Micro Food Hall Planned

Property held by Merlone-Geier undergoing a renovation at Sunrise Village Shopping Center at 7855 Madison Avenue in Citrus Heights.

by Thomas J. Sullivan

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - A San Francisco-based micro food hall concept, Local Kitchens, is expanding its presence in the greater Sacramento area with a new site planned for Citrus Heights.

Updated leasing materials published by the property owner/manager Merlone-Geier for Sunrise Village in Citrus Heights now undergoing a major renovation, show the micro food hall will occupy a 2,030-square-foot space in a stand-alone building in the Sunrise Village Shopping Center at 7855 Madison Avenue in Suite C. Little Caesars Pizza is an adjacent tenant.

Local Kitchens was founded by Jon Goldsmith and Andrew Munday, both who were colleagues at DoorDash. Their concept helps restaurants expand beyond their brick-and-mortar locations. Each location houses a variety of individual concept restaurants under one roof, allowing customers to mix and match their orders into a single order for dine in, takeout or delivery. Convenient online and mobile ordering, paired with fast and friendly service is offered.

Sunrise Village at 5425 Sunrise Boulevard includes businesses such as Joann Fabric and Crafts, Rite Aid, a planned City Sports Club and a 38,000-square-foot grocery store.

Press representatives for Local Kitchens in San Francisco and Merlone-Geier, the property owner, were unavailable for comment.

According to the Local Kitchens, their concept is described as ideal to meet the needs of families, foodies, and large groups with a wide variety of cuisines from the best local restaurant brands to accommodate every palette and preference, all with seamless online ordering and fast, reliable service. Great dishes from multiple restaurant brands can then be available all under one roof, prepared fresh to order by Local Kitchens' culinary team.

Local Kitchens, which operates six locations in the Bay Area, has opened at the Highland Reserve Marketplace in Roseville – its first location outside the Bay Area. A second Roseville location in the Renaissance Creek shopping center along Sierra College Boulevard opened earlier this spring. Additional locations are in the works for Folsom and Natomas, according to the company.

The Roseville location features food from five different specialty restaurants: Señor Sisig, Curry Up Now, The Melt, Nash & Proper and Garden of Eat'n. The last two – Nash & Proper and Garden of Eat'n – are popular Sacramento-area originals. Which restaurants will be featured in the new Citrus Heights location has yet to be announced. ★

Playmakers Goes National

Story by Shauna Boyd

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

- Local non-profit organization The Playmakers has been teaching character and leadership through sports since the founding in 2009. The Playmakers founder Greg Roeszler, known as Coach Roz, saw the need for at-risk kids, such as foster youth and kids with developmental differences, to have real opportunities to be included and build relationships through team sports.

Playmakers has reached thousands of local kids through their summer football camps and after-school programs, all of which are free to students and their families. And Playmakers is expanding their reach by taking the football camps national: This summer, in addition to the local Sacramento camp, Playmakers hosted camps in Ohio, Iowa, and Florida.

It costs about $10,000 to host a camp, and they are completely free for the students and their families. The camps are funded through private and corporate donations, various fundraising events, and with support from local civic groups, schools, and churches.

The camps are facilitated by athletes from the local high schools, who oversee the activities and participate along with the kids. Coach Roz said, "It's been encouraging to see high school kids want and be willing to serve. ... A lot of kids are craving that."

And next summer, in addition to the existing camps, Playmakers will be expanding to Washington D.C.—hosting a camp at Gallaudet University for the deaf and hearing impaired. And the high school students who help out locally at the Sacramento camp will have the opportunity to travel with Playmakers to Washington D.C.

High school athletes volunteer as leaders at The Playmakers camps, which offer a day of fun activities for at-risk kids and those with developmental differences as they learn about the importance of character while building relationships through team sports. Photo courtesy of The Playmakers to help at that camp, allowing them to further practice their leadership skills in a new venue.

"There are kids everywhere that need this opportunity," said Coach Roz. "We can expand anywhere there is an interest."

