CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Newly appointed as Carmichael Chamber executive director, Stephanie Young (54) has got to know the area from the inside out. She lives locally and has for three years worked for the local park district. She is among Carmichael Property Business Improvement District volunteers. "Every job I've ever had in my life has prepared me to step into this Chamber role," she says. Young was selected from a dozen applicants for the $60,000 per annum position. She follows in the footsteps of Virginia Stone, who assumed interim leadership following the 2018 resignation of executive Linda Melody. Stone's "temporary" job lasted more than a year while Chamber directors sought a permanent replacement. In that period, membership rose to more than 300 businesses. "The Chamber only has one executive, so it was critical to find the right person," says Chamber president Jim Alves. "Stephanie was a stand-out applicant. We already knew her as an active volunteer and we liked her electric personality. We feel she'll build upon recent successes and take us to new heights."

That Young's professional life was already focused on Carmichael was a big bonus. "Carmichael is a unique community," explains Alves, "to have someone who knows how it ticks is invaluable. Stephanie brings a terrific

CA Trucking Assoc. Files Suit to Prevent Application of AB 5

California Trucking Association

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Trucking Association (CTA) and two California independent owner-operator truck drivers filed an amended complaint with the U.S. Southern District Court seeking declaratory and injunctive relief against the employment test set forth in the Dynamex Operations West, Inc. v. Superior Court (Dynamex) decision, which was subsequently codified by the California Legislature in the form of Assembly Bill 5 (AB 5). AB 5, (Lorena Gonzales, D - San Diego), was passed by the California Legislature and signed into law on September 11, 2019, by Governor Gavin Newsom.

"AB 5 threatens the livelihood of more than 70,000 independent truckers," said CTA's CEO, Shawn Yadon. "The bill wrongfully restricts their ability to provide services as owner-operators and, therefore, runs afoul of federal law."

In the suit, plaintiffs argue that the classification test in the Dynamex decision and codified by AB 5 is preempted by the supremacy and commerce clauses in the U.S. Constitution and is in direct conflict with the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Act (FMCSA) and the Federal Aviation Administration Authorization Act of 1994 (FAAAA).

The new test denies a significant segment of the trucking industry the ability to continue operating as independent owner-operators in California, forcing them to abandon $150,000 investments in clean trucks and the right to set their own schedule and become their own boss.

AB 5, rather than addressing the issue of employee misclassification for all California workers, replaced a long-standing multi-factor test for determining independent contractor status with a one-size-fits-all method, consisting of highly restrictive criteria, riddled with carve-outs and exemptions for specific businesses and industries. Under the new test, independent truckers will be forced to work as employees.

"AB 5 has implications that go beyond employment classification in California," said Robert R. Roginson, an attorney for CTA. "With more than 350,000 independent owner-operators registered in the United States, the new test imposes an

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - With the slash of a sapphire-colored ribbon, Aiman (Simon) Nasrawi last week declared open sesame for the Carmichael treasure-trove he calls Aquamarine.

Jordanian-born, Nasrawi brought his craft to California in 1989. After years of designing for Nordstrom, the jeweler established a store at Watt and Arden. He named the business for the birthstone of his Hmong-American wife, See. The couple and their three daughters live in Carmichael and recently jumped at the opportunity to relocate their bijou boutique closer to home. "Five Points Plaza is a beautiful, secure location," reports the owner. "My customers are making us feel very welcome."

Bursting with colorful carpets, the new Aquamarine is located at 5136 Arden Way, Carmichael. ★

Caregiving Around the Clock

By Brenda Bongiorno, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - This season is all about being thankful, so it is only fitting that November is National Family Caregivers Month. Sacramento County Senior and Adult Services and the Caregiver Action Network would like to recognize, honor and thank those who provide care for someone who is aging, disabled or chronically ill. This year's theme is #BeCareCurious about your loved one's care to ensure they are happy and healthy. This theme is also an important reminder to be thoughtful of the caregivers and their personal health as this responsibility can be physically and psychologically stressful.

A family caregiver is anyone who helps take care of a family member or friend without any professional training. These caregivers want their loved ones to have the best care possible – at the doctor's office, at the hospital and at home.

"Family caregivers are instrumental to our society," said Ruth MacKenzie, Senior and Adult Services Division Manager for the Department of Child, Family and Adult Services. "They fill a gap in our medical system and National Family Caregiver Month is a great way to highlight everything caregivers do for their loved ones. This month, or anytime, thank a family caregiver, show your appreciation as often as you can and step in to assist when possible."

