CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Del Campo High School students this year donated $50,000 to a child-cancer non-profit. Through a gala, a golf tournament and with donations from corporate and private boosters, Kids Helping Kids volunteers continued a seven year fundraising tradition and last week handed their 2019 check to a Keaton's Child Cancer Alliance rep-Fair Oaks resident Asher Armitage, whose recovery from cancer was supported by the student group in 2017.

Executive Order Threatens to Defund Critical Infrastructure Projects

By Bernice Creager, California Trucking Association

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Shawn Yadon, CEO of the California Trucking Association (CTA), issued the following statement in response to the California State Transportation Agency's statement on Governor Gavin Newsom's executive order which proposes to realign billions of dollars from critical road construction and repair to instead fund unspecified climate change projects. In 2017, the California Trucking Association (CTA) supported Senate Bill 1- and subsequent ballot measures - in order to create a reliable source of revenue infrastructure. "Making the decision to support fuel taxes was not without its challenges. Promises were made to the motoring public to fix California's deteriorating roads and bridges. These promises must be kept.

to fix California's crumbling

"If the effect of the executive order is to divert funds from road and bridge repairs, these projects will once again be placed on the back burner, leading to increased congestion and unsafe roads for all motorists.

"CTA and its members will continue to work with the administration and the legislature to strike a workable solution that represents the clear will of California's voting public and trucking industry.'

Since 1934, the California Trucking Association has been serving the commercial motor carrier industry in California and the companies that provide products and services to the trucking industry. A critical and vital component of California's economy, nearly 80 percent of California communities depend solely on trucks to deliver their goods. Carrier membership ranges from individual owner-operators, to small for-hire fleets, to the largest national and international carriers. Allied members of the CTA include other businesses that support the trucking industry.

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Among a crowd of Sacramento leaders, SMUD announced a partnership with the Aerospace Museum of California and a $50,000 sponsorship to host NASA's Hubble Space Telescope Exhibit for local students to experience a once-in-alifetime STEM education experience.

The announcement came as dozens of area leaders, residents and children got a sneak peek of the exhibit as it opened its doors to the public for Fall

"This is an incredible opportunity to expose students to science, technology, engineering and math in a new and innovative way," said SMUD CEO and General Manager Arlen Orchard. "Our goal is to help the museum inspire and expose students from all over the region to the expansive possibilities in STEM education and STEM-related careers, so they truly can reach for the stars."

The exhibit features a scaled replica of NASA's Hubble Space Telescope and includes hands-on, allow students to explore the technology used in space to gaze at distant stars, planets and galaxies. They will also be able to learn about the new James Webb Space Telescope and how it will contribute

Aquamarine Jewelers Joins Carmichael's Five Points Plaza

Owner and jewelry designer, Aiman Nasrawi, of Aquamarine Jewelers joins the Carmichael business community at Five Points Plaza. Photo by Patrick Larenas

By Patrick Larenas

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Since September 15, besides splendor, brilliance and elegance, you may encounter the familiar face of Aiman Nasrawi of Aquamarine Jewelers at his new location of 5136 Arden Way, Carmichael in Five Points Plaza. In the retail side of the business since 1996, Aquamarine Jewelers presents a variety of brands, and provides repairs and custom designed jewelry from accurate sketchings, 3D modelings, castings and finally to unique inlaid pieces.

Nasrawi brings with him over 25 years of experience in the jewelry industry and descends from a family of jewelers. Originally at the beckoning of one of his brothers, Alex, in the San Francisco area, Nasrawi's talent and technique has come to be recognized as that of a jewelers' jeweler, being for many years the 'to go specialist' for Nordstrom throughout Northern California.

Despite his extensive reach, for most of his life Aiman Nasrawi, his wife and their three daughters Sienna, Vanessa and Alina have lived in Carmichael. He says, "most of my customers are from this area, so I jumped at the opportunity to move the shop into this very welcoming shopping center." Previously his jewelry shop was located at Watt and Arden.

Sacramento Fugitive Returned from Denmark to the United States

Federal Bureau of Investigation Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) announced Mark Anthony Smith, 55, fugitive wanted for crimes against a child in Sacramento County, was returned to the United States following his extradition from Denmark.

