Sacramento Blankets for Kids Readies for Holiday Giveaway

Kids love Beanie Babies, so SBSK is asking for donations of new or "almost new Beanie Babies as well as Joann's fleece blanket kits (48 x 60). Photo courtesy of SBSK

By Claire Gliddon, SBSK

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Every September, Sacramento Blankets for Sacramento Kids (SBSK) picks as many of the lowest-income elementary schools they can and finds out how many kindergarteners they have. Then volunteers make double fleece blankets (about 40" x 60") for ALL of them, and a little fleece pouch with a Beanie Baby in it to go with each blanket.

Through this act of generosity, SBSK gives these blankets to children as gifts right before Christmas break. Some of these kids live in their cars or in places without heat! And this is ALL they get for Christmas. It is wildly popular with the teachers and the kids! Spread the word, too!

SBSK has been doing this for 10 years and we hope to continue doing it, as long as they can get Beanie Babies. In 2022, SBSK gave out over 2,200 blankets and Beanie Babies in their Kindergarten Project! SBSK is always looking for new volunteers to make blankets all year round for children in need. SBSK is asking for donations of Joann's fleece blanket kits (48 x 60) all year long. SBSK is asking for donations of new or "almost new" Beanie Babies all year long.

If you'd like more information about SBSK, please go to www.sacblankets4kids.com and sign in! No pressure, no timelines, no meetings...just people who enjoy crocheting, knitting, quilting, sewing, making no-sew blankets and helping a whole lot of children at the same time.

SBSK is a nonprofit organization that serves children in need from infants to 18-yearolds. They do this all year long! But the Kindergarten Project is their "special" project of the year.

Carmichael Nonprofit Turns Tragedy into Fun Opportunity

By Cynthia Smith

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Last November, an arsonist destroyed a Carmichael Landmark most people don't even know exists. The Carmichael Alano Club, also known as Gibbons, has been of service to the local community for over 53 years.

Tucked back from the street is a little-known house that was converted into a meeting hall back in 1970 by some local men and women who needed a place to have fun, eat dinner with friends, plan trips and many recreational activities, as well as hold meetings for the people in this area who have chosen Recovery.

Drug addiction and alcoholism have plagued communities worldwide, but in the little house on Gibbons Drive you could always find respite from the chaos. As an alcohol and drug-free place, you can get a cup of coffee and

Unfortunately, we are at a complete loss. Insurance on the building was insufficient for a complete rebuild, so we have created a public event to ask the community for help in raising funds to rebuild.

Todd Morgan will front his Emblems retro band in Gibbons Park, September 24.

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - A blockbuster performance by the rock group Wasted Space recently wrapped up Carmichael Recreation and Park District concerts for the 2023 season.

The seven-piece group entertained a crowd of almost 2000 with cover tunes that included a "Margaritaville" tribute to the late Jimmy Buffett. "We made a last-minute decision to get it in," explained Wasted Space singer Linda Ingoglia. "Jimmy died just before our concert, and we felt we had to do something in his honor. The crowd loved it."

Wasted Space was originally scheduled to play mid-July but postponed when 109 degrees was forecast for gig night. Noting the group's local popularity, CRPD amended the concert program with a September date.

In all, the season featured 11 performances, including a Red, White and Blue celebration show preceding fireworks at La Sierra Community Center. Band genres ranged from Chicago-style rock to Latin and rockabilly performances.

"Audiences filled our dance floor each week," said CRPD recreation Services manager Alaina Lofthus." We had some challenges with extreme heat but made adjustments to keep musicians and audiences safe. We're thankful for event sponsors and the generous audience donations. These concerts only happen with great community support."

Mission Oaks Park District offers a concert by Todd Morgan and the Emblems on September 24. Morgan's show begins at 5 pm in Gibbons Park (4701 Gibbons Drive, Carmichael).

Carmichael concert sponsors included: Carmichael and Mission Oaks Recreation and Park Districts; Carmichael Chamber of Commerce; Buck Family Automotive; KZAP Radio, Sacramento; Arthur Murray Dance Studio and Kiwanis Club of Carmichael.

Nation's Finest Educational Program to Help Veterans in Need

Nation's Finest News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Veterans' advocates and community leaders joined together at the California State Capitol on September 12, 2023, to launch a 3-month campaign by Nation's Finest to raise awareness about programs and services to help Veterans in need.

