Metro Fire Chief Praises Local Firefighters' Butte County Effort

by Susan Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - "I couldn't be prouder of our guys," Sacramento Metro Fire Chief told Carmichael Chamber of Commerce members last week. Harms praised the part local firefighters played during recent wild fires in Butte County.

Sac Metro provided a helicopter, 10 engines, strike team leaders and 53 firefighters. This contribution swelled a force of 5,600 fire professionals that headed to Butte County from western

US states. "When our guys began their shift that morning in Sacramento," said Harms, "they were probably wondering how many calls they'd get and what they'd eat for lunch. They had no idea they'd be called away for 12 to 16 days and working 40-hour shifts. In the beginning, their job wasn't about putting out fires; it was about getting people out. News media couldn't show what complete devastation confronted them."

Firefighters are used to evacuating neighborhoods, Harms explained. The need to simultaneously evacuate entire towns was horrific even for trained professionals. "Because most of the cell services were down, these guys couldn't even call their wives to let them know they were safe. If was hard on their families. Our members did a great job."

Known as the Camp Fire, the blaze that began on November 8 is counted as the most deadly in United States history. Fire destroyed the town of Paradise and scorched more than 153,000 acres of Butte County. Eighty-five people died. Two hundred more remain unaccounted for at this time. ★

Sac Suburban Water District and Reclamation Sign 27-Year Contract

Agreement is Providing Access to Wet Year Water Supplies

By Christine Kohn

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Sacramento Suburban Water District (SSWD) has signed an agreement with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation that helps secure surface water supplies for the District during wet years for the next 27 years, the District has announced.

The achievement, nearly two decades and countless staff hours in the making, is a critical part of the Sacramento region's ability to manage and replenish the groundwater basin by using more surface water supplies when plentiful. The agreement is also key to fulfilling the historic Water Forum Agreement, signed by SSWD and other local water providers, which seeks to protect and nurture the Lower American River.

"The contract is a huge achievement for the District and our customers—a secure, long-term water source during average or wet years that will allow our groundwater basin to recharge—but the benefits extend far beyond that," said SSWD General Manager Dan York. "The contract is important to SSWD's ability to use more groundwater during a drought so that surface water is available in Folsom and the American River to support fish and wildlife when they need it most."

SSWD Board President Craig Locke signs a Long-Term Warren Act contract with Reclamation, securing wet-year water supplies for SSWD for the next 27 years. The Long-Term Warren Act Contract signed by SSWD and Reclamation allows the District to use up to 29,000 acre feet of water purchased annually from Placer County Water Agency (PCWA) as long as sufficient supplies are available, which are defined as an estimated unimpaired inflow at Folsom Reservoir of greater than 1.6 million acre feet.

The contract is critical to the District's ability to access the purchased supply because the water must flow from PCWA's Middle Fork Project through Folsom Reservoir, which is owned and operated by Reclamation. Reclamation prepared and certified an Environmental Assessment to consider potential impacts from the contract under the National Environmental Policy Act.

Lonnie Cook Survived the USS Arizona Bombing

Story by Trina L. Drotar

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Lonnie Cook and his wife of 68 years, Marietta, have lived in Aegis of Carmichael since July after moving from Oklahoma. Cook is witty, a natural storyteller, just a tad bit feisty, and he recently celebrated his 98th birthday. He's a celebrity without a star on the Hollywood or Sacramento Walks of Fame. He has no viral videos on YouTube or Facebook. He is, however, one of only 335 men who survived the attack on the USS Arizona on December 7, 1941, and as of 2017, was one of only five still living. And he knows exactly where he was when the bombs hit.

He entered the U.S. Navy when he was 19 years old. Only two years into his six year term, after having showered and changed into clothes to go ashore in, the bombs hit the battleship.

"It's good I didn't take too long," he said, "or I would have been blown up."

Cook was part of the 3rd division in charge of the gun turret. The ship, he said, sunk 15 to 18 feet before the orders to abandon were given. The next morning, he was one of several men who volunteered to go on the destroyers.

The couple was married two years after Cook finished his service. He attended college in Salinas and learned to weld. He spent 30 years as a welder.

"I helped build the two largest boilers west of the Mississippi River for Babcock and Wilcox and Kellogg, and I put a 20" gas line right through Brooklyn, NY in '57," he said.

The couple traveled the country for work, and he has many stories. He worked 75 straight graveyard shifts once, but could not spend all the money he had earned. He needed the sleep.

Lonnie pointing to barbet of turret number 3 - his sleeping quarters and battle station.

