Lions Leap Toward the Future

These ladies are excited to be heading into their future as LOHS grads.

LIVE OAK, CA (MPG) - In a spirited graduation ceremony the evening of Thursday, June 1st, the Live Oak Lions Class of 2023 closed one chapter and opened the door on another.

Live Oak High School Principal Tony Walton rallied the crowd, introducing the Class of 2023 in true "Walton" fashion as the graduates waited to the sides of the main stage for their big entrance.

Walton would say on behalf of himself and faculty, "We have seen young men and women, are extremely proud of them and we know that their future is full of endless opportunities to grow and excel."

"This is a class of high achievers," he told the packed stadium, "have excelled in the classroom, in their athletic pursuits – yes we have three section championship teams in this group right here – and they have served our wonderful community as well."

The introduction was translated for the audience by graduating students, Esmerelda Zavala (Spanish) and Parneet Grewal (Punjabi).

City Planner and Engineer Respond to Developers' Complaints

By Cindy Scott

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - The May 15 city council meeting was the city's opportunity to answer the complaints previously raised by developers concerning the city's planning process.

Using flow diagrams, current project timelines, cost drivers, and comparisons with other cities on expected timelines, required initial deposit percentages, and hourly rates, City Planner Donna Decker and City Engineer Dave Harden explained the City's planning process. Adding a detailed timeline of both Steffen Estates and the Village at Eagle Meadows, Harden said that Steffen had four resubmittals and Eagle Meadows had nine.

"You've heard complaints from the developers against the Department of Public Works, the Electric Department, Engineering, and Planning," Decker said, adding that there is back-and-forth communication between several City departments before projects go before the Planning Commission and then to the council.

It was also noted that city consultants and staff must work with agencies which "bisect" the city: with Reclamation District 2056 and RD 833, Butte Water District, and Biggs-West Gridley Water District; with Butte County on projects on the edges of city limits; with Caltrans on projects along Highway 99; with the City of Biggs on developments on the northwest; and with the railroad and schools. The City contracts with Butte County for plan and building inspection. Harden said the county is involved in "Every project that we have that has new building going on."

"We barely benefit from a subdivision, yes, we need houses, but the city itself doesn't benefit financially. That doesn't bring us income, it brings houses," Harden said. Vice Mayor Bruce Johnson commented, "There's a lot of commerce that comes

The New Pi-Line

By Josh F.W. Cook

The following is from the Original Bill Burleson Gridley Herald Pi-Line of April 14, 1993: Thursday Circle observes its 82nd birthday this week, fathering in the home of Freda Smith on Sheldon Ave. Joan Hancock is president. Edith Stohman joined the club in 1921 and is the senior member, soon to celebrate her 100th Birthday. In February of 1911, six Manzanita/East Gridley neighbors got together. They represented the Clayton, MacKenzie, Stowe, Pingres, Metzler, and Waterbury families. They planned a club for the purpose of bringing newcomers together, for most of them had come from the East and were strangers in a strange land. The area had just been colonized, and East Gridley was in Colony 1. In those days, there were no paved roads and no drainage. The ladies walked to the meeting bringing their children. Children are always welcome in the club. The first meeting was in Mrs. MacKenzie's home, but the first public meeting was at the Metzler-Waterbury "shack." The club was christened "The Thursday Circle," and meetings were to be held on the first and third Thursdays of the month. Membership was limited to 25. The minutes reflect that they were living in little shacks and tank houses with a few houses scattered here and there, and the fields were dotted with lots of oak trees. The club erected the flagpole with the flag in Vierra Park. In 1929 they planted an evergreen at Memorial Hall. They have also taken part in many activities within the Gridley community: show-ers, weddings, farewell parties, house warmings, and relief in times of disaster. Congratulations to the ladies of Thursday Circle.

Another new business in downtown Gridley, Tim Glines Floor Design, corner of Hazel and Vermont Streets. Tim and wife Denise are the owners. They will hold a grand opening celebration starting today and running through Saturday.

Many people have Indian rocks in their yards, usually one with a depression in which the acorns were placed for grinding with a second rock: mortar and pestle. Marvin Radley had a 40-pound Indian rock in his front yard until someone walked off with it last week. A reward is offered for its return; call 846-5390. Coincidentally we note a classified ad in The Chico Enterprise: "Private collector seeks American Indian artifacts: grinding stones, points, baskets, etc."

with it. ... We need to get to 10,000 people, so we can get more grants. ... We're under pressure from the state to build a bunch of houses here, too, so we're being crushed both ways."

