Chamber Director Says Farewell to Community

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - After nine years as its lone executive, Linda Melody last week announced her resignation from the Carmichael Chamber of Commerce. From next month, Melody plans a new chapter of life in another small American town: Salinas, Monterey County.

Chamber members heard her decision at their September lunch meeting. After stunned moments, a standing ovation saluted the hard-working executive. "I dreaded having to tell them I was leaving," notes Melody. "I saw the shock on people's faces and realized I had a history with them all. I felt I was going to cry."

Her decision was made with the support of family and her doctor, who prescribed surgery for a back problem and a lessstressed future pace. "I've taken little time off in recent years." She explains. "I never minded because I loved my job. But after my surgery, I'll give myself time to recover and to settle into our new home in Salinas." Most of her family, including siblings and her daughter are now Monterey County residents. "My husband and I had talked for years about moving there," Melody said. "My family and I are close. I will love to be with

Appeals Case Impacts Illegal Camping Ordinance

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) -

A federal court decision has ruled that illegal camping ordinances are unconstitutional and that local governments cannot cite or arrest anyone sleeping on public property.

On September 4, 2018, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruled on the case Robert Martin v. City of Boise, stating that enforcing anti-camping ordinances when adequate shelter beds are unavailable is unconstitutional.

Because of that ruling, the Sacramento County Department of Parks stopped enforcing the City of Sacramento's anti-camping ordinance and the County ordinance prohibiting camping without a permit.

Since January 2018, Sacramento County rangers have issued 1,834 citations for unlawful camping under the County ordinance, and 224 citations for unlawful camping under the City of Sacramento ordinance.

The County is currently evaluating enforcement options under existing laws and regulations and will provide information to the Board on next steps.

Sacramento County Rangers will continue to enforce ordinances including but not limited to campfires, littering, dogs off leash, possession of a shopping cart and environmental degradation.

"As soon as I found out about the ruling, I suggested our board meet to discuss its implications, especially for my constituents who rightfully demand a clean and safe Parkway," said First District Supervisor Phil Serna, who represents the lower reach of the American River Parkway.

Del Campo Junior Cougars: The Meaning of "Team"

Parents Pulling Together to Teach Youngsters Hard Work, Teamwork, Community and Family

FAIR OAKS, CA (MPG) - Who are the Del Campo Junior Cougars (DCJC)? They are a team, a community, and a family. They are a nonprofit supported by businesses throughout the community and have been around since 2006. The Del Campo Junior Cougars are made up of 8U, 10U, 12U, and 14U teams for football and cheer and each team consists of approximately 160 football players and 40 cheerleaders. In 2017 all four football teams made it to the playoffs and three of the four made it to the championships. The 10U Del Campo cheer team took first place at the USA cheer nationals, which is outstanding.

DCJC has an executive board of six, additional committee board of 10, 50 coaches, and the parent volunteers that make the dream work for these kids. The team enforces academic and behavioral

The executive board does not just work during the season, they work year round to be sure there are sponsors to make each season successful. There are several teams throughout the Sacramento area, but as you can see from the numbers of players in this organization, many people choose this team due to the feeling of family and community that

"Teacher Night" a First at Aerospace Museum

Story and photos by Trina L. Drotar

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - After a full day of teaching school, instructors came from as far away as El Dorado Hills to attend the Aerospace Museum of California's first Teacher Night on September 27. From preschool to high school, teachers inside and outside of the STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) fields came together to learn what the museum has to offer their students and discover new ways to integrate STEM learning in the classroom. Refreshments and a sneak peek at the museum's new exhibit, "Our Solar System: an interactive journey," including a teacher's exhibit guide, were part of the evening's curriculum.

