Now the Innocent Can Protect Themselves

Commentary by Randy Thomasson, SaveCalifornia.com

If home invaders, hellbent on rape and murder, kicked down your door, would you want to have more bullets than they had?

What a great victory for innocent families in California!

A federal judge in San Diego has ruled as unconstitutional a 2016 voter initiative limiting ammunition to 10 rounds in the magazines of handguns, shotguns, and rifles.

On March 29, U.S. Judge Roger Benitez, an anti-communism, Cubaborn, constitutional judge - who President George W. Bush nominated in 2003 — has ruled that the Second Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America defeats the bad law passed three years ago by foolish or anti-family California voters.

Benitez ruled that in response to "a few mad men with guns and ammunition," California's law "turns millions of responsible, law-abiding people trying to protect themselves into criminals." Benitez wrote that "Individual liberty and freedom are not outmoded concepts." The judge also said that Proposition 63 "hits at the center of the Second Amendment and its burden is severe."

Prop. 63's path to the ballot was led by Democrat Governor Gavin Newsom, who raised money and collected signatures statewide. His unconstitutional heart must be aching over his unex-

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) -

Carmichael Chamber of Commerce has chosen Anne Marie Schubert – in her second term as District Attorney - as Carmichael Person of the Year. A recent awards dinner saw Schubert and other community leaders honored. Shriners Hospitals of Northern California was named Non-Profit of the Year.

pected defeat. He must hate that this constitutional judge got here to California! What's next? You can expect that uber-liberal California Attorney General Xavier Becerra will appeal this just and constitutional ruling to the full Ninth Circuit federal appeals court. But win or lose, I expect this issue to ultimately go to the U.S. Supreme Court and win for family protection nationwide.

Personally, I'm relieved that I can keep my 15-round magazines that go with my home-defense handgun without fearing that firing it to save innocent lives could result in me going to jail for a year under Prop. 63. What nonsensical tyranny Gavin's initiative is and was!

Find and Follow Your Passion, Celebrating Women in Aerospace

SACRAMENTO REGION. CA (MPG) - Aerospace Museum of California Executive Director Tom Jones invited five women from across STEM careers to share their real world experience with young people, their families, and other interested parties in a STEM Education Day event, Celebrate Women in Aerospace. Docents were on hand to share stories and history, and Warren Searles and his crew were helping aviators in training in the museum's Flight Zone.

The event's highlight was the panel talk which kicked off with keynote speaker, Rear Admiral Bonnie Potter.

"I don't fly," said Potter, but that did not hinder her distinguished career which includes becoming the first female physician in the US Navy to be selected for flag rank.

Following Potter's address, Jones asked the panelists questions beginning with who their greatest supporters were or still are.

Captain Carola List, US Coast Guard Commanding Officer Air Station Sacramento, credited the support of Chief Petty Officers and her lifelong interest in flying.

She advised students to enjoy life because they never know where it will lead.

"Don't be afraid to try. If you don't try, you may never find your passion," she said.

Providing a SAFE Space for Sacramento County Youth

By Andrea Hansen, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY (MPG)

- To reduce the stress and trauma experienced by children who are victims of sexual abuse and violent crimes, Sacramento County Department of Child, Family and Adult Services; local law enforcement agencies; and the District Attorney's Office team up at the Sacramento County Special Assault Forensic Evaluation (SAFE) Center.

The SAFE Center is an accredited member of the National Children's Alliance and provides a safe and comfortable place for a child to be interviewed by a specially trained social worker, called a Forensic Interview Specialist.

"The SAFE Center conducts a thorough forensic interview in the least intrusive way possible, and the child only has to be interviewed once, rather than being questioned multiple times by different agencies," said Michelle Callejas, Sacramento County Director in February of 2018 to 3701 of Child, Family and Adult Services. "Since the Center opened in 1991, we have conducted 12,000 interviews and last year alone we provided a safe space for over 350 children and youth."

To reduce the stress on the child, the Forensic Interviewer is the only other person present in the room during the interview. The Forensic Interviewers have many hours of specialized training and years of experience talking with children about difficult subjects. They also use interviewing techniques that preserve the integrity of the investigation. The interviews are conducted in a room with a one-way mirror so law enforcement, the District Attorney's office and Child Protective Services staff can observe.

The SAFE Center interviews are an efficient way to investigate child abuse cases and are core to identifying new leads and gathering evidence in a case. Although the interviews cannot be used in lieu of testimony and children may still have to testify in court, this approach greatly reduces the trauma of having to repeatedly talk about the abuse they have endured.

The SAFE Center moved Power Inn Road to join services and co-locate with the Sacramento Regional Family Justice Center. The co-location has enabled the SAFE Center and the Department's Adult Protective Services program to have a stronger working relationship with the Family Justice Center in serving the community.

