Merry Christmas

Wells Fargo Donates $75K for Women to Find Work

By Kristin Thébaud, Thébaud Communications

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Women's Empowerment has received $75,000 from Wells Fargo to provide workforce development skills, paid job training, job search assistance and housing support during the pandemic for women who are currently homeless or have recently experienced homelessness. Wells Fargo has been one of Women's Empowerment's longest funders, giving $442,450 since 2008.

"This profoundly generous gift from Wells Fargo will have a powerful effect on our community as we all work together to weather the storms of the pandemic, high unemployment and continued housing crisis," said Lisa Culp, executive director, Women's Empowerment. "We are grateful to Wells Fargo for its longtime leadership in our community and for recognizing the essential role of nonprofits like ours in addressing this triple threat that has the most devastating impact on women and children without homes."

Women's Empowerment's programs combine employment readiness, self-esteem courses, health services and education, counseling, housing assistance, job placement and paid job training to help women overcome homelessness across diverse ages, races and cultures. Women's Empowerment was featured on NBC's The TODAY Show in 2015 for offering the most comprehensive job-readiness program in the Sacramento area designed specifically for women who are homeless and their children.

"Women's Empowerment does more than provide women with the support, tools and resources needed to obtain a job and become self-sufficient," said Karen Woodruff, Wells Fargo vice president of social impact and sustainability in Northern California. "It also – and perhaps most importantly – helps its clients open their eyes to see their strength, worth and potential, and that's invaluable! We are honored to continue to support Women's Empowerment and the work it does to lift women in their time of need."

The award-winning organization has graduated 1,691 women and their 3,792 children. Last year, 70 percent of graduates found homes in the midst of the housing crisis, and 79 percent secured jobs or enrolled in school or training. Women's Empowerment is funded through private donations from the community and grants. To donate: WomensEmpowerment.org. ★

A Deck with a View

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Thirty feet above the shoreline near Nimbus Dam, a new lookout allows stunning observation of one of the American River's most bio-diverse hotspots.

Completed just in time for the 2020 salmon run, the cantilevered deck is an amenity offered by the Department of Fish and Wildlife. Construction was undertaken by Orangevale-based Swierstok Enterprises.

The structure is designed to accommodate nature lovers and school-room-sized groups on educational visits. Rails are safety features; the amenity is ADA compliant and will soon also offer bench seats and educational panel displays.

"This is something we've wanted at the hatchery for years," enthuses interpretative specialist Jason Fareira. "At last, we have a bird's-eye view of these shallows, so students can really see what goes on with salmon and other wildlife. We also hope that fewer people will want to climb down banks now; we're always concerned for their safety, and for bank erosion and dirt being dislodged to damage fish eggs." The deck overlooks active Chinook nesting areas in shallows where salmon – some close to four feet in length – use end-of-life energy to leap and "walk" over riffles with bodies above water. After spawning, females hover to guard deposited eggs.

Other adults continue their mission to find mates, by climbing the hatchery's fish ladder. At its apex, salmon and steelhead are relieved of eggs and milt so fertilization is achieved artificially. The hatchery assures migratory fish survival, in mitigation for river alterations caused by Nimbus and Folsom dams. Fry begin lifecycles – heading downstream for the Pacific Ocean – in

A Deck with a View Supervisors Select Acting County Executive

From the new lookout, viewers can also observe a multitude of wildlife that follows fish upstream. Turkey vultures, bald eagles and gulls make meals of decaying salmon carcasses. Ducks and wading birds dive for salmon eggs. Otter, coyote, bobcats – even the occasional sea lion from the delta – join the winter rush to gorge at the river’s buffet.

The new viewing deck is located opposite Sailor Bar in Gold River. It may be accessed from the Hatchery entrance at 2001 Nimbus Road (off Gold Country Boulevard),

California May be Losing its Business Mojo

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

The timing could not have been more ironic.

As veteran Democratic operative Dee Dee Myers – she was Bill Clinton’s press secretary at one point in her lengthy career – became Gov. Gavin Newsom’s new ambassador to business this month, three of California’s biggest and best-known corporate entities announced moves to arch-rival Texas.

The splashiest émigré is Elon Musk, founder of the Tesla electric car company and other high-technology firms, who had already chosen Texas for expansions of his automobile and space businesses.