Harden replied, "They also bring traffic to your streets, which is wear and tear, they make impacts on your utilities. ... If you don't collect impact fees ... you don't have the money to make those improvements and expand your systems ... and provide those reliable services that people count on." Harden said an impact fee study would provide needed information on impact fee rates and the balancing of commercial and residential development.

In his response to developers, City Administrator Cliff Wagner discussed the request to discount developer impact fees.

"I believe that what we're being asked is for the city to indemnify developers against risks in the free market," said City Administrator Cliff Wagner, citing the reality of recent economic forces which have affected housing development. "... To imply that the city has a duty to ensure the profitability of developers by subsidizing them with other taxpayers' funds in the community is, in a word, absurd."

Several possible improvements to the planning process were offered. Council member Catalina Sanchez suggested the City publish an expected timeline and that council members receive a monthly project pipeline, showing the stages of each current development.

"That's why, I think, all of us ran for council, to have these conversations, even though they're uncomfortable. ... The administrator is going to hold us accountable, our staff is going to hold us accountable, but we're also going to hold them accountable," Sanchez added. She also suggested more planning process information be available on the City's website, suggesting website updates could be a part of budget discussions.

Stating that he had also received a number of calls on the issue, Council member Angel Calderon said, "I direct them to call our administrator. ... Mr. Wagner is a very open and amiable individual. All you have to do is make an appointment and talk to him."

City Administrator Wagner said that there had been an internal discussion about processes that could be implemented, such as a developers packet, including a master fee schedule that developers can sign as received and understood.

"It boils down to communication," said Mayor Mike Farr. When things take time, Farr said, "These contractors ... need to know what their timeline is." Councilmember Jim Roberts added, "I agree with staff. If somebody thinks something is taking too long, instead of just complaining, call up and try to ask, 'why is this taking so long,' instead of waiting months and months. ... take some responsibility for checking on your projects."

The developers were given time to respond to the city planning, engineering, and administrative presentations. Mike Visinoni, with Steffen Estates on Little Avenue, reiterated many of his initial concerns, saying that being the "squeaky wheel," or contacting the City to investigate delays, was overwhelming.

Steve Stapley, with the Eagle Meadows development, requested the City conduct an impact fee study, noting that Colusa had discounted their fees by 50%. Jared Brown, engineer with Eagle Meadows, said the City may not be responsible for the profitability of developments, but the City needs to see it as their duty to help make developments successful.

Brooke Leone and Steve Stark, Orchard Hospital, were on hand to help recognize May as Mental Health Awareness Month. "... It is the role of the city council ... to improve the life quality of our residents, and I thank Orchard Hospital for actually doing that," Calderon said.

Wagner reported that a delegation from the city of Comala, Colima, Mexico, a city of about 20,000 residents, made a visit to city offices. They were in the area to pick up a donated ambulance from the City of Davis. The delegates reported that there are Gridley residents whose ancestors hail from Comala. They hope to work with Gridley city officials to create sister-city status. "We have a significant number of people who came from this particular town," Calderon added. ★

LOHS graduates excitedly wait for their name to be called and their moment on stage before leaving high school behind forever.

Esmerald Zavala smiles as she stands in front of the “Congratulations Graduates” sign at Live Oak High School graduation ceremonies before translating the Principal’s introduction for Spanish speaking attendees.

LOHS Principal Tony Walton (left) praised Salutatorian Fareeha Ahmed, pointing out her parents in the crowd and telling them that she was an amazing person.

Valedictorian Charles Goodman shared words of inspiration with his classmates during his speech.

Valedictorian Jaskaran Nagra kept it short and sweet in her speech, thanking everyone for their support along the way.

After receiving their diplomas, many students made their way into the crowd to hug and thank teachers and staff members.

As commencement continued, Mr. Walton deviated from the approved script and shared a heartfelt and personal message to the graduates, concluding with “I love you all.”

With that, graduates left their spot in the wings, many decked in medals, cords, sashes, and even championship rings, and made their way swiftly and proudly to center stage.