Coinciding with National Suicide Prevention Month, the community outreach program aims to shine a light on the alarming statistics impacting Veterans – from mental health and high suicide rates to homelessness and unemployment -- and help connect Veterans and their families to resources that honor their service and ensure their care and success.

"The suicide rate among Veterans remains high, with approximately 17 Veterans committing suicide each day, and on any given night, over 40,000 Veterans don't have a place to call home in our country," said Chris Johnson, President & CEO, Nation's Finest. "As a nation, we can and should do better to honor those who have sacrificed and served, which is why we are launching this program to raise greater awareness and help connect Veterans to the help and services they need."

Through Veteran's Day, Nation's Finest will host a series of community awareness events in California, Arizona, and Nevada, that bring together community leaders, Veterans' advocates, and community partners to ensure Veterans and their families have access to services, programs, and the care available to them. Each event will feature a Nation's Finest mobile service unit staffed by trained professionals to assist Veterans, as well as community partner booths to provide educational information about available services. On display will be a powerful storytelling exhibition honoring Veteran heroes for making a difference in the lives of Veterans. At each event, Nation's Finest will present special awards to local Veterans who have gone above the call of duty to help Veterans and their families in their local communities.

During a ceremony on the west steps of the Capitol, seven local Veteran heroes from Northern California were honored for their service. Sacramento Mayor Darrell Steinberg joined Nation's Finest to present special medallions to them for their work. A special storytelling exhibition featured their stories and that of other Veteran heroes, which will also be on display through September 30th in the window fronts of the historic Weinstocks Building in downtown Sacramento located at 1130 K Street.

"These local heroes exemplify the spirit of our community and continue to answer the call of duty in helping those who have served access mental and behavioral health care, including housing stability, employment and suicide prevention services," said Mayor Steinberg. "I applaud the efforts of Nation's Finest in launching this important program and so many other Veteran organizations, community partners, and advocates, who work tirelessly to ensure our Veterans can get the care they need and deserve."

Sacramento area recipients of the Nation's Finest 50 Local Heroes Award include Gail Belmont, Don Harper, Kia Phillips, Steve Reed, Preston Sharp, Julie Baumgarten, and Michael Harris. Their personal stories, along with all the Nation's Finest awardees, are featured in the exhibition and on the Nation's Finest website at www.NationsFinest. org, along with information about the Community Outreach Program.

Harris, a U.S. Army Veteran and Sacramento native credits the work of Nation's Finest and the support he received at Mather Veterans Village for helping change his life during vulnerable times, saying, "It was a life-changing experience to be so humbled to have to ask for help with you are vulnerable and broke. They helped lift me up and gave me a chance." Today, Michael helps other Veterans, particularly those facing homelessness. He is also Chair of the California Black Agriculture Working Group, where he is dedicated to bringing equity to Black agricultural producers.

The Nation's Finest Community Outreach Program is funded through the support of many community partners, including Verizon (presenting partner), U.S. Veterans Affairs, Safeway, the Land of the Free Foundation, Comcast, Turton Commercial Real Estate, Enterprise Community Partners, and the Charles M. Shulz Museum, among others

"Verizon is honored to join together with so many community partners in supporting Nation's Finest and their mission help Veterans in need," said Sophia Garcia, Director, External Affairs & Local Engagement at Verizon. "Verizon is committed to helping Veterans and their families with access to smart technologies that improve connectivity to the programs, services, and care available to them. It's through community partnerships like this that we can work together to make a difference."

This year marks 50 years since Nation's Finest was founded to support Veterans returning from the Vietnam War by providing critical housing, health, and employment support to ensure Veterans reach their full potential. During the past five decades, the programs and impact of Nation's Finest has continued to grow, having served 150,000+ veterans and providing $275 million in direct services in 31 locations in California, Arizona, and Nevada, as well as through national services. Additionally, through its mobile service unit program, Nation's Finest can reach thousands more Veterans each year, who lack access to care by bringing resources directly to them, particularly those living in rural areas.

Meals on Wheels Seeks Volunteers

By Tamara Warta

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - When COVID-19 hit our world, many businesses and organizations were paused or shut down completely, never to reopen. For some that were fortunate enough to survive, bouncing back after such an event hasn't been simple. While the shutdowns may now seem like ancient history to many people, non-profit organizations in particular are still recovering. One such local group is Meals on Wheels by ACC Senior Services.