For many of the kids who attend these camps, it's the first time they've had a chance to play a sport with other people and be included this way – and Coach Roz said it means so much to both the kids and their families. "It's a great experience for everyone involved," he said.

"It all just revolves around relationships," explained Coach Roz. "We're learning so much, spending time with them." And these lessons are expanding into a new avenue for Playmakers, as they give the high school athletes the opportunity to become leaders of inclusiveness on their own campuses. Just launched this school year is a calendar of events, a playbook for the athletes to follow as they take the initiative and build relationships with the special education classes at their schools. The Playmakers' calendar of events includes activities such as painting pumpkins for Halloween and decorating ornaments for Christmas. Coach Roz said these activities keep the kids involved and the relationships connected throughout the school year.

So, in multiple states across the country, as this new school year is getting started, high school athletes are taking those lessons of connection and inclusion to heart, and forging relationships with special education students to make them an integral part of the social life on campus.

As Playmakers is growing and expanding, these high school students are serving as delegates, bringing that message into the schools, serving as role models to other students on how to lead with character and compassion and make a difference for those who need it most.

Vandals Target Popular Japanese Restaurant for a Third Time

By Bill Bird

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The Fukumi Japanese Restaurant located in Citrus Heights is a target. Unfortunately, the restaurant that specializes in serving Hakata-style ramen dishes and soups isn't the target of an adoring fan base. It's the target of one or more criminals who keep showing up in the dead of night to cause as much destruction as possible.

Every large picture-framed style window at the Citrus Heights location was smashed to pieces on the night of Sunday, September 17th. It is the third time this year, so far, that vandals have chosen to target this one Fukumi location at 5410 Sunrise Blvd. The windows of other businesses that share the same building location near Sunrise and Madison Avenues were not touched.

This latest incident follows vandalism attacks that took place last June and again in February of this year. Video from security cameras positioned outside Fukumi Restaurant reveal a suspect wearing a dark ski mask and dressed in black clothing. The suspect uses a large hammer to break or shatter as many windows around the business as possible before running off.

The Citrus Heights Police Department (CHPD) is very much aware of this latest attack. Sgt. Shaun Gualco says the Investigations Unit is focusing on whether the attacks might be related and who is behind them.

"There have been some previous news reports that suggest these attacks are racially motivated," Sgt. Gualco told MPG. "Our investigation, so far, is showing that it's not."

Sgt. Gualco confirms that no arrests have been made, and CHPD hopes to have an update on the case in about two weeks. A retired law enforcement source who spoke with MPG on the condition of anonymity believes the lack of vandalism damage at businesses that share the same building with the restaurant is important.

"It tells me that it's not some kind of random act," the retired law enforcement source told MPG. "It could be a family issue, trouble with a former employee or even a disgruntled customer."

Fukumi isn't the only Citrus Heights area restaurant to be targeted for similar vandalism incidents. Attackers who wore similar dark clothing, including ski masks, also used large hammers to shatter several windows earlier this year at Mountain Mikes Pizza near Sunrise and Antelope. The two restaurants are less than a mile apart from one another.

The Fukumi Restaurant Group operates the Citrus Heights location and two other restaurants that are in Roseville and Folsom. The two other locations have not been targeted for vandalism attacks.

The Fukumi location in Citrus Heights remains open for business following the latest attack. However, it is limited to take-out orders only until damage to the business can be repaired. ★

Sarama Launches Run for SJUSD

Moe Sarama for SJUSD

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) -Moe Sarama announced his candidacy for San Juan Unified School District (SJUSD), Area 7 on Sept. 18 at the Sylvan Community Center in Citrus Heights. His campaign kickoff featured Citrus Heights Mayor Porsche Middleton and other community members who enthusiastically endorsed his candidacy.

"I have decided to run to represent parents' perspective on the board and will work in collaboration with teachers, staff and the administration to benefit our kids," said Sarama during the kickoff. "Earlier in the pandemic, I watched parents and educators alike rise to an unprecedented challenge. Everyone worked harder than ever to protect the education to which students are entitled. This deep commitment to the success and education of our children must be the foundation of all work taken on by the San Juan Unified School District Board."

