CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Over 100 veterans, family and guests arrived at Sylvan Cemetery on May 29, 2023, for the traditional Memorial Day Service. The nearly full gazebo did not go unnoticed, there was a new energy in the air, it was good to be back following several years of low attendance.

American Legion Post 637 Chaplain James Jamison opened the service with a prayer, setting the tone for the service, praying “we never forget the sacrifice of our brave men and women who gave their all for our country and our freedom.”

As is tradition, the Harmony Express men’s choral group performed the Armed Forces Medley with members of the Coast Guard, Marines, Navy, Army, and Air Force standing as their song was sung.

American Legion Post 637, member and Master of Ceremony, Paul Reyes welcomed all veterans and guests.

Reyes spoke of the coming of the Vietnam Wall that Heals to Citrus Heights for five days in March and April, coinciding with National Vietnam War Veterans Day March 29. The Wall is a three-quarter replica of the Vietnam Wall at Arlington, holding the names of more than 58,000 fallen men and women, including eight female nurses.

Citrus Heights
Communications Officer
Marisa Brown

by Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The City of Citrus Heights welcomed a new communications officer, Marisa Brown, just finishing her first month on the job, and she’s excited to continue to get to know the community and public she now serves.

“It’s my first time working in the public sector,” Brown said. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in journalism with a minor in agriculture from California State University, Chico in 2019.

Brown started her professional career in public relations with Comcast Communications in Silicon Valley. She worked for a year remotely for Soprano Design, an Australian-based business-to-business communications firm before moving to Sacramento with her husband in 2021.

“It’s very different going from promoting a business to actively promoting a city,” she admits. Brown serves as the city’s community representative and media spokesperson.

“The mission of the city communications officer is to promote and protect the city,” Brown said. “I’m proud to now be a part of a very great team,” Brown said.

In her duties, Brown performs a wide range of communication and marketing activities to promote the city, department programs and events as well as make presentations to the city council.

“I hope to both show and tell through the scope of our city communications what makes the city of Citrus Heights a truly vibrant and distinctive community.”

Her diverse duties also include emergency communications and media management during crisis situations should they arise, she said.

While both she and her husband make their home in Sacramento, she said they both enjoy opportunities to explore the Citrus Heights community and all that makes it special.

Council Approves Alcohol License for Craft Brew Taproom

Story by Shaunna Boyd

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - At the May 25 meeting, the Citrus Heights City Council considered whether to allow the issuance of a Type 42 alcohol license for a new craft brew taproom, Humle House, located at 7086 Auburn Blvd.

When a census tract is over-concentrated with establishments that sell alcohol, the California Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) won’t issue an alcohol license unless a Letter of Public Convenience and Necessity (PCN) is approved by the local jurisdiction, which in this case falls to the City Council. The census tract where Humle House will be located allows for three on-sale alcohol licenses, and there are currently eight – so various PCNs have already been approved in the area. Of those eight businesses, seven are restaurants, and just one is a bar.

Humle House would be the first craft brew house ever established in Citrus Heights. Started by two best friends, they chose the name Humle because it’s a Scandinavian word for hops, a major ingredient in beer. They plan to serve approximately 20 different beers from local Sacramento Region breweries. Humle House would primarily focus on serving the craft beer on site, but they would also sell packaged brews for patrons to take home. They’re looking to attract an easy-going crowd, rather than the late-night type, so their proposed hours of operation are Monday through Thursday from noon to 8:00 PM, Friday and Saturday from 11:00 AM

– 9:00 PM, and Sunday from 11:00 AM – 8:00 PM.

The Citrus Heights Police Department (CHPD) reviewed the application, looking at calls for service in the area, and they found no cause for concern. CHPD submitted a letter of no objections to the license issuance.

During Public Comment, Citrus Heights resident Janice Jaycox spoke in favor of approval. Jaycox said she lives just a stone’s throw away from the location, and she’s not worried about the crowds. “I hope there are crowds, actually. We need more successful businesses.” She said that brew pubs are “so much fun,” and Citrus Heights really needs something like this.

