Sharing Their Culture

Festival Welcomes All At La Sierra Center

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - A Middle Eastern Culture and Food Festival provided a feast for the senses at the La Sierra Center in Carmichael last weekend. More than ten nations were represented with food, music, dancing and fashion during an event that promised "a journey through Middle Eastern Culture in one unforgettable day."

Traditional dishes were among samples of the area's rich heritage. Lamb kebabs sizzled; pitas steamed savory aromas and baklavas dripped honey. Dark-eyed children paraded baubles and bangles during a fashion parade that included a Babylonian Queen, a Cleopatra, a junior Bedouin prince and a Virgin Mary. "We wanted to cover all countries in Middle East," explained the pageant designer

Sahar Abdulwahab. "The costume of Jesus's mother was traditional among women of her country at that time."

Palestinian folkloric dancers followed Arabic vocalists who catered to the diverse crowd with songs from Iraq, the Lebanon and Syria. One World for Love and Peace organization hosted the free event and welcomed all comers. The group's goal, explained founder Nahid Kabbani, is to increase "cultural understanding of the Arab communities living in Sacramento." Organizers also provided opportunities for immigrants to make new friends, to network and to learn about resources and opportunities.

More than 1300 visitors enjoyed the nine-hour celebration which is likely to become an annual event in Carmichael. Learn about One World for Love and Peace at www.ow4lp.org ★

Desmond Joins the Race

By Paul Scholl

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Rich Desmond is the latest candidate to announce that they are running for the upcoming open county supervisor seat currently held by Susan Peters.

At his first fundraising event on August 8th at the Dante Club, former sheriff and radio talk show host John McGinnis opened the evening with his support for Desmond. Susan Peters also offered her support, saying of the fifth generation Carmichael resident "When I met Rich 18 months ago I thought, this might be the guy." She then asked the more than 200 attendees to support his candidacy.

Desmond addressed the crowd by thanking his children and wife for their encouragement, along with his family, friends and supporters.

Desmond's background includes 24 years with the California Highway Patrol. His four points of focus for his campaign include working to resolve homelessness issues, improving road repairs within the county, economic development for the region and increased public safety.

Desmond stated "I love this community. My life is woven into its fabric. I look forward to serving all of you."

The race for County Supervisor District 3 is coming open, as Susan Peters has announced she will not be running again after serving the community for 16 years. ★

Cake4Kids Still Cooking One Year Later

Story and photos by Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - In 2018, Cake4Kids arrived in Sacramento, thanks to Mary Barnes' efforts. Barnes is the Sacramento ambassador for the Sunnyvale-based non-profit. She has grown her area volunteers into a force of nearly 100 strong. Two dozen gathered on August 3rd to celebrate the one year anniversary of the first cake delivery in Sacramento to Opening Doors.

Since that first delivery, Barnes and her volunteers have made 135 deliveries to more than two dozen agencies throughout the region. The group averages 2.5 deliveries per week, and Barnes said that volunteers are eager to bake more cakes, cupcakes, and cookies.

"I've not found a lack of agencies to partner with," said Barnes and explained that the process is long, especially since many non-profits have limited staff.

She worked closely with Alison Bakewell, Director of Operations for Cake4Kids, to reach out to agencies by telephone or mail, and they both did a lot of follow up, often waiting to hear back for several months.

One of the agencies she contacted is Next Move Family Shelter. Javier Leon, the organization's Children's Services Coordinator, gave a short presentation to the volunteers.

"I try to make sure the children don't miss out in development opportunities and having fun," he wrote in an email. "Since February 2019, I have been able to get volunteer bakers from Cake4Kids to bring cupcakes, one of the biggest highlights of each party! The children look forward to each batch of cupcakes because each volunteer baker adds their own special design on it. Once a volunteer baker made cupcakes with frosting shaped as flowers. Some kids didn't want to eat it because they thought it was so beautiful. I'm very thankful Cake4Kids exists to allow children experiencing homelessness to not miss out in having cupcakes at birthday parties."

