An Extreme Stitch in Time

Extreme Stitch Embroidery, a family-owned and operated company, began in owner Wendy Hamby's Loomis home and has been growing steadily ever since.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Citrus Heights-area student athletes know when it's time to purchase a high-quality varsity letterman jacket, there's only one place to go.

That's Extreme Stitch Embroidery at 7250 Auburn Blvd., Suite F, which will celebrate its 20th anniversary in early 2023, said owner Wendy Hamby.

Extreme Stitch Embroidery, a family-owned and operated company began in Hamby's Loomis home and has been growing steadily ever since.

"We weathered the pandemic, have outlasted all our competition and continue to thrive," said the mother of two sons, graduates of Mesa Verde and Del Oro high schools.

Extreme Stitch serves private and public high schools throughout Sacramento and Placer County, including six high schools in the San Juan Unified School District. The Citrus Heights company creates 350 or more custom-designed letterman-style jackets each year, she said.

Her student-athlete customer base is 60 percent male to 40 percent female. Each jacket is unisex and made in the United States.

Hamby has added additional embroidery equipment since the competitors have left the local market and is looking to hire staff, "no experience required" who can help her keep pace with a growing work demand, she said.

Customers see the walls of Extreme Stitch adorned with every kind and combination of school colors, mascot logo and team sports patches from which to choose from. While walk-in customers are typical, Hamby has received telephone orders from customers in Stockton, Vallejo, and as far away as Massachusetts and even Texas, she said.

Student-athletes work one-on-one with her to determine the personal design of each jacket's school colors and patch arrangement. Each jacket, Hamby said, "makes a statement on campus and will highlight your achievements, school spirit, and your own personality."

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Pet owners whose animals venture outdoors can be keenly aware of the possible dangers to their animals, such as rabies and other illnesses as well as pets becoming lost. However, indoor animals may occasionally get out and face the same risks. In partnership with VIP Pet Care, the Sacramento County Bradshaw Animal Shelter offers low-cost vaccination and microchip clinics every third Thursday of the month, 3 - 5 p.m. at 3839 Bradshaw Road, Sacramento, CA

In addition to keeping pets healthy, the clinic focuses on making sure pets can safely find their way home. Most pets who get lost and find their way to the shelter have no identification tags and no microchip, making reunification difficult.

As of now, the project is on a tentative hold pending the resolution of a landlord-client issue, said a representative of Schuss Clark Brandon Architects, Inc. in a telephone interview.

Patelco Credit Union in Citrus Heights closed its two-story branch office at 5499 Sunrise Boulevard at the corner of Uplands Way on Friday, July 22nd and has since moved to a new location in the Marketplace at Birdcage, 6100 Birdcage Lane, Suite 125.

Branch manager Crickett Luna said at the time of the credit union's July move to Birdcage in Citrus Heights that a considerable amount of office furniture and other furnishings were left behind in the former branch on Sunrise Boulevard for re-use by the new owners. The two-story, 10,000-square foot former bank building was built in 1978. Bank offices were located on the second floor. The branch also featured two drive-up banking lanes which may be repurposed for retail sales according to an initial drawing.

Nearby local businesses include a Boston's Pizza across the street along Sunrise Boulevard and a nearby Olive Garden Restaurant.

jacket to precisely fit each customer. The cost of a custom-fit varsity jacket in a customer's choice of school colors is about $450, up about $50 due to supplier costs. Jackets are available in all sizes, youth through adult, Hamby said.

"We require a small deposit of $200 down to pay for the cost of the jacket. Customers can then make payments on their jacket until they pay the balance off.

"The turnaround time delivery for a typical letterman jacket is 6-8 weeks. All jackets are tailor-made to order and are altered as needed to precisely fit each customer." Student-athletes should place their jacket order now to be ready for pickup in time for June graduation, she said.

Adult customers who may want to reproduce a jacket in the colors of their own high school alma-mater can place an order as well.

Under the baton of Susan Hamre, the CPCB will perform an eclectic mix of enjoyable music from a Hall of Fame list of composers, including John Williams, George Gershwin, Benny Goodman and Leonard Bernstein. For its part, the city has arranged to have food, beer, wine and other refreshments for purchase on-site. And of course, there will be birthday cake.

