Denny's is Now Burnt Toast

Bv Paul Scholl

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG)

After several days of destructive training, The Sacramento Metropolitan Fire District (Metro Fire or the District) burned the former Denny's restaurant in a very rare nighttime live fire training drill last Wednesday night, which lasted until Thursday morning in Carmichael.

The drill attracted a large crowd of about 1500 people in the surrounding areas on Fair Oaks Blvd. and Manzanita, most wanting to see a huge blaze and fire show. With the training taking place over many hours, the crowd dissipated somewhat by midnight. Many came to see firefighter heroes in training action.

Sacramento Metro Fire had widely announced the live fire activities commencing at approximately 10 pm., during which the building would be burned completely down.

Beginning at 6 pm, Metro Fire crews made final preparations on the building for the evening's burn. This included forcible entry with power

You Want To Do What!?

Commentary by Sal Arrigo, Jr.

"I am thinking of ending my life using one of the endof-life laws."

In order to make some distinction, the definition of euthanasia states that a doctor is allowed by law to end a person's life by a painless means, as long as the patient and their family agree. The definition of assisted suicide is that a doctor assists a patient to actually commit suicide if they request it.

Eight states and the District of Columbia have enacted legislation that allows people to choose death over life. Death with dignity statutes allow mentally competent adult state residents who have a terminal illness with a confirmed prognosis of having six or fewer months remainand receive a prescription medication to hasten their inevitable, imminent a longtime friend this quesdeath. By adding a voluntary option to the continuum of end-of-life care, these laws give patients dignity, control, and peace of mind during their final days with family and loved ones.

In order to write this article, I had to ask people this hypothetical question - "what advice would you give if someone that was close to you said they were considering assisted suicide as a means to take consider another option?" away their pain?" To clarify my question - if a person decided there was no hope for recovery from a health condition, and the only alternative they feel open to them is death, how would you respond?

tion. He said, "I would ask if they have discussed this with their doctor and the most trusted and loved people in their lives. If they have and they still feel compelled, I would support their decision. Offer empathy." Another friend, Michael Rubash, said, "this is a tough question. I would ask if they had to live their lives in a hospital connected to tubes, would they wish to The option Michael was referring to was assisted suicide.

As with any highly emotional subject, there are plenty of opinions. For instance, what are the attitudes of the religious I asked Casey Robinson, community? I recently read the suffering caused by an article published by the Pew Research Center, titled, "Religious Groups Views on End of Life Issues." Although it is several years old, the views have not changed. The Roman Catholic Church strongly opposes physician-assisted suicide and euthanasia. The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) opposes physician-assisted suicide and other efforts by medical professionals to speed a patient's death.

In 1991, the Episcopal Church passed a resolution against assisted suicide and other forms of active euthanasia, stating that it is "morally wrong and unacceptable to take a human life in order to relieve involved decision on my part to write this article as during my research I had to ask myself this question, "where is our nation heading regarding the right to die?" All too often, people witness miracles that defy all science, politics, and rational thought. I personally know of people who were given six months or less to live and they wound up living for years after their diagnosis. This is why there are so many decisions to make if you decide to end your own life through the assisted suicide option.

As for opinions representing the opposite viewpoints, there are agencies that are ready and willing to provide end-of-life legislation and information to help you I admit, it was a rather make the decision to end your life legally. Two examples are, the Compassion & Choices organization (formerly known as the Hemlock Society) and the Death with Dignity National Center.

> Barbara Gillogly, Ph.D., a Developmental Psychologist and licensed Family Therapist, shared her thoughts: "For those who have a terminal diagnosis and wish to exercise control over how and when to leave this world, assisted suicide is a viable option. Someone else's belief should not be imposed to limit the rights of others."

If you live in one of the states that has a version of you are determined to seek options to end your life; you must understand all of the ramifications that the laws allows. All of the laws have a process that you must abide by in order for the assisted suicide to be legal. Your decision will be monumental. You and all those who will be affected by your decision need to be well-educated. According to the Death with Dignity organization, the following states have end-of-life legislation:

California (End of Life Option Act; approved in 2015, in effect from 2016); Colorado (End of Life Options Act; 2016); District of Columbia (D.C. Death with Dignity Act; 2016/2017); Hawaii (Our Care, Our Choice Act; 2018/2019); Maine (Death with Dignity Act; 2019); New Jersey (Aid in Dying for the Terminally Ill Act; 2019); Oregon (Death with Dignity Act; 1994/1997); Vermont (Patient Choice and Control at the End of Life Act; 2013); and Washington (Death with Dignity Act; 2008).

