Churchill 7th Grader Returning to Scripps National Spelling Bee

Winston Churchill Middle School seventh-grader, Samhita Kumar, celebrating her second California Central Valley Spelling Bee win. Kumar will advance to compete in the Scripps National Spelling Bee for the second time in Washington, D.C. in May.

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - She said she'd be back, and she meant it.

Samhita Kumar, a seventh-grader at Winston Churchill Middle School in Carmichael, took home first place in the California Central Valley Spelling Bee for the second year in a row and is headed back to D.C. in May to compete once more for the winning title in the Scripps National Spelling Bee.

Kumar took the regional title last year as a sixth-grader and, although she took 18th place in the national competition, she saw her dream of going to Washington, D.C. come true. This time around, Kumar said she wasn't familiar at all with the word she managed to get right that cinched her second regional title. But, she says, she just used her intellect, grammar and vocabulary skills to get it right: O.S.P.H.R.E.S.I.S., a love of odors or smells.

"I knew the word was Greek in origin, so even though I didn't know it, I knew it had a 'PH' and not a 'CC,' which is Italian," said Kumar, proudly showing off her trophy, which will be permanently displayed in the administration office at her school. "The words were definitely much, much harder this year than they were last year, but I just took my mind to the zone where I go and I concentrated and I got it."

Kumar out-spelled seventh-grader Rayhan Kabir from Toby Johnson Middle School in Elk Grove in the final round. A total of 61 students from Sacramento, Yolo, Solano, Placer, Plumas and Shasta counties competed for the regional title.

Kumar will be accompanied by her parents and brother to D.C. for the Scripps competition, which kicks off May 29. She said she has no plans to do anything differently this year to prepare, but most assuredly, she will be clocking a lot hours building up her vocabulary and practicing with her parents who have coached her in previous competitions.

"I will be doing a lot of studying and practicing with both of my parents, but other than that, I'm going to just do what I always do to prepare," Kumar said.

Winston Churchill Principal Mike Dolan said the school's staff and Kumar's fellow students could not be more proud of her.

"We are all just over the moon about her second regional win and her second trip to the national competition," said Dolan. "She did an amazing job last year and we are extremely excited for her that she's getting another chance to go and compete. We'll see how she does, but either way, she's made us all very proud."

Carmichael Elks Holds Classic Car Show

This year we are anticipating 100 or more cars and some car parts and merchandise vendor booths.

By Carmichael Elks

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - We are proud to present our SIXTH Annual Carmichael Elks Classic Car Show featuring Muscle Cars as well as Classic Collector cars vintage years 1919 through 1975. We invite owners of newer, late model non-show competition cars who want to display their unique machines to park in the parking lot facing Cypress Avenue.

Show Cars will be displayed in our spacious and shady back yard featuring a wide variety of vehicles that are entered into the judging contest from many of the local car clubs for your viewing pleasure. This year we are anticipating 100 or more cars and some car parts and merchandise vendor booths.

For those early bird folks that want to enter their cars early to get the best shady parking spots, we recommend that you register early and arrive around sun rise. Day of show entrants pay the $6.00 regular Pancake breakfast price, including coffee service.

The purpose of the show is to raise funds for the Lodge Beautification Project that will allow the Carmichael Elks to increase memberships and provide more capacity to hold charitable events for the benefit of the community. All cash donations and/or unique raffle prize donations are gratefully accepted. Last year, donated bottles of wine and spirits were raffled off and that raffle netted $100 for our Fund.

Raffle Prizes, Guessing Games, Fifty/Fifty Drawing, Kids Activities, all go into making this event a fun time for the whole family. We request that you leave your dogs and other pets at home (if possible).

General Admission is FREE! Car Display Spaces are $30.00 (Goodie Bag included). Vendor Booths start at $40.

