Making Science Cool

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) -

The California Capital Airshow (CCA), presented by Sacramento County, recently announced the addition of Chip Yates, founder and CEO of Flight of the Century, Inc. (www.flightofthecentury.com), and his ongoing mission to 'make science cool' as he attempts to break his current world speed record of 202 miles per hour in an electric airplane in front of the crowd at Mather Airport on Saturday, October 5, 2013.

"I want to be an example to teens, to inspire them. I'm someone that is using my STEM education to go out and change the world while doing something really cool; they can too," said Chip Yates. "The realm of science, technology, engineering and math are gateways for kids to not only learn but to truly explore all of the opportunities available to them. If you can dream it, you can build it and I'm living proof of that."

At only 13 years old, Yates was destined to utilize his education to push the current limits of technology. He saved $50.00 and convinced his parents to invest an additional $50.00 in order to buy and rebuild his first motorcycle. Since then, Yates has become a highly dynamic and proven leader who is recognized worldwide as an electric vehicle pioneer and green technology innovator.

electric motor and controller system to an aircraft designed by Burt Rutan (famed aerospace engineer, best known for the design of SpaceShipOne, the Virgin Atlantic GlobalFlyer, and Voyager); but Yates had one problem – he was not a pilot. He earned his pilot's license in two months and had only 58 hours when he flew on July 18, 2012 where he established a world speed record for electric powered aircraft of 202 mph.

"We're thrilled and honored to have Chip Yates at this year's Airshow," said Darcy Brewer, executive director of the California Capital Airshow. "Chip truly embodies what it means to follow your dreams."

50 Years of Love Celebrated by Rancho Cordova Church

By Carol Good

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) -

The Rancho Cordova United Methodist Church has selected Loving God, Loving Our Community, Loving Each Other as the 50th Anniversary theme as it kicks off celebrations slated for September 27, 28, and 29th, 2013.

The invitation to the festivities by the Church is extended to the public and community leaders/ representatives, especially to those who have been a part of the Church's service to the community over the past 50 years.

The events, all open to the public, are scheduled over three days as follows:

- Friday September 27, 6 p.m. A night of Sharing Memories and Storytelling with an ice cream & cookie social to follow. (free event)

- Saturday September 28, 5 p.m. An evening of Celebrating the Present. A Western Bar-b-que, ($15.00 adults/ $12.00 children under 12) with all the fixin's sponsored by the United Methodist Men's group will be followed by a Talent/No Talent Show (free event,) at 7 p.m. on the Wesley Courtyard.
- Sunday September 29, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Morning Celebration Worship Service will be Looking Toward the Future: Celebrating 50 years of Love. It will be a celebration of God-with-Us and those who have journeyed together over these 50 milestone years. A special fellowship time will follow featuring finger foods and birthday cake. (free event)

The Church's history began in 1963 when the Rev Herbert C. Hirschfeld was appointed by Bishop Donald Tippet of the Methodist California-Nevada Annual Conference and Dr. Kenneth Adams, District Superintendent, to guide the destiny of a local fledging congregation.

The first worship service was held September 8, 1963 in the Lancer Room of the Cordova Lodge. The formal Organizational Meeting, conducted by Dr. Adams, met on Sept 27, 1963 at the Sierra Madre Apartments on Coloma Rd., Rancho Cordova, and thus the Methodist Church here in Rancho Cordova was born.

In 1968, with the merging of the Methodist and the United Brethren Churches, the official title of the new Church became the United Methodist Church of Rancho Cordova.

Construction of the chapel and the fellowship hall, known as Adams Hall, was completed and first used in the Spring of 1965. In 1972, additions to Adams Hall and a Sunday School building, known as Snyder Hall, were completed.

Over the years, the Church has served not only the community of

Sharon's Lounge Fundraiser

By Julie Parker

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) – Not one, but two of Sharon's Lounge employees are facing serious medical issues, so owner Sharon Juarez is helping with a series of fundraisers.

