16,000 Crosses

Volunteers of all ages, including 4-H members and their families, made quick work of a massive project! Photo by Seti Long

By Seti Long

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - Getting one last big one in the books before summer, Biggs 4-H Club set the bar high with their latest service project.

Brian Harrison, Community Club Leader for Biggs 4-H says that "In July, even though COVID was keeping most of the world down, our officers met and planned out a full year of activities, fundraisers and community service. At that time our president, Mason Kaelin had the idea to get involved in an effort called "Crosses Across America". Due to COVID-19 that didn't work out."

Looking for a similar project, Harrison shares that he contacted the Gridley-Biggs Cemetery. After speaking with Angie Cote and grounds superintendent Arthur Garcia, Biggs 4-H committed to restore and paint somewhere around 200 crosses. The crosses are of import, designed to be used on the graves of Veterans, with small holes at their zenith to enable them to be topped with an American Flag. They are used by the cemetery, in conjunction with American Flags, to honor veterans during holidays.

The Kaelin family, who is highly active in Biggs 4-H - their youth are officers and members, the adults Group Leaders or volunteer muscle - offered to pick up the crosses and transport them to their ranch to be painted. Harrison says he got a call from Mason Kaelin after they had the crosses in their possession, "He told me there was 1600 crosses! I was floored."

But Biggs 4-H was ready to put the work in. The crosses were transported to the Kaelin Ranch and the image of them, planted closely together in a field off W. Liberty Rd was a striking sight. Proudly hanging on the fence, the Biggs 4-H Group Banner notified the public that the sea of crosses was a service project in progress. Months of preparation, including meeting with Gridley's VFW members, culminated in a two-day effort, scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 1st & 2nd.

A little nervous that they had bitten off more than they could chew, emails were sent, sign-up sheets were GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - With Graduation right around the corner, Gridley High School parents are preparing for one of commencement traditions, the All-Night Sober Grad Party!

The Sober Grad Party has been a long-standing way for parents and educators to ensure the safety of their graduates after reaching and crossing one of life's major milestones. A letter circulated about the 2021 Sober Grad Night, says "More than 'just a party,' the All Night/Sober Grad party is a commitment by parents and the community to provide the graduates 'the time of their life' without risking their life on a night when that risk is unusually high."

The party is typically held after graduation at a safe location, beginning this year at 10:00 pm June 11th and continuing until 5:00 am June 12th. Of course, students will have access to food, snacks, and drinks while they enjoy games, karaoke, a mechanical bull, and prizes to be awarded throughout the event.

Parents are currently trying to raise money and collect donations to make the party a success: "We recognize that you get many donation requests, we hope you share our belief that this is an extremely worthwhile even for these children!" Funds are used to offset the cost of food and entertainment, while also securing some of the big prizes awarded throughout the night.

If you would like to help support this fun-filled, safe evening for Gridley's 2021 graduates, please send donations to: 2021 All Night/Sober Grad Party c/o Brooke Mardesich, 380 Ord Ranch Rd., Gridley CA 95948. ★

Recall backers raise more money, but Newsom's side has more cash in the bank

By Ben Christopher,
CALMatters.org

The campaign to eject Gov. Gavin Newsom got off to an early financial head start, raising gobs of money from high-profile Republican luminaries, SoCal millionaires and irate voters, according to new campaign finance reports.

But like the world's most lucratively sponsored tortoise, the anti-recall campaign is planning to take back the lead in the money race - and soon.

So far, political fundraisers have set up six campaign committees to spend on either side of the still-unofficial recall election. The pro-recall side came out ahead, with $5.45 million raised, state reports show, while the committees spending in Newsom's defense brought in $4.56 million.

Recall opponents also boasted a higher share of contributions from small-dollar donors, which political strategists sometimes take as a proxy for regular-folks enthusiasm that translates into votes.

And while Newsom's opponents have burned through most of their cash, the governor's defenders have roughly $2.5 million socked away.

"Democrats across the country, but particularly in California, are fired up - they see this for what it is, a Republican partisan power grab," said Newsom spokesperson Nathan Click.

Anne Dunsmore, campaign manager of Rescue California, the chief fundraising vehicle for the recall campaign, said her committee's empty bank account isn't a sign of weakness, but of success.

Supporters had to collect nearly 1.5 million signatures to put the recall on the ballot - something that required considerable resources. "If I had finished

The New Pi-Line

By Josh F.W. Cook

The football season has wound up, and the tri-town teams had very mixed results. Gridley Bulldogs went 4 Wins and one loss - they beat Corning, Orland, Paradise, and Wheatland. Their only loss was to Sutter. Live Oak is having a building year, so to speak; they were 0 and 3. Biggs went undefeated, 6 and 0, and played the most games. They defeated Hamilton, Los Molinos, Maxwell, Hamilton (again), Williams, and Live Oak. The Maxpreps website tracks all of the High School sports and has become a place where college scouts start looking for talent to recruit into the bigger leagues. So there it is in one place. All of the socializing, homecoming activities, and traveling around the valley to cheer for your team has undoubtedly been good for the community. Having a year taken off the history books made this season much more significant than years past. Looking back through history, we have never had such a shut down of sports for anything other than a World War.

I mentioned a few months ago that the Biggs City Council was up to something. The maps from their public meeting on the expansion of their empire were posted in last week's Gridley Herald. Biggs wants to be - bigger - and it makes sense, they have needed to get to the main Highway for at least a century; the current council is going through the process to bring some common sense to the city boundaries so the water, sewer, housing, and public safety obligations of local government. It also looks as if Biggs maps may have targeted the home of the potential new City manager of Gridley.