Vice Mayor Bret Daniels said he worried that having such early hours could “take away from your ability to succeed.” He wondered, if the license was approved now, could the applicant apply for extended hours at a later date. Staff explained that the PCN doesn’t require specific hours of operation, so it would just require an administrative change to the business license if Humle House ever wanted to extend their hours.

Councilmember Jayna Karpinski-Costa said, “I look forward to voting in favor of you guys. I’m not much of a beer drinker, but I’ll come and taste one or two of those beers.”

The Council voted unanimously and enthusiastically to approve the PCN for Humle House. “Welcome to Citrus Heights!” said Councilmember Karpinski-Costa.

The Council also revisited the workplan for the Citrus Heights Education

James Miranda Army Veteran

By Elise Speiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - James Miranda is an Army Veteran 9th Infantry Division and chaplain and veteran service officer in the American Legion Post 637 in Citrus Heights.

Miranda's life has taken many twists and turns in his 75 years. Most veteran biographies begin with their military service, when and why they entered the service, where and in what branch they served and what their assignments were.

Miranda's service in Vietnam from 1968 when he volunteered for Vietnam to his medical discharge in June of 1970 was not typical. His first 20 years of life began his life as a survivor.

Born in 1948, he spent his second two years of life in a children's home. At five years of age, from 1953 to 1962, he lived with his mother's boyfriend's parents in Corning, Calif. From 14 years to 18 years, he lived with his sister and her family. While attending Elk Grove High School in 1965 he explains, "I was expelled for riding on top of a school bus."

In 1967, while living with his brother and family in Sacramento, he experienced a life-changing event. "One weekend I was at a restaurant a block from school when my girlfriend's brother came in drunk and wanted to fight me. He didn't recognize me and picked a fight with another guy." Miranda explained how her girlfriend's brother ended up being stabbed by another teen he had begun beating. Miranda caught him as he fell. "I held him as he slumped over in my arms. I saw the blood on his chest. I put my jacket under his head. He died in my arms."

In 1968 Miranda enlisted in the Army and volunteered to go to Vietnam where he worked as a gunner. He was wounded three times in six months and 22 days. He accepted only one of the three Purple Hearts he had been offered. The first wound was three pieces of brass shrapnel in his back from a fire fight. The second wound was one piece of shrapnel in his left side near his waist from a boobytrap. His third wound was sustained when he and five others were hit by a IED which blew them over 40 feet in the air off an armored personnel carrier (APC) leaving him a quadriplegic. He was flown to Letterman Hospital, San Francisco, Calif.

By 1970 Miranda gradually regained feeling back in his leg and hand. He still had two discs smashed in his lower back and one bulging disc in his neck. He was transferred to Fort Ord in Marina, Calif., as a barracks sergeant. While driving a Volkswagen bug at night it hit a hole. He was thrown out and it rolled on top of him. He suffered new injuries in his legs and his right leg, both hips and ribs, again leaving him a paraplegic. He was flown back to Letterman Hospital in a chopper.

After his release, now in a wheelchair, again no leg movement, he was not feeling much about life. While riding in a friend's car high on weed, he overdosed on a capsule of mescaline. His friend revived him twice. He was given a medical discharge on June 30, 1970.

By 1972 physical therapy helped him regain the 35 pounds he had lost in his leg muscles, so he could walk again, 2 years later.

He was able to work again. For five years he drove a forklift and truck for Coors Beer in West Sacramento. However, living with a school friend drug dealer, riding motorcycles and hanging out with Hell's Angels, Miranda was 'reaching out'.

God answered his call for help. In 1978 while a bouncer at a bar, he met a church girl. While at home alone and stoned, Miranda said, "I heard audibly a voice say out loud and clear "TURN OR BURN". He replied, "if that's you God, get me out of here." God did. In 1979 Miranda began attending Warehouse Ministries Church. He shares, "In the front row I visioned my life flash before my eyes of all the times I should have died. Vietnam, Quad, Para, car accident, two motorcycle accidents, overdose on drugs. I accepted Christ as my Savior".

He then got a job with the State of California for almost 2009. When they were first married, they were both teaching 1st and 2nd graders in Sunday School. They are now at a different church where Miranda serves in the Men's Ministry and helps with security.