Multiple graduates would have the chance to address their classmates and the crowd, beginning with Ms. Karina Angel, senior class president. “We stand on the threshold of our next great adventure,” she would say, before stepping down and allowing Walton to lead a cheer of “thanks” from the graduates to LOHS teachers and staff.

Salutatorian Elizabeth Eller would share a personal message to the crowd, telling of the pep-talk she received during a track meet that helped her overcome doubt and go on to win. “You have strong legs” her inspiration had said, and Eller assured her classmates that they too, had strong legs to stand on.

Speaking next, Salutatorian Fareeha Ahmed would say, “This day is a testament to our class’s unwavering determination and commitment that has allowed us to face and overcome, with great perseverance, one of the most difficult and unexpected times of our lives.” She continued, “We stand here as champions!”

Valedictorian Chuck Goodman reflected on the class’s time in high school, disrupted by the COVID-19 epidemic, saying, “We learned how unpredictable life is.” He urged his classmates to “take risks – it’s better to try than to live with regret” and to “make life what you want it to be.”

He was followed by Jaskaran Nagra, also Valedictorian, who thanked her classmates, and LOHS staff, ending with “It is time to say goodbye to all the people who we have known all our lives and start a new chapter.”

Students would then stand while Walton officially announced their graduation, and their tassels were moved to the other side of their caps in recognition of their accomplishments.

Each student would then have their moment to shine, crossing the stage to receive their diplomas while their detailed plans for the future were shared with those in attendance. Many made their way to the teachers and staff seated on the field to hug and thank them, the crowd as loud as a freight train at times celebrating their grads with air horns and even fireworks.

With that, the Live Oak Lions Class of 2023 graduation ceremony ended, and grads leapt toward their bright futures. ★

After a salute to the flag, guests were welcomed by Maritza Rodriguez and Andy Saephan in both English and Spanish.

The program quickly moved into a very sentimental tradition of Biggs graduation ceremonies, a “thank you” to the parents, guardians, grandparents, and especially the mothers of the students. Bianca Anguiano and Jesus Rodriguez took turns reading lines of a poem to mothers, saying, “Thank you for fighting for us, for putting up with our attitude,” “for loving and supporting us, for listening to our drama, for nurturing us and teaching us,” and telling them that “you can take the place of others, but not one can take the place of you.”

Graduates then stood and moved into the crowd, holding single red roses that they present to their mothers, with tears and hugs being shared.

Brianna Rodriguez would then present the class history, speaking about all of the special moments and activities shared by the group as they made their way through the school system, especially their high school years.

She was followed by Salutatorian, Ellyse Perkins, who said, “To my classmates, I am so blessed to have been able to meet all of you and develop long lasting friendships and memories that I will cherish forever.”

Perkins was followed by the Class of 2023 Valedictorian, Marcella Munanui. Expressing her thanks to those who supported her and her classmates during many obstacles throughout their 4 years at Biggs, Munanui said that they “will embark on a new chapter for ourselves that will be filled with exciting adventure and more memories to create.” She continued, “This is no longer a dream. It is our reality. Live in the moment today and be proud of how far each and every one of you have come.”

Superintendent and High School Principal Doug Kaelin addressed the graduates, noting the “abundance of talent that exists within the class of 2023.” He urged, “grab hold of tomorrow, and using what you have learned, build upon it for your future.”

Each graduate then had a moment to stand before the crowd as they walked across the stage and were presented with their diplomas by members of the Board of Trustees, and a brief statement regarding each grad’s future plans read aloud.

With the last diploma handed out, Superintendent Kaelin had graduates move their tassels from right to the left and declared them Class of 2023 graduates!

To the sound of air horns, clouds of confetti raining down from the skies, and swarmed by their loved ones, the 2023 Wolverines tore into their future. ★

Marcella Munanui, Biggs Class of 2023 Valedictorian, thanking all who supported and encouraged her through difficult times.

Biggs Class of 2023 Salutatorian Ellyse Perkins thanked her classmates for an amazing high school experience.

Bianca Anguiano and Jesus Rodriguez lead a tradition of Biggs High School, the tribute to the mothers of the graduates and presentation of flowers.

Graduate Johnny Walker Williams made his way into the stands with his fellow classmates during an emotional moment to present a rose to his mother, Kadie Williams.

