RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The second International Documentary Film Festival, September 29 – October 1, received 150 entries winnowed down to the 59 accepted, from 23 countries. The reception at Rancho Cordova City Hall began the event at 5:30 p.m. on the 29th. Dignitaries and their guests enjoyed food, drink and the showing of N-Men, a documentary about the history of skateboarding in the Sacramento area. Festival director

Charles Lago and Rancho Cordova Film Office marketing director Sidney Stipanovich guided the evening's events.

The Festival was also a contest, with two panels of judges and four categories. "We hope to announce the winners by mid to late October," Lago said. Rancho Cordova Mayor Linda Budge will announce the winners. The Belka & Hagan Families award for Best of Festival Documentary is $1,000; KP International Market

Award for Best Foreign Film, $500; Comstock's Award for Best Short Documentary and California Capital Arts Foundation Award for Most Interesting Documentary Subject, each awarding $250.

Lago came to the Sacramento area in 2020 to produce a film, then realized there was a need for a film office in Rancho Cordova. "They liked the idea of having their own film office, and that's how we ended up," Lago said. They are now in their fourth year. Continued on page 3

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Amelia reaches to gently pet the fluffing feathers of her baby parrot Sunshine. Her brilliant orange, yellow and green feathers puff up in happiness as she moves her head around, signaling her content.

Amelia maneuvers around her one-bedroom cottage in a push wheelchair. Her bedroom has enough room for a twin bed, Sunshine's cage and perch and a vanity that is strewn with makeup and lotions. The living room has a couch, a kitchen table and a corner shelf filled with paints, brushes, and a few painted canvases. Every canvas has a flower scape – beautiful colors and symmetry. The bathroom is also covered in painted canvases - except and eye-catching. Flowerpots and windchimes cover tiny porches and patches of grass. Residents lounge around in the communal spaces - one person totes a laundry basket to the machines near the front of the compound. Another puts a dollar into a soda machine. A small black dog barks protectively at each person who walks by while perched on his owner's lap.

The cottages are clustered in a series of small neighborhoods, each oriented around a shared common space. The perimeter is fenced, monitored with a security system, and has controlled front gate access. A central community building houses a computer room, a library/small conference room, a multipurpose room, and a community kitchen. Residents participate in a rigorous and comprehensive two-year program from which they graduate. The campus is funded through Sacramento Housing and Redevelopment Agency (SHRA), which is partially funded by Sacramento County, and operated by Mercy Housing.

To qualify for a referral to Quinn Cottages, residents must have a disability - either physically or mentally. In Ameila's case, she is mostly wheelchair-bound - from a car accident that nearly took her life, but instead, drastically changed everything about her and her future.

Ameila came to Sacramento when she was 15 -placed out of San Francisco into a group home for foster children. Ameila is a self-described jack of all trades. She was a singer, a bartender – she loved to goldmine. "I gave those boys a run for their money! I always find gold." Her favorite spot is up near Bear River.

She had a dream to be on American Idol – a beautiful singing voice, only heard now in saved files on her phone. Ameila was going to school to be a nurse - until her life was turned upside down. Nearly three years ago, Amelia was driving in a convertible BMW when she was hit by a tow truck. The accident was horrific – part of the windshield frame went into her forehead; her windpipe was crushed and her spine fractured. First responders performed a tracheotomy just to help her breathe. She lay in the hospital, in a coma for days. While in a coma, Amelia suffered two strokes, leaving the left side of her body weak. Doctors planned to take her off life-support, but a friend insisted she would get better and wake up. And she did wake up – but she was severely injured, permanently.

The singing voice she once had was forever damaged, the left side of her body was weak and useless, and her legs were unable to hold up her body. She needed full-time whom she had been caretaking for before the accident. They hired an in-home caretaker for Amelia, but after they started abusing her, Amelia fired the caretaker. Amelia, without a job, insurance money to fall back on, and no trust in other people, became homeless.

Amelia was able to get into a shelter quickly – her various disabilities made her highly vulnerable outside. But an empty promise from a boyfriend to move into a hotel, causing her to selfexit the shelter, again left her on the streets with few resources and nowhere to go.

Amelia's situation represents the greatest fear – many people are just one major life curveball away from homelessness. Disabled, homeless and desperate, Amelia used drugs to numb the pain of her accident - physically, emotionally, and mentally. Drugs were her escape from the nightmare her life had become, but also the deep scars of her upbringing. A mother who never loved her, children who had been put into the system and dream after dream shattered through bad decisions and bad relationships.