"We could not be more excited about our new location and collaboration with the Sacramento Regional Family Justice Center," said Darby Geller, SAFE Center Director. The Center now acts as a multifunctional place for families to receive services pertaining to abuse, counseling, safety planning and so much more. I'm proud to see how the program continues to grow, evolve and become such an important asset to the community."

The partnership with Sacramento Regional Family Justice Center allows the SAFE Center to offer new opportunities in 2019 which include on-site therapeutic crisis intervention, assessment, psycho-education and ongoing therapeutic treatment through the addition of a traumainformed mental health clinician. These additional services were made possible through a grant funded by the California Office of Emergency Services (CalOES) and will be provided by the UC Davis CAARE Center, a long-standing partner in providing trauma-informed services for children and families in Sacramento County.

To learn more about the SAFE Center, please visit the Sacramento County Department of Child, Family and Adult Services Resource Family web page. If you are interested in donating new toys/comfort items for youth visiting the SAFE Center, contact Darby Geller, SAFE Center Director.

What's The Best Role For Nathan Fillion?

Question: I haven't seen any talk about Nathan Fillion's talent for comedy. Anyway, I cringe to watch him as The Rookie when he was so perfect in the role of Castle.

I know that actors don't want to be typecast, but I feel he's not showing his potential in this Rookie role. Your opinion? - Granny

Matt Roush: I get where you're coming from, and there's no question that the lighter touch required on Castle suited his considerable comedy chops better than this more earnest procedural. But I also feel that there's an innate likability and vulnerability to the way Nathan Fillion plays Rookie's John Nolan, as he tries to start over at middle age with the cards stacked against him. Shows end and an actor's career goes on, and it's understandable that you'd prefer one TV Critic Matt Roush, go role to another, especially to: tvinsider.com

Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Sentenced for First-Degree Murder of Wife DATE: March 26, 2019 CASE: Joshua Childers

(Case #17FE005883) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Scott Schweibish, Career Criminal Prosecution Unit

The Honorable Ernest Sawtelle sentenced Joshua Childers to 50 years to life in prison. On January 31, 2019, a jury convicted Childers of the firstdegree murder of Victoria Vasquez. The jury also found true a use of firearm enhancement.

On March 28, 2017, a Placer County 911 dispatch received a call from a man reporting he had shot his wife and she could be found in a mobile home park in South Sacramento. A record check of the phone number used to call 911 located an address associated with the phone number. Officers responded to the residence and found a deceased woman in a bedroom. Law enforcement then located Childers by pinging his phone and he was taken into custody the same day.

Early Prison Releases:

March 2019 Update

Since 2015, 374 inmates sentenced from Sacramento County have been granted early prison release by the Board of Parole Hearings (BPH) as of March 29, 2019.

Many of the offenders who are granted early prison release have violent and lengthy criminal histories. District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert feels it is important for the public to be aware of the so-called "nonviolent" offenders being released early from prison into our neighborhoods. Press releases are issued to provide the public with a sampling of recent noteworthy offenders, including:

Inmate Convicted of Shooting, Paralyzing Victim & 25+ Year Criminal History (Julio Luna - Case #15F01091) - Julio Luna has a prior 1993 strike conviction for assault with a deadly weapon. In that case, Luna and his friends got into an argument with the victim. Luna ended up shooting the victim at close range. The bullet lodged in the victim's spinal cord resulting in the evasion he ran three red lights, several stop signs and ran into a curb. He continued his evasion after his vehicle got a flat tire, and officers had to use a PIT maneuver multiple times before they could eventually detain him. Luna endangered the store employees, other drivers and the pursuing officers. He was convicted of identity theft and evading officers. The Board of Parole Hearings found this inmate to be a nonviolent offender who does not pose an unreasonable risk of violence to the community and granted release on March 13, 2019.

The Sacramento County District Attorney's Office takes an active role in evaluating NVSS and NVPR cases. For inmates who appear to pose a danger to the public, the office writes opposition letters to BPH with an overview of the inmate's criminal history and current commitment offense, and an opinion on the public safety risk if an inmate is granted early release. NVPR cases are especially concerning since prosecutors are denied access to records of the inmate's behavior behind bars, which is critical to rehabilitation, and do not have a right to appeal an early parole decision.

Information about more of these inmates can be found on the Early Prison Releases webpage at www.sacda. org/early-prison-releases.

Society for the Blind Receives $25,000 from M&M Whitmire Family Foundation

By Kristin Thébaud

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Society for the Blind recently received $25,000 from M&M Whitmire Family Foundation in Roseville to provide classes and training for seniors with vision loss and blindness. The grant will fund the group's Senior IMPACT Project that empowers people age 55 and older with alternative, non-visual techniques and skills that enable them to perform day-to-day tasks and activities so they can maintain or increase independence.

