"Dancer Kōnane Solive a member of Ka Pa Hula O Ha'aheo, performing a story in dance to the music of "Nativ Sun."

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The entire evening was truly one of 'Ohana' or 'family" for the 100 guests, plus volunteers and entertainers at the Veterans Community Center the evening of August 28. Months of planning and preparation with great attention to detail went into every aspect of the evening to be sure each guest felt a warm Hawaiian breeze and all that goes along with the traditional hula celebration. All the work that went into the event was evident from the moment guests entered the outdoor area set up behind the old Sylvan School House. No tropical leaves were left unturned, creating a true sense of family for the event.

water set the tone for the entertainment which lasted into the evening. For the second year (since 2019) entertainment was provided by the music of 'Nativ Sun' accompanied by traditional Hawaiian dancing by Ka Pa Hula Kalama O Ha'aheo based out of Davis. Several guest dancers heard about the event and came from around the area to participate. As the dancers performed, Marc Asuncion gave a short lesson on the art of hula for a better appreciation of its beauty. As is custom, members of the audience joined in for a couple of quick hula lessons throughout the evening, to the delight of the audience.

SJUSD Begins Selection for Next Superintendent

SJUSD News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The San Juan Unified School District Board of Education announced at its meeting on August 23, 2022, that the district will conduct an internal search for its next superintendent of schools. The process kicks off with an opportunity for students, families, community members and staff to share their hopes for the district's future. The board hopes to conclude the selection process and ask the chosen candidate to assume the superintendent's position as of Jan. 1, 2023. A full timeline and overview of the process can be found at www.sanjuan.edu/ superintendent.

"Our schools and our district have a lot to take pride in," said Board of Education President Michael McKibbin. "As a board, we feel it is essential that our next superintendent be able to build upon our strengths to help us address our areas of opportunity. As we continue our journey toward more equitable education, deliver on more than $100 million in specialized programs to address learning loss and the challenges of the pandemic, and continue to implement the work called out in our Local Control Accountability Plan, we must have a leader who understands where we are and has the ability to help us grow." To help inform the board in its selection process, members of the district's community are invited to share input in two ways. The first is online via a Thoughtexchange which offers a chance for participants to share their own thinking but also see what others are sharing. The exchange will be open from Aug. 24 through Sept. 9. The second method is via community forums being held on Sept. 8 at four physical locations as well as one online session. Additional outreach will be conducted with district committees and student groups. Applications will be open to any current San Juan Unified employee beginning Sept. 1 with a closing date of Sept. 15. The board anticipates interviews taking place the week of Sept. 19. "In looking at the superintendent selection processes recently in other districts and the history of success for those hired it becomes clear that stability of leadership is vital. # New CSL Plasma Center to Open

Interior work being conducted on the new plasma center at the former Dimples Records store at 7830 Macy Plaza Drive in Citrus Heights.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Construction of a new plasma donation center has begun on the site of the former Dimples Records store at 7830 Macy Plaza Drive in Citrus Heights located across the street from Target and adjacent to the Dollar Tree store.

"We hope to open within the next year; however, it is too early to comment on a more specific timeline," said Rhonda Sciarra, director of communications for CSL Plasma, headquartered in Boca Raton, Florida.

CSL Plasma is a division of CSL Behring, a global biotech leader headquartered in King of Prussia, Pennsylvania. The company operates more than 300 CSL Plasma collection centers across the U.S. and overseas, according to its website.

Interior work on the new plasma center began in late August. The 10,000 square foot commercial building, built in 2005, had been vacant since September 2019 when the Sacramento-based independent Dimples Records chain closed all its retail stores.

Faith Christian Academy Witnesses Miracle in a Month

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Thursday evening, September 1, 2022, a Grand Opening was celebrated at the former Citrus Heights United Methodist Church for the start of the school year on September 6th. The Methodist Church property will now be used as a second campus for Faith Christian Academy which is located just down the street. Faith Christian Academy is associated with the First Apostolic Church. In a community effort of work and donations, the Methodist Church has been restored from its days of broken windows, trash and neglect.