Meals on Wheels is a well-known national organization, and locally it's quite known as well. The group helps keep seniors in their homes and communities by providing nutritious meals, safety net services, social contact, and community resource information. Sacramento Valley's Meals on Wheels division alone is home to 126 routes that deliver meals all throughout the region - stretching all the way out through the delta, as well as 13 congregate programs where seniors can go eat at a cafe and socialize.

According to Michelle Bustamante, the operations manager of the Sacramento Meals on Wheels division, they adjusted during the pandemic by switching from hot delivered meals to frozen meals that arrived with little to no face-to-face contact. And now, they are aiming to work their way back up to their full meal distribution services pre-pandemic.

ces pre-pandemic. "We need volunteer drivers," said Bustamante.

"We are still looking to convert four routes back [to hot meals with face-to-face contact] and need drivers."

Meals on Wheels also has several programs outside of its home meal delivery service. All Seasons Cafe is an in-person restaurant-style space.

"It is for people who are more mobile and can get out and want to go have lunch with peers," Bustamante explained. "It's an opportunity for them to socialize."

While All Seasons Cafe

currently has 13 locations, they are looking for one more. Meals on Wheels currently does not have a Citrus Heights location. They are urgently seeking anywhere with a commercial kitchen and enough space for seniors to congregate. These cafes typically take place in community centers, senior centers, or in senior apartment complexes. With each lunch hosting 20-90 folks each meal, Bustamante hopes to raise awareness of the need and find a willing partner so they can serve the seniors of Citrus Heights.

With the holidays quickly approaching, Meals on Wheels will also again host Project Warm Wishes, which distributes gifts to seniors served by their organization. Both fun and functional items are appreciated, including toiletries, small household items, blankets, gloves, and amusements like adult coloring books and magazines.

"We just want to make sure those people know that they're not forgotten and are cared for," Bustamante said about the holiday project, which is completely delivered by volunteers.

Project Warm Wishes starts in mid-October and donations are accepted through December 8. Used items are not accepted, but brand-new donations are enthusiastically welcomed.

One other very special program operated by Meals on Wheels? Animeals. Through this, they deliver food to roughly 200 cats and dogs throughout Sacramento County. After it was discovered that some home-bound seniors were sharing their meals with their animals to get by, the group realized the need and took action. Most of the pet food or the funding for the program are donated.

"Pets are more than just animals – they are family to many of our seniors," says Bustamante.

From cafe workers to route drivers, all of Meals on Wheels' volunteers receive a background check and go through a training program. When Bustamante asked how volunteers are chosen and implemented, she mentioned that both individuals and groups like churches and service clubs apply. The goal is to plug people in where their heart is.

"The initial onboarding is done online nowadays, and we meet up with a volunteer and find out what their availability is and what they would like to get out of volunteering."

Volunteers are greatly needed at Meals on Wheels in Sacramento, and any adult with a passion to help can get involved. While help for the organization comes through various sources including Community Block Grants, city funding, private donors, and the Agency on Aging (Area 4), volunteers are still very difficult to find at times.

Meals on Wheels currently has a waitlist for seniors needing services, and the more volunteers they can train and recruit, the smaller that waitlist gets. Those hoping to get involved can contact Michelle Bustamante at (916) 444-9533 or by emailing mbustamante@mowsac.org

Be Workers and GiversDear Dave,

My wife and I have been very fortunate in our careers. We both have six-figure incomes, and as a result we have a little over $2 million in savings and investments. With this in mind, do you have any advice on how to make sure your kids aren't spoiled as they grow up in a family that's doing well financially?

– Gary

Dear Gary,

First, don't spoil them! Teach them to work, and teach them to be givers. Oh, and gently remind them every so often that it's you and your wife who are wealthy—not them. Yeah, I know. This probably sounds mean to some folks, but I'm talking about simply explaining to them how you and their mom have worked hard, been smart with your money, and that's why you're in the position you're in.

We taught all our kids, from a very young age, just how important it is to work. Work equals money. When you do that, and kids see it in their parents' attitudes and actions, it makes a big impression. With little kids, it can start with simple things like cleaning up their rooms or clearing the table after dinner. And it should carry over into their teenage years, as well. Every able-bodied child should be working and earning money, whether it's their own entrepreneurial idea, at a fast food joint or babysitting.