Various city officials and other dignitaries are expected to join in the dual outdoor celebrations 25 years in the making.

Citrus Heights became an incorporated city on Jan. 1, 1997, the culmination of a 12-year effort. Barely a month later, the Capitol Pops formally launched as a certified nonprofit. The Citrus Heights-based band suspended operations in March 2020 due to COVID but relaunched in March this year, just in time to celebrate its Silver Anniversary Season.

Over a quarter-century, the Capitol Pops has performed a diverse portfolio of high-quality, well-prepared music heard by thousands of concert-goers throughout Northern California. The self-supporting, nonprofit community band of about 50 musicians represents a wide cross-section of the Sacramento area.

CHP News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A federal grant is helping the California Highway Patrol (CHP) increase pedestrian and bicyclist safety throughout the state. The CHP was awarded $1.2 million in grant funding through the Bicycle and Pedestrian Safety, Education, Enforcement, and Awareness Program

(BESEEN) program. "The most vulnerable roadway users are pedestrians and bicyclists," CHP Commissioner Amanda Ray said. "This grant will promote the importance of drivers, bicyclists, and pedestrians looking out for one another so that everyone can safely share the road."

In California, nearly 20 percent of all traffic-related deaths are pedestrian and bicycle fatalities. In 2020 and 2021 combined, 926 of the 4,651 people killed in crashes throughout CHP jurisdiction were pedestrians and bicyclists.

This grant launches a yearlong effort to educate and enforce traffic safety laws for drivers, bicyclists, and pedestrians through September 30, 2023. Enforcement patrols will focus on areas with higher bicyclist and pedestrian traffic and crashes. Officers will also conduct public awareness campaigns in communities throughout the state. In addition, this grant funds bicycle safety training and educational presentations to promote safe and courteous traffic safety behaviors by drivers and bicyclists, as well as safety publications, bicycle helmets, reflective gear, and other vital safety equipment.

October is National Pedestrian Safety Month with National Walk to School Day on October 12, 2022. CHP officers in plainclothes will work with uniformed officers to monitor crosswalks and areas surrounding schools for motorists who fail to yield the right-of-way or who take unsafe and illegal actions.

Funding for this program was provided by the California Office of Traffic Safety through a grant from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety. Service. and Security.

Dear Dave,

My wife and I are in our late-twenties, and we have a full emergency fund saved up. Our only debt is our home. We have talked about having a child sometime next year, but I am on the road three weeks a month for my job. I don't want to be gone so much once we have a child, and I am thinking about opening my own business, so I can eliminate the travel and control my hours better. Do you have any thoughts on this situation?

- Mike

Dear Mike,

An entrepreneur is the person I know who can go from sheer terror to sheer exhilaration and back every few hours. You've got to have a strong mind and a strong heart to be successful, plus there's a good chance your idea won't last long if you don't love what you're doing. Remember, count on for a while. Okay, that was a quick dose of reality. Now, if time and money weren't considerations, what would you rather do-stay at your current job or run your own business?

My advice to anyone, entrepreneur or not, is to make sure your work falls in line with the passions, skills and talents you were born with. You don't need to work in the construction business if you don't like being outdoors and working with your hands, just like you don't want to be stuck in a call center if you hate talking on the phone and being cooped up inside all day.

Everyone wants to be successful in their job, enjoy what they do and make lots of money. But personal happiness is just as important. If you wake up excited about what you're facing every day, chances are you'll be successful and happy. If you wake up dreading the day and your job, I can almost guarantee you won't be successful or too, you're basically on thinking and research to do, Mike. There's nothing wrong with wanting to change jobs or be an entrepreneur. Being able to spend more time with your family is a noble and worthwhile thing, too. But I'm not hearing a lot of direction in what you're saving right now. Maybe work with a career coach, and spend some time tossing ideas around with your wife. I know you both want great things for your child, but you're not going to make the best possible decisions for yourself-and your family—without a lot more planning and thoughtful discussion.

Measure A on November Ballot will Make Long-Awaited Improvements

Yes on Measure A News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The citizens' initiative Measure A on the November ballot will fund long-awaited improvements to Sacramento County's roads, bridges and transit system. Every city and community in Sacramento County will benefit.

