By Janna Haynes, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - As the economic impact of COVID-19 continues to evolve, Sacramento County's Economic Development Department is here to help businesses in the region with up-to-date information and resources. Recently, the department revamped its Business Resource Guide webpage with user-friendly industry guidelines and California's new Blueprint to a Safer Economy featuring a tiered, color-coded system. The system makes it easier for businesses to identify new and upcoming operational modifications regulated by the State of California. Sacramento County is currently in the State's most restrictive Purple Tier 1 (widespread).

Along with up-to-date information and resources regarding the current Public Health Order, local businesses can view a list of Financial Resources available including: Grants and Loans; Disability Insurance; Unemployment Assistance; Paid Family Leave; Work Share Programs; Utility Rate Relief.

Businesses can contact the Office of Economic Development at COVID19. BusinessAssistance@sacounty.net for assistance. In addition to Economic Development's resources, Sacramento County's Department of Health Services provides a COVID-19 Hotline for Sacramento County businesses and residents who have questions about the Public Health Order. For questions about the Public Health Order, call (916) 875-2400.

Sacramento County has also partnered with Sierra Health Foundation to hire Community Based Organizations to find and train Business Navigators. Business Navigators will provide industry-specific information and education to support small business owners' understanding of both the Public Health Order and guidelines in order to safely re-open. Visit the Sacramento County COVID-19 Collab website for more information.

For a complete list of industry guidelines, businesses can visit the California Department of Public Health website. For complaints about unsafe practices at businesses (e.g. face coverings, social distancing), or violations of the Health Order, dial 3-1-1 or go to Sacramento County 311 Connect, or email, SacCo311@custhelp.com. ★

Sac Zoo Celebrates Birth of New Baby Giraffe

Momma and Baby Giraffe. Photo: Sac Zoo

By Lesley Kirrene, Sacramento Zoo

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Sac Zoo is thrilled to announce that Shani, a 10-year-old Masai giraffe, gave birth to a female calf during the evening on September 20. Mother and calf are spending time bonding in the zoo's giraffe barn and may have access to the public side yard periodically over the next few days to weeks.

The zoo's veterinarians performed a routine neonatal health check on the calf including a brief physical exam. Zookeepers had been monitoring Shani around the clock prior to the birth and will continue to closely watch the mother and her calf.

The Sacramento Zoo is now home to five giraffes: one post-reproductive female reticulated giraffe, one male Masai giraffe, two female Masai giraffe including Shani, and now the new calf. This is the 20th calf born at the Sacramento Zoo going back to 1964 when the species was first housed at the zoo.

This birth coincides with the launch of the Sac Zoo's online Auction 2020, running today through noon on September 29. Due to the pandemic, the nonprofit Sac Zoo is unable to hold its largest fundraisers of the year and thus created the online Auction 2020 as a way to raise much-needed funds to care for the baby giraffe and the hundreds of other rare, endangered and native animals that call the zoo home.

Zoo supporters are able to bid on an opportunity to name the zoo's new baby giraffe or have the chance to be one of the first to meet the baby and her mother up-close and personal. Other auction items include original art created by a troop of orangutans, the chance to spend a private holiday celebration at the zoo, or even the opportunity to have Breakfast with Butternut the prehensile-tailed porcupine.

Love of the Game

River Cats Broadcaster Writes Haikus on Baseball and Life

Story by Shauna Boyd

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Johnny Doskow, the well-known TV and radio broadcaster for the Sacramento River Cats, recently immortalized his love of the game in a book of haiku focusing on his experiences in both baseball and in life.

Doskow was "raised with the game" and always knew he wanted to call baseball. "I've been fortunate to fulfill my dream," he said. His career began in 1991 calling local sports in Iowa. Two years later he started his first job in professional baseball with the Cedar Rapids Kernels. From there, he moved to California, where he worked with both the High Desert Mavericks and the Fresno Grizzlies before becoming the voice of the Sacramento River Cats in 2001. He also broadcast for the major leagues for 34 games in 2012 with the Oakland A's.