"We bought a house, paid $59 thousand for it. I don't remember what we put down. Three years later, I put $37 thousand cash in a paper sack, my 45 in my belt, and we went to Salinas Bank to pay the house off." This would be unimaginable today as would be the hunting he did on his way to and from high school each day.

Cook, who is not a large man, was captain of his high school football team three out of four years, and he smiles a bit when he says that he crowned three football queens. He is not a football follower and admits that he had considered basketball a sissy game, but he has since learned that it is not. Cook always chose hunting season over basketball.

He joined the service, he said, because he had no work and no money.

"I had to do something," he said.

His mom sent him to business school, but that did not work out because the city, with its street cars and police sirens, was too loud for the young man who grew up in the country.

"I couldn't sleep, so I told her I'm not going back, so I joined the service."

Two years later, he was on the USS Arizona expecting to go ashore on leave when the bombs dropped.

"Our shower was up just forward of where it blew up," he said. "I'd just come back down to my locker." His work station was Turret 3 as part of the gun crew and he was at the bottom when the bombs dropped.

"I started up through the turret and I was half way up on the shell deck when it exploded and it turned the lights out and almost knocked me off the ladder, but I went on up into the gun room and we stayed there until we could go up on deck and take people off."

Most of the people on deck were crippled and burned beyond recognition he recalled and since the day's uniform was t-shirts and white shorts, the men had no protection.

Cook ended up on the USS Patterson DD-392 for temporary duty. He saw Lt. O'Hare shoot down six planes and become the first navy ace. He was in the Coral Sea battle when the Lexington was sunk, and went to Midway.

"When that was over I went to Alaska and took a tanker back to Pearl. I got transferred and went to electro hydraulic gunnery school in D.C. for three months," he said. "We got a call to go New York City to pick up the Battleship Iowa, which was a new battleship, and escorted it with President Roosevelt to Africa." The men spent time down the coast of Africa while President Roosevelt was engaged in meetings.

"I spent four days there, then came back to pick the battleship up, took it back to New York, and went down through the canal in time for January 1st."

He served in the Marshall Islands, Taipan, and made three landings in the Philippines before being transferred to Charleston, South Carolina to work on the hull of the USS 583 and picked up a convoy to the Azores. ★

Foley Wins Honorary Mayor Bid

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Ballots are counted. After months of feverish fund-raising, realtor Kelli Foley was recently declared Carmichael Honorary Mayor for 2019. Her new term begins in January.

Real estate broker and owner of the Trillium agency in Carmichael, Foley ran against Arthur Murray studio owner Jamila Buada and Sacramento Express Employment Professionals manager Kristen Garl. Together, the three campaigns realized almost $13,000. Part of proceeds will support non-profits.

Though the coveted mayoral sash carries neither salary nor political power, a year of ribbon-cutting and baby-kissing is guaranteed. Home town promotion is part of the gig and happily, winner Foley was Carmichael-raised and educated. "This town means more to me than a place to hang my hat," she explains. "I'm passionate about everything Carmichael has to offer - its people, its parks; its unique sense of place." The incumbent declared her second victory no less thrilling than the first. "I've learned from two campaigns not to take anything for granted," she said. "Until they announced my name at the Chamber luncheon, I didn't know I'd won. After months of hard work, it was a huge relief."

"I decided to keep my non-profit local this year. I loved being able to help the Chamber and the Carmichael Park Foundation at the same time. The Foundation has a great mission in promoting park programs and beautification."

Jamila Buada will donate part of her campaign funds to the Alzheimer's Association. Kristen Garl's chosen non-profit is Playmakers, an organization that supports disadvantaged San Juan School District students. Foley's campaign cash was gleaned from a series of raffles and fundraisers and her ongoing drive to recruit new Chamber members and sponsors. "As 2019 mayor, I'll wear my sash at all kinds of community events," Mayor Foley predicted. "I'm looking forward to another busy and exciting year."

"A sincere congratulations to the District and staff who have worked so long to see this contract come to fruition," said SSWD Board President Craig Locke. "This contract represents the culmination of many years of work and investment by both SSWD's predecessor—the Northridge Water District—and PCWA to create a means for delivering water to stabilize and sustain a healthy groundwater supply for our customers and the future."

The District first started discussions about securing a Warren Act Contract in 1998 and began official negotiations with Reclamation in 2004. Over the years, the District secured one- or five-year Warren Act contracts with Reclamation to access the purchased water, allowing SSWD to bank approximately 210,000 acre feet of water in the groundwater basin. Doing so has been key to the North American Basin's recovery over the past 20 years from historic lows to levels that are now stable and sustainable.

