RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The sights, sounds and smell of steam railroad engines are once again being heard in Hagen Community Park in Rancho Cordova as members of the Sacramento Valley Live Steamers Railroad Museum (SVLSRM) have resumed their summer public run schedule.

"I've had a love of trains my whole life," said club president Andy Berchelli, an active member since 2008. In all, the club has 173 members, he said.

Club members of the nonprofit

SVLSRM began building their railroad in 1972, completing an original 1,700-foot loop in May 1973. The rail loop has since grown to cover some 6,800 feet. Its track and facilities can now support more than 33 steam engines at one time.

"My son Tyler, born in 2003, has a rare condition and went through many surgeries in his first five years. Our family got involved with "Make A Wish" foundation in 2008 and Tyler's wish was to have his own first electric train and a riding car," he said.

Berchelli invites the public to visit the railroad, learn about steam locomotives and to take a ride on one of the club's trains. The members of the Sacramento Valley Live Steamers do not charge for rides during public ride days, but rely on donations to support their railroad.

Public runs are held on the first weekend of each month through September from 11 to 3 p.m. In celebration of the 4th of July, special runs will be held from 6 to 9 p.m.

Club membership is a mix between G-scale garden railroad enthusiasts who enjoy the opportunity to run their trains on the club's permanent layout and those who have built their own scale steam engines from scratch.

Golden State Water Advises Customers of Emergency Drought Declaration

By Mike Gazda, Golden State Water

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Golden State Water Company (Golden State Water) is advising customers in its Clearlake, Bay Point and Arden Cordova (Arden, Gold River, Rancho Cordova) service areas of the state of California's emergency drought declaration that was expanded on May 10, 2021, to include Lake, Contra Costa and Sacramento counties. Customers in these communities, and throughout the state, are encouraged to continue using water responsibly and make water conservation an important part of their every day.

Additionally, the Sacramento Regional Water Authority (RWA) is encouraging all customers in the Sacramento region to voluntarily reduce water usage by 10 percent to help preserve the region's water supplies and protect local fish populations.

"Our customers did a tremendous job reducing water use during the last drought, and most of them have continued those water-efficient practices and done a nice job making conservation a way of life," said Paul Schubert, General Manager of the Northern District for Golden State Water. "This week's announcement expanding the emergency drought declaration to include Lake, Contra Costa and Sacramento counties is consistent with what the data is telling us. These areas are experiencing various levels of drought, and we must all work together to help protect water supplies."

Customers are asked to limit outdoor irrigation and refrain from watering lawns and gardens during daylight hours to reduce the amount of water lost to evaporation. Additionally, customers are reminded that the following practices that waste potable water are prohibited in California: Hosing off sidewalks, driveways and other hardscapes. Washing a motor vehicle with a hose, unless the hose is fitted with a shut-off nozzle. Operating a fountain or decorative water feature, unless the water is part of a recirculating system. City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Now in its sixth year, the City of Rancho Cordova's Community Enhancement Fund continues to support a variety of projects and programs in our community. Recently, Robert J. McGarvey Elementary School began building a school garden, and two events were held for the Lincoln Village Neighborhood.

Robert J. McGarvey Elementary School is nearing completion on a new garden. Thanks to a Community Enhancement Fund grant, the school built new raised garden beds and a new garden shed stocked with gardening tools and supplies. Once seating areas and additional touches are added, the garden will function as an outdoor classroom and provide a space students can enjoy during their breaks.

"Our school mission is to create inquiring, knowledgeable and caring young people who take pride and responsibility in solving complex problems to create a more peaceful world," said Principal Michael Gulden. "School gardens, with spaces

County Shelter Dog Recruited into Search Dog Rescue Program

By Allison Harris, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County's Bradshaw Animal Shelter intakes thousands of pets in the community each year. Most of these pets are reunited with their owners or are able to find loving forever homes to be adopted into. However, some shelter pets have a difficult time finding a normal adoptive home which is where the shelter's foster and rescue program steps in. The foster and rescue program works with local foster and rescue providers in the community to help shelter pets that need a little extra assistance on the way to their happy ending.

Foster care providers provide temporary care outside of the shelter to animals such as those too young for adoption, needing to recover from an illness or injury, for behavior modification, or just because they need a break from the stresses of shelter life. Rescue group partners are also a huge help as they pull shelter animals who otherwise have a difficult time being adopted due to age, medical condition or the need for behavioral modification that cannot be resolved in a foster home.

Recently, a shelter dog named Chapo was having a difficult time finding the perfect home to suit his mental and physical stimulation needs. After a month of no luck with potential adopters, shelter staff soon realized the Belgian Malinois would never be happy in a pet-only home due to his high energy, drive and intelligence. So, they reached out the National Disaster Search Dog Foundation (NDSDF). NDSDF is an organization based in Santa Paula, California that strengthens disaster response across America by rescuing and recruiting dogs and partnering them with firefighters and other first responders to find people buried alive in the wreckage of disasters.

"Groups such as NDSDF give dogs that have no chance of placement in a normal pet home an opportunity for a great outcome and a chance to truly thrive in the world," said Shasta Stratton-Quirk, the shelter animal care attendant who reached out to the rescue. "Because some dogs are not able to be adopted out through normal routes, it is the job of the foster and rescue team to find an outlet where they can reach their true potential. We cannot wait to see what the future holds for Chapo!"

After viewing videos of Chapo's amazing agility skills, drive and personality, NDSDF quickly arranged for a flight to recruit him and he was on his way to Santa Paula. Thanks to the shelter's rescue partners and the care and dedication of our shelter staff, Chapo is on the path to have a greater purpose to help save the lives of others. In the meantime, NDSDF is letting him settle into his new environment. They report that Chapo is working on obedience training and manners, learning fitness exercises, playing with and meeting his trainers, and will enjoy a trip to their "doggy day spa" where he will receive a well-deserved bath and nail trim.

To learn more about the shelter's foster and rescue program or becoming a foster care provider, visit the fostering webpage. To watch Chapo's recruitment video, visit the Bradshaw Animal Shelter's Facebook page.

SAFE CU Adds New Board Members

By Micah Grant, SAFE Credit Union

FOLSOM, CA (MPG) - SAFE Credit Union is pleased to announce two new board members have been appointed to its Board of Directors. Sonia Lewis and Donald Ball bring decades of experience in leadership positions to support SAFE's mission and serve its members.

SAFE board members serve on a voluntary basis and work with SAFE's executive management to ensure every decision is made with members' financial well-being in mind and that SAFE complies with all credit union bylaws and government regulations. Directors lead SAFE's commitment to helping our region thrive.