This past March, with the baseball season forced into hiatus by the coronavirus pandemic, Doskow had no games to call. During his first summer off in 28 years, he started writing.

Originally, he didn't have plans for a book; he was just writing haikus about life and moments he wanted to remember. It was his wife Deb who suggested he write about his life's passion: baseball. Before he knew it, he had more than enough poems to fill a book. "It just happened organically," he said.

Doskow has been fascinated by haikus ever since his older brother introduced him to the format as a kid. "I've always written them," Doskow said - even writing them in the margins of in-flight magazines as he traveled during the baseball season. "I never kept any of them," he said.

Doskow likes the rhythm of haikus (written in a syllable pattern of five, seven, five) and enjoys the challenge of "trying to tell a story in 17 syllables. It's not easy to do." Telling

The Capitol Annex Project Debate

Story by Shauna Boyd

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - California's State Capitol Complex is comprised of the historic West Wing, with its iconic dome, and the adjoined Annex building, which houses the offices of the Governor and most of California's lawmakers. The Capitol also hosts millions of visitors each year. But the existing Annex has many health and safety deficiencies such as inefficient heating/cooling systems, failing plumbing, outdated electrical systems, and lack of fire sprinklers. Stairways, elevators, and exit doors are also oversized, and the building is frequently overcrowded—which has become an even greater concern during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Capitol Annex Project – overseen by the Joint Rules Committee (JRC) – plans to demolish the current Annex and replace it with a modern energy-efficient and ADA-compliant building. The project also includes an underground parking structure and an underground visitors center. The vision of the project, which is spearheaded by JRC Chair Assemblyman Ken Cooley, is to create a Capitol that is welcoming, engaging, and inspiring.

But Public Accountability for Our Capitol (PAC) – a group of preservationists, environmentalists, and fiscal responsibility advocates – believes the project is too expensive, lacks transparency, and will cause significant damage to Capitol Park's historic trees.

PAC members Richard Cowan and Paula Peper each resigned from their seats on the Historic State Capitol Commission (HSCC) in protest over the Capitol Annex Project. The HSCC is responsible for reviewing any development or improvement of the historic State Capitol and advising the Legislature on such projects. Both Cowan and Peper have stated that the HSCC was denied information about the project, which Cowan characterized as "shrouded in secrecy."

The members of PAC don't dispute the need for improvements to the Annex, but they believe that it is possible and more cost-effective to repair and improve the existing building. Cowan said, "We think the project could be re-planned to avoid damaging Capitol Park and its trees, avoid the destruction of a historically recognized building, satisfy all the valid health and safety concerns, and save hundreds of millions of dollars that are needed to address climate change and economic recovery."

Instead of an open public engagement process, Cowan said that stakeholders invited to participate in JRC meetings about this project had to sign non-disclosure agreements (NDAs). "So much for transparency," said Cowan.

When asked about the NDAs, Assemblyman Cooley said that such agreements are standard in the post-9/11 world when discussing security issues in closed sessions. He also disputed the idea that the project has eschewed public input, stating that aside from those few closed sessions concerning security briefings, all the JRC meetings are open to the public. When he became JRC Chair in 2017, he moved quickly to launch a comprehensive website to share information about the project with the public. "We've been very public about the whole process," he said.

PAC's concern about the project's impact on Capitol Park trees was based on the Environmental Impact Report (EIR), released in September 2019 and updated in January 2020, which outlined the project footprint. Based on that footprint, PAC estimated that over 100 rare and historic trees could be at risk.

At a JRC meeting on September 9, 2020, Assemblyman Cooley revealed a detailed design plan with three potential styles for the Annex building (square, circular, or double-T). Cowan noted that the recently released plans deviated significantly from the EIR, with the parking garage location moving from the east lawn to the south between L and N streets. Cowan acknowledged that the new location would disrupt fewer trees, but he feared it could still endanger the trees in the Civil War Grove, "which is sacrosanct."

When asked about the potential loss of 100 trees, Assemblyman Cooley said, "I couldn't bear that." He described the historic and memorial trees as "irreplaceable" and explained that safeguarding the trees is one of the primary goals of the design process.