In 2012 he met Larry Minassian who brought him into the American Legion Post 637 and Dust Off Ministry.

20 years until 2006.

However, he was paralyzed for a third time working for one year with the California Highway Patrol Telecommunications. While bending over to pick up a radio something snapped in his lower back, eventually resulting in paralysis. He received two operations where they found bone fragments from two prior injuries. He returned to the State upon recovery and retired in 2006.

Miranda and his wife, Sharon, met at the end of 2008 at a party at her friend's home and were married in Care Home and gives them the hats with their service emblem on them and other gifts at Christmas, Memorial and Veterans Day. Miranda and his wife also share an array of other ways to volunteer to help veterans. He sees this as his way of 'paying back' in thankfulness for still being alive and being able to help other veterans who have experienced so much.

His wife Sharon says, "He has a true servant's heart when it comes to helping other veterans."

Committee. In March, a majority of councilmembers approved the formation of a committee to evaluate the feasibility of Citrus Heights forming its own school district. Members of the ad hoc education committee (Vice Mayor Daniels and Councilmember MariJane Lopez-Taff) developed a proposed workplan and timeline for the Citrus Heights Education Committee, which were presented to Council in April. However, Vice Mayor Daniels was absent from that meeting, so the item did not receive majority consensus to move forward. On May 11, Daniels requested that the item be brought back to Council for reconsideration.

The Citrus Heights Education Committee workplan would require committee members (under the guidance of a paid consultant) to analyze schools in Citrus Heights, including test scores, enrollment, and attendance; research the process of forming a school district; provide examples of other districts in process or recent action; assess Citrus Heights' financial ability to form its own school district; and report all findings to the City Council.

Interested community members would apply for the committee, and the Council would appoint seven committee members at the June 22 meeting. The committee would meet from July through October and would report their findings to Council at the November 9 meeting.

Councilmember Karpinski-Costa asked about the budget for the consultant, and City Manager Ashley Feeney said they would hire a consultant at an hourly rate. Feeney said he didn't expect the cost would exceed the city manager's signing authority, so it would not have to come back to Council for approval.

Councilmember Karpinski-Costa wondered what the committee members would do that a consultant could not: "It seems like all the work that you would give to the committee is work that the consultant should do. Are you going to have seven people looking at the history and attendance at the schools. I mean, it seems to me that it's a one-man research project."

City Manager Feeney said the main role of the consultant would be to manage the agenda and run the committee meetings, but he acknowledged the consultant would likely have some research assignments as well. But he said the intent of the committee is to have community members doing that work.

Councilmember Porsche Middleton asked City Manager Feeney to remind Council of the limit of his signing authority, which he said is up to $50,000. So, she pointed out that, if approved, there would be "basically a $50,000 budget" for the consultant.

Vice Mayor Daniels said that if he had been at the meeting when the workplan was originally presented, this item would have already passed, so he wanted to move it forward now.

The Council voted 3-2 to approve the workplan, with Councilmembers Karpinski-Costa and Middleton dissenting. ★

Goats Graze at Old Sylvan School Site

By Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - A herd of hungry goats are now hard at work in Citrus Heights to help with weed abatement in various parts of the city.

"It's great because these goats and sheep are able to do a lot of the weed control that we'd otherwise have to use manpower and equipment for," said Citrus Heights City Manager Ash Feeney in an update to the city council on May 11. "It's less noisy, it's better for the environment, and people like to see them."

Feeney said the animals will be grazing at the old Sylvan Middle School site near Sylvan Corners, and in the Twin Oaks-Crestmont-Moss Oak open space in Citrus Heights Area Seven, Eight, Nine (CHASEN) through early June.

A large herd started their work over the Memorial Day weekend to clear 14.6 acres in the combined Twin Oaks-Crestmont-Moss Oak open space, according to CHASEN member Kathleen Morris who photographed the scene. The parcels are split by Crestmont Avenue.

City communications officer Marisa Brown, in a letter to neighborhood residents said the city contracted with Rustic Ranch Farming Company, based in Newcastle, Calif., to provide the goats and sheep to perform land management and fire risk reduction in three city locations.

