Let's Fress at Beth Shalom!

Congregation Beth Shalom's food festival celebrates traditional and modern Jewish cuisine.

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - The 42nd annual food festival at Carmichael's Congregation Beth Shalom promises fine Jewish cooking on Sunday, September 15.

A fall tradition in Arden/ Carmichael, the event is held in and outside the synagogue. Food may be preordered, purchased to eat on site or taken home.

Lox and bagel breakfasts are a draw for early birds. Lunch includes matzo ball soups and stuffed cabbage rolls. Culinary booths will also offer falafels, pitas, hummus, kosher hot dogs and barbecued brisket. Pastries, coffee cakes and kosher babka are much anticipated desserts. While many of the promised treats are prepared locally, other are shipped from famous Jewish delis in Los Angeles, Berkeley and Oakland.

A bakery section offers specialty breads. Food may be pre-ordered, eaten on site or taken home. Sales start at 9 am and continue till 3pm.

Live music and children's games will fill the synagogue yard. Anyone may attend this fundraiser festival; admission is free. To pre-order food, visit www. jewishfoodfaire.com For information, call (916) 485-4478. Beth Shalom Synagogue is located at 4746 El Camino Avenue.

Nonprofit Operation Provides Backpacks for 7,800 Area School Children

By Julie Beckner, Volunteers of America

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Operation Backpack, Volunteer of America's (VOA) annual school supply drive to raise funds and collect backpacks and school supplies for students in need, collected 7,812 backpacks and more than 152,000 school supplies through a collaborative effort between 73 local businesses, 11 corporate sponsors, 465 volunteers, and 818 donors.

Operation Backpack provides a brand new backpack filled with grade-appropriate school supplies to all of the families and children in Volunteers of America's shelters and programs. VOA also distributed backpacks to 65 partner agencies, nonprofits and school districts, including Sacramento Food Bank & Family Services, Keaton's Child Cancer Alliance, American Indian Education Program, and also to students recovering from the Camp Fire in Paradise, CA. Volunteers of America's longstanding partnerships in the community ensure as many children as possible get the tools they need to start the school year off on the right foot.

"Having a backpack and school supplies provides confidence and helps a child's self-esteem," says Ana Bankert, VOA Development Officer, Foundations & Corporate Giving. "Feeling prepared alongside every other child in the classroom is crucial to their ability to thrive. Volunteers of America is very grateful to work with sponsors, partners, volunteers, and donors who understand the importance of this cause and the children it supports."

Operation Backpack would not be possible without the support and generosity of campaign sponsors Sutter Health, Golden 1 Credit Union, CBS, Phoong Law, Jamba Juice, Basin Street Properties, and a variety of local non-profit organizations and businesses who have donated funds and hosted donation drop off sites throughout Northern California.

"Volunteering for Operation Backpack provided our team a meaningful connection to why Golden 1 supports VOA. Seeing first-hand the hundreds of donated supplies and backpacks truly made an impression on me and my team," says Erica Taylor, VP of Communications and Community Relations. "Knowing these backpacks were going to families and children in need made us all feel incredibly grateful. More than 100 Golden 1 employees volunteered their time to stuff and sort in addition to donating 378 filled backpacks, proving we are indeed Stronger Together!"

'Green Lights Initiative': Seeing the Light on Bulb Disposal

By David Dickstein

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Recycling at home or work has become part of our daily routine, but one ubiquitous device that still raises questions over disposal is light bulbs. Do they go out with the normal trash? Get tossed in recycling containers? Do you save them for the next neighborhood e-waste event? The answers aren't easy, thanks in part to new technologies to Thomas Edison's illuminating invention along with society's growing environmental concerns.

A 60-day initiative to help raise awareness on how citizens and companies can properly recycle lighting devices launched on Aug. 20. The Green Lights Initiative is sponsored by LEDtronics, one of the largest U.S.-based manufacturers of LED products, and whose lighting has put a shine on Sacramento from a downtown comic book store to the passenger trains that roll through the downtown and Roseville stations.

Besides donating to Keep America Beautiful with a check purposely dated Nov. 15 to coincide with America Recycles Day, the Torrance, Calif.-based company is taking to social media, print and electronic media to get the word out. New and long-time supporters of proper lighting disposal will be urged to sign an online petition at Change.org.