The Capitol Annex Project has been in the works since Arnold Schwarzenegger was Governor, and initially the Department of General Services planned to create two new buildings in Capitol Park. But when Assemblyman Cooley took over as JRC Chair in 2017, he fought against that plan, because the design would have destroyed many historic trees, including the Civil War Grove. Assemblyman Cooley said he is committed to safeguarding the trees and vistas of the park. He explained that the construction footprint outlined in the plans is just a rough estimate of the area and not a specific blueprint: "We're not going to disturb all that ground." Protecting the historic trees is such a high priority that Cooley said the new parking garage design even has a "notch" designed to safeguard a tulip tree.

The Legislature originally approved $755 million from the general fund for the Capitol Annex Project. Assemblyman Cooley suggested additional authority be given to the JRC to authorize lease revenue bonds in case the government ended up needing those funds, "if the economy stumbles." That stumble came this year. Due to the recent economic crisis caused by the pandemic, the Governor's office has asked that those funds be returned to the general fund – and that the JRC pause the plans for the visitors center. As the project moves forward, the plan is to pursue the authorized lease revenue bonds to fund the Annex and parking garage.

PAC has voiced concern that the interest on the lease revenue bonds will increase the overall cost of the project by approximately 30%, money they believe is better spent on investing in the economic recovery. Cowan also said that the JRC decided to demolish and rebuild the Annex without conducting a study to determine the cost of restoration.

But Assemblyman Cooley views the project as a way to stimulate economic recovery by creating a variety of jobs in the area over the life of the project: "It would put people to work." And for Cooley, the reasons to move forward with a rebuild over restoration have been clear since the planning study was completed almost three years ago. The study found that the existing structural system of the Annex "limits the ability to provide new large hearing rooms or auditoriums with column-free view paths and appropriate ceiling heights." The study also found that a consistent floor plan that is easy to navigate for both visitors and staff is impeded by the "current building footprint and column bay spacing."

Cowan said he is "absolutely not persuaded" by those arguments against restoration. Further, for a project based on a need for more space, PAC was surprised to see that each of the three potential Annex designs feature large open-air galleries with skylights looking up to the Capitol dome. While Cowan acknowledges that the designs are beautiful, he still argues that a new building is not necessary.

PAC also believes it is shortsighted to build a large underground parking garage at a time when transportation is changing rapidly. As concerns about climate change increase, Cowan said California should be looking to the future. The idea of an underground parking garage "is not who we are. It's not how we lead," he said.

But for Assemblyman Cooley, the improved energy-efficient Capitol Complex will be a symbol of California's "positive, hope-filled outlook." The Capitol Annex Project started before Cooley's tenure as JRC Chair and will conclude after his term ends, so he said the project isn't about what he wants. As Chair, he reports to the JRC. He said it's his job to bring all the information and all the options to the members so they can make the best decision for the people and the future of "The People's House."

Art After Lockdown a Success

Thirty friends of Anne Bradley commissioned Paul Dessau, custom collage portrait artist, to create a collage of "Anne in the Junkyard". Sunshine Steel is her favorite salvaging haunt. SACRAMENTO AREA, CA (MPG) - Sunshine and fresh air prevailed the weekend of September 19 and 20, as friends, family members and residents from as far away as Marin County freed themselves from their six-month Covid-19 generated lockdown to relax and enjoy the weather and unique artwork of local artists at Carmichael's Shangri-la outdoor art show.

Sue Anne Foster, sculptor and president of Valley Sculpture Artists, opened her home and property to showcase the diverse talents and pieces from local artists including kinetic sculptures by Phill Evans of Fair Oaks and, also of Fair Oaks, Janet Regan who transforms copper in all forms, and the everyday gourd, into one-of-a-kind art pieces.

As with all artists demonstrating their work, the terms 'mixed media' and 'repurposing' have been given new meaning. With so many materials available in and outside of nature, these artists, including painter Mary Ann Low and ceramic artist and sculptor Chris Thompson, both of Sacramento are always experimenting and branching out into new forms of expression.