For the Grand Opening, many showed up to celebrate the refurbished facility. All the rooms and chapel were open for touring. In attendance were congregants of the First Apostolic Church, students, parents, teachers and the local community. Everyone was pleased with the progress made on the once-abandoned property at 7833 Highland Avenue. Students and parents love the Faith Christian Academy which has grades Kindergarten through 8th grade. The academy provided free bottles of cold water, hot dogs and snocones from a custom food truck, Snowie Shaved Ice.

The change for the Methodist Church was the brainchild of Pastor Kenneth Sullivan of the First Apostolic Church and Principal James Champlain of the Faith Christian Academy. They noticed the former Methodist Church was abandoned and boarded up. The church had declined in membership over the years since its inception in 1961 and had been vacant for two years before Sullivan and Champlain were able to lease the property with an option to buy at the end of this school year.

Principal Champlain spoke about the process. First, he tracked down the owner of the property. This was the California-Nevada Conference of the United Methodist Church. After an agreement was made with the Conference for the eventual transfer of the property, the community work began to bring the abandoned and vandalized church back to life. With money to replace and repair, the church, school and community pitched in and finished it right before the beginning of the school year. Windows had to be replaced in the row of classrooms and the former sanctuary needed to be prepared for its new life as a chapel.

Champlain remembers the local community noticing the activity where there was once an abandoned property. CBS13 covered a story that highlighted the broken windows and boarded up colored-glass windows. The news report stated, "From a place of worship to a place of waste: A local church has become an eyesore." Also, "It's going to take a modern-day barn-raising effort to bring this old church back to life." And that is exactly what happened. In a thirty-day miracle, people pitched in, cheered them on, donated time, money and some great stories. One of the women who assisted had been married in the former Methodist Church and donated to the cause.

Faith Christian Academy was started in 1976 by Betty Wilburn, the motherin-law of James Champlain. At first it was a nursery, but it is now a school with enrollment in kindergarten through 8th grades. The new acquisition for the school will house the current junior high grades (7th and 8th) and will be the site for a new high school program starting in the fall of 2022. Both campuses are on Highland Avenue in Citrus Heights, and it is easy to walk between them. The school is popular and draws students from all over the area. Sometimes, all the children from a familv will attend the school together. There is a waiting list to enter the elementary school and that has been the case for years. The capacity for the student body will increase from 140 students to 180 with the new property acquisition.

The school uses Abeka, a Christian-based graded curriculum. FCA feels that their God-given ministry is to "instruct today's students in Christian character, language, math and traditional subject matter." If anyone is interested in more information about the school, they can contact FCA Middle School at 916-725-5707.

While the last two years have been challenging in many ways, the collaborative effort between the churches and the school brings hope to the Citrus Heights community. After isolation, people are glad to come together. In difficult times, it is good to know that there is still hope for the transformation of a facility that at one time looked like it had outlived its usefulness. Community is important in neighborhoods. schools and churches and the expansion of the Faith Christian Academy is a testament to building for the future. From its blue pews in the chapel to its new windows in the classrooms to its foray into high school to its beautiful colored glass windows, the light and hope of resurrection is evident in the hard work and vision of all who assisted with the Citrus Heights project. Hopefully, it will inspire others to continue to build the community for future generations.

anticipation of new commercial occupancy by the property owner.

Plasma typically collected at CSL Plasma collection centers is used to help manufacture life-saving therapies that are delivered to people suffering rare and serious diseases in more than 100 countries, according to the company.

"CSL Plasma will post open jobs as we get closer to opening on our careers section of CSL Plasma.com," Sciarra said.

