Sheriff lifts all evacuation advisories and warnings

Effective Wednesday afternoon, Butte County Sheriff Kory L. Honea has lifted all evacuation warnings and advisories for Butte County residents previously affected by the February 12th Oroville Dam spillway emergency evacuations.

"These past six weeks have been a very difficult and unsettling time for many individuals and families affected by the danger posed by fast-moving erosion to the emergency spillway," said Sheriff Honea. "I couldn't be more proud of this community and the countless unsung heroes who helped

Gridley Methodist Church hosts Scouts

On March 19th, the Gridley United Methodist Church held its annual Scout Sunday. Members, leaders, and family of troops 24, 42, and 48, and Cub Pack 24 attended the annual Scout Sunday service. During the service the theme presented by Pastor Karl Coulter was based on how scouting is related to life, both religious and civic. How the lesson they learn now will lead them to be better people and leaders in the future.

LOOKINGBACK

BY SETI LONG

The following are stories that appeared in the Gridley Herald 25, 50, 75, 100 and 125 years ago:

25 Years Ago (1992)

“Farmer protests fail to block proposal to develop Live Oak tract.”

Despite the protest of neighboring farmers and a recommendation from City Planner Richard King that the project be denied, Har-sev S. Thiara’s proposal to develop a large tract east of Live Oak for single family homes remained alive following a City Council hearing Wednesday night. The City Council voted 3-2 to continue the hearing to its meeting on May 20th, so issues raised by Caltrans and the State Department of Fish and Game can be prepared. The land is located north of Pennington Road and east and west of Meteer Road. Mayor Wada King said that she was concerned that the Thiara’s would build their project in the county if the city was not willing to annex the land. This would result in the city losing tax money and other benefits that could be derived from the project being developed inside city limits. Fish and Game is asking for a 100-foot buffer on each side of the Live Oak Slough, a natural drain that runs through the property in question and to preserve a wildlife habitat. Owners of the adjacent agricultural land objected to the proposed residential development, claiming the future homes would hinder their ability to farm their land. All involved are hoping that a decision be made one way or the other this coming May.

50 Years Ago (1967)

“State Department urge Wild River status for Middle Fork of Feather.”

Three state departments in the Resources Agency recommended that the Middle Fork Feather River be set aside as a wild river and be included in a Federal system of wild rivers. The departments of Parks and Recreation, Water Resources, and Fish and Game made the recommendations in a report to the California Assembly. The report defines a wild river as,

“a stream which will be of the greatest value to the public if left flowing in its natural course without substantial influence by human activity.” Such a stream is worthy of consideration for preservation because of its outstanding scenic, recreational, or other unique qualities. The report also points out that the development of the Middle Feather for irrigation and hydroelectric power, which is now being considered, would preclude the river from ever being designated a wild river.

75 Years Ago (1942)

“Control of Fire Bombs Brings Crowd to park.”

Several hundred people attended the demonstration on control of incendiary bombs conducted at the Gridley baseball park, by Ralph Young of the state forestry division. Young was assisted by Ranger Howell of Chico. Several types of bombs were ignited and control exemplified by the two rangers. The demonstrations stressed the importance of each household having a bucket of sand close by, as the ineffectiveness of water to quench the blazes was demonstrated. All local fire wardens attended the demonstrations and gave on lookers tips about safety during this time of war.

100 Years Ago (1917)

“Historic Relic is brought to Oroville.”

A relic of great historical importance is making its way to Oroville. The relic, secured by Mr. E.W. Ehmann, is that of the name plate of the famous St. Louis Hotel in New Orleans, where in ante-bellum days, the greatest slave market was located. It was standing at this market that Abraham Lincoln is reported to have said “By the Eternal God, if ever I get a chance to hit that thing (slavery) a blow, I will hit it hard.” The name plate of the hotel now hangs in the office of the Ehmann Olive Company.

Live Oak FFA making great strides

Live Oak FFA had a strong past week with Regional Speaking finalists, State Degree recipients, a Star Award, a Scholarship Winner, and the election of a Superior Region Officer. The week started off with three of their members qualifying for the Regional Leadership Speaking Contests with Abigail Davis and Orrin Jones participating in the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest, and Asgar Khan participating in the Prepared Speaking Contest. Asgar placed 5th barely missing a trip to the state finals, but Abigail Davis placed 3rd which qualified her for the State Finals. their neighbors and cared for those who needed it most."

