Stop the Spread: A Patient Guide to the Novel Coronavirus

By Steve Arnoff, American College of Emergency Physicians

WASHINGTON, D.C. (MPG)

- The American College of Emergency Physicians (ACEP) is providing guidance for patients to minimize their risk of getting or spreading the novel coronavirus, COVID-19. A new resource from ACEP, Stop the Spread: A Patient Guide to the Novel Coronavirus (COVID-19), provides tips on how to minimize the risk of contracting the virus-including whether you should wear a face mask-and how to determine whether patients should visit an emergency department.

"We are in the middle of flu season, which means emergency departments are already strained. To make sure that everyone can get the care they need, it's important to know when to go to the emergency department if you think you have COVID-19," said William Jaquis, MD, FACEP, president of ACEP.

Older patients and those with chronic or pre-existing conditions have the highest risk of serious cases or complications. If you think you are sick with COVID-19, consider your symptoms. Call your doctor if you've been in contact with someone who already has COVID-19 or has traveled to an affected region and within 14 days you develop a fever, cough or shortness of breath. If your symptoms are mild, contact your primary care physician to discuss your best options for care. Call 911 or visit your closest emergency department if:

You're experiencing a medical emergency; You're sick enough that you need to go to the hospital, especially if you recently started experiencing shortness of breath, or; You're sick and you are a high-risk individual, such as an older patient or a person with an already weakened immune system.

"Your local emergency department may not yet have the COVID-19 test. Your primary care physician can decide if you meet the criteria and help determine where to get tested if necessary," said Dr. Jaquis.

The latest patient information is available at www.emergencyphysicians.org/COVID19.

Ami Bera Votes for Emergency Funding to Keep Sacramento County Safe from Coronavirus

By Travis Horne, Office of Representative Ami Bera, M.D.

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - Rep. Ami Bera, M.D. (CA-07) voted for emergency funding to keep Sacramento County safe from the spread of coronavirus.

"I'm proud to vote for this robust emergency funding package that will keep our communities safe from this growing public health crisis," said Rep. Bera, who chairs the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Asia, the Pacific, and Nonproliferation. "As a public health expert, I will continue to press the administration to ensure they are doing everything possible to keep Americans safe, including increasing the availability of testing at our local health facilities. As this disease continues to spread, it is also critical we think of creative ways to combat its spread and limit its harm to our economy and our neighbors."

The $8.3 billion appropriations package includes:

- $1B for state and local preparedness response, half of which will go to states, cities, and tribes within 30 days;
- Funds for the procurement of medical supplies for the Strategic National Stockpile;

- · Vaccine and therapeutic research and development:
- $300M to ensure Americans can receive the vaccine, regardless of ability to pay; and
- $100M for community health centers

As a doctor, Congressman Bera has been a strong supporter of American leadership in global health. He is a member on the CSIS Commission on Strengthening America's Health Security, which made a series of recommendations to prevent pandemics in November 2019. He has held two Congressional hearings on the coronavirus outbreak, sounded the alarm when the White House disbanded the office in charge of preparing for pandemics, and also sought to include funds to combat coronavirus over a month ago through other

Congressman Bera urges constituents to follow everyday preventative actions like washing your hands with soap and water, avoid touching eyes, nose, or mouth with unwashed hands, and cleaning and disinfecting frequently touched objects. Census Invites Go Out Starting this Month

By Laurie Slothower, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Beginning March 12, households in Sacramento County will begin to receive invitations by mail to complete the 2020 U.S. Census. By April 1, the official U.S. Census Day, every household should have received one.

People can respond by phone, by mail and – for the first time - online. Census websites will be available in 12 languages other than English. Surveys may be completed on a computer, smartphone, laptop or

It's important that you and everyone in your household are counted. The Census determines federal funding for important services and programs that benefit our community. Sacramento County projects that rely on the U.S. Census for funding include the Florin area new street light project, the District Attorney's Human Trafficking Advocacy program, the Supplemental Assistance Nutrition Program (food stamps), and the Small Communities Flood Risk Reduction program.

Census results also ensure your voice is represented in government. The U.S. Census defines boundaries for Sacramento County supervisorial districts, school boards, water and fire districts, and the number of seats California receives in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Information submitted to the Census is safe, secure and 100 percent confidential. By law, your information may not be used to identify individuals or shared with any government or law enforcement agency. Violations are considered a federal offense.

In preparation for enabling online response, the U.S. Census Bureau has partnered with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security to ensure that information is safe from cyber-threats.

Sacramento County is partnering with community-based organizations and public agencies to make sure everyone is counted, especially groups who have historically low rates of census participation. Information on where to find census assistance centers will be available later this month.

For more information, contact the U.S. Census Bureau.

San Juan Unified School District

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA

(MPG) - This year San Juan Unified presented three individuals with the 2020 Classified Employees of the Year award at the Jan. 28 school board meeting.

This award is presented to employees who work behind the scenes, from maintenance operations to instructional assistance, to ensure the success of each student and the San Juan Unified community.