Hires will include medical reception and support technicians, phlebotomists, nurses (LVNs, LPNs and RNs) and paramedics, as well as operations and quality management. A mature plasma donation center (operating for about three years) employs approximately 60 full-time equivalent roles or nearly 75 total jobs, including full- and part-time positions, she explained.

To donate at a CSL Plasma collection center, Sciarra said donors must be in good health, between the ages of 18-74, weigh at least 110 pounds, have no tattoos or piercings within the last four months, meet our eligibility and screening requirements and have valid identification and a permanent address.

"It's still too early to comment more on what (donor compensation) payment rates will be at the new center," Sciarra said. A complete list of donor requirements is available on the web at: www.cslplasma.com/ become-a-donor

Human plasma is also used to produce therapies that treat diseases such as primary immune deficiencies, hereditary angioedema, inherited respiratory disease, hemophilia and other bleeding and neurological disorders.

"We chose a new center location based on population density, availability of real estate property and local zoning laws," Sciarra said. A CSL Plasma Center is open in Sacramento and another in Stockton will open soon.

Sciarra said the new Citrus Heights center will be a positive economic force in the local community.

"Our organization brings with it hundreds of employee volunteers, and puts thousands of dollars back into the community," she said.

"CSL Plasma believes in being an integral part of the communities where our employees and plasma donors both live and work, and we look forward to being part of the Citrus Heights community," Sciarra said. ★

Reverse mortgages are loans offered to homeowners who are 62 or older who have equity in their homes. The loan programs allow borrowers to defer payment on the loans until they pass away, sell the home, or move out. Homeowners, however, remain responsible for the payment of taxes, insurance, maintenance, and other items. Nonpayment of these items can lead to a default under the loan terms and ultimate loss of the home. HA insured reverse mortgages have an up front and ongoing cost; ask your loan officer for details. Current San Juan Unified Superintendent Kent Kern announced his intent to retire by the end of the 2022-23 school year in early August, starting the board's discussion on a selection process. He has committed to moving to a support role focused on the transition of the board from five to seven members this year as well as supporting the onboarding of the new superintendent. Kern has served as San Juan Unified superintendent since 2014. He will be the second longest-serving superintendent in district history when he retires this school year. ★

Change Tactics Dear Dave,

I recently had a judgment filed against me for an unpaid, old hospital bill. Is it possible to negotiate things with the lawyer? Originally, the charges were $2,700 but now they have increased to $3,500, and I am not sure why the amount has risen. I have made several phone calls asking him for a detailed statement of the account, but all I have received is a payment booklet. What is your advice?

– Ronnie

Dear Ronnie,

Are you sure you've been speaking directly to the lawyer? I'm guessing

Dave Ramsey Says

the reason you haven't gotten a real answer to your question is because you've actually been talking to some low-level staffer or paralegal. If you have been talking to the lawyer, there's a pretty good chance he's running a small debt collections or debt lawsuit machine. If this is the case, he probably gets a piece of whatever he collects. That means he's out to collect as much as possible, as quickly as he can.

You might consider changing tactics, and see if you can talk to the hospital administrator. Propose giving them $2,000, or whatever reasonable amount you can afford, on the agreement that the hospital accept it as payment in full. Hospitals and doctor's offices are often some of the easiest folks to work with when it comes to paying off debt, but people have to be proactive and make an honest, good faith effort to make it happen.

There's a moral, as well as legal, responsibility involved when it comes to paying off bills or debt, Ronnie. You should always pay what you owe if at all possible.

Newsom Calls GOP Governors 'Bullies," But What About Him?

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

Politicians who claim to have an elevated moral purpose risk being branded as hypocrites if they fail to live up to the standards they set for others.

California Gov. Gavin Newsom runs that risk as he denounces the Republican governors of other states, particularly Ron DeSantis of Florida and Greg Abbott of Texas, as "bullies" for their states' policies on abortion, gay rights and other issues.