"Words can't really express how grateful I am that she's doing this for us," says Zachary Peart, age 37. Peart worked at the Lounge part-time until he found full-time employment. However, he continued to pitch in whenever Juarez was short-handed. In July, he was diagnosed with melanoma on the bicep region of his left arm, and has had three surgeries performed. He remains at stage 3 as there remains a chance it will re-occur. Beginning in October he will participate in a clinical trial of a new drug.

Although Peart has access to insurance through his job, the deductible is very high. "I was on disability, but I only get a certain amount. It isn't enough to pay my car bill, insurance, and daily expenses. I'm very thankful, blessed, and grateful for Sharon."

Karon Brazil is experiencing an unusual medical challenge. Unable to obtain insurance, she was forced to pay cash to doctors and hospitals as they puzzled over her symptoms for two years. The diagnosis finally arrived this past January. The hammock that holds the bladder in place collapsed, so the bladder collapsed onto the uterus. Then, her uterus collapsed, which then pushed her rectum out of shape.

Due to her pre-existing condition, only one insurance company accepted her. Unfortunately, it does not have the specialist required for her surgery.

Unable to work, she filed for state disability and ended up in the hospital for five days. She was released on July 27 with a poly catheter. "It's the kind you wear when you are bedridden in the hospital or you're in a coma. I've had to have it changed out twice for leakage and now I'm starting to bleed."

To make matters worse, the doctor erred in noting her return to work as August 8, resulting in surgery being denied, and her need to file an appeal.

"I have absolutely no income coming in at all. I have filed with every program out there. I'm not old enough (58) for Medicare, and not qualified for Medi-Cal. I'm trying not to get depressed."

Juarez saw the obvious needs of two special people and, hence, the fundraisers. "We wanted to get as much money as we could but not all on one or two weekends. I wanted to give patrons a break by spreading it out a little bit so it wouldn't hurt everybody financially to help out."

The following events will be held in the parking lot at Sharon's Lounge, located at 11050 Coloma Road (corner of Vehicle):

- September 21 at 10:00 - Car Wash
- October 5 at 8:00 - Parking Lot Garage Sale
- October 19 at 10:00 - Car Wash
- E-waste collection (TVs, computers radios, etc.) ongoing until October 19. Items can be dropped off at Sharon's Lounge seven days a week, 10:00 a.m. - 2:00 a.m.

"To have people step forward," says Brazil, "and show you that they care is a very humbling experience for me, and teaches me not to lose faith in mankind." ★

City Council Proclamations

By Julie Parker

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

– At its recent September 16, 2013 meeting, the City Council presented four proclamations:

• The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (NSDAR): Frances Johnson of the Sacramento Chapter and Susan Broderick of the General John A. Sutter Chapter in recognition of Constitution Week (September 17-23)

"It is important to remember in 2013," said Susan Broderick, "that the United States functions as a republic under the Constitution, the oldest document still in active use that outlines the self-government of a people which serves as a beacon of freedom to people around the world. American colonists fought, sacrificed and died to establish and preserve freedoms now guaranteed to us by the Constitution of the United States. The right to privacy has come to the public's attention through various controversial Supreme Court rulings and news events of the day. Privacy is not specifically mentioned in the Constitution, but over the years, the Supreme Court has made decisions that have established that the right to privacy is a basic, human right and as such is protected by virtue of the 9th Amendment. As citizens today, it is our responsibility and of critical importance that 'We, the People' study the Constitution, know our rights and know what the Constitution says and does not say."

• Richard Montgomery, in recognition of Prostate Cancer Awareness Month

This second leading cause of cancer death of men in the United States will take the life of more than 29,000 men. Early detection is crucial. Visit <http://tinyurl.com/25axbnr> for more information.

• June Livingston, Division Supervisor, Sacramento County Business Environmental Resource Center (BERC) in recognition of Pollution Prevention Week

BERC awards sustainable businesses that voluntarily certify that they adopt environmentally friendly practices.