Gridley Thumbs and Roots

It is amazing where they can climb. I've watched them stretching and sliming their way along to climb up and over and under to get to their desired destination. Those creepy slimy bodies can get very long and that strong, single foot can cling onto almost any surface. I used to see them as pests, now I have more respect for them. I still don't want them by the hundreds in my garden. Last fall they were there but not constantly visible by their shiny trails or by their mounds of bodies under rocks and bricks. Now I'm back to mega-city populations. I'm doing all the usual things I do to them and about them. Once the heat comes some of the problem will be a solved. The other day I saw something that tops all previous snail sightings. Out in the morning early I saw at least fifty snails distributed on the stems of my Red-Hot Poker plants. This is a big clump of plants but...REALLY!? All this time I thought the poker flowers were drying up naturally (which does happen) because all the blooms were on top and the longer part was dried out. It seemed strange but strange things happen in the garden. Nope now I know that slimers are sucking, and chewing up those flowers. I've news for those slimers I'm cutting the pokers down and they'll have to move. First, I'm doing the full-on snail bait thing. I feel guilty when I kill so many at once.

By Barbara Ott

Every day I gain new admiration for the athleticism of snails. Yes, they are Olympic level in their strength and daring-do skills. I've seen them about five feet up my orange tree. I've seen them delicately balancing on the edge of buckets. I've found them on the second shelf of my bonsai house.

SPARKY'S CORNER

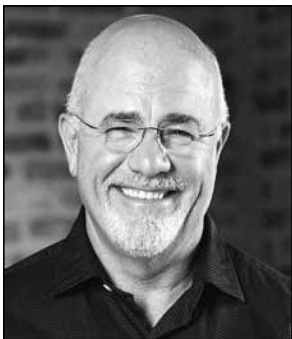

Electrical Safety Around Swimming Pools, Hot Tubs, and Spas

For many of us, water activities equals' fun. But it's important to be aware of electrical hazards while enjoying the water. Know how to be safe around swimming pools, hot tubs, and spas.

- If you are putting in a new pool, hot tub, or spa be sure the wiring is performed by an electrician experienced in the special safety requirements for these types of installations.
- Outdoor receptacles must have covers that keep them dry even when appliances are plugged into them.
- Ground-fault circuit interrupters (GFCIs) are special devices designed to protect against electric shock and electrocution. They are required for most pool, spa or hot tub equipment. They may be in the form of an outlet or a circuit breaker. Test the GFCIs monthly according to the manufacturer's instructions.
- Electrical appliances, equipment, and cords should be kept at least 6 feet away from the water. When possible, use battery operated appliances and equipment, such as televisions, radios, and stereos.
- Avoid handling electrical devices when you are wet.
- Make sure that any overhead lines maintain the proper distance over a pool and other structures, such as a diving board. If unsure, contact a qualified electrician or your local utility company to make sure power lines are a safe distance away.
- Do not swim during a thunderstorm.
- Have a qualified electrician periodically inspect and — where necessary — replace or upgrade the electrical devices or equipment that keep your pool, spa, or hot tub electrically safe.
- Have a qualified electrician show you how to turn off all power in case of an emergency

It's Not A Joint Venture,
It's A Marriage

Dear Dave,

When my wife and I got married, she had about $70,000 in savings and I had a lot of debt. We bought some property from her parents to build a home on, and she made a 20% down payment on the land from her savings. We've paid off some debt, and she has more in savings now. But I feel guilty and it seems unfair to ask her to pay on our debt with her savings since most of it is debt I brought into the marriage. How do you feel about this?

– Sonny

Dear Sonny,

This question tells me you're a good guy with a good heart. But let me ask you a thing or two. When your wife gets sick, is it unfair for you to take care of her? You didn't cause it. It's not your fault. Of course, it's not unfair. I'm not mad at you, buddy. I'm just throwing your own logic right back at you.

Maybe these next lines will sound familiar: for richer or for poorer, in sickness and in health. The old "Book of Common Prayer" continues the vows and says, "Unto thee, all my worldly goods I pledge." This is called oneness. It's called unity. And it's what a good marriage should be about.

Do you get what I'm saying, Sonny? The two of you are in this together. This is not a business partnership or joint venture. It's a man and a woman pledging themselves, and all they have and are, to each other. I understand your feelings, but if you're not careful, that kind of guilt will stand in the way of you two creating a successful marriage—both financially and emotionally.