Sarama further noted that he is the only candidate for the trustee area that has kids enrolled in SJUSD. He moved with his family to Citrus Heights two decades ago to enroll his children in the district. His three daughters have since graduated while his son is still enrolled. He also prides himself on coming from a family of educators. Two of his sisters were schoolteachers in New York City while his older brother was a superintendent for one of that city's largest school districts.

Prominent supporters of his candidacy include former SJUSD President Paula Villascas, current SJUSD Vice President Zima Creason, Sacramento Municipal Utility District Board President Brandon Rose, Sacramento City Mayor Pro Tem Eric Guerra, among other elected leaders, educators and parents.

Moe Sarama is a community advocate, businessman and parent who is running to represent Citrus Heights on the San Juan Unified School District Board of Education. Coming from a family of educators, he seeks to bring the perspective of a parent to San Juan Unified. He graduated from Sacramento State with a bachelor's degree in environmental studies and currently works in transportation logistics. He lives in the Roseville Station neighborhood of Citrus Heights with his family. ★

Shooting Investigation on Crux Drive

CHPD News Release

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - On September 26, 2022, just after 3:30 AM, Citrus Heights Police dispatchers received a 911 call advising of shots fired in the 6900 block of Crux Drive. The reporting party was passing by a residence located on Crux Drive when they heard three gunshots. Our officers arrived on scene and quickly established a perimeter around the residence where the gunshots were believed to have originated.

During our investigation, several people were observed coming and going from the residence and were contacted as part of our investigation. As a result, three arrests were made, and one firearm was seized. The suspects arrested were 21-year-old, Leroy Vonbehren of North Highlands for being a felon in possession of a firearm, 28-year-old, Anthony Gomez of Sacramento for an outstanding warrant related to possession of controlled substances, and 31-year-old, Aaron Bucher of Citrus Heights for outstanding domestic violence related charges.

Out of an abundance of caution, our SWAT team was utilized to make entry and ensure there were no additional occupants inside the home. During this incident, our staff contacted a nearby Montessori school to suggest they close the school for the day to ensure their safety and prevent concerns from parents and students. There were no injuries as a result of this incident.

This investigation is ongoing, and we urge anyone with additional information to contact the Citrus Heights Police Department at 916-727-5500. We want to thank our community members for their patience as we worked to bring a peaceful resolution to this incident. ★

Dave Ramsey Says

An Uncomfortable Situation

Dear Dave,

I need your advice. I just accepted a new job in a field I love three weeks ago. Yesterday, I was recruited and offered a position by a huge company for the same kind of position, and they pay more than twice what I'm making now. I did not send in a resume, or fill out an application for the job that was just offered. They came directly to me, and it was a huge surprise. I don't have a contract with my current employer, but they are good people and I want to handle things well and do the right thing. Can you help?

- Jenny

Dear Jenny,

Long story short, I think you take the new job. Now, how do you handle this with your present employer? With total honesty, respect and a lot of gratitude. Walk into your boss's office, and lay out the whole situation truthfully. Let them know what has happened, how it happened, and while you feel awful about how things worked out, you had no intention of misleading them or causing problems. On top of all that, promise to do everything possible to make the transition as easy as you can.

In uncomfortable scenarios, it's always a good idea to try to put yourself in the other person's shoes. Let's pretend you own a business, and you just hired a young lady. A few weeks later, someone comes in, completely out of the blue, and offers her more than double what she's making with you. I can tell you what would happen at my company. I'd tell her to take it. I'm serious. I mean, as an employer I'm certainly not going to double her income that quickly. And while I'd be surprised, and a little disappointed, I'd be happy she has the chance to take such a big step up.

If an organization cares about its people, and one of those team members has the opportunity to significantly increase their income - and they're not breaking a contract or promise in the process - this type of scenario is perfectly reasonable, even if it's a little inconvenient for the current employer in the short term. I know it'll be uncomfortable for you, Jenny, but they can't realistically expect you to pass up a chance to do what you love at double-plus what you're making now. Congratulations!