• Denise Reese, Event Chair in Support of Relay For Life

This weekend, Rancho Cordova is holding its 24-Hour Relay for Life at the Mills Middle School track at 10439 Coloma Road. It will begin Saturday morning at 9 a.m. with a Survivor's Lap, and conclude Sunday with a Celebratory Lap. (relayforlife.org/ranchocordova) ★

Chamber Celebrates 50 Year Anniversary with Tournament

By Susie Aronson

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) – The Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce concludes a year of celebration in service to the local business community Friday, October 4, with what is sure to be the biggest event ever, combining a golf tournament packed full of excitement and fun, followed by an evening Oktoberfest, of music, food, and flight. In fact, both events will include a touch of entertainment from the sky, as seasoned performers pilot their planes practicing challenging maneuvers for the California Capital Airshow at Mather

Airport. It is sure to be a party day for golf enthusiasts, who will be challenged with a few favorite contests, as well as crazy activities at nearly every hole. Our own River Bend 50th Anniversary Beer is sure to cool off those golfers whose game has added a bit of competitive heat. A barbeque lunch will send golfers back out on to the course, ready to rally. And if there is still a need for distraction from the game, just look up, and enjoy air show contestants sailing their stuff across the sky, as they practice for the two-day show. Distraction of a Photo Booth or Cigar Cart may be just what the doctor orders for some golfers to clear their minds for better play. And a clear mind is just what will be needed for one lucky golfer who will hopefully make a hole-in-one, and head home with the trophy catch-a shiny new boat. But wait golfers! Don't go using all your energy up. The Golf Tourney is not the end of play. This year, an Oktoberfest will carry on the 50th Celebration, and everyone is invited, including non-golfers who just enjoy a good party. The celebration continues at Mather Golf Course, complete with music, and mouthwatering, traditional Oktoberfest food, professionally prepared. A highlight of the evening will be "The Golf Ball Drop", as a helicopter passes over, and drops hundreds of golf balls on the fairway. You can even try your hand at hitting a glow in the dark ball. The evening festivities will feature the famous Red Bull Air Force Team performing a parachute drop complete with fireworks. On hand to meet and greet the folks who attend the Oktoberfest will be Airshow favorites taking a break from rehearsing for their weekend shows. The GolfTourney entry is $550 for a foursome, (includes four entries to the Oktoberfest); and $150 for a single golfer, (includes one ticket to the Oktoberfest). For those who wish to attend the Oktoberfest only, tickets are $35 for one entry in advance, or $40 for one entry at door. For tickets, to register for the Golf Tourney, or for more information go to: www.RanchoCordova.org or call 916.273.5688. ★

Raining Golf Balls for Charity on Oct. 4

The Golf Ball Drop will be one fun event at the 50th Anniversary Celebration of Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce during the Oktoberfest, which starts at 5:30 pm, Friday October 4, at Mather Golf Course (following the 15th Annual Golf Tourney). At the beginning of the Oktoberfest Celebration, a helicopter will shower the field with golf balls, and whoever holds the same number ticket which corresponds with the ball which falls in the hole wins a prize. There will be cash prizes for three lucky winners. First prize is $500, second is $300, and third place will receive $200. Tickets for the Golf Drop are $10 per ball, and the more purchased, the more the chance of winning. Those who wish to enter the "Golf Ball Drop" contest may do so by first calling the Chamber at 916-273-5688, for a contact list for the charities from which to purchase a ticket.

By Rancho Cordova Resident Bob McGarvey

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - That quote from "Hamlet" has brought up questions by many students when they first read or hear it. "That doesn't make any sense" is what I heard when I first read it. And the reason I heard it first instead of saying it first was because the kid next to me in class beat me to it. It makes a little more sense now than it did then and it does fit into our lives when you think about it. To add a word or two, such as "to be alive" or "to be in existence" makes it easier to understand than the original "To be or not to be, that is the question."

I was thinking about the news

"To Be or Not To Be..."

we heard during our City Council meeting that Eppie Johnson had died. It was quite a shock because we had just seen him at a recent City Council meeting and at his Great Race.

We may question why 100-year-old trees would fall, but they do; why your back would suddenly go out and really hurt, but it can happen; and why Eppie Johnson would suddenly be gone is back to that question of to be alive or not to be alive. He will be missed but he will also be remembered for giving to us something really wonderful like "Eppie's Great Race."