Roaming chickens, a large coy pond, and labyrinth adorned by a large, round floating filigree 'Art Nouveau' style sphere, all added to the atmosphere.

The highlight of the weekend was the presentation of a 30" by 40" collage portrait of artist Anne Bradley. Created by collage portrait artist Paul Dessau for his long-time friend, the piece was made with scraps of metal and other items in honor of Bradley's chosen medium. Bradley works with metals scavenged from Sunshine Steel in Sacramento to create her own mixed media pieces of art.

First 5 Sacramento

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Thanks to California voters who passed Proposition 10 more than 20 years ago, First 5s across the state, in each county, utilize tobacco tax dollars to fulfill the charge to nurture and support the youngest among us and their families. This funding is available every three years to eligible non-profit or government unit entities serving young children.

Over the next two months, the First 5 Sacramento Commission will be staggering the release of multiple Request for Proposals (RFPs) totaling more than $40 million in funding. Contracts will begin July 2021. Funding is for services benefiting the health and well-being of young children and will be allocated among the following areas:

Preventing African American Child Deaths; Strengthening Families/Decreasing Child Abuse and Trauma; Improving School Readiness; Building Quality Child Care Settings; Increasing Breastfeeding

For background information and the funding allocation for each area, refer to the First 5 Implementation and Systems Improvement Plan. Additional background information is also available in the First 5 Strategic Plan.

Please regularly check the First 5 Sacramento website for proposal information and mandatory dates. If you have any questions, please call 916-876-5865.

Research shows that 90% of a child's brain develops in the first five years and what parents and caregivers do during these years to support their child's growth will have a meaningful impact throughout life. Based on this research, California voters passed Proposition 10 in 1998, a tobacco tax, to support programs for expectant parents and children ages 0-5. In the last year, First 5 Sacramento distributed approximately $12 million in Prop 10 revenues to programs and services that meet local needs in Sacramento County. All 58 counties have a First 5 Children and Families Commission providing unique local services for that county. # Love of the Game a story in such a small space offers the potential for both simplicity and depth. In "Patience," Doskow writes, "dark cloudy morning/sun squeezing through noon darkness/3 p.m. blue sky." Such poems ask readers to put themselves into that moment. Doskow hopes that readers can find something to relate to in these poems, something that connects these stories to their own experiences.

In "Scoring," he writes, "keeping score at game/a religion for some folks/baseball love affair." For true fans, the book will be like a reading a love letter to the game. Doskow called the writing process "a walk down memory lane," and the book brings readers on that journey as well. Many of the haikus evoke memories of significant baseball moments – both triumphant and heartbreaking.

In "Sign Off," Doskow explains the title of the book, Goodnight Em: "ever since her birth/in my broadcast conclusion/my words, 'goodnight em.'" He started that signature sign-off during the 2006 season when his daughter Emily was just an infant. Long nights at the ballpark and frequent time away from home for away games meant he was often missing his young daughter. The signoff was a way to signify his love and connection to her. When trying to come up with a title for the book, Doskow's wife Deb suggested Goodnight Em, and he knew instantly that it was perfect.

Goodnight Em honors everything Doskow loves most in this world. The book can be purchased online at www.johnnydoskow.com. It can also be purchased locally at Face In A Book bookstore in El Dorado Hills or at either of the Sacramento locations of Patchamama Coffee (Doskow's favorite coffee in the world). ★

California Reaches 21 Million Registered Voters

From the Office of Secretary of State

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - California officially surpassed 21 million active registered voters for the first time in history. This milestone comes 60 days before the November 3, 2020 General Election. The Secretary of State's next official Report of Registration will be issued later this month with breakdowns of registration by party, political jurisdiction, and age.

"2020 is another record setting year for voter registration in California," Secretary of State Alex Padilla said. "Even during the COVID-19 pandemic, our democracy remains strong and resilient."