Managed, annual grazing is an effective way to minimize poison oak and invasive seed-bearing weeds while promoting the health of native perennial plant species. While the goats and sheep are grazing, the walking trail will be closed, the letter reads.

Parents and families should know that the goats will be contained to the designated land with an electrified grazing fence that can cause small shocks when touched. Signs will be displayed along its distance to keep people from approaching the fence, Brown said. The public is also advised not to feed or disturb the animals.

"Livestock grazing services abate weeds and reduce fire risk without using toxic herbicides, chemicals, or gas-powered lawnmowers," she said. "It's also cost-effective; the total cost for the scope of work is $22,000 – half of what it would cost for contractors to do the same work."

Advanced warning signs will be placed for pedestrians, and walking trails will be closed to allow the goats to complete their work without distraction.

While a rancher/handler will be on site, if you observe a goat or sheep that has gotten loose from the enclosure, contact Jon Stauffer (Rustic Ranch) (916) 990-4544 or the City of Citrus Heights (916) 727-4770.

Brown urged city residents to follow the city's social media accounts on Instagram and Facebook for live updates on where and when its "goat guests" are visiting. ★

CORRECTION

In the May 19, 2023 edition of the Citrus Heights Messenger, in the article, City Reviews Proposed Budget, Approves Grant Consultant, the writer incorrectly cited under total expenditures for the proposed budget FY 2023-2024 that there was an increase of 4.74% over the FY 2022-2023 amended budget. The correct increase is 3.74% for the FY 2023-2024 over the previous year. We apologize for that error.

DOVIA News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Directors of Volunteers in Agencies (DOVIA) celebrated volunteerism on Thursday, May 18th with a reception honoring the nominees and winners of the Youth Volunteer of the Year, the Individual Volunteer of the Year and Volunteer Manager of the Year awards. The reception was held at Eskaton Village Carmichael, 3939 Walnut Avenue, Carmichael.

Six youth volunteers were nominated for Youth Volunteer of the Year, twenty individual volunteers were nominated for Individual Volunteer of the Year and three volunteer coordinators were nominated for Volunteer Manager of the Year.

The winners are: Youth Volunteer of the Year

Rose Luo - Rose is a longtime teen participant at the Sacramento Public Library's Arcade branch. She re-joined the volunteer team after the library reopened to the public during COVID-19 and immediately took on a more prominent volunteering role. A talented artist and dedicated helper, she soon shouldered two monumental tasks: illustrating their seed library dividers to better advertise the collection and assisting with teen events every Saturday.

Individual Volunteer of the Year

Thuy Nguyen - Thuy serves in the Outpatient Services Department, Kaiser Permanente South Sacramento. She escorts patients to their assigned bed, helping get them ready for surgery. She checks on patients after surgery providing whatever comfort items are needed. Thuy served as one of their Volunteer Trainers. In this position she helped with training new incoming volunteers; however, she also assisted with review and update of all documents. This requires working closely with the department liaison to assist with communication and information disbursement.

Fast Forward 2022 - When COVID hit, and volunteers were given an opportunity for "leave of absence," everyone except Thuy decided to take leave. Outpatient Surgery was suddenly not an option. Instead of taking the easy route, Thuy walked in and said, "Where do you need me?" She became an ambassador.

Here is a list of the types of services she performs: wheelchair round up and cleaning, Personal Protective Equipment distribution, Admissions Kits preparation and distribution, Greeter/Ambassador coverage and training, member escorts and general information. All these services helped to coordinate visitation, navigation, and safety.

Volunteer Manager of the Year

Lynn Pesely - Lynn Pesely is the Coordinator for the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps. During the COVID-19 pandemic she supported Sacramento County's testing and vaccination clinics and other efforts supplying hundreds of volunteers. 424 volunteers served a total of 28,000 hours, an economic value of $1.4 million, for COVID-19 response at vaccination and testing clinics, COVID-19 Hotline, case investigation, after-hours calls, courier, and logistics.