Smith, who was wanted for federal unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, was located in Copenhagen, Denmark on July 5, 2019, and detained by the Danish authorities pending extradition to the United States. He was then taken into custody by agents with the Federal Bureau of Investigation Sacramento Field Office on October 4, 2019, in Copenhagen, Denmark, and escorted to Sacramento, where he arrived on October 4, 2019. Smith was then transferred to the custody of the Sacramento State Police Department – the police department for California State University, Sacramento and booked into the Sacramento County Jail.

On May 4, 1995, Smith was charged in Sacramento County with two felony counts of committing a lewd and lascivious act upon a child under the age of 14 and one felony count of attempted kidnapping for the purpose of committing a lewd and lascivious act upon a child under the age of 14. The federal warrant for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution was obtained on February 9,

The FBI Sacramento Field Office, FBI Legal Attaché Office in Copenhagen, INTERPOL, Department of Justice Office of International Affairs, and Sacramento County District Attorney's Office worked collaboratively to ensure Smith's arrest. Smith's return was funded by the United States Government's "Project Welcome Home," which provides funding to assist in the transportation of federal fugitives to the United States.

The FBI continues to work with its law enforcement partners to apprehend criminals charged with state crimes who then flee the jurisdiction. Photos and descriptions of many fugitives wanted by the FBI can be found on the FBI's Wanted webpage on www.fbi.gov or the FBI's Wanted app.

Inquiries regarding Smith's detention and pending prosecution should be directed to the Sacramento County District Attorney's

By Tracy Martin Shearer, American River College Theatre

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - The acclaimed American River College Theatre and award-winning director Nancy Silva open ARC's 2019-20 season with Broadway's wildly popular sci-fi musical, Little Shop of Horrors. Written by the same team that brought the world Disney's Beauty and the Beast, and Aladdin (Howard Ashman and Alan Menken), this deliciously devious musical comedy is running October 11-27 in ARC's impressive mainstage theatre. The show features an accomplished symphonic band (conducted by Susan Hamre), lively costumes and sets by Elly Award winners Gail Russell and Kathy Burleson, and puppets designed by Sacramento's premier puppeteer, Richard Bay.

Talented newcomer Ethan Mack plays Seymour Krelborn, a meek floral assistant who stumbles across a new breed of plant he names "Audrey II" after his beautiful, troubled co-worker Audrey (Kloe Walker), on whom he has a crush. Before he knows it, the 'strange and interesting plant' (voiced by Sacramento favorite Corey D. Winfield) has literally taken on a life of its own... but only as long as Seymour keeps feeding it blood! The R&B-singing carnivorous plant offers Seymour unending fame and fortune... but at what cost? With rich harmonies, saucy patter songs, luscious ballads and Barry White-inspired tunes, this show is a musical feast for plant and audience members alike!

Performance days and times are as follows:

Fridays (Oct. 18, 25) at 8pm (the 10/25 show features an ARC Oak Café dinner option and is ASL interpreted) Saturdays (Oct. 19, 26) at 8pm Sundays (Oct. 20, 27) at 2pm Thursdays (Oct. 17, 24) at 6:30pm

All performances of Little Shop of Horrors will be at the ARC Theatre, 4700 College Oak Drive. Parking is $2 in Lot D (College Oak and Myrtle). Ticket prices are $18 (general), $15 (student, senior, SARTA), with group rates also available. Children 4 and under are not

HOW DO I PREPARE FOR A PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFF?

WHAT EVERY PG&E CUSTOMER NEEDS TO KNOW

Do you have an emergency kit with nonperishable food, one gallon of water per person per day, medications, flashlights and batteries?

If you own a generator, is it safe to operate?

Public Safety Power Shutoff, or PSPS, is a safety program that proactively shuts off electric power lines when there is an elevated fire risk.

All PG&E customers should be prepared for possible power outages that could last for multiple days.

If power is temporarily turned off, customers should consider these questions:

Can we reach you in the event of a Public Safety Power
Shutoff? Update your contact info at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

Do you know how to open your garage door manually?

If anyone in your family depends on electricity for their medical needs, have you made preparations?