The museum is located on McClellan Air Force base where it began in 1986 as McClellan Aviation Museum. Director Tom Jones, who has held the position since March, says that the museum is committed to STEM education for students of all ages and to becoming the best on the West Coast. As a Smithsonian Air and Space Museum affiliate, exhibits like the 2018 "Art of the Airport Tower" and 2017 "DaVinci Inventions" can be brought to function or engineering with marbles. Others learned why the moon turns blue and viewed photos of nebulae on one of the many monitors that will accompany the exhibit. Each visitor was treated to a docent led tour of the museum and its

Upstairs, at the far end, tucked in a hallway, teachers made their way to the Flyers Flight Zone to experience simulated flying on one of the six high-end gaming machines. Museum volunteers, led by Flyers Flight Zone Director Warren Searls, educated the educators and allowed each some hands-on flight

"There is a huge shortage of pilots worldwide," Searls said, adding that the Flight Zone is a way to interest fifth through twelfth grade students in flight and perhaps becoming pilots. In 2017, 10,000 students visited the Flight Zone, and many from Title 1 schools received scholarships for the flight simulations. He wants teachers to encourage students to remain in school and consider taking those STEM classes.

Miss Naomi Endsley, from Orangevale's Almondale Academy, was one of the first teachers to try the

"I didn't crash," she said, a sentiment echoed by other teachers who took turns at flying to New Zealand, Switzerland, and San Francisco.

Endlsey teaches second and third grades and said that she definitely picked up new ideas for her students. Like many others that evening, she had never been to the museum. She said that she'll bring her students and let them have the chance to see a piece of history and what technology really is. She engaged in conversation with Karen Jones, the museum's development director and Tom Jones, museum director, about what technology holds in store for the future.

Twin Rivers Unified School District teachers agreed that they would definitely bring their students, one of several school districts the museum currently facilitates STEM, history, and art learning opportunities with. San Juan Unified School District, UC Davis, Sacramento State University, American River College, University of the Pacific, and charter schools are others.

Director Jones said that the museum has a formal mentorship program with the UC Davis Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering. Sacramento State undergraduate history students are conducting research on the museum's airplanes and will create videos that may be accessed with QR codes to enhance the static exhibits. At least one Sacramento State graduate student is working on his master's thesis by building an upcoming exhibit about Bob Hoover who, among other things, was a revolutionary in aerobatic flying. Sacramento City College owns the Fed Ex jet parked in the outside exhibition area and uses it as its classroom.

Even the youngest students can benefit from STEM learning as Kimberly Dillon, preschool teacher at Discovery Learning Center in Fair Oaks, said. She has brought her students to the museum for several trips and said that they really enjoy climbing the planes. Her guest that evening was her son, Anthony.

"Very cool for kids," was the phrase most often heard from teachers.

Chamber sponsors. "These companies gain additional visibility," she explains. "Through them, we gained a stronger financial foundation to work with."

The Chamber now has nearly 300 members. "I know them as individuals, as well as businesses," considers the gobetween. "Our personal touch isn't always possible in larger chambers. When members come to our events, I'm able to greet them all by name."

Job perks have been many. "As a kid, I had a goal to know everyone in the world by their first name," she recalls. "In Carmichael and beyond, I've met so many people. The Chamber has a wonderful relationship with elected representatives; congress members, senators, assemblymen and supervisors — their doors are always open to us. We can discuss issues and often get help from them. Some legislators even help sponsor our events.

Linda Melody, Chamber Director

"My board of directors is my boss, but presidents and directors came alongside me as a team. When I first started, we were a small Chamber organizing events on our own. We now partner with companies and other chambers; that makes our efforts stronger. We added our Best of Carmichael gala to recognize more people. Many hear criticism for what they do; they don't always hear praise. When a community decides its favorites, everyone who earns votes feels special."

Her retired mailman husband gets his Melody's own Best of Carmichael vote. "Michael's been my biggest cheerleader," she says. "He's never complained about the long hours or the number of events I've attended; he usually comes with me. He's friendly with all our members. But he's looking forward to having more time with me, now."

"I hope to get back to work after I recover from my surgery," says the departing CEO. "I'll look for a job in Salinas. The Carmichael Chamber will always be part of me. I never had a job where I've felt so involved and received so much back. But still feel I've much more to give."

The Carmichael Chamber is now advertising to interview candidates for its CEO position. For information, call (916) 481-1002.