The Yes on Measure A campaign represents a broad-based coalition led by labor, business, transportation, air quality advocates and others. The initiative will raise $8.5 billion over 40 years to improve the quality of life for all Sacramento County residents, reduce traffic congestion, improve air quality, and help drive economic growth for decades to come. Measure A must receive more than 50% of the vote to become law.

"Sacramento voters have an opportunity to support an $8.5 billion generational investment in local transportation infrastructure," said campaign Co-Chair Michael Quigley, Executive Director of the California Alliance for Jobs. "A vote for Measure A is a vote for transportation improvements residents have long demanded - improved road safety, expanded transit access, better air quality and more

Measure A's highest priority is to fix potholes and repave deteriorating streets. In addition, it will invest in: Safer streets, intersections and routes to school; American River Parkway safety, maintenance and preservation; Bike and pedestrian improvements throughout the region; Senior and disabled transportation improvements and reduced fares; Congestion relief and freeway interchange modernization; A new south-county expressway connecting Highways 50, 99 and Interstate 5 to reduce congestion and shorten travel times between Folsom and Elk Grove.; Extension of Light Rail to the Airport; Improvements to major commute routes through our neighborhoods; Critical steps to fight climate change; Bus/light rail safety and service improvements; Creation of over 3,000 good-paying jobs.

Measure A will require citizen oversight, audits and annual public reports. And it will provide the local financial match to secure hundreds of millions of additional state and federal investment dollars

The ballot initiative will require compliance with state and federal environmental laws and mitigation of greenhouse gas impacts to meet regional goals. A formal agreement between Sacramento Transportation Authority and Sacramento Area Council of Governments ensures regional coordination and compliance with these provisions.

Measure A also includes projects that will finally address needed river crossings: Replacing the 111-year-old I Street Bridge across the Sacramento River. Supporting planning for a new American River Bridge from downtown Sacramento to South Natomas.

Ride and Read on the New Sacramento Rolling Library Train

SacRT News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On August 31, the Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) and the Sacramento Public Library launched Sacramento's first Rolling Library Train during an event at the Cosumnes River College Station. The brightly decorated train promotes riding and reading. This is also the first time the interior of a SacRT light rail train has been completely reimagined.

Riders can sit back, relax and read a book while Sacramento's new rolling Library Train takes them to their destination.

When you step onboard the library train, you will feel like you have been transported into a library as the walls and seatbacks resemble books on shelves. Riders can find hidden gems on those bookshelves featuring QR codes to free downloadable materials from the Sacramento Public Library.

"SacRT and the Sacramento Public Library are community pillars, and it is wonderful to see this partnership highlighting their vital work for our region," said Congresswoman Doris Matsui (CA-06). "The transformation of a light rail vehicle into a rolling library will bring knowledge and information right to our community members. This unique partnership not only promotes literacy and mobility, but also showcases the abundance of additional resources the library has to offer."

"SacRT is delighted to be able to provide an innovative and engaging way to advertise free services provided by an important community partner," said General Manager/CEO Henry Li. "The virtual program reflects our ongoing efforts to expand the role we play in the greater community."

"This partnership really highlights the nexus between public transit and community value," said SacRT Board Chair and City of Citrus Heights Councilmember Steve Miller. "Having a virtual rolling library not only provides free access to learning resources and professional development tools, but it also encourages more people to ride transit instead of driving."

"Between SacRT's RydeFreeRT program and the Sacramento Public Library's Summer Youth Leadership Program and Teen Resources, it makes perfect sense for them to join forces with the launch of the Rolling Library," said SacRT Board Director and Sacramento Councilmember Jay Schenirer. "We are removing barrier for young people to further their education and connecting them with core resources for success."

"SacRT plays a critical role in the community, not only getting people to work or school, but also helping them reach destinations during their leisure or recreational time," said Sacramento County Supervisor Patrick Kennedy. "The Sacramento Rolling Library Train will make it even easier for the community to experience the Sacramento Public Library's incredible wealth of services and programming focused on early learning, technology and creation."

"Together with SacRT, we've created the Sacramento Rolling Library Train. The idea of taking the library to the streets and removing that barrier to access is really what the Rolling Library Train is about. It encapsulates the ethos of libraries, and why this train is so important. We are meeting people where they are and bringing the library to them," said Peter Coyl, Library Director and CEO of the Sacramento Public Library.

