Drive for Homeless Struggles in Rough Campaign

Snack Man Alfred Sanchez, turned Sock Man for the month of March, and Grocery Outlet employees Shannon Belk and Jody Will at their 'waiting to be filled' sock bin.

by Elise Spleiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - This is Alfred Sanchez's third year collecting and distributing socks and snacks to the Citrus Heights homeless. During March, the birthday man known to Citrus Heights as Snack Man, becomes Sock Man as he puts out the call for hundreds of socks to celebrate his birthday and help the homeless population in his neighborhood on Greenback Lane. Clean socks are crucial for homeless hygiene.

In 2021 Grocery Outlet store co-owner Sara Wheeler with husband Paul, suggested to Sanchez, a frequent customer, and as she says, "a fixture in our community," that he put out a bin at the store for his sock donations. That was the beginning of a tradition.

Last year Outlet shoppers, the community, and even city officials answered the call with over 3,000 socks donated, a one-year supply. Sanchez estimates he goes out on his electric scooter or with friends 300 times a year, taking with him snacks and personal care items, along with 10 pairs of socks each trip."

However, for some reason, this year donations have dropped dramatically with only several hundred pairs of socks donated to date.

Still, hope is on the horizon.

Sanchez is proud to announce a second drop off location at the Sunrise Christian Food Ministry, Advent Lutheran Church located at 5901 San Juan, Monday thru Friday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sanchez can be contacted at 916-517-6207 for his home address to drop off socks. Amazon is also a popular and easy way to donate.

At the end of his sock campaign, Sanchez, will load up the booty on his scooter and continue to make rounds to his homeless neighbors, ensuring they have warm feet along with contented stomachs. Sock donations will continue to be accepted at the Grocery Outlet and Sanchez's

Failed Silicon Valley Bank, the Newsoms, and Connected Friends

By Katy Grimes, CaliforniaGlobe.com

The Silicon Valley Bank failure and shutdown is because of "idiot bank management under an incompetent board," according to Shark Tank star Kevin O'Leary.

"O'Leary joined Fox News hosts Bill Hemmer and Dana Perino on Tuesday to discuss the Silicon Valley Bank failure and the announcement that deposits would be protected," Mediaite reported. "President Joe Biden announced this week that people's 'deposits are safe.'"

"O'Leary blasted the plan, arguing it will simply provide a safety net for mismanagement. The Shark Tank star argued Silicon Valley Bank collapsed because of 'idiot management,' as opposed to a regulatory issue. 'Idiot' managers, he said, are now free to behave more irresponsibly."

It appears there are plenty of idiots and incompetents involved in the bank, focused on Diversity, Equity and Inclusion loan and investment goals, rather than responsible financial outcomes.

But the bailout/cover up may be more of the story in the long run - as in Why did Janet Yellen, Secretary of the Treasury in the the Biden administration state last Friday that there would be no bailouts, and by Sunday, the President effectively said there would in fact be a bailout and depositors would be made whole.

What changed in 48 hours?

For one thing, pure panic in the Silicon Valley Democrat donor base. And as likely is pure panic from California's governor and the "First Partner."

Repairs to Vitalant Completed

The Fair Oaks Vitalant center at 11713 Fair Oaks Boulevard, which received interior repairs, has 15 donation stations. It is located near Fair Oaks Boulevard and Madison Avenue in the Almond Plaza.

FAIR OAKS, CA (MPG) - Interior repairs at the Vitalant blood donation center at 11713 Fair Oaks Boulevard in Fair Oaks near the corner of Fair Oaks Boulevard and Madison Avenue in the Almond Plaza have been completed on schedule and donation appointments at the center have resumed.

Closure was projected to last four to six weeks from mid-February for the repair of a deteriorating concrete floor, as well as to make other general interior improvements.

Returning donors will see a new front counter in the lobby area and a refreshed post donation snack area. Individual donation appointments resumed on Sunday, March 19th with a full calendar scheduled.

Lorraine Schlak, RN, BSN, supervisor of the Fair Oaks blood donation center, welcomed donors back to the Fair Oaks facility.

"There continues to be an urgent need for public donations of both blood and blood plasma," she said.