Creativity Gone Wild

Local Nonprofits Help Young Authors' Dreams Come True

By Elise Spleiss

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - How many children do you know who have written illustrated, and published their own book? In Citrus Heights, 125 students, 1st through 5th grade, at the Mariposa Avenue Elementary School have added "author" to their resume, which will follow them through high school and beyond.

This unique program called "Creativity Gone Wild" is taught by members of the Mariposa Literary Academy in Citrus Heights and is designed to inspire students to stretch their minds and use their imaginations in new ways.

The program was the brainchild of Karen Szakacs, a kindergarten teacher at Mariposa in 2014, and Marsha Robinson, a local author of children's books. Together with Cherelyn Martello, the three women launched the first academy in 2014.

The spark that ignited the idea for the student authored books came when a kindergarten boy at Mariposa heard Robinson read her book "Rescuing Humphrey" to the class and afterwards raised his hand. He asked her to write another book about Humphrey. She answered by suggesting he write it. He replied, "I don't know how," and the Mariposa Literary Academy was born.

Since January, 2014 the Academy has taught 11 afterschool academies (two per year) with 125 young authors to-date proudly producing their own hard cover fiction books at the end of the 16-session academy. A maximum of 12 students are chosen by their teacher to participate in each academy. The entire book is the work of the student author. They come up with their own fictional story, with a beginning, middle and conclusion, along with illustrations. They begin with a normal life experience such as a camping trip in the woods with their family. They are told to enhance it using their imagination, such as being transported to another planet by space aliens. The results have truly been mind-boggling.

To help teach the authors how to illustrate their own books, Peter Blueberry, alias Lance Pyle - a children's book author and illustrator, volunteers his time explaining the art of illustration and helping students with their own work.

Shutterfly, an American internet-based publishing service, prints the books for about $15 each. Each student receives a hardcover book for themselves, a hardcover book to sign for the school library and the Academy receives a paper copy of each student's book. They have become the most popular books checked out by students.

While instruction and the printed books are free to participants, actual cost per pupil averages $50. In addition to the cost of publishing, funds are used for items such as paper and art supplies, snacks, and photography.

Financially, the Literary Academy, Creativity Gone Wild, is managing to stay solvent with the help of two philanthropic organizations and other donations.

Through word of mouth the Rotary Club of Citrus Heights and Soroptimist International of Citrus Heights immediately stepped up and have continued to provide the largest portion of the over $6,000 needed to fund the program for the last five years. The Optimist Club of Citrus Heights and Mariposa Parent Faculty Organization have also provided funds.

Robinson stated in an email, "I would like to show my thanks to the organizations that have supported this program, to the volunteers that help us run the program, and to the school itself for allowing us to use their campus."

She would also like to invite other schools to look at the "possibilities that an academy like this can provide students" in their schools. The Mariposa Literary Academy would love to share their experiences with local elementary school teach-

Recently, Avante Washington, one of the DCJC players, was in a car accident that caused serious injuries. Avante and his mom were both injured, and Avante had to learn how to walk, again, due to a spinal injury that has caused the loss of movement to his right side. This incident showed the true community that DCJC is made of. Several team members, the DCJC President, and other members of the DCJC family rallied around Avante physically and spiritually.

Avante is now home and was able to be there for the most recent game and DCJC will continue to provide support and help in any way they can because Avante, and all DCJC players are not just football players, they are

Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Convicted of Sexually Assaulting Multiple Children

DATE: September 25, 2018 CASE: Steven Sommer (Case #17FE004388) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney

Catrina Skor, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit Steven Sommer pled no contest to five counts of committing a lewd act upon a child, and admitted to the allegation the conduct was committed against more than one victim.

Between 1993 and 2002, Sommer sexually assaulted five children whose ages ranged from 4 to 11 years old at the time of the assaults. Sommer would lure the victims to his house, where he showed them pornography and had them engage in sexual activity. The first victim reported the sexual abuse in 2013, which launched a larger investigation. The investigation led to four other victims, who reported Sommer abused them for years. When the Sacramento Valley Hi-Tech Crimes Task Force searched Sommer's computer, it revealed dozens of images of child pornography and searches related to child pornography.

Sommer faces a maximum sentence of 33 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for October 15, 2018, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 30 before the Honorable James McFetridge.