Choose Your Resolution

I came across a quote that I wish I could remember in its entirety, but it went something like this: "A new year brings you a new chapter in your life - it is up to you to choose the new life or just keep the old."

As January 2019 approaches, will you decide on the new life or to keep your life the same? Let's just say you make several resolutions and you cannot decide your new direction - to join the Kiwanis Club of Carmichael, or join the local gym.

We really don't mind if you join a gym, but let me tell you, you can get plenty of exercise with our club!

Keeping yourself active while volunteering for the betterment of the community is certainly worth serious consideration. When you are at the gym, or in your favorite easy chair at home, please consider what the Carmichael Kiwanis Club does to support the community.

Our commitment includes volunteering or providing financial support for some of the following projects: community athletic programs for young kids, visual and performing arts programs, Koobs Nature Area, college scholarships, Carmichael Library, Effie Yeaw Nature Center, Mustard Seed School, and the Alzheimer's Association. This is a very short list of our community involvement, but it shows that we take an active role in supporting many age groups and the environment.

In addition, to support these programs, we do our share of fund-raising that includes our Spring "Taste of Carmichael," Holiday See's Candy sales, Winter Crab Feed, and our Spring and Summer pancake breakfasts.

Please visit our website at www.carmichaelkiwanis.org or find us on Facebook to learn more about what you can do for your community. Ask yourself one question while doing so: how's the gym application coming along? See you soon!

The Kiwanis Club of Carmichael meets every Wednesday morning at 7:00 am at the Elks Lodge on Cypress Ave. except for the fourth Wednesday when they meet at 7:00 pm at the Mission Oaks Community Center. ★

Sacramento Area Highway Patrol Cadets Become Officers

Story and Photos
By Trina L. Drotar

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - When they woke on the morning of Friday, November 16, the 46 men and women who arrived for final inspection spent their last morning as California Highway Patrol cadets. The class of 43 men and 3 women received their stars in a ceremony filled with pomp, circumstance, and a lot of fun.

Poor air quality had cancelled the cadets' run to the state capitol earlier in the week, and the final inspection had to be moved from the quad into the dining hall, and the emergency vehicle operator course (EVOC) demonstration was also cancelled, but none of those things dampened the spirit and the joy shared by cadets and their family and friends upon finishing a grueling six months at the state's only CHP Academy.

Among the graduates was Margarito Meza, the first graduate in the Law Officer Erik Rodriguez with Family and Friends.

Enforcement Candidate Scholars (LECS) program at Sacramento State which began in 2017 to prepare college students from all disciplines for careers as sworn law enforcement officers at the local and state level. Program director Shelby Moffatt and a large group of LECS students were on hand to support Meza. Four are currently in the CHP Academy and are expected to graduate in 2019.

Early arrivals toured the Academy's museum and learned the history of the CHP and its role in popular culture. Timelines, motorcycles, including a rare 1941 model, and communications equipment spanning several decades are on display in the museum which is open to visitors Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. until 4:45 p.m. and is free of charge.

Not free were the hours of intense physical and mental training that cadets endured during their six months away from family and friends. Cadets live on the West Sacramento campus for the duration of their training and education which includes a host of courses from basic Spanish to marksmanship to how to perform field sobriety tests. They must pass the EVOC driver training, attain certification in arrest techniques, and keep on top of their physical training. During the ceremony, a short film created by the graduating class provided family and friends a glimpse of life during the past six months at the Academy.

Prior to the ceremony in which cadets received their badges, they underwent their final inspection. Photos were snapped and hugs were given to cadets for a few minutes before the inspection began. Commissioner Warren Stanley, Deputy Commissioner Scott Silsbee, Assistant Commissioners Amanda Ray and Nick Norton, and Captain James Mann greeted each cadet, moving through the ranks, shaking hands, and providing encouraging words to each.

In that group was Erik Rodriguez of West Sacramento whose family was joined by several of his military buddies who had flown in from Texas for his special day. The 34-year old veteran was honored with a plaque for being the class's most inspirational cadet, and he was recogare never first stationed in Sacramento.

Perhaps the brightest smiles to be found were from Cortez Sanders of Sacramento, his parents, and his extended family. His proud father, Bennett, was also recognized during the ceremony as he is a CHP employee. Sanders' mother, Adrienne, said that she is very proud of her son and all the work he put into becoming an officer. It was his father who held the honor of pinning the badge on his son, one of the traditions that did occur outside as is custom.

Cortez will report to Redwood City for his first assignment and will be joined there by fellow Sacramentan David nized for his work as one of the company commanders. He will report to the San Francisco Bay Area for his first assignment as an officer.

