See You Later, Alligator

Alligator Izard proved an arresting armful for wildlife expert Gabe Kerschner during the NatureFest event at Effie Yeaw Nature Center. The 103-pound reptile showed an inner pussycat and allowed scores of kids – including Roseville Cub Scout Logan Winkler – to pet his scaly hide.

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Raptors, reptiles, marsupials and mammals were among educators featured at the Effie Yeaw Nature Center's recent NatureFest. Beneath fall skies and autumn leaves, more than 1500 visitors supported the annual festival.

Programs aim to encourage wildlife appreciation through education.

Save the Snakes – a non-profit that champions one of nature's most misunderstood species, offered a program designed to dispel many myths. Gopher and king snakes slithered into the spotlight as living exhibits. Among other presenters, wildlife expert Gabe Kerschner brought an exotic cast from Wild Things, his Placer County animal sanctuary.

All rescued from adversity, his animals are stars of hundreds of television and school programs. Those who made the Carmichael journey included alligator Izard, a lemur called Ringo, Opie the opossum, iguana Linguini and kinkajou Nike.

Kerschner's commentary outlined heart-breaking animal rescues. Six-foot Izard was pulled from a Los Angeles apartment bathtub and now thrives at the Colfax wildlife preserve on fish supplied by Nimbus Fish Hatchery. One of an endangered species, lemur Ringo barely survived an illegal smuggling operation and – 24 year later – the petite primate is one of Kerschner's most popular ambassadors.

Resident Nature Center raptors also interacted with visitors. Shell crafts and animal track recognition were among many activities offered for children. As the facility is also a center for Native American studies, Maidu basketry was demonstrated in the replica native village.

Chamber Names Interim Executive

by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Former president and long-time director of the Carmichael Chamber of Commerce, Virginia Stone has been named its interim executive director.

The appointment follows her predecessor's resignation after nine years at the post. Linda Melody's unplanned departure for medical and personal reasons – began a number of interviews for her replacement. Melody ran the chamber from their Milagro-Center office. While handling daily minutia of the 70-year-old non-profit's services, she re-invented its CEO role.

"Linda was the heart soul of the organization," said Chamber President Gabrielle Rasi DDS.

"Her work went far beyond her job description. The board and I knew replacing her would be difficult. We're fortunate Virginia stepped up. We voted unanimously for her interim appointment."

Mom to two adult sons, Stone's senior care career has included executive jobs at Atria Carmichael Oaks and Oakmont of Carmichael. She is intimate with Chamber operations through 10 years of membership. She also served as honorary mayor and for two consecutive terms as board president. Her director's role has included six years of board meetings, fundraisers, and hands-on volunteering. She is a member of Carmichael Kiwanis Club and an active fundraiser for Alzheimer's research.

"I planned on retirement from my Oakmont job next year," says Stone. "Linda's sudden departure presented an unexpected opportunity. I've lived in Carmichael for 35 years and seen how the chamber has benefitted our community. By taking this interim job, I'll give the board breathing space. Finding someone with a real commitment to the organization might take a long search. My being there will allow a smoother transition when a permanent appointment is made."

Stone assumes her new role next month. "Linda's putting together a detailed guide to her daily duties for me," says the new executive. "She's been a fantastic CEO. I'm excited to continue in her footsteps with her guidance."

HOPE Raises Funds for Affordable Counseling

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - The second annual Hops for HOPE fundraiser was held on October 4 at Carmichael's Milagro Centre, hosted by River City Brewing Company and HOPE. Community donations help support HOPE's mission to offer affordable counseling sessions to those in need and allows the organization to train new therapists to serve the community.

The owners of River City Brewing Company, Steve Cuneo and Beth Biro, are happy to support the mission of HOPE. "We've known Darlene [Davis, executive director of HOPE,] a long time. We did HOPE's fundraising event last year, and we're happy to do it again. The event brings attention to the Milagro Centre and raises money for an important local cause," said Cuneo.