Some small cities have "Sister City" relationships with a city in another country. The Sister City of Gridley is Te Puke, New Zealand. Live Oak is going to become a partner with whatever city they arrive at when they complete their hole through the middle of the world on State Route 99. It is incredible how long the road work has been going on. The whole mining, road work, and gas pipeline endeavor cause people to appreciate Gridley's four lanes through town. We hope that Biggs gets four lanes all the way to Gridley as part of their expansion.

I did some investigative reporting this week by talking to the CEO of the Gridley Ice Burgie. I asked her how many 32 oz. drinks does she sell on a hot day. After some thought, she said roughly 300. On days in which milkshakes are on special, like "Milkshake Monday," the Burgie technicians crank out 300 or more milkshakes. I continue to believe that a Coke from the Burgie tastes better than a soda in any other place in America. Perhaps it is the unique groundwater chemistry of our area or the special non-cube ice they use, but whatever it is, the Burgie is still #1 for summertime refreshment.

GHS Does Design and Build

By Seti Long

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - The Gridley high school Ag Department and their Ag Fabrication Team recently participated in the Construction Industry Education Foundation (CIEF) Design Build Program, which promotes awareness of the construction industry and careers available in the field to high school students.

This year, they brought back their Design and Build Competition, but things looked a little different. Ag instructor Nick Dreesmann says that typically, the design and build challenge is held at American River College and students from various high schools are provided with the same stack of materials and asked to build the same project. "They set it up like a real construction site, there's a foreman, there's a safety monitor, they go through all proper PPE's, and what to do.... all that stuff." Says Dreesmann. "This year, what was different, was they just dropped off the materials (at the GHS campus) and a set of plans and said "Build it to specs.

We'll be back in a few days!" Gridley's Ag Fabrication Team did just that. A beautiful 8'x 12' shed with a 4/12 pitch roof was constructed by Ag students in just a few days and was sold at the FFA Rib Feed for $1,500! The new owners had to wait until after April 27th to take it home, to give CIEF Officials time to complete judging. Judges inspected the build, asked safety monitor Julian Ramos a multitude of questions and selected Gridley as a finalist. Gridley has yet to officially learn their placement but is currently one of 8 other high school-built sheds still vying for the "People's Choice Award". Voting is open to the public but ends at 3:00 Wednesday, May 5th. Final results will be announced on Thursday, May 6, 2021 at 12:15 pm for category and scholarship winners. No matter what place, Gridley's AG Fabrication Team is still a winner! ★

BIGGS, CA (MPG) - Since restarting just a few short weeks ago, American Legion Post 210's Thursday Night Bingo has been a wild success.

American Legion Commander Owen Stiles says that since reopening the game night to the public, Thursday Night BINGO has been incredibly popular. "We're buying extra tables! It's been very successful!" adding that people might want to start coming early, "but not too early."

Which leads us to the main point. Thursday Night Bingo will now start an hour later, moving from 5:00 pm to 6:00 pm, each Thursday at the Biggs Town Hall building at 280 B Street, Biggs. ★

Discovery, AG Style 16,000 Crosses

By Seti Long

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - Two hundred excited, nervous 8th graders visited the Gridley High School Campus last week, but not for freshman orientation.

Students from both Manzanita School and Sycamore School were getting a look at some classes and curriculum not offered at their schools at 8th Grade Ag Discovery Day. GHS Ag Department and FFA hosted the incoming freshman, giving tours throughout the departments and 7 stations: Ice breakers/get to know your station, Ag Mechanic's Shop, Horticulture/Greenhouse, Animal Science/Petting Zoo, Floral Room/Floral Design, Agri-science Science rotation, and All-About FFA Classroom station.

As students discovered which stations interested them the most, AG department staff suggested the classes in which the student would want to register for next year.

The 8th graders were treated to an AG Department style BBQ, and both 8th graders and current Ag students were gifted commemorative 8th Grade Ag Discovery Day t-shirts by the District. Ag Teacher Jenny Kaslin Haley says, "The day went extremely well! Everyone was excited to see the new faces and we know we will have a strong group of Ag students coming in the Fall." ★

Biggs 4-H treasurer Riley Harrison, said that the massive service project was "exciting cause we're kind of giving back to the people who fought for us." Riley continues, "we kind of stand out," she says, because the sheer amount of work and service projects Biggs commits to, especially over the last year. Harrison adds about his dedicated club members, "This is a wonderful group of kids not just the officers but the entire membership."

Jonna Phillips, Biggs 4-H Co-Community Leader said, "I am so proud of the hard work Biggs 4-H club did to paint 1,500 crosses for the Biggs-Gridley cemetery." Members of all ages from 5-13 years old helped to make this a successful project. The kids worked hard and had fun doing it! I have encouraged all of the members to visit the cemetery on Memorial Day weekend to see their work on display and we look forward to future community service opportunities that will help the Biggs and Gridley areas."

The crosses will be returned to the cemetery and Cote says that they will be placed on every Veteran's grave this upcoming Memorial Day and for holidays ever after. Ever grateful for the hard work, Cote says, "We are so very honored that Biggs 4-H would choose us for their community project - it's a great cause, honoring our veterans and heroes." ★

GRIDLEY, CA (MPG) - As warmer weather and lessening COVID-19 restrictions invite the public outdoors, Gridley is getting things in tip-top shape.