Six months ago, Amelia went into the Salvation Army shelter – again, a chance to shelter safely while pursuing recovery and stability. But Amelia knew she blew it again when they found drugs on her person. She was exited from the shelter for violating the rules. She moved out onto the American River Parkway. It was there she met Jenny, an outreach worker with Community HealthWorks, formerly Sacramento Covered. Jenny and her colleagues do outreach and engagement to unhoused people, specifically on the Parkway – a priority funded by the Board of Supervisors to help alleviate the burden on both the campers and the environment.

Considering Amelia's history and disabilities, Jenny worked with Amelia on an application for Quinn Cottages. It took nearly six months of consistent work with Amelia, following up on her application, making sure she had all her documents in place and getting adequate health care for treatment of her injuries before a bungalow opened up at Quinn Cottages.

Before Amelia could move in, she suffered another injury - a broken foot. The day that Community HealthWorks workers came to move her out of her tent and into her own apartment - they had to lift her out of her tent because she couldn't move. It truly does take a village of compassionate, dedicated people to help the most vulnerable.

Amelia sits, grateful and peaceful as she looks around her cottage. "It is safe and secure here. There are rules and structure. People can't just come in here without permission." She putts around the compound in a power wheelchair. Her friend Larry, also in a power wheelchair, challenges her to a friendly race. They zip ahead, laughing.

She is clean and sober – knowing that she cannot succeed here if she uses. She wants to go to art school and maybe teach others how to paint. Maybe it will bring them the same peace it brings her. She enjoys cooking for herself and getting together with the other residents of Quinn Cottages. "We're a community." Her sister comes and visits her every week. Amelia is only 49 years old despite her disabilities, she has so much life ahead of her. She is ready to make the most of it. \star

N-Men showed in two sold-out locations at City Hall. The story began in the 1960s and 70s, continuing through current times. Producer James Sweigert was present, also some of the skateboarders featured in the film, including Steve-O Brockway, accompanied by his wife Kristi Smith-Brockway.

Back then Sweigert was just a kid at the park. "He knew who we were . . . but he was kind of afraid to be around us," Brockway said. "We were a motley crew . .

. The difference between us and any other skateboarding crew in the whole world is that . . . I'm 63 and a lot of our guys are in their 60s, and we are all still skating together . . . It's not a film, it's a life."

Sweigert recalls the group from the perspective of "a little guy watching this group of skateboarders... All of us young guys were like, 'Where did these guys learn how to do all this?' It turns out they had been skating in empty swimming pools for years... sometimes, if the pools weren't empty and the houses were abandoned... they would jump the fence, pump 10,000 gallons of water out of a pool in 7 hours, clean it and skate it until they got chased off by the Sacramento Sheriff's Deputies." When Sweigert grew up, he went to LA, became a film producer, and was the obvious choice to produce this documentary.

Not all of the films are stories of fun and games. "Joe 238" tells the story of policeman Joe Chairez, badge number 238, who sustained a burst aneurysm while making an arrest only 5½ months after joining the Sacramento County Police Department. Joe had told his parents Jess and Theresa Chairez that if anything happened, he wanted to donate his organs. Theresa agreed, but

Jess was opposed. With only 1% chance of his son's survival, Jess prayed for guidance and felt God's answer that, "If I honored my son, I'd be honoring Him." The donor process proceeded. Jess joined the Red Cross and went from place to place telling the story of Joe238 and how many people had been helped by receiving organ transplants. In time, Joe made a cloth patch depicting his son's badge. When he began receiving quilt patches with name, badge, and EOW (End of Watch) date of fallen officers from police departments all over the country, Jess made quilts for those departments. He has now made 50 quilts commemorating the sacrifice of those courageous officers.

"Rancho Cordova Film Office is who we are, but we did the Festival under the California Capital Arts Foundation," Lago said. "The mission of the film office is to attract filming to the Rancho Cordova area . . . and once they're here, we facilitate the filming on behalf of the City."

California Legislature resolves fast food franchise battle but another industry still rages

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

California The Legislature devoted much of its time this year to a battle over regulating wages and working conditions of fastfood workers.

Last year, legislators and Gov. Gavin Newsom created a state agency that would oversee the fast-food industry, which fought back with a referendum asking voters to overturn the new law, arguing that it would undermine the franchise business model.

With the referendum qualified for the ballot, the battle was rejoined this year with a proposal to make parent companies liable for labor law violations, further eroding the franchise model.

