Honoring the Last of Our Big Band Dinosaurs

Hal Geist (third left) posed with other Sacramento big band leaders at Carmichael Park in 2008. Geist was joined by Erv Boschee, Ted Morgan, Buddy Harpham, John Skinner and George Bruno. All have since died. Final survivor Geist will be honored at a July 28 memorial.

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Yet another Sacramento Big Band leader has gone to the heavenly ensemble. Former Carmichael resident Hal Geist died of natural causes on May 29. The trumpet player was 81.

A celebration of his life will be held at La Sierra Community Center on Saturday, July 28. All are welcome to share memories and enjoy a performance by the Hal Geist Little Big Band. Downbeat is 1 pm.

A long-time booster of local music and a 26-year Carmichael Kiwanis Club member, Hal relocated to Santa Rosa in recent years to be near his wife's family. "He always looked forward to his weekly Kiwanis Newsletter," says Lynne Geist. "We often drove back to Carmichael for lunch with friends. He loved going to Noah's Bagels for a chocolate chip muffin."

Geist grew up on a Pennsylvania farm. At nine, he ditched piano for trumpet and was sent to practice in the barn. "His five brothers hated his practicing," says his wife. "I guess the cows and horses were more tolerant." During Korean War years, teenage Hal was often called on to play TAPS for fallen schoolmates. After graduation, he joined the US Marine Corps as a bandsman and served four years at Parris Island (SC). Corporal Geist played hundreds of parades, concerts and ceremonies. He first married at 19 years old and fathered two sons.

The ever-practical farm boy had a flair for math and engineering. After the military, he found heavy construction jobs in Long Island, NY. He later brought his skills to Northern California. As superintendent for several construction companies, Geist managed highway projects that included sections of I-5, US 101, US

New Measure Eligible for California's November 2020 Ballot

Restricts Parole For Non-Violent Offenders. Authorizes Felony Sentences For Certain Offenses Currently Treated Only As Misdemeanors. Initiative Statute.

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Secretary of State Alex Padilla today announced that an initiative is eligible for the November 3, 2020, General Election ballot.

In order to become eligible for the ballot, the initiative needed 365,880 valid petition signatures, which is equal to five percent of the total votes cast for governor in the November 2014 General Election.

An initiative can qualify via random sampling of petition signatures if the sampling projects a number of valid signatures greater than 110 percent of the required number. The initiative needed at least 402,468 projected valid signatures to qualify by random sampling, and it exceeded that threshold today.

The Attorney General's official title and summary of the initiative is as follows:

Let's All Get Together for Big Sing California Disney Hall in Los Angeles Making Statewide History

By Sacramento Choral Society & Orchestra

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - SCSO Conductor Donald Kendrick to serve as the Sacramento region conductor for a mammoth statewide singing event, Big Sing California. This thrilling event is due to set a record statewide on July 21 in California for drawing together one of the largest, free group singing performances in our history.

American superstar composer Eric Whitacre will help lead this exhilarating event which will be simulcast out of Disney Hall in Los Angeles to five California hubs: Sacramento, San Francisco, Fresno, Riverside and San Diego.

The singers in the five California hubs will join the performance experience by viewing the concert on large screens and singing from the audience.

"Singing is just a healthy thing to do individually," says Kendrick, "but group singing is very uplifting in that it really draws the community together and creates such a strong feeling of well-being, of belonging. We are reaching out to tons of area choirs and individual singers to share this experience with us. We would love to fill the large Sacramento Community Center Theater with 2,400 people for our Big Sing event on July 21." "Singers participating in the Sacramento region will have an option of attending an optional free open rehearsal on Thursday, July 19 from 7 - 9:30 PM at the Sacramento Community Center Theater," says Kendrick. The doors will open at 6 PM for this rehearsal. Free Big Sing music books will be provided at this rehearsal and at the July 21st performance for all attendees. Singers also have the option of ordering their music book in advance for a modest fee of $3.00.

You can register online for the Big Sing via the SCSO's website sacramentochoral.com.