Gridley Public Works has been making their way through the downtown area and respective parks over the past few weeks, cleaning, repairing, and replanting throughout the area. Planters at the central intersection of Hazel and Kentucky streets in downtown, which were looking a little barren, have gotten some major attending to, with new shrubs and flowers freshly planted. It is all part of yearly "spring cleaning" and of course, preparation for the first big community event in downtown for a long time: Red Suspenders Day!

The public has already noticed the new additions, and so have the thieves - bushes were literally pulled out of the ground and stolen shortly after they were planted by hard working Public Works department. Thank you, Gridley Public Works, for making Gridley a beautiful place to live!★

Newsom Administration Increases Efforts to Release More Violent Criminals

Jim Nielsen

By Nghia Nguyen, Office of Senator Nielsen

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On a late Friday afternoon news dump, the Newsom Administration announced they are automatically giving "good time credit" to violent offenders and second and third strikers in an effort to release them early. These policies will go into effect within hours of the announcement - Saturday, May 1. Senator Jim Nielsen (R-Red Bluff), former Chairman of the Board of Prison Terms, issued the following statement:

"As the former Chairman of the Board of Prison terms, I am intimately aware of these criminal justice regulations. This is ill-founded, ill-cited criminal justice policies. Violent felons are receiving good time credit for simply breathing, in lieu of demonstrated good behavior and rehabilitation.
"This is another ill-conceived policy of the Newsom Administration in its attempts to release convicted violent criminals back into our communities.

"We, the people, will pay the price for his continued follies."

Eligibility for the program is based on household income. Households must qualify as "Very Low Income," defined by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development as 50 percent of the Area Median Income. Applicants are screened for criminal background history. The Section 8 Wait List opens from Sunday, May 9 through Saturday, May 22. While all applicants will have an equal opportunity for placement on the Wait List, due to limited funding availability, a one-year pool of applicants will be selected. The one-year pool of applicants will be selected and ordered by means of a random lottery. One application per household will be considered.

Applications will be available online at www.butte-housing.com and can be completed and submitted online starting Sunday, May 9 and no later than Saturday, May 22.

SPARKY'S CORNER

Wildland Fire Safety

Every year, wildfires burn across the U.S., and more and more people are living where wildfires are a real risk. But by working together, residents can make their own property - and their neighborhood - much safer from wildfire.

ACTION STEPS FOR AROUND YOUR HOME:

- CLEAR leaves and other vegetative debris from roofs, gutters, porches and decks. This helps prevent embers from igniting your home.
- REMOVE dead vegetation and other items from under your deck or porch, and within 10 feet of the house.
- SCREEN in areas below patios and decks with wire mesh to prevent debris and combustible materials from accumulating.
- REMOVE flammable materials (wood piles, propane tanks) within 30 feet of your home's foundation and outbuildings, including garages and sheds. If it can catch fire, don't let it touch your house, deck or porch.
- Wildfire can spread to tree tops. PRUNE trees so the lowest branches are 6 to 10 feet from the ground.
- KEEP your lawn hydrated and maintained. If it is brown, cut it down to reduce fire intensity. Dry grass and shrubs are fuel for wildfire.
- Don't let debris and lawn cuttings linger. DISPOSE of these items quickly to reduce fuel for fire.
- INSPECT shingles or roof tiles. Replace or repair the shingles that are loose or missing to prevent ember penetration.
- COVER exterior attic vents with metal wire mesh no larger than 1/8 inch to prevent sparks from entering the home.
- ENCLOSE eaves and screen soffit vents using 1/8 mesh metal screening to prevent ember entry.

AND DON'T FORGET...

The more actions a community takes, the more fire adapted it becomes. Learn how you can make a difference in your community. Visit www.fireadapted.org and www.firewise.org for more information.

Gridley Thumbs and Roots

By Barbara Ott

A wonderful flowering plant that I've been enjoying in pots are Alstroemeria. Shortly after I moved to Gridley a sweet neighbor gave me two colors, a pink and an orange. I'd never grown them in the mountains because they were too tender to cold. She told me they were called Princess Lilies. They are also called Peruvian Lilies. I'd seen this flower in floral arrangements and they always looked very bright and cheerful. At first, I kept them alive because they were a gift. I put them into larger containers and paid no special attention to them. The plants and I started to figure out how to live together. I began to figure out their light and water needs. They like morning sun, then bright light. They like once a week watering in summer and less in winter. They like dried-out leaf stalks taken away. They like to be fertilized. I learned this over about a five-year period. While I slowly learned who they were and what they wanted, they did a variety of things. They almost all died. They looked scruffy most of the time. They had one or two flowers. They had a lot of dead leaves, then some of the tuber like roots rotted. I considered getting rid of them because they were not a flower I would have chosen, or so I thought. Now I love them and celebrate their rich colors. They are a rich green, bushy, blooming delight. I now have the two original colors and a dark red-orange called Inca something or other. I also have a variegated leaf one that is also a red tone. They bloom with great vim and vigor over the spring and summer. So far, they are bug free. They are a colorful joy in the container garden on the patio. The perfect May Day flower. ★

Dave Ramsey Says

Don't Most People Already Know?

Dear Dave,
You talk a lot about budgeting, and how important it is in getting control of your money. But don't most people already have a good idea of what they're spending, and how much they have in the bank, without going through all the time and trouble of developing an actual budget?