Ultimately, the clash was resolved with a compromise that gave sponsors of the legislation, unions mostly, what they wanted, including a new $20 minimum wage. but removed the threat to the franchise system. Newsom signed the compromise legislation, Assembly Bill 1228, last week, and the fast food industry will remove its referendum from the 2024 ballot.

"Signature of AB 1228 preserves the franchise business model in the state and solidifies the best possible outcome for workers, local restaurant owners, and brands,"

Matt Haller, president of the International Franchise Association, said in a statement.

While the fast-food battle drew much media attention, there was another, much quieter clash over the franchise business model, involving a much more important segment of the consumer economy: new car sales

This one, however, pitted auto manufacturers against their own franchised dealers in California and it's still underway as each side tries to persuade Newsom to favor its position.

During the 1930s, as the nation's auto industry consolidated into a few major manufacturers, they created a system for selling their vehicles through local franchised dealers.

When European and Asian automakers began peddling their vehicles in the United States after World War II, they also adopted the franchise

Dealerships often became major businesses unto themselves, particularly when corporations acquired multiple franchises. And it is common knowledge that dealerships profit handsomely from after-sale maintenance and repair work for their new car customers, as well as used car

In many states, holders of valuable new car franchises bolstered their monopolies by persuading legislatures to pass laws making it illegal for anyone other than franchised dealers to sell new cars.

Relationships between automakers and their franchisees haven't always been smooth and their clashes have often reached the political arena, but the underlying system has remained intact.

Then Elon Musk and Tesla came along.

Musk refused to sell his revolutionary, battery-powered cars through franchised dealers and set up his own dealerships, incurring the wrath of franchisees. Tesla waged legal battles in states that had barred or limited its direct sales to customers.

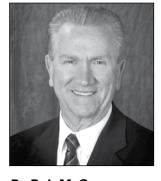

By and by, however, as major manufacturers began making their own electric cars, they began toying with the notion of emulating Tesla and bypassing franchises in favor of direct sales.

Franchised dealerships see that as a threat to their place in the multibillion-dollar business of selling and servicing new cars. In California alone, upwards of 2 million new cars and light trucks are sold each vear.

Enter Assembly Bill 473, introduced at the behest of the state's franchised new car dealers. It would put some tight restrictions on the ability of automakers to bypass the franchise system and also deals with other aspects of the business such as construction of electric car chargers and subscription services to new car

The automakers mounted a lobbying campaign to block the bill but it survived committee and floor votes and has landed on Newsom's desk.

And Another Thing

I Am Not Sure When The Rainy Season Begins Anymore

By Bob McGarvey

I begin working on this column today on September 30, and the calendar says that October 1 will be tomorrow. The rain began during the night and the sidewalk was wet when we go up this morning. We were glad that it was there. I am not sure when the rainy season begins anymore, but it seems like October 1 is when it should begin. The journal of the Geophysical Research Letters said scientists have seen the start of the rainy season becoming progressively later in later decades. Each year is different because of the changes in the climate and how the weather has changed rather drastically. We will have to see how this year comes out. Will it be good or not?

Something new is that the Air Force JROTC at Cordova High is in need of some donations so they can get their uniforms out of the dry cleaners. They have had some donations, but they need $1,495.50 so they can pick them up. I am thankful that there is such an interest in the JROCT from some of the students at Cordova High. There will always be a need for some of our youth to be willing to donate some of their time to their country. Joining the military is completely voluntary, but like other important jobs they are extremely important.

Jobs like teachers or police, for example, are getting harder and harder to fill because of the dangerous events which face the teachers in schools at times or the police who are attacked as they respond to calls. Especially calls from homes or fights between gangs.

As I work on this column, my wife showed me the news that a surprise and overwhelming bipartisan vote was passed in the House and was sent to the Senate. It is expedited to pass in the Senate to avoid a government shutdown at midnight tonight. That is a surprise but is also welcome news because most people didn't think it could be passed just a few hours before the deadline. It is good news to hear that our elected officials are able to do their jobs instead of continuing to argue about pettiness or party opinions. I am hoping that it will pass the Senate and get the President's signature before midnight. I guess we will know very soon. I just received the word that the Senate has passed the bill.

Senator Dianne Feinstein was on the Defense Subcommittee when I was Mayor, and I wrote a letter to Senator Feinstein. In that letter (from Mayor to former Mayor) I asked her if she would to find out why the active reserve of the military was not receiving promotions. Those who were in active duty were getting promotions. I received a very good letter back from her, and she said she would look into it. Not much time after that, those who were in the reserves began getting the promotions when they were deserved. She was greatly appreciated for looking into it.