Another thing we did was based in our faith. As Christians, we taught our kids that we don't really own anything. It all belongs to God, and one of our jobs is to wisely manage the things He entrusts to us. The first rule is to take care of your own household—the important stuff. After that, it's okay to have some nice things, but it's not all about fun. It's also about thoughtful giving and being generous.

As a parent, your job isn't to be a buddy to your kids. It's not to give them every little thing they want, and make sure they're running around carefree and playing every hour of the day. Your job is to teach them about the important things in life, and over time, mold them into mature, responsible human beings who can survive—and succeed—in the real world.

– Dave

Dave Ramsey is an eight-time national bestselling author, personal finance expert and host of "The Ramsey Show." He has appeared on "Good Morning America," "CBS This Morning," "Today," Fox News, CNN, Fox Business and many more. Since 1992, Dave has helped people take control of their money, build wealth and enhance their lives. He also serves as CEO for the company Ramsey Solutions.

Health Screenings

We always seem surprised when disease strikes. But is there something we can do to stem the tide of any disease? And we have all done this. We wait until we get sick to focus on our health. Longtime nurse Allen Daugherty says we have it backwards. It's preventive care we should add to our vocabulary. Routine screenings at various stages of our lives can save our lives. Allen worked in the medical field for some 50 years, first as a U.S. Air Force medic, then RN and certified dialysis nurse. He has seen a lot, and he understands the pain a diagnosis of life-threatening disease can cause. It can work on both your physical and mental state. So he authored "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth More Than You can Imagine." I asked him to give us some good reasons to have screenings when I interviewed him on POPPOFF. Here are ten that you might want to keep in mind.

1. EARLY DETECTION OF DISEASES. Health screenings can detect diseases before symptoms appear, allowing early intervention and treatment.

2. PREVENTION OF DISEASES. Some screening tests can help prevent the disease they are designed to detect. For example, colonoscopies and Pap smears can identify precancerous abnormalities that can be addressed so they cannot continue to grow and become cancerous

3. IMPROVED OUTCOMES. Early detection and treatment of diseases can lead to better outcomes and improved quality of life.

4. REDUCED HEALTHCARE COSTS. Preventive care screenings can help identify health issues before they become more serious and costly to treat.

5. INCREASED LIFESPAN. Regular health screenings can help people live longer by detecting and treating diseases early on.

6.BETTER MANAGEMENT OF CHRONIC CONDITIONS. Health screenings can help people with chronic conditions manage their health more effectively by detecting changes in their condition early on.

7. IMPROVED QUALITY OF LIFE. Early detection and treatment of diseases can improve quality of life by reducing symptoms and complications.

8.REDUCED RISK OF COMPLICATIONS. Health screenings can help reduce the risk of complications associated with certain diseases, such as heart disease and diabetes.

9. INCREASED AWARENESS. Health screenings can increase awareness about the importance of preventive care and encourage people to adopt healthier lifestyles.

10. PEACE OF MIND. Regular health screenings can provide peace of mind by detecting potential health issues early on, before they become more serious.

Allen advised checking with your doctor to see what you might need and at what stages you need to check things out. I think the problem we all face is we may not want to know. But Allen is right. Knowing early can perhaps save our lives. It's painful to deal with getting that diagnosis, but if it can save our lives. it's something we need to heed. You can check out Allen Daugherty at www.preventivehealthandsafety.com. His book "An Ounce of Prevention is Worth More Than You Can Imagine" is available at all the regular places. Who knows? It might save YOUR life!

Compromise Settles Dispute Over Status Social Security Matters Of Franchises In Fast Food Industry

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

In some ways, the most interesting — and perhaps most significant — event of the 2023 legislative session's closing days was a compromise agreement on state oversight of the fast food industry.

Last year, unions pushed through legislation that would have created a new state commission to set wages and working conditions in the industry.

Inferentially, the legislation set aside the industry's franchise system and treated local outlets of as merely branches of their corporate franchisors.

While the wage increases that would have resulted garnered most of the media attention, erosion of the franchise model was most worrisome aspect to the fast-food corporations and their franchisees.

Immediately, big guns in the industry pledged tens of millions of dollars for a campaign to challenge the legislation via a referendum that qualified to go before voters in 2024.