Senior and Adult Services encourages family caregivers across the country to explore #BeCareCurious, ask questions, explore options and share in the care decisions that affect the health and well-being of their loved ones.

5 Things to #BeCareCurious About Your Loved One's Goals

You know your loved one better, and spend more time with them, than anyone else. Talk to them about what their goals are for treatment and their care in general. It can be hard to talk about goals when facing a disease, but these talks help make sure your loved ones are getting the care they want.

Treatment Options

Is your loved one responding well to treatment? If not, ask your doctor if there are other options. New treatments are available every day. Whether it's a different dose, a new medication or a new procedure, speak up and ask your doctor if there are options you and your loved one should consider.

Research

The internet is a great research tool, but it can also be full of conflicting, and even dangerous, advice – so don't stop there! Be curious about that article you just read. Is it from a reliable source? Talk to friends, family and doctors to ask as many questions as possible to learn about your loved one's condition.

The Care Plan

If your loved one is in the hospital, be sure to ask what happens next. Will they need home care after being discharged? Are there new medications or procedures you will need to manage at home? Will you be trained on what to do and how to do it? A lot of care happens at home and you need to be prepared to provide that care.

Coverage

Don't be shy about asking questions about insurance coverage. Is your parents' Medicare plan the best option or should you change plans during open enrollment? Was a medication switched for a medical reason, or because your insurance no longer covered it? If coverage was denied, what can you do to change their minds?

If you or someone you know is a family caretaker, it is important to check-in with that person regularly as they have taken on a very stressful role. Senior and Adult Services suggests offering to provide "respite," so the caregiver can have a chance to rest and recharge. Caregiver.org offers helpful self-care tips for the caregiver.

"If family caretakers aren't able to take the time needed for self-care, they may experience a health scare themselves," said MacKenzie. "Caregiver burnout can be associated with serious health issues including depression. Families and communities need to develop sustainable care plans that do not just rely on a single individual."

Families can look for respite care by asking friends and family or looking at government-funded programs including the U.S. Administration on Aging's Eldercare Locator, the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs and Legacy Corps or nonprofits including but not limited to Alzheimer's Foundation of America. You can also check with adult daycare centers, faith-based organizations, coworkers and online communities.

Visit the County's Senior and Adult Services webpage to learn more about their programs, provider services, volunteer opportunities and resources. ★ network of contacts with her."

The appointee feels Carmichael has opened its arms in welcome. "We're all on the same page in our investment in this community," she says. "I'm grateful my ideas are valued."

Mendocino-raised, Young's work ethic comes from ancestors employed in logging, fishing, farming and industry. Her own business flair germinated at 12 years old as she offered 10c seed packets door-to-door in Fort Bragg. "My customers were mostly immigrants – there wasn't much English exchanged," she recalls. "So, my first lesson in effective communication was to adapt with every few hundred feet." Young later became a banker, an insurance agent, a notary public and a business-owner. She coached children's softball teams and migrated to the world of parks and recreation. "Through that, I learned so much about people and community relations," she says. She managed Ukiah aquatic and sport camps that employed hundreds of staffers and volunteers. She served on her children's school boards, booster groups and PTAs. "The more I raised my hand," attests the mom of two, "the more I learned."

Young's move to Sacramento followed recruitment as a Carmichael Park District administrative analyst. "That's just a fancy term for doing everything," she admits. Her CRPD projects have included La Sierra Community Center renovation; installation of a new $279,000 playground and coordination of fundraiser galas.

Executive Director Young will officially begin her Chamber job in January. Retiring executive Stone is already mentoring her transition. "Virginia is well-respected and brilliant," considers her successor. "She truly cares about our community. She'll do everything she can to help me succeed."

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Celebrities of the art and science worlds mix with local and national celebrities in ARC's witty and wonderful production of the off-Broadway hit, Picasso at the Lapin Agile. This thought provoking comedy by beloved actor/comedian/screenwriter Steve Martin is being directed by Janis Stevens, "an internationally acclaimed actress and one of the leading lights of Sacramento theatre" (Tobias Wolff, Stories on Stage). What's more, local theatre veteran, Don Hayden, is a pivotal member of the talented cast, which also features Kennedy Center ACTF* nominees Jared Cagley (as Einstein), Zach Ekstedt, and Fatemeh Mehraban. Elly award-winning designers Gail Russell and Kathy Burleson round out the show's production team. The play opens Nov. 22 for a three-week run at ARC's intimate Stage Two Theatre.