From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and see you next time.

It's Not a Good Long-Term Plan

Dear Dave,

My girlfriend's parents are divorced, and they're both in their early seventies. We talked the other night, and she's thinking about buying them each life insurance policies. The only coverage her dad has is through his employer. Her mom has remarried, and she doesn't have any life insurance at all. On top of this, her dad is worried he might have to pay her mom's funeral expenses if she died, and he's not in good enough shape financially to do that. Do you have any advice?

Joshua

Dear Joshua,

If the only life insurance her dad has is furnished through his employer, then he probably won't have

it anymore once he stops working. I suppose it's fine if she wants to buy them each a small policy, but it's liable to be pretty expensive at their age. Now, she can do this, but I don't think it would be a good long-term plan. I'd tell your girlfriend she needs to start saving money and building up her own wealth. If she had just $20,000 in savings, that'd be more than enough to bury two people. Please understand, I don't mean to sound insensitive. We're talking solely about the economics involved in this kind of situation.

The other thing your girlfriend should do is have a discussion with her mom to find out if the stepfather has the money to handle that kind of thing. When it comes right down to it, any final expenses for her mom would be his responsibility now – not her dad's. She should have a discussion with her dad about preparing for things, too. But if her dad's got insurance through work, and the stepdad is ready to pay for her mom's burial, then they're covered for the immediate future. In short, I wouldn't do it unless they absolutely don't have this sort of thing covered. Even then, I'd prefer she just covered it with cash, because all we're talking about is enough to cover burial costs. No matter what anyone else says, Joshua, a nice funeral doesn't have to be crazy expensive.

SacRT Awarded $4.4M for Infrastructure Projects

SacRT News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -The Sacramento Regional Transit District (SacRT) is thrilled to announce that it has been awarded a total of $4.4 million in state grant funding for three projects aimed at enhancing transportation infrastructure and addressing climate change impacts within the Sacramento region. These grants underscore SacRT's commitment to sustainable and accessible transit options across the region.

The grant awards are as follows:

Strategic Growth Council Affordable Housing Sustainable Communities (AHSC) Grant - $3.2 Million This significant grant funding will enable SacRT, in partnership with Bridge Housing, to make critical improvements to eight bus stops and fund platform modifications at the Arden/Del Paso Station on the Blue Line, ensuring that it meets the height requirements for the deployment of new low-floor light rail trains.

These enhancements will improve the overall transit experience for riders while contributing to the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions. In addition, as part of the AHSC award, BRIDGE Housing will transform the vacant land and unoccupied buildings at 440 Arden Way into a vibrant mixeduse development including 124 affordable homes. The ground floor will include a commercial childcare center available to residents of the broader neighborhood, a resident services suite, community room, and a multipurpose room, surrounding a courtyard with playgrounds and community gardens. Caltrans Climate Adaptation Planning Grant - $730,209 In a collaboration effort with the City of Sacramento and SacRT funds were secured to address the impacts of climate change. The project involves a comprehensive multi-hazard risk assessment of transportation systems, the development of adaptation solutions, and the creation of a prioritized list of transit projects using a multi-criteria analysis.

Ultimately, this initiative will lead to the integration of climate change adaptation strategies into the capital improvement process, providing both the City and SacRT with actionable efforts to reduce climate change impacts on our transportation infrastructure.

Caltrans Climate Adaptation Grant - $470,000 SacRT, in partnership with the City of Elk Grove, has received funding to further plan and conceptual design for extending the Blue Line light rail and/or bus rapid transit from the city of Sacramento to the city of Elk Grove. This project encompasses an existing conditions report, alignment and station location recommendations, ridership projections, technical analysis, traffic modeling, and station area plans.

The collaboration, supported by the Sacramento Area Council of Governments (SACOG), will engage various stakeholders and involve extensive community participation, ensuring that the project aligns with the needs and aspirations of the community.

"These grants mark a significant milestone in our efforts to enhance transit accessibility, increase housing and reduce our region's carbon footprint," said SacRT General Manager/CEO Henry Li. "We are committed to delivering sustainable and innovative solutions that will not only improve transit services but also contribute to a greener and more resilient future for the Sacramento region."