Musk revealed his personal move at a business conference and compared California to a sports team with a long winning streak, saying, “they do tend to get a little complacent, a little entitled, and then they don’t win the championship anymore.” California, he said, “has been winning for a long time. And I think they’re taking them for granted a little bit.”

Very quickly, two other stalwarts of the San Francisco Bay Area’s high-tech community also announced departures to Texas, Hewlett-Packard Enterprise Co. and software giant Oracle.

Hewlett Packard Enterprise is building a “state-of-the-art” campus near Houston for 2,600 workers and said, “HPE’s largest U.S. employment hub, Houston, is an attractive market to recruit and retain future diverse talent.”

Oracle, which is moving its headquarters to Austin, said, “We believe these moves best position Oracle for growth and provide our personnel with more flexibility about where and how they work.”

The three announcements – and Musk’s comments especially – renew a question that has hovered over California for several years: Do the state’s high taxes, high operating and living costs and a political drift to the left make it hostile to business? And, parenthetically, does Texas, which has no personal income tax and is a reliably conservative, pro-business state, benefit from that perceived hostility?

“Anyone who doesn’t believe that this latest departure isn’t a threat to California’s economy is a business climate denier,” Jim Wunderman, president and CEO of the Bay Area Council, said in a statement. “We are watching the unraveling on one of the world’s mightiest economies and the consequences will be devastating. California for too long has willfully ignored our awful business climate, even as we’ve enjoyed incredible success and prosperity.”

Wunderman added, “We can’t afford to dither any longer or California will permanently lose hundreds of thousands if not millions of jobs to states like Texas that place value on business and investment.” Clearly the COVID-19 pandemic has had an effect on corporate attitudes. Many employers are now embracing work-at-home arrangements that make physical location less important and the Bay Area has been seeing an outward migration to communities, such as Sacramento, with less congestion and lower housing costs as a result. In that sense, moving headquarters staff to low-cost Texas buys more bang for the buck and makes perfect sense.

But there are other recent developments that may have a cumulative effect. They include state legislators’ calls for higher personal and corporate taxes, political efforts to help unions organize workers in the high-tech sector, legislation to dictate corporate board memberships, and direct slaps such as San Francisco’s new tax on corporations whose chief executives are paid over 100 times more than their rank-and-file workers.

We may have reached a tipping point in which the disadvantages of doing business in California outweigh the advantages. We should remember what happened to Detroit, which was the Silicon Valley of its day a century ago, but took its prosperity for granted and paid a heavy financial and social price for its complacency.

Good luck, Dee Dee. You’ll need it.

Walmart Issues $45.5 Million in Quarterly and Special Cash Bonuses

By Kimberly Ericksen,
Elevate Public Affairs

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -Walmart announced an additional $700 million in cash bonuses to its U.S.-based associates bringing its total 2020 quarterly and special cash bonuses for its U.S.-based associates to more than $2.8 billion.

The company’s latest bonus announcement includes $22,500,000 in quarterly bonuses paid to California associates in their Nov. 25 paychecks following strong third-quarter business performance and an estimated $23,000,000 in special cash bonuses to be paid to California associates on Dec. 24 in recognition of associates’ sustained commitment to customers during the pandemic. Full and part-time associates are eligible for both bonuses.

“As we come to a close on this historic year, I’m filled with gratitude for how our associates have led through one of the most trying periods for our company and country,” said John Furner, President and CEO – Walmart U.S. “Our associates have stepped up to serve our customers, communities and each other when it was truly needed most, and we’re pleased to recognize their efforts with a quarterly bonus for strong store performance and a fourth special cash bonus.”

Approximately 1.5 million full- and part-time Walmart and Sam’s Club associates working in the company’s stores, clubs, distribution centers and fulfillment centers will receive the special cash bonus on Dec. 24. It will be Walmart’s fourth special cash bonus paid to U.S. associates since the start of the pandemic.

“This has been an extraordinary year and we’re so proud of how our associates have continued to make a meaningful difference in our communities,” said Kath McLay, President and CEO – Sam’s Club. “Today’s bonus reflects our appreciation for our associates, who show up to work each day to serve and provide relief for millions of members across the country.”

