Patriotism for a Great Day

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG)

- Once again, the staff and volunteers at the Citrus Heights Veterans Community Center on Sylvan outdid themselves putting on another upbeat and invigorating event, a Veterans Day concert on November 11.

The theme for the days was patriotism, music and food and all three were carried out flawlessly.

The patriotism and music were performed by the 35 member Ben Ali Shrine Band, directed by Jerry Lopes. The National Anthem

Master of Ceremonies Mark Glover introduced each piece with a little history. The hour of 13 patriotic band pieces went all too quickly as the audience enjoyed hot dogs and other appropriate band fare.

At 88 years young, band director Lopes says he has been in music almost all his life. Following graduation from college in 1957 he immediately began teaching music in public schools. He is still sharing his music with appreciative audiences.

He says doing this work "is community service to me. I'm giving back to the community, and I've done that all my life as a musician".

CHP Focused on Tackling Distracted Driving Epidemic

CHP News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG)

- Every year, thousands of people are seriously injured or killed statewide in vehicle crashes caused by distracted drivers – crashes that are 100% preventable. To address the problem, the California Highway Patrol (CHP) is launching a statewide "Distracted Driving Education and Enforcement for Adult Drivers" traffic safety campaign, boosted by a $350,000 federal grant.

The yearlong education and enforcement initiative continues through Sept. 30, 2024. Throughout the year, the CHP will conduct at least 90 enforcement operations targeting adult distracted drivers. In parallel with a CHP program targeted at teen drivers, the adult distracted driving campaign also includes 300 adult traffic safety presentations statewide.

"The CHP encourages drivers to make the conscious decision to drive distraction free every time they get behind the wheel of a vehicle," said CHP Commissioner Sean Duryee. "Every distraction, even for just a few seconds, increases your chances of being involved in a crash. Ultimately, it is never worth the potentially devastating consequences."

With multiple modes of communication and instant entertainment, cell phone use is the biggest driver distraction. Between 2019 and 2021, there were a total of 6,343 fatal and injury crashes within CHP jurisdiction stemming from distracted driving. During those same years, CHP officers issued more than 200,000 citations to drivers violating California's hands-free law.

Some of the most common types of adult distracted driving includes texting, talking on a cell phone, eating, grooming, operating a navigation system, and adjusting the radio.

Public education and increased enforcement are designed to encourage drivers to recognize the dangers of distracted driving and reduce the number of people impacted by this reckless, preventable behavior.

Funding for this program is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety through the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The mission of the CHP is to provide the highest level of Safety, Service, and Security. ★

CHPD Updates Council on Grant Funding and Red-Light Camera Program

Story by Shaunna Boyd

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG)

- During general Public Comment at the November 9 meeting of the Citrus Heights City Council, local resident Andreas Kazos spoke about broken sidewalks in his neighborhood, near the corner of Westbrook Dr. and Halifax St., close to Auburn Blvd. For five years, Kazos said, "I've been fighting with one of your departments." Large tree roots have shifted areas of the sidewalk, which he said is causing a safety concern, especially for elderly residents like himself and some of his long-time neighbors. In addition to the hazard of broken sidewalks, Kazos said the streetlights don't work in that area, which further increases the risk of a fall. But he said that despite frequent complaints over the years, no repairs have been made.

Kazos said he and his wife have both sustained serious injuries due to the broken sidewalks. He suffered a broken jaw and injuries to his arm that he says will require surgery. And Kazos became visibly upset when describing his wife's injuries, for which he said she had to endure more than 12 hours of surgery to install metal bolts into her arm – which she will no longer be able to use effectively as a concert pianist.

He said two other elderly neighbors have fallen on the sidewalk and suffered significant injuries, with one of them allegedly developing complications and dying as a result.

Kazos said his complaints to City staff about the broken sidewalks have been ignored, and he believes two particular employees he has dealt with on this issue to be "incompetent." He stated that he has not been treated with respect in his interactions with these employees, and that they made promises to deal with the issue that have not been kept. He suggested these employees should be transferred to different departments: "It's about time you guys do some changes in your personnel."

Kazos said he doesn't want to involve lawyers in the issue: "This would have been very ugly. But I love my city." But he loves his wife as well, and he gets very upset when he sees her scar and thinks about all "the pain she has gone through."