When you got married, the "me" and "mine" became "we" and "ours." You got all her stuff, the good and bad, and she got all of yours. Now it's time for you to work as a team to make the bad stuff go away and the good things even better. What's fair (and what's right) is to combine all of your income, all of your assets and all of your liabilities.

I know it's uncomfortable, but you've got to choose courage. Ask her to go all in on this with you and attack your debt together. Work toward making your dreams come true together as one.

That's what's fair, and that's what's best when you're married.

– Dave

Dave Ramsey is an eight-time national best-selling author, personal finance expert and host of "The Ramsey Show," heard by more than 18 million listeners. Farm Bureau President Urges
Congress to Address Fire Risks

California Farm Bureau President Jamie Johansson is calling for increasing the pace and scale of forest management, including employing livestock grazing and prescribed burns to reduce dangerous fuels and protect communities and the environment. On May 23, Johansson testified in Washington, D.C., before a federal lands subcommittee of the House Committee on Natural Resources. He told the panel, "Given the extensive number of wildfire related impacts in California, California Farm Bureau has a vested interest in quality and quantity of forest management activities."

Winter Storms May Have Increased
Risks of Tree Pathogens

Atmospheric rivers that swept across the state this year have created conditions for plant pathogens that haven't been seen for decades in California. Florent Trouillas, a plant pathologist at the University of California, Davis, said he is getting more calls from growers and farm advisors concerned about potential crop damage. Recent tests in an orchard showed the presence of Phytophthora syringae, a pathogen that can affect almond crops but is rarely seen in California. Researchers are working to diagnose fruit and nut crop ailments that could be enhanced by wet weather.

Farm Bureau: Small Farmer
Need Help After Storms

The California Farm Bureau is calling on the state to improve mechanisms for disbursing disaster relief payments for damages suffered in devastating 2023 storms. Testifying before a joint informational hearing of the California Assembly Agriculture Committee and the Assembly Emergency Management Committee, Farm Bureau Administrator Jim Houston said the storm impacts have been especially hard on small farmers, including many that may lack insurance. "There is no good mechanism for people to recover their losses," Houston said at the May 23 hearing.

Researchers: Lab-Grown Meat May Be Worse For Environment Than Retail Beef

Researchers at the University of California, Davis, have found that lab-grown or "cultivated" meat's environmental impact is likely to be significantly higher than retail beef. Researchers conducted a life-cycle assessment of energy needed and greenhouse gases emitted in all stages of production compared with beef. Based on current and near-term production methods, they concluded that lab-grown meat will be worse for the environment and more expensive than conventional beef production. ★

Thoughts to Ponder Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

by Kathy Neal

Gridley United Methodist Church

We all need to remember, "We are not super humans." When I was in the hospital, for my heart the first time, one of the nurses said to me, "Found out you're not super woman, didn't you?" Oh yeah! I could not keep doing it all on my own and live. The Lord showed me that.

We humans think we are stronger than we really are, mentally and physically. When life hits us face first in trials, heartaches, and hurt, our fight mechanics go into play. We struggle to do it all by ourselves, no matter what. We don't have, so we just do it alone, by ourselves. Our bodies, minds, and spirit suffer. God never wanted us to be this way.

I tried. Oh, I tried. Work! Work! Take care of children and run a business. Lifting, pulling, and building things I thought that only I could do. Results: "Takotsubo cardiomyopathy" broken heart disease, (One of 25,000 people). It was so rare I shocked all my doctors and myself.

God had handed me a sign. "STOP!" Let me help. I am here to soften your load and your burdens. It took many ER visits and hospital stays to get the point across.

Like the Israelites in the desert, I heard in my mind, "Your strength can't save you. You need Me, My power, and My mercy. My power is made perfect in your weakness." It was then I realized I had hope to survive. I had to let go of a business after 50 years, stop trying to produce things myself, and to STOP!

I then allowed, yes allowed, my God to fight my battles. Once I did, I had to find out who I really was, what my life meant, and how to step forward. God stepped in, He led me to start writing again and to help Him spread His love.

Please, don't even think I do these articles all by myself. I am the pencil God is the word. He let's me know what He wants written and I do it. I take the handwritten papers to my friend, "my editor" and he gets it print ready. The Holy Spirit works through us.

