GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - The Little Mermaid, the musical performed by Gridley High School students and assisted by Sycamore School, was enchanting and delightful on its opening night, Thursday, March 10, 2022.

The three-day long show pulled in many with its creative sets and outstanding youth talent. The youthful energy, shear fun and humor of this musical was well represented by all the participants, from the actors to the lighting and video. The music was provided by a sound and video system designed for this production. All characters sang their parts to this soundtrack with accompanying video projection enhancing the stage sets, along with the use of black lighting to make elements like coral and the electric eels pop on stage.

The sets themselves were made by the students and adult volunteers involved in the play. Each set was designed to represent various rooms in the undersea palace. From sparkling lights in coral formations made of pool noodles, jellyfish made of metallic and glowing ribbons, to thrones and the wonderful bedroom set of Ariel with all of her found treasures from the land, like forks and mirrors. These sets were moved by the stage hands in well-researched set changes. The costumes were very lively and well designed. The evil eels walked off stage with twinkling purple "electric" lights, while Sebastian the crab, played by Lily Morgan, strutted around in bright bespangled crimson-sassy and dramatic.

Every singer put forth their best performance. Ariel, performed by McKenna Swanson was excellently represented by McKenna's clear and lovely voice. Another stand-out voice was that of Ursula, the Sea Witch, performed by Alexia Venegas. Her minions, the evil eels Flotsam

Democrats Kill Proposal to Lower Gas Prices

By Assemblyman James Gallagher

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On Monday, March 14, Assembly Democrats killed a Republican proposal to immediately bring down the price of gas by suspending California's 51-cent-per-gallon gas tax. California drivers face the highest gas prices in the country, and at $5.74 per gallon; fuel costs here are $1.41 per gallon above the national average.

"Capitol Democrats had the chance to provide struggling Californians with immediate relief at the gas pump. They refused," said Assemblyman James Gallagher (Yuba City). "High gas prices and inflation are devastating California families, but Capitol Democrats' only solution seems to be 'buy a Tesla.'"

During the Assembly floor session, Republicans moved to advance AB 1638, which would suspend California's state gas tax for six months, and backfill the revenue from the state's budget surplus, which could exceed $69 billion. The motion was killed on a 18-40 vote, with all Republicans voting to suspend the tax. Not a single Democrat voted for the effort. ★

Prop 47: Had Enough?

By Assemblyman James Gallagher

California communities are under assault by a rise in crime that's hitting neighborhoods throughout our state.

Thieves walk into stores, fill up their backpacks and stroll out without a care in the world. Organized rings of thieves are committing brazen smash-and-grabs. Open air drug use and fentanyl overdoses are common on our streets at high-end retail boutiques. Soft-on-crime policies have failed Californians.

Proposition 47 is a huge culprit, reducing penalties for many crimes to a slap on the wrist. Now, a majority of Californians support bringing back more serious consequences for people who break the law.

Californians deserve to live in communities safe from violent crime and rampant theft. That is why I teamed up with Assemblymember Kevin Kiley and a dozen other legislators to introduce AB 1599 that would repeal Proposition 47 and rein in California's crime wave. Enough is enough! It's time to start holding criminals accountable. ★