Martin's quirky comedy places Albert Einstein and Pablo Picasso in a bohemian Paris pub (which Picasso actually frequented in real life). The fictional meeting takes place in 1904, just before the renowned scientist transformed physics with his theory of relativity and the celebrated painter set the art world afire with cubism. The two young geniuses muse on the century's achievements and prospects as well as other fanciful topics with infectious dizziness, as entertaining subplots filled with romance, intrigue and silliness swirl around them. The banter is philosophical, fascinating and thoroughly fun!

All performances of Picasso at the Lapin Agile will be at the American River College's Stage Two Theatre, 4700 College Oak Drive, Sacramento. Parking fee is $2 (at machines in Lot "D"). SEATING IS LIMITED. Ticket prices are $15/general, and $12/student/seniors/sarta. Children age 4 and under not admitted.

For tickets and information, go to ARCtheatre.org or call the ARC Box Office at (916) 484-8234. Performance days and times are as follows:

Friday/Saturday, Nov. 22, 23, 29, 30, Dec. 6, 7 at 8pm

impermissible burden on interstate commerce under the U.S. Constitution's commerce clause and infringes upon decades-old congressional intent to prevent states from regulating the rates, routes and services of the trucking industry."

For decades in California, more than 70,000 predominantly minority-owned truckers have built their businesses as independent owner-operators. These truckers have just recently invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in their vehicles to meet the nation's strictest air quality laws.

"Independent truckers are typically experienced drivers who have previously worked as employees and have, by choice, struck out on their own. We should not deprive them of that choice. Some of the country's most successful trucking companies were started by entrepreneurial independent truckers," Yadon added. "We can protect workers from misclassification without infringing upon independent truckers' right to make a living in California." ★

Elizabeth Warren's Fail on 'Medicare for All'

The clear loser of the Democratic primary is "Medicare for All."

First, it demonstrated the unreliability of Kamala Harris out of the gate, when she endorsed it before quickly backing off. Now, it has blunted the momentum of Elizabeth Warren, made a mockery of her claim to be an uber-wonk and shredded her implicit appeal to Bernie Sanders supporters as an equally committed left-winger without the baggage.

Under pressure for weeks for details related to her version of the proposal, Warren has now backed all the way down to promising to pass Medicare for All by the end of the third year of her presidency.

This is an implicit concession that she won't do it at all. No presidential candidate ever pledges to do something important in Year 3. That's when, if history is any guide, a president has suffered a midterm drubbing and lost all legislative momentum. Warren wants us to believe that this would be the opportune time for her to pass perhaps the most sweepingly intrusive government measure in American history.

Warren's fundamental mistake was to believe, like almost all the Democrats early in the race, that she had to chase Bernie Sanders around the track, which inevitably involved backing his signature health care proposal. But it became immediately evident that it's one thing to promise to eliminate all private health insurance if you are a self-declared socialist; it's quite another if you imagine yourself anything short of that.

As soon as another erstwhile Bernie band-wagoner, Harris, uttered out loud that she'd end private health insurance, it created a controversy that she was clearly uncomfortable with. As a way to wiggle out of it, she came up with her own plan.

Warren lasted longer. Her undoing was that her resolute unwillingness to say that she'd raise middle-class taxes to pay for the program undermined her self-image as a woman with a "plan for that." She had to jerry-rig a financing program built on such outlandishly rosy assumptions about costs and revenues that even her journalistic cheerleaders have been skeptical. As she continued to take fire, Warren announced her "transition" plan, effectively saying the program is not a first-term priority.

In so doing, she has managed to bring on herself the worst of both worlds. Democratic purists will be disappointed in her, and Sanders voters feel confirmed in any doubts they already had about her commitment.

It should have been foreseeable that proposing a ruinously expensive, enormously coercive health program would present political problems. Even Democratic primary voters aren't fully sold on a Medicare for All plan that eliminates all private insurance.

Sanders has gotten away with it because socialism is his brand and conviction. He hand-waves away questions on the specifics — what do they matter, when the revolution will make all things possible?

In contrast, Warren let the critics get into her head, just as she did over her purported Native American heritage, and stumbled into a messy, self-destructive response, just as she did with her DNA test last year. Democrats have to be wondering, over and above her struggles with Medicare for All, if this is really who they want to send up against the endlessly combative and needling Donald Trump next year.

Dave Ramsey Says

your husband finishing school, so his income goes up and you're trying to get out of debt, that fine. I love it when people are willing to work their tails off to have better lives. But if that's your focus, and at the same time you're trying to rationalize buying something you don't really need, that's a bad thing. You don't need a new cell phone for a camera, especially if the camera is the only reason you're buying it. You can find decent digital cameras everywhere these days for $50 or less.