"Don Ball and Sonia Lewis will bring fresh perspectives and welcome insights from their years of executive-level leadership," says Terrance Tremelling, chair of the SAFE Credit Union Board of Directors. "I look forward to working with both of them as we position SAFE to be a leading financial institution and influence in the Greater Sacramento region."

Sonia Lewis

Sonia Lewis is a highly skilled collaborative leader known for adeptly navigating challenges to achieve better results. Her expertise includes executive leadership development; diversity, equity, and inclusion; performance management, and finance. With nearly 20 years of multinational company experience across high-tech, management consulting and financial services, plus years of board and public sector service, Sonia brings deep executive-level experience and broad perspective to the SAFE Credit Union Board.

She previously served as Board Vice Chair for an education nonprofit and chaired the Strategic Planning Committee. She also was a member of Intel's Black Leadership Council and its Black Network of Executive Women – both focused on fair representation, inclusion, career development, progression and retention of African American employees to accelerate business impact and results.

"I'm passionate about SAFE's mission to look out for the financial security of our members by ensuring they are well taken care of," says Lewis. "Financial literacy is a passion of mine. SAFE is an opportunity for me to give back, learn, and share my knowledge with (the) membership."

Lewis is also committed to being a steward of SAFE's initiatives to improve diversity, equity, and inclusion in the workplace and in serving its members. "DEI is something that's very important to me as well," she says.

Lewis earned an MS in Business with concentrations in Finance & Management from Johns Hopkins University and a BA in Economics/Business from the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA), graduating Phi Beta Kappa with Honors.

Don Ball has had a distinguished career in finance. He was recently the chief financial officer for family-owned Foster Poultry Farms LLC, the leading chicken and poultry provider for the Western United States and currently serves on the Board of Directors for Crystal Creamery-Foster Farms' Dairy. He was also the chief financial officer of VSP Global, a fully integrated eye care company operating in 100 nations and $5.3 billion in revenue.

Don Ball

"Being on the board is about service to SAFE's members," Ball says, "and I look forward to that opportunity to serve. I have focused much of my career in family-owned or private companies, which has allowed me to broaden (my) financial experience while also being more customer focused. I look forward to bringing that experience to SAFE."

As a senior executive with 40 years of experience, Ball has led all aspects of finance, accounting, tax, treasury, audit, and underwriting. He also has extensive corporate governance experience, serving as a representative of the VSP Global Board of Directors, Finance, Retirement, Public Policy, and Audit committees. Prior to his work with VSP Global, Mr. Ball was SVP and CFO of Raley's grocery stores, including the Sunnyside and Bayview brands.

Ball also extends his leadership and insights to area nonprofits, including as a former board member of Make-A-Wish Foundation Sacramento and Northern California. He has been a frequent guest lecturer at CSU Sacramento. He earned his MBA from Pace University in New York City and a BS from Marist College. ★

Three of the club's four steam engines are over 40 years old and another was completed just a few years ago. At 1/8th scale these steam and diesel engines are identical to their full-size counterparts, faithfully recreating all the characteristics of their prototypes. They are real operating locomotives, just smaller.

"Since this is a hobby for us, most take several years or more to build. Even when they are built, they are never completely done. Additional details and improvements continue to be added over time," he said.

New members are always welcome, Berchelli said. "We first train our new members to become a conductor and how to properly load our passenger trains," he said.

"Members then move on to learn how to be an engineer on our diesel trains.

Once they become comfortable, they can then learn steam operation. Operating a steam engine requires much more hands-on teaching," Berchelli said.

Physical improvements of the layout continue. New track side buildings and a memorial to honor and remember past members have been added. While the main railroad line is most likely to remain the same, original aluminum rail and wood ties are being replaced with steel rail and composite ties for better durability.

"My overall goal for the club is to continue to improve the quality of our layout for the public to fully enjoy," Berchelli said.

Club members have planted hundreds of California native plants and teamed up with members of the Sacramento Tree Foundation to help plant an additional 120 trees around the layout.

An irrigation system has also been completed to improve and manage water consumption.

In the fall, a popular Pumpkin Train is set for October 2-3 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. A special Santa Claus Train is scheduled for the weekends of December 4-5 and 11-12 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Safety protocols have been put in place as the Sacramento Valley Live Steamers welcomes the public to the return of its summer train runs. Hand sanitizer is placed at each train boarding station. One family is loaded per car and then a spacer car is placed between each riding car. After unloading each train, all seats are cleaned by our volunteers. for growing and enjoying, teaching and learning, are integral to our mission."

In May, two Food Truck Tuesday events were held in the Lincoln Village Neighborhood. Janine Anderson, a resident and director of non-profit LaCars' Legacy, spearheaded the effort after receiving a Rancho Cordova Community Grant funded by the Community Enhancement Fund.

The events provided residents with free meals from Candies Kitchen and information on community resources. In addition, event organizers asked residents what projects, programs or activities they would like to see in their neighborhood. With volunteer support from the neighborhood and city, including Mayor Garrett Gatewood and Councilmember Siri Pulipati, the events were a hit with over 650 residents.

"I am a person who always looks for unconventional ways to engage people," said Anderson. "Crazy, out-of-the box, and if you build it, they will come mentality. With accessible funding like the Community Enhancement Fund, not only will I build it, but I will also encourage others to build it along with me."

Along with everyone in the Mills and Rossmoor neighborhood, we received a letter from the “City of Rancho Cordova” which updated us about planned improvements in our area. The information which we received from the Public Works Department said, “The City of Rancho Cordova plans to rehabilitate streets within the Mills Ranch and Rossmoor neighborhoods to extend pavement life, improve ride ability, and repair the current infrastructure.”

While the Public Works Department passed information to many areas of our city, like anyone else, I was glad to see and hear that they are working on the plans for my neighborhood. Like many other streets in Rancho, some of those in my neighborhood really need a lot of work.

They also said, “This project is funded by the city’s Community Enhancement Fund, a ½ cent sales tax that was approved by Rancho Cordova citizens in 2014, State Senate Bill 1(SB1) Road Repair and Accountability Act of 2017, and Measure R, a ½ cent sales tax that was approved by Rancho Cordova citizens in 2020. The project is currently in the design phase and construction is expected to begin in Summer 2022.” You can find much more information on line at the city’s website.

I am putting some of the information which is on the Cordova Community Council website about the events which are going on on July 3-4. There are not as many things in Hagan Park as in the past, but I am glad that we are having a parade again. It will be on Saturday the 3rd. There will be a one-mile road race at 9am, and then the parade will start at 10am. The gates at Hagan Park will open at 6pm, and there will be beer and snacks to be purchased there. The usual rides will not be in the park this year. The Concert with CCsegeR will start at 8p.m., and the Fireworks Spectacular will start at 9:45p.m.