The Gridley High School production of Disney's Little Mermaid Jr. wrapped up Saturday night at the Eggers Building to another capacity crowd. The Sannar/Payne production was one of the best High School plays realized by Gridley High School thespians since the last presentation of West Side Story. Everything about the show was fantastic and true to the Broadway version of the adaptation of Hans Christian Anderson's tale of true love, mermaids, a charming prince, and the dramatic happily ever after conclusion. Brooklyn Barnette added acrobatics to the role of Scuddle that redefined the role and connected to the audience from the moment the lights came up until the final curtain came down. My granddaughter, Eloise's favorite evening scene, was the Deana Watson reframing the famous Chef Louis. Staged in front of a big pot in a kitchen setting, Watson, with her assistant chefs by her side, went on singing while filling a pot full of every sea creature imaginable with an authentic French Sous Chef flair. The chemistry of Greyson Sannar and Beck Stewart as the kitchen assistant chefs was truly electric, and the physical humor brought the house to out-loud laughter on more than one occasion as Watson landed a left hook, sure to leave a bruise on the right side of Sannar's head. Alexia Venegas was ever so convincing in the role of Ursula, the sea witch; she owned the role, hit every note while singing, and truly captivated the audience, leaving little children to believe she was indeed the evil villain she was cast to bring to life. Alicia Torres and Alexis Maldonado playing the difficult roles of evil sidekick Eels Flotsam and Jetsam were the perfect pairings to Venegas's show-stealing performance. Sea Dancers Gemma Donati and Monet Emmick are two faces we can expect to see on the stage in the future. They showed talent that is clearly on the rise, which I predict will surely draw the attention of college theater department recruiters. The Roxane Atkinson costume crew deserves plaudits for making merpeople authentic to their kingdom (a difficult task as they have no legs). The choreography, lights, sound, and props were all spot on for the lightheartedness of the production, creating a surreal sense of actually being a "part of that world" – overall a perfect 10 out of 10. Live theater is so much better than watching something at home or on a small phone or tablet screen. Kudos to everyone who had anything to do with this wonderful rendering of one of America's favorite Disney Princess tales. So great to be past COVID lockdowns and doing the things we used to do as a community.

This adaptation of Hans Christian Anderson's classic story into a musical by Disney is a joyful celebration of the rebelliousness of youth that then turns out OK. Live Oak Girl's Varsity Soccer Team Wins League Championship

By Seti Long

LIVE OAK, CA (MPG) - The Live Oak High School girl's varsity soccer team ended the regular season with a share of the Sac Valley League championship and continued their stellar play into the playoffs.

The Lions (16-4-1, 7-1 Sac Valley) began postseason play in the Division II NSCIF Girls Winter Soccer Playoffs against Sutter, in a match that ended in a 2-2 draw. Live Oak then moved on to the Division V CIF NorCal Girls Soccer Championships and were beaten 2-1 in extra time by Leadership High School out of Hayward.

Live Oak head coach Jose Acosta said that even though this year's team was young, comprised mostly of freshmen and sophomores, the talent was there, and the ladies played with heart, never allowing themselves to give up the drive to score.

Acosta had several standout players this season. First is freshman striker Johanna Petron, who scored a total of 54 goals.

Next is sophomore McKayla Holmen, who covered a lot of turf and had high scoring numbers herself en route to being named team MVP. On defense, Acosta said sophomore sweeper Maya Goodson succeeded at deterring opposing offensive attacks at their goal.

Most of the Lions' victories this season came in dominant fashion, as 12 out of 16 of the wins came in shutouts. In 21 games this season, Live Oak outscored their opponents nearly by 100, at 119-20.

According to Costa, early in the season the Lions made it a goal of theirs to win the league title and they were more than excited when they accomplished the mission. Costa and assistant coach Rudy Rosales will return next year for the 2022-2023 season and are both excited at the prospects of the team being full of young talent.

After witnessing what his team did this year, Costa believes they will have another shot at a league championship next season. ★

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - With a large roster of 18 players, the Sycamore boy's 6th grade basketball team finished their season undefeated.

Sycamore went a perfect 9-0, playing against teams from the Marysville, Sutter and Yuba City areas.

Head coach Andrew Perez said that his team listened well to his instructions and applied them on the court which led to success.

"They just picked up what I was putting down," Perez said. "I've coached at the high school level a lot. I don't think I've ever had a group that was so coachable."

Some standout players that were key in Perez's rotation include Cornelius Hoppers, Israel Garcia, James Woolery, Michael Romo and Trey Rosser.

"They did a lot of work for us (and) were a big reason we won games," Perez said. "I hope that I get to coach them again at some point. But overall, it was a great, fun season. The kids were super hard working. They just took it seriously and it worked out for them." ★

Former Members of Tribal Leadership Sentenced for Embezzlement Scheme

U.S. Attorney's Office

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Three former leaders of the Paskenta Tribe of Nomlaki Indians were sentenced for a conspiracy to embezzle or steal from a tribal organization, as well as tax fraud and tax evasion offenses, U.S. Attorney Phillip A. Talbert announced.