People can register online for the Big Sing via the SCSO's website sacramentochoral.com. They can also order their music in advance there and also enjoy some outstanding tutorials on the music itself. This amazing statewide concert will be live-streamed on the Big Sing California website.

Big Sing California is open to the general public. "We want people who love singing to join us and sing as much of the music as they can. We hope that this event will inspire people to make singing, and the joy it brings, a regular part of their lives," says SCSO Conductor Donald Kendrick. "The program is open to all ages ranging from young students to seniors."

The songs selected for the participants range from straightforward sing-alongs such as Lean On Me, This Land Is Your Land, and Hey Jude, to choral works by Eric Whitacre and Morten Lauridsen. The program also features an exclusive arrangement of Pentatonix's Sing by Grammy Award-winning arranger Ben Bram created especially for Big Sing California.

"We know that singing releases endorphins, causes a sense of joy and euphoria and creates a bonding with our Community members, says Kendrick. "To be able to do this on the scale of Big Sing California in Sacramento is nothing short of thrilling."

TICKET INFORMATION:

Participants who want to attend Big Sing California should register individually through the website. People can register at the last moment and even score their free ticket vouchers and music books the day of the concert beginning at 1 PM on Saturday, July 21st at the Sacramento Community Center Box Office.

Ticket vouchers to all locations will be distributed via email 10 days prior to the event. Music books will also be distributed for free at the venues on the day of the concert and at the Thursday, July 19th rehearsal at 7 PM at the Community Center Theater.

"Come and be part of California history in Sacramento by joining us at Big Sing California, on July 21st in downtown Sacramento" says Kendrick. "We promise to make it a memorable experience as we work together to make Sacramento a world-class city." ★

The Espresso Book Machine: A Savory Vehicle for Sacramento Area Authors

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Three hundred eighty authors and counting have published their works through I Street Press at the Sacramento's Central Public Library. On the second floor one will find the Espresso Book Machine (EBM). This isn't a venue for selling lattes to local bookworms. On the contrary, the EBM is state of the art machinery, and is budding writers' self-contained means of making their work known.

The first EBM was unveiled at the New York Public Library in 2007. Now more than fifty such contraptions exist in such far flung locations as Johannesburg and Abu Dhabi. Sacramento's unit, installed in 2011, is one of only two EBM's in California.

The machine occupies the space of two storage freezers one might have in their garage. But it's a heck of a lot more interesting to watch. Witnesses marvel as a book is molded and formed before their eyes. This includes binding the text to a cover with hot glue. Watching the EBM, one is reminded of the Everlasting Gobstopper machine from Willie Wonka and the Chocolate Factory. A 300-page volume takes about five minutes to print. Like the Everlasting Gobstopper, a single, self-contained unit comes out at the end. It's literally hot off the press. Wonka's magical candy was designed to last forever. Similarly, a new paperback is there for the ages.

On the introductory video for the I Street Press, Rivkah Sass, Director of the Watching the EBM, one is reminded of the Everlasting Gobstopper machine from Willie Wonka and the Chocolate Factory.

Sacramento Public Library, describes the appeal of the EBM. "Most of us have a book inside us," she proclaims. "And I Street was really about how do we, as the library, become that center of community-based publishing for the Sacramento region."

Through I Street Press, authors can self-publish. Before such technology existed, a writer would traditionally send his/her work to a publisher, or possibly fifty publishers, with hopes that one of them would pick up their book. The sole way for a writer to earn his/her stripes was through a publishing house. A would-be author could do it alone, but hiring a bookbinder was a costly vehicle. So-called vanity publishing had a negative implication in its very name. But now, the ball is in the author's court, as technology such as the EBM is allowing these individuals greater flexibility with their printed words. It's truly changing lives for authors of all levels.