"When my light bulbs burn out, where do I put them?' Being in the lighting business for nearly 40 years, we get that question a lot," said Shaan Lodhie, LEDtronics' chief operating officer. "Our company makes only LEDs, which are safe to dispose of in trash bins because they contain no hazardous chemicals. But that's not necessarily the right option for environmental, safety and other reasons. When it comes to CFL and fluorescent bulbs, both of which contain small amounts of mercury, chucking them in the trashcan or with the

nity environment."

When a real light bulb goes out, how great it would be if an imaginary light bulb appeared over your head to signal a bright idea for what to do next. With so many types of lighting on the market, even a single home or business can have multiple ways to illuminate. Materials being shared through the Green Lights Initiative include a "how to" on properly disposing and recycling the most common types of light bulbs. Here's a summary of tips by lighting category:

CFL and fluorescent -Small amounts of the toxic chemical mercury make these bulbs harmful to your health and environment. Simply tossing them in the trash is unwise, and in some circumstances unlawful. Because broken CFL and fluorescent bulbs are damaging to the environment if they enter landfills or the water supply, more stringent and rigorous steps are required to dispose. A local home improvement store or recycling center might be able to take this work – and the bulbs – off your hands;

LED – Safe as it is to dispose of LEDs in trash bins due to an absence of toxic chemicals, recycling them is still the best option from an environmental and safety perspective. Better than tossing them in your recycling container, locate a recycling center that accepts LEDs, which contain reusable components;

Incandescent and halogen Like LEDs, these types typically contain no toxic chemicals. Disposing them in a trashcan or recycling bin is one solution, but a better one is handing them over to a recycling center. Because glass in incandescents and halogens shatters easily, wrapping the bulbs in recyclable packaging materials is also smart.

If you need help finding a recycling center that accepts bulbs, visit search. earth911.com or batteriesplus.com/t/recycling/ Light-Bulb.

County Supervisor Susan Peters Announces Upcoming Retirement

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) -County Supervisor Susan Peters last week told the Carmichael Chamber of Commerce she will not seek re-election next year. After 16 years of service to Sacramento County's District 3, months of rumors preceded her announcement. At least six hopefuls have thrown hats in the ring for her seat.

Peters has more than 14 months yet to serve. She'll sit long hours on the Board; attend town halls; give speeches and cut her quota of ribbons. Future ground-breakings include the beginning of Phase 3 of Fair Oaks corridor improvements in Carmichael this fall.

Bowing away was carefully considered. "Sixteen years is enough for anyone," she considers. "In this job, you should exit on a high note to avoid burning out – so residents still get the attention they deserve. I also want to leave District 3 in good hands. I brought several people onto commissions and watched to see who seemed capable and interested in doing the job." Former CHP officer Rich Desmond emerged as her pick. "When I first met Rich 18 months ago," says Peters, "I thought he might be the guy. He's proven it through his work on the Carmichael Community Planning Advisory Council. His background in law enforcement also is a plus. Public safety is a priority for residents."

Achievements will shine among her retiring

Susan Peters last week announced her final term as County Supervisor at the Carmichael Chamber of Commerce luncheon. Chamber President Jim Alves was among well-wishers.

Effie Yeaw Nature Center has developed into a public/private partnership that's brought many enhancements. We've instituted quarterly town halls to help residents learn about issues that affect them. Fair Oaks Boulevard is looking beautiful. The new Carmichael Property and Business Improvement District (PBID) will improve the business area. The Supervisor spoke at a glorious homecoming for Carmichael heroes who saved a French train from terrorism. She broke ground for trails and buildings and learned to graciously decline ceremonial tools as gifts ("You end up with a garage full of shovels, otherwise,"). On a never-to-be-repeated service touched her heart. "When a parent cries on your shoulder for a lost son or daughter, you never forget it," she says.

For every problem tackled, plenty more will challenge her remaining term. "I'll continue to work on measures to address homelessness," she promises. It's a problem all over California... a never-ending challenge that the next Supervisor will also have to wrestle with. The interesting thing about being a Supervisor is that something different comes up every day.

"You can't fix every problem. But you do your best."

Supervisor Peters will hold public meetings at Mission Oaks Community Center on October 10 and at Swanston Community Center on October 17. Both presentations will start at 6 pm and offer roadwork updates.

River Icon Peter Hayes Dies

Continued from page 1 Daily News reporter Carol Lou Tippit. The couple raised three daughters and ended up in Sacramento, where Hayes served as the Sacramento Union editor for four years. He also took up fishing on the American River. "Too often I was disappointed," he recalls of angling attempts. "I began paying more attention to the birds and the trees and the swiftflowing river. I eventually became a certified nature lover."