U.S. District Judge John A. Mendez sentenced John A. Crosby, 56, of Redding, to four years and nine months in prison and to pay a $10,000 fine; Ines S. Crosby, 76, of Orland, to four years and nine months in prison; and Leslie A. Lohse, 67, of Glenn, to three years and five months in prison. Lohse has paid $902,208 in restitution prior to today's sentencing hearing. A hearing will be held on April 19, 2022, to determine the amount of restitution John Crosby and Ines Crosby will pay.

According to court documents, from approximately January 2009 through May 2014, the defendants took millions of dollars from the Paskenta Tribe of Nomlaki Indians without tribal or legal authority, taking advantage of their positions on the Tribal Counsel and in prominent leadership positions in the tribe. The defendants used this embezzled money to: buy homes; build swimming pools, decks and koi ponds at their personal residences; purchase vehicles; go on luxury vacations (including trips to Africa, South America, and Hawaii, as well as private and chartered jet travel); buy high-value entertainment; pay familial expenses; and purchase precious metals. John Crosby and Leslie Lohse did not declare these embezzled amounts on their respective tax returns as income, while Ines Crosby intentionally failed to file tax returns between 2010 and 2014. All three individuals then took a series of steps to attempt to conceal their actions: they created a written employment agreement in 2014 that appeared to be from 2001 and purported to authorize their use of Tribal funds, and then told federal investigators that the document was from 2001, knowing at the time that that was not true.

"The defendants lived a lavish lifestyle at the expense of the Paskenta Tribe of Nomlaki Indians and were undeterred by the damage their conduct would bring to the Tribe, whose members trusted them with most of their crucial operational positions," said U.S. Attorney Talbert. "The defendants' criminal conduct occurred on a regular basis over a period of many years. Today's sentences should send a strong message to other would-be criminals of the consequences for serious white-collar crime."

"The emotional and financial damage these defendants have caused to the Tribe cannot be undone. Not only did the defendants steal millions of dollars to line their pockets and failed to report their ill-gotten gains, but their actions also eroded Tribe members' faith in their government, causing fear and distrust," stated IRS-Criminal Investigation Special Agent in Charge Mark H. Pearson. "IRS-Criminal Investigation will not stand by and tolerate this type of criminal conduct. We remain committed to ensuring those in positions of power are held accountable when that position is exploited for personal gain."

"These defendants abused the trust of their own tribe and community, diverting millions of dollars from tribal accounts to fund lavish, unauthorized personal expenditures rather than help tribe members," said Special Agent in Charge Sean Ragan of the FBI Sacramento Field Office. "This case exemplifies our commitment to conducting thorough investigations and working with our law enforcement partners to ensure justice for crime victims. We thank IRS Criminal Investigation for their strong, continued partnership and commitment to collaborating with us to seek justice for victims of white-collar crime."

This case was the product of an investigation by the IRS-Criminal Investigation and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Assistant U.S. Attorney Christina McCall prosecuted the case. ★

February Freeze Harms Tree Crops in Central Valley

California nut farmers are tabulating their crop losses after a late-February freeze damaged orchards in multiple counties. One Sutter County farmer reported that 60% of his orchard may have been damaged by the freeze, potentially devastating his yield for 2022. The Sutter County agricultural commissioner said damage to almond crops spans five neighboring counties, which are now collecting data for a potential disaster declaration.

Shrinking Snowpack Melts Away Optimism for 2022 Water Year

The Sierra Nevada snowpack reached 160% of normal on Dec. 30 after a series of early-winter storms. This month that average dropped to about 60% of normal, as dry conditions since have largely melted away optimism for the 2022 water year. State water officials say California is all but assured of a third consecutive drought year. Recently, the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation cut off federal water supplies from the Central Valley Project, and restrictions on state water diversions may be due as the year unfolds.