"One out of four seniors in Sacramento is struggling financially, and most seniors in California do not have retirement accounts," said Shari Roeseler, executive director, Society for the Blind. "As this rapidly growing population begins to lose their vision, programs like the Senior IMPACT Project can help these seniors achieve their goals and gain skills that allow them to stay independent. Thanks to this vital funding from M&M Whitmire Family Foundation, hundreds of seniors with vision loss can enjoy life to the fullest."

The Senior IMPACT Project includes an eightday retreat offered monthly at Society for the Blind that gives seniors an immersion experience where they learn alternative techniques and skills to travel pendently. They practice alternative techniques and use adapted tools to perform tasks of daily living including cooking, cleaning, shopping, home maintenance, organization, personal finance and more. They learn how to use the latest in assistive technology to operate computers and mobile devices for home, school and work, and they learn Braille.

individualized attention from instructors and mentors who are blind or low vision, and they have the opportunity to join in discussion groups with peers on issues around vision loss and participate in community activities. For those unable to attend retreats, Society for the Blind sends instructors to their homes to teach skills and offer resources. The Senior IMPACT Project includes monthly peer support groups for English and Spanish speakers and workshops throughout the year.

"We are extremely honored to work with Society for the Blind on the ongoing support, programs and tools they provide to individuals and families with a wide variety of vision impairments," said Jessika Cano, director of senior outreach, M&M Whitmire Family Foundation. "The Senior IMPACT Project is such a unique program that is much needed in our safely, efficiently and inde- community, so we are humbled to be able to donate to such a program. Individuals with little to no vision have so much to offer our community and we are so glad that Society for the Blind is here locally to facilitate such training and support for individuals to maintain their independence and have their families keep flourishing in our community."

Celebrating its 65th anni-Participants receive versary this year, Society for the Blind has created innovative ways to empower individuals living with low vision or blindness to discover, develop and achieve their full potential. IRS Provides Various Payment Options for Taxpayers Who Owe But Can't Pay in Full

By David A. Tucker II

INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE. WASHINGTON - As the 2019 tax filing season gets into full swing, the Internal Revenue Service reminds taxpavers who owe of the many easy payment options.

most taxpayers will be affected by major tax law changes. While most will get a tax refund, others may find that they owe taxes, many of whom may qualify for a waiver of the estimated tax penalty that normally applies. See Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Individuals, Estates and Trusts, and its instructions for details.

"The IRS understands there were many changes that affected people last year, and the new penalty waiver will help taxpayers who inadvertently had too little tax withheld," said IRS Commissioner Chuck Rettig. "We encourage people to check their withholding again this year to make sure they have the right amount of tax withheld for 2019."

The IRS urges people with a filing requirement promise. To help determine and a balance due to file by the April 15 deadline even Compromise Pre-Qualifier if they cannot pay in full. Taxpayers in this situation should pay what they can and consider a payment plan for the remaining balance.

Taxpayers who are unable to pay their taxes in full should act quickly. Several payment options are available including:

Online Payment Agreement - Individuals who owe $50,000 or less in combined income tax, penalties and interest and businesses that owe $25,000 or less in payroll tax and have filed all tax returns may qualify for an most at risk of having too

It also reduces the burden of mailing payments and saves postage costs. Even taxpayers who don't qualify for a payment agreement may still pay by installment. Certain fees apply;

Delaying Collection - If the IRS determines a taxpayer is unable to pay, it may delay collection until the taxpayer's financial condition improves;

Offer in Compromise -Certain taxpayers qualify to settle their tax bill for less than the amount they owe by submitting an offer in comeligibility, use theOffer in the tool.

In addition, taxpayers can consider other options for payment, including getting a loan to pay the amount due. In many cases, loan costs may be lower than the combination of interest and penalties the IRS must charge under federal law.

The IRS urges all taxpayers to check their withholding for 2019, especially those who made withholding adjustments in 2018 or had a major life change. Those little tax withheld from their pay include taxpayers who itemized in the past but now take the increased standard deduction as well as twowage-earner households, employees with non-wage sources of income, and those with complex tax situations.

To help taxpayers allocate the appropriate withholding to their pavchecks throughout the year in 2019, an updated version of the agency's online Withholding Calculator is now available on IRS.gov. It's never too early to check your withholding. While it's a good idea any year, starting early in 2019 is particularly important as most tax filers adjust to the revised tax rates, deductions and credits.

The IRS urges taxpayers to take advantage of the many tools and other resources available on IRS. gov. Taxpayers have a varietv of options to get help filing and preparing their tax returns on IRS.gov, the official IRS website. Taxpayers can also find answers to their tax questions and resolve tax issues online. The Let Us Help You page answers most tax questions, and Publication 5136, IRS Services Guide, links to these and other IRS services.

Taxpayers can go to IRS. gov/account to securely access information about their federal tax account. They can view the amount they owe, pay online or set up an online payment agreement; access their tax records online; review the past 18 months of payment history; and view key tax return information for the current year as filed. Visit IRS.gov/ secureaccess to review the required identity authentication process.