The closure was the first by Vitalant since it moved into the Fair Oaks location 12 years ago. The donation is adjacent to where a new Ace Hardware Home and Garden center will open this summer.

The February closure affected 12 medical donation staff members who were reassigned to other local Vitalant centers while equipment and office furnishings were placed in temporary storage.

The Fair Oaks center has 15 donation stations, and on average receives 600 whole blood donations per month. Each whole blood donation takes about 45 minutes to complete from intake interview screening to post-donation patient recovery where volunteers serve snacks and refreshments.

The average time to complete a plasma donation is longer, she said. "We typically receive 24 plasma donations per day, or up to 120 each month," Schlak said.

"We will continue to reach out through social media, email and phone calls to our regular donors and many volunteers that we have reopened in Fair Oaks," she said.

"We're especially grateful to our many regular volunteers who continued to actively support our center during our temporary closure," she said.

Founded in 1943, Vitalant is one of the nation's oldest and largest non-profit transfusion medicine organizations, comprising a network of about 120 community blood centers. In all, Vitalant provides lifesaving blood and comprehensive transfusion medical services for about 900 hospitals and their patients across the U.S.

All healthy donors are urged to donate now, she said. "If you've had COVID-19 and have been symptom-free for 10 days, you are eligible to donate," she said. "Whatever your COVID-19 vaccination status, you are absolutely allowed to give blood or platelets."

Call Vitalant (877) at 258-4825 to schedule a whole blood or plasma donation appointment. Visit: <https://www.vitalant.org> for more information.

Prospective donors should visit: <https://www.vitalant.org/Donate/Health-History-Questionnaire> to view basic donation requirements. Appointment pre-registration and screening is encouraged, Schlak said. ★

New Restaurant to Open on Site of Former China Buffet

The former China Buffet has been leased for a future Asian fusion-themed restaurant at 5623 Sunrise Boulevard in Citrus Heights.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Owners of what will become an Asian fusion-themed restaurant have signed a long-term lease to open on the site of the former China Buffet restaurant at 5623 Sunrise Boulevard in Citrus Heights, according to Phillip Jarrett, owner/broker of Jarrett Real Estate in El Dorado Hills in a telephone interview on Friday, March 17th.

Jarrett confirmed the lease agreement has closed and added that the new restaurant owners are in the active process of retaining public relations counsel, before they make a public announcement.

Disclosure of both the specific name of the new restaurant, and details of the lease agreement would be made publicly by the owners themselves at a future date, Jarrett said.

Work crews gutting the interior of the restaurant had already filled a large commercial dumpster outside of the restaurant as of late last week. A banner sign listing the property for lease has yet to be taken down.

A current sales and marketing brochure featured on Loopnet.com had listed the former China Buffet restaurant site for $4.1 million at a cost of $1.99 per square foot under a ground lease option as "ideal for restaurant, medical, brew pub/sports bar, retail, residential or other suggested uses." The property had been listed for sale or lease.

The free-standing former 10,600-plus square-foot restaurant built in 1986, is situated on 1.7 acres and includes two outdoor seating areas.

The opening of a new restaurant on the site of the former China Buffet which had been closed for over three years, adds to a busy restaurant row in Sunrise MarketPlace where nearby Boston's Pizza and El Tapatio now thrive.

A former Marie Callender's Restaurant and Bakery, which is located next door at 5525 Sunrise Boulevard remains on the market. The restaurant abruptly closed in August 2019 when the parent company entered Chapter 11 bankruptcy due to dwindling profits.

Jarrett said he was planning to meet with the new restaurant owners this week to discuss their construction plans for the property.

"I'm excited to see this new restaurant sign a long-term leasing agreement... and I'm hoping the new owners will succeed," Jarrett said. ★ home into the month of April.

Why socks? A new pair of socks is so much more than just an item of clothing according to this explanation by “YourCitySports.com” an online sock for the homeless store/program. It’s a new perspective on how important this one small item is.

“Three Reasons Socks are the Most- Requested Item in Homeless Shelters

1) The average person living on the street walks a lot

Between walking to medical appointments, work opportunities and government agencies, not to mention searching for food banks and shower facilities, the average homeless person logs a lot of miles on foot. That can add up to many pairs of worn-through socks and shoes.

