SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - A business that began on a Carmichael street corner is now one of Sacramento's most geographically far-flung enterprises.

Owned by the Marszal family and with father, daughter and son as executives -- California Retail Management pumps petroleum at 42 stations in four US states. All outI just wanted to make one station employees watched and learned work.'

In days of full-service, the boss pumped gas and employed mechanics for repairs. He mopped floors and cultivated a personal touch with customers. When daughter Annie (now Marszal's development executive) was born, he covered his macho premises with pink ribbons. "That got us in the newspaper and brought new customers," he says. "People like family businesses. I still have full-service available at all our stations; we make sure someone will always run out to help a customer. We'll never charge for air or water. Cashiers are the most important people in our company. Being nice is not something you can teach; but friendliness determines whether a customer comes back.

never to pass up an opportunity to extend service. Yeah, I kept her tip; I earned it. From then, we put carwashes in our stations." While alert to innovation, Marszal treasures the continuity of old retainers and family. Chief Financial Officer Elizabeth Valentina has been his right hand for 34 years. Executive Tim Skovensky has provided what Marszal calls "glue" for company operations for 12 years. Daughter Annie has worked

Volunteers Now Needed for County Homeless Survey

MPG

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Volunteer registration for the 2019 Homeless Point-In-Time (PIT) Count is now open. The count will be conducted on the evenings of January 30 and 31, 2019.

The biennial PIT count is a county-wide special census which provides a snapshot of who is experiencing homelessness on any given night. The data gathered helps shape policy and programs designed to assist some of our most vulnerable residents.

Sacramento Steps Forward is partnering with Sacramento State's Division of Social Work and the Institute for Social Research on this crucial project.

Sacramento Steps Forward will be recruiting hundreds of volunteers who will be trained and grouped in teams to canvass the community in organized deployments during the two evening counts, rain or shine. Volunteering does not require any prior experience but you must: be 18 years of age or older; have a strong interest in helping people who are experiencing homelessness; and attend required training's to learn to safely conduct accurate counts with teams

It's an understatement that Ed Marszal has come a long way from the Ohio college graduate who left the Army and sold auto accessories. The most recent biennial PIT Count was conducted in January 2017 and found that the total number of people experiencing homelessness in Sacramento had increased by 30 percent since 2015. Of those, people who are living outdoors on the street, in tents, cars, or RVs - increased by 85 percent. Sacramento followed a West Coast-wide trend reporting increasing numbers of people experiencing homelessness.

Sacramento Steps Forward is a nonprofit organization committed to ending homelessness in our region through collaboration, innovation, and connecting people to services. Walking side-by-side with our partners, we seek to provide people experiencing homelessness with the support and services they need to find stability and long-term housing. Since 2012, Sacramento Steps Forward has been the lead agency for Sacramento's Homeless Continuum of Care.★

in Santa Fe, New Mexico. Marcell will serve on the board for a three-year term ending in 2021.

With an impressive and expansive background in business development and the airport industry, Marcell joined the California State Railroad Museum Foundation in April 2015 where she has been instrumental in helping to reinvigorate and pave exciting new paths for the California State Railroad Museum in Old Sacramento and Railtown 1897 State Historic Park in Jamestown.

Marcell's new role on the board of directors comes at an important time for the rail industry. May 2019 marks the 150th anniversary of the completion of the Transcontinental Railroad when, along with the Continued on page 8

Stories from the Streets

By Andrea Hatch

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) -Clearly the homeless population in the Sacramento area is continuing to increase but why? I decided to get out and try to understand what kinds of challenges these people are facing and what about their situation might not be obvious to those of us not in that community. How did they end up in that situation? What I learned was heart breaking.

The first man I encountered was a sweet soul. He told me that he has been homeless for three years. It started when he and his child's mom broke up. He was working, but found it difficult to continue to hold a job while couch surfing, to avoid sleeping on the streets. He eventually lost his job because hygiene became a problem. When I asked him what are some things that he struggles with most, outside of the obvious? He said, "Theft. It's bad enough that we are living on the streets, but to worry about one of our own stealing from us makes it worse. We already have very little and we shouldn't have to worry about it being stolen." This man seemed to be a kind man that just came across a bad situation that he can't pull himself out of. It is interesting to note that most employers require someone to have a physical address in order to be employed. In this gentleman's case no address – no employment.