The silver lining of COVID-19 was the 700 volunteers who stepped forward to help in a time when most people were staying home. Volunteering not only helped strengthen the Sacramento County Office of Emergency Services/Public Health COVID-19 response effort, it helped the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps volunteers (MD's, RNs, LVNs, EMTs, Dentists and more medical professionals and non-medical volunteers) to make it through the pandemic by giving them a reason to get up and get dressed in the morning to go out and help the community which also helped give the volunteers purpose.

Lynn often had too many volunteers trying to secure the same shifts - a good problem to have! Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps volunteers often served multiple days a week, including overnight and weekends. Sometimes 20 volunteers were deployed a day at 5 different locations. During the COVID-19 response, 20 volunteers served 500+ hours, earning a Gold Presidential Service Award and 6 of those served 1000+ hours. 15 volunteers served 250+ hours earning a silver presidential service award, and 51 volunteers served 100+ hours earning a bronze Presidential Service Award. The volunteers who came onboard during COVID-19 are now dedicated to the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps program, continue to volunteer for a variety of events, have started friendships with other members, and some even support the Sacramento Medical Reserve Corps Foundation with donations on the Big Day of Giving. In addition to the COVID-19 response, Lynn's volunteers have also supported the Sacramento County Office of Emergency Services' response to wildfires and the recent winter storms and flooding.

DOVIA (Directors of Volunteers in Agencies) of Sacramento provides a forum for exchange of information on relevant issues facing professional volunteer managers. Through the generosity of the Citrus Heights Messenger, this column serves to provide an update about matters affecting the community of Citrus Heights.

I have always worked hard to listen to the community - and then be a strong voice for my constituents. That's why I do extensive public outreach, including a district-wide poll like the one we did last month.

For the past few years reducing the impact of homelessness has been the top priority for people in the 4th district - and county-wide. Homelessness is still an issue, but the rising impact of crime on our families and business is now. Almost one-third of the public now cites crime as their top issue.

Even more alarming, nearly 1/4 of residents in District 4 report having been the victims of a crime in the last three years. It's no wonder that 2/3 of voters feel that we need MORE police patrols, not less.

I have always believed that keeping the public safe is government's highest and most fundamental responsibility. That is why public safety has always been my top priority with policy as well as in the County Budget. I will continue to give the Sacramento Sheriff and Sacramento County Probation my strongest support and stand by those who keep us safe.

Citrus Heights Community Update

To Ensure We Have Fewer Victims, I Will Stand With Law Enforcement

I believe deeply in justice - and redemption. But my deepest commitment is to the people I represent, the Constitution I swore to uphold, and to the innocent victims of crime.

Sacramento County Sheriff's Department has a tough beat - covering one of the largest and most populated jurisdictions in the state while keeping more than 600,000 residents safe. Our Probation Department supervises over 22,000 adults on probation - ensuring that they fulfill their sentences, stay out of trouble, and become productive members of the community.

I will continue to stand by our First Responders - but our job is made harder and our residents are made less safe by radical policies and crazy laws being passed by the State Legislature.

Instead of dealing with the growing concern with crime, the Legislature is busy passing bills like AB 418 to ban Skittles and AB 2098 to strip licenses from doctors who share information about COVID treatments or information that bureaucrats haven't approved.

Even worse than wasting time, money, and energy on senseless or reckless legislation, some legislators continue to push "decarceration" and pro-criminal policies that will make it harder for our brave Deputies to keep us safe.

Assembly Bill 742 will drastically ban the use of K9 units for arresting dangerous criminals - putting officers' lives in jeopardy. SB 1007 requires the state to provide free telephones for convicted criminals in our jails and prisons - making it easier for them to continue coordinating illegal activities or smuggling drugs into jails. Their wrong-headed bills even SB 809 would actually prohibit businesses from asking about or considering criminal history in hiring decisions - allowing criminals to hide past behavior like robbery or theft from potential employers.

Over the next months, the Board of Supervisors will begin the budget process to set priorities and fund programs - including the budgets for Sheriff & Probation, as well as funds for jails, the DA, and the courts. Some activists are still pushing the "defund police" agenda - and during the budget talks, they are sure to be loud voices during Budget discussions. I will be sharing details about those hearings in my next newsletter as well as on my social media. I hope you will take the time to make your voice heard - I need your support to help ensure that keeping our citizens safe remains the top priority for the County of Sacramento (despite the reckless laws the Legislature keeps pushing.)