-Carter

Dear Carter
Well, if that were true, why are people paying billions in overdraft fees every year? Why are so many people deep in debt and living paycheck to paycheck, even without taking the effects of a pandemic into account? It's because most people don't really know where their money's going each month.

Let's start with a simple definition of budgeting. A budget is just a plan. It's not a restriction on spending, it's a strategy for what you'll do with all your money. It's tracking what's coming in and what's going out. When you budget every month, you're giving your money purpose. You're controlling your money, and telling it where to go, instead of scratching your head and wondering where it all went.

The word budget gets a bum rap, because some people think it'll be like putting a strait-jacket on their spending and their lives. But that really isn't true at all. Budgeting actually gives you the power to spend wisely and with purpose. Budgeting even causes feelings of fear, intimidation, and anger in some folks. Sure, it takes a little time and effort at first to create a budget that really works. But once you get the hang of it, and it doesn't take long, the hard part is over.

Still, to make your cash flow plan work, you have to do it consistently. That means sitting down every month, and making a budget for the upcoming month. Don't let the fear of what you might find stop you, and don't over-complicate things. It's easy as writing down your income and everything that requires money for the month, then doing a little basic math. And once you have a plan in place, stick to it! Too many people get lazy, or "forget" to do a monthly budget.

Give it a shot, Carter. You'll experience a sense of freedom, security, and accomplishment like you've never felt before once you've taken that first step toward gaining control of your money!

Dave Ramsey is a seven-time #1 national best-selling author, personal finance expert, and host of The Ramsey Show, heard by more than 18 million listeners each week. He has appeared on Good Morning America, CBS This Morning, Today Show, Fox News, CNN, Fox Business, and many more. Since 1992, Dave has helped people regain control of their money, build wealth and enhance their lives. He also serves as CEO for Ramsey Solutions. ★

Thoughts to Ponder

by Kathy Neal

You never gave up did you? You still wanted to walk and talk in the garden with Your people.

You are God yet You learned to grow as a child into a young man, into a priest and prophet for a crushed world. Your people weren't ready for that move. They were seeking a Moses, a Samson, a David a guiding warrior, not a carpenter in sandals and robe. You brought peace they wanted a fight for their freedom.

We as humans face temptation daily. We are pushed and pulled in every direction until we stretch and break. Why did You want to go through that? You were denied, abandoned, left alone in pain to die a horrible death for these cracked humans. Why?

Love!!! That's the only answer. No one can do anything better than to give one's life for others. You gave it all to save what you created in

Your image. I can imagine the tears shed year after year for Your people as they lost their way and left behind Your love that was given freely to all who would merely acknowledge You as their Father.

You gave Your life to save everyone who would come to You for help, love, and salvation. You had to become human to show people that You are a living God with feelings and love for people who never knew You.

You wanted to let humans know You knew what temptations felt like; what sadness felt like; what hurt, pain, and death felt like. But You gave and ending unthought of: LIFE even after death! Praise God!

Come to the Gridley United Methodist Church to praise God as He lifts us up in His love and grace. Our Sunday service begins at 10 am. We are at the corner of Haskell and Magnolia Streets. ★

Lord how did it feel to be human on earth? You are God, no creator of all. You are spirit and truth, power and glory. How did it feel to be here on Your earth? How did it feel to experience birth, hunger, cold, heat, loneliness, and pain?

Becoming human meant You left Your throne and angles to come here to be lowly with humans. They are made in Your image but are broken, beaten down, and lost.

Why did you decide to walk among humans, putting Your glory aside to walk and talk with people? You tried with Adam and Eve and they broke that bond of fellowship even after living in the garden blessed with all goodness.

Alleged Serial Sex Assailant Nabbed through Familial DNA Search

Butte County District Attorney's Office

BUTTE COUNTY, CA (MPG) - An alleged serial sex assailant was arrested this morning as a result of a cross match DNA "hit" on a member of the suspect's family. The assailant is suspected of multiple sexual assaults that occurred in Chico and Red Bluff between 2014-2019.

Butte County District Attorney Mike Ramsey and Tehama County District Attorney Matt Rogers announced that officers from the Chico Police Department, the Red Bluff Police Department, and the California Department of Justice (DOJ) arrested Steven Craig Michael Haskins, 36, of Chico, this morning.

"In what would otherwise have remained cold case sexual assaults in Northern California, the use of familial DNA search not only led to the suspect's arrest, but ensured a dangerous sexual assailant is off the streets and unable to victimize another woman today. The identification of Haskins would not have been possible without the familial DNA search by DOJ," Ramsey and Rogers said.

"This was a joint effort with dedicated detectives from Chico, Red Bluff, and the expert forensics team at the Department of Justice," the District Attorneys added.

New California Attorney General Rob Bonta said, "There is absolutely no place for rape or sexual assault anywhere in our society. Today's arrest is a clear reminder of the good work that can be done when we collaborate across jurisdictions to stand up for the people of our state. I am proud of the efforts of the California Department of Justice's forensic experts, special agent investigators, and crime analysts who work tirelessly to help keep our streets safe. I also commend our law enforcement partners in Butte and Tehama on their commitment to securing justice. My office stands ready to continue to provide assistance on this critical case and to use our technological know-how to support our partners across the state."