All U.S.-based hourly associates are eligible for the latest special cash bonus. The bonus amounts will be similar to the previous three special cash bonuses Walmart has provided its associates during the pandemic; part-time and temporary hourly associates will receive $150 and full-time hourly associates will receive $300. More than 60% of Walmart’s hourly associates are full-time. Drivers, Managers and Assistant Managers will also receive a special cash bonus.

Extension of Walmart’s COVID-19 Leave Policy

Earlier this year, Walmart announced a first-of-its-kind COVID-19 Emergency Leave policy for part-time and full-time associates, which provides associates with up to two weeks of pay should they need to stay home for COVID-related reasons, including mandated quarantines, symptoms or illness. If they’re not able to return to work after that time, additional pay replacement may be provided for up to 26 weeks. Absences associated with an approved COVID-19 leave will not be counted against associates. Given the ongoing pandemic, the company is extending the leave policy through July 5, 2021. ★

Seasonal Affective Disorder

By Evelyn Hill,
The Jason Foundation

HENDERSONVILLE, TN (MPG) - Seasonal affective disorder (SAD) is characterized as a type of depression that is related to changes in seasons, typically tied to the start of fall and persisting into the winter months. We know that depressive disorders don’t take holidays and this time of year can be stressful. For individuals who suffer from or are at risk for depression, though, the impact of holiday stresses and pressures can be much more severe than the momentary frustrations that almost everyone experiences. Typical symptoms of SAD, sometimes referred to as winter depression, may include the following (Mayo Clinic): Feeling depressed most of the day, nearly every day; A lack of energy; Losing interest in activities you once enjoyed; Feeling sluggish or agitated; Oversleeping or having problems with sleeping; Social withdrawal; Feeling hopeless, worthless or guilty; Substance abuse.

Recently, more people are willing to engage in more meaningful conversations regarding mental health, but that has not always been the case. Many of the same symptoms listed above are commonly associated with warning signs of suicidal thoughts or behavior, the second leading cause of death for ages 10 – 24 in California. The Jason Foundation, a nationally recognized leader in youth suicide awareness and prevention, has developed a program designed to help reduce the stigma surrounding mental health issues and suicide. #IWONTBESILENT is an awareness campaign to raise the conversation on suicide prevention and mental illness, allowing open conversation regarding these serious subjects. Visit www.iwontbesilent.com to learn how you can become involved and make a difference within your community. Creating an environment where people of all ages feel comfortable to talk about their struggles is an important step in preventing unnecessary tragedies.

Contrary to a prevalent myth, suicide rates do not peak during the holiday season. However, depressed individuals are hardly immune from either depressive episodes or suicidal ideation during this time. If you or someone you love is struggling with depression and/or thinking about suicide, get help now. The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, 1-800-273-TALK (8255), is a free resource that is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, for anyone who is in suicidal crisis or emotional distress. ★

Ask Toni

Has the Hospital-Inpatient Medicare Rule Affected Medicare Advantage Plans?

Toni King

Toni: Last week you wrote about how the MOON (Medicare Outpatient Observation Notice) rule affects “Original Medicare”. My husband has enrolled in a Medicare Advantage HMO and I am wondering how this rule will affect his hospital stay.

~ Thank you, Maria from Cleveland, OH Maria:

The MOON rule only affects those who are enrolled in “Original Medicare” with or without a Medicare Supplement. The rule does not affect those enrolled in a Medicare Advantage plan.

A Medicare Advantage HMO plan has its own process on inpatient and outpatient surgery or hospital stay with a referral only system. With a Medicare Advantage PPO plan, there is not a referral process, but the facility or provider must be willing to bill the Medicare Advantage plan.

The Medicare and You Handbook explains what is a Medicare Advantage plan or what a Medicare Supplement/Medigap “Original/ Traditional Medicare” is? The Medicare and You Handbook does not compare the differences between the plans as listed below:

Medicare Supplement:

1. A Medicare Supplement/Medigap Plan works directly with Original/Traditional Medicare. Medicare will pay its share of the Medicare-approved amount for “medically necessary” covered healthcare costs. Then, your Medicare Supplement/Medigap will pay its share.
2. You chose which doctor, hospital, home health agency, skilled nursing facility, etc. that accepts Medicare assignment. You and your healthcare provider are in control of your healthcare.
3. With a Medicare Supplement/Medigap, you have a monthly premium that may increase the premium rate each year.