We have done the parade when the 4th of July is on Sunday. And the reason is, there are many churches on Coloma Road and their Sunday services would not only be interrupted, but they would be stopped since we block the traffic on Coloma Road for about four hours. 2010 was the last time we had our parade on Saturday, and that was for the same reason. Be sure to look for more information about the weekend on the www.cordovacommunitycouncil.com.

All tickets must be purchased in advanced on line and will cost $5. Visit ranchocordova-july4th.com for sign-ups and tickets.

A few other things are coming back to our lives in Rancho. The movies on Friday in June; there will be concerts in the park in August; the schools will be operating back on schedule in August with almost everyone going back to their school; the Capital Air Show will be back in September; and it looks like we will be able to celebrate all of the holidays in the fall and winter. I am very happy that more and more people who are receiving the vaccines are beating the COVID-19.

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we’ll see you next time. ★

Set Afloat in a Tough Year

By Sarah Blunt

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

Opening a new brewery can be hard. Opening a new brewery in the middle of a pandemic is very hard – as the owners of one of Rancho Cordova’s newest breweries attest and celebrate their One Year Anniversary Grand Opening and Ribbon Cutting on June 18-20, 2021, starting at 12 noon of Friday.

James Noss and Matt Risse, owners of LogOff Brewery, were originally tech guys who enjoyed brewing their own beer as a hobby. Risse said he had never tried a beer Noss made that he didn’t like. Once they came to the realization that they knew what they were doing, they started planning to open a brewery and log off from their desk jobs.

“It’s really about our philosophy of life I think,” Risse said. “We’re kind of anti-stress so we believe... [in] logging off of whatever it is that’s stressful in life and enjoying the things that bring you joy; and we think drinking craft beer is a great way to do that.”

After building the brewery from the ground up, LogOff was set to open in March of 2020. As the pandemic hit, Noss and Risse decided to hold off on their grand opening and wait for things to die down. They both eventually realized nothing was dying down any time soon – it was now or never.

On June 10, 2020, LogOff Brewing opened its doors with a socially distanced outdoor patio. However, due to protocols mandated days after they opened, the city stopped indoor dining and made take-out-only mandatory. Since LogOff was a brewery, they didn’t have a food menu to cater to take-out needs.

In response, the two turned to their mothers, who had restaurant and food experience. Their moms began catering for the brewery daily, which kept them afloat during take-out-only mandates.

“It’s been difficult navigating the restrictions... the shutdowns... mask mandates and the whole pandemic in general,” Noss said.

Another challenge that LogOff faced was that they could only seat people outdoors during the heat waves and wildfires that hit from late August to early September. Smoke and heat in Sacramento made it uncomfortable to sit outside and enjoy a beer.

Luckily, LogOff has some great regulars and community members who have supported them through these tough times.

Beverly Littlejohn and Terry White have supported the brewery since its grand opening. As locals in Rancho Cordova, they often visit breweries in the barrel district, but now LogOff feels like their new home brewery.

“We do LogOff Thursdays every week. We meet friends and we’ve done that for months now. It’s become our home brewery – this is our home,” Littlejohn said.

Now, Risse and Noss are working on expanding their brewery in the property adjacent to LogOff. Although it’s been a long journey, they are continuing with the learning process of brewing the best beer for their customers.

“It’s about the people and then also the craft itself, learning and becoming better brewers, and making better beer,” Noss said.

Logoff Brewery is located at 3054 Sunrise Blvd., Suite J, Rancho Cordova, Calif. For more information, please visit logoffbrewing.com/ ★

George Washington Carver High School Students Win Contest

City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - George Washington Carver High School student duos Rory Pilling and Rae Jacobson, and Ella Waite and Mia Andrade, placed first and fifth, respectively, in the Caring for Our Watersheds California 2021 Youth Environmental Proposal Contest.

The contest challenges 9th through 12th grade students to research their local watershed, identify an environmental concern, and come up with a realistic solution. There were more than 250 contest entries in northern California.

Rory and Rae proposed protecting Sacramento’s waterways from environmental damage by supporting individuals experiencing homelessness. Ella and Mia’s proposal was to build vertical gardens in dense areas with limited space to provide food, improve air quality, and save energy.

“Rory and Rae’s winning project proposal combined social and environmental justice issues, which are at the heart of our Carver curriculum,” said Principal Allegra Alessandri, Ed.D. “When we take care of the earth, we also take care of each other.”

Rory and Rae won $1,000, and Ella and Mia won $600 for their creative ideas. In addition, George Washington Carver High School received a matching $1,600, and Caring for Our Watersheds will also provide each duo with $1,000 to bring their ideas to life.

Students Tap Immigrant-Related Stories to Gain Knowledge

By Jody Cooperman, SCUSD

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Approximately 170 students at Sutter Middle School in Sacramento are interviewing immigrants and children of immigrants for a year-end project that includes creating a book of stories. Some students are interviewing family members while others have been connected to strangers in an effort to learn personal histories of families’ emigrations to the United States and how they faced challenges and created successful lives. “The students are learning so much from this project including history, interviewing skills, writing techniques, critical thinking, and, hopefully, a greater appreciation of the sacrifices people have made to become Americans.” Teacher Jody Cooperman, said. “It’s a timely topic considering increased hatred and violence against some minority groups, current immigration challenges, and proposed changes to immigration policies.”

Three teachers, who teach History and English, are working with their students on this project. The students have been reading about immigrants and children of immigrants in the book, Proud Americans: Growing Up As Children of Immigrants and will use the stories they write for their own publication. One storyteller in the Proud Americans’ book, Natalia Estrada, who lives in Rancho Cordova and emigrated to the U.S. as a child, recently answered students’ questions on a Zoom appearance and shared how she persevered in spite of domestic violence at home and learning difficulties at school.*

“The students have voiced their excitement about this project because they have been challenged on many levels and enjoy learning from personal stories,” Cooperman said. “A hope is that these lessons will be helpful in their personal, school, and professional lives, as they find that people often have more in common than they expected, even if their families’ ancestral stories are different.”

* A recording of Natalia Estrada’s visit with students on Zoom is available. ★

Can California Shut Down Failed Projects?

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

We human beings hate to admit failure. Even though our brains may know when some endeavor has failed, our emotions and our egos may drive us to continue trying to make it work.

Indeed, the syndrome has developed its own linguistic phrases, such as “throwing good money after bad,” or “sunk costs,” or “cutting our losses.”

Private businesses are usually – but not always – willing to shut down or sell off ventures that don’t pan out. Ford Motor Co. famously jettisoned the Edsel, a car named after the beloved son of founder Henry Ford, when the car failed to attract enough buyers. But the Boeing Co. stuck with an elongated version of its 737 jetliner even after two crashed and killed 346 people, and is still trying to make it acceptable.