"I feel satisfied with the progress made in reinforcing the primary spillway, emergency spillway and returning the Hyatt Powerhouse to an operational state, as well as the successful efforts by the California Department of Water Resources to lower the lake level enough to buffer for future storms," said Honea. In the coming few months, work will continue to manage the spring runoff inflows to the reservoir.

Additional work continues on the primary spillway, the area below the emergency spillway, access roads, and other areas eroded by the emergency spillway runoff. Rock benches and check dams are being constructed to slow water and minimize erosion should the emergency spillway ever need to be used again. Sheriff Honea urges all residents to ensure they have an emergency plan and supplies ready for any and all emergencies that may come up throughout the spring season. An evacuation plan has been developed, and may be accessed by visiting www.buttecounty.net/OEM.

As a reminder, this is the spring runoff season. Water levels and flood concerns can change in the region's waterways.

OBITUARY Nancy Louise Damon

Nancy Louise (Fry) Damon, a longtime resident of Granite Bay, passed away peacefully in her sleep on the morning of March 14, 2017 at the age of 80.

Born in Yuba City, California, on May 25, 1936, her family moved eight times while she was in elementary school and eventually settled in Oroville, California. There she met her future husband, Gary G Damon, where they were "sweethearts" since high school. She graduated from Oroville Union High School in 1953 and studied at California State University, Chico ('53 - '56) to become a teacher. She and Gary were married on April 14, 1957 (Palm Sunday) so that they could take advantage of Easter break for a honeymoon. She worked as a teacher's aide and substitute teacher for over 20 years, ultimately going back to school to receive her BA and permanent teaching certificate in the late 1980's.

She is survived by her son, Tony Damon and wife Beth Fisher, of Lafayette, California; daughter, Lori (Damon) Everett and husband Chuck Everett, of North Highlands; sister, Carolyn Wolfe, of Puyallup, Washington; brother, Bob Fry, of Antelope, California. She is the grandmother ("Nana") to Joel Everett, Zoe Damon, and Derek Damon. Loving aunt, grand-aunt, and great-aunt to many nieces and nephews and their children.

She was proceeded in death by her first child, Melinda Gayle Damon (childbirth), father Edwin Allen Fry, and mother Dorothy Bond Fry and husband Gary.

She loved to be involved and volunteer her time, whether it was at her kid's school, church, or driving cancer patients to their appointments. She always had a fun craft or game planned for the kids at family events. She cooked countless delicious meals for her family and her cioppino parties were not to be missed. She and Gary were Kings and 49ers season ticket holders and they rode the Sacramento 49ers booster's bus with several other close friends for many years. She was an accomplished piano player and loved to sing in her church choir. More than anything she was a devoted and loving daughter, sister, mother, wife, aunt, grandmother, and trusted friend to many people. She will be greatly missed by all.

A private family burial will be held. Friends and family are invited to a celebration of life at Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, 6365 Douglas Boulevard, Granite Bay, California, on Sunday June 25 at 3p.m.

CDFW seeks artists to enter Annual California Duck Stamp Art Contest

Artists are invited to submit their original artwork to the 2017-2018 California Duck Stamp Art Contest. The California Department of Fish and Wildlife (CDFW) will accept submissions May 12 through June 12.

The contest is open to U.S. residents who are 18 years of age or older as of March 7, 2017. Entrants need not reside in California.

The winning artwork will be reproduced on the 2017-2018 California Duck Stamp. The top submissions will also be showcased at the Pacific Flyway Decoy Association's art show in July.

The artwork must depict the species selected by the California Fish and Game Commission, which for the 2017-2018 hunting season is the ruddy duck.

The design is to be in full color and in the medium (or combination of mediums) of the artist's choosing, except that no photographic process, digital art, metallic paints or fluorescent paints may be used in the finished design. Photographs, computer-generated art, art produced from a computer printer or other computer/mechanical output device (air brush method excepted) are not eligible and will be disqualified. The design must be the contestant's original hand-drawn creation. The entry design may not be copied or duplicated from previously published art, including photographs, or from images in any format published on the Internet.