Farmers Brace for Higher Fuel Prices as Ukraine Invasion Continues

California farmers are bracing for further spikes in fuel and other energy costs, as Russia's invasion of Ukraine has pushed crude oil prices higher, and President Biden has banned U.S. imports of Russian oil. The price increases are coming as farmers rev up tractors and other equipment for spring planting. Some farmers estimate that diesel and gasoline account for 10% to 15% of production costs, with transportation also consuming an increasing share of fuel budgets.

State Agriculture Department Targets Potential Lantern Fly Threat

The California Department of Food and Agriculture has awarded nearly $1.5 million for pest management research. Agriculture Secretary Karen Ross said the funds will support farmers in California by providing "additional and lower risk tools to combat pests while maintaining food and crop production." Nearly $500,000 in funding will go to targeting eggs of the Arizona Spotted Lantern Fly. If established in California, the pest could threaten grapes, fruit trees and forests. ★

More Than 1 Million Seniors Have Taken Advantage of This "Retirement Secret"

With home prices soaring and interest rates at all-time lows, there's never been a better time to consider a reverse mortgage

It's a well-known fact that for many older Americans, the home is their single biggest asset, often accounting for more than 45% of their total net worth. And with interest rates still near all-time lows while home values remain high, this combination creates the perfect dynamic for getting the most out of your built-up equity.

But, many aren't taking advantage of this unprecedented period. According to new statistics from the mortgage industry, senior homeowners in the U.S. are now sitting on more than 9.23 trillion dollars* of unused home equity.

Home Values at All Time Highs

Not only are people living longer than ever before, but there is also greater uncertainty in the economy. With home prices back up again, ignoring this "hidden wealth" may prove to be short-sighted when looking for the best long-term outcome.

All things considered, it's not surprising that more than a million homeowners have already used a government-insured Home Equity Conversion Mortgage (HECM) loan to turn their home equity into extra cash for retirement.

It's a fact: no monthly mortgage payments are required with a government-insured HECM loan; however, the borrowers are still responsible for paying for the maintenance of their home, property taxes, homeowner's insurance and, if required, their HOA fees.

Today, HECM loans are simply an effective way for homeowners 62 and older to get the extra cash they need to enjoy retirement.

Although today's HECM loans have been improved to provide even greater financial protection for homeowners, there are still many misconceptions.

Available if You Still Owe on Your Home or Owe Nothing

For example, a lot of people mistakenly believe the home must be paid off in full in order to qualify for a HECM loan, which is not the case. In fact, one key advantage of a HECM is that the proceeds will first be used to pay off any existing liens on the property, which frees up cash flow, a huge blessing for seniors living on a fixed income.

Unfortunately, many senior homeowners who might be better off with a HECM loan don't even bother to get more information because of rumors they've heard.

In fact, a recent survey by American Advisors Group (AAG), the nation's number one HECM lender, found that over 98% of their clients are satisfied with their loans. While these special loans are not for everyone, they can be a real lifesaver for senior homeowners — especially in times like these.

Use the Extra Cash for Almost Anything

The cash from a HECM loan can be used for almost any purpose. Other common uses include making home improvements, paying off medical bills or helping other family members. Some people simply need the extra cash for everyday expenses while others are now using it as a safety net for financial emergencies.

If you're a homeowner age 62 or older, you owe it to yourself to learn more so that you can make the best decision for your financial future.

Reverse mortgage loan terms include occupying the home as your primary residence, maintaining the home, paying property taxes and homeowners insurance. Although these costs may be substantial, AAG does not establish an escrow account for these payments. However, a set-aside account can be set up for taxes and insurance, and in some cases may be required. Not all interest on a reverse mortgage is tax-deductible and to the extent that it is, such deduction is not available until the loan is partially or fully repaid.