The second man I spoke to was 29 years old and has been homeless for five years. His journey began when an arsonist burnt his home down in the middle of the night. He had no insurance to cover the damage and the arsonist was never caught. He said, "The hardest part is just trying to stay sane. I feel hopeless and I fear that even if I was able to get back on my feet it could be taken from me in a flash, again. Where has humanity gone? When did people stop caring about other people? I would give anything to change my clothes every day, shower daily, eat whenever I want and to just relax in the comfort of a home." This man was very intelligent and easy to talk to. I asked him what was most difficult about being homeless and he said sleep. He said that between the police, rangers, sheriffs and even highway patrol it's hard to get enough sleep, which only makes sanity even harder to maintain.

I spoke with two women as well. I wanted the perspective of both genders to see how the stories might differ. One of the women told me she ended up on the streets due to drugs and would give it all up to get off of the streets. She said that her safety is a constant concern. The other lady was one who had been in a program and ended up losing her children and then her money ran out and she has been homeless ever since. Both women mentioned they have been attacked by the men in their community and have to depend on the protection of the other men, which is not always a reliable protection.

Out of all of the people that I spoke to, it became obvious that every situation came about for different reasons. None of those that I talked to suggested they had a mental illness, but all advised that more than half of the people in their community do. Mental illness, be it drug induced or caused by a traumatic event absolutely adds, significantly, to the homeless population. The women I talked to mentioned that there is only one shelter for women and they can only shower between the hours of 7AM and 11AM, so they have to be close to that shelter or risk not being able to wash. The men's shelter that is closest to the downtown area can only hold 40-50 men at a time and showers are not provided daily.

Many times, I have heard people say, "Well, they did it to themselves," "If they wanted to get off of the streets they would put in some effort." I think that many people are missing that fact that most of the homeless community are not there by choice. Any one of the stories I heard today could be any one of us at any given time. I agree with the second gentlemen that I spoke to, "Where has humanity gone?" It is time that we step up as a community to help those that have less than us. There are so many locations that have multiple showers, why not open them up to the homeless during non-business hours? If you have food in your house that you know will go to waste before you can eat it, donate it to the next homeless person you see walking down the street instead of throwing it away. If you have the ability to hire someone that has the skill, be okay if they don't have a physical address. It takes ALL of us to make changes, but it takes just one of us to kick start it. I know fear of the unknown is present, but you never know someone's story until you ask and really listen to the journey that led them to where they are. Make a move, change a life.

Sacramento Children's Home Launches Annual Holiday Giving Program

The Sacramento Children's Home has kicked off its annual Holiday Giving Program, bringing the local community together during the holidays to serve children and families in need. Last year, our program provided gifts for 1,200 children, and the community adopted nearly 70 families, providing them with gifts, gift cards and everyday essentials. Once again this year we have 1,200 children participating; many of whom the gifts they receive through our program will be the only gifts they receive this year.

The holidays are a joyful time when we can give thanks for all that we have and give back to those in need. There are several ways for community members to get involved with the SCH Holiday Giving Program, which ends December 14.

Wish Stars and Ornaments: The classic yellow wish star includes three wishes from an SCH child. Community members are encouraged to shop for their child and return unwrapped gifts to the Sacramento Children's Home at 2750 Sutterville Road in Sacramento. Financial contributions of $25, $50, $100 or more, as well as gift card donations

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) help us ensure that all kids and families have their holiday wishes fulfilled and basic needs met. Some male youth in our Residential Program do not have family to spend the holidays with, so financial support specific to our snow trip enables us to send our residents on a snow trip to Mt. Shasta over the holidays.

> Adopt-a-Family: Community members can also adopt an entire family this holiday season. The adoptees are families that participate in Sacramento Children's Home programs such as the Family Resource Centers and the Counseling Center.

Volunteer

Opportunities: Every year, we rely on community volunteers to help run our holiday donation site. Last year, about 200 volunteers provided nearly 100 hours of support, which included greeting donors, accepting gifts, registering gifts into our system, sorting, and wrapping.

Giving Tree Sites and Holiday Sponsors: Local businesses and schools participate by hosting Giving Tree sites with stars available to the public for pick up. Businesses and corporations also have the opportunity to sponsor an SCH Holiday Party for individual programs such as our Family Resource Centers and Crisis Nurseries to help strengthen families in our highest risk communities.