2) Keeping feet dry and warm on the street is a huge challenge

Keeping your feet warm and dry is difficult when you spend your days outside, especially in extreme heat, cold or rain.

Most shelters close during daytime hours, leaving homeless people very few places to get away from the elements.

3) Clean, dry socks equal healthy feet

Clean, dry socks are the best way to prevent skin infections, nail diseases, frostbite and trench foot. These problems are a painful ordeal for anyone, but they are especially crippling when you don’t have a home where you can rest and recuperate. A painful foot infection makes it very difficult to get to all of those important, life-changing appointments like job interviews and housing intake meetings.

Healthy feet are the ticket to mobility. Healthy feet are a part of human dignity.”

and Treasury. Everyone is working with FDIC to stabilize the situation as quickly as possible, to protect jobs, people’s livelihoods, and the entire innovation ecosystem that has served as a tent pole for our economy.”

The Intercept just reported Tuesday Gov. Gavin Newsom failed to mention that President Biden’s announcement also protected his own businesses in Silicon Valley Bank.”CADE, Odette, and PlumpJack, three wineries owned by Newsom, are listed as clients of SVB on the bank’s website. Newsom also maintained personal accounts at SVB for years, according to a longtime former employee of Newsom’s who handled his finances, and who requested anonymity to avoid professional reprisal.”

Newsom also neglected to say that he and the First Partner have even deeper ties with Silicon Valley Bank – Silicon Valley Bank President of Capital John China gave $100,000 “Behested” gift to the Newsom’s nonprofit, California Partners Project, Open the Books discovered, the Globe reported.

Notably, a 2019 IRS Form 990 for Newsom’s California Partner Project reports only $50k in total gross receipts. This seems inaccurate given the new information of Newsom’s behested payments. The Globe did not find any record of 2020-2021 IRS Form 990 filings on the IRS website, but did find IRS Form 990 filings with the California Office of the Attorney General Charities registry. ★

YK Chalamcherla Launches 2024 Campaign for Assembly District 7

From the Office of YK Chalamcherla

FOLSOM, CA (MPG) - On Sunday, March 5th, Folsom Vice-Mayor YK Chalamcherla kicked off his bid to run for State Assembly District 7 in 2024. YK is a highly respected City Councilmember in Folsom and received the most votes of any city council candidate when he was elected. YK's campaign has already received endorsements from community leaders Barbara O'Connor, Folsom Cordova Unified School Board Member Chris Clark, API community leader CC Yin, National Director of National American Indian Veterans Frank Ramirez, Persian Community Leader Moe Gholshani, Elk Grove School Board Member Sean Yang, and Indian-American community leader Bhaskar Vempati.* Over 75 supporters joined YK to celebrate his kick-off exactly one year to the day of the March 5, 2024 Primary.

YK has demonstrated strong fiscal credentials and experience balancing a government budget and maintaining a surplus each year he has served. He believes the spending of our tax dollars should be scrutinized and expenditures held to the highest standards. In Folsom, he spearheaded the revamping of the City's contract procurement process. The new process improves standards for awarding bids and saves taxpayer dollars.

"It is the duty of the Legislature to conduct oversight on how our hard-earned money is spent. Right now, we can do more," said YK. "As an Assemblymember, I will be a strong proponent for conducting more oversight and increasing transparency for how tax dollars are used."

YK is also focused on delivering solutions to the most pressing issues our community faces – confronting the homelessness crisis, creating jobs and growing the economy, and addressing climate change.

Regarding the increasingly difficult homelessness crisis, YK has a strong record of bringing local government and nonprofits to the table to make meaningful changes in the City of Folsom. "We need to start looking at results driven solutions so that the dollars we dedicate to this community are efficiently and effectively put to use," said YK.

When he was elected to the Folsom City Council in November 2020, YK had already been in public service for 20 years. Prior to his election, he served as a Folsom Parks & Recreations Commissioner, an Arts and Cultural commissioner, a County-level board member for the American River Parkway Advisory Board, and as a Folsom Community Service Day Steering Committee member. In 2023, his peers on the City Council selected him to serve as the Vice-Mayor of the City.