4. You may enroll in and will pay separately for a “Stand alone” Medicare (Part D) Prescription drug plan. If you don’t enroll in a Part D prescription drug plan at the right time, be aware that there is a Part D penalty assessed when you do finally enroll and that penalty will last as long as you are enrolled in a Medicare Part D prescription drug plan.

Medicare Advantage Plan:

- a. To qualify for the plan:
  - i. You must be enrolled in both Medicare Parts A & B
  - ii. Live in the service area 6 months out of a year
- b. When you choose a Medicare Advantage Plan, then Medicare pays the insurance company a certain amount every month for your care if you are on the plan. Your Part B must always be in effect.
- c. When you go to the doctor or visit your pharmacist, you must only use your Medicare Advantage insurance card, not your Medicare (red, white, and blue) card.
- d. A Medicare Advantage Plan must provide all your Part A and Part B benefits and some Medicare Advantage Plans have Part D prescription drug plans included.
- e. With a Medicare Advantage plan, you may have different co-pays, co-insurances, or deductibles to pay and have maximum out of pocket expenses to meet.
- f. Some Healthcare facilities like MD Anderson accept few Medicare Advantage plans.

Talk to your provider or facility and make sure they accept the Medicare Advantage plan you want to enroll in.

Playstation 5's Messy Launch

By Noah Howard

In the nightmare of isolation that has defined 2020, video games have become a source of comfort and escape for many trapped at home with little in the way of hobbies or pastimes. As such, the launch of the Playstation 5 game console, Sony's follow up to the massively successful Playstation 4 (released in 2013), was one of the most hotly anticipated pop-culture events of the year. And unfortunately, its launch became another derailed car in the train wreck of 2020.

The problems started with pre-orders. Serious miscommunications resulted in retailers opening their orders before the official date and time. These problems continued through launch day, with every batch of Playstation 5 consoles vanishing within a minute, largely due to automated programs (called "bots") buying them faster than humans could ever click. Playstation 5's are now so rare that videos taken at the Arden Fair Mall on Black Friday show shoppers sprinting towards GameStop for a chance to buy one of only two in-stock consoles...at full price.

When looking back, the bot problem is sure to define the Playstation 5's launch. With Sony struggling to provide sufficient supply in the midst of the pandemic, they have been unable to meet the massive demand for what has become the hottest tech product of the 2020 holiday season. Also due to the pandemic, sales have been mostly online. While only real human beings can line up outside a Target or a Best Buy to secure their console of choice, the online-only sales model has made real human beings the miniature poodles in a race dominated by automated greyhounds. The owners of the bots (some of which have stockpiles of dozens of consoles) now resell them at hundreds if not thousands of dollars above their original price.

It goes without saying that this practice of "scalping" (buying a limited-supply product only to resell it for profit) is morally repulsive. Millions of people were looking forward to the Playstation 5 as one fun thing to brighten their year, or as a special treat for their kids on what might otherwise be a lonely Christmas. Scalpers take advantage of their desperation for one thing that brings them joy to cheat them out of their money during a major economic downturn.

But, bafflingly, the scalping problem could have been easily avoided. Playstation started their pre-order process by offering the opportunity to buy a single console to longtime Playstation fans, but the criteria for who was selected to buy a console were unclear. After a few initial days of site crashes, the official Playstation website became bot-proofed through Captcha checks and a queue to access the site. Questions remain about why this wasn't done on day one. Other retailers, however, have still failed to put up any precautions, and sites like Walmart and GameStop were happy to simply crash over and over again while thousands of users frustratingly tried to buy a console at the same time.

The end result is a player base that is disenchanted with Sony, a company that has always billed itself as caring deeply about the consumers of its Playstation brand. Some have given up consoles entirely, fed up with Sony's seeming ambivalence towards the problem. Others have been baffled by Sony's lack of transparency: a simple "we're doing our best to meet demand, but it's a pandemic and we're struggling" would have restored a lot of good will. But the bottom line is that Sony mangled its new console launch, a frustrating legacy that will likely stick to the Playstation 5, and to the Playstation brand, for years to come. ★