For more information about all of these options and important dates, please visit www.kidshome.org/holiday-giving.

The Sacramento Children's Home was founded in 1867 and today it is the most comprehensive child and family service organization in Sacramento County serving more than 7,000 children and 4,300 families each year through a broad spectrum of residential, communitybased, mental health and educational programs. Throughout its 151-year history, the Sacramento Children's Home has been at the forefront of trauma-informed care and developing new ways to improve the outcomes of children and families. Through its multiple programs at six sites in the county, the Sacramento Children's Home offers prevention, early intervention and treatment programs that are critical to strengthening families and stopping the generational cycle of child abuse and neglect. Kitty On The Outside Or A Tree Frog On The Inside

Several weeks ago, I happened to look out the back window and saw a kitty walking across our back yard. A little idea sneaked into my head. Maybe I could get some kitty treats and feed the kitty.

No way would my wife ever, and I mean ever, condone some kitty living on our property. However, my thought was, what if she does not know?

It was on a Thursday evening and I was looking out the porch door, watching the kitty eat when I heard somebody say, "What are you staring at?"

Immediately I recognized the voice and had to be very careful so that I did not trip up on anything.

"I'm just enjoying the backyard scenery. It looks so lovely in the evening shadows.3

I sighed very deeply hoping I had escaped being found out.

Everything was going fine until one night the kitty came to the porch glass door and started meowing. The knucklehead that I am, I meowed back.

At that precise moment, my wife happened to walk into the kitchen area where the glass porch door was.

Foundation, please visit

She heard me meow and said, "There better not be a kitty on our porch!"

Before I could respond, she came up to the door and there was the kitty meowing at her. "I don't want any old cat on our back porch." I wanted to reply, but I didn't. "I hope you're not feeding it!" Do I need to call a lawyer?

At that moment, she went up to the door to open it so that she could shoo the cat away and there on the inside of the door was the biggest tree frog I have ever seen. When she saw that, she screamed, the kitty ran and the frog jumped inside our house.

It has been a long time since I have seen the Gracious Mistress of the Parsonage dancing.

It was all I could do from laughing hysterically. I tried to control it, but you know how that works. The more I tried to restrain my laughter the louder it got.

She ran, got a broom, came back and swept the frog outside. I haven't seen that frog since.

So, being in a sense of hilarious insanity, I said, and I almost regret saying it, "Which do you want? The kitty or the frog?"

Life is full of choices. Some of our choices are not of our choosing. Sometimes it is choosing the better of the worse.

Since then we have had two kitties come to our back porch every evening to enjoy the kitty food that I put out there in the kitty dish. I have not seen the frog, but I sure have been thinking about that frog ever since.

"What are you smiling at?"

"Nothing, I'm just having a happy moment."

"It better not have anything to do with that tree frog."

Thinking about this I was reminded of what David said. "Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple" (Psalm 65:4).

It is not important if you are a kitty or a frog only that God has chosen you. Live in that glory every day.

Superior Court of California, County of Orange In the Matter of: XI'AN ETHEN VODEGEL minor person who Should be declared free from custody and control of His/her parents(s) FIRST AMENDED CITATION AND NOTICE OF HEARING Case No. : 18AD000197 THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

TO: ERIC MICHAEL PLUMB as he is ordered to appear. By this court you are hereby advised that you may appear before the judge residing in Department (L-611) of Lamoreaux Justice Center, located at 341 The City Drive South, Orange California, 92868, on (01/18/2019) at (10:00 am/pm). Then and there to show cause, if any you have, why XI'AN ETHEN VODEGEL, should not be declared free from your custody and control for the purpose of freeing XI'AN ETHEN VODEGEL for placement for adoption. The termination of custody and control of said minor and set forth in Cal. Family Code 8600 et.seq: 1 .At the beginning of proceeding the court will consider whether or not the interests of the minor child require the appointment of counsel. If the court finds that the interests of the minor do require such protection, the court will appoint the counsel to represent him, whether or not he is able to afford counsel. The minor will not be present in court unless he requests or the court so orders. 2. If a parent of the minor appears without the counsel and is unable to afford counsel, the court must appoint counsel for the parent, unless the parent knowingly and intelligently waives the right to be represented by counsel. The court will not appoint the same counsel to represent both minor and his parent. 3. The court may appoint either a public defender or private counsel. If private counsel is appointed, he or she will receive reasonable sum for compensation and expenses, the amount of which will be determined by the court. The amount must be paid be the real parties in interest, but not by the minor, in such proportions at the court believes to be just. If, however, the court finds that any of the real parties in interest cannot afford counsel. the amount will be paid by the county.