The familial search process involves searching the assailant's DNA against the state's convicted offender database to identify potential relatives in the database. Haskins' DNA had been previously recovered from two sexual assaults in Chico and one sexual assault in Red Bluff, between 2014-2019. Although his DNA was recovered in each case, he remained unidentified because the sexual assault DNA samples were not known to be associated with him as he had no known DNA sample in the state's system.

However, the DNA of one of Haskins' family members, who had been convicted of a felony, was in the state's DNA databank. A familial search was conducted, and DOJ established a possible familial connection between the family member and the DNA collected from the three sexual assaults. That connection was used to identify and arrest Haskins after his DNA was obtained by DOJ agents who had been surveilling him.

Familial DNA searches are only used in limited situations where a violent crime has been committed, there is a serious risk to public safety, and all other investigative leads have been exhausted.

District Attorneys Ramsey and Rogers noted they have agreed to combine the cases to be tried in Butte County. Ramsey says his office plans to charge Haskins with a count of rape, a count of kidnapping, and a count of assault with intent to commit rape.

Haskins is currently being held on $450,000 bail and will appear in Butte County Superior Court to face charges on Wednesday afternoon, April 28, 2021.

Anyone with information about Haskins is encouraged to contact Detective John Nickelson at the Chico Police Department (530) 897-4911. ★

If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e., joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and not the community property presumption. You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title to the property.

There's money buried in your backyard. And you don't need a shovel to find it.

Learn how home equity can help you fund a better retirement.

It's a well-known fact that for many older Americans, the home is their single biggest asset, often accounting for more than 45% of their total net worth. And with interest rates still near all-time lows while home values remain high, this combination creates the perfect dynamic for getting the most out of your built-up equity.

But, many aren't taking advantage of this unprecedented period. According to new statistics from the mortgage industry, senior homeowners in the U.S. are now sitting on more than 8.05 trillion dollars of unused home equity.

Not only are people living longer than ever before, but there is also greater uncertainty in the economy. With home prices back up again, ignoring this "hidden wealth" may prove to be short sighted when looking for the best long-term outcome.

All things considered, it's not surprising that more than a million homeowners have already used a government-insured Home Equity Conversion Mortgage (HECM) loan

For example, a lot of people mistakenly believe the home must be paid off in full in order to qualify for a HECM loan, which is not the case. In fact, one key advantage of a HECM is that the proceeds will first be used to pay off any existing liens on the property, which frees up cash flow, a huge blessing for seniors living on a fixed income. Unfortunately, many senior homeowners who might be better off with a HECM loan don't even bother to get more information because of rumors they've heard.

In fact, a recent survey by American Advisors Group (AAG), the nation's number one HECM lender, found that over 98% of their clients are satisfied with their loans. While these special loans are not for everyone, they can be a real lifesaver for senior homeowners - especially in times like these.

The cash from a HECM loan can be used for almost any purpose. Other common uses include making home improvements, paying off medical bills or helping other family members. Some people simply need

CALMatters

Should California continue to reduce punishment for crimes large and small, or has it gone too far and implicitly allowed criminals to prey upon Californians without fear of imprisonment?

The question has reverberated throughout the state over the last half-decade, ever since former Gov. Jerry Brown lunched a personal crusade to scale back the lock-'em-up laws that California enacted - including some that he signed - in the 1980s and 1990s.

California voters will answer it next year by either giving newly appointed Attorney General Rob Bonta, a fervent believer in the softer approach to crime, a full term or replacing him with someone with a tougher attitude toward lawbreakers.

The conflict jelled on Monday when Sacramento County District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert declared her candidacy, saying, "The California criminal justice system is in chaos" due to laws and policies that value rehabilitation over punishment.

Schubert devoted much of her announcement to denouncing Los Angeles District Attorney George Gascón and San Francisco District Attorney Chesa Boudin as "rogue prosecutors," criticizing state legislators for ignoring crime victims in their rush to soften punishments, and tying Bonta to them.

"Rob Bonta has no regard for crime victims," Schubert told the Sacramento Bee in a pre-announcement interview. "I think Rob Bonta is similar, if not identical, to the district attorney in San Francisco and Los Angeles."

In Schubert, the state's criminal justice traditionalists probably have their strongest challenger to Bonta, a state legislator who was selected by Gov. Gavin Newsom as a successor to Xavier Becerra after the latter joined the Biden administration in Washington.

While moderate Republican Nathan Hochman, former assistant U.S. attorney in the Bush administration, also is running, he is little known while Schubert, a former Republican who is not registered with a political party, achieved statewide and even national attention for recently prosecuting serial rapist and murderer Joseph James DeAngelo Jr. Dubbed the Golden State Killer, DeAngelo, a former policeman, was tied to the decades-old crime spree by a novel use of DNA evidence.

Schubert can expect support from all but a handful of the state's other local prosecutors and police organizations which have opposed efforts by Brown and like-minded legislators to soften punishment. She surrounded herself with families of crime victims as she announced her candidacy.

Bonta, on the other hand, will be backed by the national criminal justice reform movement that has been working state-by-state and county-by-county to replace traditionalist prosecutors with those favoring rehabilitation over incarceration. Billionaire investor George Soros has been one of the major drivers behind the movement.

Schubert, in fact, had overcome such a challenge in winning re-election three years ago. When Gascón, who had been San Francisco's district attorney, moved to Los Angeles and unseated District Attorney Jackie Lacey in 2020, it marked a new intensity in the philosophical clash.

He, Boudin and two other like-minded district attorneys have battled with the California District Attorneys Association over policy issues and formed their own group, the Prosecutors Alliance of California, to push for criminal justice reforms.

