count of terrorism by symbol for placing similar flyers on the property of Deterding Elementary School in Carmichael.

The investigation was conducted by the Sheriff’s Bias Crimes Unit and will be prosecuted by the District Attorney’s Hate Crimes Unit.

“All crimes hurt not just the victim, but the entire community. This is especially true of crimes motivated by hate”, said Sheriff Scott Jones. “The Sacramento Sheriff’s Office – just like our community – has no tolerance for hate crimes of any kind, and they will be investigated to the fullest extent of our capability, and offenders will be identified and arrested.”

“Let me be very clear, hate crimes against a member of any group in our community is an assault on all of us and will not be tolerated,” said District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert. “Those who target victims because of their race, ethnicity, religion, nationality, disability, gender or sexual orientation will be prosecuted by specially trained and experienced prosecutors. In addition to prosecuting hate crime offenses, my office works to educate the community on how to protect themselves and encourages them to report suspected hate crimes.” ★

(COVID-19) is affecting the districts. There are many questions about the different school districts in Sacramento County. How will they operate? There are quite a few questions which haven’t been answered yet. I hope all of the schools from kindergarten to college will be able to operate and teach all of the students.

Take Action for Mental Health Campaign Launched

New Campaign Encourages Californians to Check In, Learn More, and Get Support for Themselves and Others

By Padma Nagappan

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Take Action for Mental Health, a new campaign focused on improving the mental health and wellness of all Californians was launched December 15, 2021. Created to build off progress made by previous campaigns and developed with extensive community feedback, the campaign encourages Californians to take steps to check in, learn more, and get support for themselves and people they care about.

Take Action for Mental Health

builds on established approaches and provides resources to equip all Californians to support their own mental health and the mental health of people they care about.

Take Action for Mental Health is the result of considerable in-depth research, focus groups, and stakeholder input. It incorporates input from diverse populations and subject matter experts. The campaign focuses on three key actions – check in, learn more, and get support; Check in: Helps people recognize the signs and symptoms of mental health challenges and identify when to seek help or start a conversation with someone they care about; Learn more: Supports understanding of the issues or challenges associated with mental health concerns and identifies self-care and support options available; Get support: Connects people with tools and resources to help at any point along the mental health spectrum, from needing a mental health day off to securing professional help and everything in between.

The new campaign website, resources, and updated social media channels are going live today with plans to continue adding additional resources, partnerships, events, and programs throughout 2022 and beyond. New or updated resources available at launch include a Take Action Pledge, and overview of signs and symptoms, mental health self-care tips, and mental health guides.

The California Mental Health Services Authority (CalMHSA), in collaboration with its county members, is a leading voice for mental health services for California. Created to deliver on the promise of the California Mental Health Services Act, CalMHSA is an independent government agency created by California counties and cities, focused on the efficient delivery of mental health services and resources.

The Mental Health Services Act (MHSA) Prevention and Early Intervention (PEI) component was designed to increase awareness of and access to mental health services, reduce the negative impacts that mental illness can have on a person’s wellbeing, reduce the stigma associated with mental illness and help-seeking, and prevent suicide. ★

Dare to Live Without Limits

by Bryan Golden

Do You Know Who You Are?

Being in touch with who you are yields numerous benefits. You’ll have more happiness, you will make better decisions, your goals will be more meaningful, you will be more motivated, and more in touch with your emotions.

Some people innately know who they are. Others move through life without a clear understanding. If you don’t really know who you are, today is a great time to start figuring it out. The more you know about yourself, the more you’ll be able to follow the path which best suits you.

What are your likes and dislikes? This simple understanding is essential to your happiness. Doing more of what you like and less of what you dislike is a simple strategy for greater satisfaction.

The quest for financial security often leads to jobs or careers which are less than satisfying. To see where you are currently, answer this question: How would you be spending your time if you were independently wealthy and didn’t need to work?

