Nature Centre Hosts Fundraiser

Canvases donated by high profile Sacramento artists like Pat Mahony (left), Marcy Friedman and Boyd Gavin will be among art auctioned for the benefit of the Effie Yeaw Nature Center. Judges awarded sculptor Sandy Whetstone (at right) the Best of Show prize for her creation called "Leda and the Swan." The Wild Things exhibition can be previewed at Sacramento Fine Arts Center in Carmichael.

by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Now in its ninth year operating as a non-profit, the Effie Yeaw Nature Center is preparing for its "Art Where the Wild Things Are" fundraiser with new patronage. As honorary chair, Pat Mahony Getz and her husband Randy follow such luminaries as Magazine publisher Cecily Hastings, artists Marcy Friedman and Greg Kondos, Congresswoman Doris Matsui and the late Russ Solomon.

Administered by the American River Natural History Association, the facility and its preserve welcome almost 100,000 visitors per year. "The Center has a special history in this community," notes retired Effie Yeaw executive Betty Cooper.

"Caring supporters keep us open and available for future generations." Part of the funds raised on June 9 will provide free nature enrichment programs for schools that could not otherwise afford them.

The Sacramento Fine Arts Center is a vital gala partner and an art show that supports the fundraiser and offers work from throughout Sacramento. Jurists are artists Marcy Friedman and Boyd Gavin. Celebrity artists contributing this year include Jian Wang, Pat Mahony, Boyd Gavin, David Peterson, Gregory Kondos, Maria Winkler and Terry Pappas. Celebrated landscapist Earl Boley will be remembered with a canvas donated by his widow, Susan Leith. Keith McLane of KLM Auctions will wield the gavel.

Silent auctions will offer more award-winning work. From May 15, these can be viewed in a free "Art Where the Wild Things Are" exhibition at the Fine Arts Center (Gibbons Drive), Carmichael. This year's selection includes several entries by nature photographers.

A sunset supper and beverages are part of the $100 per person gala admission, which runs from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Nature Center in Ancil Hoffman Park. Valet parking is free. Table sponsors are welcome. For information on the event, visit www.sacnaturecenter.net.

To learn about the Sacramento Fine Arts exhibition, visit www.sacfinearts.org. "Lake bottom" by Boyd Gavin and a study of Carmichael creek by Jian Wang are among VIP donations to be auctioned at the June 9 gala. ★

Alleged Shoplifter Dies After Scuffle with Bel Air Security Guard

By MPG Staff

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - An alleged shoplifter died last week-end after a fight with security at the Carmichael Bel Air located on Manzanita Avenue.

The Sacramento County Sheriff's Department responded to the scene to investigate a reported fight between a man suspected of stealing various items from the store and a security guard.

Deputies were able to get to the scene and break up the fight, speaking to the suspect briefly before he passed out. A medic was called and the suspect was later pronounced dead at the hospital.

"There was loss prevention personnel fighting with a person who had allegedly stole some items from the store," said Shaun Hampton from the Sacramento Sheriff's Department. "At some point during that conversation he indicated that he potentially had a heart condition and had utilized some illegal substances earlier in the day."

The Sacramento County Coroner's Office identified the suspect as 50-year-old Eric Eastland of North Highlands.

Local law enforcement and Raley's are continuing to investigate the incident.

Raley's released a statement: "From what we can tell at this time, the third-party officer followed the company's protocols when dealing with the individual. We are working with the authorities as the investigation continues. And in addition, Raley's is conducting our own investigation."

The Bel Air security guard suffered minor injuries from the scuffle and is not expected to be held accountable for the suspect's death. ★

Sacramento County Voting Guide

Sac County
News Release

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Voting is officially underway in Sacramento County! Early last week, Sacramento County Department of Voter Registration and Elections (DVRE) distributed more than 728,000 Vote by Mail ballots, meaning that voters across the County can begin casting their ballots for the June 5 election.

So how exactly can you vote this election? With Sacramento County being one of five counties to implement the Voter's Choice Act, residents can now pick when, where and how they want to vote. Ensure you're ready for Election Day with the following guide:

- Choose how you want to vote
- By Mail: Place the voted ballot inside the envelope provided, sign the envelope and return. Note: Two stamps are required for postage and ballots returned by mail must be POSTMARKED on or before Election Day, June 5.
- Drop Box: As of May 8, voted ballots can be placed in any of the 53 secure Drop Box locations throughout Sacramento County. A complete list of locations can be found online and in the Sacramento County Voter Information Guide that has been mailed out.