I understand the joy that goes along with having a child. I have three kids, and we were absolutely ecstatic each and every time one was born. And, of course, we wanted good photos of them all. But right now, I think you're trying to rationalize a phone upgrade based on the emotion of a new baby. As an exercise of your value system, that's a tendency you need to break. This is a test, Jamie. What you're talking about here is a luxury, not a necessity. Rationalization is one of the prime causes of overspending.

Please understand, I'm not picking on you and I don't mean to be harsh. We've all flunked this test at times. But this is an important moment where your judgment and values are concerned. It's your call, but you really don't need to blow $350 on a new phone right now. — Dave

Dave Ramsey is CEO of Ramsey Solutions. He has authored seven best-selling books, including The Total Money Makeover. The Dave Ramsey Show is heard by more than 14 million listeners each week on 600 radio stations and multiple digital platforms. Follow Dave on the web at daveramsey.com and on Twitter at @DaveRamsey. ★

Don't Use Emotion to Rationalize an Upgrade

Dear Dave,
My husband will be finishing physician assistant school in December, just a few days before our first baby is due. We've got about $70,000 in student loan debt, and we're trying to get everything paid off. Both our cell phones are pretty old, and I'd like to get a new one that costs $350 so we can have really good pictures of the baby. My job is the only income we have right now, and I'm making $45,000 before taxes. Is this a silly thing to do in our situation? — Jamie

Dear Jamie,
This is an important question. It's not important because $350 is a big deal in the grand scheme of things, it's important because you're making a judgment call as to what you're focusing on and what you value.

Capitol Pops Concert Band Performs Free Holiday Concert

By Linda Glover

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Capitol Pops Concert Band will wrap up its 23rd season with a free, open to the public holiday concert at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 7, 2019, at the Rusch Park Gym, 7801 Auburn Blvd., in Citrus Heights.

Under the baton of Director Judith Steinle, the CPCB will once again play traditional favorites, seasonal musical hits and carols in its "Holiday Celebration" program.

This performance, sponsored by the Sunrise Recreation and Park District and the City of Citrus Heights, is family friendly and a great way to usher in the holiday season. The two-hour concert includes a 20-minute intermission.

Various prizes will be on display for donation ticket drawings. The public also will have the opportunity to purchase a variety of colorful poinsettias after the concert concludes. Longtime CPCB supporter Eisleys Nursery of Auburn has donated a large poinsettia plant as a grand prize in support of the band's student scholarship fund.

Started in 1997, the CPCB has performed a diverse portfolio of high-quality, well-prepared music heard by thousands of concert-goers throughout Northern California. Based in Citrus Heights, the self-supporting, nonprofit community band of about 50 musicians represents a wide cross-section of the Sacramento area. Annual Operation Gobble Distributes Thanksgiving Turkeys

By Rachael Serrao, Randle Communications

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Golden State Water Company (Golden State Water) was pleased to partner with the Rancho Cordova City Council, Rotary Club of Rancho Cordova, Grocery Outlet Rancho Cordova and Kiwanis Club of Rancho Cordova to distribute turkeys this holiday season to local nonprofit organizations that serve families and individuals with limited resources through its annual Operation Gobble outreach program.

Operation Gobble is a philanthropic partnership between Golden State Water, the California Water Association and local and state elected officials. This year, Golden State Water employees distributed more than 8,000 turkeys to local community-based organizations, churches, food banks, senior centers and other nonprofits in the communities it serves.

"Holiday memories are built around a warm meal with loved ones," said Paul Schubert, Northern District General Manager for Golden State Water. "Golden State Water appreciates the opportunity to partner with local elected leaders and community organizations to deliver Thanksgiving turkeys to those in our community who need them most."

Operation Gobble has been a Golden State Water tradition since 1990. Over the last 29 years, Golden State Water has donated more than 240,500 turkeys through the program.

"Operation Gobble is an important holiday tradition for all of our employees," said Ronald Moore, Golden State Water's Operation Gobble project leader. "We take great pride in serving more than 80 communities in California, and that service extends far beyond the water we deliver to homes. It's also about giving back."

The Pilgrim's Failed Socialist Experiment

Harold Pease, Ph. D.

Few realize that New England's first form of government under the Pilgrims was communalism (socialism) where "each produced according to his ability and each received according to his needs," applied in practice more than two centuries before Karl Marx first penned the above quote. The result, "share the wealth," then and now was, and always will be, shared poverty.