Nature essays for the Union were a natural progression. His observations were recycled in the American River Natural History Association's "Acorn" newsletter and eventually collated, with photographs, in a tome he called "An American River Almanac." It became a nature study resource and evergreen fundraiser for ARNHA. Re-published in hard cover in 2014, the opus was reinvented as a classic edition. Hayes' theme never changed. Watching the seasonal moods of the river parkway was his passion.

His essays were love songs. Despite years of hard news reporting, Hayes was able to eulogize nature as an innocent. 'Pale pink blossoms presage the juicy sweetness of wild blackberries," he observed, are "a reminder of what the Maidus and pioneers knew, that the best of life is free." He described July as "the cool caress of an ocean breeze that has made its way up the river." A wild flower path is a place "to let the mind slip into neutral, forgetting about the price of gasoline and other dayto-day irritants."

His beloved Carol Lou died in 1998 and as Hayes' mobility declined, visiting favorite riverside haunts became tougher. The American River Parkway nevertheless remained his delight. "It's like going to a surprise party," considered the aging pilgrim. "I never know what kind of wild world I'm entering."

Three years ago, Hayes moved into Eskaton Village, Carmichael. "One of the unknowns was how dad could continue as a writer," recalls his daughter Debbie Kenngott. "My daughter suggested he should do a regular blog about this new chapter of his life. After she explained what a blog was, he took the idea and ran with it." Hayes authored "Notes From Pete" till his death; the 100th e-epistle reached his friends a few weeks ago. "That blog fulfilled him," confirms his daughter. "It made him feel like a writer again. Dad's friends adored his powers of observation; his humor and his appreciation for everyone and everything he saw."

A man of faith, Hayes was a long-time member of Arcade's Grace Presbyterian church. But his greater cathedral was outdoors. "His thoughts were never far from the river he loved," says his daughter. "Nature inspired my father; it brought him peace. Wherever his soul is now, people who love him want to feel he's somewhere on his beautiful river." ★

By Tova Fleming, Effie Yeaw Nature Center

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - NatureFest, a family-friendly event focusing on science & nature education, will run from 10am to 3pm at Effie Yeaw Nature Center on Sunday, September 22.

Nearly 40 local organizations will participate as exhibitors and sponsors, providing demonstrations and activities related to science education and outdoor recreation. Each exhibitor booth is interactive, and there are live animal shows and guided nature walks throughout the day.

Highlights include: An array of local and exotic animals presented on stage by Wild Things and Save the Snakes; Live bats, reptiles, and birds of prey at booths and shows all day long; Fly-tying instruction for kids; Karuk, Maidu, and Wintu tribe cultural demonstrations such as basket weaving; Hands-on art projects; Guided walks through the 100-acre nature preserve.

"This year we are celebrating our ninth annual NatureFest. This family-friendly event has grown each year, both in attendees and exhibitors," said Heather Gabel, the Nature Center's Interim Executive Director. "Last year we welcomed over 1,500 visitors and 30 booths. NatureFest is a great way to be introduced to the variety of nature related topics and activities in the Sacramento Region. We hope you will join us for this educational and fun event!"

Exhibitors include: NorCal Bats, Wild Things, Save the Snakes, Folsom Zoo, Sacramento Audubon Society, Maidu, Wintu, and Karuk Tribal demonstrations, Golden Country Wildlife Rescue and many more.

For more information, visit www.sacnaturecener.net or call 916-489-4918.

The nature area is included as a "Watchable Wildlife" site in the California state guide because of The Nature Center is the American River Parkway's interpretive center dedicated to providing educational and interpretive programs and information about the natural environment to schools, children, and the public.

What is PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFF?

Public Safety Power Shutoff

or PSPS is a precautionary safety measure that may proactively turn off power lines when extreme fire danger conditions are forecast. We will do this to reduce wildfire risks and keep our customers safe.

To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

What criteria does PG&E consider when calling a PSPS?

No single factor will initiate a Public Safety Power Shutoff as each situation is unique. The factors we generally consider include:

- A Red Flag Warning declared by the National Weather Service
- Forecasts of strong winds and wind gusts
- Low humidity levels
- Critically dry vegetation that could fuel a wildfire
- And on-the-ground, real-time observations from PG&E field crews

In the interest of public safety, we continue to update and refine our criteria and protocols on an ongoing basis.