Montana does not have a death with dignity statute; however, the endof-life option is legal in the state through a Montana Supreme Court ruling.

Human beings have trouble making decisions on a daily basis. Some may decide that ending their life through assisted suicide is no "big deal" and can make the decision quickly. For many others, I am betting this decision may be the toughest of all!

Volunteers Needed to Help Kids Read

By Kristin Thébaud, Kristin Thébaud Communications

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Local residents age 50 and up are needed this fall to help kids in kindergarten through third grade improve their reading through AARP Experience Corps, managed locally by United Way California Capital Region. To learn more and sign up to volunteer, visit YourLocalUnitedWay.org/ Experience-Corps-Literacy-Program.

"Kids who are not reading at grade level by fourth grade are more likely to fall behind in all subjects, including math and science, making them less likely to graduate from high school," said Stephanie Bray, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region. "This corps of volunteers is essential to ensuring our community's kids are successful."

Volunteers serve at local schools approximately two days per week for two to three hours a day throughout the school year, tutoring and tracking progress for groups of two to three students for the year. Volunteers meet monthly to share best practices and receive literacy and classroom management experience. They receive training to become mentors and role models and to hone their skills to help students reach their reading goals.

Last year, United Way's AARP Experience Corps helped 415 students with reading -62 percent of those who were reading below grade level improved their reading and literary performance. In 2018, program participant Robla School District reported more students meeting and exceeding standards in English Language Arts compared to 2017 – the rate of annual increase was three times higher than state and county averages.

"The results are encouraging and worth the work," said Experience Corps volunteer Mary Ann Rider. "I never felt like I was cut out to be a teacher, but I felt prepared by the curriculum I had learned in our training. Plus getting to know the kids is fun. If you're looking for volunteer work, what's more important than helping a child learn to read?"

United Way California Capital Region is one of only seven nonprofits across the country helping to grow Experience Corps, the evidence-based AARP Foundation literacy program that improves the reading skills of children, enriches the lives of volunteer tutors and strengthens schools in local communities.

For nearly 100 years, United Way California Capital Region has brought local people together to make community change happen. Today, the nonprofit is bringing people together across Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, Placer and Yolo counties for its Square One Project, a 20-year promise to significantly increase the number of students in our region who graduate from high school ready for success in college and beyond. United Way believes ending poverty starts in school and is working to ensure kids meet important milestones and their families receive support and resources. Sacramento County

Defendant Convicted for Murdering Neighbor Over House Party DATE: October 2, 2019 CASE: Mario Junior Garcia

(Case #16FE015384) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Matt Chisholm, Homicide Unit

Mario Junior Garcia and the victim were neighbors. Garcia was behaving recklessly in the neighborhood, including hosting large parties with loud music and alcohol. After one of the parties on July 17, 2016, a shooting occurred outside of Garcia's home. One bullet went through the victim's living room window and lodged in the wall, and four other bullets hit cars parked in front of the victim's home. The victim reported this to law enforcement and confronted Garcia about the damage to the victim's house. Garcia agreed to pay for some of the damage but never followed through. On Sunday night August 8, 2016, Garcia had another large party with loud music and approximately 100 attendees. The victim and other neighbors attempted to shut down the party by calling 911 and attempting to speak to Garcia. An argument ensued between Garcia and the victim. Without warning, Garcia pulled out a gun and shot the victim three times in the chest. The victim retreated to his home, where his wife and other family members attempted to stop the bleeding. The victim was transported to the hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Garcia fled from the scene. He surrendered to law enforcement approximately 36 hours later.

Garcia faces a maximum sentence of 40 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for December 13, 2019, at 1:30 p.m. in Department 25 before the Honorable Laurie Earl.

Defendant Sentenced for Murdering Wife in Land Park Home DATE: October 4, 2019

CASE: Mark Long (Case #18FE000521) PROSECUTOR: Principal Criminal Attorney Caroline Park, Homicide Unit

The Honorable Eugene Balonon sentenced Mark Long to 26 years to life in prison. On August 28, 2019, a jury convicted Long of the firstdegree murder of his wife, Susan Roberts. The jury also found that Long used a deadly weapon in the commission of the murder.

On January 6, 2018, Susan Roberts did not show up for dinner with friends. The next day, her friends went to Ms. Roberts' home, which she shared with her husband, Mark Long. After the friends called for a welfare check, Sacramento police officers responded to the residence. SWAT was eventually called out, and a stand-off ensued for hours. After entry was made, Long was taken into custody. Ms. Roberts' body was found deceased inside the home.