Davis said that most of the staff members of HOPE weren't able to attend the event because they were busy in counseling sessions; evenings are prime time because it is more

10th Annual CruiseFest Lights Up the Streets

Story and photos by Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Sacramento's largest block party celebrating cars and car culture shut down Fulton Avenue between El Camino and Marconi Saturday, October 6. For a few hours, people set aside concerns, put down signs, and left protests outside of the 10th annual CruiseFest, because, it seemed from the smiling faces, laughter, and dancing in the streets and parking lots, everyone loves a block party with cars. And there were cars to be seen, touched, admired, purchased, and to bring back memories. Metropolitans, Porsches, Fords, Chevys, Pontiacs, Plymouths, Jeeps, and even dune buggies showed off their best. Not all of the 360 registered vehicles cruised. That number, up from 2017, was forty cars shy of the cap, according to Fulton Avenue Association Executive Director Melinda Eppler.

CruiseFest is a car show equalizer welcoming any make, model, year, or type when most shows set criteria based on those or other factors. It's rare to see Porsches in a show alongside Gremlins, the Oscar Meyer Weinermobile, or a replica of the ambulance used in Ghostbusters, the 1984 movie starring Bill Murray and Dan Akroyd.

"It is a true celebration of Northern California's car culture," said Delta Pick Mello, Executive Director of California Automobile Museum.

No car show or street festival is complete without the all-important soundtrack, which was ever-changing along Fulton Avenue. Every few paces, the music shifted from classic to alternative rock courtesy of 96.9 The Eagle and ALT 94.7 to hip hop from a passing muscle car to surf music to classic R&B with a side of Rolling Stones, Bill Withers, and Tommy James and the Shondells.

Every parking lot, both sides of Fulton, and along both sides of the median housed cars.

Participating car clubs included Sacramento Area Miata owners Association, Porsche Club of America-Sac Valley Region, 356 California Alta Region, Metropolitan Club-Capital Chapter, Northern CA Pontiac GTO Club, Burgiemmen Capitol City Car Club, Early Ford V8 Club-Sacramento Region, Capital City Mopars, Sacramento Area Mustangs, and the always-popular lowriders club, Family First. Individuals, businesses, and corporations also showed and cruised.

Sidewalks and streets were jam-packed with the estimated several thousand spectators who walked, rolled, strolled, and sat along Fulton, often roaming out into the street and occasionally joining the procession or receiving goodies from passing vehicles. Families, couples, children, even dogs were part of the event and seemed to enjoy the warm, blustery afternoon. Even bicyclists and skateboarders dropped in on the fun.

businesses, and corporations also showed and cruised. Parked along the east side of Fulton, behind a giant blue Volvo with roll cage, were the Oscar Meyer Weinermobile and Planter's Peanuts Nutmobile. Further down Fulton were the Radio Fiyer Red Wagon and Tribute Team American Graffiti cars.

Vehicles flashed their colors - aqua, metallic flake, red, flames, purple, rust, blue, yellow, and one white car with Marilyn Monroe's image painted on its hood. Others sported colorful rims and wheels. Many had displays showing the vehicle's restoration. And some highlighted power and what was under the hood. Chrome shone and waxed cars provided an alternate view of the party through gleaming reflections.

As they made the U-turn at Marconi, some cars meandered by, taking their time, slow and proper as a beauty queen coming down the runway. Others strutted, head held high, like top models wearing their designer best. A few made sure to be heard above the music and voices, showcasing their power. And many made the turn with little fanfare.

"I used to drive one of those," said a woman when the purple Gremlin began the southbound journey. "I didn't know they still existed," said a man.

Booths, pop-up boutiques, food trucks, California Highway Patrol, and Sacramento Children's museum lined the street. Asia Market & Restaurants' parking lot became a dance party, courtesy of James Powell and his 1971 Cutlass playing R & B dance tunes from waterproof boat speakers installed in the engine compartment.

At times, the event seemed to be all about the children who could be found at Sacramento Children's Museum's booth in front of the Assistance League's Fabulous Finds on Fulton shop. Molly Mix, the museum's program manager, was on hand teaching kids how to play the kazoo and use the catapult to launch Leo.

"You're never too old for a kaleidoscope, catapults, or flip car racing," she said.

Also set up there were California Highway Patrol officer Amy Walker and senior volunteer John Harris who were giving teddy bears to children and offering child safety tips and identification information.

Further down, a woman said, "Hey look, it's the Porsche lot. "Every kind of Porsche you could think of," said another.

It seemed like every type of vehicle imaginable was on hand, including a golf cart doubling as the Zombie Outbreak Response Vehicle. This was the event's seventh year on Fulton Avenue and is hosted by Fulton Avenue Association for California Automobile Museum, which showcased many vehicles from its collection.