All entries must be accompanied by a completed participation agreement and entry form. These forms and the official rules are available online at www.wildlife.ca.gov/duck-stamp/contest.

Entries will be judged at a public event to be held in June. The judges' panel, which will consist of experts in the fields of ornithology, conservation, and art and printing, will choose first, second and third-place winners, and an honorable mention.

Since 1971, CDFW's annual contest has attracted top wildlife artists from around the country. All proceeds generated from stamp sales go directly to waterfowl conservation projects throughout California. In past years, hunters were required to purchase and affix the stamp to their hunting license. Now California has moved to an automated licensing system and hunters are no longer required to carry the physical stamps in the field (proof of purchase prints directly onto the license). However, CDFW will still produce the stamps, which can be requested by interested individuals at www.wildlife.ca.gov/licensing/collector-stamps.

Former State Parks Sergeant charged in October 2016 pursuit

A criminal complaint was filed in Butte County Superior Court Wednesday against a former California State Parks Sergeant for a bizarre driving incident in which he was accused of fleeing from Oroville Police while driving his state patrol vehicle.

Butte County District Attorney Mike Ramsey announced his office charged Daniel Kenney, 43, of Chico, with one felony count of evading a police officer while driving recklessly and misdemeanor counts of possession of a controlled substance without a prescription and hit and run.

Ramsey said on the afternoon of October 27, 2016 the Oroville Police were called to the scene of a single car accident at the intersection of Oro Dam Boulevard and Oro Quincy Highway. When Oroville officers arrived they found then Sgt. Kenney unconscious in the driver's seat of his State Parks' patrol vehicle. The patrol vehicle had struck an unoccupied parked car and a power pole.

Kenney then regained consciousness and drove away from the scene of the collision. Oroville officers pursued Kenney down Oro Dam Boulevard. During the pursuit, Kenney's vehicle had its emergency lights on and would slow at intersections but then accelerate to speeds in excess of 60 mph in areas rated at 35 mph.

At the intersection of Veatch Street and Oro Dam Boulevard, Kenney's vehicle was forced to stop by intervening traffic and Oroville PD officers were able to surround and safely detain Kenney. He was taken into custody by officers of the California Highway Patrol but was released after a drug evaluation by one of its officers determined Kenney was not then under the influence of drugs or alcohol. Kenney was then taken to a local hospital to be medically checked.

However, Ramsey said, a further extensive investigation by the California Highway Patrol revealed Kenney, then a State Parks canine officer, was using extensive amounts of a pain medication, Tramadol, which had been prescribed for his state dog. One of the side effects of Tramadol abuse can be seizures.

District Attorney Mike Ramsey said "it was extremely disappointing to see a peace officer violate his oath to protect the public and engage in conduct which put the public at risk. It was very fortunate no one was harmed during this pursuit." Ramsey noted Kenney resigned from State Parks earlier this month.

Kenney will be arraigned in the Butte County Superior Court on April 5, 2017. He faces up to three years in prison on the felony evading count plus restitution for the damages caused in the collision.

Rubino accused of sexual harassment

A March 21, 2017 article in the East Bay Times addresses the dismissal of former Gridley Unified School District Superintendent Rick Rubino.

Rubino left the district after four years last July to take a Superintendent's position in Pleasanton and was dismissed in January "without cause."

On March 21, 2017 the Pleasanton newspaper reported a sexual harassment claim had been filed by an employee of the Pleasanton Unified School District on December 16, 2016 and Rubino was placed on administrative leave December 19, 2016.

Rubino was provided with a severance package of $256,000 per his contract with the district.

Rubino told the newspaper that the charges were determined to be without merit according to third party investigators.

Pastor Karl related his scouting experiences as a youth to how scouting still accomplishes those goals today. At the end of the service Pastor Karl presented the newest Tenderfoot, with the Pastor's Tenderfoot badge. Then Pastor called up the newest Eagle Scout, and presented him with the Pastor's badge. He told them this was to show the passing of ideals of scouting being passed from one generation to another.