- Vote Center: Beginning on May 26, voters can vote in person for up to 11 days, including Election Day at any open Vote Center throughout the County. Remember, voted ballots can ONLY be returned to a Vote Center during the dates they are open. If you'd like to return your ballot before May 26, please send via mail.

Meghan and Harry: A Royal Way Forward Join Congressman Doug LaMalfa and State Senator Jim Nielsen Weigh In On Candidates

By Susan Maxwell Skinner

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - On a sunny day in 1981, I watched Diana Spencer marry Prince Charles. Their son Prince Harry was also blessed with a sunny wedding day. There the similarities ended. Thirty-seven years have passed, and times sure have changed.

Little boys when I last saw them, bridegroom Harry and brother William now parade balding Windsor pates. Two of William's children were among bride Meghan Markle's junior attendants. Kate Middleton's middle-class family exuded more allure than their royal in-laws and celebrity wedding guests garnered more attention than anyone. Even the nuptial soprano claimed meeting George Clooney was the best part of her day.

With a showbiz bride at the altar, Hollywood did indeed meet Holyhood. But what really defined this event was an unapologetic decree that multi-culturalism rules in a marriage that represents the state of Britain's Commonwealth. Stunning in Givenchy, a mixed-race bride strode the aisle alone. She was not property to be given away. She took her father-in-law's arm for a few final steps, allowing the stunning symbolism of a future king's blessing. The word "obey" was absent from her vows.

You begin as you mean to continue. This wedding indicates a non-negotiable path for a modern duke and duchess and an apparently accepting royal family.

Meghan's path to a splendid marriage was strewn with carpet tacks rather than rose petals. She hails from a crisis-prone clan. She's American and divorced. If this was enough to rule out Wallace Simpson as a royal bride in 1936, family baggage is now more common than coronets among Windsor ranks. She might be an actress but the happiness she has brought to the Queen's once-troubled grandson is no act - Harry's wedding day tears were real. Moreover, the bride promises to be a stunning weapon for Windsor popularity. The arcane tradition of divine right survives only through adaptability and the new duke and duchess will help make royalty relevant to millions. As an actress, Meghan will smile and charm her way through a life-sentence of tedium; as humanitarians who bring attention and energy to good causes, she and her besotted husband will be fantastic ambassadors for the Windsor "Firm."

Thirty-seven years ago, no one could have told me Elizabeth II would hear a pulpit-thumping sermon steal her Archbishop of Canterbury's thunder; that her grandson would exit his wedding to gospel anthems and ululations from Middle Eastern fans. But she is wise to endure Meg and Harry's conquest. She accepts that millions will embrace the cosmopolitan couple like rock stars. Their children will endear royalty to future generations of her multicultural Commonwealth. Best yet, the Sussexes are too distant to the throne to threaten succession!

So, Meghan may borrow Queen Mary's tiara any time she likes. The Windsors will bend over en arriere to avoid mistakes that alienated a previous people's princess. In his address, Episcopalian Bishop Michael Curry contended love was a fire - if harnessed - that could change the world. If the Sussex marriage is good, Meghan and Harry's love might just do that. Wish them well. ★

By Northern California Republican Leaders

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Vote by mail ballots are arriving in mailboxes and we want you to know of our strong support for these conservative candidates. We have looked closely at each of these candidates and the others in the race to sort the facts from the fiction. We firmly believe these are the best choices to represent our conservative Northstate values.

Governor John Cox
Attorney General Judge Steven Bailey
Lt. Governor Cole Harris

Secretary of State Mark Meuser
State Treasurer Greg Conlon

State Insurance Commissioner Steve Poizner
State Superintendent of Public Instruction Marshall Tuck
Board of Equalization, District 1 Ted Gaines

Prop 68 - NO
 This is another fake water bond that spends $4.1 billion for no water storage. It is simply more debt so the government can buy more land and not spend a dime to build new water storage. Vote no.

Prop 69 - NO
 This is a proposition about how the legislature can spend new gas tax dollars and was negotiated as part of the gas tax increase. It exempts gas taxes as part of the state spending limits, effectively letting the state spend more than currently allowed by the constitution. It also allows gas tax dollars to pay for bond debt rather than fixing roads. Vote no, and join us to repeal the new and completely unnecessary gas tax this fall.

Doug La Malfa, Congressman (R)

Jim Nielsen, Senator (R)

Prop 70 - NO
 This proposition places cap and trade in the State Constitution for the first time. Cap and Trade funds are being used to fund the state's ridiculous high speed rail plan. This measure was a fig leaf to get legislators to vote for Cap and Trade and increase your taxes. Don't reward sellouts. The Legislature should scrap this tax instead.