"If you've recently turned 18, recently become a US Citizen, or even if you've never voted before – don't wait. Register to vote today at registertovote.ca.gov. It only takes a few minutes to register and to make your voice is heard in one of the most consequential elections in our nation's history. And if you're already registered to vote, I encourage you to verify your registration status and to sign-up for ballot tracking."

Starting on October 5, 2020 all counties will begin mailing ballots to every active, registered voter in California; Voters will be able to vote early, in-person at their county elections office.

Tips for Voters

Californians are encouraged to take the following steps to prepare for the General Election: Check your voter registration at VoterStatus.sos.ca.gov; Update your voter registration if you've moved or changed your name at RegisterToVote.ca.gov; Sign-up for automatic updates on the status of your vote-by-mail ballot at WheresMyBallot.sos.ca.gov

Voter Registration Deadline

October 19 is the traditional voter registration deadline for the November 3, 2020 General Election. If an eligible Californian misses the October 19 deadline, they can complete the same day voter registration process and cast their vote that day. However, this option is only available at county elections offices and in-person voting locations. ★

HUD: Prevent Evictions by Using Grant Funds

By Eduardo Cabrera,
U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development

WASHINGTON, CA (MPG) - Consistent with President Trump's Executive Order "Fighting the Spread of COVID-19 by Providing Assistance to Renters and Homeowners", the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has reiterated the Trump Administration's commitment to minimize displacement and evictions resulting from the COVID-19 global pandemic national emergency. HUD is reminding all grantees – states, cities, communities, and nonprofits – who received Emergency Solutions Grants (ESG) or Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds that they may use these funds to provide rental assistance or other aid to individuals experiencing financial hardship because of the pandemic and are at risk of being evicted, consistent with applicable laws, regulations, and guidance.

"From day one of this pandemic, the Administration has done everything in our power to ensure that the American people have a roof over their heads during these trying times," said Secretary Carson. "Thanks to President Trump's leadership we have secured the necessary resources and mechanisms to efficiently and effectively combat this virus." HUD continues to provide technical assistance to grant recipients to prevent evictions and keep people in their homes throughout the duration of the COVID-19 pandemic. Since the outbreak of COVID-19, the Department provided virtual office hours for grantees to ensure relief funds are being used quickly and efficiently. HUD has issued a toolkit for landlords and Public Housing Authorities so they can work with their tenants during this difficult financial time. Additionally, HUD has extended its Single-Family eviction and foreclosure moratorium for FHA insured Single-Family homes three times, has promoted the Department's Housing Counselor services, and issued guidance for lenders.

Homelessness service providers and Public Housing Authorities across the Nation have jumped into action to assist those they serve during this unprecedented time. Read more about their stories featured in HUD's Neighbors Helping Neighbors campaign website. For more information on HUD's response to the novel coronavirus pandemic and the actions the Department has taken, please visit HUD.gov/coronavirus.

More information about HUD and its programs is available at www.hud.gov and <https://espanol.hud.gov>. ★

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 4.25% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for the repayment period is 4.125%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 10%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $100,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $200,000 and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $25 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $75 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

Is Newsom Serious about Banning Gas-Powered Cars?

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

Gov. Gavin Newsom flatly declared Wednesday that “In the next 15 years we will eliminate in the state of California the sales of internal combustion engines.”

It was the latest example of Newsom’s fondness for headline-grabbing pronouncements of “big hairy, audacious goals.”

The classic example was his flat campaign declaration that he would solve California’s chronic housing shortage by building 3.5 million new homes.

That was impossible, as anyone familiar with housing issues could attest, and after his election, Newsom backed off, calling it an “aspirational” goal. Actually, housing production has declined during his governorship.

The governor’s declaration that by 2035 new car buyers in California must buy only “zero emission vehicles” (ZEVs) seems to be in the mold of his housing promise. In fact, his executive order does not command that it happen, but rather says “it shall be a goal of the state that 100 percent of in-state sales of new passenger cars and trucks will be zero-emission by 2035” and directs the Air Resources Board to figure out how to do it “consistently with technological feasibility and cost-effectiveness.”