- Dave

GPS To Happiness

Are you really distracted these days? I mean with the pandemic and the economy and inflation and on and on, how would you not be distracted? Wouldn't it be nice to get back to a real life and true happiness? It's a gift we certainly can use. So I had Marina Shakour Haber on my POPOFF Radio show, and directly asked her to give us some tips on how to be happy. She coaches people to get out from all the negativity, and change their thinking to create a happier way of life in her book "Your GPS To Happiness" How to navigate from where you are to fulfillment, prosperity and the life of your dreams. Marina is known as the Happiness Guru. She actually co-founded her spiritual activism group in response to the covid pandemic. So here's her top ten tips to reach out for happiness.

SMILE. Even if it's a fake smile, it can have a positive impact on your mood. Smiling moves the muscles which message your brain that you are happy, thus increasing levels of happiness which induce hormones like dopamine and serotonin.

- 2. Focus on better feeling thoughts and positive emotions. You can feel the joy of past and future experiences in the present moment.
- 3. Express gratitude for all the good in your life. Your brain cannot hold two opposing thoughts like lack and abundance at the same time. Focus on abundance.
- 4. Calm your thoughts through mindfulness and deep breathing. Fear and frenzy constrict muscles and breathing, thus cutting off the life force. Inhale and exhale deeply. Go to your heart space, your sanctuary, and the eye of the storm, to calm your mind.
- 5. Focus on what you want. Visualize your future vividly, dare to dream big, and feel the joy as if it were already so. When feeling down, pull that vision up, and experience the joy in the now

- 6. Engage in something that brings you joy and gives meaning to your life. Meaning is found in something that is greater than yourself.
  - 7. Relationships are fundamental to happiness. Develop personal connections and physical and social interactions.
  - 8. Stop fantasizing negatively about what could go wrong. This type of thinking leads to chronic worrying and distress.
  - 9. Become aware of what you think. Then, you write it down, so that you know where you are mentally and emotionally.
  - 10. Set Your GPS. When you know where you are, which is your mindset, and where you want to be, which is your future visions, you get clarity direction, and purpose which keeps you calm. That allows you guidance to come in with actionable steps so you can arrive at happiness successfully while avoiding failure.
- Happiness has to come from within, so get ready for "Your GPS to Happiness." You can check out what Marina does at www.YourGPStoHappiness.com. My favorite tip is to smile. You would be surprised how many people will smile back. Give it a try. And may HAPPINESS be your guide!!! ★

Subject in Window Smash Series Investigation Arrested

By Commander Jason Russo, CHPD News Release

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Over the past several months, the Sacramento region experienced a series of window smash vandalism crimes targeting local businesses. Detectives from multiple jurisdictions coordinated efforts to collect evidence, develop leads, and identify motives and witnesses to these crimes. The investigation revealed multiple victims and included multiple county jurisdictions linked to the potential series of vandalisms.

Many of the business victims suffered extensive losses totaling thousands of dollars to repair their large glass windows. It is estimated that the total loss to the collective businesses exceeds $500,000. A few businesses suffered losses on multiple occasions. In Citrus Heights, a pizza restaurant at 7700 Sunrise Blvd and a noodle restaurant at 5400 Sunrise

Blvd. were targeted on two separate occasions.

On September 29, 2022, Detectives from the Citrus Heights and the Sacramento Police Department served simultaneous search warrants at a residence and a business location of a person of interest in this felony vandalism series of crimes. During the service of the search warrant, Philip Archuleta, a 30-year-old male of Roseville, was arrested for unrelated crimes including possession of a stolen assault weapon, and child endangerment.

The investigation is ongoing, and we anticipate additional charges related to the vandalism series in the near future. Archuleta was running the business of "Brothers Doors and Glass" without a contractor's license. Throughout this investigation we determined this not to be a hate related crime.

We would like to thank the Sacramento Police Department Detectives for their collaboration with the investigation of these crimes, and we would like to thank our businesses and our community partners for their patience and cooperation while we worked to identify those responsible for the damage caused to the various businesses in the region.