There are many people who want Congress "to be" done with the national budget. Unfortunately, the way things are going now, most people think the budget is "not to be" done very soon (even though it should be). Andy Griffith talked about when Romeo first saw Juliet, he gave a soliloquy. It wasn't about being or not being - it was about doing or not doing. And, as he said, the do's won out over the don'ts. We can all hope that Congress will get back to what we hired them to do, and the do's win out over the don'ts.

James Madison said, "If men were angels, no government would be necessary." I guess if all people were angels, we wouldn't have to worry about what people can do to each other. The shooting back East has brought quite a bit of anxiety to many people, but there is no law I can think of that will turn mankind into angels. While we will never be angels, the people of Rancho Cordova can and will continue to help each other the best we can. Our local city government will never be perfect and can make mistakes, but the people of Rancho Cordova will continue to pay attention as they have for the last 10 years and will remind their hired public servants that they have a job to do and expect it to be done. ★

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time.

"Our Town" Art Exhibit

By Julie Parker

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - If you haven't had an opportunity to check out the "Our Town" art exhibit at City Hall, time is running out!

The exhibit displays diverse pieces from talented area artists, such as Thomas A. Ford, a 25-year Rancho Cordova resident. Ford worked as a teacher and principal for the San Juan Unified School District until his retirement five years ago.

Acrylic is his medium of choice. "I don't have patience for oils. They take too long to dry." He works from photographs he shoots while cycling and kayaking.

Ford is displaying three paintings at the exhibit. "The one with the poppies was taken just this side of River Bend Park. It has burned twice since, so that scene doesn't exist anymore; at least for a while."

The other two are sections of the bike trail in Rancho Cordova. "The one with two bicyclists, which I call 'Memorial Day Ride,' was taken where Sun River starts - there's a bend in the river. It's my favorite part of the bike trail - with the grove of big oak trees. The other one is actually in that same spot, right at Sun River, but it's right where the trail bends; a hairpin."

His cycling days abruptly halted on August 6, when he crashed into a pole by the fish hatchery. "I don't know exactly what happened, but the bike went out from under me. I crushed the tibial plateau, so it had to be pieced back together - the two bones, just below my knee. I broke my collar bone, a rib, and bone from my thumb on the right hand, going down into the wrist. I couldn't do any painting because the cast came up over my thumb."

The cast having recently been removed, he is now focusing on his own show to be held in February at the Kennedy Gallery

Stantec Volunteers for Street Inspections in Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Fifteen employees from the Stantec Consulting Service in Rancho Cordova canvassed the City of Rancho Cordova, looking for potholes, graffiti, and faded street signs on September 10th as part of the company's civic engagement policy. Stantec, which has branches at more than 200 locations (including three in the Sacramento area), is an architecture and engineering design firm that, according to its president and CEO, "takes pride in a long history of being part of the communities we serve."

John Samuelson, the City's Streets and Maintenance Manager. "I divided the City into nine residential zones," said John Samuelson, the City's Streets and Maintenance Manager. "And Stantec assigned teams of two to look for potholes, graffiti, and faded street signs in each of the zones."

He appreciated receiving their feedback and will add their data to his maintenance schedule. "Their reports were very detailed, with addresses and specific issues, such as, "an "S" is missing in the stop line on pavement." The reports will help us assess the urgency, timeline, and appropriate City division to take care of the problems."

Long Hoang, Professional Engineer (left); Ruthie Chhoeun, Program Assistant; and Debbie Mullins, Office Manager, point out and record graffiti on a street sign.

Local Food Safety Stars

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - There's more to running a restaurant or food facility than cooking delicious meals. "Safetyfirst" must be a daily practice for all food-related businesses. On September 10, in recognition of National Food Safety Education Month, the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors honored several area businesses for their outstanding food safety records.

One of the winners, Wenelli's Pizza, serves old-fashioned pizza in the Arden-Arcade area. Co-owners Shelly Tyler and Wendy Williams, best friends for 30 years, founded the restaurant more than 20 years ago.