God has always said, "Send out My word. It will never come back empty." Thank you in the name of the Lord.

Come to the Gridley United Methodist Church to meet this woman of God who writes this column every week. We meet every Sunday at 10 am at 285 Magnolia Street. ★

Watching the fly fishing going on down at Lewis Creek is a little like box seats at the Bolshoi ballet. You might not even know what those old guys are doing, but dang they seem to do it well.

Long, sinuous casts out from the bank to the Lunker Hole. The Lunker, often dreamed, never caught, but our community would be the poorer without him.

"Fly fishing," said Marvin Pincus, "is just another name for life."

"Or love," said our cowboy, Steve.

"Or frustration," said Dud, who was about to shinny up a tree to cut loose a tangle made by his back cast. He wouldn't have bothered, but that fly hanging down from that tall branch was tied by Marvin Pincus. And was therefore an objet d'arte, which we learned is a French term meaning darned cute. But if left in that tree, it might cause death and suffering to a bird.

"It could be a metaphor," said Windy, making a little scud fly skitter across the surface.

"Metaphor?" Steve said.

Windy shrugged. "Heard that the other day. Means somethin' like that there, I think. Might be a metafive ..."

"Don't think so, Windy."

"Thanks, Doc. Jest cogitatin', you know, 'bout life and when to use a dry fly or when to drag one a-them streamies along and temptationize them fish."

"That's pretty deep, Windy," said Dud, nodding his head.

"Don't think so," Windy said, "Last time I fell in 'twas 'bout three foot or so. I jest fly fish cuz it's more funner than drownin' worms."

"You can say that again!"

"Okay, Doc... I jest fly fish cuz it's more funner ..."

Were you aware you can hear six men groan above the noisy chuckling of a creek?

Fly fishing with a tenkara outfit is even more funner than you thought. www.tenkarausa.com. ★

In the event that the deed of trust described in this Notice of Trustee's Sale is secured by real property containing from one to four single-family residences, the following notices are provided pursuant to the provisions of Civil Code section 2924f: NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee's sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2023-10628. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not be immediately reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you may purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 916-939-0772, or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 2023-10628 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid, by remitting the funds and affidavit or declaration described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code, so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Bulldogs Drop Last Game in Division IV NorCal Final

by Steven Bryla

SUTTER, CA (MPG) - The Sutter Huskies and Gridley Bulldogs baseball teams made it to the final game of the season as the two former Butte View League rivals squared off in the California Interscholastic Federation Division IV NorCal Championship on Saturday, June 3.

The scene last Saturday at Arata field in Sutter looked like a fair as fans of both teams were lined up on the edge of the fence from each foul pole to leave no standing room to watch the game as the Huskies won the game 10-1.

For the second consecutive time in a little over a week and a half, Sutter junior shortstop/pitcher Logan Yacavace had his longest outing of the season with a complete game, four hit and six strikeout performance.

Yacavace last pitched in the Huskies CIF Sac-Joaquin Section Division V Championship on May 23 in a 4-3 thriller that lasted 13 innings and Yacavace pitched 6.2 innings in relief to pick up the win.

Sutter (26-5-1) head coach Stewart Peterson told Messenger Publishing Group that they have always been confident with Yacavace on the mound, but he's also valuable defensively as well.

"We've used him in the closers role with one or two innings here or there, but when we called on him for the Bradshaw Christian game along with today, he was ready," Peterson said.

The unselfish Yacavace expressed to MPG the team effort throughout the entire season and added it was a perfect way for the seniors class to go out as most of the roster has played with one another for years.

Gridley (17-6) head coach Javier Solis told MPG that every game in the state play-offs was a bonus as their original goal was to win a Northern Section title as they did on May 20, in a controlled 8-0 win over West Valley.

"Now that we have been here and seen what it looks like, we have a goal for next season," Solis said.

Solis started his freshman left-handed pitcher Tanner Abbott who had a little trouble finding the zone in the first inning as he walked two before Huskies sophomore first baseman Brady Wickum opened the scoring of the game with a two-runs-batted-in single to take a 2-0 lead.

Abbott got an RBI single in the third to score senior captain/outfielder Michael Ryan to cut the Sutter deficit 2-1 as it would be the only run for the Bulldogs in the game.

