CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Heidi Sanborn was the toast of the town as the Carmichael Chamber of Commerce declared the SMUD director and environmental activist 2014 Person of the Year, last week.

An annual Chamber fundraiser, the Awards Dinner benefit applauded business people, services, non-profits, volunteers, and officials.

Introducing the event's principal honoree, Assemblyman Josh Hoover described Sanborn's impact as far-reaching. "Heidi's dedication creates a ripple effect that stretches across the nation," said Hoover.

Event decor reflected the heroine's passion for all things sustainable. Napkins and guest notebooks were of recycled paper; knives and forks were compostable. Potted trees dotted the La Sierra auditorium and faux grass formed a photo-op background. Effie Yeaw Nature Center provided a Peregrine falcon ambassador. "Part of local vitality is our environment," explained Chamber president Rosie Buck. "Protecting it is as important to us as it is to Heidi."

Interview with USL Head Coach Mark Briggs

By Mitch Barber

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Mark Briggs has a clear mission for the 2024 United Soccer League (USL) season, Republic FC's 11th. He told the Messenger Publishing Group that "it is to go one step further than last year and win the championship. Pretty simple, I think, after where we got to last year and reaching the conference final. We gotta go one step further this year and try and be better than what we were."

The club won its only USL championship in 2014.

The Tower Bridge Battalion has been cheering since then.

Briggs said of them, "I think they're like a 12th person on our team. They give us extra energy when we're in difficult moments. They make us run those extra five yards when we're tired. I can't speak highly enough of the Tower Bridge Battalion. I think they're incredible and we're proud to have them as our supporters' group."

The Tower Bridge Battalion will support numerous players this season who made their way through the Republic FC Academy, such as forward Rafael Jauregui, the youngest goal scorer in club history; forward Da'vian Kimbrough, who just turned 14 and signed with the club at 13 becoming the youngest pro in U.S. team sports history; midfielder Blake Willey who grew up in the Pocket area; and 16-year-old central defender Chibuiké "Chibi" Ukaegbu.

Briggs also started his own career at an early age in England. When asked about pickup soccer there, he said, "It's a huge thing. You drive past every park and there's people going on [the pitch] and, it was for me every single day growing up, soon as I finished school, there would be 20, 30 of us at the park just playing. I think it's where the game over here... You don't get that in America. I think you can go anywhere else in the rest of the world, England, Italy, Brazil, Argentina, like there's always just people playing, you know? Of course, you don't need anything —just a ball. [If] you can't find a goalpost, use trees, use whatever it is, you can just play and I think that's what I'd like to see happening a little bit more over here in America."

And then there's veteran midfielder Rodrigo Lopez, who was on Republic FC's 2014 championship team, winning MVP honors in the final. He's from Guadalajara, Mexico, another country with quite the pickup soccer scene.

USL soccer is a different level of soccer. Coach Briggs said of Republic FC, "You have professional players, a professional team of the highest caliber there has ever been in Sacramento. I think the reason to come out and support your local club [is] first and foremost, but also you have top top players that are in this league, and I think a lot of people still have the perception that it's semi-professional, and it's not semi-professional; it's fully-professional. If you have a kid that likes soccer, there's no better learning tool than watching a professional live."

What does Briggs do when he isn't coaching elite soccer?

"I'm usually with the family: my wife, my kids, my dog. Usually walking around parks or playing with the kids," the coach said. "Every now and then, I pick up a pickleball racket or tennis racket. Sometimes a golf club and the majority of the time's with the kids and with my wife."

Briggs is comfortable in Sacramento. He said of the city, "It's not flashy — you know the glitz and glamour of your L.A.'s and San Diego's. It's humble people that work hard and enjoy life and I certainly feel at home here."

Let's see if he and the team can bring Sacramento another championship in 2024.

The Indomitable Club will open their season on March 9 against Orange County SC at Heart Health Park, 1600 Exposition Blvd., Sacramento. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m. ★

Just touched-down from a lobbying trip to Washington DC, the woman-of-the-hour barely had time to don cocktail attire before she hit the floor dancing.

"The first thing I thought when I was asked to accept this award was: why me?" The 61-year told nearly 200 supporters. "It means so much to me."

Her environmental activism, she explained, was with the goal of "leaving this planet as awesome as we found it." Of her Sacramento Municipal Utilities District leadership, the 2023 board president said: "I'm just lucky to work with so many amazing people. Our SMUD team is the best of the best."