Newsom has run ads critical of the two governors and donated $100,000 to DeSantis' challenger, Charlie Crist. At the very least, Newsom is raising his national political profile. But it could be the beginning of a presidential campaign, which he denies.

"People keep asking why I'm calling out DeSantis and these Republican governors," Newsom tweeted late last month. "The answer is simple: I don't like bullies."

Newsom's tweet contained his interview with ABC news, including a lengthy rant beginning with "I can't take what's going on in this country."

"I can't take what these governors are doing state after state affecting minorities, affecting vulnerable communities, threatening fines, going after the LGBTQ community, saying if you've been raped by your father you don't have the right to express yourself and rights over your own body," Newsom told ABC's Matt Gutman.

"My entire life I don't like bullies," Newsom added. "I don't like people who other other people. I don't like people who demean other people and that's being celebrated in American politics today and you got to call it out. DeSantis is the worst of it but Abbott and these other guys, they're right there and forgive me, I'm naming them because we have to and I think people need to understand what's going on in this country and there's too much at stake."

On the issues that Newsom cites, particularly abortion and LGBTQ rights, his criticism is more than warranted. But calling rival governors "bullies" is over the top. After all, they were duly elected to their positions, as was Newsom, and like him, probably will be re-elected this year. Their positions on these hot button issues would not fly in California, but they apparently do in their states.

That's not bullying; it's governing, which often means compelling people to do things they'd rather not do. Newsom has done a lot of it since becoming governor nearly four years ago, especially during the COVID-19 pandemic, when Likewise, parents complained that Newsom arbitrarily closed schools and forced their children into "Zoom school" even though COVID-19's threat to children was scant.

Many of California's city officials have complained that Newsom is bullying them into building high-density housing that their constituents don't want, threatening legal action or financial sanctions if they don't comply. Newsom says the state must act aggressively to solve its housing shortage.

California gun owners complain constantly that Newsom and the Legislature impose nonsensical, harassing regulations on their constitutional right to bear arms.

Newsom considers all of those acts, and many others, to be governing - just as DeSantis, Abbott, et al, consider what they do to be governing. But in the eyes of beholders, he could be just as easily branded a bully.

Finally, doesn't Newsom's name-calling make him one of the "people who demean other people" he professes to despise?

Commentary by Sally C. Pipes

Congressional

Democrats are increasingly optimistic about this fall's midterm elections. They believe their recently enacted Inflation Reduction Act, especially its healthcare provisions, will win them plaudits from voters.

But they could be in for a rude awakening. Contrary to lawmakers' claims, the Inflation Reduction Act won't reduce inflation or bring down drug prices for most Americans. Many voters will ultimately feel duped, and they could take their frustrations out at the ballot box for years to come.

Consider a recent analvsis of the IRA by the Penn Wharton Business Model, the authors of which reported "low confidence that the legislation will have any impact on inflation." The Congressional Budget Office reached a similar conclusion, finding that the bill would have "a negligible effect" on inflation in the coming years.

So much for addressing voters' chief concern.

In fact, it's entirely possible that the legislation won't merely fail to reduce inflation, it could actually cause prices to rise further in the years ahead.

The new law extends generous Obamacare subsidies to middle and even high-income households through 2025, at a supposed cost of $64 billion. In reality, the three-year cost may well be higher. Those same subsidies have cost about 50% more than anticipated this year alone, according to health economist Brian Blase.

If a future Congress ultimately makes the subsidies permanent, as Democrats clearly hope to do the ten-year cost will balloon, pumping hundreds of billions more in deficit spending into the economy and driving up inflation.

Or consider the IRA's price controls on prescription drugs. Democrats promised consumers cheaper medicines -but the vast majority of Americans won't notice any difference at the pharmacy counter.

Here's why. The price controls only apply to Medicare, so by definition, Americans with private insurance won't derive any savings from the price caps. Even seniors won't notice much change, since their out-of-pocket copays and coinsurance are set by insurance plans, not drug companies.