The Council heard an update from the Citrus Heights Police Department (CHPD) about the statewide Organized Retail Theft Prevention Grant Program, which awarded Citrus Heights $2.75 million, to be expended by December 2026. The grant funding will be used to detect, prevent, and solve theft-related crime, for both retail and motor vehicle theft.

Funds will provide resources for technology and staffing, with a full-time real time information center operator and a part-time detective position that will focus on organized retail theft.

Vice Mayor Bret Daniels said retail theft "is absolutely killing businesses, so this is the response that needs to happen. ... And I think it will end up being that we'll see much more in either recovered assets

Boston's Pizza Restaurant and Sports Bar Closes

Sunrise Marketplace Promises Magical Moments in December

The front of the closed Boston's Pizza Restaurant & Sports Bar as seen from the parking lot.

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Boston's Pizza Restaurant & Sports Bar at 5511 Sunrise Blvd. in Citrus Heights has closed.

Notice of closure was posted on the restaurant's front doors over the weekend of November 4th by franchise owner Gurtej Gill. Gill opened the restaurant on January 27, 2020. Gill was unavailable for comment concerning the reason for the restaurant's closure and a call for comment from Boston's corporate office was not returned.

The Citrus Heights restaurant, located at the corner of Sunrise Boulevard and Uplands Way, was Boston's first to open in Northern California. The location has since been deleted from the company website although single and multi-unit restaurant development opportunities in the Sacramento region remain listed. Another Boston's remains open in Fontana in Southern California.

Boston's Pizza, a Canadian-based restaurant chain with over 40 locations in the United States and Mexico, specializes in scratch-made pizzas, craft cocktails, and local beers. Each of its locations is typically locally-owned and operated. The chain's menu includes burgers, sandwiches, pizza, pasta, ribs and other entrees. Regular customers who frequented Boston's could participate in a loyalty rewards program with discounts on further purchases.

Boston's faced a difficult first year in Citrus Heights, holding their grand opening just before the first round of state pandemic shutdown orders.

The 8,570 square-foot restaurant, built in 1978 along what was Citrus Heights restaurant row on Sunrise Boulevard, was the site of the Peppermill Restaurant and Lounge and later became a Logan's Roadhouse location before becoming Boston's.

Former restaurant staff who were seen entering the premises on Tuesday, November 7th who were willing to speak publicly, especially thanked customers for their loyalty and support, but referred further comment concerning the reasons for the restaurant's closure directly to the owner.

Tractor trailers were seen loading restaurant equipment and furnishings throughout the past week.

The shuttered Boston's Pizza and Sports Bar sits just adjacent to the shuttered former Marie Callendar's Restaurant and Bakery on Sunrise Boulevard.

While more than 500 businesses in Citrus Heights received millions in forgivable loans from the well-known Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) during pandemic-related shutdowns last year, 19 local restaurants were lucky enough this year to have their applications approved for new funding allocated to restaurants in the $1.9 trillion American Rescue Plan.

A total of $28.6 billion was allocated to the American Rescue Plan's "Restaurant Revitalization Fund," of which $5.7 billion went to restaurants in California and $4.85 million of that went to restaurants in Citrus Heights. Cal Restaurants (Boston's Pizza) received a $651,177 grant from the Restaurant Revitalization Fund.

"Shutdown has affected us severely and we struggled throughout the year with all the closures," Gill said in an earlier interview.

"We had just opened about six weeks before (the) pandemic hit and had trained our team, (only) to end up losing several team members and (then) rehiring and training again several times throughout the year," Gill had said. ★

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - Christmastime draws near and the Sunrise Marketplace (SMP) is ready to jump into the community with events designed to inspire togetherness, holiday spirit, and great opportunities to stay engaged and entertained locally.

The first event on the roster – a portion of what is known as Magical Moments at Sunrise Marketplace – is the Laser Light Show Spectacular and Night Market in partnership with Kauai's Night Market, guests of all ages can enjoy crafts, activities, vendors, and then a 45-minute laser light show as the grand finale of the evening.

The laser light show was formerly put on in the Lowe's parking lot across the way from the Sunrise Mall, but due to space limitations it was moved to the Sunrise Mall parking lot in recent years. This year, it is in the Macy's Men's parking lot on the Greenback side of the mall.