Riders simply take out their phone, scan the QR code, which takes them to different library resources that they can access for free.

The virtual library train will travel on both the Blue and Gold light rail lines. For customers that would prefer to visit the library in person, visit sacrt.com/rollinglibrary to find out which SacRT transit services connect to each library location.

DWR Takes Actions to Support State's Future Water Supply Strategy

DWR News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On September 29, the Department of Water Resources (DWR) announced new steps that, if approved, could save enough water to supply 4.7 million Californians annually while making conservation more affordable through financial assistance and tax exemptions. The actions improve long-term water conservation and reduce wasteful outdoor water use as California adapts to a hotter, drier future driven by climate change.

The new actions will build on California's ongoing long-term efforts to make water conservation a way of life while advancing water efficiency efforts outlined in California's Water Supply Strategy: Adapting to a Hotter, Drier Future. DWR will be implementing and supporting actions that include:

Outdoor Water Use Recommendations

To help prepare for a hotter and drier future, DWR has submitted outdoor water use efficiency recommendations to the State Water Resources Control Board. With outdoor water use accounting for 50 percent of urban resident water use on average, the recommendations outline standards that would provide urban retail water suppliers with a framework to support more efficient outdoor residential water use. The framework will also include standards for the irrigation of large commercial, industrial, and institutional (CII) land-scapes in their service areas.

DWR's outdoor water use recommendations combined with indoor residential water use recommendations submitted in November 2021 would result in expected long-term water savings of 450,000 acre-feet per year starting in 2030 – enough water to supply about 1.6 million homes or about 4.7 million residents for both indoor and outdoor annual needs. The recommendations would also result in near-term savings of 100,000 acre-feet a year starting in 2023. DWR's recommendations will be evaluated by the State Water Resources Control Board through a formal rulemaking process, which will include additional analysis, engagement, and opportunity for public comment.

Indoor Water Use Legislation Signed

California also recently took additional steps to increase indoor water use savings with Governor Newsom's signing of Senate Bill 1157 (Hertzberg), which adopts recommendations made by DWR and the State Water Board last year to reduce indoor water use targets to 47 gallons per day by 2025 and 42 gallons by 2030. By adjusting indoor water use standards to reflect the joint recommendation of DWR and the State Water Board, the legislation will help increase water conservation and water use efficiency, ensuring a more water-resilient future for California.

Financial Assistance for Turf Transition and Conservation

DWR has developed a set of funding programs that will help build resiliency in all communities including underrepresented communities and Tribes. The funding programs include financial assistance for projects that strengthen resilience in urban communities, turf transition for residential and commercial landscapes and water conservation programs for urban water suppliers. DWR's programs will help to clear some of the hurdles that underserved communities face with direct install programs and support for local water agencies, while also helping build resiliency with equity in mind. DWR plans to release these grant programs in October. These new programs will build on the momentum created by the millions of dollars in grant funding that has been distributed by DWR in 2022.

Turf Tax Exemption

For those making smart water decisions to replace their lawns now and, in the future, Governor Newsom signed Assembly Bill 2142 (Gabriel), which will exempt from state income tax calculations any grant, rebate or additional financial assistance awarded from a state or local agency for turf transition. The law will provide the exemption through tax year 2027.

For more information on water use efficiency and the recommended standards, visit DWR's Urban Water Use Efficiency Standards webpage. For information about other DWR and State drought response efforts and funding programs, visit drought.ca.gov.

New Study Proves Breastfeeding Sheds COVID Shot mRNA

Liberty Counsel News Release

WASHINGTON, D.C. (MPG)

- A new study published on September 26 by the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) warned women who received the COVID shot regarding breastfeeding their infants younger than six months.

The study included 11 healthy lactating women who were asked to collect and immediately freeze samples of their breast milk after receiving either the Moderna or Pfizer shot within six months of delivering their newborn babies. Of the 11 volunteers, six received Pfizer and five received Moderna injections during lactation. After vaccination, breast milk was analyzed for the presence of mRNA nanoparticles. Seven samples from five women were positive for the presence of mRNA with the samples appearing in higher concentrations than whole milk. The participating women also provided breast milk samples before vaccination and for five days post vaccination.