CLG NEWS UPDATES

Forensic audit finds that security log files were deleted from all Dominion machines to hide vote-switching | 15 Dec 2020 | After election officials identified "glitches" that switched 6,000 Trump votes to Biden, the courts in Antrim County Michigan ordered an audit of Dominion voting machines. The forensic audit was carried out by the Allied Security Operations Group (ASOG). This group conducted a forensic duplication on the county's election management server. They investigated compact flash cards used by local precincts in their Dominion ImageCast system, and they audited the memory sticks used by Dominion Voter Assist Terminals and the memory sticks used for the poll book. This forensic audit found blatant evidence of a coordinated attack on the 2020 Presidential election. The Federal Election Commission allows an error rate of .0008 percent for all voting machines used in US elections. The Dominion machines in Antrim county had an error rate of 68.05 percent! Even more shocking: The ballot-adjudication logs and the security logs for the November 3 general election were removed. All log files for previous elections were still contained on the machines, but someone on the inside was able to erase the all-important log files for the 2020 election.

Mitch McConnell received donations from Dominion Voting Systems and shut down two election integrity bills in 2020 | 18 Dec 2020 | The Senate Majority Leader, Mitch McConnell (R-KY) (who Trump should have jettisoned day one along w. Paul Ryan), is urging Senate Republicans to accept the Biden electors without objection when they are presented to Congress on January 6... A closer examination of Mitch McConnell finds he took donations from lobbyists who work for Dominion Voting Systems. Dominion lobbyists, David Cohen and Brian Wild both donated to the McConnell campaign funds in March of 2020. McConnell also received thousands of dollars from Emily Kirlin and Jen Olson, lobbyists for ES&S, another voting system company. Both Dominion and ES&S represent about 80 percent of all voting machines in the country. Both systems rely on a software developed by Microsoft called "Election Guard." McConnell also helped suppress election integrity efforts earlier in 2020. In July, McConnell blocked two bills that would "bolster election security." One of the bills would have required a physical paper trail of every single ballot cast in the country.

Money From Facebook's Zuckerberg Used to Undermine Election, Violate Law - Report | 16 Dec 2020 | Hundreds of millions of dollars from Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg was used to violate election laws, according to a new report. The Amistad Project of the Thomas More Society, a national constitutional litigation organization, released the 39-page report, alleging that Zuckerberg's $500 million given to election officials was used to treat voters unequally and improperly influence the election for Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden. The bulk of the funds went to the Center for Tech and Civic Life (CTCL), a nonprofit started by former managers and staff at the New Organizing Institute, a progressive nonprofit. According to the report, the nonprofit earlier this year "began sending agents into states to recruit certain Democrat strongholds to prepare grants requesting monies from" it.

YouTube Announces Restrictive Ban on Videos Questioning the 2020 Election | 09 Dec 2020 | YouTube announced Wednesday it will ban content questioning the outcome of this year's presidential election. The video platform said in a blog post that it will now start removing content "alleging that widespread fraud or errors changed the outcome of the 2020 U.S. Presidential election." YouTube linked its decision to the fact that Tuesday was "safe harbor" day in the election calendar. Current law requires that Congress recognize electors chosen by this day in states where all election disputes are resolved, according to USA Today.

After Election Marked By Big Tech Censorship, Biden Team Quietly Brings on Facebook, Google Employees | 13 Dec 2020 | As censorship by Big Tech emerges as a critical issue for many Americans, Google and Facebook staffers are burrowing their way into the transition team of presumptive President-elect Joe Biden. On Friday, Politico reported that new names have been added to a list that already included several prominent Facebook alumni. Big Tech has tried to use its influence on the election. For example, YouTube last week declared it would ban videos that suggested the results of the Nov. 3 election were in doubt. ★

Lawmakers Tell ABC to Stop Enforcing on Restaurants

Commentary by Assemblyman James Gallagher

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Following Wednesday's San Diego County Superior Court Judgment that suspends enforcement of COVID-19 restrictions on restaurants, a group of 16 lawmakers urged the California Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) to immediately cease all enforcement on restaurants that have continued indoor and outdoor dining operations.

The legislative effort was spearheaded by Assemblyman James Gallagher (R-Yuba City), the same lawmaker who prevailed in a COVID-19 related lawsuit early this year against Governor Gavin Newsom.

"Restaurants statewide have been crushed by the Governor's arbitrary dictates. Yet to this day, the state has not provided any evidence showing that restaurants are responsible for the spread of COVID," said Gallagher. "Dining establishments are just as capable as big box stores when it comes to following best practices like social distancing and other measures. The lack of science and the recent court decisions in Los Angeles and San Diego should be a wakeup call for the Governor and his minions at the ABC."