She also thanked neighborhood service club volunteers. "If I have so much energy, it's because of this fantastic community," she said. "So many people here have such huge hearts. It's because we love each other that we are stronger and better."

Sanborn's real estate broker husband Brad Sanborn – and 86-year-old father Dr Clark Kahn III – also got back-slaps. "My husband makes what I do possible," she said. "If I'm out picking up trash, he's with me. My father always told me I could be anything I wanted. He said if I worked hard, I could be an astronaut or even a president."

The Chamber and the Kiwanis Club of Carmichael benefited from the Awards Dinner fundraiser.

Also honored were:

thing in situations like yours. But more than feeling indebted to someone or experiencing a sense of guilt or shame, it's really a discussion about differing views of marriage.

You're never in debt to your spouse. You should be all in where your husband or wife is concerned. Remember the vows? For richer, for poorer. In sickness and in health. If she makes you chicken soup when you're sick, does she charge you for it? Of course not. When you get married, you agree to take on each other's burdens. Once you walk down the aisle with someone, you're choosing to serve each other. You're also choosing to take on each other's debt, each other's income, each other's assets and each other's crazy parents. Everything!

It all boils down to having a shared view of a proper marriage relationship. And the proper (and biblical) view is we own everything. There's no mine and yours anymore. Now, you can't make her feel—or not feel—a certain way. But you can ask her questions to understand where she's coming from and what blockers are keeping her from being totally together in this. Talk about it. Put your heads together and practice thinking about your marriage as a union.

It will take some encouragement from you and some getting used to on her part, but if you work together, it's a muscle you can grow and develop together!

My Wife Thinks She Owes Me Money

Dear Dave,

My wife and I have been married for nine months, and we've been following your Baby Steps plan for three months. We have about $50,000 in debt, and I recently cashed out an old whole life policy that enabled us to pay off $22,000 of our debt. My wife still feels weird about us doing that, since the money paid off all the student loan debt she accumulated before we got married but none of the debt I brought to the marriage. I look at everything as ours, not mine and hers. What can I do about her sense of guilt and feeling indebted to me

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 6.75% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 15%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $200,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $300,000, have a total maximum Loan to Value (LTV) of 65% and may not be a revolving line of credit. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply: A $25 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. Social Security Matters

Why Must I Pay Into Social Security When I'm Collecting Benefits?

By Russell Gloor, AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: I am collecting full Social Security benefits at age 72 and also working full time. Why is the Federal Government still taking money from my paycheck? I have written to Social Security experts on this issue, and they tell me "It's the law." That is not a good answer for me. Approximately $4,400 was taken from my pay in 2023 for Social Security and, yes, I get a pittance of a COLA increase, but not equal to what I pay. No one has been able to fully explain the Federal Government's thought process on taxing me for Social Security when I am getting full Social Security benefits. Can you?

Signed: Working Senior

Dear Working Senior: Far be it from me to try to explain the federal government's thought process on anything, but I can explain why those already collecting Social Security benefits must continue to pay Social Security payroll taxes while working.

It actually goes back to 1935 and the panel commissioned by President Roosevelt to create America's Social Security program. Said panel determined how the program would be financed, Congress approved it, and FDR signed it. That methodology was essentially this:

Workers who earn (and their employers) must contribute to Social Security via payroll taxes to fund the program (we now know this as "FICA" for employees and "SECA" for the self-employed). When the program first started, certain employees and their employers were required to each contribute 1% of the employee's first $3000 of earnings. Obviously, those amounts have risen over the decades. And, for clarity, only certain workers originally participated in Social Security, which has also changed over the decades so that now nearly everyone who works must pay Social Security payroll taxes.

Starting in 1937 and still today, SS payroll taxes paid by those now working are used by the federal government to pay benefits to those who are currently receiving. Said another way, Social Security is a "pay as you go" program where income from those working (and their employer) is used to pay benefits to those receiving. Payroll taxes collected aren't put into a personal account for the worker; rather they are used to meet current SS payment obligations. Any excess money collected is invested in special issue government bonds as reserves for future use (although current annual SS income is less than annual program costs – an entirely different topic).

So, the financing method enacted in 1935 and started in 1937 still applies – those who work and earn (and their employers) must pay into the system to fund benefit payments to those who are now receiving - and that includes those workers who are already collecting their Social Security. FYI, there was a time when, if someone worked after starting their SS benefits, they lost all of their benefits. Fortunately, that rule no longer exists, so those who are collecting SS benefits can now continue to get benefits if they work, but they must also still pay into the program from their work earnings to help pay benefits to SS recipients.