Last year, the laser show was projected onto the wall of the mall, but this year it will be displayed on a jumbo screen in order to allow it to be in the Macy's location with higher visibility. Besides the night market and show, there will also be carnival games, face painting, and even a magic show. It is a family-friendly activity that SMP hopes to continue on as a tradition as in years past.

According to Lisa Cordell, SMP's Marketing

& Special Projects Manager, the main goal of the Magic Moments series is "to bring the community out together – to just have a fun, safe event and maybe attract consumers from our secondary trade area."

"Hopefully they will come back to shop and dine in the district," she said.

The laser show and night market is expected to draw between 500 and 1000 people to its two showings. Performances are at 6pm and 7pm, and the market and activities open at 4pm. All activities are free, and food will be available for purchase.

While the evening is sure to be a hit, visitors are encouraged to keep in mind that they will be sitting outside in December.

"It's going to be cold," said Cordell. "Bundle up. If you would like to bring chairs to watch, you are more than welcome to."

If you attend the Laser Light Show Spectacular and Night Market and love it, you can continue the Magical Moments fun throughout the month. Next up is a Nutcracker performance happening inside of the Sunrise Mall and performed by Sac Civic Ballet. This special condensed version is being performed at 5:15 PM and 6:10 PM on December 14. Outside of the performances, there are plenty of interactive opportunities including an Elf on the Shelf story hour, character visits with Nutcracker characters, and special giveaways.

Lastly, on December 21 from 6:00 pm to 9:00 pm, join other members of the community for a Winter Wonderland skate party at Sunrise Rollerland. Tickets are $10 and the three-hour session starts at 6pm.

SMP hopes to offer more events in 2024, including the return of Burgers and Brew in May of 2024. Cordell encourages those interested in community events to visit shopsmp.com and get on the newsletter list.

"Always check back for all the activities that go on in the district. That [website] is a really good place to find out what's going on," said Cordell. "There are contests going on continually too, including money and gift card prizes." ★

Following the concert Citrus Heights Boy Scouts performed a formal flag retirement/burning service for flags turned in to the center. One flag brought in by Don Weber to be retired ended up flying high above the Center. The flag, in honor of Don’s deceased father, WWII retired pilot Lt. # Veterans Day Service Honors All Veterans

By Elise Spleiss

CITRUS HEIGHTS, CA (MPG) - The sounds of the Harmony Express Men's Chorus, including the Armed Forces Medley and Battle Hymn of the Republic greeted those arriving at Sylvan Cemetery for the traditional Veterans Day ceremony.

Master of Ceremonies and Commander of American Legion Post 637 Paul Reyes greeted attendees and introduced dignitaries including all members of the Citrus Heights City Council.

Former Citrus Heights Mayor Sue Frost, now a member of the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors, spoke of how she learned from her husband the difference between the general public and veterans who have experienced life in a war zone. They have a unique understanding of freedom and have made many sacrifices, including giving up their individuality, serving time away from family, and facing the possibility of death. She emphasizes we should be grateful for the freedoms that veterans have fought to protect. Even we as citizens must do our part to be vigilant and protect the freedoms our veterans have fought for.

Frost concludes by thanking all veterans for their service and sharing the poem, "It is the Veteran," by U.S. Air Force veteran Von Walker Loop.

Police Chief Alex Turcotte emphasized the bond shared between the police department and veterans, many of whom have become police officers and other first responders upon leaving the service. He emphasized how "the support for our veterans and police in Citrus Heights is overwhelming."

Turcotte acknowledged that the phrase "thank you for your service" is not always met with a positive reaction by all veterans as it can evoke a lot of feelings and complex emotions for veterans including survivor's guilt.

All veterans, no matter where they served or what they did in peace or at war, helped to provide for the freedom of this country.

He promised our veterans, "your law enforcement partners and police swear to uphold those freedoms daily, you mattered then, and you matter now and you matter to all of us."

Citrus Heights Mayor Tim Schaefer talked of joining the Army at age 18 and serving as a military police officer. Expecting to just be driving around in a patrol car, he was instead assigned to a unit guarding nuclear anti-aircraft missiles able to kill millions of people in the wrong hands. "It was a tough time and there was a lot of psychological challenges you face when you start thinking about the awesome power of these missiles." The responsibility was stressful but necessary.

Schaefer described how he and his team took their job very seriously and how they bonded over the shared experience and stress working in that unit. He also described the pressure of being trained to be a sniper and the danger of being a decoy in a real-life situation. As with the other speakers, Schaefer said he is grateful for the opportunity to have served with other veterans and he thanks them for their service.