Without the collaborative efforts of our Detectives, and the Sacramento Detectives, and the use of advance investigative technology, this case would likely not have been solved. ★

Small Business PAC Endorses Roger Niello for State Senate

NFIB California News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The political action committee for California's largest and leading small-business association announced its endorsement of Roger Niello for State Senate.

"There was no question or guess work in our PAC board's unanimous endorsement of Roger Niello for State Senate," said John Kabateck, California state director for the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), speaking for the NFIB CA PAC, which made the endorsement. "Roger Niello proved himself a champion of small business all six years he served in the State Assembly. We have no doubt he'll be again in the State Senate. Roger Niello will also bring to the Senate the same success he had in bringing disparate groups together for the common purpose of serving all Californians. His achievements and style are what are sorely lacking in the State Capitol. Roger Niello is small businesses' choice for State Senate."

The 6th State Senate District includes parts of Sacramento and Placer counties.

NFIB's national membership spans the spectrum of business operations, ranging from sole proprietor enterprises to firms with hundreds of employees. While there is no standard definition of a small business, the typical NFIB member employs 10 people and reports gross sales of about $500,000 a year. The NFIB membership is a reflection of American small business. Small-business owners are also a potent political force.

Keep up with the latest on California small-business news at www.nfib.com/ca

For nearly 80 years, NFIB has been advocating on behalf of America's small and independent business owners, both in Washington, D.C., and in all 50 state capitals. NFIB is a nonprofit, nonpartisan, and member-driven association. Since its founding in 1943, NFIB has been exclusively dedicated to small and independent businesses and remains so today. # California Refusing to Release School Test Results

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

California's Department of Education has finally acknowledged the obvious: It is arbitrarily delaying the release of results from this year's round of academic testing.

In years past, scores from the spring Smarter Balanced tests of academic achievement have been released in late summer or early fall, but this year, the department denied a request for statewide results even though it authorized individual districts to make their data available.

Why? Mary Nicely, chief deputy state superintendent for instruction, told EdSource, a website devoted to California education issues, which had requested the data, that the numbers would be released as part of a "dashboard" that includes other "metrics" on how schools are performing.

"We are on track to release the data as we did last year. If we can come out sooner, we will," she said. "We are not withholding anything; people are working hard to finalize the data."

That doesn't wash. There's absolutely no reason that data already given to school districts should not be made public now and included in the "dashboard" later. It's likely that the test results will show a sharp decline in the abilities of California's school children in basic skills, such as reading and math, due to the state's shutdowns of schools during the COVID-19 pandemic.

State officials probably want to sugarcoat the bad news by delaying it until after the Nov. 3 election and combining it with other material that would dilute its importance. Tony Thurmond, the state schools superintendent, will be on the ballot along with Gov. Gavin Newsom and other Democratic officeholders and while all are favored to win re-election, bad news on schools would be embarrassing.

We know that the post-pandemic test results are likely to be disappointing. That's been the pattern in other states. Los Angeles Unified has already released its quite negative test results, reversing about five years of gradual progress in the state's largest school system.

In LA Unified, about 72% of students did not meet state standards in math, five percentage points higher than pre-pandemic testing. In English, 58% were subpar, two points higher.

"The pandemic deeply impacted the performance of our students," said LA Unified Supt. Alberto Carvalho. "Particularly kids who were at risk, in a fragile condition, prior to the pandemic, as we expected, were the ones who have lost the most ground."

If LA Unified had enough guts to tell its voters and parents the harsh truth, there's no valid rationale for Thurmond not to do so for the entire state.

After its request for statewide results was denied, EdSource pressed the issue with a letter from its attorney requesting reconsideration.

"EdSource considers delay tantamount to denial as it effectively robs the public of its vital role in overseeing the CDE (Department of Education) and individual districts and in holding both accountable to its students and the public. This is especially important during what continues to be one of the most challenging and impactful times to our educational system due to the COVID pandemic," EdSource attorney Duffy Carolan wrote.