In 2019, YK launched a Folsom-based IT firm. For more than ten years, he has partnered with the State to hold jobs awareness workshops, share public-sector job opportunities, and help others navigate the job application process. He has successfully helped hundreds of local residents find jobs.

YK believes in building community through service and leading by example. As an active volunteer in the region, YK earned the tagline "YK is always in the community" thanks to his avid volunteerism. He has a vested interest in kids, and spent over a decade with Folsom schools' PTA/PTSO boards, the HART of Folsom, Friends of Folsom, Friends of Folsom Parkways, and Powerhouse Ministries. He was named the "2022 Volunteer of the Year" by the Folsom Chamber of Commerce. YK is also a regional leader in APAPA, Asian Pacific Islander American Public Affairs Association, and has mentored countless high schoolers, offering internships and volunteer opportunities throughout the community.

Learn more about YK's background at www.YKforAssembly.com.

The 7th Assembly District is seen as the most competitive Assembly seat in the entire state. It includes the cities of Citrus Heights, Folsom, and Rancho Cordova, and the unincorporated communities of Carmichael, Fair Oaks, Foothill Farms, Gold River, Mather, McClellan Park, North Highlands, Orangevale, and Rosemont.

Bera Reintroduces Bicameral Bill for Americans to Sign Up for Health Care

Office of Congressman
Ami Bera, M.D.

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - On February 17, 2023, Representative Ami Bera, M.D. (D-CA) introduced the Easy Enrollment in Health Care Act, bicameral legislation to simplify health care enrollment for Americans by allowing them to enroll in coverage when they file their federal tax returns.

"As a doctor who has cared for our nation's patients, I have seen first-hand how stressful and overwhelming it can be to sign up for health care coverage," said Representative Ami Bera, M.D., who previously served as Chief Medical Officer for Sacramento County. "That's why I'm introducing the Easy Enrollment in Health Care Act with Senator Van Hollen to help millions of uninsured Americans automatically enroll in affordable health insurance at the same time they file their federal tax returns. It's critical that we cut burdensome red tape to make it easier for Americans to get insured."

Senator Chris Van Hollen (D-MD) introduced companion legislation in the U.S. Senate earlier in the week.

"More Americans than ever can access free or low-cost health insurance through the Affordable Care Act, yet millions are still uninsured because of barriers they face in enrollment. Getting covered doesn't need to be this complicated – and that's why I'm introducing this bill to help Americans more easily find the health plans that work best for them by simply checking a box on their federal tax returns. Easy Enrollment is a simple, yet powerful approach that has already been proven in Maryland to boost participation in affordable health care plans, and it's time we make it available nationwide," said Senator Van Hollen.

BACKGROUND

Nearly 2 in 3 uninsured Americans are eligible for programs like Medicaid, CHIP, and Advanced Premium Tax Credits but still aren't covered, totaling in over 18 million people – including 13 million who are eligible for free insurance at this very moment. This "enrollment gap" disproportionately harms families of color.

In 2019, adults of color were 41% more likely than whites to qualify for health programs but not be enrolled, and nearly 2 in 3 uninsured children who qualify for Medicaid or CHIP are African-American, Latino, Indigenous, or other children of color. However, 4 in 5 uninsured citizens and lawfully present immigrants filed federal income tax returns, including 64% of those with incomes below 150% of the FPL.

Under this bill, Americans would be able to check a box on their federal income tax returns that would connect them with available health care programs in their state. By checking the box, the IRS would be authorized to share the data they already have on file with the individual's state health care marketplace exchange. A menu of options would then be sent back to the individual in a formal letter – at which point that person could either chose to opt-in to a specific program or remain uninsured if they choose. Individuals would have a 60 day special enrollment window to make your choice, and those who are eligible for a zero-premium plan who neither select a program nor opt out would be paired automatically with the program that provides the highest coverage with no premiums.

This type of tax filing system could reach the millions of uninsured Americans who know little about health programs or their eligibility to receive free health care. In 2017, after ample public education and 4 open enrollment periods, 40% of uninsured Americans were still unaware of health insurance marketplaces. By checking the box, these same families could see whether they qualify for free or low-cost health care and then enroll. This legislation brings health care information directly to people who need it most – and makes it easier than ever to sign up for a plan with zero premiums.