Government officials are generally less willing to admit failure, perhaps because, unlike business executives, they have no personal financial stakes in outcomes. Their guiding, albeit informal, rule is that launching new programs enhances one’s standing while shutting down those that fail just angers their stakeholders.

California’s recent history is replete with examples of programs and projects that deserved merciful deaths but have continued to soak up billions of dollars in taxpayer money.

The woebegone bullet train project is the most spectacular. Voters were promised a statewide network of high-speed trains when they passed a $9.95 billion bond issue in 2008. Thirteen years later, we have only a few concrete structures in the Fresno area — no track, no trains and no certain date when even a relatively short segment will be operative despite the many billions of dollars spent, or wasted, so far.

It would take a book – a thick book – to fully describe all of the state government’s highly touted, very expensive digital information projects that have failed to deliver the promised benefits. While it lacks the scale of the bullet train and the failed information technology projects, Calbright may fall into the same category.

It’s former Gov. Jerry Brown’s pet project – an online community college that would offer high-quality, low-cost instruction to help working Californians upgrade their job skills.

Tens of millions of dollars have been sunk into Calbright over the past few years but it’s actually provided instruction only to a few dozen students — at an enormous per-student cost, of course.

Last month, State Auditor Elaine Howle catalogued Calbright’s failures, declaring that “A primary reason...is that its former executive team failed to develop and execute effective strategies for launching the college.”

If Calbright doesn’t shape up by next year, Howle told the Legislature, it should be axed. Five days before Howle issued her report, the state Assembly voted unanimously for legislation that “makes the California Online Community College Act inoperative at the end of the 2022-23 academic year.”

To be fair, the legislation, Assembly Bill 1432, does not merely reflect an unwillingness to continue a project that has fallen short of its lofty goals. The bill is sponsored by the union that represents faculty at the state’s 115 local community colleges and it opposed Calbright from the onset, fearing that it would undermine the existing system.

However, Calbright’s obvious shortcomings made it vulnerable to a political death sentence. The fight over its fate now shifts to the state Senate, or perhaps will be decided when legislative leaders and Gov. Gavin Newsom negotiate a final 2021-22 budget deal behind closed doors this month.

If Calbright is jettisoned, perhaps it would mark a new willingness to stop throwing good money after bad. Now how about that bullet train to nowhere?

Keep Circulating

We go from day to day with our heart keeping us beating the drum of our dreams. But do we really understand what it takes to keep it going? Dr. Susan Smith-Jones gave me some insight on my POPPOFF Radio Show recently. According to Dr. Jones, our cardiovascular system is made up of heart and blood vessels. It transports oxygen and other nutrients to all organs and tissues in our body. And it removes carbon dioxide and other waste products. If the arteries, veins, and capillaries were all laid out end-to-end, would you believe it would extend as far as 60,000 miles long? And the heart is pumping blood throughout. So maintaining healthy circulation is a must.

Here’s the important news. Dr. Jones told me the quality of foods we eat has a tremendous bearing on our circulatory health. High-fiber, plant-based foods like fruits, veggies, legumes, nuts, and seeds offer the essential vitamins, minerals, and nutrients the body and circulation need to survive. Why? Atherosclerosis is when plaque builds up along the walls of our arteries. Risk factors that can contribute to plaque buildup include high blood pressure, high cholesterol, tobacco use, diabetes, unhealthy diet, low levels of physical health activity, and being overweight or obese. Atherosclerosis can gradually make the arteries narrower, affecting the amount of blood flowing through them. So the organs and tissues may lack oxygen. When atherosclerosis affects the heart arteries, it’s called coronary heart disease. Other arteries can also be affected as well...peripheral artery disease. That can affect blood flow to your legs, feet, arms, and hands. Sometimes an artery may become completely blocked by plaque or a blood clot. Then a heart attack or stroke can occur.

She went on to point out that nitric oxide is a molecule that’s produced naturally by our body, and it’s important for circulation because it supports vasodilation, meaning it relaxes the inner muscles of the blood vessels, causing them to widen and increase circulation. Some of the best food sources of nitric oxide include beets, celery, lettuce, carrots, green beans, collard greens, parsley, cabbage, and spinach. Here are a few more foods that support healthy circulation...cayenne pepper, pomegranate, onions, cinnamon, garlic, salmon, beets, turmeric, leafy greens, citrus fruits, walnuts, tomatoes, berries, and ginger.

Dr. Susan Smith-Jones taught students at UCLA how to be healthy and fit for thirty years. She has made extraordinary contributions in the fields of well-being, anti-aging, optimum nutrition, and balanced living. She is founder and president of Health Unlimited. She has written over thirty books on these subjects with her latest “Wired for High-Leve Wellness” Simple ways to rejuvenate, meditate, and prosper. Don’t forget to sign up for her monthly “Healthy Living Newsletters” at her website www.SusanSmithJones.com. And it’s absolutely free and filled with great information and delightful thoughts on how to be healthy and stay healthy physically and mentally. During this time of pandemic and so many fears, we need to stay healthy and add happy to the mix too! All you have to do is believe!!! ★ she’s particular about what she drives. I even found out she has her eye on a newer vehicle that costs about $48,000. I don’t know what to do. Can you help?

– Zach

Dear Zach

Being on the Same Page is Vital to your Family’s Future

Dear Dave,

My wife and I are in our 20s, and together we make about $80,000 a year. Our first baby is due in early 2022, so being debt-free has become a top priority in my mind. Right now, we have two cars. The one I drive is paid off and has a lot of miles on it, but it’s in really good shape. We still owe $30,000 on the other one, and the rest of our debt is about $90,000 in student loans. My wife puts 40,000 miles a year on the other car traveling for work. I talked to her the other day about us moving down a little in car, but Okay, let’s start slow. I’m glad you’ve seen the wisdom in getting control of your money and getting out of debt. That’s the first step toward financial peace.

Now, where the car thing is concerned, there’s not a chance in the world I’d do this. And honestly, I don’t give a crap what your wife is particular about. You guys are broke! You’re up to your eyeballs in debt, and now she’s talking about buying a $48,000 car – when you still owe $30,000 on one – then putting 40,000 miles a year on it and destroying its value quicker than you can say “fast.”

This whole idea and attitude is dumber than a rock. Absolutely not! You may have seen the light where your finances are concerned, but it sounds like your wife is still in the dark and needs to grow up some. You two should have a long, serious talk about things, and get on the same page financially – especially with a baby on the way. Your family’s future depends on it.