EdSource's letter told the Department of Education that it "cannot identify any 'public' interest in non-disclosure that could justify its denial position, let alone an interest that 'clearly outweighs' the substantial public interest in access to this information."

This is not only a politically tinged education issue but a major test for the state's Public Records Act, which allows public agencies to withhold information only under extreme circumstances. If records can be withheld for obvious political purposes in this case, the Public Records Act might as well be junked entirely.

DAR Student Essay Contest Seeks Submissions

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG)

Members of the General John A. Sutter Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) in Citrus Heights are seeking student submissions to its American History Essay Contest to encourage young people to think creatively about our nation's great history and learn about history in a new light.

Each year, a selected topic for use during the academic year is announced, and contest instructions are published both online and sent to local schools by participating DAR chapters. General John A. Sutter Chapter winners will receive $100 and progress on to DAR district, state and national competitions.

"All students in grades 5 through 12 can compete and we are encouraging public, private, parochial and even home school participation," said Sue Frost, DAR American History Chair and Sacramento County Supervisor.

Students in grades 5-8 are asked to imagine that they are a delegate to the Second Continental Congress which met from May 10, 1775, to March 1, 1781, and was instrumental in shaping what was to become the United States of America. They select one of the 13 original colonies, and then as that delegate, they consider what goals will be important to accomplish for their colony during the Second Continental Congress which met in Philadelphia, PA.

Students in grades 9-12 will write on the topic "Patriots of the American Revolution." Participants will be asked to select a figure from the era of the American Revolution, discuss how he or she influenced the course of the American Revolution, who he or she was and his/her contribution to the founding of a new nation.

"While the essay contest will focus on the men and women who figured in the prominent events of the American Revolution (1773-1783) we hope students may find an everyday man, woman, or child who supported the American Revolution in ways both large and small, someone who inspired them and helped contribute to the founding of our great nation," Frost said.

Students are encouraged to use primary sources (i.e., immediate, first-hand accounts such as letters, diaries, speeches, or newspaper reports) for their research. All essays will be judged for historical accuracy, adherence to the topic, organization of materials, interest, originality, spelling, grammar, punctuation, and neatness, Frost said.

The deadline for essay submissions is Monday, November 7th and early submissions are encouraged.

For questions, additional information or to submit individual student essays contact Dianne at dianne.poppert@genjohnasutter.californiadar.org complete national DAR essay contest rules can be viewed at: <https://www.dar.org/national-society/education/essay-contests>

Essay winners will be invited to an upcoming meeting of the Gen. John A. Sutter Chapter in Citrus Heights to be presented with their awards. Winning essays at the local chapter level will be entered into further competition at the state level, with a chance of progressing to national level competition.

The General John A. Sutter Chapter, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution (NSDAR or DAR), is a non-profit, non-political organization. The chapter meets on the third Saturday of each month between September and May at the Sylvan Community Center, 7521 Community Drive in Citrus Heights.

Women who are 18 years of age and older and who descended from a man or woman who aided in achieving American independence between April 19, 1775, and November 26, 1783, are welcome to apply for DAR membership.

For correspondence, the Chapter mailing address is P.O. Box 1284, Citrus Heights, CA 95611-1284. # ASI Children's Center Distributes Free Diapers

it's about $50 for 160, and that lasts almost half a month.

"I spend about $100 a month on diapers." With the rising price of food, gas and other essentials, there isn't a lot of wiggle room in McCartney's budget - and she's not alone.

To help McCartney and other Sacramento County families struggling with the region's high cost of living, the Associated Students, Inc. (ASI) Children's Center is giving away free diapers.

The center has partnered with the Sacramento Food Bank to become a federally funded National Diaper Distribution site.

Anyone in Sacramento County with young children can obtain from the center 50 free diapers a month, sizes 3 through 5.

"People are struggling because of inflation and have to make some very serious choices between feeding their children or taking care of their diapering needs," said Sherry Velte, ASI Children's Center director. "So, children can be left in diapers too long, which causes diaper rash.