For additional information: Carmichael Elks Lodge, 5631 Cypress Avenue, Carmichael, CA 95608 - Phone: 916-489-2103. Email: carmelks@mycci.net or information@carmichael-classic.com. ★

A Real Leap of Faith

Story by Jacqueline Fox

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Music, medicine and faith, says Carmichael resident Dr. Rajshree Gaitonde, have fed the elements of a spectacular life and career that began forming nearly 9,000 miles away on a hot summer day over buttermilk and prison labor.

"When I was a child living in Madras, South India, our neighbor's house happened to be owned by the Inspector General of Prisons," says Gaitonde, recounting the first of many vignettes that launched a journey that ultimately landed her the distinction of being the first female physician to work inside one of the country's most notorious maximum security institutions: Folsom Prison.

In her self-published book released in 2017, Dr. Gaitonde asks a question many find themselves confronting at some point or another: How did I get from there to here? And she answers those questions in humorously impassioned detail in her memoir, 8,596 Miles, My Leap of Faith, My Journey, a 109-page whirlwind of a story rooted in spiritual interventions, synchronicity, music, medicine, matchmaking, faith, love and unexpected opportunities.

"This is my story. This is how I, a privileged young girl from India, managed to come all the way to Northern California to wind up serving as a the first female physician in one of the most dangerous prisons in America," says Gaitonde.

That hot summer day back in Madras, now Chennai, when she was about three years old, Gaitonde explains, a group of men bound to one another by rope or chains, she isn't sure, were working in the Inspector General's garden under a blistering sun. She watched the men she learned were prisoners on work duty and could not understand why they were tied up in the heat. So she did what every young girl would do in a situation like

Clean Sweep for Creeks

Story and photos
by Susan Maxwell Skinner

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - A party celebrating Creek Week caused a big splash – and vital lessons in water conservation – last weekend at Carmichael Park.

Many sponsoring agencies sent an unfiltered message: everyone must do their bit to save and protect water. Early that morning, 2,000 volunteers from youth and neighborhood groups formed an army to scour 85 locations. Creeks from the Delta to Folsom and from Elk Grove to Antelope benefited from the clean-up.

Four work areas within the Rancho Cordova community yielded 1,420 pounds of trash. City biologists also conducted a nature walk along the recently-restored banks of Cordova Creek. The tour celebrated revitalization of a formerly barren channel; Cordova Creek Naturalization Project replaced decades-old concrete creek lining with tons of river rock. Achieved in partnership between city, Sacramento County and the non-profit Water Forum, the three-mile effort has recreated 10 acres of vegetated habitat.

Now 28 years old, Sacramento County's Creek Week program aims to refresh dozens of waterways by removing garbage and invasive plants. The annual volunteer work force is swelled by the Sacramento Regional Conservation Corps, whose members recycle dumped rubber tires.

Beyond tires, mattresses and shopping carts, the 2018 junk-hunt gleaned many tons of smaller stuff alien to healthy arteries. Sacramento Area Creeks Council President Alta Tura noted that high waters from recent rains washed much trash downstream into river flows. "At the same time, more garbage entered our creeks and was trapped by vegetation," she said. "Cigarette butts, plastic straws and fast food packaging are more damaging to wildlife than big stuff. Animals ingest plastic and can end up starving to death. Waterfowl can become entangled in discarded fishing lines. There's no place in our waterways for plastic in any form, yet thousands of plastic items were among the tons of junk we bagged. The volunteers did a stellar job."

At Carmichael Park, rewards for the weary army included clean tee shirts and hot dogs dished up by Carmichael Chamber of Commerce and Mission Oaks Park District volunteers. "The party celebrates everyone's hard work," said Tura. "It also teaches people about nature; how to save water and be better stewards of our environment."

Sacramento Life Center Receives Donation from the American River Bank Foundation to Care for Low-Income Pregnant Women

Marie Leatherby of Sacramento Life Center accepts a check from the American River Bank Foundation to help low-income pregnant women.