How will I know if a PSPS has been called in my neighborhood?

Because extreme weather threats can change quickly, our goal is to provide notice through phone calls, emails and text messages to customers 48 hours in advance, again at 24 hours and again just prior to turning off the power for safety. Updates will also be shared through social media, local news, radio and pge.com until the time power is restored. To receive important outage alerts, update your contact information at pge.com/mywildfirealerts.

How can I prepare for a PSPS?

We advise you to think in advance about your family's needs and how you might be impacted in the event of a power shutoff — or for any emergency.

- Do you have a personal safety plan for all members of your family, including pets?
- If you own a generator, is it ready to operate safely?
- Do you know how to open your garage door manually?
- Do you have cash and a full tank of gas, in the event ATMs and gas stations are unavailable?
- Are your mobile phones fully charged?

New County-Level Data Sheds Light On Super Commuters

By Sania Tran

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The number of American workers who bear through commute times of 90 minutes or more each way grew by 32% from 2005 to 2017. This is more than triple the 9% growth rate for workers with commutes shorter than 90 minutes. In a new report, we present county-level data on these "super commuters" that sheds new light on this fast-growing population.

Recent increases in super commuting are often attributed to middle-class workers in superstar cities being priced out to far-flung exurbs. However, county-level data shows that super commuting is also common among low-income workers who rely on public transit, as well as blue-collar workers in certain pockets of rural

Some key takeaways:

4.3% of workers who live in El Dorado County are super commuters, the highest rate in the Sacramento metro. Yolo County has the metro's lowest super commuter share at 2.7%. Nationally, 2.9% of workers are super commuters.

Among workers in the Sacramento metro who rely on public transit, 14.8% are super commuters, compared to 3.7% of those who commute by car.

Why Is A Show Like renewed. - Carley Love Island On Cbs?

Question: I've really good news/bad news sitenjoyed Blood & Treasure on CBS. It's one of the best illustration of a broadcast on TV and typical of the network trying to be all quality of CBS's shows. On things to all people, espethe other hand, I was surprised to see Love Island on CBS, not at all something I'd expect to see on my favorite channel. Is CBS trying to compete with The Bachelor and The Bachelorette? Isn't ity trash like Love Island Big Brother enough of that sort of show? Hopefully, Love Island won't be

Matt Roush: This is a uation and also a perfect cially during the summer months when its tentpole hits are all in repeats. I doubt there's much intersection between the fan base of guilty-pleasure real-— which plays to the Big Brother crowd — and classic action-adventure fare to: tvinsider.com but each of these genres has its respective audience and a network like CBS is probably smart to go after both. Love Island wasn't the breakout hit CBS had hoped, but it delivered social-media buzz and a consistent audience much younger than the network's norm, and the execs believe the show will grow with exposure, so yes, Love Island will be back next summer. But on the plus side, so will Blood & Treasure, which as you rightly note is much more in keeping with the CBS brand. Be thankful for small victories.

The New York Times Should Stop Whining

The New York Times, an organization devoted to gathering and publishing information, doesn't want people to gather or publish information inconvenient to it.

A group of Trumpsupporting operatives has been finding and archiving old social media postings of Times employees and other journalists for use in the ongoing brawl between the president and the press.

There's no indication that this is dumpster diving rather than an effort to scour readily available sources for stupid, embarrassing or offensive things that journalists have said publicly under their own power.

The Times broke the news of the campaign in an alarmed-sounding report. It related that "the material publicized so far, while in some cases stripped of context or presented in misleading ways, has proved authentic, and much of it has been professionally harmful to its targets."

It's not clear what makes this different from what happens in our public life ... every ... single ... day. Headhunting based on past offenses, real and imagined, is the norm, indeed one of the left's favored forms of ideological combat.

Nonetheless, the press and its progressive allies act as though the First Amendment is being endangered if journalists apologize for past things they've written or -depending on the decisions of their own organizations -- get cashiered for them.

"The goal of this campaign is clearly to intimidate journalists from doing their job," thundered Times publisher A.G. Sulzberger.

A spokesman for CNN went further, saying that when government officials, "and those working on their behalf, threaten and retaliate against reporters as a means of suppression, it's a clear abandonment of democracy for something very dangerous."

This is the usual hysteria voked to the usual foggy thinking. The First Amendment is an important protection of press freedom. Yet nothing in it protects members of the press from criticism, let alone criticism over things they have written. Such criticisms are exercises of free speech in response to other exercises of free speech -- i.e., public debate.