Welcome New Citrus Heights Communications Officer Marisa Brown

Outside of city hall, Brown said she's also keeping her calendar full as she gets to know civic and community leaders and listens to their concerns.

Brown reports to, and will collaborate with Meghan Huber, the city's economic development and communications manager, where she will serve on a variety of city committees, projects, department or interdepartmental teams.

Responding to frequent media inquiries from the local press for news and information is an enjoyable part of her job, she said.

"I'm the liaison between city departments, and I'll find the best person possible for public comment who might need to address the specific issue," she said.

Brown looks forward to building on the city's rich 26-year history, and its theme of "solid roots and new growth" in her duties.

"Creating a greater sense of civic pride in our overall messaging is an important part of what I do as the city's communications officer," she explained.

Brown is involved in event planning for the upcoming inaugural Stars & Stripes Celebration in Van Maren Park on Saturday, July 1 which kicks off at 6 pm with live music, food trucks and a fireworks finale.

Outside of her duties, Brown describes herself as a passionate pickleball player, and takes every opportunity she can to play on the courts at Rusch Park that she can. "The courts and the park are fabulous, and it's a great place to learn to play."

Brown also encourages the public to get connected with the latest news and updates from the City of Citrus Heights through its website <http://citrusheights.net/> and social media platforms and to sign up to subscribe for its e-newsletter.

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.00% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for repayment period is 7.125%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 12%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $525 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $85 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Newsom's Expansive Health Care Promises to Californians Remain Elusive

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Five years ago, while running for governor, Gavin Newsom pledged to transform California's medical care to a single-payer system similar to those in Canada and western Europe.

Newsom backed single-payer legislation, which had passed the state Senate, saying there was "no reason to wait around."

"I'm tired of politicians saying they support single-payer but that it's too soon, too expensive or someone else's problem," Newsom said.

His position helped solidify support for Newsom among the proposal's progressive advocates as he duelled with a fellow Democrat, Antonio Villaraigosa.

The bill stalled in the Assembly, and after winning the election, Newsom began edging away from the single-payer concept, citing difficult barriers. One is persuading the federal government to give California the $200-plus billion it spends on Californians' health care – about half the state's total medical expenditures.

Newsom segued into pursuing universal health care, meaning all of the nearly 40 million Californians would have some sort of coverage, and came close last year.

At the time, "About 3 million Californians reported being uninsured in spring 2022," a report from the Public Policy Institute of California notes, citing census data. "Nearly seven in 10 (68%) are Latino, about 38% are noncitizens and 80% have low or moderate incomes (below 400% of the federal poverty line)."

Some of the gap was closed in the 2022-23 budget, drawing on what seemed to be a nearly $100 billion budget surplus, by extending Medi-Cal coverage to undocumented immigrants otherwise ineligible for federally subsidized insurance.

"Beginning no later than January 1, 2024, Medi-Cal will be available to all income-eligible Californians," the final 2022-23 budget declared.

The expansion of Medi-Cal – California's version of the federal Medicaid program – was made easier during the COVID-19 pandemic when federal authorities relaxed eligibility requirements. This year, enrollment topped 15 million, or nearly 40% of the state's population.

Under his "California Blueprint," universal health care is still Newsom's professed goal. However, at the moment, coverage appears to be shrinking, and with the state facing chronic budget deficits, reaching it before Newsom's governorship ends would be difficult, if not impossible.

The federal government's "continuous enrollment" pandemic policy is expiring and hundreds of thousands of Californians who benefited from it will once again have to prove their eligibility.

Newsom's revised 2023-24 budget, unveiled last month, projects that Medi-Cal enrollment will decline by more than a million people, still more than a third of the state's population but moving away from the universal coverage Newsom has sought as a single-payer substitute.

Single-payer advocates are, unsurprisingly, annoyed by Newsom's failure to deliver on his 2018 promise. They gave him some heat when he appeared at last month's state Democratic Party convention.