Are your mobile phones fully charged? Do you have a portable back-up charger or a solar charger?

Do you have a personal safety plan for all members of your family, including your pets?

Make sure we can reach you in the event of a PSPS. Please update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

Reporting from the World Summit of Nobel Peace Prize Laureates

Exclusive MPG Report by David Dickstein

MERIDA, MEXICO (MPG) -They held a World Summit of Nobel Peace Laureates last month in Mexico and a softball game broke out.

If the above phrasing sounds familiar, Rodney Dangerfield liked to joke, "I went to a fight the other night, and a hockey game broke out." After attending what was billed as a forum to "address global issues with a view to encourage and support peace and human well-being in the world," only to walk away disappointed, I knew that by borrowing from the late comedian, I'd have the perfect, albeit sad introductory line.

The batters of my metaphorical softball game were the Nobel Peace Prize winners whose three days in the Yucatan Peninsula included sit-downs with the press. The credentialed journalists were the pitchers, and by throwing mainly softball questions, the mostly Mexico-based contingent squandered the rare opportunity of asking tough and/ or insightful questions to the distinguished do-gooders. In all, 30 Nobel Peace Prize laureates attended the event, representing themselves or so much stuff that, um, that one can say," King said. "He's talked about sh*thole nations, the way he's spoken about Mexicans - there's a host of things I see that come across as if he does not like certain groups of people."

So far I hadn't heard a specific example of Trump being a racist, and as King continued with her response, she seemed to go further astray.

"Anyone who does not agree with him or stands up to him almost becomes enemy No. 1," she said. "He just attacks, and it's not always driven by race – it's driven by Trump. That's the bottom line. He's a different kind of person than what you'd call your typical racist because ... look at the way he spoke about Senator [John] McCain. Who does that? The army vet, the reporter, it's on and on and on and on."

King is a delightful woman who I had the pleasure of sitting next to on thrown at the president, the plane to Mexico City. in my opinion, unjustly. And what an honor and President Trump is not a thrill it was when my offer racist." of my blanket was warmly accepted when she felt a chill halfway there. All that aside, I would be remiss as a journalist if I didn't say that my question didn't continue

She believes that no one flees their country unless they're desperate, and their sole objective is to live where Summit was Frederik they are safe. Assuming that's true, I asked Tum why the caravans originating in a 1993 Nobel Peace Prize Honduras and El Salvador winner with Nelson Mandela make the long and dangerfor their role in ending ous journey to the United States instead of seeking asylum in the first safe country they reach, which so happens to be her homeland to a question on migration of Guatemala? Even her panelist friend told me she completely dodged the question. Clearly, Tum is riding the Peace Prize train without practicing what she preaches.

A fixture at these near-

Hypocrisy reared its ugly head several times during start she urged the media to

I don't like that is a part of 1992 for her work champibecause the collapse of communism throughout Europe happened faster than anyone predicted. "My strategy was Poland first, but then East and West Germany reunified and there was a snowball effect in other countries of the [Eastern] Bloc," Walesa said. "The speed actually surprised President Reagan and myself, too." Asked about Trump's chances to win a Peace Prize this December, the Polish activist danced the polka around the question, responding through an interpreter that while the world leader diagnoses situations in a correct way, the solutions he applies are wrong. "He wants to move in a different direction than the whole world is heading," said the man who won his Nobel Prize by doing just that. Walesa used Trump's policy on protecting the nation's southern border with Mexico as an example. "He says there are too many people coming into the United States. There should not be a wall, but money invested in Mexico to create jobs. And once this is done, this will level the disproportion between the countries."

Trump's mistake, Walesa said, is "forgetting that people behave like interconnected containers of water." He elaborated. "There is a great disproportion in development in the world. It's not Mexico's fault of this disproportion. It's the United States' fault. We need to move the water from one container to another. We need to level the disproportion."

Walesa didn't sound like he'd put money on Trump winning a Peace Prize this year or any year. Despite efforts to keep the peace, namely making historic inroads with North Korea and in the Middle East, all without war breaking out, Trump seems to be on the same prizeless path as some past Republican presidents. Reagan engineered the end of the Cold War, and Richard Nixon, by normalizing relations between the U.S. and China, forced the Soviet Union to yield to pressure for detente with the United States.