AAG charges an origination fee, mortgage insurance premium (where required by HUD), closing costs and servicing fees, rolled into the balance of the loan. AAG charges interest on the balance, which grows over time. When the last borrower or eligible non-borrowing spouse dies, sells the home, permanently moves out, or fails to comply with the loan terms, the loan becomes due and payable (and the property may become subject to foreclosure). When this happens, some or all of the equity in the property no longer belongs to the borrowers, who may need to sell the home or otherwise repay the loan balance. V2021.06.21 HYBRID

Dear Dietitian

Nutrition Confusion

Commentary by Leanne McCrate

Dear Dietitian,

I have been educating myself on healthy nutrition. There is a lot of conflicting information on the internet, and sometimes it's downright frustrating! Can you help steer me in the right direction?

Thanks, Jim

Dear Jim,

I share your frustration in regards to nutrition information. The internet has brought nutrition information to our fingertips, but at least half of it is false or misleading. Rest assured, the truth is out there, and in many cases, it's free!

We will look at some of the reasons behind the nutrition confusion. First, the science of nutrition is in its infancy. It began less than one hundred years ago when the first vitamin, thiamine (B1), was isolated. There remains much to discover in nutrition, especially in disease prevention.

Nutrition is a good story, and media outlets rush to report a nutrition study. Who can blame them? It's part of their job. However, these studies are often misreported, misunderstood, or simply not good science. Remember, there will never be one study that changes everything we believe about nutrition.

Another confounding factor is nutrition quackery. We live in a "Let the buyer beware" society, and many capitalize on pseudoscience. It can be easy to fall prey to something that promises a quick and easy result. Beware of snake oil.

There are ways to protect yourself from nutrition misinformation.

Be an informed consumer. If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. For example, if a supplement promises to speed your metabolism and melt fat away, don't waste your time or money.

Get your information from reputable sources, such as universities or health-care institutions. These web addresses will end in .org (non-profit), .gov (government agency) or .edu (an educational institution) (1). Not only do these websites provide sound nutrition information, they accurately report the latest results of research. Examples include The American Heart Association, The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, the Mayo Clinic, and Harvard Health Publishing.

Seek a qualified expert when pursuing nutrition information. This is someone who has studied the science of nutrition and has earned at least a Bachelor's Degree in the field. Look for credentials after the author's name, such as RDN, registered dietitian nutritionist. There are other qualified nutrition professionals, and that information should be listed in the author's biography.

Finally, consider the source. Scientifically-based information should be referenced with cited sources. If the information is questionable, ask a nutrition expert. We often receive such inquiries in the hospital setting. Don't hesitate to ask; people like to help.

Until next time, be healthy!

Gridley Thumbs and Roots

By Barbara Ott

Spring feels like it needs to come this year. The renewal and hope that is associated in our cultural hearts in regard to Spring is needed more than ever. I'm hoping the predicted rain has happened. The earth is thirsty. The fruit trees have needed fake rain so watering them has started very early. The plus to fruit trees in a neighborhood is that there is a tendency for the tree roots to use the water provided by their owners as well as the water provided unknowingly by the neighbors. Usually, this water thieving is done by older larger trees with wider root systems. My orange tree seldom needs deep watering due to neighborhood water. Nature does not honor our boundaries. Trees will get water wherever they can. Watering has to happen for the smaller fruit trees that are farther away from the fence. I'm getting ready to mulch these trees heavily this year. Usually, I keep them clear of mulch but I think it might help, we will see. The vegetable garden is already mulched with both weed cloth and straw. Along with a drip system that comes on at night we are set for drought conditions. Most of my summer flowers are mature perennials so the drip sprinkler should be fine for them. We do keep small patches of grass green. Fortunately, it is Bermuda grass so it needs minimal water. If we really need to conserve water, I am willing to give up the grass. My other half feels grass is essential to life. It is a bit of freshness on a hot summer day but I can do without it. As you all can guess this is a regular discussion in this household. Maybe I'll finally get my way without any effort. Happy Spring Equinox. ★

Kids' Choir to Perform 'We Like Sheep'

By Bonnie Schnepel

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - On Sunday, March 27 the kids' choir will present the children's musical "We Like Sheep" at 10:30 A.M. and 4:30 P.M. at Gridley Christian Church.

Children ages 4 and older will be on stage with costumes, music, lights and drama wanting to tell you about our Good Shepherd: Jesus.