If the Times and others don't like the weaponization of foolhardy and untoward social media postings, they can start pushing back against it across the board.

The left-wing organization Media Matters for America exists to publicize (allegedly) controversial statements by conservative media figures toward the end of getting them fired or ushered off the air. If recirculating the past tweets of employees of liberal news organizations is undemocratic, why isn't the work of Media Matters also dangerously authoritarian?

The Times may say that it won't be "intimidated" by pressure over past postings, but it has readily surrendered to such pressure from the left. The paper pulled the plug on its hiring of tech writer Quinn Norton last year when it emerged that she had tweeted offensive terms about gays and blacks, albeit sardonically.

The hounding of conservatives isn't considered beyond the pale; it's considered sport. Much of the left would be rendered practically mute if it weren't braying for people to

I think it's a bad idea for either side to rummage through old social media postings and writings looking for firing offenses. But the rules of this game were established by the left long ago. It should either change them -- or stop whining.

National Championship at the Billie Jean King Junior National Championship in San Diego on August 11 and earned a U.S. Open Wild Card in the main draw.

For perspective, in August 2013, another JMG Tennis at Arden Hills player - Collin Altamirano (now age 23) - made tennis history by becoming the first unseeded player to win the USTA National Championship Boys 18s Division in Kalamazoo, Michigan, and earned his first wild card to the Men's U.S. Open. Altamirano plays professionally and is currently ranked as one of the top 300 players in the world.

"It's definitely an extraordinary experience to have three national champions from our program play in the U.S. Open over the course of the last six years," said Joseph Morris Gilbert, owner of JMG Tennis at Arden Hills. "I'm incredibly proud of these young players and their amazingly supportive families. I applaud the hard work the talented players have put into their training. As a coach, I believe success is a true team effort and that we all rise together. Arden Hills offers the professionalism, heritage and history while JMG brings the training, hard work and dedication. Together, we offer a proven formula for success, and we're just getting started."

Led by Gilbert, JMG Tennis Academy began in 2011 and over the years has produced multiple national champions, sectional champions and top college recruits. Players from JMG have gone on to play for colleges such as Stanford, Harvard, Virginia, Baylor, and Columbia, to name a few. Coach Gilbert, who has been awarded Developmental Coach of the Year twice by the Olympic Committee (2013 & 2018), has developed multiple players from young ages who are now competing on the ATP Pro Tour. The JMG Tennis Academy covers every detail needed to develop players individually to meet their maximum potential.

"The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 4.25% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treesury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for the repayment period is 5.125%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 10%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions; (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $150,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than EI Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $200,000 and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. A 302 arily closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of 575 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF LAWRENCE D. BARRUS CASE No. 34-2019-00262039

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Lawrence Barrus, Lawrence D. Barrus, deceased court. If you are interested in the estate, A Petition for Probate has been filed by you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of Terry Zeilinger, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in requesting Terry Zeilinger, appointed as personal representative to Probate Code section 1250. A Request for the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented PUDLOW to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows September 26, 2019 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. Carmichael Park Concert Season In Review

Kiwanis Swing Band vocalist Miss Delta turns on Southern charm for the Carmichael Park audience. Singer and ensemble provided the last performance in the park's 2019 concert

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Carmichael's Kiwanis Club Swing Band performance last weekend brought down the curtain on a fourmonth concert season in Carmichael Park. The 43th summer series showcased 15 bands and delighted dancers, doggies, picnickers and set many thousands of toes tapping.

From a Beatles tribute band to Latin, blues, country, swing and funk stylists, the season provided high-decibel variety. Toddlers, teens, seniors and baby-boomers all found something to their taste. Beatles hits had the whole park singing. Mumbo Gumbo – whose audience topped 2500 fans – orchestrated a conga line around the dance floor. The Fryed Brothers' park appearance was accompanied by the roar of dozens of motorcycles; the biker-friendly performance was as much a concert as a Harley Davidson convention. "I've never seen so much facial hair and tattoos in one place before," observed a concert-goer. "But the music was fantastic and the biker fans were well-behaved and respectful."