Leon's statements echo those of other agencies since the purpose of Cake4Kids is to provide children with possibly the only birthday cake they have ever received. Many children are homeless, recent immigrants, in foster care, or victims of human trafficking.

Volunteer bakers are often challenged by requests for perhaps a vegan banana cake topped with vegan chocolate frosting, the request for the first cake delivered to Opening Doors on August 3rd, 2018.

The process to become a volunteer baker includes a mandatory orientation in order to learn more about Cake4Kids, including the demographics served, and resources. Orientations are held most months and are listed on the organization's website. The next Sacramento orientation takes place in September.

Barnes, who is as dedicated to bringing cakes to at-risk children as she is to her full-time employment, said she spent an hour on her birthday meeting with representatives from Guardian Scholars Program at Sacramento State. The program serves transitional foster youth up to the age of 24 who are attending college, a program that Barnes called "amazing," because few foster youth attend college.

Many, she added, don't graduate from high school, but she learned that two who are being assisted by Guardian Scholars are pursuing master's degrees.

To be able to meet face to face with agencies is one of Barnes' goals. She has the opportunity to learn more about the organization, the population it serves, and express Cake4Kids' gratitude for how each organization serves and supports the community.

"It really helps plant a strong relationship from the beginning," said Barnes.

She has expanded the region from the first agency in Arden Arcade and volunteer bakers from Sacramento to agencies and volunteers in Elk Grove, Rancho Cordova, Carmichael, Roseville, and all of Sacramento. She is discussing future plans with agencies in Placer county.

"We can't do it without our volunteers' help," she said, and that she'd like to work hand in hand with a volunteer in the future.

"Our volunteers are everywhere in the Sacramento region. They make my job much easier. They're doing the weekly deliveries. I'm behind the scenes."

Although volunteers bake the goodies, decorate them, and package them according to Cake4Kids' guidelines, they never see the smiles of the children. It doesn't seem to matter to them. They want to bake and bring the joy of a birthday treat to children.

"Another Cake4Kids celebration," Barnes said, "is right around the corner." On September 17th, the public and interested bakers are invited to attend an open house and information session.

One year ago, Barnes said her goal was to reach 100 volunteers, and she's nearly accomplished that feat.

"I'm so appreciative of all the volunteers who have come forward. It was daunting to start this. I believed it and people showed up," said Barnes, adding that she is indebted to the volunteers. For additional information, visit <https://www.cake4kids.org/>. ★

Pedestrian Dies After Being Struck By A Vehicle On Watt Ave.

By Mike Zerfas, California Highway Patrol

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - On August 18, 2019 at approximately 9:22 p.m., the California Highway Patrol (CHP) received a call of an auto vs. pedestrian traffic collision on Watt Avenue just south of Whitney Avenue. CHP Officers arrived on scene and discovered that an unidentified transient man, who was using a "walker" to assist him, had stepped out into the lanes of traffic on Watt Avenue. The man walked directly in front of Tristan Sparkman, a 23-year old man out of Carmichael, who was driving his Chevrolet Malibu northbound. The Malibu collided with the pedestrian and he was pronounced dead on scene by the Sacramento

Metro Fire Department. Sparkman was not injured during this collision. The pedestrian was not in a marked or unmarked crosswalk.

The cause of this collision is under investigation. Sparkman remained on scene and was cooperative with CHP investigators. His sobriety was evaluated and it was determined that he was not under the influence of drugs or alcohol at the time of this traffic collision.

Any persons who may have witnessed this collision or who can provide any additional information regarding this collision should call Officer Mike Zerfas at the North Sacramento Area CHP office at (916) 348-2300 or cell phone at (916) 798-0975. IRS Offers a Free Tax Law Seminar in Sacramento

Internal Revenue Service Press Release

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Internal Revenue Service announced that a Tax Law Seminar will be offered on Thursday, Aug. 29 in Sacramento to small business owners or those wanting to start their own business. This free one-day event features tax law discussions by experts from several federal and state agencies.

In December 2017, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (TCJA) was enacted, affecting nearly every business and individual taxpayer. It is important that small business owners and self-employed individuals understand how this law impacts their current tax situation. During the free seminar, participants will learn about the new TCJA Business Tax Credit 199(A) and hear about where to go for federal, state and local business resources.