Even if he’s serious about it – and one is never certain that he is – there are immense hurdles to overcome, not the least being Californians’ obvious reluctance to embrace battery-powered ZEVs as their primary motor vehicles due to their cost, relatively small size and limited range.

While California accounts for about half of the ZEVs on American roads, they are still fewer than 2% of the nearly 30 million cars and light trucks in California. And despite state and federal subsidies, they are a fraction of the state’s current goal of having 1.5 million in use by 2025.

Newsom’s declaration, and a request to the Legislature to phase out fracking to produce oil and natural gas, cheered environmental advocates who want California to be bolder in reducing its emissions of greenhouse gases. He blamed global warming for the destructive wildfires that have swept through the state this year.

However, business leaders, particularly those in the affected industries, warn about the pitfalls of trying to wean California’s economy off hydrocarbons. California is one of the nation’s leading producers of oil and gas, particularly since fracking regenerated older fields, and the state consumes immense amounts of both fuels to not only directly power transportation but to generate the electricity that ZEVs must have.

During recent hot spells, as California’s air conditioners drove electric power consumption to levels requiring blackouts, natural gas-fired power plants supplied more than half of the juice.

“Unless California, along with other states and countries, supports a market for ZEVs that ensures vehicle performance, range, safety, functionality, price, and choice for automobile consumers, then California residents alone will be left with higher energy and transportation costs without a material effect on global (greenhouse gas) emissions,” the California Chamber of Commerce said. “Forcing this transition through a mandate will burden the consumers least able to afford it, either by pricing them out of the new vehicle market or increasing the cost to maintain and fuel a used vehicle with a combustion engine.

Predictably critical as that statement may be, it makes valid points about the practical and socioeconomic challenges of doing what Newsom insists will be done.

Finally, there’s the political/legal question of whether California can do it. It would require the federal government to continue California’s “waiver” from federal air pollution rules and that would probably hinge on whether Republican President Donald Trump is re-elected or is defeated by Democrat Joe Biden.

Eskaton Deploys K4 Connect App and Amazon Alexa for Residents

By Miranda Raulinaitis, Elmet's Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Eskaton, the leading nonprofit senior living organization in Northern California, has deployed the K4 Connect App and Amazon Alexa for all residents throughout its twelve Eskaton communities. The innovative deployment provides Eskaton residents with the highest level of control over their environment. It is the latest in a series of technological advancements by Eskaton, which began in 2018 by integrating communication and smart home technology throughout the organization.

“Eskaton believes keeping families involved and connected is paramount to the well-being of our residents. During these unprecedented times with the onset of COVID-19, communication is more important than ever,” said Sheri Peifer, Chief Strategy Officer at Eskaton. “By providing these powerful technologies to our residents and their families, they are able to stay connected, engaged, and informed 24 hours a day.”

Alexa is Amazon’s cloud-based voice service that enables natural voice experiences, which offer customers a simple, more intuitive way to interact with the technology they use every day. By integrating the K4 Connect App with Amazon Alexa, Eskaton is transforming the way residents interact with their loved ones, and one another. Eskaton is the first senior living community in California to offer voice-enabled technology to all residents, deploying over 1,500 Alexa units across twelve communities.

“These new technological enhancements to Eskaton residents provide an array of new capabilities and conveniences,” added Peifer. “By providing new services through technology such as video chat with friends and family, the ability to connect with the front desk, or getting information about the events of the day, Eskaton continues to provide industry leading, cutting edge solutions and conveniences to residents.”

Together with new features recently added by K4 Connect app such as allowing communities to share announcements, stream content, and providing additional activities, games and information resources, Eskaton has raised the bar in the already industry-leading standard for senior living. The technology offers compelling new core capabilities and conveniences that keep residents entertained and engaged while spending more time at home. Residents now have more flexibility and security than ever before.

“I love chatting with family and loved ones, playing games, and listening to music and radio stations,” said Eskaton Monroe Lodge resident, Lonnie. “I like that the K4 App makes it easy for me to stay connected with my son. I don’t use a computer or smart phone, so these new enhancements make it really easy for me to stay in touch with loved ones and the world.”