The Legislature's response was entertaining another bill that would have doubled down on attacking the franchise model by making corporate franchisors legally responsible for labor law violations in their franchisees' fast-food outlets.

With the outcome of the referendum election in doubt, the long-warring factions began negotiating and last week a bargain was

The 2022 legislation would be repealed, the 2023 legislation would be scuttled and a substitute for both would retain the fast-food council, but alter its membership slightly, limit its authority to set wages and working conditions, provide a new $20 per hour minimum wage for fast food workers, prohibit local efforts to affect wages, and remove threats to the franchise model.

Like all legislative compromises, this one, written into Assembly Bill 1228, had something for everyone but didn't give every stakeholder everything it wanted.

"For the last decade, fastfood cooks, cashiers and baristas in California have been sounding the alarm on the poverty pay and unsafe working conditions plaguing our industry," Ingrid Vilorio, a fast-food union leader, said in a statement. "We have always known that to solve these problems, we need a seat at the table with our employers and the power to help shape better rules across our industry."

"It provides meaningful wage increases for workers, while at the same time eliminates more significant - and potentially existential - threats, costs, and regulatory burdens targeting local restaurants in California," International Franchise Association CEO Matt Haller said in a statement.

Haller's statement hints that on balance, it appears that given the circumstances, the fast-food industry's big players, such as McDonald's, came out ahead, although their franchisees will feel whatever financial pinch ensues.

The $20 minimum wage is only slightly over what, on average, fast food workers are being paid now, the industry having boosted wages sharply in the last few years in an effort to fully staff the outlets. Current California fast food wages average $19 an hour.

More significantly, the agreement protects the franchise system's assumption that the operators of fast-food outlets are independent businesspersons who invest their money and are fundamentally responsible for hiring, training, paying and sometimes firing their workers.

Had state regulation of fast-food wages and working conditions survived as originally proposed, with franchisees indirectly considered to be merely branch managers rather than entrepreneurs, it could have undermined franchising in other consumer industries.

Union leaders much prefer to deal with large scale sectors rather than individual employers in both organizing workers and negotiating contracts. The recently ratified labor contract affecting every West Coast port is an example of sector-wide negotiations, as is the current standoff over a new auto industry contract.

Cracking the fast-food franchise system would have been a big step in that direction.

Will Opening a Joint Account Affect My Disabled Father's "SSI?"

AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I live in Michigan and my senior disabled father lives in rural Kentucky. His income is part Social Security and part disability. I talked to a local credit union near his home and explained I would like to open a joint account. They said as long as he comes in with his ID it's possible. My question is - will adding money to our joint account affect his SSI and disability? Signed: Caring Daughter

Dear Caring Daughter: First, I need to clarify that there are two types of disability programs administered by the Social Security Administration -Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI), and Supplemental Security Income (SSI). The acronym "SSI" normally refers to "Supplemental Security Income" which is a benefit for disabled senior adults (and children) who have very little income and very few assets. "SSI" is not Social Security income; rather it is a general benefit program jointly administered by the Social Security Administration and the State in which your father lives. In contrast, Social Security Disability (SSDI) benefits are earned from working and are not affected by the recipient's assets, as are "SSI" benefits. From what you've written, I assume that your father may have a small Social Security retirement benefit (because he has reached his full retirement age and SSDI isn't available after full retirement age), and he is also receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability benefits. If this is the case, although your father's Social Security retirement benefit would not be affected by opening a joint account at the credit union, his Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability benefit likely will be. As co-owner of the joint account your assets would count towards your father's "SSI" asset limit, and your assets, as well as any "in kind" assistance you otherwise provide, would likely put your father over the SSI income/asset eligibility limit and result in his SSI benefits being terminated. So, although the credit union may be willing to open a joint account for you and your father, I'm afraid that would result in your father losing his SSI (Supplemental Security Income) benefits, leaving him with only his small Social Security retirement benefit. You may wish to review the SSI eligibility information at this link: www.ssa.gov/ ssi/eligibility or you could contact the Social Security Administration and ask to speak with someone experienced with Supplemental Security Income matters. For clarity, "SSI" assistance is jointly administered by the Social Security Administration and each State's Human Services department, and assistance available varies somewhat depending on the recipient's state of residence. Thus, since your father lives in Kentucky, you might also contact that state's human services agency to discuss your options for providing remote assistance to your father without jeopardizing his Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefit: www.chfs.ky.gov/ Pages/contact.aspx.