SacRT is the American Public Transportation Association's (APTA) Public Outstanding Transportation System of the Year award recipient in North America for accomplishment and innovations in public transportation, the 2022 and 2019 national TSA Gold Standard Security Award recipient for the highest standard of excellence, and the 2021 and 2020 national APTA Rail Safety Gold Award recipient for its multi-faceted and innovative approach to reducing crime and fare evasion. SacRT operates approximately 82 bus routes microtransit); 43 miles of light rail serving 53 stations; and ADA paratransit services all within a 440-square mile service area throughout Sacramento County, which includes service in the cities of Sacramento, Citrus Heights, Elk Grove, Folsom and Rancho Cordova. April 1, 2023, marks SacRT's 50th anniversary of operation, celebrating our five decades of historic milestones.

"The City of Elk Grove annexed its transit services with SacRT in 2021 to improve regional connectivity and to expand a high-capacity transit solution into the city of Elk Grove," said Elk Grove Mayor and SacRT Director Bobbie Singh-Allen. "As Elk Grove grows with more mixeduse higher density housing projects, I am excited to see the partnership with SacRT ensure efficient and reliable transit is being incorporated."

"As the region prepares for the impacts of climate change, I am thrilled the City of Sacramento and SacRT are partnering on adaptation and resiliency solutions," said SacRT Vice Chair and Sacramento City Councilmember Rick Jennings. "These funds will reduce climate change impacts on our transportation systems and promote health, safety and mobility."

"BRIDGE Housing is proud to partner with SacRT on 440 Arden Way," said BRIDGE Housing President & CEO Ken Lombard. "This high-impact investment supports our shared goal of bringing this community alive with 124 affordable homes and supportive services near high-quality transportation, education, and jobs to support our residents and their neighbors to thrive."

These grants showcase the dedication of SacRT and its many partners in making transit more efficient, accessible, and environmentally responsible. SacRT is excited to embark on these transformative projects and looks forward to working closely with the community to bring these initiatives to fruition.

County Executive Announces Retirement

Executive at a later date.

During Edwards' tenure, she implemented a significant number of high-level organizational changes to improve the County's overall functions in a number of key areas.

Beginning in early 2021, Edwards increased transparency and engagement in the 2021-22 budget process through several new public presentations, including public budget workshops and study sessions.

During the 2022-23 budget process, she proposed a Community Engagement Plan, adopted by the Board in June 2021, which identified priority areas of growth from advisory boards and commissions, local governments and community groups; engaged a professional public opinion polling firm to survey the public in the County's budget priorities; and provided recommended budget priorities based on the outcomes of the resident survey.

In addition, the County developed a Budget in Brief summary, explaining in plain language budget basics and the budget process, as well as a Budget Explorer Tool that allows users access to the County's budget, view total appropriations reimbursements and revenues by Agency, as well as the percentages for each Agency. FY 2022-23 and 2023-24 included significant contributions to General Fund Reserves, also known as the County's "Rainy Day Fund."

Under Edwards' leadership, the County restructured its agencies and formed a new Public Safety and Justice Agency to ensure the most effective oversight, accountability, communication and coordination for justice-involved agencies in the County.

In July 2021, Edwards implemented the Organizational Culture Change Project in order to transform the County's cultural expectations. The project included a survey in which all employees assessed the current culture, which provided a benchmark and insight for its desired culture.

Currently in the second phase of the Initiative, the County is offering a high-performance training curriculum to staff countywide and has launched a Guiding Coalition to keep the County's Core Purpose, Vision, Mission and Core Values top of mind for staff throughout the year.

As part of the organizational transformation, Edwards launched an employee academy centered on skills, abilities, competencies, mentorship and attributes of leaders. The Leadership Development program supports the County's goal to transform the organization's culture and provide exemplary service to the community.

The resulting organizational transformation has borne out in positive ways. Most notably, Sacramento County recently made Forbes list of America's Best Employers by State 2023. Sacramento County's position is at #79 in California, which includes public and private employers. The last time Sacramento County was on the list was at #357 in 2018 and dropped off the list entirely in 2019.

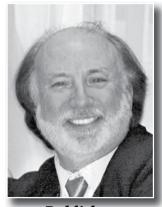

Before her work in the public sector, Edwards was the Clinical Director for the River Oak Center for children from 1997-98 and was an Executive Director, Program Coordinator and Clinician for seriously emotionally disturbed children and youths at Victor Treatment Centers from 1993-1997.

Prior to becoming County Executive in 2020, Edwards worked as Sacramento County's Director of Human Assistance since 2014 and worked as the Director for Social Services for Solano County. Prior to Solano County, she worked for Sacramento County between 1998 and 2013, serving as Chief Deputy County Executive for Countywide Services, Director of Health and Human Services, Director of Mental Health Services, Division Manager for Adult Mental Health and Program Manager for Child and Family Mental Health.