The study said, however, that no vaccine mRNA was detected in pre-vaccination or post-vaccination samples beyond two days of collection.

The study warns, "Caution is warranted about breastfeeding children younger than 6 months in the first 48 hours after maternal vaccination until more safety studies are conducted. In addition, the potential interference of COVID-19 vaccine mRNA with the immune response to multiple routine vaccines given to infants during the first 6 months of age needs to be considered. It is critical that lactating individuals be included in future vaccination trials to better evaluate the effect of mRNA vaccines on lactation outcomes."

In addition, page 12 of the Pfizer documents that were released by the FDA as part of a court-ordered disclosure schedule stemming from an expedited Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request reveals that out of 133 breastfeeding vaccinated mothers reported, there were 17 cases of adverse events in breastfed infants. Three of them were "serious." These adverse events included pyrexia, rash, infant irritability, vomiting, diarrhea, insomnia, etc.

Liberty Counsel Founder and Chairman Mat Staver said, "The evidence continues to unfold that these COVID shots are neither safe nor effective, and babies are now victims in this massive cover-up. This is a crime against humanity."

California's New Space Industry Task Force to be led by GO-Biz

GO-Biz News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On August 31, 2022, the Governor's Office of Business and Economic Development (GO-Biz) announced a new Space Industry Task Force, to be led by GO-Biz Director and Senior Advisor to Governor Gavin Newsom, Dee Dee Myers.

The announcement first came from Governor Gavin Newsom at the August 29-30 All California Defense Leadership Summit, hosted by the Association of Defense Communities with the California Defense Communities Alliance and California Governor's Military Council in Sacramento. There, more than 200 military, defense and community leaders and stakeholders throughout California gathered to share challenges and solutions to national security issues throughout the state. Key leaders at the event targeted opportunities to grow the space industrial sector in the state and discussed initiatives to enhance existing defense capabilities.

As a global leader in aerospace and advanced manufacturing, California will pursue opportunities to improve its position and harness future growth in the space industry, both commercial and military, with the formation of this new Task Force. Partnering with GO-Biz in this work will be leaders from the Governor's Military Council, the Office of Planning and Research (OPR) and the Labor and Workforce Development Agency.

"California is truly a star when it comes to aerospace. We have a long list of unique assets that make us the perfect home for this critical and exciting industry, and we are committed to taking the nation's space program to the next frontier," said Governor Gavin Newsom.

California is already home to nearly one-third of all American space tech companies, and more than one in ten of those globally. In the last 11 years, California has attracted nearly half of the nation's space tech investment capital. This year alone, California has brought in more than 85% of the total capital invested in United States, space-related companies.

"America's best-trained and most-experienced aerospace and technology workforce lives and works here. In total, we are home to the nation's largest concentration of military personnel. I know this task force will create amazing opportunities for all Californians," said GO-Biz Director and Senior Advisor to Governor Gavin Newsom, Dee Dee Myers. "This industry provides more than 500,000 high-paying jobs and generates more than $66 billion in annual economic activity. That's more than the agricultural and entertainment industries combined – and it generates more than $7 billion in state and local taxes."

Director Myers, as the daughter of a Naval aviator, has experienced firsthand the sector's deep roots in California and what it means for the state's families and

In partnering with the space industry, the Task Force will work to bring incredible opportunities to California, including:

Attracting and catalyzing new businesses, including international businesses; Expanding existing aerospace and space businesses; Growing California's workforce and providing more well-paying jobs; Expanding research and development in aerospace and advanced manufacturing; Building more testing and launch capability; Working with California's higher education system to create potential new career paths and fill the expanded need for skills such as quantum physics and AI; and, Creating new models for public/private cooperation, such as allowing private investments in Department of Defense

Additionally, California is proud to offer significant financial incentives to industry leaders. GO-Biz's signature investment program, CalCompetes, has awarded close to $200 million in tax credits and grants to aerospace companies since 2019.