After the service the Scouts were treated to a camping style hot dog lunch with all the fixings including a scouting cake. The Methodist church has been doing this service for several years which was started by Susan Bartlett who has been associated with scouting for many years. She felt it was a good way to honor this group of people that help in our community and build good citizens. We are already looking forward to next year.

CAL FIRE/ Gridley Fire Department would like to remind everyone of the importance of smoke detectors in the home. With the recent time change, it's a great time to change the batteries or replace that old detector. Smoke alarms save lives. If there is a fire in your home, smoke spreads fast and you need smoke alarms to give you time to get out. Having a working smoke alarm cuts the chances of dying in a reported fire in half. Almost two-thirds of home fire deaths resulted from fires in homes with no smoke alarms or no working smoke alarms. Working smoke alarms increase the chance of surviving a home fire by 50 percent.

Here's what Sparky wants you to know!

Install smoke alarms in every bedroom, outside each sleeping area or hallway and on every level of your home. They should be mounted on the ceiling 4 inches from the wall away from windows and vents.

Test your smoke alarms every month.

When a smoke alarm sounds, get outside and stay outside. Meet at your families designated area

Replace all smoke alarms in your home every 10 years.

Never paint over a detector and keep unit clean.

Replace batteries yearly. If your detector chirps, it's time for new batteries.

6 easy spring cleaning projects

Warmer days are here and what better way to spend them than ... cleaning? Although enjoying the great outdoors is probably high on many a to-do list come spring, by the end of winter, homes can probably do with a much-needed overhaul. Owners and renters can rely on temperate days to throw open the windows and engage in some easy spring-cleaning projects. The earlier one begins spring cleaning, the more quickly he or she will be able to head outside and bask in the warm spring sun.

Spring cleaning tasks can be stretched out across several days to make the jobs more manageable. While certain spring cleaning tasks can be time-consuming, many projects can be started and completed in 30 minutes or less.

1. Look up

Start by looking up at ceilings, molding and ceiling fans. Chances are strong that some cobwebs and dust have formed in these areas. Always begin cleaning by working from the top downward so you don't have to clean any tables, countertops or floors twice. Static-charged dusting cloths work well to catch and contain dust. Use a pillowcase on ceiling fan blades to clear the dust and keep it from cascading to the floor.

2. Blinds and curtains

Heavy window treatments can be removed and replaced with more gauzy fabrics. This lets in more light and warmth from the sun. Many curtains can be freshened up right in the laundry, but blinds may require a bit more effort. If the blinds can be snapped out of the brackets, place them in a tub full of vinegar, dish soap and water. Allow them to soak and then rinse with the shower nozzle. Stationary blinds can be cleaned with using an old sock over your hand dipped in a vinegar-and-water solution.

3. Change linens

Remove and launder bed linens. While the linens are in the wash, thoroughly dust all furniture and vacuum the carpets. Move furniture so you can reach areas where dust gathers, such as under the bed or dresser.

4. Grout cleaner

Grade school science lessons can be put to use as you look to remove stubborn dirt. Combining baking soda and vinegar produces a reaction that causes the formation of gassy bubbles. These bubbles can help to break up dirt that clings to crevices, such as grout between tiles. Some light scrubbing and then subsequent rinsing can rid surfaces of hard-to-remove dirt.

5. Vacuum vent intakes

Many houses are heated by forced-air systems. The air intake vents can become clogged with dust and other debris. Vacuum these vents so that air flow is not impeded. Let the heat run for a few minutes to catch any small particles that become dislodged, and then change the furnace filter.

6. Clean out the refrigerator

Now is a great time to remove any of those mystery containers growing fuzzy experiments in the back of the refrigerator. Take the food out of the refrigerator and use a food-safe cleaner to scour the shelves and inside of crisper drawers.

Spring cleaning is a necessary task, but it doesn't have to be a headache. Break up the work into manageable chunks of time, and projects won't feel like such a hassle.