If your current job or occupation corresponds to what you would be doing if you didn’t need the money, you are in great shape. If it’s not, getting more in touch with who you are will help you navigate a more desirable route.

Who or what inspires you? Knowing your sources of motivation helps you focus on what fits you best. People make a living doing whatever you do for fun, vacations, or as a hobby. You can support yourself doing what you love.

What are your best habits? These are the habits to cultivate and focus on. Your good habits assist you in making progress toward your goals. Good habits enable you to be effective and efficient.

What are your worst habits? These habits produce negative results and need to be purged. Replace bad habits with good habits. Self-awareness enables you to monitor your actions so that you can eliminate undesirable habits.

What are your fears? What are you afraid of? Fear is a major roadblock. Typically, you won’t do something you are afraid of. Your fears may be holding you back. Since fears exist in your mind, a change in thinking overcomes fears.

What obstacles, problems, and challenges are you facing? In order to overcome obstacles, solve problems, and move past challenges, you must first identify them. Until you do this, they will be a frustrating roadblock.

What are your strengths? Everyone has strengths. Having more strengths than you realize is common. Underutilizing one or more of your strengths is a real waste. Use your strengths to overcome challenges.

What are your weaknesses? Unfortunately, many people obsess about their weaknesses instead of tapping into their strengths. Weaknesses can be overcome by rectifying any deficiencies. Anything lacking can be enhanced.

Take advantage of your strengths while overcoming your weaknesses. Use what you have instead of lamenting that which you feel you don’t have. Make the most of all your current assets.

What are your values? It’s much more satisfying when your life lines up with your values. Acting counter to them leads to endless frustration. You don’t have to justify your values; you need to know what they are and live by them.

What’s your emotional temperament? How much patience do you have? What upsets you? What type of people do you like to associate with? How social are you? Answering these additional questions provides more insight into who you are.

Knowing who you are is a starting point. You are a work in progress. You can make any desired changes. Build on the aspects you like, while adjusting any facets you are unhappy with.

Career Criminal Convicted of Attempted Murder, Assault w/Firearm Against Officer

Office of DA
Anne Marie Schubert

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Jimmy Young Vang was convicted by a jury of attempted premeditated murder of a peace officer, assault with a semi-automatic firearm against multiple peace officers, felony evading, assault with a deadly weapon (motor vehicle) against peace officers and attempted carjacking.

On June 8, 2017, Jimmy Vang was a passenger in a Lincoln that was pulled over by a sheriff's deputy in south Sacramento. Two additional deputies responded to assist with the traffic stop. Vang got out of the Lincoln and immediately began firing a semi-automatic firearm at the three deputies. Vang got back into the Lincoln and the vehicle sped away when one of the deputies returned fire. The driver of the Lincoln pulled over and Vang fled on foot. The Lincoln led police on a high-speed pursuit that ended in a crash in Yolo County. When Vang was later spotted on Florin Road, he led officers on a high-speed chase that reached 130 mph, causing numerous near collisions. During the pursuit, Vang tried to ram pursuing officers by driving into oncoming traffic. Vang lost control of his car, crashed and tried to flee on foot. During the foot pursuit, Vang attempted to carjack a civilian before he was taken into custody. The firearm Vang used was never recovered.

After Vang committed the crimes in this case, he was convicted of murder and kidnapping charges in Placer County in 2019. Vang has a criminal history spanning more than 20 years and 16 convictions, including felony burglary, ID theft, credit/debit card theft and vehicle theft.

Vang faces a maximum sentence of 57 years and 2 months to life in prison. Sentencing is set for January 14, 2022, at 10:00 a.m. in Department 36 before the Honorable Stephen Acquisto. ★

Redistricting Won't Change Democrats' Control

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

Superficially, California's politics seem poised for a big upheaval in this election year, but appearances can be deceiving.

The illusion of major change comes from the redrawing of 172 congressional and legislative districts by the state's independent redistricting commission to reflect population shifts revealed by the 2020 census.