With the state's support, Relativity Space leased a former Boeing manufacturing facility in Long Beach and committed to creating over a thousand new jobs there and at their second launch site at Vandenberg. Their massive 1 million square foot Long Beach facility has the largest 3D printers in the world, which will produce the full-scale space technologies necessary to make a Mars mission possible. CalCompetes also provided Astra with the capital needed to expand both manufacturing and research-and-development capabilities at their facility in Alameda.

The Governor's Office of Business and Economic Development (GO-Biz) serves as the State of California's leader for job growth and economic development efforts. GO-Biz offers a range of services to business owners including: attraction, retention and expansion services, site selection, permit streamlining, clearing of regulatory hurdles, small business assistance, international trade development, assistance with state government, and much more. Election Fraud Ten Times Bigger than '2,000 Mules'

Commentary --by Harold Pease, Ph.D.

After the release of "2,000 Mules," Gregg Philips told the Arizona Assembly, "We do indeed have a matter brewing that is 10 times bigger than the Mules." That information was disclosed in The Pit Conference held August 13, 2022 in Arizona sponsored by True The Vote investigative journalists and founders Gregg Phillips and Catherine Engelbrecht to journalists gathered to hear more of what was discovered ("China Interfered in the 2020 Presidential Election, After All," Harold Pease, Ph. D., LibertyUnderFire.org).

When True The Vote proved in "2000 Mules" that domestic vote fraud was more than enough to have "elected" Joe Biden, that was the most serious crime in American history even a coup to overthrow the president of the United States. But their research also documented collusion between many high profile Americans with a foreign country, China. For Americans "knowingly" involved this was treason as well and for a foreign country, an act of war against the United States (See. 18 US Code 2384 Seditious Conspiracy and 18 U.S. Code 2381-treason).

Phillips a n d Engelbrecht took their documents to the FBI. At the lower levels of the organization they received support and encouragement but as the evidence went up the ladder, hostility. The FBI began accusing them of having stolen their documentation from China (X22 Report, Ep. 2849b, Aug. 15, 2022, 18:55). They found themselves being investigated by the FBI instead of the FBI investigating the server in Wuhan University that had a data base on 1.8 million Americans, everyone who had worked as a volunteer in an election in the United States – and their private personal information, collected and stored by the China Communist Party. Some Americans had colluded with the Chinese government in what is potentially the crime of the millennia – at least since Columbus in 1492 discovered America. The China Communist Party (CCP) was in the very center of the plot. This was a new type of conquest from within and by infiltration rather than by invasion; most certainly ten times bigger than "2000 Mules."

This bothered them immensely. "The national security agencies of the federal government should have taken action long ago. The fact that private citizens are having to expose the CCP infiltration of national security structure and take action while the DOJ FBI, CIA, NSA, Cyber Command and CISCA are either caught napping to this threat or are complicit in covering it up, is infuriating and alarming." (X22, Ep. 2866b, Sept. 4, 2022, 29:25) Given the FBI reaction at the top and their efforts to censor the Hunter Biden laptop from the 2020 Presidential Election information, we suspect the latter. If they "knowingly" covered up the China connection they were working for a foreign government.

With collusion and censorship by the Deep State media and the national security agencies of the federal government, True The Vote had to form their own investigative body. They needed other investigative journalists to prob further with them. They called their group of "over 100 experienced thinkers and researchers," The Tiger Project. One of these, Brian Cage, wrote: "The Tiger Project was explained to us and then we were asked for help. We gave it!!"

On Telegram he framed what was already documented. These follow: 1) "Almost all the software code in the ABS platform is being used to run elections in hundreds of U.S. counties ... written by programmers from the CCP" (China Communist Party). 2) These were "owned by CEOs running companies with direct ties to the CCP." 3) "CCP law means whatever code they write, whatever app they own, any platform they have a right to take digital information on the Apple platform and download it to China because they own it. It's theirs. [If] you use a CCP owned and connected digital high-put into it can become their property. If you're on WeChat or Tick Tock get off now." 4) "And since they own the data and it belongs to them, once the data is inside mainland China they can do whatever they want with it." 5) "It was discovered by Catherine Engelbrecht and Gregg Phillips of True The Vote that China has been downloading some of the data running over these CCP connected EMS apps and platforms. The detailed personal identification, PII, from 1.8 million US election workers is just the start of what the CCP considers itself to own." 6) "CCP wrote the code for and manages and operates the EMS system in multiple countries, and it considers all the data it gets its hands on via the EMS system, to be theirs and they can do whatever they see fit with it." 7). "This makes removing the CCP controls and affiliates so for apps and platforms from the US election system in hundreds of U.S. counties a serious matter of national security" (X22 Report, Ep. 2866b, September 4, 2022, 25:00-30:00). He told us what must be done after the country is fully awakened to the fact that "our election system has been corrupted by a hostile foreign power." Then all "CCP controlled affiliate EMS apps and platforms" and machines must be discarded and we must return to only paper ballots.