Prop 71 - YES
 This one sets the date ballot measures become effective as five days after the election is certified. This will provide clarity as to when propositions take effect.

Prop 72 - NO
 This proposition excludes rain-water capture systems from property tax assessments. There is no need to pay taxes on collecting your own rain water.

Dunmore Wins National Coach of the Year

ARC Women's Tennis Coach Earns Top Honor from Intercollegiate Tennis Association

By Scott Crow, ARC Communications

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - American River College (ARC) women's tennis head coach Steve Dunmore has been honored as the National Junior College Coach of the Year by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA). This award recognizes Dunmore as the top women's tennis coach for all community and junior colleges in the US. It follows Dunmore's selection as the ITA's California Coach of the Year.

"This is a richly deserved honor for Steve," said Athletics Dean Derrick Booth. "Steve is hard-working, dedicated to the art of coaching, cares for his athletes off and on the court, and is tireless in his efforts to strengthen our program."

The ITA praised Dunmore for being highly respected in the northern California community college tennis community for his team's quality of play and sportsmanship. The coaching award recognizes more than just success on the court, as it also credits those coaches whose teams have a track record of sportsmanship and service off the court.

"I'm very humbled and honored by this award," said Dunmore. "This award recognizes the great things happening here at ARC and I'm very excited about our program's future."

In 2018, ARC women's tennis finished second in northern California and enjoyed a 13-2 record. Several student athletes made deep runs in the state championships tournament in both singles and doubles competition.

program that in 2016 did not win a single match. The Beavers were 9-4 in 2017 and then were NorCal runners-up this year.

In addition, the ARC men's tennis program has finished second in the state for the past three years, winning the NorCal title all of those years.

"We've got something special going here at ARC," Booth noted. "I encourage local tennis athletes to check us out and think about the opportunities we have to offer."

The Force Holding Animal Abusers Accountable

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)
 - Animal abuse, neglect and cruelty is more prevalent in our region than most people know. Local animal regulation agencies work cases every day, pulling animals out of precarious living conditions or caring for animals that were victims of abuse or neglect.

One of the most popular recent situations was the puppy Thomas, found on the side of the road – clearly injured. X-rays showed he had been struck in the skull with a blunt object, shattering his skull causing severe injury to his head and eyes.

The Bradshaw Animal Shelter,

where Thomas was brought by a kind citizen after finding him, immediately began lifesaving treatment to manage his pain and treat the infection spreading in his body. Meanwhile, the shelter went public with Thomas's story – asking for any information about Thomas. No one came forward with information and Thomas's abuse/cruelty case is still unsolved.

The good news is that through the generosity of the shelter's non-profit, T.E.A.M. (Teaching everyone Animals Matter), Thomas was able to get brain surgery and is now living a nearly normal life.

Thomas is just one example of hundreds the area animal shelters see every year. Because of the serious nature of the crimes seen, the Sacramento County District Attorney's office launched an Animal Cruelty Task Force – comprised of representatives from each animal shelter in Sacramento County and the Sheriff and Police Departments.

Together, these agencies are working to identify, investigate and prosecute those responsible for abuse, neglect and cruelty to animals. Research shows that the link between animal abuse and crimes committed against persons is strong. Often, animal abuse is a gateway to crimes against humanity. With the help of the task force, Sacramento County Deputy District Attorney Hilary Bagley is looking to put a stop to this progressively violent behavior.

Deputy District Attorney Hilary Bagley on why she felt this task force collaborative was critical:

"For too many years in Sacramento it has been the worst of scenarios for animals. Prosecution relies on both law enforcement and animal control to make animal abuse investigation more of a priority within their agencies.

Law Enforcement more often than not, doesn't receive training in animal abuse. Like any other crime, animal abuse constitutes violations of the Penal Code and law enforcement is responsible for investigating them.

At the same time Animal Control agencies have lacked training their officers as investigators. The officers all need to develop the ability to take statements, write reports and understand their responsibilities to develop and investigate cases. Our community expects that both animal care and law enforcement officers are performing their duties so that violators are accountable.

We have formed the task force to unite these agencies, share successes and learn from failures. Many on the force share an affinity for animals. We can only improve by communication, working together and joining all forces."

The Animal Cruelty Task Force is just one example of progressive collaboration efforts across County agencies and across jurisdictional lines – all with the goal of creating a Sacramento County we all love.

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

It was just one of those things. It didn't really mean Marvin Pincus had lost his mind. Consider this yourself for a minute. Marvin had opened the mail that morning and in it was the Fenwick glass fly rod he'd ordered. Oh, it was used, of course. But there's a feel to a Fenwick that only a man dedicated to a life of using dry flies can appreciate.