Congressman Ami Bera made time in his busy day to acknowledge the burden placed on the United States especially when there is a conflict anywhere in the world. All eyes are on America to serve and protect freedom and democracy around the world. "It is a burden but also our obligation and our honor to be wherever needed and to support our troops wherever they are and upon their return."

A high point of the day was meeting golden doodle Ellie and her handler Lt. Wells. Ellie is the Citrus Heights Police Department comfort dog who makes the rounds visiting staff throughout the day. ★ or prevention along the way for our businesses, and that's critical." Daniels said that a struggling business could be put out of business by a major theft event, so hopefully, this funding will help "prevent these things and keep our businesses thriving."

The Council voted unanimously to accept the grant funding.

The CHPD also received another grant award – $25,411 from the 2023 Edward Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant (JAG) Program. These federal funds can be used for various law enforcement activities, including equipment needs.

CHPD plans to use the funding to replace five outdated radios in police vehicles, which will support the City's goal of providing exceptional police services to the community while also enhancing officer safety.

The Council unanimously approved the JAG funding.

The CHPD also provided an update about the City's Red-Light Camera Program. CHPD Lieutenant Michael Wells explained that red-light violations are extremely dangerous, causing serious collisions that can result in significant injury or death. In fatal red-light collisions, the drivers are frequently speeding and often under the influence of alcohol – and almost half of those killed in these collisions are pedestrians, bicyclists, and people in the other vehicle.

Since program implementation in 2007, in addition to collaboration with the City on other traffic safety improvements, there has been a significant reduction in red-light collisions. The CHPD believes that red-light cameras played a crucial role in that reduction.

The City's red-light cameras are currently located at eight intersections on heavily trafficked roadways where collisions tend to occur. The program is administered through a private company, Reflex, whose cameras provide full-time monitoring, with photos and videos taken of potential violations. Those are reviewed twice by Reflex to confirm violations, which are then sent to the CHPD for final review and certification. The citation is mailed to the registered owner of the vehicle, and the violation incident video is available for review. The driver can then pay the fine, or appeal in court. In 2022, 13,486 citations were issued, most of which (78%) were committed by non-residents.

Citation fees are set by the courts, and the City receives a share of that revenue. Most of that revenue goes to cover the cost of the red-light camera program, but on average, the City receives about $78,110 per year in additional revenue for the general fund. The City's contract with Reflex is cost neutral, so even if the contract cost and program expenditures exceed the revenue, the City does not pay any additional funds beyond the contract cost.

Vice Mayor Daniels said, "Obviously, a lot of people are still running red lights." He asked if there are additional preventative measures that could be implemented to further reduce the rate of violations. But Lt. Wells said that high visibility is the best way to try to change driver behavior, so existing signage throughout the city warns drivers about the cameras, and the CHPD has a social media campaign showing close-call videos to illustrate the danger.

Mayor Tim Schaefer said that while statistics show a significant change in red-light violations in the years right after the program was implemented, in recent years the data shows the rate of violations has remained largely consistent. "I struggle to say that this is an effective program if it's not changing people's behavior. If we see year after year...the same number of violations, it's not changing anything."

Lt. Wells explained that officers are not able to monitor all intersections at all times, and there is no existing technology that will prevent all red-light violations. If the red-light program were to be discontinued, the CHPD fears that the violations would spike back up without that level of constant enforcement provided by the cameras.

This was an informational item, and no action was required by Council.

The regularly scheduled City Council meeting for November 23 has been cancelled due to the Thanksgiving holiday, so the next meeting is scheduled for December 14. ★

Is Patriotism Still Here?

Commentary by Vince Harris

When I was growing up in the Midwest, every student stood and recited the Pledge of Allegiance at the beginning of the school day. I looked forward to it, as it seemed like I was a part of something bigger than myself, and there was an honor and reverence that I felt.

Today, sadly, schools all over America have abandoned the practice of saying the Pledge of Allegiance, with the exception of some private schools, many of which have retained the tradition.

But how patriotic are we as a nation and a community, really? It depends on who you talk to.

Ask a member of a military family and you're likely to get a good dose of the red, white, and blue. But many children and young people today know little about how we got here, or who we have to thank for the freedoms we enjoy.