The last GOP president to win the Peace Prize was Theodore Roosevelt in 1906. Since then, Woodrow Wilson, Jimmy Carter and Barack Obama have been so honored in addition to Vice President Al Gore all Democrats. This from an organization that as late as last month's World Summit of Nobel Peace Prize Laureates said the selection committee has no political winning organizations. The softball field, just to close out the sports-related figure of speech, was next to the working press room inside a world-class convention center in Merida, capital of the state of Yucatan. Poor organization and logistics made covering the event a living hell, but of greater importance to you readers is how the Nobel Peace Prize winners responded to the questions that didn't kowtow to the people of honor, few and far between as they were. Most journalists asked pandering softball questions like this one to Dr. Bernice King, the youngest child of revered Dr. Martin Luther King: "As a privileged white woman who can't relate to the struggles of people of color, what can those like me do to help?" Knowing the organization, that eye-roller will probably get that woman a permanent invitation to all future World Summits. That would be a travesty with the white journalist already feeling so privileged and all.

Then a real question from the press was asked. My first of two called on MLK's daughter to substantiate claims she made earlier at the World Summit about the leader of the Free World: "You have repeatedly called President Trump a racist. Can you give one example of something racist he has said or done?" King fumbled with her response, often looking to her handlers for help.

"Um, I mean there's to trip King up. She seemed to ramble and contradict herself.

"Out of his mouth I have heard him denounce white supremacy. I've heard that," King said. "Whether or not he denounces it in a way that pushes away those who support him is another discussion. Those are the examples I have. It's hard for somebody to believe he's not racist. I can say that just because There are some things he's done policy-wise that's helped to uplift some of the black community. The First Step Act in terms of prison reform Racism is prejudice plus power. Racism is when you think an entire group of people is inferior to you or your peer group. I don't know if anvone has examined that. Does President Trump feel that all blacks or Mexicans are inferior as a group? That's a question we have to ask and determine." My second question for King, a quasi-lighthearted one, made the civil rights activist laugh out loud, which, all professionalism aside, was pretty cool. I asked, "When the family sits down for Christmas dinner, what's the conversation like with Cousin Alveda at the table?" Alveda Celeste King, for those who don't watch Fox News, is a civil rights activist, former Georgia congresswoman and a vocal supporter of the President. The 68-year-old niece of MLK has defended Trump on many occasions, including on national TV

"Because our family has such strong unconditional love for each other we do not let those kinds of things tear us apart as a family," she said. "We have strong, vehement disagreements about how President Trump conducts himself. She is a Christian and she is also a minister, but at the end of the day she does what she does. I say what I need to say, she says what she needs to sav."

King then spoke much like the minister she is and her father was: "One thing I've learned about different opinions and ideologies is if you sit down and listen long enough and shut down your right to be right and allow yourself to hear what a person is saying, you might discover a bit of truth. That's how my father developed his philosophy of non-violence. He was able to read and study a lot of different philosophers and theologians. Even those he didn't agree with. So, if we're going to create a more humane world, we have to learn to do that. Alveda has taught me because she's so strong in what she feels and believes. We had a discussion over Labor Day weekend, and I sat and really listened to some of the things she was saying, and as I thought about them holistically there was some truth in that, and I had to acknowledge that. We have a tendency with people we disagree with to disagree with them fully. If there's something specifically that where it is they will have to take in migrants. But I have sympathy for any country that says, 'We can't take anybody who wants to come into the country. We have to have an immigration policy that also puts importance on the interests of our country. We need migrants with specific skills.' So, immigration policy should strike a balance between humaneness and protecting the interests of the country."

Participating in her sixth World Summit was Rigoberta Menchu Tum, a Guatemalan Indian who was Walesa, who won the Peace Prize in 1983 for founding Poland's anti-communist Solidarity movement that played a key role in the collapse of communism in Eastern Europe. My question for the former Polish president, a pro-capitalist, was whether he would have been more successful developing his country as "The America of the East," as he declared in 1991, with a businessman in the White House, Trump, than an actor-turned-politician, Ronald Reagan. Walesa said that it probably wouldn't have mattered who was the awarded the Peace Prize in U.S. president at the time

If you are a caregiver, do you find it hard asking for help when it comes to your home? If that's a problem for you, this story may help make it easier to ask for help when you need it.