The next big California battle for the contending factions was to have been in Orange County, where District Attorney Todd Spitzer, a former Republican legislator, will be facing Peter Hardin, a Democrat and former prosecutor, next year.

However, Becerra's resignation, Bonta's appointment and Schubert's declaration of candidacy create an even more intense showdown over crime and punishment in the nation's most populous state.

Should Schubert prevail next year, it would not only be a big win for criminal justice traditionalists, but also make her a potential candidate for governor or U.S. Senate thereafter.

to turn their home equity into extra cash for retirement.

It's a fact: no monthly mortgage payments are required with a government-insured HECM loan; however the borrowers are still responsible for paying for the maintenance of their home, property taxes, homeowner's insurance and, if required, their HOA fees.

Today, HECM loans are simply an effective way for homeowners 62 and older to get the extra cash they need to enjoy retirement.

Although today's HECM loans have been improved to provide even greater financial protection for homeowners, there are still many misconceptions.

Reverse mortgage loans include occupying the home as your primary residence, maintaining the home, paying property taxes and homeowner insurance. Although these costs may be substantial, AAG does not establish an escrow account for these payments. However, a set-aside account can be set up for taxes and insurance, and in some cases may be required. Not all interest on a reverse mortgage is tax-deductible and to the extent that it is, such deduction is not available until the loan is partially or fully repaid.

AAG charges an origination fee, mortgage insurance premium (where required by HUD), closing costs and servicing fees, rolled into the balance of the loan. AAG charges interest on the balance, which grows over time. When the last borrower or eligible non-borrowing spouse dies, sells the home, permanently moves out, or fails to comply with the loan terms, the loan becomes due and payable (and the property may become subject to foreclosure). When this happens, some or all of the equity in the property no longer belongs to the borrowers, who may need to sell the home or otherwise repay the loan balance. V2020.12.22

Dear Dietitian

Iron Deficiency

Commentary
by Leanne McCrate

Dear Dietitian,

My teenage daughter was recently diagnosed with iron deficiency anemia. She follows a vegan diet and has been taking a vegan supplement. Are these as good as regular iron pills?

Mom

Dear Mom,

It is not uncommon for women of childbearing age to become iron deficient, especially if they have heavy menstrual periods. According to the US Department of Health and Human Services, iron deficiency is the most common nutritional deficiency and the leading cause of anemia in the United States. (1) The RDA of iron is 15 mg per day for women 14-18 years of age, 18 mg for women 19-50 years old, and 8 mg for men 19 years and older. Furthermore, the RDA of iron for vegans (those who abstain from all animal products) is 1.8 times more than for those who eat meat.

Iron is needed to produce red blood cells, which carry oxygen to our organs and tissues. If there is not enough iron in our bodies, there is insufficient oxygen flowing throughout, and we may become tired and weak.

Iron is plentiful in our food supply, and it is found in two forms. Heme iron comes from animal products, such as beef, poultry, and fish. Non-heme sources are found both in animal products and plant foods. Examples of non-heme iron are beans, spinach, and dried fruits such as apricots, raisins, and prunes. Breakfast cereals, as well as flour and bread, are fortified with iron. It is estimated that our bodies absorb heme iron two to three times more efficiently than non-heme. The amount of iron absorption is dependent on how much the body needs, and vitamin C aids in this process. Citrus fruits and juices, strawberries, and kiwi are good sources of vitamin C. If excessive amounts of iron are consumed, it will be excreted in the feces.

Most iron supplements are made in a laboratory and consist of an iron salt, such as iron gluconate or iron sulfate. These are absorbable, non-heme sources and are acceptable on a vegan diet. There are iron supplements derived from the curry tree, but studies on absorption rates are limited.

Absorption of iron supplements is best when taken on an empty stomach one to two hours before a meal. If stomach upset occurs, drink water or a cup of orange juice with the iron pill. If nausea or vomiting persists, take iron with a meal.

One last tip: when purchasing any supplement, be sure USP is on the label. The United States Pharmacopeia (USP) tests dietary supplements for quality, safety, and benefit.

Until next time, be healthy.

Dear Dietitian

Father on Trial for Killing His Children in Crash

Butte County Superior Court
BUTTE COUNTY, CA (MPG) - A Sacramento man, who drove his truck into a local canal killing his children and a brother-in-law last Easter, was in Butte County Superior Court where a judge found sufficient evidence to send his case to a jury trial.

Colby Allen Brookman, 28, was held to answer after a preliminary hearing before Judge Kristen Lucena. Brookman is charged with gross vehicular manslaughter while intoxicated and felony DUI. Brookman is facing life in prison.

Butte County District Attorney Mike Ramsey said on April 12, 2020, Brookman drove his truck into the canal at the end of Grand Avenue in Oroville. Brookman's wife, J'lynn Stothers, was a passenger in front seat and their two infants - Arianna, 17 months; Ava, 7 months; and J'lynn's brother, Matthew Stothers, age 32 - were passengers in the rear of the quad cab truck.

Ramsey said the evidence at the hearing showed Brookman was drinking numerous beers throughout the day and had been told not to drive. A blood test taken two hours after the crash showed his blood alcohol level to be 0.12 percent. California Highway Patrol's Multidisciplinary Accident Investigation Team (MAIT) investigated the incident and testified at the hearing. The MAIT team was able to determine through the truck's "black box" that Brookman was driving at over 80 mph just prior to the road ending at the canal. The truck launched over the levee into the canal's deep waters. The children were strapped into baby car seats in the rear seat with Matthew Stothers between them.