Ryan went 1-for-2 as he tripled in the fifth inning. Ryan, who has spent his entire high school career on the varsity Gridley senior pitcher Kendal Witt (21) throws a pitch in the Bulldogs 10-1 loss to Sutter in the CIF Division IV NorCal Championship on Saturday, June 3.

Gridley junior catcher Bryar McWilliams (9) lays a tag on Sutter junior designated hitter Rylan Giovannoni (1) from a laser throw from Bulldogs senior captain/outfielder Michael Ryan in the Bulldogs 10-1 defeat in the CIF Division IV NorCal Championship on Saturday, June 3.

level credited multiple people throughout his years as a Bulldog.

Ryan's main message to the returners next season was to show up ready to play everyday.

"With our young pitching staff, they have a chance to win every game," Ryan said.

Being mentioned as the best leader in Solis's 12-year coaching career, Ryan exemplified that as being a leader in the classroom and on the field giving it 100 % all the time.

Abbott went 2-for-2 at the plate with an RBI. On the single, Abbott rolled his ankle and it didn't translate well as he went to pitch in the bottom of the third.

No excuses were made as the Huskies slammed four straight singles as Wickum had his second single and third RBI of the day.

In previous conversations with Wickum, he expressed he has been up and down at the plate throughout the season.

"I worked on being patient," Wickum said. Wickum went 2-for-4 with three RBIs in the game.

Seven of the Huskies starters had a hit during the game along with four of them having two or more RBIs in the game.

Sutter added four more runs in the third to take a 6-1 lead. Yacavace sewed up the Gridley lineup for the rest of the game as he only gave up the triple to Ryan in the fifth.

The Huskies tacked on three more in the bottom of the fifth before junior designated hitter Rylan Giovannoni capped off the scoring with a solo home run in the sixth over the left field fence.

This was the first trip to the NorCal finals for the Huskies and Bulldogs as the format began in 2021 by the CIF.

As the season ends, turnover on both rosters begin as they both lose key pieces but Sutter and Gridley have a lot coming back next season.

While the Huskies lose four starters and the Bulldogs lose three, both squads have their primary pitching coming back.

Solis added that as much talk about the returning pitching, he is excited for another season and credits a lot of the pitching success with junior catcher Bryar McWilliams.

"He (Bryar) calls the pitches, studies batters. So, it's exciting to get another season with him," Solis said.

With both teams in different sections, the area of both towns can hope for future battles with these successful programs. ★

Manzanita Walk of Fame

Story and photos
by Seti Long

MANZANITA, CA (MPG) - Manzanita Elementary School held their weekly walk of fame, but on Monday, June 5th, the students celebrated with some very special people.

The Mustangs invited former Manzanita alumni from Gridley High School to walk the walk. These GHS students graduate from high school this coming Friday, June 9th. Many of the soon-to-be GHS grads were top performers in their GHS classes and arrived decked in their cords and sashes.

Superintendent and Principal of Manzanita School Gary Rogers said, “Alumni, you always have a special place here as part of the Manzanita Family.”

Each student introduced themselves and told their younger counterparts where they would be attending college and what they planned to study. They then made a loop around the “walk of fame” smiling and giving hi-fives to the younger generations. Before they departed, the alumni and students all sang the Manzanita Fight Song.

Afterwards the alumni gathered for one last group picture outside the school near the historic Manzanita bell.

Soon to be GHS grad Kennison Cota shared how much it meant to have the opportunity to come back to her alma mater, “It’s a community, it’s a family”. Ella Hughes added, “We have been looking up to this since we were in kindergarten. We saw so many kids go through and so many high school graduates – and we were like ‘wow’ we are going to do that someday. And now we’re here.”

It was a very sentimental moment for the grads, the staff, and the parents in attendance, not to mention an inspirational one to the underclassmen. ★

GHS graduating senior and Manzanita alumna Kennison Cota told the elementary school kids she felt like she belonged to a community and a family.

GHS seniors, graduating later this week, give hi-fives to Manzanita students as they visit their old school for the “Walk of Fame.”

Before they left, soon-to-be GHS grads sang the Manzanita Fight Song one last time!

Former Manzanita Mustangs, now preparing to graduate from Gridley High School, visit their alma mater one last time.