Incidentally, we all need help in areas we aren't competent in. We get accountants to help with our bookkeeping, and lawyers to help with legal issues and we're willing to get help with electricity and plumbing problems, but for some reason when it comes to our homes, we caregivers have a crazy notion we should be able to take care of everything ourselves.

The whole self-help movement implies you can do everything yourself. Lord knows you've tried, but how's that working for you?

Women are usually in service-rendering businesses; teachers, doctors, nurses, and mothers (even though being a mom isn't considered a business, it really is). As a life coach, today, I worked with a lovely woman from PA who has been an RN for thirty years. She explained how much she adores her calling because she loves to help people.

When I asked her to explain more about the feeling of helping others, she said, "When I help a patient, I feel happy knowing, because of me, that person is happier. I don't feel arrogant, just important in being part of another's well-being and happiness." She went on to tell me she is respected by the doctors at the hospital she works in and she's eager to go to work every day.

Because her home was in critical condition she asked a doctor friend if he thought she had Attention Deficit Disorder (ADD). The doctor asked her these questions: "Do you get to work on time?" (Yes.) "Have you ever missed going to work?" (No.) "Do you pay your bills on time?" (Yes,) With these answers, her friend said, "No you don't have ADD. This woman was relieved (as if having Attention Deficit Disorder was some kind of fatal disease).

After reading a lot of the material I've written about ADD, she decided to get another professional opinion. This next doctor gave her a test. She passed having ADD with flying colors, but was, at the same time devastated to think something was wrong with her brain. It was important for me to talk her into the joy of having ADD, because it's a wonderful thing to have as long as you understand how to live with it!

When I suggested she get help with getting her home organized, she said, "Oh I'd be too embarrassed to let someone in to do that." When I explained I wasn't going to leave her alone until she agreed to bring someone in, she realized I was serious and she came up with a person's name that was actually her best friend and had been in her home and already knew of her dirty little secret.

Once she'd agreed to get help from this person, I said something to her she'd never thought about before and maybe you haven't either. "Do you realize you'll be giving your friend an opportunity to feel happy knowing because of her, you are happier? She won't feel arrogant, just important for being part of your wellbeing and happiness. And just think, if you don't ask for help, you'll be a happiness hoarder!" We don't think that we're happiness hoarders when we don't ask others for help, but really we are. By reflecting her words about how she feels helping others to apply to someone's feelings for helping her, she got excited to call her friend.

2020 Medicare Part D Changes...Released!

Reader Alert: Effective October 1st, the new Medicare.gov website was released ... Webinar on understanding how to navigate the new Medicare.gov site is Wednesday October 23 at 3:00PM visit www.ToniSays.com for more information.

Toni:

Last year, the 2019 Medicare and You handbook did not include the 2019 Part D deductibles and "Donut Hole" costs, and I got in the "famous" Medicare donut hole last March.

I know it is only September, but I would like to get prepared and really cannot find the answer online or at the Medicare.gov website. Please inform me what the 2020 Medicare Part D costs. I did not see the 2020 Medicare Part D costs in either in the handbook or Medicare website. I look forward to what you have to say. - Carrie League City Area

Carrie:

You are correct that the 2020 Medicare and You handbook did not have the 2020 Part D deductibles or out of pocket maximums. I did not foresee it being updated until October 1st.

But guess what?? For the Toni Says® Medicare newspaper column readers, we have a big surprise! I know what the Medicare Part D cost, copays and Donut Hole will be for 2020.

Below are the findings regarding the 2020 Medicare Part D costs.