Plus, these price controls don't kick in until 2026, and will only impact 10 drugs. That figure will steadily increase to 20 by 2029.

Democrats are doing their best to downplay this inconvenient reality in the hopes of improving midterm prospects. It's a desperate, cynical strategy, and it's unlikely to work. Voters will find out soon enough that, with the IRA, they've been sold a bill of goods and an expensive one at that.

Vote No on Prop. 31 and Let Adults Make their Choices

Commentary by Jon Coupal

California has a lot of problems and not all of them are directly taxpayer related. But, as noted in last week's column, they all interconnect in one important way: Control. Our state's government and its boosters think they know better than you. They know better how to spend your money. They know better how to use your land. They know what's best for you. And, if you disagree, the nanny state will just make it illegal.

Look no further than Proposition 31 on this November's ballot. It's a referendum on Senate Bill 793, the state's total ban on the sale of flavored tobacco products. SB 793 was passed by the Legislature and signed into law by the governor in 2020. It prohibits "a tobacco retailer, or any of the tobacco retailer's agents or employees, from selling, offering for sale, or possessing with the intent to sell or offer for sale, a flavored tobacco product or a tobacco product flavor enhancer" and imposes a fine of $250 for each violation of the ban.

Although the law bans the sale of flavored tobacco products to all customers regardless of age, lawmakers named it the "Stop Tobacco Access to Kids Enforcement Act." They claimed it was needed to stop underage tobacco use - because only kids, apparently, like flavor. To be sure, no one wants children smoking or vaping, but it's already illegal in California to sell or give tobacco and vapor products to anyone under the age of 21. If prohibition worked, then we wouldn't have a problem.

It's also immensely hypocritical. At the same time California is lowering taxes on marijuana and debating bills in the Legislature to decriminalize psychedelic drugs, it is placing bans on menthol cigarettes, flavored smokeless tobacco, and other flavored nicotine vaping products that don't even contain tobacco. Those non-tobacco vaping products, mind you, were determined by an "expert independent evidence review" published by England's public health agency to be "95% safer" than smoking.

Plus, Californians are smart enough to make this decision for themselves. Our state already has one of the lowest smoking rates in the country. In fact, California has lower cigarette use among adults than any state other than Utah – where the state's predominant religion frowns on smoking. Only the fear of God can get you to smoke less than we do in California.

Youth vaping was down 59% before the ban and youth smoking rates are at 1.9% – an all-time low.

Also, while the issue, as I stated, isn't directly taxpayer related (and why HJTA hasn't taken a formal position on the proposition), a legislative analysis of a ban on these products found that it would lead to "significant revenue losses" (revenue is government-speak for tax money) that will exceed $1 billion in the next four years. I'm sure the Legislature won't take that sitting down and will try to find more "revenue" in higher taxes elsewhere.

It's all about control and it's why voters should just say no to Proposition 31.

Why no? Because this measure is a referendum, which is one of the direct democracy powers that Californians have had since 1911, along with the power of initiative and recall. A referendum empowers voters to approve or reject at the polls any act or section or part of any act of the Legislature. On Proposition 31,

California voters will be deciding whether to approve ("yes") or reject ("no") the law that bans flavored tobacco products. I'll be voting no – and I don't even smoke. Jon Coupal is president of the Howard Jarvis

Theatre in the Heights News Release

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) -A tribute from Ken Ludwig (Lend Me A Tenor, Moon Over Buffalo) to the great English farces of the 1930s and 1940s, The Fox on The Fairway takes audiences on a hilarious romp, which pulls the rug out from underneath the stuffy denizens of a private country club. Filled with mistaken identities, slamming doors, and over-the-top romantic shenanigans, it's a furiously paced comedy that recalls the Marx Brothers' classics. A charmingly madcap adventure about love, life, and man's eternal love affair with...golf directed by Joron Bourque.