Ramsey said a witness testified he saw Brookman and J'lynn swim out of the water. He saw Matthew come to the surface of the water briefly, struggle and then sink below the surface. Butte County Search and Rescue later recovered the bodies of Matthew, Arianna, and Ava from the canal's water.

The judge scheduled Brookman's case for arraignment and jury trial setting on April 14, 2021. Brookman remains in custody at the Butte County Jail and is being held without bail. ★

Safety Project for Highway 99 near Lomo Railroad Crossing

By Gilbert Mohtes-Chan, Caltrans

SUTTER COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Caltrans is alerting motorists about the upcoming construction of a safety project at the intersection of State Highway 99 and Live Oak Boulevard/Encinal Road near the Lomo Railroad Crossing.

During the week of May 24, crews are scheduled to replace the left turn lanes in the center median with flexible delineators, rumble strips and double-yellow striping. These features will prohibit motorists from making a left turn from southbound Highway 99 to Live Oak Boulevard and a left turn from northbound Highway 99 to Encinal Road. Motorists should use alternate routes to access Live Oak Boulevard or Encinal Road.

In addition, painted splitter islands will be placed at Live Oak and Highway 99 and Encinal and Highway 99. These islands will allow only right turns from Live Oak to northbound Highway 99 and from Encinal to southbound Highway 99.

Motorists also will be unable to cross the highway between Live Oak and Encinal.

The $100,000 safety project is aimed at improving safety and traffic operations and reducing the number and severity of collisions at the intersection. Chrisp Co. of Fremont is the contractor. The roadwork is expected to take about a week to complete.

Caltrans will provide construction updates on portable roadside message boards on Twitter @CaltransDist3 and on Facebook at CaltransDistrict3.

Weather or unexpected events may delay or postpone work. Caltrans reminds motorists to “Be Work Zone Alert.” For real-time traffic, click on Caltrans’ QuickMap quickmap.dot.ca.gov/ or download the QuickMap app from the App Store or Google Play. ★

Blood in the Water

the signature gathering with a surplus, shame on me,” she said.

Now it’s on to the next phase of the campaign. And because the Newsom camp will be fending off attacks not just from the pro-recall campaign itself, but from every candidate hoping to replace the governor, “they’re gonna have to spend a whole lot more to win than we’re gonna have to spend to beat him,” Dunsmore said. “Everybody’s gonna have over a million bucks worth of potshots.”

By April 30, committees on both sides of the recall fight were required to file semi-annual reports with the secretary of state disclosing all of their fundraising activity to date. That included a list of larger donors – those who gave at least $200 – as well as the total contributions from smaller anonymous donors. Except for the occasional poll on the governor’s favorability ratings, these campaign finance reports provide one of the first hard metrics of the state of the race.

Sean Walsh, a Republican strategist who advised Arnold Schwarzenegger in his successful 2003 recall race against Gov. Gray Davis, said that recall supporters are all but certain to get out-raised and outspent by labor and other groups backing Newsom.

“The ‘no’ (on recall) side is going to raise somewhere between as much money as God and more money than God,” he said.

Once the campaign starts, “it comes down to who the candidates are and how much money they’re able to spend.” None of the contestants in the field have “blown the doors off” yet, Walsh said.

On the Republican side, the most notable candidates at the moment are former San Diego Mayor Kevin Faulconer, Newsom’s 2018 challenger John Cox, and former Olympian turned reality TV star Caitlyn Jenner.

Faulconer has raised more than $1.9 million for his 2022 gubernatorial campaign – money that could also be spent on a recall race. A pro-recall issue committee he sponsored has raised another $98,900.

With another $5 million donation to his own campaign reported, Cox has raised $7.5 million – though $7 million has come from his own bank account. Cox, who lost to Newsom 62% to 38%, is also rebranding himself as @BeastJohnCox and embarking on a bus tour with an event in Sacramento featuring a live bear and a stop at the French Laundry, the restaurant made even more famous by Newsom’s mask-less dinner that jump-started the recall effort.

This morning an initial report declaring Jenner’s candidacy popped up on the secretary of state’s campaign finance web portal. There are no other filings listing how much she has raised or from whom.

The Democratic side is still virtually empty of challengers. Newsom and the party aim to keep it that way. Last weekend, the state party held a virtual convention in which the theme – hammered on repeatedly in pre-recorded orations from top Democrats across the state and country – was to rally around the governor and defeat the recall.

It’s an easy argument for Newsom to make at the moment. Coronavirus infection rates are low and vaccination rates are high in California. The governor has vowed to release businesses from most COVID-19 restrictions on June 15. Recent polling shows that most Californians still approve of the governor in general – and of his handling of the economy and schools during the pandemic in particular.

That could all make it a challenge for recall supporters and anti-Newsom candidates to raise funds.

But Dunsmore from Rescue California said that even if the pandemic continues to recede, the governor will be vulnerable on a host of issues – including crime, drought and unpaid unemployment benefits.

“It is laughable that he doesn’t know how much trouble he is in,” she said. “Everybody smells blood in the water now. I don’t care what the polls say.”

For the record: This story was updated with new campaign finance filings by John Cox and Caitlyn Jenner.