CDPH Recommends All Californians Stay Up to Date on COVID-19 Vaccine

CHPH Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)

Following federal approval of the updated COVID-19 vaccine and recommendations for the upcoming winter respiratory virus season, the California Department of Public Health (CDPH) is recommending all Californians stay up to date on the vaccine and get the updated shot when available.

For renewed protection against severe illness, hospitalization and death, all Californians 5 years and older should receive one dose of the updated COVID-19 vaccine, as long as it's been 2 months or more since their most recent dose. Getting vaccinated may also minimize your symptoms if you do become infected so you can return to your daily activities more quickly. Recommendations for younger children depend on the number of doses received previously.

CDPH strongly urges vaccination for individuals who are at high risk of serious illness from COVID-19 due to advanced age or underlying illness as this is the group of individuals most vulnerable to severe disease and the worst outcomes.

'Staying up to date on the COVID-19 vaccine is the best way to keep your immunity strong and protect yourself and others from severe illness, hospitalization, and death," said CDPH Director and State Public Health Officer Dr. Tomás Aragón. "As we enter the winter season, it is crucial that all individuals remain up to date with vaccinations when they're eligible, including flu, COVID-19

WHO SHOULD GET VACCINATED

•Everyone Age 5 and Up: Everyone 5 years of age and older, regardless of previous vaccination, is eligible to receive a single dose of the updated COVID-19 vaccine as long as it's been at least 2 months since the last dose.

·Younger Children and Infants: Infants and younger children, 6 months through 4 years of age, who have previously been vaccinated against COVID-19 are eligible to receive one or two doses of the updated vaccine. The timing and number of doses depends on the previous COVID-19 vaccine

•Unvaccinated Younger Children and Infants: Unvaccinated infants and younger children, 6 months through 4 years of age, are eligible to receive three doses of the updated Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine or two doses of the updated Moderna COVID-19 vaccine.

WHEN & HOW TO SCHEDULE YOUR UPDATED COVID-19 VACCINE: Initial supplies of updated COVID-19 vaccine are expected in California in the coming weeks. For added convenience, COVID-19, flu, and RSV vaccines can all be administered in the same visit. Schedule a vaccine appointment by visiting MyTurn.ca.gov or contacting your local pharmacy or health care provider.

HOW TO PAY FOR A COVID-19 VACCINE: COVID-19 vaccines will continue to be free for most Americans through their health insurance plans, including Medi-Cal and regular health care providers.

The CDC's Bridge Access Program will provide limited quantities of COVID-19 vaccines to uninsured and underinsured adults through December 2024. The Vaccines For Children (VFC) program is a federally funded program that provides vaccines at no cost to children (18 and younger) who might not otherwise be vaccinated because of inability to pay.

CDPH'S VIRUS PREVENTION TIPS: The best defense against COVID-19 and other winter viruses starts with good prevention. Follow these five tips to protect yourself and others:

·Stay Up to Date on Vaccines: Vaccines reduce the chances of infection and are the best defense to limit severe illness and death. COVID-19, flu, and RSV vaccines will all be available for this winter season.

Stay Home if You're Sick,

Test for COVID and Treat if Needed: Staying home when you're sick slows the spread of COVID-19, flu, RSV, and even the common cold. If you have symptoms, test for COVID-19 and contact your doctor immediately to seek treatment. Treatments work best when started right after symptoms

•Consider Wearing a Mask in Indoor Public Places: Wearing a mask significantly reduces the spread of respiratory viruses, especially in crowded or poorly ventilated spaces.

•Wash Your Hands: Frequent handwashing with soap and warm water, for at least 20 seconds, is an easy and very effective way to prevent getting sick and spreading germs.

·Cover Your Cough or Sneeze: Remember to cough or sneeze into your elbow, your arm, or a disposable tissue to help prevent the spread of winter viruses. Wash or sanitize your hands and dispose of your tissue after.

Forming a Pathway for All

By Tamara Warta

FAIR OAKS, CA (MPG) - All parents watch their children grow and have hopes and dreams for their future, but when your child struggles with a physical or intellectual disability, those ambitions can be clouded by worry and the reality of the lack of opportunities that may be available to them. But Kim Christensen is one example of those parents who jump in to positively navigate the journey.