"We do all of our safety training in-house," said Shelly Tyler, "so we're very proud to receive this award for our restaurant and our employees."

Each September, the County's Environmental Management Department (EMD) issues Awards of Excellence certificates to food facilities that had no major violations noted during its last three consecutive health inspections.

EMD selected a food establishment from each supervisorial district to receive their certificate at Tuesday's Board of Supervisors meeting (view winners):

District 1 - Supervisor Serna

1321 N C Street, Sacramento, CA 95811

Supervisors Approve Hiring Four New Rangers

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - For a second consecutive year, Regional Parks will be adding rangers to its force to assure public safety and maintain the parks. Two rangers were added last year and four new positions have been approved by the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors bringing the total count of rangers to twenty.

"Regional Parks has done a great job during the tough economic times and taken every opportunity to maintain service levels and generate revenue where possible," stated County Executive Bradley J. Hudson. "

Rangers patrol 15,000 acres including 32 recreation areas. Adding these new rangers

"allows us to have more patrol resources in the American River Parkway and provides additional response services to the many other recreation areas we manage," stated Jeff Leatherman, Regional Parks Director.

"Having a ranger presence is critical to public safety and is a high priority issue for the many runners, cyclists and recreationalists who frequent the parks. We will use the additional resources to address ongoing community concerns including illegal camping, off leash dogs and trail safety."

Regional Parks Rangers have full peace officer authority under the California Health and Safety Codes and are accredited law enforcement personnel through the Peace Officer Standards and Training certification.

New Rangers can be recent graduates from accredited training facilities or those with prior peace officer experience. Rangers enforce the laws applicable to Regional Parks, specific County ordinances, and California Vehicle, Penal and Health & Safety Codes within all County Regional Parks.

Interested applicants should contact the Department of Regional Parks at (916) 875-PARK.

Wealthy, But Not Spoiled

Dear Dave, How do you make sure you don't spoil your child when you're wealthy? - Ryan

Dear Ryan, I know this will sound mean to some people, but you simply explain to them that they are not wealthy.

I remember a time years ago, after we'd gone broke, that we managed to scrimp and save and finally had a little bit of wealth. We bought a nice car and my son piped up from the back seat, all smug and satisfied, "We're doing pretty good, huh?" I'll admit it was kind of funny, but it was also a teachable moment. I looked at him and said, "I'm doing pretty good, but you're broke!" That was a pretty consistent message around the Ramsey household as the kids were growing up. If you're not working and making your own way, you've got nothing.

The second thing is we taught them, from a very young age, was to work. That can start with simple things like kids cleaning up their rooms or doing the dishes after dinner. It should carry over to the teenage years as well. Every able-bodied child should be working and earning money, whether it's their own entrepreneurial idea, at a store in the mall or babysitting.

Dave Says

The third thing we did was based in our faith. As evangelical Christians, we taught our kids that we don't really own anything. It all belongs to God, and one of our jobs is to wisely manage the things He entrusts to us. The first rule is to take care of your own household—the important stuff. After that, it's okay to have some nice things, but it's not all about pleasure. It's also about giving and extraordinary levels of generosity. Teach them to work. Teach them to be givers. And gently remind them once in a while that they've got nothing until they go out and earn it. - Dave

A Rough Lesson

Dear Dave, My dad opened a credit card account in his name a few years ago to help with my college bills, and he made me an authorized user. Now he's delinquent on the card and I'm receiving collection calls and notices. Do I owe the credit card company money? - Steve

Dear Steve, No, an authorized user is not liable. The account is in your dad's name, and you didn't sign anything. He's the one legally responsible for the money owed. - Dave

I want you to be careful, though. Lots of credit card companies will badger people and use all kinds of pressure and guilt trips to try to collect money from people who don't owe them anything. They just want their money, and they really don't care who writes the check.