I hope I wasn’t unclear.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF OLIMPIO M. GUANLAO

CASE No. 34-2021-00296355

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Olimpio M. Guanlao, deceased A Petition for Probate has been filed by Reginald R. Guanlao, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Reginald R. Guanlao be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows July 21, 2021 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GARY HENRY NOE

CASE No. 34-2021-00299810

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Gary Henry Noe, deceased A Petition for Probate has been filed by Kristian Noe, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Kristian Noe be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows September 7, 2021 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. NOTICE TO RESPONDENT (Name): AVISO AL DEMANDADO (Nombre) : Jamie Miller

YOU HAVE BEEN SUED. Read the information below and on the next page. PETITIONER'S NAME IS: (NOMBRE DEL DEMANDANTE): Roberta Miller

You have 30 CALENDAR DAYS after this Summons and Petition are served on you to file a Response (form FL-120) at the court and have a copy served on the petitioner. A letter, phone call or court appearance will not protect you. If you do not file your Response on time, the court may make orders affecting your marriage or domestic partnership, your property, and custody of your children. You may be ordered to pay support and attorney fees and costs. For legal advice contact a lawyer immediately. Get help finding a lawyer at the California Courts Online Self-Help Center (www.courts.ca.gov/selfhelp), at the California Legal Services website (www.lawhelpca.org) or by contacting your local county bar association. NOTICE: RESTRAINING ORDERS ARE ON PAGE 2: These restraining orders are effective against both spouse or domestic partners until the petition is dismissed, a judgment is entered or the court makes further orders. They are enforceable anywhere in California by any law enforcement officer who has received or seen a copy of them. FEE WAIVER: If you cannot pay the filing fee, ask the clerk for a fee waiver form. The court may order you to pay back all or part of the fees and costs that the court waived for you or the other party. The name and address of the court are: (El nombre y direccion de la corte es): El Dorado County Superior Court Placerville Main Street Branch 495 Main Street, Placerville, CA 95667

Date: (Fecha) 4/12/2021

By Clerk of Court Deputy STANDARD FAMILY LAW RESTRAINING ORDERS Starting immediately, you and your spouse or domestic partner are restrained from:

1. removing the minor children of the parties from the state or applying for a new or replacement passport for those minor children without the prior written consent of the other party or an order of the court;
2. cashing, borrowing against, canceling, transferring, disposing of, or changing the beneficiaries of any insurance or other coverage, including life, health automobile, and disability, held for the benefit of the parties and their minor children;
3. transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of any property, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life; and
4. creating a nonprobate transfer or modifying a nonprobate transfer in a manner that affects the disposition of property subject to the transfer, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court. Before revocation of a nonprobate transfer can take effect or a right of survivorship to property can be eliminated, notice of the change must be filed and served on the other party.

You must notify each other of any proposed extraordinary expenditures at least five business days prior to incurring these extraordinary expenditures and account to the court for all extraordinary expenditures made after these restraining orders are effective. However, you may use community property, quasi-community property, or your own separate property to pay an attorney to help you or pay court costs.

NOTICE-ACCESS TO AFFORDABLE HEALTH INSURANCE

Do you or someone in your household need affordable health insurance? If so, you should apply for Covered California. Covered California can help reduce the cost you pay towards high quality affordable health care. For more information, visit www.coveredca.com. Or call Covered California at 1-800-300-1506

WARNING-IMPORANT INFORMATION

California law provides that, for purposes of division of property upon dissolution of a marriage or domestic partnership or upon legal separation, property acquired by the parties during marriage or domestic partnership in joint form is presumed to be community property. If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e., joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and not the community property presumption. You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title to the property.

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA
COUNTY OF SACRAMENTO
CASE NO. 20AD00053
CITATION REGARDING PETITION TO DECLARE CHILD FREE FROM PARENTAL CUSTODY AND CONTROL

IN RE: THE ADOPTION OF RYAN R. To Charlotte Ricci (mother of minor child) and to all persons claiming to be the parent of the minor child whose name is Ryan David Ricci.

By order of this court you are cited and you may/shall appear before a judge in Sacramento County Superior Court in Department 124 located at 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826 on the date of August 2, 2021 at 11:00AM to show cause, if you have reason why the minor child should not be declared free from the custody and control of his parents, according to the petition filed under the family code section 7800 et seq. 1. This matter is set for a court hearing/appearance using Zoom Application for the above referenced date and time. 2. In order to participate in your Zoom hearing, you must either use a computer or smart device with internet access and have downloaded the ZOOM Application. If you do not have compatible technology, then you can attend the hearing using a telephone and calling the designated toll free telephone conference line. You must appear by Zoom Application or telephone using the designated department account referenced below at least 5 minutes before your scheduled hearing date and time; and wait for a court representative to take roll. 3. This notice must be served to all parties, so they are advised of the Zoom telepresence appearance/hearing. A proof of service must be completed and provided to the court before the return hearing date. 4. Due to the uncertainty of continued efforts to stem the COVID-19 epidemic, court hearings may be subject to change, and may change from Zoom to in-person appearances. 5. Prior to your scheduled hearing date, please continue to frequently check the family and Children section of the Sacramento Superior Court webpage at <https://www.saccourt.ca.gov/family/family-law.aspx> for any new information and advisements. The petition to declare the child free from custody and control of a parent has been filed for the purpose of freeing the minor child for adoption. You have the right to be represented by counsel. If you appear without counsel, and are unable to afford counsel, upon your request, the court shall appoint counsel to represent you. The court may appoint counsel for the minor, whether or not the minor can afford counsel. Private counsel appointed by the court shall be paid a reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, in an amount to be determined by the court and which amount shall be paid by the parties, other than the child, in proportions the court deems just. However, if a party is unable to afford counsel, the amount shall be paid out of the county's general fund. The court may continue the proceeding for not to exceed 30 days necessary to appoint counsel and to enable counsel to become acquainted with the case.

Two Arrested for EDD Fraud Totaling More Than $600,000

By Shelly Orio,
Sacramento County District Attorney's Office

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - On February 2, 2021, the Sacramento Police Department North Gang Enforcement Team conducted a traffic stop on 24-year-old Adrian Sykes and found him to be in possession of a fully automatic Glock handgun. Officers conducted a probation search of his residence and seized drugs, body armor and five additional firearms. Those firearms included a loaded Masterpiece Arms Mac-9 with no serial number, an Anderson Manufacturing AR-15, and an unregistered loaded ABC Rifle AR-Pistol. Officers also found six Employment Development Department (EDD) debit cards. At that time, Sykes was charged with six counts of being a felon in possession of a firearm, one count of possessing drugs with a firearm, and one count of being a felon in possession of ammunition. Sykes posted bail on these offenses and was released from custody.