David Harrell is one of the honorees and has been working with the district for nearly 30 years as a lead roofer. Coworkers say Harell has an inner drive to keep our sites from having leaky roofs all year round and feels a sense of responsibility to the students and staff.

After working each day on our schools' roofs, Harrel heads to Bella Vista High School to coach baseball. A job he has taken on for many

"The most gratifying part of coaching is watching a student-athlete not only grow on the field but off the field as well," said Harrell. "You like to think that you are having a positive impact on their future through the lessons you are teaching."

Another honoree is Rita Holverstott from Woodside K-8. Holverstott is not only the librarian and media technician but works as the community liaison, a volunteer to the PTO and a member of the safety committee on

As Holverstott read her nomination stating how crucial she is to Woodside and its holiday events, she had this to say about her colleagues and "I would like to thank those who submitted my name to the district. Although uncomfortable with the attention, it feels good to know the work I do is noted and appreciated, above and beyond a paycheck," said Holverstott.

Finally, Kari Bleille, an instructional assistant at San Juan High School, was honored for her tremendous work over the last seven years. Colleagues said she is the type of individual who not only works to make sure students feel safe and welcomed on campus but each teacher does as well.

in the Sacramento region who contributed to the Vision 2020 campaign and are making it possible for the growing number of people living with vision loss to access our services, workshops and events," said Shari Roeseler, executive director, Society for the Blind. "The Otto Annex will increase our ability to serve more people who need to learn blindness skills and who are looking for fun social events with other people experiencing vision loss."

For 66 years, Society for the Blind

has created innovative ways to empower individuals living with low vision or blindness to discover, develop and achieve their full potential. Society for the Blind has grown from a dedicated group of volunteers to a nationally recognized agency and the only comprehensive rehabilitative teaching center that provides services for a 27-county region of northern California. The nonprofit provides low-vision eye care, life and job skills training, mentorship, and access to tools to maintain independence for nearly 6,000 youth, working-age adults and seniors experiencing vision loss each year. Claude Robert Wilson November 28, 1931 to February 19, 2020

Claude Robert Wilson, aka "Bob" or 'Pops" was born Nov. 28th 1931 in Oroville, CA. Bob passed away Feb. 19th 2020 in Carmichael, CA.

Bob was born to Claude William and Thelma McMillan Wilson and had two younger brothers, Richard and Thomas, all deceased. Bob's childhood during the great depression and through World War II made him tough and self-reliant. He and his brother Richard (Dickie) were best of friends and remained that way until Richard's death in August 2019.

Bob married Gloria Jean Avilla in December 1954 and is survived by three children Michael (Jeanne) Wilson of Lompoc, CA, Nancy Wilson of Woodland, CA and Karen (Bill) Robinson of Carmichael. He enjoyed his grandchildren immensely: Eric and Brent Wilson, Valerie Enriquez, Anthony Robinson and Tyler. As the "kids" grew into adulthood, they loved opportunities to hang out with "Pops," occasionally smoking cigars and sharing philosophy. Pops is also survived by three great-grandchildren, Emelia and Kash Enriquez and Sawyer Robinson, born in December 2019.

Bob was a US Navy Korean War veteran. He sailed on the USS Andromeda from 1951 to 1955 and saw much of the Asian Pacific. His time on the ship in Asia gave him a lifelong distaste for anything "curried". Following his honorable discharge from the Navy, Bob settled back in Oroville with his wife, Gloria and baby son, Michael who was born while Bob's ship was stranded in the ice of the North Pacific

Returning to civilian life, he began a 30 year career in banking, primarily with Bank of America which saw his young family moving frequently. From Oroville to Marysville to Yuba City (where Nancy and Karen were born) to Carmichael and finally, to Isleton, where he was the branch manager. They stayed in Isleton until all three children graduated from Rio Vista High School and then moved back to Carmichael in 1982 where Bob and Gloria lived for the rest of their lives.

After leaving the Bank of America, Bob worked for a few smaller banks before a mid-life career change led him into the construction industry where he ultimately enjoyed working for Capitol Steel until retirement.

Early retirement years sent him and Gloria on the road. Traveling with friends throughout the US or with Bob's senior league baseball teams (Sacramento Silvers) throughout Northern California and adjoining states, he made many friends both on and off the field. Bob was a lifelong baseball fan AND player up into his eighties. He loved his SF Giants and the 3-in-5 World Series saw him (and the rest of us) on top of the world. He was also a lifelong SF 49er fan and deeply felt the highs and lows of their recent season.

Sadly, Gloria passed away in 2004, but Bob continued to stay active with his baseball, golf, poker and family. He rarely missed any of his children's, grandchildren's or greatgrandchildren's sporting events through the decades. Healthy until he suddenly left us, Bob lived a full and satisfied life and will be dearly missed by all his family and friends. Per his wishes, no services will be held. Donations in Bob's memory may be made to a charity of your choice.