In recent years it seems our society has grown more and more apart. Has all the hard work and sacrifice of the civil rights era been in vain? Has Martin Luther King Jr.'s "I Have a Dream" speech left us emotionless?

Whatever your thoughts, one tradition has managed to survive. The playing of our National Anthem at the beginning of nearly every sporting event in America.

I must have heard the National Anthem ten thousand times, yet somehow, I'm always touched as the vocalist hits the highest notes, and the crowd invariably responds with enthusiasm.

Last year I attended a Kings game, and a young, 11-year-old African American girl was introduced as the guest singer.

I was literally brought to tears by the stirring rendition I heard, and this young girl would have made Whitney Houston proud!

The ovation at the end of the song was louder and longer than any 3-point basket made that night, but sadly three members of Kings were not present to hear this beautiful young lady sing our National Anthem.

All three players were in the locker room while the Anthem was being sung. Unfortunately, for reasons unknown, these three players had formed the habit of boycotting the Anthem, and not standing with the rest of the team.

Well, 2022-2023 was a breakout season for the Kings, and with the recent acquisition of star Euro player Sasha Venenkov, and first round pick Colby Jones, the Kings are expecting to improve on the lofty 48 wins of last season.

Recently, two of the players mentioned who stayed in the locker room during the Anthem have left the Kings for other NBA teams, but one remains, and will be here for years to come.

As a season ticket holder, I am at nearly every game, and I want the team I root for and love to be a representation of all of us. As we rise, take off our hats, and place our hands over our hearts, I want to gaze on a team that really is a team. I, for one, want to see our players stand in unanimity, with the fans, together finding a moment in time of common ground. Regardless of religion or ethnicity, or station in life, a moment when we can be a part of something bigger than ourselves.

Every time I see a serviceman in the arena, I have a silent moment of appreciation that there stands someone ready to pay the ultimate price if called upon.

I believe we still have patriotism, and I hope that if you agree, you'll take just a moment to let the Sacramento Kings know how you feel.

I've already called and emailed the team, and have yet to receive a response.

I believe every fan has a right to ask the question, not just season ticket holders.

Sacramento Kings fans are a special group and I believe our team is, too. Let's go to the playoffs next season as a fan base and team united!

Let your voice be heard, and let's support our NBA team, and America too!

Vince Harris, Patriot and Kings fan since 1989. ★

Social Security Matters

Social Security Disability vs. Spouse Benefits vs. Survivor Benefits (and COLA)

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I retired from working in June but will not sign up for Social Security until age 70 and, to do that, I plan to draw from my IRA for the next 3 years. My wife is receiving Social Security disability benefits and will reach her full retirement age in March of next year. I know that my wife simply reaching her full retirement age will not mean an increase to her benefit – except for COLA. What I’m wondering is, can my wife get spousal benefits of any sort based on my Social Security benefits - either before I draw or after I am drawing - apart from her benefits at my death? Her Social Security disability amount is only a fraction of my maximum benefit. Signed: Baffled Husband

Dear Baffled: Looks like you’re confused about your wife’s Social Security disability benefits, retirement benefits, spousal benefits, and survivor benefits. Here’s what you need to know:

When your wife reaches her full retirement age (FRA) next year, her current Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) benefit will automatically convert to become her regular SS retirement benefit at the same amount she was receiving on SSDI (disability). The amount stays the same because your wife’s SSDI amount is based on her FRA entitlement.

Your wife cannot get any spousal benefits from you until you claim your own Social Security retirement benefit. Since you plan to delay claiming until you are 70 several years from now, after your wife’s SSDI converts to become her regular retirement benefit at her FRA next year, she will continue to receive her own SS retirement benefit until you claim. At that point your wife will get a “spousal boost” added to her own SS retirement benefit. The amount of her spousal benefit will be the difference between her FRA entitlement (same as her SSDI amount), and 50% of your FRA entitlement (not half of your age 70 amount - spouse benefits are always calculated using FRA amounts, regardless of when Social Security is actually claimed).

Your wife cannot get a spousal benefit from you until you start your Social Security, but after you claim she will receive her higher spousal benefit (her own SS retirement benefit plus a spousal boost) for the rest of her life, or until you predecease her. If you die first, your wife will get 100% of the amount you were receiving at your death (e.g., your age 70 amount), instead of the smaller amount she was receiving as your spouse while you are both living.