Already an estimated 30 percent of California's restaurants are at risk of closing permanently. ABC actions against restaurants will further damage the industry and destroy the jobs for the 1.4 million Californians who rely on their continued operation.

Assemblyman James Gallagher represents the 3rd Assembly District, which encompasses all of Glenn, Sutter, Tehama and Yuba counties as well as portions of Butte and Colusa counties. ★

Sac State Prepares to Dispense COVID-19 Vaccines

By Anita Fitzhugh, Sacramento State University

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Following several months of practice runs dispensing flu vaccine, Sacramento State is in line to deliver COVID-19 vaccinations, when the medicine becomes available.

The University is one of several local sites Sacramento County Public Health is considering as a Medical Point of Dispensing (MPOD) for the COVID-19 vaccine.

MPODs are pop-up clinics in locations across the region designed to distribute the vaccine to large numbers of people.

If Sacramento State is selected, the vaccine will be available to students, faculty, staff, their family members, and possibly the public.

The University has used the MPOD model three times during the Fall 2020 semester, dispensing flu vaccinations and using the experience to prepare for COVID-19 vaccine distribution.

Sac State plans to use freezers in the Ernest E. Tschannan Science Complex, which have the capacity to store vaccines safely at a required sub-zero temperature.

"We all need to come together and do what we can to keep our region safe," said Sacramento State President Robert S. Nelsen. "Together, we will endure, and we will come out stronger on the other side of this devastating pandemic."

Nursing students administered flu shots for more than 200 campus community members during the previous MPODs and vaccinated hundreds more during walk-in flu clinics on campus.

If selected, Sac State will be the site of a drive-through MPOD in Parking Structure 3, which can accommodate six lanes of traffic for mass immunizations. Plans also call for the University Union and Science Complex to host walk-in clinics.

Entities involved in the preparation include Sacramento County Public Health and campus partners Student Health & Counseling Services, Emergency Operations Center, University Transportation and Parking Services, School of Nursing, and Sacramento State Police Department.

There is no timeline or final decision at this point. ★

Board Approves Declaration of Climate Emergency

By Kim Nava, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Board of Supervisors has adopted a resolution declaring a climate emergency and identifying the County's efforts to mobilize and contribute towards a safe climate.

The resolution, brought forward by Board Chair and First District Supervisor Phil Serna and Second District Supervisor Patrick Kennedy, declared climate change an emergency requiring urgent action to achieve carbon neutrality by 2030.

"With this resolution, we are pledging to build on the County's existing climate action commitments and take significant further steps to develop a climate plan that incorporates actions necessary to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and achieve carbon neutrality by 2030," said Serna. "This is a lofty goal that we'll reach with regional collaboration involving multiple partners, including the engagement of community-based and grassroots organizations."

Sacramento County approved the Phase 1 Climate Action Plan Strategy and Framework document on Nov. 9, 2011, which is the first phase of developing a community-level Climate Action Plan. Subsequently, the County approved the Phase 2A Climate Action Plan for Government Operations on Sep. 11, 2012, and is now in the process of preparing for adoption the Phase 2B Community Climate Action Plan.

"The Communitywide Climate Action Plan will be built on recommendations and analysis from community members and will be guided by science, data, best practices and equity concerns," said Kennedy. "The need for immediate action is urgent, and the County has already seen the impacts to the region's public health and safety, most recently with the extended wildfire season and resulting poor air quality and prolonged power outages."

The resolution also states the County will establish, within 60 days of approval, a permanent Climate Emergency Mobilization Task Force. The task force will be composed of climate experts, including representatives of the scientific and academic communities, to oversee the development and implementation of a climate emergency response plan. ★

Covid-19 Testing Available

Sacramento International Airport has partnered with City Health Urgent Care to offer on-site COVID-19 testing beginning December 16. Photo credit Sacramento County

By Samantha Mott, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento International Airport has partnered with City Health Urgent Care to offer on-site COVID-19 testing beginning Wednesday, Dec. 16.