Graduates are required to report to their first assignments within ten days and are sent where the greatest need is so many were sent to the southern part of the state. Cadets select up to three possible choices and Waggoner who was honored as outstanding athlete. Also headed to Redwood City are Trevor Gossett of Sacramento and David Tran of Elk Grove.

*The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 4.50% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for the repayment period is 6.50%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 10%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $150,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $200,000 and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $475 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $50 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

DATE: November 19, 2018
CASE: Kejhonne Henderson (Case #17FE008447)

PROSECUTOR: Principal Criminal Attorney Caroline Park, Homicide Unit
 Kejhonne Henderson was convicted by a jury of the second-degree murder of Jordan Pannell and attempted murder. The jury also found true firearm allegations on both counts.

On May 5, 2017, Kejhonne Henderson was at a Cinco de Mayo house party in North Highlands. When Henderson got upset about the Mozzy music being played, Jordan Pannell intervened. Henderson and Pannell walked outside, where Henderson shot Pannell nine times, killing him. As Henderson tried to flee, he was tackled by the second victim and the two struggled over the gun. Henderson shot the victim in the thigh, groin and grazed his back. That victim survived his wounds.

Henderson faces a maximum sentence of 99 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for January 11, 2019, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 18 before the Honorable Stacy Boulware Eurie.

Defendant Sentenced to Life for Child Sexual Assault, Pornography

DATE: November 30, 2018
CASE: David Rivera (Case #16FE021142)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Patrick Foster, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit

The Honorable Matthew Gary sentenced David Rivera to 504 years to life in prison. On October 11, 2018, a jury convicted Rivera of 10 counts of committing a lewd act upon a child and one count of possessing or controlling child pornography. A prior 2003 residential burglary strike conviction was also found true.

The victim was 8 years old at the time and the daughter of one of Rivera's friends. Rivera would often spend the night at the friend's house. Two secured digital cards were found showing video and pictures of Rivera sexually assaulting the victim and another girl. Rivera later admitted that it was him in the photos.

Former Coach, Radio Personality Convicted of Child Sexual Assault

DATE: December 4, 2018
CASE: Gregory Kosanke (Case #17FE013259)

PROSECUTOR: Principal Criminal Attorney Nancy Cochrane, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit

Gregory Kosanke was convicted by a jury of two counts of child sexual assault. Kosanke is a former park and recreation assistant basketball coach and a former radio personality. In March 2016, he sexually abused the young friend of one of his family members.

Kosanke faces a maximum sentence of 9 years in prison. Sentencing is set for January 4, 2019, in Department 41 before the Honorable Helena Gweon.

Defendant Convicted of First-Degree Murder

DATE: December 4, 2018
CASE: Teris Vinson (Case #17FE006798)

PROSECUTOR: Supervising Deputy District Attorney Rick Miller, Homicides
 Teris Vinson was convicted by a jury of the first-degree murder of Janet Mejia, and two counts of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

On April 10, 2017, Mejia failed to show up for work and missed a doctor's appointment the next morning. A missing persons investigation was initiated, which ended with the discovery of Mejia's body. She was found wrapped in an inflatable mattress in bushes near the Sacramento/Placer County line.

Sacramento sheriff's detectives discovered Mejia's blood on the carpet padding of her bedroom. They learned Vinson was her roommate at the time, and that he kept two guns at the residence despite being a convicted felon. DNA analysis revealed Mejia's DNA was on the muzzle of one of the guns. An autopsy revealed she had been strangled and shot in the back of the head.

Vinson has two prior convictions for domestic violence.

He faces a maximum sentence of 80 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for January 11, 2019, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 27 before the Honorable Steven Gevercer. ★

Focus on Religious Freedom

Area Christians Counselled to Be Civil When Debating Religious Freedom

By Gary Zavoral

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - About 600 Christians who gathered Friday, Nov. 16, to learn how to help preserve religious freedom in America were told to boldly declare their beliefs, but to debate civilly.

“And why must we do it civilly? Because the alternative is civil war,” said Dr. John Mark Reynolds, a Houston Christian college administrator and popular Evangelical speaker. “Not a shooting war, but a civil war of the soul, where we tear apart people ... because we cannot compromise, because we cannot speak civilly, because we cannot just agree to disagree, but to boldly disagree.”

Reynolds, an expert on culture, society and philosophy, was the featured speaker in the first of three conferences bringing people of different faiths together to learn how to work side by side to preserve religious freedom. The series is presented by the Catholic Diocese of Sacramento, Rocklin’s William Jessup University and The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. This first conference was held at The Church of Jesus Christ’s Chapel on Temple Hill in Rancho Cordova.