Regarding COLA, after becoming eligible for benefits, everyone gets the annually awarded COLA increase whether they are already collecting SS benefits or not. The next annual COLA increase will be added to your wife’s SSDI at the end of this year and added to her SS retirement amount each year thereafter, and then to her higher amount as your spouse after you claim. And even though you are waiting until age 70 to claim, the annual COLA will still be added to your Primary Insurance Amount (PIA) each year, and you will receive that past COLA in your monthly payments after you later claim.

What went wrong at EDD?

An Investigation of its Managerial Meltdown

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

In theory, we humans practice politics as a pathway to governance – providing an array of laws, regulations and services to protect and otherwise enhance the lives of the governed.

In practice, politics often – too often – become all-consuming exercises that bear only the faintest relationship to governance. Case in point: the U.S. Congress.

An aspect of that disconnect is the eagerness of those in office to build their images by constantly offering up proposals for new laws, services and programs while ignoring whether earlier laws, services and programs that officialdom birthed are performing as promised.

Often they are not, but even when informed about the shortcomings of design and/or implementation, officials tend to minimize or brush aside the criticism, fearing that acknowledgement would be a sign of weakness. Management and oversight just don’t have the political sex appeal of some shiny new notion that promises boundless benefits.

Examples of the syndrome abound, particularly in a state as large and diverse as California.

The state’s bullet train project is certainly one. Billions of dollars have been consumed and various structures have been built but the project has become a zombie, something that’s neither alive nor dead.

Oroville Dam is another. It was poorly designed and shoddily constructed in the 1960s and those who managed it knew of its deficiencies, particularly spillways that couldn’t handle Feather River flows from extraordinary storms.

But the interest groups that provided financial support for the dam in return for water were evidently not willing to spend the money necessary to make it safe.

Officialdom didn’t make it a priority, even when safety issues were raised in 2005 during the dam’s relicensing. In 2017, it came extremely close to a collapse that could have killed thousands of people.

There are many others but the poster child for governmental dysfunction has to be the Employment Development Department, which imploded during the COVID-19 pandemic as millions of Californians lost their jobs and needed unemployment insurance benefits.

EDD managed to simultaneously deny countless unemployed workers of the life-sustaining benefits to which they were entitled and parcel out countless billions of dollars in benefits to clever fraudsters.

A preview of EDD’s dysfunctional tendencies was felt during the Great Recession a decade earlier and the state’s watchdogs, the state auditor’s office and the Legislature’s budget analyst, issued timely warnings of potential disaster. But three governors and hundreds of legislators couldn’t be bothered to fix them and the result was cruel chaos.

In the aftermath of the near-catastrophe at the Oroville Dam, an exhaustive and damning analysis of what went wrong was commissioned. EDD deserves similar scrutiny.

After a year of painstaking research and interviews, CalMatters investigative reporter Lauren Hepler has written a four-part series that delves into what happened and why. She also catalogs the pain that EDD’s managerial collapse imposed on people who needed unemployment insurance benefits when the state shut down their jobs.

“Once COVID hit,” the series’ foreword summarizes, “public records and interviews reveal that California’s system was initially friendlier to scammers than to many real workers – and then the state got so aggressive that many workers struggled to prove their own identities. New financial reports requested by CalMatters show that amid the chaos, the EDD and its unemployment payment contractor Bank of America split a half a billion dollars in revenue, though the bank says it ultimately spent more to cover fraud losses. Another large EDD contractor, Deloitte, made more than a quarter of a billion dollars on tech contracts and emergency contracts to build systems that state reports say buckled during the pandemic.”

Will it be fixed or will EDD melt down again when another recession hits?

Dave Ramsey Says

rent out the basement to help with the mortgage payments. How do you feel about ideas like this?

- Erin

Dear Erin,

In a situation like this you need to do a basic business analysis. You've got to have a plan in place, and you've got to figure out the worst-case scenario. Part of this is determining whether you can survive if things fall apart. In this case, the worst case is that you can't get a renter, and the house doesn't sell. It puts your family in jeopardy, so to me it's not an option.

Want my honest opinion? I think you've both got a case of house fever right now. The possibility I just mentioned isn't a rare occurrence. Lots of people have had the same idea, with the best of intentions, and still wound up in a big mess. I love real estate. I mean I really love real estate. And I've flipped more than a few houses in my day. But the particulars of this deal make me a little nervous. If you and your husband are willing to accept the possibility of things not working out like you planned—and the fact you might have to take additional jobs for an unknown length of time just to make ends meet—then it might be a play. But for me? Nope. I don't like putting myself into these kinds of situations.