The bill is supported by a large and diverse group of organizations, including: Families USA, Protect Our Care, Third Way, Blue Cross Blue Shield Association, First Focus, Alliance of Community Health Plans, American Academy of Pediatrics, American Cancer Society Action Network, American Heart Association, and Centene. ★

Social Security Matters

How Do I Withdraw My Application for Social Security?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I will be 67 next month and reached my full retirement age in July 2022. My wife and I are discussing whether we should take Social Security now or wait until we are age 70 to get a higher benefit. I remember reading that you can start Social Security and, if not needed, pay it back within a year and then “reset” to get a higher benefit by waiting longer. Please describe the steps of this process to take now and repay the year’s benefits if we do not need them. Signed: Uncertain

Dear Uncertain: Well, to exercise the so-called “do over option” (which is essentially withdrawing your application for benefits), you need to contact Social Security (1.800.772.1213 or your local SS field office) and request that your application for benefits be withdrawn. You can also download and complete form SSA-521 and deliver the same to your local Social Security office. You can get that form at this link: www.ssa.gov/forms/ssa-521.pdf.

This “do-over option” is only available within 12 months of the date you submit your application and can only be done once in your lifetime. If you use it, you will be required to repay Social Security for all payments made on your behalf, including not only your monthly payments but also any income taxes you had withheld, and any Medicare premiums which were withheld from your monthly payments (Social Security will inform you how much you must repay). Once the repayment is made, it will be as though you never applied for benefits, meaning your benefit amount will be higher when you later re-apply (which would also be the case if you simply didn’t apply – your benefit entitlement continues to grow until you claim, up to age 70 when your maximum SS benefit is attained). This process would be the same for both you and your wife.

However, I suggest you consider whether you really need to withdraw your application. Be aware that since you’ve already reached your full retirement age (FRA) you can claim now and, if you later decide you don’t need the monthly SS money, you can simply temporarily suspend your benefit payments to avoid repaying Social Security everything they’ve already paid to you and on your behalf (you don’t need to formally withdraw your application). By simply suspending (and not withdrawing), your benefit amount will start growing again with each month your benefits are suspended (about .67% more for each month you do not get benefits) and you can keep everything you’ve already received to the point you suspend your payments. To suspend your payments just call Social Security at the number provided above and tell them you wish to suspend your benefits and grow your payment amount. While you can only use the withdrawal process once in your lifetime, you can temporarily suspend your benefit payments multiple times if necessary.

Is Silicon Valley Bank’s Failure An Omen For California?

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

It would be difficult to overstate Silicon Valley’s financial importance to California.

The San Jose-centered high technology industry exploded four decades ago as California’s manufacturing sector, which had boomed during and after World War II, was shrinking.

It became the state’s single most powerful economic engine, creating products and services that transformed California and had immense global impact. A few days ago, Gov. Gavin Newsom described it the “tent pole for our economy” and for once he wasn’t exaggerating.

As other economic sectors and other regions stagnated, Silicon Valley boomed. Without it, California could not have become the fifth – and very possibly the fourth – most powerful economy in the world.

Silicon Valley’s mega-corporations, such as Apple, Google and Twitter, sucked in immense amounts of money from every corner of the globe – not only making investors very rich, but creating countless jobs and pumping hundreds of billions of dollars into the state treasury as high income tax rates tapped into the new wealth.

However, there’s reason to wonder whether Silicon Valley has reached its peak.

In recent months, Silicon Valley’s corporations have been laying off workers and venture capital activity has slowed. A few weeks ago, a local industry organization, Joint Venture Silicon Valley, issued its annual report on the region’s economy, stressing a transition from a cauldron of start-up companies to dominance by a few giants.

“Tech is going through a painful period,” Russell Hancock, president of the organization said, adding hopefully that “there is no way to construe what is happening as a crisis” for the tech sector.

That was happening before Silicon Valley Bank, which was founded in 1983 as the region began to boom and rode the wave into becoming one of the nation’s largest financial houses, suddenly collapsed last week.

The bank experienced a run from depositors and could not raise enough cash to meet demand. State and federal financial regulators quickly stepped in, shuttered the bank and began seeking a buyer. Its failure sent shockwaves through Silicon Valley because of the bank’s prominent role in financing start-up companies and providing cash for payrolls and other expenses.