Walk Like MADD Brings Families Together Virtually

Mothers Against Drunk Driving Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - As a tribute to MADD’s 40th anniversary, the California State office of Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) will host its signature fundraising Walk Like MADD ceremony virtually on Saturday, October 10 beginning at 12:00 Noon on Facebook/Instagram/YouTube @MADDCalifornia. MADD asks you to join these meaningful virtual events and take a stand with #OneMADDCalifornia. Funds raised will support the continuation of MADD California to provide underage drinking programs and services at no cost to victims and families of drunk and drugged driving.

Walk, Like MADD has three main components:

Remember: We walk for those who no longer can and alongside those who are learning to walk again; Inspire: We walk empowered even when we feel powerless, as survivors when we have been victimized, and with purpose when we have lost our way; Commit: We walk with supporters who share our vision of No More Victims.

“We walk to finish the job that was started by a grieving mother in 1980. Now in our 40th year, MADD has saved more than 390,000 lives and has served more than 840,000 victims,” said Pat Rillera, California State Executive Director. “Walk Like MADD will raise mission-critical funds to help save lives in our state.”

The timing for Walk Like MADD is significant because on August 11, an alleged drunk driver fatally struck a 35-week pregnant woman, Yesenia Aguilar, while taking an evening walk with her husband. Doctors were able to save and deliver the couple’s daughter, Adalyn Rose, by emergency C-section. According to DMV records, the drunk driver had prior DUI convictions. As a result of this crash, it heightens the need of MADD’s Campaign to Eliminate Drunk Driving to address the ripple effects of driving impaired.

Despite a nearly 50 percent decline in drunk driving deaths since MADD was founded in 1980, more than 10,000 people are killed by drunk driving, and another 290,000 are injured in drunk driving crashes every year. In fact, two in three people will be involved in a drunk driving crash in their lifetime.

In 2018, 1,069 people in California were killed in drunk driving crashes. Nationwide, 10,511 lives were lost due to drunk driving, and another 300,000 people were injured in drunk driving crashes. Walk Like MADD gives victims and survivors a safe place to remember their loved ones and help raise mission-critical funds to help save lives and serve victims in the state of California.

There are other ways to participate in Walk Like MADD. Registration is $20.00 for youth, and $25.00 for adults.

Donate – Give to a virtual participant or a team to help them reach their fundraising goals; Sponsor – Consider becoming an official event partner. We have a variety of packages, and every dollar goes towards making our community safer.

Please visit your local area to register, donate, or get more information. You can complete your 5k by walking or running in your own neighborhood, community and parks anytime from October 3-October 10. Walkers and runners should post videos and pictures of their 5k and tag @MADDCalifornia on Facebook or Instagram.

California Capital Airshow Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The annual California Capital Airshow (CCA), presented by Sacramento County in partnership with the City of Rancho Cordova, would normally be setting up this week with jets, pilots and crew arriving from across North America to deliver a weekend of entertainment at Mather Airport. But there's much more to this nonprofit organization than what fans see overhead. Sacramento's popular Airshow is actually a fundraiser for its annual scholarship program, serving students from across the six-county region who dream of accomplishing great things and simply need a little help.

Thanks to the support of sponsors and ticket holders each year, CCA's deep commitment to inspiring young people has produced great results. The Airshow team's efforts, in the air, on the ground and throughout the year has delivered $262,000 in awards to 156 remarkable future leaders to attend 36 different education institutions across 14 states. These students plan to change the world in a variety of ways, from using artificial intelligence to end climate change to building

I plan to work on the next generation of machinery that will drive humanity into the future - designing safer, more advanced, and more efficient airplanes."

"Although we are all experiencing an unprecedented year, students still need our help in making their dreams come true and the public can help," said Darcy Brewer, executive director, CCA.

Fans are encouraged to help CCA raise $50,000 from September 28-October 4 to support other stellar high school seniors pursuing careers in science, technology, engineering, mathematics, aviation and aerospace go to college.