“Your Fish Oil Could Be Killing Your Brain Cells,” Warns Memory Doctor

Florida M.D. reveals startling reason why “senior moments” may be caused by fish oil — and the #1 way to fix it fast

More than 16 million Americans suffer age-associated cognitive impairment. And according to nationwide research, these numbers are only rising.

Thankfully, anti-aging specialist and bestselling author, Dr. Al Sears, says there’s an easy way to banish senior moments for good. It’s a safe, natural compound that can grow the brain significantly bigger.

And unlike failed solutions that promise what they can’t deliver, this one actually works — at least, according to studies from Framingham, Stanford, and other reputable universities.

But in order for it to work, you must avoid using run-of-the-mill fish oil supplements. “The worst thing you can do for your memory,” explains Dr. Sears, “is to supplement with fish oil.”

Dr. Al Sears, a highly-acclaimed MD — who has published more than 500 studies — says today’s low-grade supermarket fish oil is causing the surge in America’s memory crisis. “These cheap oils are no longer as nutrient-dense as they once were,” he explains.

If you want to get rid of embarrassing senior moments and grow the brain significantly bigger, Dr. Sears recommends a different approach.

THE SECRET TO A LASTING MEMORY

Research has shown our paleo ancestors were able to grow bigger and smarter brains by eating foods rich in one ingredient — DHA. “Our hippocampus thrives off DHA, and grows because of it,” explains Dr. Sears. “Without DHA, our brains would shrink, and our memories would quickly fade.”

A groundbreaking study from the University of Alberta confirmed this. Animals given a diet rich in DHA saw a 29% boost in their hippocampus — the part of the brain responsible for learning and memory. As a result, these animals became smarter.

The same was found in human studies, too. Stanford University analyzed the brains of over 1,100 women. And according to brain scans, DHA grew significantly bigger hippocampal brain regions.

Conversely, after analyzing more than 1,500 seniors, the Framingham study found that those whose brains were deficient in DHA, also had significantly smaller brains — a characteristic of accelerated aging and a weakened memory.

And lastly, a randomized, double-blind, placebo-controlled study from Columbia found something remarkable. 485 senior men and women were put through a series of rigorous mental and visual tests.

They were asked to remember weird shapes and images that made the task so challenging, some compared it to an IQ test. Remarkably, after 6 months, those who took DHA had a significant edge in learning, memory, and brain function over those who didn’t.

OMEGA-3 DHA POWER THAN KRILL

You’d have to take 20 softgels of a popular “Red” krill oil to get all the OMEGA-3 DHA Power of one special softgel.

“Unfortunately, it’s almost impossible to boost levels of DHA simply by eating more fish or fish oil,” explains Dr. Sears. “DHA in fish oil has plummeted over the years. And it’s being replaced by another compound. One that can cause memory failure and brain fog.”

The ingredient Dr. Sears is referring to is called ALA — a compound found in cheap, grocery store fish oil. Studies have shown that even moderate levels of ALA can eat away at your memory and make you forgetful.

PEOPLE ARE TALKING

Fish farming has caused DHA levels to plummet and ALA levels to rise, according to Dr. Sears.

“In order to produce DHA,” he explains, “fish need to eat a natural, marine diet, like the one they’d eat in the wild.” Without a marine-rich diet, most fish won’t produce DHA.

Dr. Sears uncovered that sometime during the 1990s, fish farmers stopped giving their animals a natural, DHA-rich diet and began feeding them a diet that was 70% vegetarian.

“It became too expensive for farmers to feed fish what they’d eat in the wild,” explains Dr. Sears. “And since more than 80% of fish oil comes from farms, it’s no wonder the country is experiencing a memory crisis. Most people’s brains are shrinking and they don’t even know it.”

When fish eat a vegetarian diet, they produce ALA. And according to Dr. Sears, this can harm the brain, and many doctors agree.

“Since fish farmers are depriving these animals of their natural diet, ALA levels in fish oil are going up, while DHA levels are being cut in half. It’s no wonder people’s brains are shrinking,” explains Dr. Sears.

When asked, what can people do to improve their memory and brain function in the most effective way possible? Dr. Sears replied, “Find a quality DHA that doesn’t come from a farmed source. Only this will help improve memory by growing the brain significantly bigger.”

Dr. Sears and his team have been working tirelessly for the last 24-months developing a unique brain-boosting formula called Omega Rejuvenol. It’s made from the most powerful source of DHA in the ocean, squid and krill — two species that cannot be farmed.

According to Dr. Sears, these are the purest and most potent sources of DHA in the world, because they haven’t been tampered with. “Omega Rejuvenol is sourced from the most sustainable fishery in Antarctica. You won’t find this oil in any stores.”

MORE IMPRESSIVE RESULTS

Already, the formula has sold more than 27,000 bottles. And for a good reason, too. Satisfied customers can’t stop raving about the memory-boosting benefits of quality-sourced DHA oil.

“I see a noticeable increase in my brain function. I’m experiencing a noticeable increase in my concentration level and productivity throughout the day,” says satisfied customer, Timothy B.

“It’s great to remember everyone who played in the ‘75 World Series. My memory has never been sharper,” says Mike T.

“After the first time I took it, I experienced mental clarity and focus. I noticed my mental function improve and I could concentrate better and be more productive throughout the day,” raves John F.

And 70-year-old Mark K. says, “My focus and memory are back to age-30 levels.”

These are just a handful of the thousands of reviews Dr. Sears receives on a regular basis thanks to his breakthrough memory formula, Omega Rejuvenol.