The weather was gorgeous. The fish were biting on Lewis Creek. But there was a hitch. Marvin had broken his ankle the previous week and was temporarily in a wheelchair. It was his right ankle, so he couldn't drive down to the creek. And there, in his hands, was the Fenwick. He put it together, attached a reel and some four-weight line and set it on the couch and looked at it.

Marjorie was off visiting her sister, so she couldn't help him. But there's a pull, an irresistible draw to a fly rod. He had to cast it.

Now. It took Marvin about 20 minutes to negotiate the front steps with that wheelchair and the Fenwick. Oh, he could've called a friend to help him, but how could he possibly explain why?

Finally, he negotiated the sidewalk and then the edge of the street itself. There were no cars coming this early afternoon.

Up came the Fenwick. A few swishes in the air told Marvin he'd done the right thing in ordering the rod. So he ran out some line and began casting. About halfway across the street was a large mulberry leaf. He did a double haul on the line and sent the fly toward the leaf. It took several tries before he hit it, but when he made that cast, you could've sold tickets to it. His fly came to rest about three feet above the leaf and then fluttered gently down onto its target. Marvin's smile said it all.

Then the school bus came around the corner full of kids heading home, and Marvin realized he was casting a fly rod from a wheelchair onto dry pavement.

"Hi Mr. Pincus!" yelled one of the kids. "Catch anything?"

"A little slow today, Billy," he yelled back.

"Isn't it hard to catch fish without water?" Billy yelled.

"It's okay, son," Marvin said with a grin. "I'm using a dry fly!"

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ARLENE MARGARET WEICK AKA ARLENE M. WEICK AKA ARLENE WEICK
CASE No. 34-2018-00231757

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Arlene Margaret Weick aka Arlene M. Weick Aka Arlene Weick, deceased. A Petition for Probate has been filed by Barbara E. Nelson, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Barbara E. Nelson, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows July 12, 2018 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. The name, address and telephone number of the Attorney for Petitioner is: Barbara E. NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF WAYNE G. AYERS

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF WAYNE G. AYERS
CASE No. 34-2018-00230780

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Wayne G. Ayers. A Petition for Probate has been filed by Candy Soden, in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Candy Soden, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows July 11, 2018 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal are no more than 25 percent of their monthly take home pay. In this situation, you could save like crazy for a couple of years and make a big down payment on a home in the price range you're talking about. Then, you could pay off that house in just 15 years.

Save up, or get a mortgage?

Dear Dave,
I'm 28, single, and I just became debt-free. In addition, I make $70,000 a year and have the equivalent of six months of expenses set aside for emergencies. Should I save up to pay cash for a house, or is mortgage debt okay? I'd like to keep the price of a new home between $200,000 and $225,000. Since I currently live in a nice apartment, I think I can save about $20,000 a year. What do you think?

-Kathryn

Dear Kathryn,
It sounds like you're in great financial shape. Congratulations on becoming debt-free!

Let's take a look at both scenarios. If you can save $20,000 a year, that means you're about 10 years away from a nice, paid-for home, and you're still debt-free. That's one option. At the same time, I don't yell at people for taking out a 15-year, fixed-rate mortgage, where the payments just like everyone else. Be certain to keep your end of the agreement. Make your payments on time, or early, whenever possible. Then, if they call you at work again, remind them of your initial payment and the terms of the agreement already in place. Be polite, but firm, and demand that they never call you at your office again.

I honestly don't have a problem with either solution, Kathryn, but think about this. Wouldn't it be great to have your own home, and still be completely debt-free, at 40? It's something to think about!

—Dave

Stand up to them!

Dear Dave,
A debt collection agency started calling my office a few weeks ago. I gave them an initial payment, and made an agreement to pay off the debt in monthly installments. This morning, they started calling me at my office again wanting payment. Can I legally demand they not call me at my place of employment?

- James

Dear James,
Absolutely! You have a legal and moral obligation to pay your debts, and I'm glad this is something you recognize. But collectors have rules they must follow. They're governed by law

In addition, send them a certified letter, return receipt requested, so you'll have proof you sent the letter and they received it. In the letter, let them know that — according to guidelines set forth in the Federal Fair Debt Collection Practices Act — you are demanding they not call you at your office again.

If they call you there after receiving this formal demand to stop, they'll be in violation of federal law. If that happens, let them know you'll talk to a lawyer and sue them.

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues:
Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

Implants as low as $99.00 per month

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