I hope this provides some insight for why you must continue to contribute to Social Security even after you have started collecting your benefits. It is a result of how the program is financed – predominantly by workers through payroll taxes on their earnings (and to a lesser extent from interest on Trust Fund reserves and income tax on Social Security benefits). With very few exceptions, everyone who works helps pay benefits to those now receiving.

Gavin Newsom Is Unpopular, But A Second Recall Drive Is Doomed For Failure

By Dan Walters, CALMatters.org

On one level, it's completely understandable that many Californians believe they and their state would be better off without Gavin Newsom as governor.

California has some seemingly intractable issues that have worsened during the five years of his governorship – homelessness being the most obvious – and Newsom's penchant for braggadocio and grandstanding can be grating.

Although California is politically a deeply blue state, a recent poll by the Public Policy Institute of California found that fewer than half of adult Californians and likely voters believe the state is headed in the right direction and approve of how Newsom has governed.

Although Newsom still enjoys strong support among his fellow Democrats and Republicans are, as one would expect, just as strongly critical, his loss of approval by independent voters is the chief reason for his overall negative image, PPIC's poll discovered.

Newsom's recent fixation on touring the country as a surrogate campaigner for President Joe Biden – and to build his own political standing – probably contributes to his poor image at home. To many, it implies that the state and its problems, including a whopping budget deficit, now play second fiddle to Newsom's political ambitions, whatever they may be, and surely a factor in a renewed campaign this week seeking to recall the governor.

Orrin Heatlie, a retired Yolo County sheriff's deputy who headed the 2021 recall effort and is back as chairman of the group Rebuild California, insists that "this time is different."

"People are suffering in California now more than ever," he said as the recall effort was launched. "Gas prices and people's grocery bills are higher than ever before. Crime is out of control, stores statewide are closing their doors, and this governor is giving free handouts and health insurance to thousands of people who are here illegally while we are facing a $70 billion dollar deficit, not to mention our taxes are the highest in the nation."

"This man has aspirations to become the next president," Heatlie added. "Although we want him to leave California government, we don't want him to move to Washington. The country can't afford that."

All of that said, a second campaign to recall Newsom is a waste of time and energy. He easily defeated the first recall in 2021 with nearly 62% of the vote. A year later, he won a second term with a similar margin and almost certainly would prevail again if recall proponents can collect enough signatures to put it on the ballot.

Even if they could force a recall election – and even if they muster an impressive list of Newsom's failures – recall advocates would need a viable replacement to have even a faint chance of success. In California, a recall is a two-step process. Voters simultaneously decide whether they want to oust the incumbent and choose among the declared replacement candidates.

That was demonstrated in 2003 during the first and only successful recall of a California governor. Then-Gov. Gray Davis would almost certainly have survived the recall if actor Arnold Schwarzenegger had not offered himself as a replacement.

Three years ago, the leading candidate to succeed Newsom was right-wing radio talk show host Larry Elder, who obviously saw it as an opportunity for self-aggrandizement rather than a serious interest in governance. He was an easy target for the Newsom campaign.

Given the very thin bench of Republican politicians in California these days, it's difficult to imagine anyone who could, by running as a replacement for Newsom, make a difference – nor could they raise the millions of dollars that a campaign would require. The only alternative would be a wealthy celebrity who could self-finance a campaign, like Schwarzenegger, but who that might that be, if anyone?

Dan Walters has been a journalist for more than 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★

Four Letter Word

Now don't get ahead of me because I said a four letter word. We all have to face times when our backs are up against the wall. So how do we learn to deal with it and maybe even learn to laugh? Dr. David Levy faced adversity and learned to laugh at himself and get up to face life. Dr. Levy is an award-winning Professor of Psychology at Pepperdine University, and he has been sought out for appearances on CNN, PBS, NPR and Nat Geo as a media consultant on current events. So came his book "Life is a 4-Letter Word" laughing and learning through 40 life lessons.

Here are ten he shared with me.