Grimey (Isaac Boykin) just does not fit in with the rest of the flock and is not accepted by them. He is rebellious and the other sheep do not like him. He runs away, but the shepherd (Kyle Taylor) thinks Grimey is just as valuable as the other 99 sheep and leaves the flock to find him.

Two baby lambs (Celeste Watson and Delaney Swanson) want to know about the shepherd and ask questions. Some of the sheep (Ainsley Swanson, Brielle Landes, Keelia Hildebrand, Isabella Zarate and Amethyst Knight) answer their questions and in the process are reminded of the shepherd's great love for all of them, even Grimey.

Old Ramsey (Marcus Hildebrand) is the only one who knows the good shepherd's name, Jesus. In the end, a big celebration occurs because the shepherd lovingly leads Grimey back home.

Gridley Christian Church is located at the corner of Hazel and Washington Streets next to Sav Mor Market. Call Bonnie at (530) 933-9845 with any questions about the kids' choir.

Fish Tales Music Camp is scheduled for one week in July for children ages 4 and older (Exact date yet to be determined). Rehearsals for the Christmas musical will begin in September. Call Pastor Ed at (530) 846-4002 with any spiritual concerns you may have. ★

Thoughts to Ponder

by Kathy Neal

The man waits in his cell. The final hours ticking down. He has had a few visitors but not many, most are from his circle of friends. Then in walks a man with his final meal. The last meal of his life. Most people order their favorite food and drink, knowing it would be the last taste ever.

We read of two such times, last meals, in the Bible that carry a very important place in religious history. The first last meal was the last night the Hebrews stayed in Egypt. Over and over Moses pronounced a plague on Egypt and its inhabitants. Then came the last and worst of all, the plague of death.

In order to save the Hebrews from the same fate as the Egyptians, God to Moses to instruct His people to prepare a last meal. One of roasted lamb, bitter herbs, and other dishes. They were to eat ready to leave with sandals and clothes on, everything packed. The lamb was to be roasted and its blood placed on the door frames where the Hebrews lived. The Angel of Death would then pass over them. Thus, the creation of the first Passover.

Giving hope to the exiles, who had been in Egypt over four hundred years, was faith that "Yahweh" would set them free at last. Thus, the journey of obedience would begin.

Down through the centuries, Passover, was celebrated and honored to remember God's mercy and power to bring home His people to the Promised Land. Year after year the lamb was sacrificed, its blood offered at the temple and the meal of remembrance was carried out.

Now come the final year, the final day, the final hours of God's blessed final lamb. This time its God's Son who goes through the motions with His followers. Lift the glass, eat the meat, taste the herbs, and recite the passages from the Sacred Word. The Angel of Death is near and Jesus is preparing His disciples for the worst.

The last sacrifice is happening on a tree outside the gates of the city (a sign of shame). The blood is spilled to save man and God hears the sobs of pain and agony.

No longer would an animal's blood cleanse sin from man. Jesus Christ, the Messiah, had done that once and for all. One last meal led to salvation and freedom from exile in sin. God kept His promise to return His people, (all people) to the promise land. You are a recipient of that promise today.

The Gridley United Methodist Church would like you to celebrate our salvation from sin Sundays at 10 am. Please join us in passing this joy on to others. We are located at the corner of Magnolia and Haskell Streets. ★

Oroville Police Department

OROVILLE, CA (MPG) - On March 12, 2022, at approximately 12:55 pm, Oroville Police Officers were on patrol in the area of Table Mountain Blvd and Nelson Ave when a white BMW nearly collided with the front end of a patrol car.

The OP officer was able to identify the driver of the vehicle as 33-year-old Banessa Santana, of Oroville. Officers were aware that Santana was wanted for two felony warrants including one for evading officers. When officers attempted to conduct an enforcement stop on the BMW, the BMW immediately fled westbound on Mono Avenue into the Thermalito area.

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

Slim Randles

There was something new in the noisy portable commercial that was Windy Wilson's way of spreading the news around town.