One individual whose life was enhanced through the I Street Press is Lance Pyle. Pyle employs the nom de plume Peter Blueberry as the author of The Agency of Obnoxious Laughter. In the tradition of Shel Silverstein, Pyle combines humorous poetry with illustrations. I Street Press got Pyle started, and now he has a series of more than twenty poetry books. Pyle's career as an architect flourished, and then his life took a dramatic turn when he was diagnosed with throat cancer. He was forced into retirement and "didn't have anything to do." That's when Pyle started dabbling with rhymes, accompanied by drawings. The prolific poet and artist has created his volumes without benefit of writing or art classes. Pyle says of newfound creativity,

"I didn't know I had it until I had to go find it." He has now sold more than 3,000 of his books independently.

Pyle, as all I Street Press authors, got started through an initial meeting with librarian Gerald Ward. Ward maintains the I Street Press as a one-person operation. While each book on the EBM is printed the same way, Ward recognizes that every author's needs are different. Some are accomplished writers, while others come to the I Street Press with merely an idea. No matter where one is in the writing process, Ward is happy to encourage the writer's endpoint of holding their very own book in his/her hands.

The initial librarian's consultation is free of charge. After assessing the would-be author's needs, Ward will point the individual in the right direction to get started on their book. This might include hiring an outside editor or taking a writing class. Ward states, "Whether 40 or 700 pages, there is a $6 charge per book and 3 cents per page." The writer may complete a proof copy as part of the package. The fine-tuning process continues until the final copy is completed. The end product is an actual published book, complete with ISBN, copyright, and bar code. Additional fees for set-up and revisions are arranged between Ward and the author. The I Street Press is a non-profit organization. Fees paid by authors using the EBM are contributions to the library to help maintain its services.

Those interested in the I Street Press are encouraged to see the process first hand. For more information, go to www.saclibrary.org/istreetpress. ★

July 1 Brings Higher Interest Rates on New Federal Student Loans

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - July 1 was an important date for students and families: it's when most changes to federal student aid - both loans and grants - went into effect. For the year starting July 1, 2018, the maximum Pell Grant became higher, and new federal loans for undergraduates, graduate students, and parents now have higher fixed interest rates than loans taken out the year before. To help inform college borrowing decisions, we have a new, easy-to-read chart with 2018-19 interest rates, loan amounts, and other useful information for the most common types of federal loans.

The coming changes include:

- On July 1, the maximum Pell Grant increased to $6,095, up from $5,920. Pell Grants help 7.5 million low and moderate income students pay for college and reduce how much they need to borrow.
 - o Even with the increase, the new maximum Pell Grant for 2018-19 will cover less than 30% of the cost of attending a public four-year college, the smallest share in over 40 years.
- On July 1, the fixed rates for new federal loans became higher than the rates for loans issued last year.
 - o Stafford loans for undergraduates, subsidized and unsubsidized: 5.05% for loans issued in 2018-19 (up from 4.45% for loans issued in 2017-18).
 - o Stafford loans for graduate students: 6.60% for loans issued in 2018-19 (up from 6.00% for loans issued in 2017-18).
 - o Parent and Graduate PLUS loans: 7.60% for loans issued in 2018-19 (up from 7.00% for loans issued in 2017-18).
- On October 1, origination fees will decrease slightly for new federal loans.
 - o For loans issued October 1, 2018 through September 30, 2019, fees will be 1.062% of principal for all Stafford loans (down from 1.066%) and 4.248% for all PLUS loans (down from 4.264%).

For more information about federal student loans for the coming school year, see our summary chart, Federal Student Loan Terms for 2018-19.

Hal Geist - Last of Local Big Band Dinosaurs

207 and bridges in the Sierra and Cascade ranges.

He established Carmichael residency more than 40 years ago. He and his third wife met at the bank where she worked. "He was starting the River City Concert Band," recalls Lynne Geist. "I'd studied flute in high school; Hal convinced me to get back into music."

While active in local entertainment, Geist ran two air filtration businesses. He also restored classic cars and motorcycles. "My husband was always a farm boy at heart," attests his wife. "He took country drives to see the livestock. He just loved animals and naturally, anything related to music put him in a good mood."