Covering all Californians would be expensive. Medi-Cal coverage costs federal and state governments about $10,000 per enrollee. No one knows precisely how many Californians still lack coverage today but 2 million is as good a number as any, and including that many more in Medi-Cal could potentially cost another $20 billion a year.

Meanwhile, single-payer advocates haven't given up. Last week, the California Senate passed Senate Bill 770, aimed at implementing a plan for single-payer coverage developed by the Healthy California for All Commission, which Newsom created in 2019.

The bill would direct state agencies to begin talks with federal officials about participating in a California single-payer system.

"It's time we made real progress toward eliminating the inequities and injustices of our fractured healthcare system," a co-author of the bill, state Sen. Scott Wiener, a San Francisco Democrat, said.

As Newsom finally learned, it's much easier said than done.

A Dad's Daughter

It's fascinating when you think about dads and daughters. Either they are the little princess or the daughter that my mother would always accuse me of being... "just like your father"... especially when I got one of my stubborn streaks going. Of course it didn't help when I would thank her for saying that. Don't know why she always got angry when I thanked her. Like...right! My dad has been gone a very long time, and I do miss him still.

He was a strong man with a short fuse, but got over it just as quickly. Sounds like yours truly. Dad passed on so many lessons without even realizing he was doing it. He never gave up was the best. He was born in Iasco, Missouri, but his mom took him back to Romania when he was just two years old. His father was a brilliant man who spoke some 11 languages with little education. He just had the knack for it. But he did not have the knack for being a responsible father. He did not return to Romania with his family. He became an interpreter for the Ford Motor Company in Detroit, Michigan when it was a real powerhouse. When my dad was fourteen, he had to declare whether he would stay in Romania or return to the USA. Here's where I can say my dad was as strong. He literally said he was born in the USA and wanted to return. But no one gave him a hand... not even his own father. His own father told him... "I gave you wings, now fly." BUT DAD NEVER GAVE UP!

He worked long and hard, lying about his age to get whatever job he could get. I don't have enough time to share the whole story, but he became a Furrier and made it to Metro Golden Mayer studios in Hollywood to design fur coats for the stars including Betty Davis. When ulcers took their toll on his health, he worked his way up to making airplane wings in a plant and then turned to, of all things, taking on the arduous task of becoming an Ironworker. Yup, walking on those two inch girders several stories up in the sky, including the Sears Tower in Chicago. And I can tell you, he succeeded in every job he took on...right to the end when cancer took over and his heart gave out.

I think it's important to realize that dads do have a significant influence on their daughter's life. My dad taught me to never give up, no matter what the situation. I would like to think he would be proud of my accomplishments today.

So why do I tell you this abbreviated version of my life with dad? I think it's important to realize that dads do have a significant influence on their daughter's life. My dad taught me to never give up, no matter what the situation. I would like to think he would be proud of my accomplishments today. He got to see the beginning of my work in Television and Radio, but not my writing a book and my sharing stories with you in this column. But I do think about dad often, and his words still ring in my ears. NEVER GIVE UP! I won't dad.

Happy Father's Day.
Love, Mary Jane.

Patriot Soldiers Recalled at Sylvan Cemetery

Frost, a Citrus Heights native, returned to this venue to honor those veterans who gave their lives for their country. She recognized honored guests, former County Supervisor Roberta McGlashan, former Congressman Doug Ose, and former Citrus Heights Mayor Jeannie Bruins. Citrus Heights City Council members Tim Schaefer, Jayna Karpinski-Costa and Jane Lopez-Taff, and City Manager Ash Feeney were also recognized.

Frost said, "It's important that we never forget the sacrifice of those who gave their lives for freedom, that we remember and teach our children and grandchildren our history. "That we teach them to love and respect our nation, to appreciate our way of life and to respect those who have sacrificed to preserve it. Let us remind ourselves today that freedom is a gift from God and that each generation has paid in flesh and blood to preserve it. Because they lived and died - we can each live out our best life. Let's thank them by living out our best life, every day."

Citrus Heights Police Chief Alex Turcotte recognized that while the armed forces and law enforcement are separate entities, they are kindred spirits. Both have lost many serving their country and locally. While Memorial Day is about those we have lost, it is important to remember those still here who remember those lost: "Give them space, let them remember, process, let them know they are here for a reason, your love is with them, and those who are lost will never be forgotten."