By Kate Towson

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - American River Bank Foundation has awarded a $14,000 grant to Sacramento Life Center for the nonprofit's Mobile Medical Clinics that provide free medical services to low-income pregnant women, including pregnancy tests, STD tests, ultrasounds, peer counseling, education and resource referrals.

"This grant from the American River Bank Foundation will provide vital repairs for both of our Mobile Medical Clinics so they can stay on the road, ensuring pregnant women have access to the care they need," said Marie Leatherby, executive director, Sacramento Life Center. "We are so grateful to the American River Bank Foundation for understanding the transportation barrier faced by many low-income women in our community. With this funding, even more women will receive medical care in their own neighborhoods."

For a schedule for the Mobile Medical Clinics, visit www.svp-clinic.com.

"The American River Bank Foundation is committed to supporting organizations that create opportunity, enhance self-esteem and provide physical and emotional well-being for the most vulnerable women and children and the Sacramento Life Center does all of these things," said Erica Thompson-Dias, Vice-President of Community Engagement for American River Bank. "We're honored to support this vital work which improves the overall health and wellness of our communities."

The Sacramento Life Center's mission is to offer compassion, support, resources and free medical care to women and couples facing an unplanned or unsupported pregnancy. The Sacramento Life Center's licensed Sac Valley Pregnancy Clinic includes a primary clinic and two Mobile Medical Clinics that provide all services for free, including pregnancy tests, STD tests, ultrasounds, peer counseling for men and women, education and resource referrals. The nonprofit also offers a school-based teen education program, a 24-hour hotline and a program for women seeking support after having an abortion. For more information about the Sacramento Life Center's Sac Valley Pregnancy Clinic, visit www.svpclinic.com. A Real Leap of Faith that and took them glasses of cool buttermilk.

"I could not believe men were tied up like that and it really touched me," says Gaitonde, adding that she would not remember that event until years later when the offer to work at Folsom Prison was on the table and she was hesitant to take it. "My mother, who encouraged me to follow my passions and take risks, reminded me of that day. She and my parents both said I was destined for it and if I didn't like it I could quit. It turned out to be one of the most critical turning points in my life, so important to me that I had to tell my story."

Her memoir traverses Gaitonde's upbringing, her fast-track to medical school at The Stanley Medical College at the University of Madras where she was the youngest woman to attend at the time, her arranged marriage to a stranger who would take her to America's east coast and ultimately on to Sacramento, where she was offered a job that would test every bone in her body, but ultimately deliver every reward she could have hoped for.

"Most of my patients at Folsom called me 'Dr. G,'" says Gaitonde. "Although my first few months on the job at Folsom were difficult and filled with many moments of sheer terror, ultimately I was able to win their confidence and respect."

Gaitonde leaves out names and specifics of her time at Folsom, which stretched from the 1980s to 2002. "I have to protect myself and the individuals I treated there," Gaitonde says.

Gaitonde specialized in endocrinology and India's ancient form of medicine: Ayurveda, which incorporates the healing power of herbs, a healthy diet, yoga and even music into a system of whole-body care. She also studied music and classical Indian vocals as a young girl and, in addition to her MD, Gaitonde holds a Master's in Public Health and, perhaps not all that surprising: a law degree.

"I wanted to learn the language of the law because it was important to me to understand what was being talked about when I would have to go to court for my job in Folsom and speak on behalf of a patient," said Gaitonde.

Today, Gaitonde is on a book tour of sorts, recounting her story for newspapers, radio and at speaking engagements across the Sacramento region. Carmichael, she says, is indeed, a long way from Madras—8,596 miles, to be exact. And her story is just as long and winding, but it isn't complete. This chapter, says Gaitonde, is partially unwritten, but certainly set aside for her to share her story with the intention of both inspiring and helping others.