"Together with the County's 13,000 employees, it has been a privilege to serve people and watch our communities thrive," said Edwards. "Now it's time for me to take a step back, do some traveling and enjoy more time with my family, especially my three wonderful grandchildren."

A Promise Made

Life is not always kind. We suffer setbacks, loss from divorce, surviving disasters, dealing with life-threatening diseases, and I could go on and on with what we deal with on a daily basis. Frank D'Maio knows what that's like. He has been there and wants to help others deal with adversities and evolve to emotional prosperity. You see, Franks's wife was diagnosed with breast cancer, and that's when he began a journal. He told me on my radio show POPPOFF that it opened the door to his soul. That journal became a gift. But it wasn't that way at the beginning. It was a repository for emotional intimate moments, outbursts of screaming in words, and things he wanted to remember or forget. He added that, in his opinion, husbands are ill-equipped to handle the jumbled emotions of grief, trauma, and hopelessness. They attempt to create an "emotional fortress" that fails to protect them from the pain of loss. So that's when he wrote "A Promise Made, A Promise Kept." It's a husband's journey through journaling to heal the loss of his spouse. And it's written with other husbands in mind. He shares his emotional decline of being left behind with no specific group counseling geared toward the level of loss and the depth of a rabbit hole delivered by breast cancer. Granted, group counseling is a general approach, but moving forward isn't about the steps or stages, it's about oscillating through layers of emotions and recalling important moments of positive memory. That's why he wrote the book to provide others a glimpse into the process of trial and error he went through. Eight years later he participated in a group counseling program and received training as a peer support group facilitator. Here are five points to start cleaning the negative chaos in our emotional house through journaling.

- 1. Allow, Accept, And Acknowledge Mourning And Grief. Writing those feelings in a journal gives you time to evaluate them.
- 2. Surrender And Let Others Help. Don't be stubborn or pig-headed, thinking you can do it all alone. Frank said he tried and failed until 2012 when he hit emotional bottom and sought group counseling.
- 3. Lower Your Expectations Of Getting Over The Loss. The emotion is raw, but it doesn't have to define who you are as a human being 4. Show Blame Out The Door. Shame
- and guilt only drag a person down a reminder of stored negative memories. These act as triggers or what he prefers to call prompts. 5. Laugh Often And Out Loud. Laugh
- at yourself. Laughter releases hormones, making a person show joy, happiness, and improved spirit. Remember moments of laughter and joy. Those shared emotions leave you smiling and playful with the innocence of a child again.

If you want additional information on Frank D'Maio and his book "A Promise Made, A Promise Kept" check out his website FJDwriter.com. Life goes on, but it isn't easy when your pain persists. Hopefully, Frank's book can give you solace from any loss.

Keep Your Pets Safe During a Disaster

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - As September unfolds, it's not only a time when the seasons begin to change, but also a poignant reminder that preparedness is a vital aspect of responsible pet ownership. September, designated as National Preparedness Month, serves as a timely prompt to underscore the importance of preparing for emergencies that can impact our furry companions. While many of us diligently stock up on emergency supplies and develop evacuation plans for our families, it's equally crucial to extend this preparedness to our beloved pets. After all, they are not just animals, but cherished members of our households, relying on us for their safety and well-being when unforeseen disasters strike.

Pet parents should follow seven quick steps to ensure their pet's safety during an emergency:

(1) Ensure your pet can be identified by both a microchip and collar ID tag, and that contact information is up-to-date. Pet owners can talk to their current veterinarians about microchipping their pets, or they can visit a clinic hosted by Bradshaw

Animal Shelter;

- (2) Prepare a "Pet Emergency Go-Kit" of pet supplies and make sure it is readily accessible in an emergency;
- (3) Display a pet rescue decal on your front door or window to let first responders know there is a pet in the house. Include your veterinarian's contact information.
- (4) Learn where your pet likes to hide in your house when frightened. Finding your pet quickly will help you evacuate faster;
- (5) Identify a location to take your pet if you need to leave your immediate area. Keep in mind that disaster shelters for people may not be open to pets. Scout hotels and motels with pet-friendly policies in advance and ask relatives or friends if they could house you and your

(6) Carry pictures of your pet in the event of separation. Pictures should be high-resolution and well-lit so that your pet is easily identifiable;

(7) If you need to evacuate, consider taking a pet carrier or crate for transport and safe-keeping.