Citrus Heights Mayor Tim Schaefer spoke of the importance of understanding one's duty. It carries immense responsibility with a call to action and a moral obligation to serve something greater than oneself, holding others' needs before our own. We hold the same values and principles upon which our nation was built. We hold others' needs before our own. Those we honor understood the true meaning of duty and knew that freedom is not free.

We can fulfill our own duty in whatever job we have or in our place in society so their legacy can live on. Schaefer acknowledged the sacrifice of the eight females whose names are on the Wall.

Jim Monteton, Sylvan Cemetery board member and member of Post 637, reviewed each of the wars fought by Americans with the number killed, from the Revolutionary War through the Cold War and covert events to the most recent Middle East wars - totaling over 1,425,000. He reminded us that some of these wars were Americans fighting other Americans. He spoke of his painful return home to San Francisco from Vietnam and how the media misportrayed the war, leaving those who fought never formally recognized and appreciated until President Trump established March 29 as National Vietnam War Veterans Day. He ended with the words, "Hate the war, not the warrior."

American Legion 637 Commander Sylvia Thweatt retold the poignant story of Colonel Strong Vincent, a major hero of that battle, whose quick thinking and selflessness was integral to the Union winning at the Battle of Gettysburg. Before Vincent's death President Lincoln promoted him to the rank of brigadier general just 4 days before his death on July 7, 1863, at the age of 26.

Reyes thanked the Sylvan Cemetery Manager, CHPD Honor Guard, and Harmony Express for their help with the service.

Harmony Express closed with a rendition of "May God Hold You in the Palm of his Hand" and Chaplain Jamison offered a closing prayer. ★

SacRT News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) is entering year four of the RydeFreeRT fare-free rides for youth program. Launched in 2019, RydeFreeRT was the first unrestricted youth fare-free ride program in the country. The program allows all 265,000 youth living in SacRT's service area, from transitional kindergarten to 12th grade, including home-schooled students, foster and unhoused youth to ride all buses and light rail trains for free, all day, any day of the year.

The RydeFreeRT program has helped boost student ridership, which now accounts for nearly 25% of all SacRT bus and light rail rides over the last year compared to 8% before the launch of the program in 2019. In fact, student ridership is on pace to carry nearly 3.5 million youth in FY 2023, double what it was in 2019 pre-pandemic. This demonstrates that students and youth are one of the most price sensitive groups impacted by transit fare.

"We value our young people and that means helping them get to school, jobs, and activities," said SacRT Board Chair and Sacramento County Supervisor Patrick Kennedy.

The ridership growth is a testament to the success of the program, which initially aimed to reduce truancy and absenteeism in schools. However, a study by the University of Texas, which evaluated the program, also found that RydeFreeRT not only improved school attendance and reduced congestion from vehicle pick-up lines, it also successfully reduced the transportation barrier to get to jobs, internships and extracurricular activities after school and on weekends.

"We're introducing a new generation of riders to transit," said SacRT General Manager/CEO Henry Li. "Research shows that people who ride public transportation at a young age are more likely to use it as adults, building ridership for life."

As students head into summer break, SacRT is reminding them and their families that youth in kindergarten through 12th grade can continue to ride the entire SacRT transit network, including SacRT buses, light rail, and SmART Ride on-demand microtransit service for FREE! To ride free, students need to show a valid RydeFreeRT card.

New RydeFreeRT cards with a valid date of June 1, 2023, through June 30, 2024, are being delivered at various school locations and Sacramento Public libraries. The current RydeFreeRT card is still valid through June 30, 2023. Cards are also available at the SacRT Customer Service and Sales Center at 1225 R Street in Sacramento (adjacent to the 13th Street light rail station).

The RydeFreeRT program is possible with funding from all member jurisdictions that comprise of SacRT (the cities of Sacramento, Citrus Heights, Elk Grove, Folsom, Rancho Cordova, and the County of Sacramento).

New RydeFreeRT cards are available at schools, public libraries and SacRT Customer Service and Sales Center.