"It's a health concern for children. It can be very severe when children's bottoms are bleeding and have wounds and sores."

Within days of launching on Sept. 2, the Children's Center distributed more than 1,800 diapers, Velte said.

The numbers don't lie, said Lorena Carranza, the Sacramento Food Bank's community resource manager. When the COVID-19 pandemic hit, the number of families the Sacramento Food Bank served doubled from 150,000 a month to more than 300,000, she said.

As the world began to recover last year, the lines at the food bank diminished slightly, only to grow again about four months ago.

"It's because of inflation," Carranza said.

"It's really hitting families hard, so we are right now at 250,000 families a month.

"The cost of living is very high here in Sacramento, and we see it in all the demographic groups. There are a lot of families with little ones. You have to change diapers, there's no way around it. Babies don't wait."

The Sacramento Food Bank became a national diaper distribution site in July 2021 and works with six other organizations in Sacramento County to provide diapers.

The Sacramento Food Bank also partners with Sac State to provide food for the ASI Food Pantry and knowing college students' needs makes the collaboration "a perfect fit," Carranza said.

In addition to special trainings, Velte had to determine how to transport the large boxes of diapers and find a clean, dry place to store them.

"It's not what we're designed to do. We're a childcare facility," she said. "But we're providing diapers to the campus and the community because I know this will be a tremendous service to my student-parents, who are primarily on financial aid."

McCartney picked up diapers on the first day.

"It will help out tremendously," McCartney said. "Prices for everything have been extremely high, and children go through so many diapers. I'm constantly having to buy them."

McCartney, who commutes to campus from Elk Grove, said free diapers mean she'll worry less if there's another spike in the cost of gas or food.

"The ASI Children's Center is an amazing program, and I'm very grateful I'm able to get diapers from here now."

The ASI Diaper Distribution program is open to everyone in Sacramento County with young children. For more information, contact the Children's Center by email or by phone at 916-278-6216. ★

Kiley Responds to State Gas Prices $2 above National Average

Office of Assemblyman Kevin Kiley

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - September 26, 2022, Assemblyman Kevin Kiley (R-Rocklin) released the following statement in response to California's average gas price rising to $5.80, over $2.00 above the national average of $3.73.

"California drivers are now paying $2.07 more than the national average and we are only 20 cents away from $6 per gallon," Kiley said. "This is what happens when the Legislature places relief for the people of our state at the bottom of their priority list. The politicians responsible for this must be held accountable."

In January, Kiley introduced AB 1638, an urgency measure that would have immediately suspended the gas tax and saved Californian's over 50 cents per gallon at the pump. That bill was rejected in the Assembly on multiple occasions. Instead of providing relief, the Speaker of the Assembly created the Select Committee on Gasoline Supply and Pricing to study the issue. To date, the committee has held two hearings and has yet to produce anything actionable.

Assemblyman Kevin Kiley represents the 6th Assembly District, which includes the Sacramento, Placer, and El Dorado County communities of Cameron Park, El Dorado Hills, Fair Oaks, Folsom, Granite Bay, Lincoln, Loomis, Orangevale, Penryn, Rocklin, Roseville, and Sheridan. ★

Republic FC's Open Cup Dream Ends with Heads Held High

By Nicholas Murray,
USL Soccer

ORLANDO, FL (MPG) - After the finality of it all began to dissipate, Sacramento Republic FC's players and staff collectively applauded the travelling fans in the upper reaches of Exploria Stadium, who responded in kind at the end of a dream that ended 15 minutes too soon.

The players and coaching staff then went to collect their finalist medals, where they were greeted by handshakes and commiserations from the dignitaries on hand led by USSF President Cindy Parlow Cone.

And then, in an uncommon turn, they returned to the catwalk placed on the field leading to the stage and surrounded it on either side, offering a guard of honor to the Orlando City SC players and staff that had just defeated them to claim the 2022 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup.

If there was a gesture that summed up Republic FC's historic run, and what the club is made of and stands for, its last act before departing the stage was the perfect illustration.