Thus far Deep State platforms have given no rebuttal to the information respecting the Pit findings or the Tiger Project. It, as with its predecessor "2000 Thousand Mules," benefits from an enemy that argues with silence and censorship. But with a team of a hundred investigative journalists attempting to discover and report more fully this coup, LibertyUnderFire will have opportunity to share more details later.

What we do know is that China operates an election management system that is used in hundreds of our cities and counties that allows them to influence our elections, perhaps select our leaders as well as per Biden, and thus they have conquered half of America without their firing a missile or a bullet. We also know that they have records and personal data on at least 1.8 million U.S. election workers plus their families, the vast majority of Americans oblivious to

New Laws Trade One Gerrymander for Another

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

California once had a history of epic political and legal battles over redrawing legislative and congressional districts after each decennial census.

The Legislature, dominated then as now by Democrats, would create maps that enhanced the party's prospects of gaining, or at least holding, power and if the governor was a Democrat, the gerrymandered districts would become law.

That happened after the 1980 census when then-Gov. Jerry Brown signed redistricting bills that were especially one-sided. The late Congressman Phil Burton, who largely drew weirdly shaped, but highly partisan, congressional maps called them "my contribution to modern art."

The initial set of maps was challenged by Republicans via referenda and voters rejected them, but Democratic legislators and Brown simply passed slightly amended versions.

However, if the governor happened to be a Republican, he would veto the Democrats' maps and the state Supreme Court would step into the impasse and appoint a special master to draw replacement maps that tended to favor neither party. It happened under Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan after the 1970 census

Gov. Pete Wilson.

A twist on the process occurred after the 2000 census. Although a Democrat, Gray Davis, was governor, leaders of both parties agreed on what amounted to a bipartisan gerrymander, freezing quo in the Legislature and congressional delegation. An indirect threat that the Republican-led U.S. Justice Department would thwart forced the compromise.

of Capitol politicians dictating the shape of legislative and congressional districts ultimately sparked a backlash – a 2008 ballot measure to shift legislative redistricting to a 14-member commission of five Democrats, five Republicans have a slight Republicans and four declined-to-state independents. Two years later, voters extended the commission's authority to congressional in both parties didn't like losing their authority. Democrats were particularly unhappy since they had legislative majorities and the national party tried to thwart having the commission change congressional districts.

Nevertheless, the commission drew new districts after the 2010 and 2020 censuses and while their maps may have been imperfect, they more fairly captured the population's very diverse makeup.

So if it's a good idea at the state level, why not for local government. That's local governments, such as city councils, county boards of supervisors and school boards, which are just as prone to self-interested redistricting?

In 2016, the Legislature newspapers.

and 20 years later under GOP decreed that a 14-member commission would redraw districts of Los Angeles County's five-member Board of Supervisors. A year later, virtually identical legislation was passed for San Diego County and this year, clones were enacted that affect in place the partisan status Fresno, Riverside and Kern counties.

All five measures, however, deviate significantly from the state model of evenhanded party representation. a Democratic gerrymander They require that county redistricting commissioners The obvious self-interest reflect the partisan makeup of each county's registered

Re-Elect Assemblyman Ken Cooley

ABOUT KEN COOLEY

Assemblyman Ken Cooley and his wife of 47 years, Sydney, have made their home in eastern Sacramento County since 1977. They raised their sons here and passed their love of camping and hiking in California's mountains, rivers and lakes. As a young man, Ken worked in the Legislature and today he is the only sitting lawmaker who has run a multi-year program of active executive branch oversight and also supported a successful veto override. Both are vital to fulfilling sthe Legislature's role as a co-equal branch of government.