William Bradford, Plymouth colony's governor its first 30 years, wrote of the agreement between the 102 Pilgrim Mayflower passengers and the financial "Adventurers" in his book Of Plymouth Plantation. He noted that the seven-year contract signed July

1, 1620, before leaving Plymouth England, stipulated that the Pilgrims were to pool, for common benefit, "all profits and benefits that are got by trade, traffic, trucking, working, fishing, or any other means of any person or persons..." It further noted "that at the end of the seven years, the capital and profits, viz. the houses, lands, goods and chattels, be equally divided betwixt the Adventurers and Planters..."

During this time the colonists were to "have their meat, drink, apparel, and all provisions out of the common stock and goods of the said colony." It doesn't get more socialistic than this because the government divvied out the goods and loafers received the same as those who worked.

The first two years the result was shortages and starvation. Half the colonists died. No one did more than the minimal because the incentive to excel was destroyed by the contract. The industrious were neutralized. Bradford wrote of the scarcity of food "no supply was heard of, neither knew they when they might expect any." The contract, Bradford added, "was found to breed much confusion and discontent and retard much employment that would have been to the benefit and comfort. For the young men, that were most able and fit for labour and service, did repine that they should spend their time and strength to work for other men's wives and children without any recompense..."

In other words, socialism made strong men lazy. Bradford spoke of another problem because of the government created famine—thievery. Even in this Christian community, "much was stolen both by night and day..." to alleviate the prevailing condition of hunger.

The "feast" of the first Thanksgiving did fill their bellies briefly, and they were grateful, but abundance was anything but common. Harvests were not bountiful in that year nor the next. Why did this happen? Because they had fallen victim to the socialistic philosophy of "share the wealth." This disincentivized the productive base of society.

After two years of such, with the survival of the colony at stake, they contemplated upon "how they might raise as much corn as they could, and obtain a better crop than they had done, that they might not still thus languish in misery." They opted to abandon the incentive killing socialist contract in favor of the free market. And so they "assigned to every family a parcel of land, according to the proportion of their number, for that end..."

The effects were almost immediate. A delighted Governor Bradford wrote: "This had very good success, for it made all hands very industrious, so as much more corn was planted than otherwise would have been by any means the Governor ... could use, and saved him a great deal of trouble, and gave far better content. The women now went willingly into the field, and took their little ones with them to set corn; which before would allege weakness and inability; whom to have compelled would have been thought great tyranny and oppression."

Then suddenly, as though a night changed to day, the crop of 1623 was bounteous, and those thereafter to do with the weather. Bradford wrote, "Instead of famine now God gave them plenty and the face of things was changed, to the rejoicing of the hearts of many, for which they blessed God." He concluded later, "any general want or famine hath not been amongst them since to this day."

One variable alone made the difference and ended the three-year famine. They abandoned the notion of government (or corporation) owning the means of production and distribution in favor of the individual having property and being responsible to take care of himself. Before, no one benefited by working because he received the same compensation as those who did not. After the change everyone kept the benefits of his labor. Those who chose not to work basically chose also to be poor and the government (corporation) no longer confiscated from those who produced to give to those who did not.

In other words, the free market (capitalism) is a much greater stimulus than governmental force. The Pilgrims now wished to work because they got to keep the benefits of their labor.

Secure property rights are the key to prosperity for all who wish to work. When this right is threatened by confiscatory taxation or outright confiscation of property, or by excessive government rules and regulations governing such, whether planned as in a contract enforced by the government at Plymouth, or gradual as in our day, work and production slow and can eventually stop. The answer for them was to extract socialism immediately from their midst, as it is for us today as well. May we have the wisdom to do so?

New Management Announced for Gibson Ranch

Ken Casparis, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Gibson Ranch Regional Park is getting a new management team. This park has been managed by GRP 2011, LLC since April 2011, and, effective Sunday, Dec. 1, 2019, the Sacramento County Department of Regional Parks will take over management.

“When Regional Parks acquired this property in 1962, the goal was to retain the atmosphere of the ranch,” said Liz Bellas, Director of Regional Parks. “We are excited to continue working toward this goal, while also providing a large-scale regional park and offering facilities and unique recreational experiences not generally available in local or neighborhood parks.”