Relatively small depositors were covered by insurance, but hundreds of corporate customers had deposits over the $250,000 insurance limit and suddenly were unable to make withdrawals.

The immediate crisis was averted on Sunday when federal authorities arranged for Federal Reserve loans that would allow depositors to make full withdrawals. They also made money available to shore up other specialty banks that might be vulnerable to depositor runs.

Despite the emergency action, however, Silicon Valley Bank’s failure is a serious blow to the tech industry because of its pivotal role in financing innovation as a direct lender, as a financial service provider and as a midwife for attracting venture capital.

Federal authorities are looking for a buyer to absorb Silicon Valley Bank, quite possibly one of the nation’s larger banks. Even if a buyer emerges, however, the new owner would not have an intimate relationship to the region’s yeasty culture of aggressive innovation.

The bank’s owners prospered by deeply immersing themselves into that culture but that narrow focus made it vulnerable to outside economic factors. When the Federal Reserve System began raising interest rates to battle inflation, the bank’s portfolio of bonds lost value. When the bank was forced to sell those devalued bonds to meet withdrawal demands from depositors, it went into a death spiral.

The question is whether the bank’s failure is a harbinger of Silicon Valley’s decline.

There Are 171 Trillion Plastic Particles in Our Oceans ...

Commentary
by Madie Aughinbaugh,
Earth Day Network

After decades of big corporations producing trillions of oil-based plastics, the negative consequences of pollution caused by these products are startling and undeniable. It's recognized as one of the most pressing environmental and public health hazards of modern times. With more than 418 million tons of plastic thought to be produced annually, our oceans, rivers, food, land, and air are overrun with pollution.

It is time to accelerate solutions to combat plastic pollution by activating governments, citizens, and businesses to do their part to invest in our planet, everyone accounted for, everyone accountable. YOU have a part to play and can begin by doing something as simple as hosting or partaking in a cleanup in your community. EARTHDAY.ORG (EDO), the global organizer of Earth Day, has a worldwide campaign known as The Great Global Cleanup focused on ridding the environment of plastic waste for good.

Cleanups are a fun, easy, and effective way to amplify your impact in protecting our planet. If you are unsure of how or where to start, no worries! We've got you covered. Here are the seven keys to hosting a successful cleanup:

Organize a planning group. Whether you want to be an environmental rockstar solo or with friends and family, make sure to rally your troops and decide who is going to take the lead in organizing the cleanup. Once you've appointed a cleanup captain, have them assign tasks and designate roles to ensure a smooth sailing event.

Choose an ideal date, site, and time. Parks, rivers, and other similar public community sites are great options for your cleanup. And, depending on where you are, choosing a time allowing for plenty of daylight and comfortable temperatures is essential.

Gather volunteers. Use social media and word of mouth to spread awareness about your cleanup. Another great way to rally volunteers is by registering your cleanup on EARTHDAY.ORG's Great Global Cleanup Map. This will connect you with a global network of volunteers who are just as passionate as you are about helping heal our environment.

Line up cleanup supplies and arrange for waste disposal. Asking for donations of trash bags, refreshments and equipment is a great way to keep your cleanup well supplied and financially efficient. In fact, local hardware stores are often eager to donate resources to you for the great work you're doing. Make sure to also coordinate with local waste management for disposal after your cleanup and don't forget to show appreciation by giving credit to contributors for their donations.

Start your cleanup. As you get closer to the date, check the weather so you can dress accordingly and make sure to send a text the night before your cleanup to remind the group! Take pictures before and after your collection to share on social media. You can also invite local media outlets to cover your event to help spread awareness about the great work you're doing.

Dispose of waste. Sort your waste properly into trash, recyclables, and hazardous waste. Once you've done this, take it to the location you've chosen to properly discard.

Pat each other on the back for a job well done! Make sure to say thank you to everyone who helped make your cleanup a success. Post your event photos on social media using the hashtags #GreatGlobalCleanup, #TrashTag, and #Plogging and share them with local newspapers and magazine.