These seven steps can help ensure that all family members - including our beloved pets-are ready to face an emergency together. Families looking to learn more about disaster preparedness and safety for family members both two- and four-legged can visit the Ready Campaign website.

Legislature Passes Landmark Tax on Firearm Manufacturers and Dealers

From the Office of Jesse Gabriel

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On September 7th, 2023, the California State Legislature passed Assembly Bill (AB) 28, a landmark measure that would impose an 11 percent excise tax on firearms and ammunition sold by gun manufacturers and dealers. Having cleared both the Assembly and Senate by a 2/3 supermajority vote, AB 28 - which is officially known as the Gun Violence Prevention and School Safety Act – is on its way to Governor Newsom's desk.

Authored by Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel (D - Encino), Chair of the Legislature's Gun Violence Prevention Working Group, AB 28 would generate over $150 million annually to fund school safety and violence prevention programs, including initiatives to prevent school shootings, bolster firearm investigations, reduce retaliatory violence, and remove guns from domestic abusers.

majority of the Legislature voted today to fund critical programs that will save lives and protect communities across the State of California," said Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel. "It's beyond shameful that gun manufacturers are reaping record profits at the same time that gun violence has become the leading cause of death for kids in the United States. The Gun Violence Prevention and School Safety Act will help to ensure that we have the tools and resources necessary to better protect our kids and our communities."

"California has a long history of paving the way for effective methods of reducing gun violence. It's an undisputed leader in the fight for gun safety, and I am proud GIFFORDS has worked alongside gun violence prevention groups across the state and members of the legislature, including Assemblymember Gabriel, to help advocate for the state's latest effort." said former Congresswoman Gabby Giffords. "We urge Governor Newsom to prioritize the safety of California's kids and communities and sign The Gun Violence Prevention and School Safety Act, a top priority for the gun violence prevention movement."

Since AB 28 was introduced at the beginning of the current legislative session, the United States has experienced hundreds of mass shootings, including horrific incidents in Monterey Park and Half Moon Bay. A recent report by the American Academy of Pediatrics found that the firearm death rate for American children increased 40 percent between 2018 and 2021.

"California is again proving why the Golden State leads the country on gun safety legislation. Imposing a modest tax on firearm and ammunition sales to provide sustained and increased funding for violence intervention and prevention programs will help us better protect our communities from gun violence." said Kris Brown, President of Brady. "Providing long-term investments in these initiatives is a proven way to stop gun violence before it begins. Brady thanks Assemblymember Gabriel and other bill sponsors for introducing this first of its kind tax bill, and calls on Governor Newsom to cement California's position as a leader in the fight against gun violence and sign The Gun Violence Prevention and School Safety

"California continues to lead the nation when it comes to gun safety. This bill will take that leadership one step further by providing essential resources to life-saving programs - including the California Violence Intervention and Prevention grant program - which rightfully centers solutions from the communities most impacted by our gun violence crisis," said Angela Ferrell-Zabala, executive director of Moms Demand Action. "Since the introduction of this bill our grassroots army has been committed to working with our gun-sense champions to get it across the finish line. I urge Governor Gavin Newsom to continue his commitment to public safety and sign this bill into law for the well-being of all Californians."

on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY ÓWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed. and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 800-280-2832 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this internet website http:// www.qualityloan.com, usina the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-23-960088-AB. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postpone-ment information is to attend the scheduled sale. Payments will be accepted without penalty until 5 p.m. on April 10, 2024; Both installments may be paid when the first installment is due. A reminder notice will not be mailed for the second installment.

Property tax law (Prop 8) requires that parcels be assessed at their factored Prop 13 value, or their fair market value (as of January 1, 2023, property tax lien date), whichever is less.

A rising real estate market can cause higher-than-expected increases in a parcel's annual tax bill if that parcel was in Prop 8 status last year. However, the assessed value of any parcel cannot increase beyond that parcel's factored Prop 13 level. The 2% inflation cap applies only to Prop 13 assessments. It does not apply to Prop 8 assessments, which by law must track the property's market value until it reaches the Prop 13 factored value.