Transforming Lives

Markee Personal Training Offers Programs for Any Fitness Level

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

- Pam Markee has been a personal fitness trainer for over 25 years and has been working in the Sacramento area since 2006. As the owner and CEO of Markee Personal Training, she helps clients reach their individual fitness goals and transform their lives.

Her private studio (located at 5250 Date Ave., Suite B, in Sacramento) is conveniently located close to Hwy 80 and Madison Ave., offering easy access for clients throughout the Sacramento Region. Clients enjoy the individualized program at Markee Personal Training: "It's private, it's one on one, so you're not competing for time or attention from the trainer," said Markee. Private personal training sessions also allow clients to fully focus on their fitness without the worry of being judged by others.

Markee Personal Training goes beyond the typical fitness program. Markee completed a fellowship at the Gray Institute for Functional Transformation: a graduate program attended by many physical therapists, chiropractors, athletic trainers, and doctors of osteopathy. "I studied with 14 countries around the world for over five years. This opened my eyes to the possibilities of helping others transform their health," said Markee. "I love serving others in a way that encompasses mind, body, and spirit and treats the whole person — not just a symptom and a protocol. We really look at the entire person, their life and lifestyle, and custom-tailor programs specifically for them. Each program for each person is different because each and every person is biomechanically unique and different."

Pam Markee, owner and CEO of Markee Personal Training, has a passion for helping clients reach their personal fitness mals

Using philosophies learned at the Gray Institute, "we can help those with [multiple sclerosis], Parkinson's, cardiac rehab, joint replacements, and so much more," said Markee. A major focus of her practice is post-rehabilitative medical exercise, helping patients who have completed therapy programs but aren't ready to resume regular exercise: "We bridge that gap, and we can get them the rest of the way to a functional program that is functional for their life," said Markee.

Markee said her assistant, Lanell Martinez, who also has Gray Institute training, "is a pivotal part of my practice and I really couldn't do it without her. ... We make a great team. She is kind, gentle, and very thorough in her work."

Martinez said, "It feels good to watch someone achieve their goal and gain the confidence to maintain that goal as they go forward." Using

Using philosophies learned at e Gray Institute, "we can help ose with [multiple sclerosis], arkinson's, cardiac rehab, joint their extensive training, Martinez said that she and Markee "are driven to find the answers to unlock the path to our client's success."

In addition to personal fitness training and individualized exercise programs, Markee Personal Training also offers soft tissue mobilization. It is similar to massage, but Markee said she treats patients while they are "moving through space – using gravity and ground reaction force and their body weight and their own mass and momentum to free up a joint." It's essentially massage-in-motion.

At Markee Personal Training, they work with clients of all fitness levels, from people who are disabled to professional athletes. Markee said, "Our clients are as old as 97 and as young as 16, so it's a big range." The studio and the equipment are wheelchair accessible, something that is especially important for elderly clients.

Markee explained that fear of injury is the number one reason the elderly don't exercise: "I think a lot of people don't know there's a safe place they can go to work out and not have their health compromised."

She said, "If you're not moving, those muscles are wasting away. So, we try to empower them and give them the skills and the tools." If a client becomes so infirm that they can no longer travel to the studio, Markee will go to them, working with them in their own home "right to the end" of their lives.

Markee Personal Training has also recently started offering a nutritional and weight-management coaching program, which is specifically targeted to clients over 300 pounds. Instead of pushing these clients into strenuous exercises that they cannot realistically accomplish at this stage, Markee offers life coaching that "meets them where they're at."

She explained that "obesity is now affecting over 40 percent of our population. Childhood obesity is on the rise, and we believe this is an educational issue as well as an epidemic." Markee helps clients figure out what factors contribute to unhealthy food choices and finds ways to replace those habits with healthier options. The program is personalized to each client to determine what will work best for them so they can implement the changes in their everyday lives.

"Our environment is nurturing, clean, and free of embarrassing and humiliating situations that keep them from going to the gym to exercise in the first place," said Markee. "To help these people have a better mindset, we really need to not just look at their physical body but what's going on in the spirit and the mind of that person."

Whatever fitness and health issues a client is facing, Markee Personal Training can tailor a program to help them reach their goals. Markee's program assesses the whole person, including their habits and the details of their daily life. She said, "Looking at the whole picture helps to meet them where they're at and transform them in a way that's functional for their life and what they want to achieve."

Markee focuses her practice where she sees the biggest need: "I'm just really trying to help people. ... I think that's where our heart is: How can we best serve the community?" Markee said, "It's about building relationships with people. Once they trust us and trust the process and trust themselves, that's golden – that's what really transforms lives."

"Without a doubt I believe my mom, who is in memory care, is receiving amazing care. The staff is genuinely concerned about her ... Many of the staff that were there when she arrived had worked there since it opened its doors, and they are still there today. That says a lot to me about how much they enjoy what they do. My mom gave so much to others as a nurse for over 30 years that it's nice to see her now on the receiving end as she is now getting the same kind of care she once gave."