Real change needs to be made and you have the power to make a difference. For information about how to sign up to be a partner with The Great Global Cleanup, please visit: <https://www.earthday.org/partner-with-the-great-global-cleanup/>. ★

It May Take A Little Time

Dear Dave,

I've having some problems with my parents, and I'm hoping you can help. Last summer I borrowed $2,500 from them, and it is taking me longer to pay them back than we agreed. Since the pay back date passed, they have made several comments about money when we're together, and our relationship seems strained. I have taken steps in the last couple of months to become more financially responsible. I am now doing things like living on a budget, and putting something from each paycheck into a savings account. How should I approach this issue with them?

- Remi

Dave Ramsey Says

Dear Remi,

Loaning money to, or borrowing money from, relatives or friends often leads to bruised feelings. I'm sorry you're going through this, but I hope it will teach you and your folks a valuable lesson going forward. There's nothing wrong with giving money in a situation like this, as long as you're not enabling bad behavior by doing so. But a loan between friends or family is something I never recommend.

If they choose to hold a grudge there's really not a lot you can do, especially if you took longer than agreed upon to pay them back. It just takes more time with some people—and in some cases even parents—for those kinds of things to heal. You have to remember, in their minds there's an element of responsibility and trust involved here. But considering it's your mom and dad we're talking about, I'd say they'll lighten up and become a little easier to be around with time.

Until that happens, though, maybe you could look for chances to mention your new approach to finances during conversations with them. Even something as simple as an off-hand remark about how much you were able to put into savings from your recent paychecks may encourage them to see things in a different light. Letting them know you're actively working to change your ways and gain control of your finances could mean a lot to them. Give it a try!

Back to the Future

Have you ever wondered where you came from and who you came from that might influence who you are today? Kathy Lynne Marshall did and has written about several families including her own in "Finding Marshalls." So why does a person who worked for the CHP change gears and turn to the past? Kathy has an insatiable curiosity. Information is her driver and now genealogy is her passion. She has delighted audiences at the Sons and Daughters of the United States Middle Passage conference and served as consultant to the West Virginia's Beverly Heritage Center, among many more local and national media. She encourages others to look into their past to influence their future. So, on my POPPOFF Radio Show, I asked Kathy to give us some tips on how to get started out of curiosity, or perhaps write a family book on your own heritage for publication or just sharing with your family.

1. Decide which person or family line you want to check out. Determine what you want to know about them. For example: Who was my great-grandfather? What did he do for a living? Did he fight in WW I? Was he an ironworker like me? Where in Italy was my great-grandmother born.

2. Using a free digital resource like FamilySearch.org or a for-fee genealogy company, build a family tree and include birth, death, and marriage dates and places for yourself, your spouse/partner, children, parents, grandparents etc.

3. Do a google search to find more information about the selected person of family line, such as probate records, land records, and newspaper articles. Chronicling-America is a free source for historical information.

4. Organize the research documents you gathered in binders or computer folders by person.

5. Interview your relatives for family stories and more facts.

6. DNA test several relatives in the selected family line. You'll receive thousands of names of people who share common ancestors with your family. In addition, DNA testing will estimate where in the world your ancestors came from Kathy's "Family Harambee" How to discuss challenging Discoveries in your family tree and her "Finding Otho" books present critical information about this DNA topic.

7. Create a document on your computer for the manuscript if that's what your goal is. Format the pages to look like an outline of the book, e.g. title pages, table of contents, Chapter One etc.

8. Write your story or get someone to help you put it all together. If you want to publish it, you can always get a ghost writer to help you.

9. If you go the book route, get an editor and book cover creator. Your former high school English teacher is not necessarily a professional editor.

10. Print your manuscript, but remember you can self-publish it as a book or for a family keepsake for members of your immediate family.

Kathy was great to offer her email if you want to ask her questions at Kathy@KathyLynneMarshall.com. Looking to your past can reveal so much of your future life path. ★

By County Supervisor Sue Frost

Through the generosity of the Citrus Heights Messenger, this column serves to provide an update about matters affecting the community of Citrus Heights.

Rachael King (On left in photo above right) was a manager at the Noodles Restaurant in Folsom and was a proud recipient of the September 2018 Sacramento County Food Safety Award of Excellence. Four months later she died after taking a pill that unbeknownst to her was laced with Fentanyl.