"In many ways I know that I must have been destined to do everything I have done in my life so far," said Gaitonde, who is now in her late 60s and sports dark sunglasses due to a degenerative eye disease. "My father, an airline executive, was my hero, and my mother, a brilliant psychologist, was my guru. They taught me to follow my passions and to remember to always be of service to others, because to be of service is to love."

Proceeds from Dr. Gaitonde's book are being used to support underprivileged girls in rural India. Find it on Amazon at: www.amazon.com/596-Miles-Leap-Faith-Journey/dp/0692975578. ★

Trump, Brown Tangle Over California State Border Control

By Rich Peters, MPG Editor

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - California Governor Jerry Brown spoke at the National Press Club in Washington D.C. on Tuesday, defending his sanctuary cities and claiming that the country's immigration debate has become "an inflammatory football that very low-life politicians like to exploit." He continued, "And I think it's shocking, it's despicable and it's harmful to California, mostly to the people."

Brown let it be known that he has no plans of changing his stance on the state's immigration and sanctuary cities.

"We're not backing off," Brown said. "And I believe we have the legal horsepower to block the immediate legal moves by the Trump administration."

The 80-year-old Brown, who is in the final months of his second term as California governor, proclaimed, "I'm not riding off into the sunset. You can be sure that you'll hear from me."

Just before Brown spoke on Tuesday, President Donald Trump tweeted, "Looks like Jerry Brown and California are not looking for safety and security along their very porous Border. He cannot come to terms for the National Guard to patrol and protect the Border. The high crime rate will only get higher. Much wanted Wall in San Diego already started!"

Trump took to Twitter once again on Wednesday morning, saying that many parts of sanctuary cities throughout California want out of Jerry Brown's control. "There is a Revolution going on in California," Trump tweeted. "Soooo many Sanctuary areas want OUT of this ridiculous, crime infested & breeding concept. Jerry Brown is trying to back out of the National Guard at the Border, but the people of the State are not happy. Want Security & Safety NOW!" ★

Churchill 7th Grader Returning to Scripps National Spelling Bee

Kumar will compete against 11 million spellers from across the country this year for the national title. As a finalist she'll have to tackle 56 words just to make it into the championship round. From there, 12 spellers will move on to the final rounds, with a total of seven making the cut for the winning categories, including the first-place slot.

The Scripps National competition is a 91-year old tradition launched in 1925 as a literacy push. Ananya Vinay, then a 12-year old from Fresno, took the 2017 national title after correctly spelling the word marocain, which is a dress fabric made with silk and rayon. She sealed the championship after a grueling 20 rounds, breaking a streak of co-champions and taking home the entire $40,000 prize. ★

Winston Churchill Middle School Principal, Mike Dolan, celebrates with Samhita Kumar who has cinched her second California Central Valley Spelling Bee title and will compete again in the Scripps National Spelling Bee in Washington, D.C. in May.

CARMICHAEL COMMUNITY UPDATE

By County Supervisor Susan Peters

Through the generosity of The Carmichael Times this column serves to provide an update about matters affecting the unincorporated communities of Carmichael and Arden Arcade.

DA to Speak at Community Coffee Meeting

Please join me on Wednesday, April 25, at 7:30 am when I hold my Fair Oaks Community Coffee Meeting featuring District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert as the guest speaker. The Meeting will be in nearby Fair Oaks at the Fair Oaks Water District, 10326 Fair Oaks Boulevard, in Old Fair Oaks Village. Under her leadership, a select group of deputy district attorneys have been assigned as "Community Prosecutors" who pursue quality of life issues by working with the Sheriff's Problem Oriented Policing (POP) and Homeless Outreach Team (HOT) Deputies on matters like drug houses, vacant homes that become transient hang-outs, illegal dump sites, etc.

If you can't make this morning meeting, District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert will be my guest speaker at my Carmichael Community Meeting on Thursday, May 24, at 6 pm at the Carmichael Park Clubhouse. I hold a number of community gatherings throughout the year in Arden Arcade, Carmichael and Fair Oaks with each having a special guest speaker. Flyers for each community identifying dates and times are available on my website at bos.sac-county.net.