The boundary changes, driven by the 14-member commission's obsession with "communities of interest" that it defined in purely subjective, ever-shifting terms, will generate a substantial turnover in the 52-member congressional delegation, the 40-member state Senate and the 80-seat state Assembly.

Much of it will be a game of musical chairs as politicians shift from one venue to another. Several senior members of the congressional delegation are calling it quits, opening up opportunities for state legislators to advance their careers. The redistricting plans also throw a few incumbents into the same districts, forcing them to alter career plans.

The 2011 California redistricting and the 2012 elections brought a bumper crop of new legislators into the Capitol who will face automatic retirement in 2024 due to the 12-year limit on legislative service, so several of them are planning bids for Congress or statewide office this year.

The commission was attempting to comply with a set of conflicting mandates, not only to equalize the populations of legislative and congressional districts, but to meet the demands of ethnic and cultural "communities of interest" for dedicated legislative seats and to comply with the federal Voting Rights Act.

The Voting Rights Act indirectly mandates creating more districts likely to elect non-white members, thus increasingly the likelihood that more of those winning legislative seats in this year's elections will be Latino, Asian or Black.

The communities whose demands were met are overwhelmingly Democratic and even if the commission had ignored the Voting Rights Act and the "communities of interest" credo, its maps would favor Democrats because fewer than 25% of registered voters are Republicans and Democrats outnumber them almost 2-to-1.

If one defines "gerrymandering" as pre-ordaining who wins a legislative or congressional seat by drawing district lines, this was gerrymandering, albeit not for overtly partisan purposes. That said, the partisan effect will be to cement the Democratic Party's overwhelming control of the Legislature and the congressional delegation.

The current Legislature is roughly 75% Democratic and there's little doubt that the one elected in November will be equally lopsided in partisan makeup. The faces may change but not the Legislature's left-of-center tilt.

The only real mystery emanating from the new maps is whether Democrats will increase their hold on the congressional delegation. In 2018, the state's disdain for Donald Trump manifested itself in a debacle for Republican members of Congress, cutting their ranks from a paltry 14 seats to just seven. The GOP rebounded a bit in 2020 and now holds 11 seats.

The state is losing a congressional seat due to slow population growth in the last decade, thus requiring an adjustment that wound up costing Los Angeles County one of its seats. Nevertheless, the overall thrust of the new congressional map favors Democrats and whether the party makes gains in California could play a role in which party controls the House.

Republicans need to gain just five seats to regain control and the increase in seats in fast-growing pro-GOP states such as Texas, plus Republican-friendly gerrymanders in those states and the nation's overall political sentiment favor a shift of power.

However, if it's closer than expected, Democratic gains in California could make the difference and a handful of tossup contests in the state's newly reconfigured districts will draw heavy attention.

Ask Toni
Not Knowing Medicare Rules is Costing Americans Millions in Penalties!!

Toni King

Toni:

I need your help! I have just discovered that my mother, who is 67, never enrolled in Medicare Part B or D. She was under the impression that if she did not go to the doctor, she did not need to pay the premium because she needs the money to pay for her car payment and could enroll later.

She has a huge problem because she has been diagnosed with colon cancer and she does not have Part B or a Medicare prescription drug plan. I called Social Security to help her enroll in Part B and was informed that she must wait until January 1 thru March 31 to enroll in Medicare Part B. The Social Security agent said that my mother has missed her "window of opportunity." She did not enroll when she turned 65 and now the penalty and delay of Medicare Part B is going to be very costly. Please advise me what I can do to help her?

~ Thanks, Jeanine

Oh My, Jeanine:

Your mother has an extremely serious Medicare issue, because not only will she have to enroll during Medicare's General Enrollment Period which is the special time from January 1st thru March 31 each year for those that never enrolled in Medicare Part B. Her Medicare Part B will begin July 1st and she will receive a Part B penalty.