Defendant Sentenced for Sexually Assaulting 10-Year-Old Victim DATE: October 4, 2019

CASE: David Snyder (Case #18FE019795) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Bruce Chang

The Honorable Steven Gevercer sentenced David Snyder to 8 years in prison. On August 6, 2019, a jury convicted Snyder of two counts of committing a lewd act upon a child.

Snyder sexually assaulted a 10-year-old female family member on multiple occasions. He also attempted to take photos of the victim as she got out of the shower. \star

The Problem With Impeachment

Impeachment is about to make everything worse.

If our politics seems overheated, our institutions beleaguered and our public debate degraded, just wait until we are in the midst of the impeachment debate.

Democrats have had an impeachment itch that they've been desperate to scratch ever since Donald Trump took office. For them, Ukraine is equal parts a genuine outrage and an excuse, the release valve for nearly three years of fear and loathing.

Rather than conducting himself as if he's aware that a hysterical opposition is eager to impeach him, Trump has embraced constant provocation. He has shown little interest in distinguishing between himself and the high office that he holds. Although we need to learn more, there's clearly an impropriety in his handling of Ukraine.

Enough to impeach and remove him? Presidentiallevel diplomacy always involves horse-trading, and it, surely, is not the first time a president has prodded an ally to do him a favor in his political interest. The risk of Trump's heavy-handed request -- an aid package to Ukraine was being held up at the time -- was that the Ukrainians would have felt compelled to manufacture damaging information on the Bidens. That didn't happen, and the aid, thanks to congressional pressure, was released in short order. So far as we know, Ukraine lacks the hallmarks of other presidential scandals. There's been no cover-up. Trying to keep a transcript of a presidential call from leaking doesn't qualify. And once the controversy became public, the White House rapidly released key documents.

Nor is there any violation of law. Trump's ask of Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky wasn't extortion or a campaignfinance violation under any rational interpretation of our statutes. If it was, practically every president in our history would have had criminal exposure.

Unless there's a thermonuclear revelation, impeachment will be an exercise in futility, inevitably ending with Trump's Senate acquittal. GOP senators, by and large, are going to end up where their voters are. You can't expect Republicans to be told, falsely, for two and a half years straight that some conspiracy with the Russians was going to be uncovered imminently and then accept at face value a five-alarm interpretation of Ukraine.

Democrats can point to the predicate of the Clinton impeachment. Although if Trump had flagrantly and repeatedly perjured himself, he'd have been impeached long ago. The lesson from the 1990s is, Yes, you can impeach in the absence of any real hope of convicting in the Senate, but it's a lot of trouble to go through for basically a censure vote.

If Trump were for some reason actually removed on anything like the current universe of possible evidence, it would create a crisis of legitimacy at the heart of our government. Think of what the U.K. is going through with Brexit, only worse. Ten of millions of Trump voters would feel cheated and disenfranchised, and the roiling populism that Trump has tapped into would get stronger, not dissipate.

Congress has shown before that it's possible to conduct a big, news-dominating investigation without impeachment proceedings; it's what it did during the Iran-Contra hearings in Ronald Reagan's second term. But impeachment is the verdict that Democrats have always wanted, and any offense will do.

Live Like Your Income Hasn't Changed

Dear Dave,

I'll be graduating from college in December, and I'll have a job waiting for me that pays $50,000 a year. This will bring our household income up to about $95,000. The problem is we've got $18,000 in student loan debt, $2,500 in credit card debt, and $4,000 to pay in medical bills. We're living in an apartment right now, so how should we handle this income increase regarding our debt situation? – Mikayla

Dear Mikayla,

Congratulations on your decision to get control of your finances and your apply it, plus any other cash degree! If you two just keep living the way you have been, minus the debt, and put the rest toward the debt you've incurred, you could be debt-free in a year or so.

Remember, just because you've got a lot more money coming in doesn't mean you should double your entertainment budget, take an expensive vacation, or run out and buy a new car. The first thing I'd recommend is sitting down together, and working out a written, monthly budget. Give every dollar a name and a job to do before the coming month begins.

Don't forget the debt snowball, either! List all your debts from smallest to largest, and attack the smallest—that credit card debt-first with a vengeance, while making minimum payments on the medical bills and student loan debt. Once you've paid off the credit card debt, roll the money from that payment over and you can scrape together, toward the medical bills. Once the medical bills are out of the way, repeat the process and roll the payments over again targeting the student loan debt. At this point, you should have a bunch of cash to throw at those student loans each month until all that debt is off your backs once and for all.

I'm really proud of you two, Mikayla. If you'll follow my plan from here on out, you'll gain control of your money and be set to start saving and building real wealth! - Dave