Gibson Ranch Regional Park is a 355-acre park that has an equestrian center and includes roughly 100 acres of pasture, a multi-use field and five miles of equestrian trails. Within the central core of Gibson Ranch are a Ranch House suitable for weddings and other gatherings; large stable and barn; numerous storage barns; paddocks; corrals; a horse arena and cabins, which can be used as overnight facilities for camp programs or other events. The park also contains group and family picnic facilities, restrooms and a large fishing lake.

In preparing for this management transition, Regional Parks has opened four full-time positions and awarded Trail Brothers, LLC a five (5) year contract for equestrian services.

Trail Brothers, LLC will operate and provide horse trail riding, lessons, training, and horse boarding services, at reasonable rates, to enhance park visitors’ recreational and educational experiences at Gibson Ranch Regional Park.

Regional Parks will be hosting a community volunteer event at Gibson Ranch on Sunday, Dec. 8, from 9 a.m. – Noon. The public is welcome to join Parks staff as we complete some volunteer projects around the park.

The history of Gibson Ranch goes back to the early 1800s when the area now known as Rio Linda was part of Rancho Del Paso Mexican Land Grant. At that time and in later years, the area began to be homesteaded by a few families and was called Dry Creek. Originally, the ranch was homesteaded by the Wood family who built a home there in the 1870s. The land passed through several owners until the 1950s when approximately 1,700 acres were owned by the R.H. Gibson family. The County of Sacramento purchased a portion of the property in 1962 from the Valley Investment Company and created Gibson Ranch Regional Park. Subsequent land acquisitions in the 1970’s and beyond brought the total acreage of the park to 355 acres.

The vehicle entrance fee for Gibson Ranch Regional Park, and all other County Parks, is $5. Regional Parks Annual Pass holders receive free daily entry. For more information on parks passes, visit the Regional Parks website. ★

SAFE CU President and CEO Dave Roughton Receives Advocate of Year Award

By Erica Dias, SAFE Credit Union

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - SAFE Credit Union President and CEO Dave Roughton received the California Advocate of the Year Award for 2019 from the California and Nevada Credit Union Leagues at an awards ceremony in Monterey, California.

“I am very pleased to receive this honor,” Roughton said. “It’s essential that credit union leaders make advocacy a focus of what they do. Providing our members with exceptional service includes ensuring that we actively work to reduce unnecessary and expensive regulations while promoting policies that benefit the cooperative credit union mission.”

In announcing the award, Heather deNecochea, manager of political advocacy at the California and Nevada Credit Union League, said: “Dave Roughton has been instrumental in nurturing local relationships with elected officials in the Greater Sacramento area. He has made community and engagement a top priority and has yielded a positive and open brand for the credit union movement. Dave has hosted multiple fundraisers at his credit union and routinely makes donations to our PAC and candidates. Dave prioritizes advocacy events by always ensuring SAFE Credit Union’s representation is at all levels. We appreciate his dedication and commitment to our advocacy efforts.”

As a credit union industry leader, Roughton advocates for policies that benefit SAFE’s 235,000 members by working directly with local and state elected officials. He leads delegations to Washington, D.C, for the annual Credit Union National Association Governmental Affairs Conference at which credit union executives connect directly with members of Congress. He also champions the credit union cooperative movement with state lawmakers during the annual California Government Relations Rally.

Roughton serves on the California Credit Union League Board of Directors and is a member of the Regulatory Advocacy Committee. In the past he has served on the California Credit Union League Legislative Advocacy Committee; the CO-OP Financial Services Board of Directors; and as chair of the MBL, LLC Board of Directors. ★

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - It’s time for our annual “Adopt a Grandparent” Fundraiser. Local Mary Kay Sales Directors and Beauty Consultants use their businesses as a way to give back to seniors with a program we started calling “Adopt a Grandparent”. It breaks my heart that each holiday season, many residents of long term care homes are “forgotten”. Nearly 3 million go without visits or gifts. This is where we come in! We put together small gifts to deliver to the residents of care centers that we have chosen to sponsor. Last year our unit sponsored residents at Park Place, Mission Carmichael Health Care Center, and Almond Avenue Residence Club. Such a small gesture can bring so much joy.

A big thank you goes to our previous sponsors. Because of you, over the last few years, we have been able to gift between 500-800 residents in Sacramento County. This year we would like to gift 500 residents, but we can’t do it without you! It’s $17 to sponsor 2 seniors. Each resident sponsored will receive a pair of fuzzy socks or mittens, a hand or foot cream and a hand written card on your behalf!

Thank you all so much in advance. If you decide to donate, please call or text Natalie Miller at 916-621-0833 or email www.millernatalie29@yahoo.com ★

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

Implants as low as $99.00 per month

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