Ken's experience and skill have earned him leadership duties in the State Capitol as Chair to both the Assembly Rules Committee and the Joint Senate and Assembly Rules Committee. As a strong advocate for the communities he represents, in recent budgets he helped local projects access about $50 million dollars in state funds.

Ken believes the most uniquely "American method" in problem-solving seen in churches, service clubs and PTA's – is based on listening, so that all are encouraged to speak up so a sense of the group can emerge, often reflecting parts of all the ideas shared. Ken thinks this "American method" is how all governments should make decisions.

Aerospace Museum: We Did Do It!

By Ruth N. Morse

MCCLELLAN, CA (MPG) -The Aerospace Museum hosted its second annual STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) 'We Can Do It' event on Saturday, September 24, 2022. The co-chairs Heidi Sanborn and Linda Martin put together an experience meant for girls in junior high and high school. The program encourages them to consider studies and careers in math, science and engineering. Specializing in aerospace technology from multiple eras, the Museum is uniquely situated to provide this.

Statistically, girls participate in STEM endeavors less than boys. Twenty-six percent of STEM participants are female. The program leads interests in such areas as robotics, space and many other math-based careers. Also offered are the satisfaction of career choice as well as challenges in scientific and intellectual pursuits of all kinds. For the intellectually curious, these paths are not only personally rewarding but also beneficial to a technologically based society.

The Aerospace Museum called on Rosie the Riveter as a mascot for the Saturday event. During World War II, women became involved in assisting the Allies by working in factories. Iconic views of Rosie the Riveter appeared on t-shirts worn by volunteers, attendees and staff. They also sported red scarves with white dots following the female factory workers of the 1940s.

A story about women who broke ground laying the foundations for the U.S. space program became famous recently in the movie Hidden Figures. The Museum is currently working on a mural featuring famous women in the history of aviation. Also prominent on the museum floor is a display highlighting women historical figures in science and math.

Spearheading the Saturday encounter were two co-chairs, both highly passionate about students becoming involved in STEM activities. Linda Martin is the Museum Board's President and was formerly an Assistant Supervisor of the San Juan Unified School District, one of the Sacramento area school districts and located nearby the museum. She feels strongly that girls should be exposed to science and math so that doors can open, and women can enter careers in the field. For this, role models and mentors are needed.

Heidi Sanborn is the other co-chair of the event. She is an elected official on the SMUD Board. Her other passion is waste and recycling. She was instrumental in getting California State SB 54 passed which will aid in achieving zero carbon in packaging by 2030. As the daughter of a chemist, she was inspired to look into a STEM career herself and has been challenged and inspired by it. She wants the community to know that STEM activities at the museum are monthly and a strong focus of the facility. San Juan Unified School District partners with the Aerospace Museum. As a great illustration of support, girls were bussed from various junior high and high schools to attend the event. The busses were packed with girls representative of the cultural diversity in the Sacramento region. They visited the planes, used program passports to show their viewing of various displays and connected with career mentors. On the lighter side, snacks were enjoyed, pictures with friends were taken, a few stepped into cultural dance steps as the disc jockey played lively and cultural tunes with a beat around and had pictures taken, generally enjoying themselves. The general atmosphere was both entertaining and educational

Volunteers and staff are an integral part of the venue on special days like 'We Can Do It'. Phyllis Caesar, a former principal in SJUSD, was enjoying her first volunteer event at the museum. Liz Stowell, a passionate STEM advocate, has been at the museum for quite some time. She began as an air traffic controller in New York and then went on to work with high voltage power grids. Her father was a pilot and bomber in World War II, so she has had an interest in aviation for a long time.

Elliot Lopez entered into the spirit of the day by sporting the bandana and t-shirt. He has been part of the educational support staff at the museum for a few months and loves his job there, as do many of the other enthusiastic staff.

A panel of speakers took the stage in the afternoon to discuss their careers and interests in STEM and hopefully inspire others to participate in like pursuits.

Since the museum does not receive local or state funding, it relies heavily on its support partners and Saturday was no exception. SJUSD paid for and provided the busses for enthusiastic junior high and high school students. SMUD brought giveaways and information. The Girl Scouts, a local robotic team, and volunteers from St. Francis High School in Sacramento also participated.