2020 Medicare Part D costs and copays are explained below.

Part D changes for 2020

- Initial Deductible:
- will be increased by $20 from $415 in 2019 to $435 in 2020.
- Initial Coverage Limit: will increase by $200 from $3,820 in 2019 to $4020 in 2020 where the 2020 "Donut Hole" begins.
- Out-of-Pocket threshold cost: or (TrOOP) will increase from $5,100 in 2019 to $6,350 in 2020.
- Coverage Gap (Donut Hole): begins once you reach your Medicare Part D plan's initial coverage limit ($4.020 in 2020) and ends when you spend a total of $6,350 outof-pocket in 2020.
- Does the Donut Hole go away...in 2020 is now called the Donut Hole Discount Donut Hole Discount: Part D enrollees will receive a 75% Donut Hole discount on the total cost of their brand-name drugs purchased while in the Donut Hole. The discount includes, a 70% discount paid by the brand-name drug manufacturer and a 5% discount paid by your Medicare Part D plan. The 70% paid by the drug manufacturer combined with the 25% you pay, count toward your TrOOP or Donut Hole exit point.

For example: If you reach the Donut Hole and purchase a brand-name medication with a retail cost of $100, you will pay $25 for the medication, and receive $95 credit toward meeting your 2020 total out-of-pocket spending limit.

- Donut Hole Generic Drug Costs: one will pay a maximum of 25% co-pay on generic drugs purchased while in the Coverage Gap (receiving a 75% discount). For example: If you reach the 2020 Donut Hole, and your generic medication has a retail cost of $100, you will pay $25. The $25 that you spend will count toward your TrOOP or Donut Hole exit point.
- Catastrophic coverage: $3.60 for generics with a retail price under $72 and 5% for those priced greater than $72. For brand-name drugs, pay $8.95 for those drugs with a retail price under $179 and 5% for those with a retail price over $179.
- Prescriptions not in formulary: If your prescriptions are not in your Part D formulary, then YOU WILL pay 100% of the prescription drug cost. Always verify that your prescriptions are in the Part D plan chosen.

The NBA Salutes Its Chinese Overlords

Little did Dr. James Naismith know when he invented the game of basketball in Springfield, Massachusetts, in 1891 that, more than a century hence, it would become beholden to its Chinese overlords.

The NBA disgraced itself kowtowing to Beijing after the general manager of the Houston Rockets, Daryl Morey, tweeted his support for Hong Kong protesters. The words he associatedhimself with -"Fight for Freedom. Stand with Hong Kong" — would seem uncontroversial. Who doesn't hope for the best for plucky demonstrators trying to advance democracy against an overweening imperial dictatorship?

Morey, though, failed to adequately account for the feelings of the dictatorship. "I was merely voicing one thought," he said, in a groveling tweet after deleting his original offending one, "based on one interpretation, of one complicated event. I have had a lot of opportunity since that tweet perspectives."

The "other perspectives" are those of people supporting a regime that is determined to crush Hong Kong underfoot, maintain a one-party state that stifles all internal dissent, brutally repress Uighur Muslims, grab the South China Sea, build up its military with an eye to a future confrontation with United States and rewrite the rules of the international order to its liking.

But who's to judge?

In its own lickspittle statement, the NBA said that Morey's views "have deeply offended many of our friends and fans in China, which is regrettable." It appears that the Chinese-language version was even more craven, saying that the league is "extremely disappointed" in the GM's "inappropriate"

If you follow the NBA and missed the part where Red China stole the league's soul, it's only because you haven't paid enough attention to the international business. China is a huge and growing market for the NBA. When Chinese sponsors and partners of the Rockets began to pull out, the team and the league

The joke of it is that here at home the league flaunts its woke social conscience. The NBA used the leverage of its All-Star Game to hear and consider other coming to Charlotte to force changes to a North Carolina bathroom bill, in the name of "equality." One would think that reeducation camps for a million Uighurs is much worse than any choice North Carolina makes about its restrooms. The NBA should be repelled by China's policies, which run counter to everything that the NBA purports to stand

This episode exposes the league's gutless hypocrisy. So long as social activism is costless, the NBA is all about its values. As soon as there is any price, it is willing to salute smartly at the dictates of one of the most cynical, self-interested regimes on Earth.

Of course, any profit-generating enterprise is going to care about its bottom line most of all. That shouldn't efface all sense of decency and self-respect, though. James Harden, the Houston Rockets star, has grown very rich and famous playing an American game in an American league. His reaction to Morey's tweet was unequivocal: "We apologize."