- 1. SOMETIMES A TIE IS REALLY A WIN. This lesson can apply to relationships, friendships...basically all human interactions. It is a shift in perspective that allows everyone to emerge a winner, with no necessity for losers.
- 2. EMPTY THREATS ARE WORSE THAN NONE AT ALL. This lesson became especially poignant and relevant as he became a parent. He remembered this lesson every time he went to Disneyland with his kids. I'm sure you get what he means.
- 3. TRY TO REPLACE ENVY WITH SELF-ACCEPTANCE. Envy knows no bounds, but self-acceptance can stem the tide.
- 4. WHEN YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO, FAKE IT 'TIL YOU MAKE IT. With this lesson, you can get a lot further than you think, and hey, no one can tell you otherwise.
- 5. FIND FORGIVENESS THROUGH

EMPATHY. He told me it is easier said than done, but with practice, it can become easier. I remember when a concert pianist was asked how he got the Carnegie Hall, his answer was simple...practice, practice, practice.

6. HAVE THE WISDOM NOT TO FIGHT EVERY BATTLE. Because sometimes it is not even about winning, but knowing that the battle may not be worth fighting over.

7. LEARN TO TRUST FACTS OVER FEELINGS. This lesson has the backing of the United States Navy, so if you don't like it, take it up with them.

8. DIFFERENTNESS IN ITSELF IS NOT A THREAT. Something to keep in mind, especially in today's society, when circumstances can get so divisive among people. It's okay to be different.

9. LOVE SOMETHING ENOUGH TO LET IT GO. This is a lesson from one of his personal favorite stories about Zorro, his beloved Labrador. This story has a special place in his heart because it is hard to let go of your best friend. I know I sure do and have had to do it more than once.

10. WITH AGE, THE ABSENCE OF CATASTOPHIC NEWS IS GREAT NEWS. It was the first time in his life when he was genuinely ecstatic to have a kidney stone. I guess what he means is all you have to do is think of all the other much worse possibilities!

My favorite lesson was "Things could always be worse." So enjoy the moment at www.drdaavidlevypsych.com. And live the 4-Letter word...LIFE! ★

A little over a week ago I found myself in a local sports card shop picking up a De'Aaron Fox rookie card for my grandson's ninth birthday.

To my complete surprise I was forced to listen to a clerk that had no regard for our playoff-bound Sacramento Kings. Not less than five times he exclaimed that the Kings were "a bad team."

Now, for someone that is as deeply-rooted and invested in this team as I am, it took great composure to have a civil conversation with this obviously uneducated sales clerk.

If you want to tell me that the Kings can't shoot free throws, or coach Brown must be picking his starting lineup out of a hat, or even remark that the Kings have not the slightest knowledge of how to challenge a call, you may have an argument that I can have a conversation about.

But, do not expect me to accept that the Kings are a bad team. They are anything but a bad team, and as I have extolled their virtues in nearly every column, this team as presently composed, is one of the most dangerous teams in the NBA today. No one in their right mind would want to take on the Kings in the first round of the playoffs.

What other team has defeated the defending NBA champs in their first three meetings this season?

The Sacramento Kings have repeatedly shown the ability to go into hostile arenas, with teams that have a better record, and come away with wins.

As pleased as I was to see the Kings go on the road to L.A. and upset a star-studded Clippers team that had repeatedly given us trouble, I was even more impressed with the workmanlike way the Kings handled business in Minnesota.

Fans and pundits alike were putting up an L as we flew into Minneapolis, and without team scoring leader De'Aaron Fox the Kings played the Timberwolves to a stalemate in regulation. Then, with stalwart Domantas Sabonis on the bench with 6 fouls, the shorthanded Kings gave the Wolves only their 7th loss of the season on their home court.

The mark of a bad team or a good team? Our fans know that answer, and I believe this team has another level that we have yet to see.

I don't like criticizing Coach Brown, but he has not enjoyed his best season coaching. Coming off an award-winning season, Coach Brown has established himself as the worst in league as it relates to coaches' challenges. This can't continue, and especially in light of the firestorm that is the Kings free-throw shooting.

So, after everything I've said about higher levels, and what a solid team we overall are enjoying, the free-throw shooting percentage cannot be accepted.

Whether the coaching staff needs an epiphany, or an expert from the outside needs to come in and render help, let's all agree that something needs to be done sooner rather than later.

Many years ago, playing in the San Jose city league, I met the man who was in the Guinness Book of World Records for making the most consecutive free throws ever. From 15 feet out from anywhere on the court this guy just wouldn't miss. Where is he now, or if not him, the carbon copy that can come in and actually teach fundamentals to professional basketball players?

Over the weekend, I watched several college teams shoot free throws like they were making layups, so how are they doing it while we seemingly cannot?