Beyond his own professional ensemble, Geist's trumpet was a mainstay for Carmichael Kiwanis Big Band volunteers. He also led the Sacramento Valley Symphonic Band on Chinese and Australian tours. Travelling had its challenges: "Hal wouldn't eat anything that looked strange to him," recalls Lynne Geist. "He was a Pennsylvania boy who wanted meat, potatoes and corn. He adored any sort of pie. He was a patriot: he teared up for any good rendition of 'Star Spangled Banner.'"

Geist once boasted a horn collection that included more than 200 trumpets. "Everywhere I travelled, I had to buy one," he laughed. "I never had to hock a horn and I never had my horn taken from me. Of course," he added modestly, "some people might have wanted to take my horn from me..."

During his life, rock began an unstoppable conquest. As Elvis and the Beatles transformed dancing and musical culture, brassy dance ensembles gradually faded to nostalgic Americana.

A celebration of Hal's life will be held at La Sierra Community Center on Saturday, July 28 at 1 pm.

Though Geist and most of his bandleader contemporaries are now at rest, their names and commitment to musical excellence are legend.

Anyone may attend the Hal Geist memorial event on July 28. La Sierra Center is located at 5325 Engle Rd. Bequests in his name may be sent to Carmichael Kiwanis or the Sacramento SPCA. ★

Celebrating America at Carmichael's 4th of July Parade

ALL PHOTOS BY Paul Scholl, Publisher

Two young touring enthusiasts get ready at the starting line.

This group won the loudest "Yea for the Carmichael Times" award. And they are pretty good lookin' too!

El Rancho School always has an energetic team for their float.

Patriotic, and standing up for our rights.

Del Campo cheerleaders parade with big smiles.

The street was lined with thousands of families and neighbors again this year.

NOTICE TO READERS
 California law requires that contractors taking jobs that total $500 or more (labor and/or materials) be licensed by the Contractors State License Board. State law also requires that contractors include their license numbers on all advertising. Check your contractor's status at www.cslb.ca.gov or 800-321-CSLB (2752). Unlicensed persons taking jobs that total less than $500 must state in their advertisements that they are not licensed by the Contractors State License Board.
DISCLAIMER
 Be wary of out of area companies. Check with the local Better Business Bureau before you send any money for fees or services. Read and understand any contracts before you sign. Shop around for rates.

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

"Ahhh! Coffee!" said our resident cowboy, Steve,

"Here's to Coffee! The Choice of Shepherders Everywhere!"

raising his cup at the philosophy counter. "Let's raise our cups to whichever Brazilian came up with this stuff."

Very slowly, Herb Collins stood with his cup of coffee there in the midst of culture and education at the Mule Barn truck stop.

"Actually, Steve," Herb said, in his most professorial tone, "his name was Kaldi. He lived in Ethiopia."

And here Herb grinned fiendishly at Steve. "And he was a shepherd!"

"No way, Herb!" "The truth, cowboy, nothing but the truth. In fact, it wasn't so much as Kaldi doing anything, it was his sheep. You see..." (and he turned to face the tables and booths to find he held a rapt audience) "... ol' Kaldi had noticed his sheep munching these red berries and going kinda hyper all over the place, looking for a lion to whip or something. Well, Kaldi knew that hyper sheep were too busy running around eating the plants flat to the ground to be putting on any mutton, so he decided to investigate. He chewed some of these berries himself and beat the sheep back to the ol' Mutton Mansion. He made a couple of laps around the house and said 'Man, I just can't live without my coffee!'

"Now that was about 1000 A.D., you know. The word got out, and people started up their drip machines, and morning stopped being such a dirty word. Of course, as with anything good, there are always party poopers who want it stopped. And so it came to pass with coffee. Six hundred years after Kaldi's sheep, a bunch of Christians (obviously on decaf) petitioned Pope Clement VIII to ban coffee, believing anything that made mornings pleasant must be the devil's drink. Being a fair-minded guy, the Pope didn't want to do that without giving it a try first, so he had some cardinal whip up a batch and he sucked it down. Well, he gave the drink his blessing, said it was an official Christian beverage, had a mug made with 'Clem' on it, and hung it over the sink.