He thus neatly encapsulated the willingness of a segment of the American business elite to express a kind of national loyalty to a nation that isn't its own.

Rich Lowry is editor of the National Review.

A Key Element in Getting Out of Debt

Dear Dave,

I've got about $3,000 in credit card debt. Would it be a good idea to transfer the balance from my credit card to another one that has a much lower interest rate?

- Tammi

Dear Tmmi,

Lots of people who find themselves in your shoes make the switch to lowinterest rate credit cards. A lower interest rate will help you save a little money in the short-term, but the drawback is it can also make you feel like you've addressed your problem with debt when credit card company every got to change the behavior think about it.

and the mindset that put the first place. Besides, most low-interest, or nointerest, credit card offers are only good for a short period of time. There's always a catch!

I discovered long ago that personal finance is only about 20 percent head knowledge and 80 percent behavior. Emotion is a key element to getting out of debt and staying out of debt. You've got to get really mad at debt, the impact it has on your financial life, and attack it with a vengeance. Think about how many times debt has been a negative influence on your life. My guess is there were many occasions in the past when you could have done great stuff – I'm talking about meaningful, important things - if you hadn't had to send a bunch of money to those bozos at the you really haven't. You've month. I want you to really

How about this? First, you in that situation in cut up your credit card and close the account. Then, sell some stuff and take a part-time job nights or weekends for just a little while. You could wipe out all your debt in less than a year by doing that and starting to live on a strict, written, monthly budget.

If you don't get mad about it and take a stand against debt, and become determined you're never going to fall into that trap again, you're liable to find yourself back in the same situation or worse! - Dave

OR A CHECK DRAWN BY A UNION, OR A CHECK DRAWN BY A STATE OR FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, A SAVINGS ASSOCIATION OR SAVINGS BANK SPECIFIED IN SECTION 5102 OF THE FINANCIAL CODE AND AUTHORIZED TO DO BUSINESS IN THIS STATE: All right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by the trustee in the hereinafter described property under and pursuant to a Deed of Trust described as: More fully described in said Deed of Trust. Street Addres or other common designation of real property: 2345 La Loma Drive, Rancho Cordova, CA 95670 A.P.N.: 076-0252-023-0000 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address or other common designation, if any, shown above. The sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, expressed or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by the Deed of Trust with interest thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligation secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is: $216,284,60. Note: Because the Beneficiary reserves the right to bid less than the total debt owed, it is possible that at the time of the sale the opening bid may be less than the total debt. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee, and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. The beneficiary of the Deed Trust has executed and delivered to the undersigned a written request to commence foreclosure, and the undersigned caused a Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located. NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on this property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. From Del Campo Student to Award Winning Breast Cancer Researcher

San Juan Unified School District

FAIR OAKS, CA (MPG) - Last month, Dr. H. Michael Shepard received the 2019 Lasker Award. He and his team were recognized for their groundbreaking development of the drug Herceptin, a drug credited for saving more than 500,000 women battling aggressive breast cancer.

Shepard was a teenager when his family moved to Sacramento in the late 1960s. He enrolled at Del Campo High School as a sophomore and credits team sports for helping him integrate into his new school. "Through the physical education programs and the sports programs, I made some very good friends," said Shepard. "Some of whom I'm still in touch with."

Biology was his favorite subject, but he admits that he wasn't very focused as a high school student.

"The teachers, apparently thought they should spend some time with me and I did much better than I would have otherwise," said Shepard.

CAHP Endorses Rich Desmond for Supervisor

By Duane Dichiara, Rich Desmond for Supervisor

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Rich Desmond, candidate for Sacramento County Supervisor District 3, announced that his campaign has been endorsed by the California Association of Highway Patrolmen (CAHP).

"Your devotion to law enforcement, both as a California Highway Patrol (CHP) Officer and a member of the CAHP, has earned you the respect and admiration of our 14,000 members and law enforcement throughout our great state," said Rick LaBeske, President of the CAHP. "We hope our endorsement of your candidacy will assist you, and more importantly, the voters in Sacramento County. We look forward to working with you in the years to come."

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

MORPD.com

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

> Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

Implants as low as $99.00 per month

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