"Pardners and pardettes," came the familiar voice from the Gates of Heaven's loudspeaker car, "you ever stop and listen to your innermoist partitions when it comes to books? No? Well, doncha think it's time? A-course it is! And thass per-zackly why you should head on over to the good ol' Read Me Now bookstore. You know where it is. Hey, s'only bookstore we got. Jes' cruise on over to the section she calls

"Pardners and Pardettes"

"Love and other fiction," and a-fore you can say Robinson Croozer, Sarah McKinley, herself, will come over to help.

"Sarah knows where all the good ones are. Hey, you want one a-them books to keep you awake all night? She knows which ones'll do that. You wanna fall asleep fast? Ask her for A Cowboy's Guide to Growin' Up Right by Slim Randles."

Windy turned the car around at the edge of town and started back.

"And while you're assumptionin' all that there wisdom from the books, keep in mind this year phrase ... Why, I bet ol' Windy coulda wrote one or two a-them books his ownself. And you know, thass why you'll prolly write to the folks at Oxford Shoes University or mebbe Notorious Dames University 'bout getting' ol' Windy his very own honorary degree.

"Now while you're puttin' all them keen sentences together, might jes' as well do it down at Delbert Chin's Gates of Heaven Chinese joint. You see, Delbert'll give you some tea and mebbe some a-that good muleshoe pork while you're busy writin' that letter for Windy on them free gen-oo-wine paper napkins.

"All you rilly need is a pencil or somethin' else to write with. And think what a great way this'd be to say much obliged to all the cowboy camp cooks you know."

Calvin Clark to Speak on Rules for Restoration of Local Government

By Larry S. Virga, FRTPP News Release

YUBA CITY, CA (MPG) - The Feather River Tea Party Patriots announced Calvin Clark, a modern-day Community Organizer, will be the Special Guest Speaker at their next meeting, Monday, March 21, 2022.

Calvin Clark lives in Nevada County in the town of Rough and Ready, which describes many people who are willing to stand up against their abusive government. Calvin has been leading the charge to recall all five of the Nevada County Board of Supervisors (BOS) for the many ways they have violated their oath of office and refused to listen to – or show any respect for – the people they are supposed to represent. You will learn of their form of regional government with unelected bureaucrats with enormous salaries leading it and using the same kind of UN Agenda 21 tactics as we have in Sutter and Yuba Counties. He will outline the "Rules for Restoration of Local Government," recall procedures, and how to identify corruption in our local government.

Calvin Clark and his group, American Healing Angels, have had national recognition in this battle to recall their supervisors. He was a guest on the Alex Newman show, with the New American Magazine, Dec. 22, and the John B. Wells show, "Caravan to Midnight," Feb. 3; and the Nevada County recall effort was also mentioned on CNN news.

Calvin and his wife have three children: two daughters and a son. He is a former Tea Party leader, a third-generation building contractor, real estate professional, and a property rights advocate, who strongly believes in and loves the U.S. Constitution. He studied under the Constitutional expert Cleon Skousen and has led many Constitutional Study Groups himself; he is the founder and leader of American Healing Angels and is a member of the State Board for Eagle Forum of California. Being the father of a vaccine-injured child, Calvin has a special interest in the subject of vaccines and is very opposed to any mandatory vaccines, but especially the COVID jabs.

Please come and bring a friend. You will hear of many similarities between his county and ours. Maybe we can learn how to restore our local government to "We the People" again and identify our own elected officials who refuse to honor their oath of office.

There is no membership requirement to attend, and everyone is welcome. Doors open at 6:00 p.m.; meeting begins promptly at 6:30 p.m.. Come early to register, socialize with like-minded patriots, and get a good seat.

The meeting will be Monday, March 21, 2022, at Crossroads Community Church, 445 B Street, Yuba City, CA.

BIGGS, CA (MPG) - Athletes from various sports were celebrated at this year's Biggs High School Winter Sports Awards ceremony.

"Our student-athletes dedicate many hours towards practice and competitions," said Biggs High School Principal Tyler Rutledge. "They truly exemplify what it means to be positive role models at Biggs High School. We would like to thank our boosters for their continued support and for making this night possible." ★