When your mother enrolls in Medicare Part B during Medicare's General Enrollment Period, she will receive a Part B penalty which is a 10% penalty for each 12-month period and for her is 20% (2 years x 10%) for as long as your mother could have had Part B but failed to enroll. This 20% penalty will never go away and remains in effect for the life of the Medicare beneficiary's Medicare coverage.

For your mother to enroll in a

Medicare Part D plan is another issue. She must wait until the next Medicare Annual Enrollment which is from October 15 thru December 7th. The Medicare Part D plan will start January 1. The Medicare Part D penalty for is 1% of the national Part D average premium (and this also changes each year) for each month she could have enrolled in Part D from age 65 but failed to. Her Part D penalty will be that specific Part D 1% penalty x 36 months (as an example), for an extra monthly penalty cost and this amount changes as Part D's premium and monthly penalty changes.

Currently, there are over 775,000 Medicare beneficiaries who are receiving a Medicare Part B and/or D penalty costing on average $5,000 in Medicare lifetime penalties because they did not enroll under Medicare's Initial or Special enrollment periods.

Medicare enrollment periods are listed below:

- Medicare Initial Enrollment Period: Begins 3 months before turning 65, the month one turns 65 and 3 months after one turn 65. This period is for those not working full-time with company benefits or those not working receiving their Social Security check and are turning 65.
- Special Enrollment Period: Enroll after 65 when delaying Medicare Part B due to working full time with company benefits. This is an 8-month window of signing up for Part B without receiving a Part B penalty.
- General Enrollment Period: January 1-March 31, when one who has not enrolled in Part B may enroll but WILL receive a Part B penalty. During this enrollment period Medicare Part B would begin July 1st.

You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 683-2468 or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.servicelinkkasap.com>, using the file number assigned to this case FHAC.277-656. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. For sales conducted after January 1, 2021: NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you may purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 683-2468, or visit this internet website www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this case FHAC.277-656 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 683-2468 or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com>, using the file number assigned to this case FHAC.277-656. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. For sales conducted after January 1, 2021: NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you may purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (800) 683-2468, or visit this internet website www.qualityloan.com, using the file number assigned to this case FHAC.277-656 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. # Lancers Look to Grow from Christmas Classic

By Douglas Benton

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The host Lancers went 1-2 at the 45th annual Cordova Christmas Classic to finish the non-league at 3-9.

“We are getting better. We are small, but we are getting better. And we are learning to play a little more organized,” said Cordova head coach Fletcher Johnson, who hasn’t had his full roster for a game thus far. “Due to the COVID and the fires, we haven’t had much time to build a team. We are getting better with each workout.”

Four of the Lancers’ nine losses have come by four points or less.

The Christmas Classic continues a strong tradition for Cordova High School and a learning experience for the current Lancers.

“Basically, they get to see some of the top teams in Northern California and what they look like. These are the kinds of teams we are going to play in the playoffs. We have to be ready for this. It makes it a reality for them,” Johnson said. “As an alumni, they only want to know two things. How you did in the Christmas Classic and if you beat Johnson.”

At this year’s event, Cordova opened with a 73-63 win over San Juan behind 13 points apiece from junior Eli Campbell and sophomore Jabari Pugh. They were joined in double figures by junior Cody Jones (11) and sophomore Roman Panasyuk (10).

On the second night of the event, it lost to McClatchy 79-62 after trailing 36-23 at the half. The Lancers got 26 points from junior Jayvyn De Vera, who missed the opening game. Campbell added 16 points.

In their final game, Cordova fell to Bradshaw Christian 62-50. The Lancers were outscored 13-3 in the second quarter. Campbell had another stellar outing with 19 points while Jones had 10 points.

Cordova will start Greater Sacramento League action on January 7, against Valley. Other teams in their league are Natomas, Johnson, West Campus and Florin.

“Parity,” commented Johnson on his outlook for the league. “Looks like everyone is pretty much in the same boat. Everyone has a shot. There is no clear favorite.” ★