Jury Determines Sexually Violent Predator Will Stay in Hospital

DATE: September 26, 2018 CASE: Robert Sims (Case #93F03509 & 04F05695)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Denise Halstead, Mental Health Litigation Unit A jury found true a petition of civil commitment against Robert Sims as a Sexually Violent Predator (SVP).

In 1993, Sims was convicted of rape by force or fear. In that case, the 16-year-old victim was walking to school when Sims got her into his car, used a knife to threaten her and then raped her. He received 3 years in state prison. While incarcerated on a parole violation in 2004, Sims used force to sodomize his cellmate and was convicted of sodomy. He received a 32-month sentence. Sims violated parole in 2007 when he failed to register as a sex offender. As a result, the District Attorney's Office filed a petition to civilly commit Sims as an SVP.

While in the hospital, Sims assaulted a staff member in a sexual manner and displayed sexual behavior during an interview by an expert called to evaluate him. Doctors from the Department of State Hospitals had the opinion that Sims represents a danger to the health and safety of others, in that he is likely to engage in sexually violent predatory criminal behavior.

Deputy District Attorney Denise Halstead states, "Sims has shown he will sexually offend in the community, in jail and in the state hospital. The jury determined that Sims continues to present a substantial danger and a serious risk to commit such crimes if free, and our community is safer with this finding."

Second Defendant Sentenced for Murder, Attempted Murders

DATE: September 28, 2018 CASE: Dashawn Tinsley & RV Watson Jr. (Case #16FE016082)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Matt Chisholm, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit

The Honorable Curtis Fiorini sentenced RV Watson Jr. to 207 years to life in prison. Dashawn Tinsley was previously sentenced to 141 years to life in prison.

On June 5, 2018, Dashawn Tinsley and RV Watson Jr. were convicted by a jury for the firstdegree murder of Andrew VanHunnik and three counts of premeditated attempted murder. The jury also found true that both defendants fired firearms causing great bodily injury or death to three separate victims.

On December 24, 2015, one victim drove to his mother's Citrus Heights home. As he exited his car, he was shot three times and suffered a broken left arm from one of the bullets. On December 28, 2015, law enforcement responded to a shooting in Citrus Heights and found a car riddled with bullets. Inside the car was Mr. VanHunnik, who was deceased from multiple gun shots. Two other victims who were also in the car survived. One victim escaped the car after being shot five times, and the second victim escaped without being shot. Detectives from the Citrus Heights Police Department were able to locate witnesses and physical evidence which established both Tinsley and Watson as the shooters in the murder and the earlier attempted murder.

Defendant Sentenced for Sexually Assaulting Woman on Train

DATE: September 28, 2018

CASE: Jerron Rolen (Case #17FE020552) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Bret

Wasley, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit The Honorable Eugene Balonon sentenced

Jerron Rolen to 25 years to life in prison. On August 6, 2018, a jury convicted Rolen of sexual assault by foreign object while the victim is unconscious and assault with intent to commit mayhem, rape, sodomy, oral copulation.

On October 31, 2017, Rolen boarded an Amtrak train. The 20-year-old victim boarded the same train and was assigned a seat next to Rolen. The two chatted for a few hours until the victim decided to go to sleep. The victim woke up to Rolen sexually assaulting her. The terrified victim told Rolen she needed to use the restroom and sat next to someone else. When the train arrived in Sacramento, the victim told a train attendant about the assault. Rolen was arrested on the train.

Rolen's two prior 2012 strike convictions in the state of Washington for child sexual assault were also found true at sentencing.

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

It began as a whispered threat, this latest storm of ours. There was something in the air, a cleansing tonic, a murmur of sharpness.

The trees on the hills looked different, then, seeming to stand out in sharper focus, in cleaner profile. It was the magical paintbrush of a gentle sun brushing the front of them, against an ominous, creeping black background. And the blackness grew higher yet, until the western sky was a massive wall of black and swirling gray.

People stood outside and

looked, and tried to find a weather report on the radio, and called in the children from play, and made sure the windows were rolled up in the cars, and let the dogs come in. In the fields, the cattle and horses trotted around, snorting softly as the dark sky swallowed our world.