To show how far the United States has come in its intolerance of religious views, Reynolds quoted former U.S. Pres. Teddy Roosevelt, who said at a national convention at the turn of the 20th century, “We stand at Armageddon and we battle for the Lord.”

“Can you imagine what the Washington Post would do to the presidential candidate who would dare to say that today?” Reynolds asked.

Reynolds drew from history – especially the Bolshevik revolution in Russia – to show the result of what happens to a culture and even entire nations when a society blocks religious rights.

“A culture will die when religious freedom dies,” he said, “because religious freedom is the first freedom.”

He told about his great-great-grandfather leaving his family and farm to volunteer to fight for “Mr. Lincoln and liberty” in the Civil War.

“When I am told that religious people should be quiet about their religious beliefs, I point out that my great-great-grandfather did not leave to fight for a secular state. But instead he marched to a song that said, ‘In the beauty of the lilies, Christ was born across the sea, with a glory in His figure that transfigures you and me, as He died to make men holy, let us’ – in the version I was taught – ‘die to make men free, His truth is marching on.’ ... His motivation was purely religious.”

Asked how we can effectively engage in a discussion about religious freedom among our neighbors in California, where there are so many voices wanting to squelch these freedoms and often are uncivil in their tone, he told of the four-fold lesson he learned from his mother, who loved to debate:

1. If you lose your temper, you lose. He said to follow the Golden Rule: Do unto others as you would have others do unto you, no matter how unpleasant others may be.
2. Some people aren’t going to like you, even if you’re nice. “You can’t be so nice that you won’t have enemies.” After all, he said, “They killed Jesus, and you can’t get nicer than Jesus. I’m not trying to be flippant, but if you state your views clearly and you’re totally nice, there are still people who won’t like you.”

3. Love your enemies. “Our Savior believed that you had to love your enemies, which means that Christians must be capable of making enemies. And some people are so nice that they’re incapable of making enemies. That’s not called being nice, that’s called being spineless.”

4. Sometimes shut up. “When somebody is really suffering or hurting on an issue,” he said, “they come to you and say, for example, ‘Look, this sexual identity is central to my life and you disagree with me,’ just sit and listen. You’re probably not going to change anyone’s mind.” Reynolds said when he has had such disagreements, even with some in his own family, he tells them, “Here’s what I think, and I’ll tell you when I change my mind. ... Because there’s more to life than this and we’ve clearly expressed our views, and we should just move on.” The relationship with family and friends is more important than the issue, he reminded the audience.

In closing, Reynolds told how Daniel of the Old Testament endured 70 years in Babylon, thanks in part to three or four miracles, but mostly because he was smart and cagey, having learned how to live among the Babylonians without having to compromise his core values and beliefs.

Emphasizing the need for civility in our conversations and debates, Reynolds said, “Some of us are so obnoxious that we need the miracle ratio to be daily, not one every 20 years. But if you’re getting yourself thrown into a lion’s den every day, you’re doomed.”

The next conference in this “Preserving Religious Freedom” series is planned for March 2019. For more on the series, including videos from local leaders on the importance of religious freedom, go to <http://jessup.edu/religious-freedoms-with-a-civil-voice/>.

Project "Warm Wishes" Needs You

By Michelle Bustamante

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Can you imagine waking up all alone on Christmas morning with nothing to look forward to, no visitors coming, and nowhere to go? Each year countless seniors are left isolated and forgotten during the holidays.

Meals on Wheels by ACC serves approximately 1,500 home bound seniors through Sacramento County, many of whom suffer from loneliness day in and day out. For many, our volunteer drivers deliver much more than a meal, they deliver a connection to the outside world, friendship, and a warm smile.

This Holiday season we would like to invite you to brighten the day of a local senior by supporting our "Project Warm Wishes" and let a local senior know that they are remembered this holiday season. Now through December 14th, Meals on Wheels by ACC is gathering warm and cozy gifts of new purchased or handmade lap blankets, scarfs, gloves, socks, hats, tea or coffee, pet toys or treats (our seniors love their pets!) and more for our home bound seniors who might not otherwise receive a simple holiday gift.

Are you able to share a little holiday magic with a local senior? Your unwrapped gifts may be dropped off at Meals on Wheels by ACC, 7375 Park City Drive, Sacramento 95831 or arrangements for pick up may be available.

For more information about Meals on Wheels by ACC, our Project Warm Wishes donations, general donations or how to become a volunteer please contact Michelle Bustamante at (916) 444-9533 or mbustamante@mowsac.org.

From the Meals on Wheels by ACC family to yours, Happy Holidays! ★

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

Implants as low as $99.00 per month

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