When I was much younger, I was willing to do all kinds of dangerous stuff and ignore the risk. But going broke decades ago knocked that kind of thinking out of me in a hurry. Any deal that runs the risk of leaving you bankrupt, or the victim of a foreclosure, just isn't worth it, Erin.

STANDARD FAMILY LAW RESTRAINING ORDERS

Starting immediately, you and your spouse or domestic partner are restrained from:

- removing the minor children of the parties from the state or applying for a new or replacement passport for those minor children without the prior written consent of the other party or an order of the court;
- cashing, borrowing against, canceling, transferring, disposing of, or changing the beneficiaries of any insurance or other coverage, including life, health automobile, and disability, held for the benefit of the parties and their minor children;
- transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of any property, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life; and

- creating a nonprobate transfer or modifying a nonprobate transfer in a manner that affects the disposition of property subject to the transfer, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court. Before revocation of a nonprobate transfer can take effect or a right of survivorship to property can be eliminated, notice of the change must be filed and served on the other party.

You must notify each other of any proposed extraordinary expenditures at least five business days prior to incurring these extraordinary expenditures and account to the court for all extraordinary expenditures made after these restraining orders are effective. However, you may use community property, quasi-community property, or your own separate property to pay an attorney to help you or pay court costs.

NOTICE: ACCESS TO AFFORDABLE HEALTH INSURANCE:
 Do you or someone in your household need affordable health insurance? If so, you should apply for Covered

California. Covered California can help reduce the cost you pay towards high quality affordable health care. For more information, visit www.coveredca.com. Or call Covered California at 1-800-300-1506

WARNING: IMPORTANT INFORMATION
 California law provides that, for purposes of division of property upon dissolution of a marriage or domestic partnership or upon legal separation, property acquired by the parties during marriage or domestic partnership in joint form is presumed to be community property. If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e., joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and not the community property presumption. You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title to the property.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. # Sacramento County Honors and Serves Our Veterans

Sacramento County News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento County extends its deepest gratitude and respect to the veterans of this region for their unwavering commitment, courage, and sacrifice in defending our nation. These brave men and women have selflessly dedicated their lives to preserving our freedoms and protecting the values we hold dear.

Sacramento County is proud to be home to more than 84,000 veterans. As this vital segment of our population continues to increase, Sacramento County Veterans Services, part of the Department of Human Assistance, encourages veterans to take advantage of the available benefits and resources that are in place to not only assist veterans but family members and dependents.

Benefits range from disability compensation (due to injuries/illness resulting from service-related activities) to VA Pension, which is monthly financial assistance to low-income, wartime Veterans over the age of 65 and/or those who are "totally disabled." Surviving spouses may also receive benefits.

We assist local veterans in applying for benefits offered through the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, the State of California and local government entities.

Veterans Services is also responsible for administering the College Fee Waiver Program for Veterans' Dependents. This program is afforded to spouses, unmarried surviving spouses, and children of service-connected disabled or service related deceased veterans. Eligible dependents are not required to pay "mandatory system wide" tuition and fees while attending either a California community college, a campus of the California State University (Cal State) system, or a campus of the University of California (UC) system. This program not only provides eligible dependents with the incentive but also the opportunity to pursue their goals.

Some of the services we assist with are:

Service-Connected Disability Compensation Benefits; Non-Service-Connected Disability Pension Benefits; Dependency Indemnity Compensation (DIC) Benefits; Death Pension Benefits; Aid & Attendance Entitlement; VA Medical Care Eligibility & Access; Vocational Rehabilitation Benefits; California College Fee Waiver Program; VA Life Insurance; State Veterans Homes; Requests for Military Records; Discharge Upgrade Information; Burial Benefits; Other Ancillary Benefits & Programs. ★

Kings Announce the 22nd Annual Season of Doing Good

Sacramento Kings Communications News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On Monday, November 6, 2023, the Sacramento Kings Foundation announced activations for the 22nd Annual Season of Doing Good, presented by Raley's.