The Sacramento County District Attorney's Office, Sacramento Police Department, and EDD conducted a joint investigation into the six EDD cards that were located. They found that Sykes and his girlfriend, 26-year-old Brittney Murchison, had filed multiple fraudulent EDD claims. In total, 35 different fraudulent claims were filed using the personal identifying information of victims from across the country and over $600,000 was illegally obtained.

The Sacramento Police Department North Gang Enforcement Team arrested Brittney Murchison on May 27, 2021 for committing EDD fraud. Murchison was charged with 16 counts of EDD fraud and one count of identity theft. Sykes was located and arrested in Las Vegas, Nevada on June 7, 2021 by agents of the Las Vegas Metro Police Department and agents from the Federal Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms. Sykes is currently in custody in Las Vegas pending extradition to Sacramento, California where he will face an additional 35 counts of EDD fraud and one count of identity theft.

According to District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert, "Law enforcement across the state has witnessed staggering EDD fraud committed by criminals and their accomplices. At the same time, we have witnessed an alarming increase of illegal firearms in our communities. This dangerous combination undoubtedly has fueled a dramatic increase in violent crime throughout the state. Sacramento's law enforcement agencies will continue to partner together to investigate EDD fraud and the additional havoc it brings to our community." ★

U.S. judge overturns California's ban on assault weapons – California first restricted assault weapons in 1989, with multiple updates to the law since then. | 4 June 2021 | A federal judge has overturned California's three-decade-old ban on assault weapons, ruling that it violates the constitutional right to bear arms. U.S. District Judge Roger Benitez of San Diego ruled Friday that the state's definition of illegal military-style rifles unlawfully deprives law-abiding Californians of weapons commonly allowed in most other states.

Scientists race to rescue Western monarch butterflies after 99 percent of species is wiped out | 4 June 2021 | A coalition of conservation groups is working with the state of California in an effort to save the Western monarch butterfly from the brink of extinction. The population of Western monarchs that once migrated to California in the millions has seen a dramatic drop over the past several decades. The San Francisco Chronicle reports the population of Western monarchs has seen a 99 percent decline since the 1980s... In an attempt to save the monarchs, the Rivers Partners group and others are working with the California Department of Fish and Wildlife to plant more than 30,000 milkweed plants across more than 600 acres of the state with the hopes of bringing the insect's numbers back, according to The San Francisco Chronicle.

Shocking study finds 10% of world's giant sequoias killed by Castle Fire – Redwood forests are world's most efficient way of removing and storing global warming causing carbon dioxide in the atmosphere. | 2 June 2021 | (CA) What was once a lush forest is now a "moonscape." At least a tenth of the world's mature giant sequoias were destroyed by a single wildfire that tore through the southern Sierra Nevada late last year, according to a draft report prepared by scientists with the National Park Service and shared with the Visalia Times-Delta. The catastrophic discovery that forest managers called "mind-blowing" comes five months after firefighters contained the Castle Fire -- which scorched 175,000 acres across the Sequoia National Park and forest. Between 7,500 and 10,000 monarchs perished in the wildfire, which equates to 10% to 14% of the world's mature giant sequoia population, the study found.

New Email Shows Dr. Fauci Was Told in Jan. 2020 the Coronavirus 'Looked Engineered' | 2 June 2021 | Despite the warnings, the US National Institute of Health (NIH) under Dr. Anthony Fauci awarded a $3.7 million grant to the Wuhan lab studying the bat virus. This was after State Department warned about the risky tests going on in the lab... As Dr. Lawrence Sellin reported at The Gateway Pundit back in July 2020 – Dr. Peter Daszak, President of the EcoHealth Alliance and a long-time collaborator with the Wuhan Institute of Virology, presumably was referring to the Ralph Baric- Zheng-Li Shi experiments, stated "you can manipulate them in the lab pretty easily" inserting a spike protein "into a backbone of another virus." And yet for over a year Dr. Anthony Fauci has vehemently denied the Wuhan coronavirus was man-made until last month when Dr. Fauci admitted it may have possibly been naturally occurring. On Tuesday emails from April 2020 were released via FOIA.

Fauci Colluded With Mark Zuckerberg on Facebook COVID-19 'Information Hub,' Emails Show | 2 June 2021 | Dr. Anthony Fauci colluded with Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg on distributing government-approved information on COVID-19 across the social media platform. In a series of March 2020 emails obtained by BuzzFeed News, Zuckerberg invited the infectious disease doctor to partake in the company's newly developed informational program on the COVID-19 pandemic... In his response dated March 17, Fauci praised Zuckerberg's planned COVID-19 information hub, while also expressing his willingness to cooperate with the tech giant. While the nature of Zuckerberg's additional offer to Fauci remains unknown, the redactions in question are classified as a b(4) exemption under the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), which permits agencies to redact "trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person which is privileged or confidential." ★

Ask Toni

Self Employed . . . Should I Enroll in Medicare Part B??

Toni King

Hello Toni:

I need your help about enrolling in Part B or delaying it. I am self-employed with no employees, turning 65 with an individual Blue Cross/Blue Shield health plan that covers me and my wife. I have been told by friends that since I am still working, paying taxes and have health insurance that I do not need Part B.

A business associate, who is also self-employed delayed his Part B because he is under his wife's employers group health insurance. I do not want to make a big mistake. Please explain the difference in my situation and my friend's.

Thanks, Bill from Tulsa, OK

Hello Bill:

Great Medicare question Bill, ... last week I consulted with a person that is also self-employed, but was given wrong advise about delaying his Part B. His Medicare nightmare is now starting ... Medicare does not recognize individual plans like yours as "true company" benefits with creditable prescription drug coverage for delaying your Part B. Now this fellow who is 66 will receive not only a 10% penalty for each year due to not enrolling in Part B at the right time, but a 20% penalty (2 years 65 and 66) each month for as long as he is on Medicare or should I say the rest of his life. The 20% penalty goes up as the Part B premium changes. Stinks doesn't it!!

Bill, since you currently have an individual health insurance plan not "true group" health insurance, I would recommend that you enroll in Part B during your "Initial Enrollment Period". Many believe that Medicare is automatic, this is only true if you are receiving your Social Security check when you turn 65.

Not working full time with true company benefits is what Medicare looks for to keep from giving you the 10% per year or 12-month period Part B penalty.

If you are not receiving your Social Security check and want your Medicare to begin the 1st day of the month you turn 65, you can sign up for Medicare anytime during the 3 months before your 65th birthday. Go online to www.socialsecurity.gov/benefits/medicare to apply for Medicare Parts A and B.

Your business associate who is covered under his working spouse's "true employer" group health benefits can delay enrolling in Medicare. He must follow Medicare's enrollment rules as Social Security deems.