Aerospace Museum of CA News Release

MCCLELLAN, CA (MPG) - On Saturday, September 24, 2022, from 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., the Aerospace Museum of California will host the second annual We Can Do It - Together! - Inspiring Girls in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math).

This event is a perfect opportunity for families and youth organizations with middle school and high schoolage girls to meet and learn from Sacramento area women role models who will share their journey in STEM. Students and families will be able to connect with diverse women in a variety of STEM careers at our meet and greet table talks, as well as participate in fun STEM-based demonstrations, activities, and scavenger hunts.

Linda Martin, the Aerospace Museum of California's Board President stated, "As a former Associate Superintendent, I know how important it is to inspire our young people, especially girls, with engaging hands-on STEM education. Our Museum's upcoming event We Can Do It - Together: Inspiring Girls in STEM pays homage to Rosie the Riveter, who became an iconic symbol and inspiration to women, who stepped up and took on previously male-dominated roles in factories during World War II.

"Today, we aim to inspire another generation of women to explore, discover and dream of a career in STEM. Currently, women are underrepresented in STEM careers, accounting for only 27% of the workforce. This makes our Museum's incredibly important mission all the more relevant. We believe that fun and engaging hands-on experiences in STEM learning will spark interest and passion, and events like We Can Do It - Together will help connect young girls with role models and explore future careers opportunities."

The Aerospace Museum of California is pleased to host dozens of professional women in diverse fields and backgrounds to be STEM/STEAM role models for this event. Students and families will be inspired as these incredible women describe how they became interested in their field, provide insight into a day in their life, and share what they have learned from their experiences. Career path information will be available as well as interactive demonstrations and fun hands-on STEM-based activities and experiments such as parachute engineering, rocket launching and so much more!

Partners for the event are SMUD, the San Juan Unified School District, Girl Scouts, UC Davis (Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering Department), Echelon Catapults, the St. Francis High School Robotics team and the Kiwanis Club of Carmichael.

We invite families and youth organizations to help these girls to imagine their dreams and help them take flight. Family/Group tickets are $10 for up to 6 people. Please see our website for more information: https:// www.aerospaceca.org.

by all" or "manawa maika'i" was an understatement.

Two Citrus Heights Councilmembers-at-large, Vice Mayor Tim Schaefer, and former Mayor Steve Miller, along City Manager Ash Feeney mingled with guests. Feeney said of the event in an email: It was "great entertainment, great food, great people, great time, even greater cause. In addition to camaraderie, the Veterans Community Center helps connect veterans with important services and benefits that they are entitled to through their service."

A silent auction with two dozen fancy baskets made for getting a good deal or early Christmas shopping.

The Luau is the main fundraiser for the year. All proceeds go to helping provide a free "Safe Room" for all military veterans who visit. These events also honor the memory and vision of co-owner Jim Rounsavell who with his wife Jean founded the center in 2013.

One thing that made this event possible for many was the free shuttle service from City Hall and back offered by Veteran Larry Prater owner of Airport Transportation serving Carmichael, Fair Oaks and Citrus Heights.

Michelle Grant, Community Relations for the Center who spearheaded the event, said in an email, "What a wonderful opportunity for each of us who participated in our luau event. Everyone involved volunteered their time and talents, and together we proudly celebrated the men and women of uniform, our American military heroes. Together we truly are one 'ohana' with the same purpose, to serve those who have dutifully served us!"

She wanted to especially recognize a hard working 8-year-old guest who came with his parents. He wanted to help so much he helped clean up the tables. He kept saying, "I'm serving veterans." This is the true meaning of 'ohana.'

One special act of 'ohana'; by one young guest, 8-yearold Pria Roache, most likely went unnoticed by many. Pria came with his mom Jessica Dale, and family. After the meal Pria wanted so much to be of service he cleared off tables and helped haul off the trash saying, "I'm serving veterans." A true volunteer and future leader.