And then it came, gently at first as a reminder to get in the house, then the wind brought buckets of rain, drenching the deep grass and slashing at our homes. Cars in town slowed to a crawl under the onslaught. People parked and then dashed to the nearest building, wondering as they did, just what was so important that they had to be out this afternoon.

We flinched with every flash of lightning, every smashing thunder. In the cafés, patrons looked out at the parking lots now turned into waterfalls and nodded as though in wisdom.

STATEPOINT CROSSWORD • TALK SHOWS

"Think it'll rain?"

"If it don't it'll miss a good chance."

We listened for something else, too, hoping it wouldn't come. As the storm shut us down to tiny worlds inside, we kept one ear cocked for the tornado siren. Nothing. Good.

The storm lasted for two rinses down at the Curl Up 'N Dye beauty parlor, through a light trim at Kelley's Barber Shop, and half a chickenfried steak at the Mule Barn truck stop. Then it was over except for the gutters running like trout streams, the new sun contrasting with the blackness of the rest of the sky, and the dripping of our world.

We won't have to water the lawn today. Life is good.

CASE No. 34-2018-00240802 To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Peter Michael Schaefer. A Petition for Probate has been filed by Timothy Schaefer in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Timothy L. Schaefer, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows November 27, 2018 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341

Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition,

you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. The name, address and telephone number of the Attorney for Petitioner is: Katherine L. West 900 SW Fifth Avenue Suite 2000 Portland, OR 97204

CHEERS JOBS

by Damian Holbrook

Cheers to Glenn Weiss

for dropping the mic by popping the question. As if earning a trophy for directing the Oscars wasn't enough, Weiss blew the crowd's mind when he proposed to his girlfriend, Jan Svendsen, onstage! Thankfully, the orchestra didn't play him off before she said yes.

Cheers to The Americans

for getting a salute. After six seasons of awesome, FX's nowwrapped Russian spy drama was awarded an outstanding writing win for executive producers Joe Weisberg and Joel Fields, while Matthew Rhys snagged lead actor. But who colluded to ice out lead actress nominee Keri Russell (pictured, with Rhys)?

Jeers to The Hosts

for not being very relevant. At best, Colin Jost and Michael Che (pictured) were fine. At their awkward worst, they reminded us that Emmy producer Lorne Michaels could have showcased Saturday Night Live's more diverse (and deserving) nominees, Kate McKinnon, Aidy Bryant, Leslie Jones and Kenan Thompson.

Jeers to Game of Thrones

for playing with our heads. How did Season 7 nab outstanding drama when the series starring Emilia Clarke, hasn't aired in more than a year? We barely remember what happened. Was this the season with the muddy battle and all the sex or the one and the incest?

with the really muddy battle Matthew Rhys and Kerri Russell (pictured) of FX's Russian Spy drama, The Americans.

MATT ROUSH TV Guide Senior Critic

IS TRAVEL CHANNEL'S HOTEL IMPOSSIBLE COMING BACK?

Question: Will Travel Channel's Hotel Impossible be on anymore? That show makes you not want to stay at hotels anymore! —Dennis

Matt Roush: I get a lot of questions like this, and it's almost impossible (no pun intended) to keep up with the comings and goings of these reality-based cable series. Often they're just in between seasons, and there's no predicting when they come on and off the schedule, but in the case of Hotel, it's no longer in production. Though Travel Channel does make past episodes available on its app, for devices like Roku, Amazon Fire and Apple TV, or the phone, and on the channel's website.

Question: [SPOILER ALERT] I finally got involved in Shooter on USA ... and they killed off

Bobby Lee's wife Julie! With all the insanity and nonsense he put her through ... she's gone? It kind of frustrated me and makes me not want to tune in anymore. Ridiculous turn of events. —Louise

Matt Roush: Well, you'll at least be spared that problem, because there will be no more episodes of Shooter to tune into. This season turned out to be its last—and no, at the moment, no streaming service has stepped in to rescue it. But when I heard that this took place in the finale, I groaned even without watching. This kill-the-wife stunt is getting old.