Testing is by appointment only and will be conducted in the parking lot between AMPM and the East Economy Lot (formerly the taxi waiting area). Participants must make an appointment 48 hours in advance and anyone with a valid travel itinerary will receive priority booking. Testing appointments can be made via the City Health website. Passengers can book appointments through the passenger portal. Non-traveling community members wishing to be tested can book appointments through the community portal. Proof of identity is required as well as the appointment confirmation.

“Partnering with City Health to provide convenient no-cost COVID-19 testing for passengers, airport employees and community members is another layer of health safety for those traveling through SMF and the Sacramento community,” says Airport Director Cindy Nichol.

City Health Urgent Care will conduct PCR testing, which has a projected turnaround time for results of 48-72 hours after the sample has been received by the lab. There is no out-of-pocket cost for testing. Those being tested for travel to Hawaii will be required to pay an administration fee of $20 as part of Hawaii’s pre-travel testing program.

Hawaii’s pre-travel testing program requires passengers five and older to take a Nucleic Acid Amplification Test (NAAT) from a Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendments (CLIA) certified laboratory within 72 hours from the final leg of departure and produce a negative result in order to avoid the state’s 14-day mandatory quarantine. A trained professional must observe all tests. Only test results from trusted testing partners approved by the Hawaii State Department of Health, such as City Health, will be accepted. The full details of the program along with answers to Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) can be found on the State of Hawaii’s COVID-19 website. ★

Mackenzie Scott Donates $10 Million to United Way Capital Region

By Kristin Thebaud Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - MacKenzie Scott announced that she has made a donation to United Way California Capital Region. The philanthropist chose the local United Way chapter to receive a $10 million gift because of the group’s work to fill basic needs while also addressing long-term systemic inequities that have deepened during the pandemic.

“This is a game-changer for our local United Way and our community as a whole,” said Stephanie Bray, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region. “With a gift like this, we can expand our work to end poverty through our Square One Project so kids can succeed in school. This gift also will help us and our nonprofit partners provide more relief and forge a path toward recovery and resilience for our community. There truly are no words to express our gratitude to Ms. Scott. We are humbled and honored that she chose to invest in our work in the greater Sacramento area.”

Scott’s gift to United Way California Capital Region is part of the Giving Pledge she signed in 2019 to donate the majority of her wealth. Her donations to organizations across the country have focused in part on promoting economic parity, racial equity, public health and education. Scott is the former wife of Jeff Bezos, founder and CEO of Amazon.

“Last year I pledged to give the majority of my wealth back to the society that helped generate it, to do it thoughtfully, to get started soon, and to keep at it until the safe is empty,” Scott said in a Medium article she published in July. “There’s no question in my mind that anyone’s personal wealth is the product of a collective effort, and of social structures which present opportunities to some people, and obstacles to countless others.”

United Way California Capital Region has invested more heavily in addressing inequities this year with the onset of the pandemic. The group raised $572,000 in three months through the United Way COVID-19 Local Relief Fund to provide 1,145 families in need across the region with a one-time $500 distribution to help offset costs of rent, bills and other basic needs. Through a partnership with the City of Sacramento, United Way is working to bridge the digital divide that has widened during the pandemic, with a focus on low-income children and senior citizens. Through this Digital Equity Program, the partnership is providing free broadband access for up to 10,000 low-income Sacramento households, and free computers and digital literacy training for up to 1,000 Sacramento households. United Way also joined a partnership with the County of Sacramento to provide financial assistance to individuals and families in Sacramento County who are quarantined due to a positive COVID-19 test or are in isolation from being exposed to someone who has tested positive.

“Our team has been working tirelessly to stretch our resources as far as possible to help families in our community through this difficult year,” Bray said. “We cannot thank our staff, donors and volunteers enough for their investment in our work that is now being recognized on a national stage. This gift has brought us to the next level, and we are grateful to have our community of supporters by our side as we expand our Square One Project to create stronger, healthier and more compassionate communities across the greater Sacramento region.”

United Way’s current work includes removing barriers to success in school for low-income students, helping families achieve financial stability and self-sufficiency, and providing support to youth who are transitioning out of foster care.

For nearly 100 years, United Way California Capital Region has brought local people together to make community change happen. Today, the nonprofit is bringing people together across Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, Placer and Yolo counties for its Square One Project, a 20-year promise to significantly increase the number of students in our region who graduate from high school ready for success in college and beyond. United Way believes ending poverty starts in school and is working to ensure kids meet important milestones and their families receive support and resources.