Let's love this team, and the fervor with which they play. The defense is getting better and may be peaking at just the right time. But let's not just shout our praises when we have a glaring blemish for all the league to see.

Go Kings, and please send your thoughts and comments to vgarrisingsfan@gmail.com. ★ brighter future for our children and build a stronger, healthier, more compassionate community.”

 More than 450 community members came together last spring for United Way’s inaugural gala to celebrate the organization’s 100th anniversary and to raise $640,000 to help local children succeed in school. Founded in 1923, United Way California Capital Region has been a transformative force in the Sacramento community for more than a century, serving Amador, El Dorado, Placer, Sacramento, and Yolo counties.

The local United Way’s Square One approach to ending poverty is grounded in a public health model and uses a threefold strategy to address community needs from birth and beyond: helping kids excel in school, investing in families and strengthening schools. At United Way’s core is the philosophy that families possess the blueprint for their success. United Way supplies books to young children, provides literacy tutoring, addresses housing and food security, leads the region’s largest tax preparation initiative, and launched Sacramento’s first guaranteed income program. United Way works across diverse school districts, providing case management for foster youth and leading the Community Schools initiative in West Sacramento. For more information or to make a donation, visit www.YourLocalUnitedWay.org. ★

Artist Inspired by Local Roots

Leslie McCarron's paintings are currently on display at Archival Gallery through March 30. A reception will be held for the artist on March 9, 5-8 p.m. Photo by Judy Andrews

By Judy Andrews

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Leslie McCarron's earliest memories of growing up in Carmichael are of running through inviting fields covered with trees and playing in neighborhood creeks filled with frogs, minnows and tadpoles.

The artist fondly recalls how her family's rural backyard garden brimmed with colorful fruit, vegetables and springtime flowers.

"Our home was always filled with fragrant fresh cut blooms and interesting looking branches my mother arranged in an assortment of vases," she said.

McCarron is a California native and has lived in Carmichael since she was 5 years old. A Del Campo High School graduate, her "lifelong dream of creating art" became a reality almost 20 years while attending fine art classes at American River College.

"I was encouraged to keep on doing art and studied under several established artists and mentors," McCarron said.

Today, McCarron resides in Carmichael near the American River where she continues to draw inspiration from the natural beauty she finds near home.

"I'm inspired by spending time outdoors, whether it's by walking my two Springer Spaniels (Sierra and Spencer), working in my garden, or gazing out the windows of my house into the surrounding tree canopy and seasonal color," McCarron said.

Although the artist played with different art mediums early on, McCarron prefers painting in oil due to its "rich creamy texture and versatility." Strongly influenced by her love for color and nature, McCarron's paintings almost always include a pop of vibrant bold color using strong brush strokes and thick paint to enhance the compositions.

"As a colorist and modern painter, I like to include elements of realism and abstraction with emphasis on light, shadow and movement," shared McCarron, who is just as comfortable handling a pallet knife as she is with a brush and often uses both tools to create a single painting.

"I never run out of ideas," McCarron said. "For florals, I set up vases on a shelf, study the arrangements and move things around while playing with light until it's time to dive in."

For landscapes, the artist studies photos that she collects: "From these, I create my own landscape composition and use colors that I love."

McCarron's paintings have appeared in several solo shows and numerous group exhibits in galleries throughout the Sacramento area. She has won top awards in local juried shows and paintings have graced two covers of Inside Sacramento magazine.

The artist enjoys supporting local art auctions by contributing her paintings for charity, including the PBS KVIE Art Auction, Crocker Art Museum, Effie Yeaw Nature Center and Jesuit High School.

McCarron's paintings are located in many private collections throughout the U.S. For more information about the artist, visit her website at www.lesliemcarron.com.

Meet the artist at Archival Gallery

McCarron's most recent work will premiere at a two-person art exhibit at Archival Gallery in Sacramento from March 1 to 30. The show's title, "Contemporary Nostalgia," best describes her modern take on 16 new paintings that McCarron produced exclusively for the exhibit, and the iconic photos by local street photographer Carol Mott-Binkley. Both artists are represented by Archival Gallery.

The public is welcome to attend a reception for McCarron and Mott-Binkley at Archival Gallery from 5 to 8 p.m. March 9 "Second Saturday." You can also meet McCarron at the gallery from noon to 3 p.m. March 30, or call the gallery for an appointment at 916-923-6204.

Archival is located at 3223 Folsom Blvd., Sacramento, and is open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays. For more information about the show and reception, visit www.archivalgallery.com. ★