Glory in victory, honor in defeat.

"The guys did our club, our city, extremely proud," said Republic FC Head Coach Mark Briggs on September 7.

For more than an hour, Sacramento more than held its own against its Major League Soccer opponent. The Lions held more possession, and created shots, but none which threatened Republic FC goalkeeper Danny Vitiello. The home supporters among a club record of 25,527 appeared to be getting restless.

It was, in fact, Republic FC that produced the first shot on target of the game. With 16 minutes to go, Douglas Martinez Jr.'s header off an angled cross from Rodrigo Lopez was claimed by Orlando goalkeeper Pedro Gallese.

It only took a minute, however, for everything to come undone. A misjudgment by Republic FC defender Dan Casey led to a turnover in the defensive end, and within seconds the ball was on the left foot of Uruguayan international Facundo Torres. His strike from the top of the penalty area was perfectly placed, as was his penalty kick five minutes later that sealed the first trophy for the Lions since they claimed the 2013 USL Championship Final, a victory that arrived nine years prior to the day of Wednesday night's triumph.

"When you make mistakes like that, they punish you," Briggs said. "That's the level they play at. You make mistakes at this level, and you get punished. And that's what happened tonight."

As difficult as the ending proved, Sacramento's run brought pride and a sense of rejuvenation to both the club and the tournament. From the large – and loud – contingent of travelling support that made its presence felt throughout the night at Exploria Stadium to the thousands that attended the club's watch party back on the west coast, Republic FC not only burnished its reputation with its longtime fans but made new ones both locally and nationally.

"At the end of the day we have to be proud of ourselves, you know?" said Lopez, whose four goals tied him for the tournament lead. "We made history. We did things that no-one thought we could do. Put ourselves in a situation to play a final. That's something that everyone should hold on to."

There is more to come for Republic FC, both this season and in the years to come. The club's attention will immediately turn to securing a place in the USL Championship Playoffs, where it currently sits fourth in the Western Conference, and pursuing a second USL Championship title in its history.

Then there's the promise of a new downtown stadium, an Academy program that continues to turn out talented professional prospects and youth internationals, and an ever-growing support base in its city.

"The guys gave a fantastic representation of themselves individually and as a group collectively," said Briggs. "[They] gave a great representation of the USL Championship. They should be proud of the performance they put out there and hopefully it highlights there are good players in the second division. There are good players that have the potential to move on and play on a stage like they played on tonight, if you take the time to look."

As it departed Wednesday night's stage, final handshakes complete, heads held high, Republic FC showed the country what a great club looks and feels like. ★

Re-Elect Assemblyman Ken Cooley

ABOUT KEN COOLEY

Assemblyman Ken Cooley and his wife of 47 years, Sydney, have made their home in eastern Sacramento County since 1977. They raised their sons here and passed their love of camping and hiking in California's mountains, rivers and lakes. As a young man, Ken worked in the Legislature and today he is the only sitting lawmaker who has run a multi-year program of active executive branch oversight and also supported a successful veto override. Both are vital to fulfilling the Legislature's role as a co-equal branch of government.

Ken's experience and skill have earned him leadership duties in the State Capitol as Chair to both the Assembly Rules Committee and the Joint Senate and Assembly Rules Committee. As a strong advocate for the communities he represents, in recent budgets he helped local projects access about $50 million dollars in state funds.

Ken believes the most uniquely "American method" in problem-solving – seen in churches, service clubs and PTA's – is based on listening, so that all are encouraged to speak up so a sense of the group can emerge, often reflecting parts of all the ideas shared. Ken thinks this "American method" is how all governments should make decisions.

LEADERS OF 500 CITIES TAPPED KEN FOR LEADERSHIP

Although Ken was just one of the thousands of elected councilmembers serving in California's 500 cities, Ken's public service focus, respectful listening, and demonstrated ability at helping people find middle-of-the-road solutions to complex issues caught the eye of California city leaders. By Fall 2008, city leaders statewide had advanced him to be the number two state leader of the League of California Cities. Ken considered that a great compliment.