Cheers to Titans

for ruling the DC Universe. Sorry, Batman, but the streaming platform's first original series, centered on ex-sidekick Dick Grayson (Brenton Thwaites) and his band of severely broken heroes, is the kind of brutal, no-holds-barred superhero comic book adaptation that fans didn't even know they needed or deserved.

Cheers to Single Parents

for treating the kids like people, not simply plot twists. Whether it's over-the-top Halloween parties, sleepovers or pet deaths, the writers of ABC's delightful new comedy could teach a class in mining laughs from hapless adults (including Leighton Meester and Taran Killam) while also finding the heart in how the little ones are impacted by their actions.

The Titans is a no-holds-barred superhero comic book adaptation that fans didn't even know they needed or deserved.

Jeers to House of Cards' Claire for being an enemy of the press. In the series finale, Robin Wright's corrupt President Hale bashed a journalist's damning story about her as being fake news because it broke online and not even in print. That's like saying Netflix isn't TV because it's not on TV!

Jeers to TV's Awful team-up Nicknames Eleanor and her do-good crew from The Good Place go by the u?bergeeky "Soul Squad," while A Million Little Things' Eddie, Gary and Rome (David Giuntoli, James Roday and Romany Malco, with Ron Livingston in front) dubbed themselves "The Band of Dads" when trying to help raise their late buddy's kids. It's like nobody has learned from the mistake that was Big Brother's "Chilltown" alliance.

Did The Walking Dead Cop Out With Rick?

Question: [Spoilers Ahead] So all the hype around Andrew Lincoln seem anticlimactic, and his (Rick Grimes) leaving the show was just in hopes we'd get worked up about a series of Walking Dead movies? Do you feel they copped out with this approach? -Ronald M

Matt Roush: I wouldn't call it a cop-out as much as a sell-out. Given the buildup, any death scenario that didn't involve taking Negan down with him (which would be satisfying) would preposterous long ride down memory lane on the most patient white horse everuntil it wasn't-was a chore to behold. If the intent was to get our attention, AMC and the show succeeded. Beyond that, expanding the Walking Dead universe into a series of Rick Grimes movies has more than a whiff of desperation, and could diminish the franchise as well as further hobble the series he leaves behind. Maybe the world that Rick has been transported to will breathe some life back into the Dead empire. The three episodes leading to the midseason finale should help determine whether a post-Rick Walking Dead is still worth the effort. I was about to add how much I'll miss Maggie (Lauren Cohan) when her time comes, but watching her fall for Negan's transparent head games-she now won't kill him because he begged her to? (sheesh)—sort of softens that blow as well.

International

Families Needed to Provide Love to Foster Children

By Brenda Bongiorno, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - In California, there are more than 62,000 youth living in foster care and more than 34,000 waiting for a permanent family. In Sacramento County alone, there are less than 2,000 foster youth in need of a loving and affirming home.

Each November during National Adoption Month, Sacramento County reminds the community that you can make a difference in the life of a child by becoming a resource family. These resource parents, once known as foster parents, provide love, parental care, guidance and stability to children until they can either return to their parents or are provided a permanent home through adoption or guardianship.

Whether you are married or single, gay or straight, a homeowner or a renter, an aunt, teacher or simply a loving person that wants to positively impact the life of a child, Sacramento County Department of Child, Family and Adult Services hopes more people in our community will consider fostering a child.

Hundreds of new resource families are needed so that children and youth can live with a caring family in a home-based setting rather than in a group home. The more families who can open their doors to our children, the better. In particular, the County is looking for families who are able to foster teenagers, LGBTQ youth, African-American children, children with medical needs, emergency/last-minute placements and homes for sibling sets.

Sacramento County supports, trains and offers guidance, support and assistance to resource families to make sure the journey is a positive transition. While reuniting children with their biological families is the primary goal, when that is not possible, staff can help resource parents adopt or take legal guardianship without having to undergo another approval process. This creates a continuous care experience for children who will no longer have to switch homes at the point of adoption.