Find assessed values on the Assessor's website under "Assessed Value Lookup," including this year's value and the factored Prop 13 value for comparison. If a taxpayer has evidence that their assessed value as of January 1, 2023, was less than that shown on this year's (2023-2024) tax bill, they should:

Visit the Assessor's Website; Call the Assessor's Office at (916) 875-0700; or Email the Assessor's Office at Assessor@ SacCounty.gov

Taxpayers may obtain current-year tax bill information, copies of property tax bills, direct levy information, delinquent prior-year tax information, and amounts due through the Sacramento County Online Property Tax Bill Information System, searching by APN or address. Find a QR Code on your tax bill payment stub for use with smartphones to connect to our website. Sacramento County also has a 24-hour/7-day-a-week Automated Property Tax Information Line that provides information on tax subjects and access to detailed billing and payment information. Tax specialists are available from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday. Reach the system and tax specialists by calling (916) 874-6622.

If you own property and do not receive a tax bill by October 15, 2023, you may obtain tax bill copies, property tax information and payment stubs (coupons) on the Tax Collector's website

Revenue &Tax Code 2610.5 "Failure to receive a tax bill does not relieve the property owner of the liability to pay taxes in a timely manner or give the Tax Collector reason to cancel penalties imposed for late payment."

Even if your tax bill is being paid by a lending institution (mortgage company), state law requires that a copy of the tax bill be sent to the property owner; all property owners should receive either the original tax bill or an "Owner's Information Copy." It is the responsibility of the property owner to keep their mailing address current with the Assessor's Office. To update your mailing address, please contact the Assessor's Office in writing at 3636 American River Drive, Suite 200, Sacramento, CA 95864 or via email at Assessor@saccounty.gov. Please make sure you include a parcel number and phone number with all correspondence.

Medicare's Annual Election Period Fast Approaching

Medicare's Annual Election Period, ("AEP") for Part D Prescription Drug Plans and Medicare Advantage plans runs from October 15 th until December 7 th . During AEP eligible Medicare enrollees can join or change a Medicare Advantage (Part C) or Part D drug plan. Enrollees can also "disenroll" from a Medicare Advantage plan and return to Original Medicare (Parts A/B) and join a drug plan.

Here is a timeline to assist you in navigating this important Enrollment Period and to help you avoid coverage surprises:

September

Your current Medicare Part D drug plan or Medicare Advantage plan is required to send you an Annual Notice of Change ("ANOC") notice. It's important that you read this notice as it contains important information about changes to your plan for the 2024 Plan Year. The "ANOC" notice will advise you if the plan premium is changing or if there are changes to the drug formulary, provider network and/or plan benefits. It can be a mistake to assume the plan you have this year will remain the same next year. Take the time to review your "ANOC" notice!

October 1 st

Sometimes referred to as the "marketing" period or "shopping" period, October 1 st is when the 2024 Plan Year information is released and companies can begin marketing Medicare's Annual Election Period Fast Approaching plans. This is a good time to review options for your prescription drug or Medicare Advantage coverage for 2024. Since plans can and do change, it's a good idea to confirm that your current plan continues to cover your prescriptions well and to meet your needs for the upcoming year.

October 15th Until December 7 th This is when you can actually submit an enrollment if you want to enroll in a plan or to change plans for 2024. December 7 th is a hard deadline. Your ability to change Part D Prescription Drug Plans after December 7 th may be non-existent or extremely limited.

Every year we have people call us that miss the December 7 th deadline and end up stuck on a Part D plan that has increased their premium or that doesn't cover their prescriptions well.

Last Valid Enrollment During AEP it is possible to submit multiple enrollments with the final enrollment being the plan that will go into effect on January 1 st. This allows for you to change your mind during the Enrollment Period.

Disenrollment / Medicare Supplements

AEP is also a time when you can "disenroll" from a Medicare Advantage plan and return to Original Medicare (Parts A/B) and join a Part D drug plan.

If you're also intending to enroll in a Medicare Supplement (aka Medigap) plan when returning to Original Medicare during AEP, keep in mind that enrollment in a Medicare Supplement may not be guaranteed. You may have to answer health questions to enroll in a Medicare Supplement outside of limited guaranteed issue periods. An experienced insurance agent can be valuable if you're wanting to leave your Medicare Advantage plan and get a Medicare Supplement. Failing to do things properly and in the right sequence can end up creating a deficit in your medical coverage. The services of an independent agent are free to consumers.

A Word on Medicare Commercials

During AEP the airways are flooded with commercials pitching Medicare Advantage plans and all the free benefits you're missing out on. These commercials often tout benefits that are only offered in specific areas or to select segments of Medicare enrollees. They entice you to call and once you call they'll try to enroll you in a plan quickly over the phone. Exercise caution if you call one these large

Being proactive about your Medicare coverage during the Annual Election Period can go a long way to helping you avoid coverage issues and to feel confident in your coverage selections for 2024.