"We are very grateful to our volunteers and our sponsors, especially the Fulton Avenue Association for supporting and hosting this event," wrote Mello in an email.

Time to Get on Your Feet!

By MPG Staff

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - A free dance – now in its second year as a community event – is offered for all ages on Sunday, October 21.

After 40-plus years of performances for park districts, John Skinner Band concerts remain a popular part of local concert programs. Before his 2017 death, bandleader Skinner committed to sponsor a big knees-up to unite neighborhoods. “The community that dances together advances together,” reasoned Skinner. His band is still working. Its October 21 line-up will include rock, swing, ballads and line dances. Ballroom dancers, social shufflers and children are welcome. There will also be contests and prizes.

The second annual Carmichael

The John Skinner Band and Carmichael Park District will sponsor a free community dance at the La Sierra Community Center.

Community Dance kicks off at 2 pm. La Sierra Community Center is located at 5325 Engle Rd. Seating will be provided; drinks and snacks available for purchase. Groups are welcome. Additional sponsors include: Supervisor

Susan Peters; Carmichael Kiwanis Club; Tim’s Music Store; the Milagro Centre, Carmichael Chamber of Commerce and Mission Oaks Recreation and Park District. For information, call (916) 481-0334. ★

HOPE Raises Funds for Affordable Counseling

convenient for clients to meet after work. But Davis was happy to see in attendance many prior employees who worked for HOPE during their training and are now licensed therapists in private practice.

Traci Bianchi-Templin, now a licensed marriage and family therapist, described her time working at HOPE, stating, “Darlene was a wonderful supervisor, and it was so rewarding to serve the community, be part of a family, and help train the next generation of therapists. It was a wonderful experience to address the community’s mental health needs while working in such a supportive environment, which is why I still support the organization.”

HOPE board member Shannon Dickson knew Davis from their involvement in the MFT Consortium, which offers stipends to students seeking advanced degrees in mental health higher education. Dickson explained why she was compelled to join the board of HOPE: “As a psychologist, I am interested in ensuring that mental health services are affordable and accessible, and HOPE does that.”

When Davis asked Margaux Helm to join the board, Helm was already very familiar with the organization and knew that HOPE is an important part of the community because of both the affordable services and the training of future therapists. Helm used to be the director of WEAVE, and “we would need alternate places to refer people, and HOPE offered affordable services.” Helm also taught at California State University Sacramento in the graduate counselor education program and helped coordinate student internships at HOPE.

Helm revealed that Davis was recently awarded the Distinguished Clinical Member Award from the California Association of Marriage and Family Therapists. “She’s a great therapist, and a great leader, and she won’t brag about it,” said Helm.

Not all attendees were previously familiar with HOPE’s mission. Carmichael locals Peter and Kitti Ruttan bought tickets at the door on the evening of the event. “We saw it in the paper and thought, ‘Well, we can give to a charity and drink beer,’ so we just decided to do it,” said Peter Ruttan.

Kitti Ruttan was interested in attending specifically because it was a fundraising event. The Ruttans just recently moved to Carmichael, and Kitti Ruttan said, “After moving to a new community, I think it’s important to get involved and give back to the community.” They are especially cognizant of the necessity for affordable mental health services because both of their children have struggled with mental health issues.

Davis thanked everyone in attendance for their support, and commended the donors for their generosity. She also had a special message of thanks for the members of the board, who “have helped grow HOPE to what it is today.” Davis hopes to expand the fundraiser next year with a raffle and live musical entertainment to increase turnout.

Beatles vs. Stones Tribute Show to Settle an Old Score in Sacramento

"Beatles vs. Stones - A Musical Showdown" comes to the Crest Theatre on Wednesday, October 17 at 7:30 pm. Photo courtesy La Jolla Booking Agency

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The debate between the Beatles and the Rolling Stones has been going on ever since they first crossed paths on the charts 54 years ago. The argument at the time, and one that still persists, was that the Beatles were a pop group and the Stones were a rock band: the boys next door vs. the bad boys of rock. So who's better? These two legendary bands will engage in an on-stage, throw down - a musical 'showdown' if you will - on October 17 at the Crest Theatre at 7:30 pm courtesy of tribute bands Abbey Road and Satisfaction - The International Rolling Stones Show.