Christensen founded Pathways to Employment in 2017 after realizing there wasn't any programming in the area for her special needs daughter. Located in Fair Oaks, the organization was created after Christensen and other parents banded together knowing a difference needed to be made. Alta Regional, our area's local center out of the 21 located throughout California, is the largest in the state and severely impacted. Christensen also noted there aren't a lot of services for adults with the most challenging of developmental disabilities.

"The reimbursement rates are pretty low, so all of these programs have wait lists and they aren't incentivized to take those with severe needs."

After having experiences where a one-on-one aide was necessary for her daughter, she knew that Alta's format, which typically maintain a 1:3 ratio would not work out well for their family.

"We thought, 'even if she gets in off of the wait list that is years long'," Christensen recounted, 'she is going to get kicked out in a week or

Pathways for Employment clients work the group's coffee cart on Thursday mornings. Photo courtesy of Wendy Keedy.

Today, Pathways to Employment offers a variety of classes for special needs adults, as well as emplovment opportunities including an onsite coffee cart and also offsite pop up vendor events. In earlier days, they used a classroom at Christensen's daughter's school. After the regional center told them it was too restrictive and they would need to lease a formal space in the community instead, hope seemed to dim since they had only $1500 in the bank.

"We ended up getting a fantastic offer [in Fair Oaks] to rent some space for a facility," Christensen said, "but financially it is still difficult because we aren't vendorized yet. We try to keep our costs low because most parents are paying privately.'

At Pathways Employment, only the instructors are paid. Working off of a shoestring budget, Christensen herself has never taken a salary despite being the founder and director for the past six years. The group finds their growth mostly via word-of-mouth and social media posts, but they would love for more exposure.

"We just have a really diverse set of clients. We don't turn anyone away, and we can't afford to hire support staff for our instructors," Christensen responded when asked what the biggest challenge is about the group. "We require the parents to stay onsite for assistance for behavior and communication issues. We are promoting independence and that's challenging when parents are in the same room. It would be nice to hire permanent staff to act as an aide to the instructors."

Since acquiring their facility, Pathway Employment's once-per-week social skills group has expanded to various classes offered five days a week. Their current instructors teach social skills, mindful movement, art, physical fitness, and other such offerings throughout the year. Their core group ranges from 15-30 clients, with the desire to take more once their vendorization process is complete and more funds can be raised.

If you're a coffee drinker local to Fair Oaks, consider passing up Starbucks on Thursday mornings and heading over to their offices at 9813 Fair Oaks Blvd instead, where current clients are learning skills while brewing up some great drinks.

"Anyone can come out and buy a cup of coffee on Thursday mornings. That is a great way to support our program," says Christensen. "We usually have 3 or 4 clients that would like to volunteer, but there isn't a lot of foot traffic where we are located."

Pathways to Employment clients have also worked pop up stands at soccer games, and sometimes share handcrafted items like water color painted thank you cards at the Fair Oaks Farmers Market. They will also be at the Orangevale Bow Wow Day on September 23 from 9am-1pm. At the end of the day, the ultimate goal is to help these young adults gain the independence they rightly deserve.

"They all have so much anxiety. Everyone is pretty scared to work the pop up stands," Christensen said in regards to her clients who participate in the handicraft sales for the first time, "But people will start asking what they made and it builds their confidence."

The group is also holding a concert fundraiser on October 8, 4-6pm at their offices, featuring the band Civic Escape. Tickets will be available at the door, and there will be a food truck and drinks available for purchase at this family-friendly event.

Christensen's daughter is now 24 years old, and optional programs like Pathways to Employment have made a big difference in her life.

"For our clients, there is a federal push to get them out into the community. But even though she's in the community, no one is inviting her out to lunch or to parties. [Pathways to Employment] is where she makes her social connections."

Unlike traditional day programs, Pathways to Employment charges for classes by the hour. This allows their clients to work a job if they are able to, and still participate and socialize at the offices. State funding is also evolving. There is now a self-determination program, where special needs families receive a budget to spend on what they wish. This provides autonomy a disabled individual wouldn't have had a decade ago. Christensen's daughter can hire care staff, but also take horseback riding lessons and go volunteer at the SPCA. The quality of life is higher.

"People with disabilities used to not have a choice as to what their life would look like," Christensen reflects, "That has really changed in the past 4 or 5 years."