"Still working" are magic words when it comes to enrolling past 65 and losing your or your spouse's company benefits. The Medicare and You Handbook discusses under the subtitle of "Should I enroll in Part B" about delaying Medicare Part B when you are leaving your or your spouse's group benefits and "that you can sign up for Part B anytime during the 8-month period that begins the month after the employment ends or the coverage ends, whichever happens first".

Even though the Medicare & You handbook states that there is an 8-month period that one can enroll without receiving a Medicare Part B penalty, the handbook does not clarify that those who delay will not have any of the benefits that Medicare Part B covers.

During a Toni Says Medicare consultation, we recommend that your and/or your spouse's Medicare Parts A and B begin the first day that your or your spouse's employer group health plan is ending, to be sure there is medical coverage when a healthcare need occurs.

California State Board of Equalization Adopts $126.8 Billion in Assessed Property Value

By Peter Kim, California State Board of Equalization

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California State Board of Equalization (BOE) unanimously adopted the $126.8 billion in assessed property values of 341 companies within California, which include telephone, gas, and electric companies, independent power producers, regulated railroads, and intercounty pipelines. In the upcoming fiscal year, schools and local communities statewide will receive a total of approximately $1.99 billion in property tax revenue resulting from the Board exercising one of its core constitutional functions.

"The BOE's critical role protects the tax dollars schools and local communities depend on every day," said BOE Chairman Antonio Vazquez. "On behalf of the entire Board, I commend BOE staff for their expertise and hard work as today's action translates to funding teachers, public safety officials, parks, and roads across California."

Whereas most property in California is assessed by the 58 County Assessors, the BOE serves as the "59th assessor" by directly assessing certain public utilities, regulated railroads, and intercounty pipelines throughout the state. Also, since these properties are not subject to Proposition 13, the BOE annually determines the market value or the "unitary value" of property that includes improvements, personal property, and land.

The BOE develops the fair market value by considering market conditions, use of and income generated by the property, replacement costs, investments in the property, regulatory climate, depreciation, and other factors as of the January 1 lien date.

For fiscal year 2021-22, there was a 6.7% increase in the total value from last year in the amount of $7.9 billion which will generate approximately more than $124 million additional tax dollars. County governments will use the values set by the BOE to levy the local property taxes.

The entire list of assessed property values and more information on the State-Assessed Properties Program is available on the BOE website. ★

Women's Empowerment Receives $45k in Grants from Kaiser and State Farm

By Kristin Thebaud, Thebaud Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Women's Empowerment in Sacramento recently received a $25,000 grant from Kaiser Permanente Northern California Community Benefit Programs and a $20,000 grant from State Farm to fund employment readiness and paid job training for Sacramento women experiencing homelessness. The grant from Kaiser also will support Women's Empowerment's recovery and domestic violence learning and support groups. The grant from State Farm also will fund financial literacy curriculum. Women's Empowerment is celebrating 20 years of helping women experiencing homelessness find homes and jobs. The group celebrated its 1,700th graduate in March.

"This is a milestone year for Women's Empowerment, and we would not be here without the generous funding of local companies and foundations that are committed to ending homelessness for women and children in Sacramento," said Lisa Culp, founding executive director, Women's Empowerment. "We are grateful to Kaiser and State Farm for recognizing the important work we do and for understanding that new barriers continue to arise for women experiencing homelessness. Our partners are ensuring Sacramento women and their children can still rise from homelessness amidst a pandemic, high unemployment and housing crisis." ★

All Adults Should Get Tested for Hepatitis C

By Brenda Bongiorno, Sacramento County News

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - An estimated 2.4 million people are living with hepatitis C in the United States. However, many don't know they are infected because chronic hepatitis C does not have symptoms for 20 years or more. By that time, serious damage can occur to your liver and can lead to death. The good news is that life-saving treatments can cure hepatitis C in 8 to 12 weeks to prevent further liver damage, cirrhosis and liver cancer. Getting tested for hepatitis C is the first step.

"We want to educate the community that lives can be saved just by getting tested for hepatitis C. This virus is the leading cause of liver cancer and liver transplants," said Sacramento County Health Officer Dr. Olivia Kasirye.

The liver is a vital organ that processes nutrients, filters the blood and fights infections. Hepatitis causes inflammation of the liver that can affect its function. Although hepatitis is caused by a virus and exposure to the blood of an infected person most often, toxins, some medications, certain medical conditions and heavy alcohol use can also cause hepatitis. The most common types of viral hepatitis in the U.S. are hepatitis A, hepatitis B and hepatitis C. Although all types of viral hepatitis can cause similar symptoms, they are spread in different ways, have different treatments, and some types of hepatitis are more serious than others.

Hepatitis C is caused by the hepatitis C virus. When someone is first infected with the hepatitis C virus, they can have a very mild illness with few symptoms or could require hospitalization. Less than half of people who get hepatitis C are able to get rid of the virus without treatment. Those who get infected will likely develop a chronic lifelong infection, which left untreated can cause serious health problems including liver disease, liver failure, liver cancer and death.

CDC recommends you get tested for hepatitis C if you: Are 18 years old and older; Are pregnant (get tested during each pregnancy); Currently inject drugs (get tested regularly); Have ever injected drugs, even if it was just once or many years ago; Have HIV; Have abnormal liver tests or liver disease; Are on hemodialysis; Received donated blood or organs before July 1992; Received clotting factor concentrates before 1987; Have been exposed to blood from a person who has hepatitis C; Were born to a mother with hepatitis C.

The hepatitis C test is a blood test that looks for HCV antibodies to find out if someone has ever been infected with the hepatitis C virus. Test results can take anywhere from a few days to a few weeks to come back. Rapid anti-HCV tests are available in some health clinics and the results of these tests are available in 20 to 30 minutes. If you are positive for the HCV antibodies, a follow-up test called NAT/PCR test will be done.

Learn more about hepatitis C and talk to your doctor about getting tested for hepatitis C – it could save your life. You can also contact the Sacramento County Sexual Health Clinic for testing, call 916-875-1551 or go to www.SacSexualHealth.org for more information. ★

Bera's HERO Act Passes to Provide Mental Health Resources

By Travis Horne, Office of Representative Ami Bera

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - The U.S. House of Representatives passed the Helping Emergency Responders Overcome (HERO) Act, bipartisan legislation introduced by Representatives Ami Bera, M.D. (D-CA) and Brian Fitzpatrick (R-PA) that would provide critical mental health resources to our nation's first responders and health care providers.

The HERO Act directs the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) to report to Congress each year on first responder suicide rates, including identifying risk factors, possible interventions, and recommended interventions for further study. It also requires HHS to develop and distribute best practices on the prevention and treatment of posttraumatic stress among first responders.