Taking the side of the Fab Four is Abbey Road, one of the county's top Beatles tribute bands. With brilliant musicianship and authentic costumes and gear, Abbey Road plays beloved songs spanning the Beatles' career. They face off against renowned Stones tribute band Satisfaction - The International Rolling Stones Show, who offer a faithful rendition of the music and style of Mick Jagger, Keith Richards and the bad boys of the British Invasion.

Where did the idea for the show come from?

"Music fans never had a chance to see the Beatles and the Rolling Stones perform on the same marquee," said Chris LeGrand, who plays "Mick Jagger" in the show.

"Now, music aficionados can watch this debate play out on stage."

The Sacramento show is part of a 125 stop tour of the U.S., Australia and Canada and has been touring since 2011. The show also performs long term residencies for a number of the Harrah's Casino properties. The production includes some of the more popular songs from the two rock pioneers and covers the scope of their musical careers, although the set list for Satisfaction usually includes Rolling Stones songs up to the 1980s.

"They certainly have more pop songs but we're a really great live show. The fans are in for an incredible night of music!" says LeGrand.

During the two-hour show, the bands perform three sets each, trading places in quick set changes and ending the night with an all-out encore involving both bands. The band members have their outfits custom-made, since avid fans know exactly what the Beatles and Stones wore onstage during different time periods in their careers. There's a lot of good-natured jabbing between the bands as well.

"Without Beatlemania, the Stones might still be a cover band in London," said Chris Overall, who plays "Paul."

"There's no question that the Beatles set the standard."

The audience naturally enjoys top shelf tributes to two legendary bands in the same evening. Like The Idaho Statesman said: "If you see only one tribute show, see this one...smart and loads of fun."

"It's just a fun time and a cool back-and-forth nonstop show," Overall said.

"We're going to bring it all. It's going to be an evening of high-energy music," said LeGrand.

Jeers to Black Mirror

for being a categorical lie. Yes, we love the Star Trek-inspired "USS Callister" episode with Jesse Plemons (pictured) too, but that's exactly what it is: a great episode of a Netflix series. It's not an outstanding television movie, like Lifetime's stellar Flint or HBO's The Tale, both of which it bested. Sorry, but this one is Black and white.

Cheers to Emmy Voters

for shaking things up. Winners Darren Criss (Assassination of Gianni Versace's limited series lead actor), Henry Winkler (Barry's supporting actor in a comedy) and Rachel Brosnahan (The Marvelous Mrs. Maisel's lead comedy actress, above) were all dark horses going in—and walked away with bright, shiny statues.

Cheers to Regina King

for defying limitations. Since Netflix axed Seven Seconds after one season, the monumentally gifted actress was able to be nominated—and win—for Outstanding Lead Actress in a Limited Series. Wonder if the streaming service will now go back for Seconds?

Jeers to Lethal Weapon

for lethally wiping out Riggs. No matter how horrible ousted star Clayne Crawford may have been off-camera, his character was key to the original film franchise and deserved a more noble exit than to be killed off. ★

ASK MATT

BY MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

SHOULD I WATCH GOD FRIENDED ME ON CBS?

Question: Seeing ads for God Friended Me and I immediately think of Kevin (Probably) Saves The World, with Jason Ritter as Kevin, which I liked a lot but the show never made it to a second season. So for that reason alone, and not wanting to invest my time in something that might not click (regardless of "God" having a part in this one), combined with the familiarity factor, I probably won't even tune in to sample it. Unless you've seen previews and highly recommend. —Michael

Matt Roush: I hear a lot of this sort of comment this time of year, from people who've been burned by cancellations and are wary to commit to new programs. In this case, I'd advise taking a leap of faith, especially if this is your type of show. God Friended Me has some similarities to Kevin, though the premise doesn't seem nearly as convoluted, and not unlike Jason Ritter, the lead, Brandon Micheal Hall has plenty of charisma as the atheist who keeps getting messages from a mysterious "God" account. (Bonus: Scandal's Joe Morton plays his pastor dad.) Another plus: God seems more compatible to CBS's schedule—the network of the long-running Touched by an Angel, let's not forget—than Kevin ever did on ABC, and it's in a cushier Sunday time period, so while there's never any guarantee of success, I'd expect this to have a better chance at a decent run.

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues:
Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

Implants as low as $99.00 per month

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