Like many of the season's stars, the Fryeds have strong local connections: founding brothers Harry and Tommy attended Rio Americano High. Rocker Todd Morgan played his first gigs while at Garfield Elementary. Mira Loma graduate Tracy Walton fronted the Mumbo Gumbo group. Beatles tribute band Ticket to Ride has two Carmichael residents in its ranks. The John Skinner Band is based just blocks from the park bandshell and the Kiwanis Swing Band has almost 100 percent Carmichaelite content. "We strive to showcase diverse talent from the greater Sacramento region," says recreation supervisor Sharlene Lal. 'It's great to see so much hometown talent on

On duty for most shows, Park Police Officer John Mohamed mixed comfortably with concert regulars. "It was certainly a diverse season," he noted. "I was happy that people all got along together and enjoyed the music."

2019 sponsors included Supervisor Susan Peters, Emigh Hardware, California Family Fitness, Carmichael Creek neighborhood Association, Arthur Murray Dance Studio, the Carmichael Kiwanis Club and John and Susan Skinner. Thanks for a terrific show from all on stage and thanks to CRPD for a fantastic summer music season.

For an encore, Todd Morgan and the Emblems will play at the park on Founders Day (September 28) and the Skinner Band will co-sponsor a free community dance on October 20, at La Sierra Community

Presenting Two Evenings of VIP Cocktail Farm-To-Fork Train Rides

By Traci Rockefeller Cusack, T-Rock Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Showcasing the rich history and deep connection between agriculture and the railroad, the California State Railroad Museum Foundation is proud to continue its multiyear partnership with Visit Sacramento as an official Farm-to-Fork sponsor. To celebrate the important role the railroad once played in bringing the fruits of the farm to emerging new communities throughout the region and nation, the Foundation is excited to present two evenings of VIP Cocktail Train Ride experiences on Saturday, September 28 & Sunday, September 29, 2019.

The VIP Cocktail Train first debuted in 2015 and was recognized as a finalist in Sunset Magazine's Travel Awards competition in the "Best Train Experience" category. New this year, the elegant experience features themed wine and food pairings courtesy of Michelin Guide Bib Gourmand winner Frank Fats as guests travel along the picturesque Sacramento River in beautifully restored luxury train cars.

"2019 continues to be an important year for the railroad and we're thrilled to continue the celebratory activities aboard Cocktail Train Rides while partnering with the esteemed Fat Family Restaurant Group, the oldest restaurant in the city to be owned exclusively by one family," said Cheryl Marcell, President & CEO of the California State Railroad Museum Foundation.

"The Sacramento Southern Railroad was once primarily used to transport pears, asparagus, celery, seeds Banana Cream or Chocolate and other agricultural products to markets from local Delta communities. Today, the Museum and Foundation are proud to offer historic and authentic excursion train rides and VIP Cocktail Train ride experiences on the very same Sacramento Southern Railroad."

With VIP train rides on each evening at 6 p.m. departing from the Central Pacific Freight Depot along the Old Sacramento Waterfront, VIP Cocktail Train ride guests can sit back and experience what first-class was like during the early decades of the 20th century as developed by the Southern Pacific Railroad. Once they board, ticketed guests will be treated to a series of exquisite small plate appetizers provided by Frank Fat's and paired with a craft cocktail, wine or sparkling selections.

The deliciously delightful menu includes Honey Walnut Prawns paired with a craft cocktail that features Gold River Distillery Vodka; Vegetable Chow Fun paired with a Chardonnay from Talbott Vineyards; Cumin Spiced Lamb Skewers from Superior Farms paired with a Cabernet Sauvignon from Mettler Family Vineyards; and finished with a choice of delicious desserts that include Cream Pie Shooters paired with Champagne served in a keepsake souvenir glass.

Uniformed stewards will provide the finest first-class service onboard three of the California State Railroad Museum's first-class cars: the Audubon dining car, the El Dorado lounge car and the French Quarter lounge car from the 1950s that served the famed Southern Pacific "Sunset Limited" service. As an added treat, the cars will be pulled by two eye-catching locomotives - Western Pacific No. 913 and Southern Pacific No. 6051 - both of which are classic streamlined locomotives representative of the first generation of dieselelectric locomotives.

Space is limited on the Farm-To-Fork Cocktail Train and tickets are on sale now. Train ride tickets cost $125 per person and all train ride guests must be 21 years of age or over. The VIP Cocktail Train is a Foundation fundraiser for the California State Railroad Museum and Railtown 1897 State Historic Park, and corporate sponsorships are available by calling 916-407-2213. For more information or to purchase tickets on the VIP Cocktail Train, please visit www.californiarailroad. museum/.

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.