Get them to remove you as an authorized user today. Send them a letter demanding this via certified mail, return receipt requested, so you'll have proof. Also, make sure they understand that you'll sue them for about $10 million if they don't comply immediately. You shouldn't be reported to the credit bureaus for any of this, but companies can report just about anything—even inaccurate information—to the bureaus.

You have rights as a consumer, and you are not legally liable for credit card debt when you're just an authorized user. But make sure you check your credit report regularly in the future. Some of these companies make a habit of repeatedly downloading misinformation to the bureaus in an effort to bother and bully people into paying debts they don't owe!

Healing of the Races

Commentary By Gold River
Resident, David Koenig

GOLD RIVER, CA (MPG) – With the election of Barack Obama as our first African-American president back in 2008, we were told by talking heads everywhere that America had “turned the corner on its racist past” and the healing could now begin. Racial harmony was upon us, we were told, and his campaign theme of “Hope and Change” would lead us there. Unfortunately for the rest of us, the President and his administration never got the memo.

Attorney General Eric Holder and his Justice Department have had a number of racially charged offenses they have dealt with in questionable fashion. When 2 members of the New Black Panther Party stood outside a Philadelphia polling place on Election Day in 2008 and intimidated white voters with racial slurs and threats, the Bush Justice Department filed a civil-rights lawsuit against the 2 only to have the Holder Justice Department drop the charges against both. I wonder if this would have happened if the accused had been White Supremacists threatening black people? The Trayvon Martin case drew out all the usual race-baiters screaming and protesting for “justice” and when a jury found George Zimmerman not guilty, the Holder Justice Department vowed to investigate federal criminal civil-rights discrimination charges against him even though the FBI had already investigated it and found no evidence of racial bias on Zimmerman’s part. I don’t remember the Clinton Justice Department investigating O.J. after his acquittal. Shortly after the incident, the president felt he needed to tell all of us that “if I had a son, he would look like Trayvon”. A Caucasian, Australian college student was murdered this week by 3 African-American teens who were “bored” so they drove by him and shot him in the back. Not a word was spoken about this by anyone in the Obama administration. Ayo Kimathi is a small business specialist for the Department of Homeland Security who in his spare time runs a website (War on the Horizon) preparing black people for the “unavoidable, inevitable clash with the white race”. He also states that “Warfare is eminent, and in order for Black people to survive the 21st century, we are going to have to kill a lot of whites – more than our Christian hearts can possibly count.”

Yes, let the healing begin.....

CDPH Warns Consumers Not to Eat Certain Varieties of Quiche Produced by Glendora Quiche Co.

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) – Dr. Ron Chapman, director of the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) and statehealth officer, today warned consumers with soy allergies not to eat Glendora Quiche Company’s five-inch “America’s Finest Gourmet Quiche LORRAINE,” “America’s Finest Gourmet Quiche BROCCOLI,” “America’s Finest Gourmet Quiche SPINACH,” and “America’s Finest Gourmet Quiche GREEN CHILE,” with a date code prior to September 2, 2013, due to an undeclared soy allergen.

The parent company, AYO, Inc. of Los Angeles, California, has initiated a voluntary recall of the various types of quiche which are sold primarily at Gelson’s Markets across the state. The recall was initiated after CDPH identified the labeling omission of the soy allergen during a routine inspection. No illnesses have been reported at this time.

The products are packaged in individual clear cellophane wrap. They are five inches in diameter, with a circular label, green and gold print, stating Glendora Quiche Co. America’s Finest Gourmet Quiche (LORRAINE, BROCCOLI, SPINACH, or GREEN CHILE varieties). The quiche ingredients are listed on the back panel. The date code sticker is on the front label. AYO, Inc. immediately separated its entire inventory of recalled products and has notified retailers directly.

People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to soy run the risk of a life-threatening allergic reaction that requires immediate medical attention should they consume these products.

Consumers who have experienced an allergic reaction after eating any of these products should contact their health care provider. Anyone observing the products being offered for sale is encouraged to call CDPH’s toll free complaint line at (800) 495-3232.