"Here's to coffee!" Herb said to the audience, "The choice of shepherders everywhere!"

Where does he get these things?

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ANTHONY JEROME EGANS
 CASE No. 34-2018-00232933

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Anthony Jerome Egans. A Petition for Probate has been filed by Kenneth L. Egans in the Superior Court of California,

County of Sacramento, requesting Kenneth L. Egans, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows August 7, 2018 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. The name, address and telephone number of the Petitioner is: Kenneth L. Egans

Simple Ways to Protect Our Waterways During the Summer

During the summer, many pollutants that are caused by outdoor activities can harm our creeks and rivers. Lawn and garden chemicals that are used to control weeds or pests, oil and dirt from cars, and trash can wash into a storm drain and empty into a creek or river without treatment.

As you, your family, or friends enjoy the warm weather and outdoor activities, please remember to follow these simple steps to protect our waterways!

Take your vehicle to a car wash that recycles its wastewater.

Reduce the use of pesticides or other products in your garden and around the home. Try eco-friendly products instead.

Properly dispose of trash and remember to recycle if possible.

Check your vehicles regularly for leaks and repair them.

Pick up and properly dispose of pet waste.

Do not dump anything down the storm drain. Only rain down the drain!

For more information on how to protect our creeks and rivers, please visit beriverfriendly.net not an investment. It's a rainy day fund, and its whole purpose is to sit there safe and wait until life throws unexpected expenses in your face.

Think about it this way. Insurance costs you money to protect things that make you money — like your home. It's also there to cover things you otherwise would not be able to afford. When you have an emergency fund in place, you don't have to dip into your 401(k), your IRA, or go into debt. Why? Because your emergency fund provides insurance against those kinds of things.

Let your emergency fund sit right where it is, Ferisa. Besides, it's a really bad idea to buy bonds in an environment where interest rates are increasing. Bonds have an inverse relationship to interest rates. So, as interest rates climb you'll lose out if you're playing around with bonds!

—Dave

Keep it simple and safe

Dear Dave,

My husband and I finally have our full emergency fund in place. Like you recommend, we've kept it in a money market account with check writing privileges for easy accessibility. Recently, we heard about short-term bond funds with a higher interest rate than our current money market account. Our money would be available for withdrawal if needed, and we would only lose the interest. Is it okay to move half of our emergency fund into one of these bond funds to take advantage of the higher interest rate?

- Ferisa

Dear Ferisa,

Absolutely not! Under no circumstances should you do something like that. An emergency fund is not an investment. You'll never build wealth and get rich off your emergency fund. That's not what it's there for.

I understand this might be the first time in your lives you've had a nice chunk of cash in the bank. I also get that it's hard to let it just sit there and make no money. But an emergency fund is insurance,

Allow them to earn it

Dear Dave,

Our daughter just turned 10 years old. Is now the right time to start giving her an allowance, and start teaching her about money?

- Danielle

Dear Danielle,

I'm glad you're going to teach your daughter about money. But in my mind, there's never a time for an allowance. I believe that kind of thinking, and using words like "allowance," are some of the best ways to instill an attitude of entitlement in a child. I don't think you want your daughter growing up with the idea she deserves money simply because she's alive.

My advice is to develop a method by which she can earn commissions. Write down a daily or weekly list of jobs around the house that are age-appropriate she will be responsible for doing. Then, at the end of the week, she gets paid for jobs she completed — and she doesn't get paid for the ones she didn't do. The idea is to teach her that work creates money, and teach a healthy work ethic at the same time.

Of course, there are some things a child should be expected to do without financial reward. Everyone needs to pitch in, and do certain things to help when they're part of a family. And once you've taught her about the importance and rewards of work, make sure to also teach her about the three uses for money — saving, spending, and giving!

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues:
Implants with “Snap On” Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

Implants as low as $99.00 per month

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