It's difficult to share this with you and I want you to know that I talked about it with Rachael's parents who allowed me to share some of her story. Rachael was a valedictorian and an aspiring chef with dreams and a bright future. She was the only daughter, and her death was a devastating blow to her parents, brother and all who loved her. Her parents have tried to advocate for justice and have been an inspiration behind important programs emerging as the increase in Fentanyl deaths cannot be ignored. I am dedicating this newsletter to Rachael. I believe she would want to warn others about "Fentanyl - One Pill Can Kill."

Do you remember "Every 15 Minutes" or "Arrive Alive Drive Sober?" For those who don't know, they are reality-based programs designed to challenge teenage students and parents to think before driving drunk. I recently attended a similar program at Folsom High School that was hosted by Arrive Alive California, Inc. Their program is called "Fentanyl - One Pill Can Kill." I was a proud champion of this program which was funded by Sacramento County's ARPA in response to the growing drug problem in our region. During their program I heard personal testimonies from parents, shocking statistics, and an ambulance professional shared that if someone overdoses and you call 911, the health professionals do not report your drug activities. They talked about the symptoms. If the person is unconscious, small pupils, shallow breathing, vomiting, inability to speak, faint heartbeat, limp arms and legs, or discolored lips or fingernails, call 911.

Fentanyl is a powerful synthetic opioid that comes in many prescription

Citrus Heights Community Update

Fentanyl One Pill Can Kill

forms. It is similar to morphine, but I am told it is up to 100 times more potent. It is typically used to treat severe or chronic pain for people who are physically tolerant to other opioids. Since 2020 the use of opioids, especially Fentanyl, has grown exponentially. In the past three years, according to Sacramento District Attorney Thien Ho, there have been 360 Fentanyl poisoning deaths in Sacramento County. That is more than gun-related homicides, he said.

For those who want justice, it is challenging. In general, most Fentanyl deaths are listed as accidental overdoses. They accepted the pill from a friend or paid a dealer for a street drug, not realizing it was laced with Fentanyl. The pills look just like prescription pills. At the crime scene, people may say that the person was fine when they went to bed and there was no indication of a problem, but for law enforcement to pursue a murder investigation they would need to show intent to kill or reckless disregard or indifference to human life. Further, if the case report lists accidental death, then the case follow-up is under that assumption, and it is not technically a murder investigation. This has been a heartbreaking disappointment for family members who are screaming for justice and want to prevent the future loss of innocent lives.

I recently met with Sacramento D.A. Thien Ho to discuss the justice dilemma. He expressed the seriousness of this matter and shared that he has a four-part plan. Then he told me about how cases are built piece by piece, and he is establishing processes to set the stage for documenting a case on record. Then we talked about the difference between implied malice and express malice. Implied malice refers to a person's intention to cause grievous bodily harm. Express malice murders include killings where the person intended to cause death. In contrast, implied malice includes killings that occurred while a person was committing a felony or when deaths resulted from an action that displayed a depraved indifference.

District Attorney Ho's plan includes a "Watson Warning" which is given to defendants who are found guilty of selling Fentanyl. If they sell Fentanyl again and cause injury or death, they can be charged with a much more serious crime - including murder. He is calling for Regional Response Teams. Sacramento is working with other County's (Riverside, San Bernardino, San Diego, Placer) to learn about how they are building out their response. He is partnering with our Sheriff and other agencies to create Fentanyl Response Teams. There will be a protocol in place to retrieve phones to look at texting and collect evidence. A drug task force would trace dealer connections and when a dealer is associated with several deaths it is possible to begin to build a case on record that shows reckless disregard. Other Partnerships with the U.S. Attorney General and the Eastern District will be pursuing more legal solutions and finally the Education Programs such as the Fentanyl - One Pill Can Kill is a program that is targeting youth in schools to help them understand, "FENTANYL - ONE PILL CAN KILL!"

We cannot bring Rachael back, but her life was a precious gift to our world and it mattered. If you have pain of any kind, buyer beware... One Fentanyl Pill Can Kill. Other drugs and even marijuana vaping have been laced with Fentanyl and killed innocent people! The best advice when considering recreational street drugs is "Just Say NO!"