"Our nation's police officers, fire fighters, and EMTs put themselves in harm's way every day to protect our community, so it's our obligation to be there for them in their time of need by ensuring they have access to life-saving mental health care," said Rep. Ami Bera, M.D. "While our first responders already experience higher mental health stress and higher risk of suicide than many other professions, responding to the COVID-19 pandemic is only increasing those burdens. Our first responders must now bear the additional mental burdens that daily exposure to the virus brings, especially in light of insufficient personal protective equipment for first responders. Today's passage of the HERO Act means we're one step closer to ensuring mental health resources get to our first responders so that they are able to cope with the added stresses of completing their jobs during the coronavirus pandemic. I look forward to getting this legislation passed in the Senate and signed into law by the President."

The bill also creates two grant programs. The first is a program to train individual fire fighters and paramedics to provide mental health support to their peers in their organizations. The other grant would train health care providers to serve a similar role in their hospitals and practices.

"Our nation's firefighters and emergency medical responders are heroes who risk their lives each day protecting and serving our communities. They routinely witness and experience catastrophic damage, significant injuries, and tragic loss of life, often leading to traumatic stress, mental health issues, and at times, even vulnerability to suicide," said Representative Fitzpatrick. "For too long, the challenges facing our nation's firefighters and emergency medical responders have gone unnoticed and untreated. We must, and we can do more to ensure our first responders have the tools and resources they need to address mental and behavioral health needs. I commend the House passage of the bipartisan HERO Act, which will support the health and mental well-being of all our hero first responders across the country, and look forward to working with Congressman Bera in seeing the bill passed in the Senate and eventually signed into law."

The HERO Act is the culmination of listening, collaboration, and action by Rep. Bera. Over three years ago, Rep. Bera met with Sacramento-area fire chiefs who told him that firefighters face high and increasing rates of suicide. They shared with Rep. Bera that their own colleagues had died by suicide and that the first responder community lacked the mental health resources to tackle this crisis. After investigating, Rep. Bera learned that the United States does not track how many firefighters and paramedics die by suicide each year. Rep. Bera worked with local and national first responder groups to introduce the HERO Act in 2018, which received support from Sacramento-area first responders and from the International Association of Firefighters, the International Association of Fire Chiefs, the National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians, the American Association of Suicidology, the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, and the Firefighter Behavioral Health Alliance.

"Fire fighters and emergency medical responders deal with traumatic events on the job every day. It is a fact that the toll of these experiences are the direct cause of psychological injuries and problems with behavioral health. Sadly, we have lost some of our sister and brother members to these job-related hazards," said Edward A. Kelly, General President of the International Association of Fire Fighters. "Thank you to Representative Bera for his strong leadership in tackling these important issues head on and for his instrumental role in the passage of the HERO Act."

"On a daily basis, firefighters are called to serve communities across the nation and are required to engage in situations that their eyes cannot unsee and their minds cannot forget. This cumulative trauma to our first responders has resulted in behavioral health impacts that include post-traumatic stress, alcoholism, divorce, and, unfortunately, suicide," said Michael McLaughlin, Fire Chief (retired), Cosumnes CSD Fire Department. "Congressman Bera's HERO Act will help us identify the extent of firefighter suicides, and implement programs that can effectively treat and develop resilience for the men and women who are here to protect us." ★

High Quality Art Pours into MACC Members Show

By Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Sharon Yang of Gold River took Best of Show with her watercolor titled Last Dance in the third annual Rancho Cordova Arts Members Show at the MACC. "I painted this at the (William Land Park) pond," Yang said. "In the fall I happened to go there and see all those dry, weathered leaves, and I felt very sad. Oh, that used to be so beautiful there, and now it was dying down." She wanted to catch the leaves in that stage. If Yang were judging an art show, she said, the most important thing would be, "It has to touch my heart—I have to feel moved." Yang belongs to Thursday Art, a group of around a dozen local artists, all but one of whom are members of Rancho Cordova Arts. "We paint every Thursday," Yang said, "and we critique each other." Kathy Young Ross, who passed away last year, started the Thursday Art group. Included in that group are two artists who also have won Best of Show in recent Rancho Cordova art shows – Marsha Mason and Marge Gorman.

Joe Bellacera won First in the 2D category with his oil on canvas titled Windows Series #3. "This painting was born out of a desire to see nature in a wondrous way through a window or portal, suggesting a glimpse into another realm," Joe Bellacera said. "The drips and marks pour forth into our eyes suggesting that Sharon Yang won Best of Show at the Members Show at the MACC. nature cannot be contained, that the very fabric of our perception is ever-changing and cannot be portrayed in a static representation."

Paula Bellacera who is married to Joe, won Third place in the 3D category with her ceramic, Rainbow Chameleon. During the last year with the pandemic and fires she wanted especially to brighten and lighten with her work. "I really like working in 3D because then it's a challenge; you have to make every side and every angle interesting," Paula Bellacera said.

Winners in the show besides Sharon Yang's Best of Show are as follows:

In 2D, First is Joe Bellacera for Window Series #3; Second Janice Pluma for Unfolding; Third is Mary Rogers-Destatte, Chick Ain't Fiddlin' Dixie.

In Mixed Media, First Susan Wickersham, Our Hands, Ourselves; Second Deborah Kelly, Resolution; Third Robin Moyher, Where Sea Meets Sand.

In 3D, First Sue Anne Foster,

Lonesome George; Second Del Swanson, Waves; Third Paula Bellacera, Rainbow Chameleon.

In Photography, First Eugene Davis Stevenson III, Unity; Second Gert Van Ommering, Diablo at Dusk from the Delta; Third Lucille Van Ommering, Moonlight, Reflections, Sandhill Cranes. There were 17 Honorable Mentions awarded.

Submissions accepted to the show numbered 129 works by 62 artists. Cheryl Gleason, MACC Event Curator, said that last year's Member Show was down in submissions because of COVID, but this year people have definitely come out. "We've got at least 20-some new members that are just absolutely fantastic artists," Gleason said. "This is really a high quality show and I'm impressed with all the artists and what they've submitted."

The Members Art Show will be on view at the MACC Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays from June 3 through June 19. Hours are 3-8 p.m. on Thursdays and Fridays, and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays. A concert featuring Dirty Cello will perform 7:30-9:30 p.m. on Friday, June 11. Admission is free.

The MACC is located at 10191 Mills Station Rd., Rancho Cordova. For more information about this exhibit or the MACC, please call Cheryl Gleason, 916-273-5712, or e-mail cheryl@cordovacouncil.org. Masks are required. ★