"This annual tradition is an opportunity to reaffirm our deep commitment to the incredible Sacramento community and create positive change," said Sacramento Kings Chief Operating Officer Matina Kolokotronis. "We are proud to partner with local organizations and nonprofits and give back to those in need."

"It's our honor to partner with the Sacramento Kings on their Season of Doing Good," said Raley's Vice President of Community Impact and Public Affairs Chelsea Carbahal. "Together we are committed to creating memorable experiences and providing nutritious meals for families across our region."

The season will tip-off on November 9, with the team hosting the annual Eat Like a King event, a harvest festival themed feast at Golden 1 Center. The Sacramento Kings players and coaches will serve dinner and eat with over 200 youth and their families from 27 nonprofits supporting underserved areas of Sacramento. The event will also include interactive games, a DJ, performances by the Kings Dancers and a photo booth.

On December 2, as the Kings take on the Denver Nuggets the team will host a Toy Drive with Les Schwab. The first 200 fans who bring a toy valued at $20 or more will receive two tickets to a future

Kings home game.

On December 15, the team will host Kingpin Classic at The Apex at Red Hawk Resort + Casino. The Kingpin Classic charity bowling tournament is an opportunity for Kings fans to bowl with their favorite players and coaches while enjoying entertainment from the Kings Dancers, and Slamson. In addition, all participants will receive an exclusive Kingpin Classic shirt, Kings swag, unlimited arcade games, food and beverages and more. All proceeds benefit local youth basketball programs. Advanced sponsorship package and ticket purchases are required for both bowlers and spectators.

On December 17, the Kings and Raley's will deliver bags of groceries, Raley's gift cards and co-branded swag to local veterans as part of the team's Shop Like a King event.

On December 19, the team will spread holiday cheer at select Raley's stores with players surprising shoppers with gift cards for groceries.

Additionally, Kings guard De'Aaron Fox and Raley's, guard Malik Monk and Forward Trey Lyles will each host Thanksgiving meal donations in Sacramento, Arkansas and Indiana, respectively. In December, Fox will also host a toy drive and Monk will provide a holiday shopping spree for families at Target.

All Season of Doing Good event benefactors and audiences are predetermined and selected in collaboration with Raley's, local nonprofit partners and community organizations.

ABC10 Launches 4th Annual Stand Against Hunger

ABC10 News Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Golden State produces nearly half of the nation's fruits and vegetables yet roughly one in five Californians – about 8.8 million – currently struggle with food insecurity. To help address this critical issue, ABC10 is proud to announce the 4th Annual Stand Against Hunger holiday fundraising campaign that is launching November 6 and continuing through December 17, 2023. Stand Against Hunger is a signature community initiative led by ABC10, a TEGNA-owned media station, and is supported by Wells Fargo, Raley's Food for Families, Bayside Community Church, and Northwest Exteriors. To help kick off this important community effort, the TEGNA Foundation has generously donated $25,000 to support the cause.

Local food banks serve a combined total of more than 500,000 people per month in the Greater Sacramento, Foothill and Valley region. In 2022, and with the help of generous businesses, organizations, and community members, nearly $350,000 was raised through this high-profile initiative that resulted in more than 1.7 million meals last holiday season. All donated funds generated as part of the six-week Stand Against Hunger effort will be divided equally among the participating local food bank partners each year.

Every dollar makes a difference. In fact, a donation of just $5 will buy 10 meals for those in need. The seven local food banks participating in the 2023 Stand Against Hunger include the following:
-Emergency Food Bank of Stockton
-Food Bank of Contra Costa and Solano
-Placer Food Bank
-Sacramento Food Bank and

Family Services
-Second Harvest of the Greater Valley
-Yolo County Food Bank
-Yuba-Sutter Food Bank
"Food insecurity affects hundreds of thousands in our community each year, and the number of individuals seeking food services locally has nearly doubled since the pandemic," says Risa Omega, President & General

Manager of ABC10. "I am honored that ABC10 and our parent company TEGNA are teaming up with other community-minded businesses and organizations to take a Stand Against Hunger. In addition to our on-air support, program leadership and financial contributions, ABC10 staff members will get actively involved by volunteering their time to help at local food banks this holiday season."

Telemundo (T33), 103.9 The Fish in Sacramento, and KAT Country 103.3 in Stockton are providing on-air support for the cause.

Viewers and community members are encouraged to donate online to the food bank of their choice at www.abc10.com/standagainsthunger.