50 Years of Love Celebrated by Rancho Cordova Church

Rancho Cordova in countless ways, but has reached out in mission projects that serve needy people throughout the world. Congregants have participated in hurricane recovery efforts in the South and building relief kits for areas struck by disaster in the US as well as overseas via the United Methodist Committee on Relief (UMCOR). With the Sierra Service Project and Habitat for Humanity, both youth and adults have helped needy families in Sacramento, Los Angeles, Nevada and other western locations.

Currently, the Church is an active supporter of Family Promise, hosting homeless families during designated weeks throughout the year. The new Church Garden provides vegetables for the Be Our Guest 3rd Wednesday Dinner for hungry visitors, open to all. Garden produce is also donated to the Rancho Cordova Food Locker, and sold to support mission efforts.

Starting in the 1970's, a pre-school program sponsored by the Folsom-Cordova School district was housed in Snyder Hall, evolving into the Parent Co-op Preschool. The Church buildings and outdoor campfire circle have served as a meeting place for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Youth Groups, Alcoholics Anonymous, various homeowner associations, Folsom Cordova School District clubs, the Sac State Renaissance Singers, Canine Companions, a voting center, Vacation Bible School, Craft and Holiday Fairs, and sewing circles. Various speakers, authors, politicians, and entertainers have graced the Church during special events.

Every January the Church offers a free e-waste collection and shredding event.

Created as a Christmas card to the community and open to the public, the outdoor Living Nativity complete with actors in period costume, music, angels, a stable and live animals, has been presented free every Christmas season for 31 years.

The recently constructed Wesley Courtyard provides a gathering place for special events, and with the addition of a new outdoor stage currently under construction, use of the venue will be even more versatile.

New this year, a Cancer Support Group is offered the 2nd and 4th Thursdays of the month at 6:30 p.m. with discussion on pain management, nutrition, exercise, and group sharing, a compassionate place to share concerns and be informed.

For more information on the 50th Anniversary Celebration or events and classes offered, please call the Church Office at 916 635-4242, Tuesday through Friday 9 a.m. – 1 p.m. Visit the web site at www.rcumc.net or Facebook at UMCofRanchoCordova. ★

The Cupcake Flash Mob Art Show Takes the Cake

By Julie Parker

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) – Local artist and "Rancho Arts" group participant Victoria Smith teaches acrylic painting to all age groups at Michaels in Rancho Cordova and Folsom. She often provides photographic reference material for students to paint.

"I brought in a big photo of a cupcake for my children's class to paint and then the adult class wanted to paint it, too. Everyone thought that was so funny that

The Cup Cake Show on September 13 was a fun "flash mob" art show, where pieces were displayed for only a few hours, and then vanished. "It was a big success and a whole lot of fun," said local artist and Rancho Arts group participant Victoria Smith. Photos courtesy of Victoria Smith we decided to use it as a theme for our next show at the Rancho Cordova library."

The resulting Cup Cake Show on September 13 was a fun

"flash mob" art show, where pieces were displayed for only a few hours, and then vanished. "It was a big success and a whole lot of fun."

The show was dedicated to Pat Clark, the grandmother of one of Smith's students, Paris Clark. "Pat passed away this summer after a lifetime of service to her community. She made a point of volunteering every day at the public school where Paris attended. She had become a friend to many in my classes - adult and teen alike - and we wanted to celebrate her life in a joyful way.

"We would like to thank Librarian Jill Stockinger and the Friends of the Library for sponsoring our show and making this community event possible."

A few highlights of the show:

- A cupcake potluck
- Advanced student Charla McKenna celebrated her first sale
- Teen student Layla Stowell practiced her demo painting skills
- Artist Robyn Slakey spoke on her project, "Cupcakes across America"
- College artists and Michael's associates, Courtney Rohner and Jake Gilpin, displayed their work
- Courtney and her sister, teen artist Izzy Green, and Plen' air painter Davis Peterson offered live performance paintings of a giant cupcake

- Student Caryn Vanwormer's son Ian provided guitar music
- As if this event wasn't sweet enough, Smith's painting, "Birches by the River," took the jurors award and a best in the landscape category at this week's KVIE Gala art auction preview! ★