"This Tax Law Seminar is perfect for those thinking of starting a new business or expanding their current one," said IRS spokesman David Tucker II. "The IRS is proud to be partnering with so many great state and local organizations. We want to give a special thanks to the Better Business Bureau for hosting this event."

The Tax Law Seminar is from 8:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. in the Better Business Bureau offices, located at 10399 Old Placerville Rd., Sacramento.

Registration for the free event is now open. Walk-ins will be accommodated on a space-available basis.

The one-day event is co-hosted by the California Franchise Tax Board, Employment Development Department, California Department of Tax and Fee Administration, Better Business Bureau of Northeast California and the California Small Business Development Center (SBDC).

For more information about the tax law seminar, contact Christella Sanchez at Christella.A.Sanchez@irs.gov or at 916-531-0885. ★

SMUD Hits a Milestone in Fleet Electrification

SMUD Press Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - SMUD hit a major milestone in its efforts to electrify its fleet this week by putting up its last gas-powered sedan for auction and announcing the addition of 16 Chevy Bolts to its lineup. That brings the total number of electric and/or hybrid sedans to the SMUD fleet at 53.

"We're excited to hit this milestone on our way toward fleet electrification," said Casey Fallon, SMUD's director of Procurement, Warehouse and Fleet. "As we work to bring more mobility options and infrastructure to the Sacramento region, we are showcasing the ability for large fleets to make the transition to cleaner cars and demonstrate the benefits."

"Electric vehicles really are the future and they provide so many benefits to the communities in which we serve," said Fallon.

In fact, SMUD just added three electric service trucks to its fleet that allow for heat and air conditioning to run while the engine is turned off to reduce the amount of diesel emissions and noise. It's also adding additional charging infrastructure at its two Sacramento locations.

"The effort comes from out-of-the-box thinking in how we view our fleet and our transportation needs," said Fallon. "There are a lot of factors that play into this long-range effort including technology advancements, vehicle lifecycles, reduced maintenance expenses and how we rethink what types of vehicles are needed for various operating activities in the field."

SMUD has long been a supporter of electric vehicles, having worked with major automakers and a wide variety of technology companies for the past 30 years to help test and optimize electric vehicle equipment and demonstrate real-world effectiveness.

SMUD's efforts and partnerships have already brought electric vehicles to underserved communities; electric school buses to local districts; clean public transportation; mobile battery charging stations and more.

SMUD's Charge Free for Two Years electric vehicle incentive offers a choice of $599 cash (enough for the average electric vehicle driver to charge at home for two years), or a free high-powered level 2 electric vehicle charger for SMUD customers who purchase or lease a new plug-in electric vehicle.

Additionally, SMUD's special electric vehicle rate discount allows electric vehicle owners to save money when they charge their vehicles between midnight and 6 a.m. This allows owners to maximize their savings while mitigating the impact to SMUD's electric grid for all customers.

Furthermore, SMUD is working to bring a California Mobility Center to Sacramento that will serve as an innovation hub of policy, funding and commercialization of clean transportation technologies including autonomous transportation; electric vehicles; battery storage; shared mobility solutions; public transit and more.

These efforts support the recent adoption of one of the most aggressive Integrated Resource Plans in the country that puts SMUD on the path to net-zero carbon emissions by 2040.

The goal is to provide equal opportunities in Sacramento for increased mobility, clean air and access to things like employment, healthcare and education.

SMUD's commitment to sustainability and mobility will improve the air quality in the Sacramento region and increase access to its residents.

As the nation's sixth-largest community-owned, not-for-profit, electric service provider, SMUD has been providing low-cost, reliable electricity for more than 70 years to Sacramento County and small adjoining portions of Placer and Yolo Counties. SMUD is a recognized industry leader and award winner for its innovative energy efficiency programs, renewable power technologies, and for its sustainable solutions for a healthier environment. SMUD's power mix is about 50 percent non-carbon emitting. For more information, visit smud.org. ★