On Nov. 15, we pause our busy lives long enough to speak the names of thousands of California children who are waiting in foster care for the love and support of a permanent family. Sacramento County, along with adoption agencies, are hosting the 30th Annual Calling Out of Names on the North Steps of the State Capitol from 9:15 a.m. – 4:45 p.m.

During the seven-hour vigil, adoptive parents, child advocates, community leaders and elected officials will continually read the names and ages of every child in California currently waiting for families. Some names have been read year after year.

"This powerful vigil for the community helps us to come together annually to raise awareness and hope for children who are awaiting permanent homes in Sacramento County and throughout California," said Michelle Callejas, Sacramento County Director of Child, Family and Adult Services.

Participating foster family agencies and sponsors:

- •Legislative Sponsor: Assembly member Blanca E. Rubio
- Fiscal Sponsors: Better Life Children Services, California Department of Social Services, Koinonia Family Services, Lilliput Families, Sacramento County, Sierra Forever Families, Stanford Youth Solutions and Uplift Family Services
- Organizing Sponsors: California Alliance of Child and Family Services, Gail Johnson Vaughan and Sierra Forever Families

If you are interested in learning more about becoming a resource family for local foster children or an adoptive parent, attend the next Resource Family/ Adoptive Parent Orientation or call (916) 875-5543.

Getting at the Real Cause of Rising Drug Prices

Commentary by Sandip Shah

Democrats a n d Republicans alike are lining up to criticize pharmaceutical companies for gouging customers and stranding sick patients.

President Donald Trump tweeted that drug companies "should be ashamed that they have raised drug prices for no reason.' Senator Dick Durbin, an Illinois Democrat who disagrees with the President on virtually everything else, is leading a charge to clamp down on drug prices, which he claims are the "#1 driver for increases in premiums" for health insurance.

These concerns are justified, but the blame is misplaced. Many patients do face high prices at the pharmacy, but that's not because of drug company predation. The problem: the middlemen sitting between manufacturers and patients.

regularly negotiate substantial discounts with insurers, and other supply chain players. These discounts shave prescriptions? down the price of the average brand-name drug by about a third.

Discounts have kept drug prices in check. Last year, the average cost of brandname pharmaceuticals increased just 2 percent -- a percent increase well below that of doctor's visits, hospital stays, and other parts of the healthcare sector.

Generic drugs have also curbed costs. Generics are cheaper than the brandname drugs they're copied from. Over the last decade, generic drugs have reduced patient health care costs by price of the drug.

Health insurers and other middlemen have steadily ratcheted up their cost-sharing requirements. The product price holds steady, but patients bare an increasingly large slice of the cost.

an estimated $1.67 trillion.

By preventing disease, patients don't develop conditions requiring more invasive, expensive treatments down the road. Every dollar spent on drugs could save up to $10 in avoided ER visits and hospitalizations for patients with congestive heart failure, high blood pressure, diabetes, and more.

But then, the mystery: Given the heavy discounts Pharmaceutical companies on brand name products and the prevalence of lowcost generics, why do many pharmacy benefit managers, patients still face high prices when they fill their

> Because health insurers and other middlemen have steadily ratcheted up their cost-sharing requirements. The product price holds steady, but patients bare an increasingly large slice of the cost. Since 2006, insurance deductibles have increased by 350 percent and co-insurance has jumped 89 percent.

Instead of passing discounts to patients, insurers pocket them. More than half of the out-of-pocket requirements for brand name drugs in commercial health insurance are based on the full list

In other words, insurers act as if those discounts don't exist.

This abuse fuels an odd phenomenon: for some patients, buying a drug with insurance costs more than paying for it directly out-ofpocket. Roughly 40 percent of brand name drugs are more expensive if patients use insurance.

The New York Times recently profiled a UnitedHealthcare customer who went to fill his prescription for a generic cholesterol drug. He was told he owed $84. That patient later searched online and found the same drug for just $45.This mismatch happens all the time.

Voters and their elected officials have ample reason to be angry about sky-high drug prices, but pointing fingers at drug manufacturers isn't helpful. Drug manufacturers have kept prices in check with substantial discounts and low-cost generics.