Gridley Thumbs and Roots

By Barbara Ott

I hope we have light April showers as well as light end of March showers. That way I can recite the adages...April showers bring May flowers. I'm sure it is windy at this time so I can recite, March in like a lamb and out like a lion. I love these sayings. I am a walking verbal cliché. I love to use a variety of little sayings. I literally recite, An apple a day keeps the doctor away, when I eat apples. I love to say, busy as a bee and knock on wood. Most of the time I say these things to myself...because higher education tried to beat the cliché out of me, when I talk and write. So it is an act of rebellion that I relish these folk sayings and adages. It is raining on this day of writing so I hum, It's raining, it's pouring...it rarely pours in Gridley...it did the beginning of February. I felt I was back in Berry Creek it rained so hard. This is a sweet, soft make-the-air-sweet and dampen the street sorta rain. May the wonder of the world be yours.

The 10 warning signs of Alzheimer's disease

Few families are fortunate enough to say they have not been impacted by Alzheimer's disease. A progressive, degenerative disease of the brain, Alzheimer's impairs thinking and memory, accounting for 50 to 80 percent of dementia cases according to the Alzheimer's Association.

Though many people's experiences with Alzheimer's disease involves an elderly relative, the disease is not exclusive to the elderly. Up to 5 percent of people with the disease have early-onset Alzheimer's, which most often appears when someone is in their 40s and 50s.

In 2011, 59-year-old Pat Summitt, the all-time winningest coach in NCAA basketball history and a beloved figure on the campus of the University of Tennessee, revealed that she had been diagnosed with early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type. That announcement opened the eyes of men and women across the country, who might otherwise never have known that dementia could strike so early or to someone who seemed as healthy as Summitt, who vowed to continue coaching despite the diagnosis. Because it can strike men and women even if they aren't elderly, it's important to know these 10 warning signs of Alzheimer's, courtesy of the Alzheimer's Association and the Alzheimer Society of Canada.

1. Memory loss that disrupts daily life.

Memory loss is one of the most common signs of Alzheimer's. This is especially so if men and women forget things that happened very recently, which can negatively impact their daily lives. Additional signs include forgetting important dates and events; asking for the same information over and over again; or relying on memory aides such as reminder notes or even family members for things individuals could once remember on their own.

2. Difficulty planning.

Some people might start to exhibit difficulty following a plan or working with numbers, be it following a recipe or paying the monthly bills. Concentration is often difficult for those exhibiting symptoms of Alzheimer's.

3. Difficulty completing familiar tasks.

Daily tasks such as driving to work or remembering the rules of a familiar game will prove difficult for people with Alzheimer's.

4. Disorientation with regards to time and/or place.

Nearly everyone has had momentary lapses where they forget what time it is or what day it is. But such lapses are not momentary for people with Alzheimer's, who might even get lost on their own street and not remember how to get home.

5. Trouble understanding images and spatial relationships.

Some people with Alzheimer's have difficulty reading, judging distance or determining color or contrast. For example, a person with Alzheimer's might walk past a mirror and not realize he or she is the person in the mirror.

6. New problems with words in speaking or writing.

People with Alzheimer's might experience trouble holding or joining a conversation. An example is stopping in the middle of a conversation and having no idea how to continue. They might also struggle with vocabulary, often having trouble finding the right word to express what they're thinking.

7. Misplacing things.

People with Alzheimer's might put things in unusual places and then experience difficulty retracing their steps to find those items. This tends to occur more frequently over time, and they often accuse others of stealing items they simply can't find.

8. Decreased or poor judgement.

Poor judgement, such as not visiting the doctor or mishandling finances, is another warning sign for Alzheimer's. These poor decisions can extend to personal grooming, which men and women with Alzheimer's might Fearfulness or feelings of anxiety are changes in mood and personality that could indicate Alzheimer's disease.

9. Withdrawal from society.

Men and women with Alzheimer's might start to withdraw from society, removing themselves from social activities, projects at work or hobbies. Avid sports fans might no longer be able to follow their favorite team, while social butterflies might grow reclusive.

10. Changes in mood and personality.

People with Alzheimer's might experience mood swings for no apparent reason and can become anxious, confused, depressed, fearful, or suspicious. Acting out of character might also be indicative of Alzheimer's.