Small Business Week

Small Business Week is April 30 to May 5 and Sacramento County's Office of Economic Development and the Business Environmental Resource Center are partnering with other business groups and organizations in recognizing the critical contributions of America's entrepreneurs and small business owners.

During the week a series of events will be held designed to connect our region's small businesses with local resources and celebrate the important role small businesses play here in the Capital Region. The week kicks off with the Capital Region Small Business Week Multi-Chamber Mixer at the Dante Club in Arden Arcade followed by several seminars and workshops to be held May 1-4 at different locations throughout the area.

For details about Small Business Week activities including a schedule of events, please visit capitalregionsmallbusinessweek.org.

Seniors Dance with the John Skinner Band

Seniors and music aficionados are invited to a free Cinco de Mayo Day holiday dance and concert performed by the John Skinner Band, Friday, May 4, at the Mission Oaks Community Center, 4701 Gibbons Drive, in Carmichael

The fun begins at 1:15 and will continue until 3:45 pm that afternoon. My office is sponsoring this free dance in collaboration with the Mission Oaks Recreation and Park District for the purpose of providing an enjoyable time for seniors and older adults.

For more information about this dance and concert as well as the others scheduled in 2018, please contact the Park District at 916-972-0336 or go online to morpd.com.

NOTICE TO READERS
 California law requires that contractors taking jobs that total $500 or more (labor and/or materials) be licensed by the Contractors State License Board. State law also requires that contractors include their license numbers on all advertising. Check your contractor's status at www.cslb.ca.gov or 800-321-CSLB (2752). Unlicensed persons taking jobs that total less than $500 must state in their advertisements that they are not licensed by the Contractors State License Board.
DISCLAIMER
 Be wary of out of area companies. Check with the local Better Business Bureau before you send any money for fees or services. Read and understand any contracts before you sign. Shop around for rates.

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Randall Kevin Miller, aka Randall K. Miller, aka Randall Miller. A Petition for Probate has been filed by Sharon Miller in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting Sharon Miller, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows May 22, 2018 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. The name, address and telephone number of the Petitioner is: Sharon Miller

Travelling Overseas is Such a Pleasure, and it Always Has a Great Ending!

Commentary by Doug Ose

For those of you who have travelled overseas, the experience of different cultures and different standards is always eye-opening. Whether it be the quality of the roads or the cost of food or the friendliness of the citizens, you know exactly what I mean when I say "This is different."

One of the travel advantages we have as Americans is that English is spoken in virtually every country, especially in the large cities. I can only chuckle at the likely chaos that would ensue in the countries we've visited if the residents didn't understand English better than I understood their language.

Our typical trip has lasted three to four weeks. Most of the visits have been free form travel: rent a car, get a map, pick a direction, press the accelerator. This has been particularly rewarding when touring through rural areas. We've encountered local residents who have opened their homes to us. Farmers who are major producers in their communities (cultivating up to twenty acres) have been willing to show us their operations. The small towns (1,000 residents more or less) are very hospitable.

Years ago, we were motorbiking through the dirt roads of the Azores and stopped in a small town for lunch. While eating, a large party of locals walked by escorting a young woman dressed in a spectacularly white dress to the local church for her wedding. We followed the group. In the town square sat the church. On the front steps of the church stood the groom, dressed impeccably in black, surrounded by his groomsmen, commanding the attention of all, strutting like a peacock. As the bride approached the families gathered at the base of the steps in anxious anticipation. We chose not to intrude into the proceedings further, but it wasn't hard to envision that this local custom hadn't changed much in the preceding centuries. We returned to the cantina, finished our meal, hopped back onto the motorbikes and drove off to the next dot on the map.

My wife and I have sought to impress upon our children the wonders of travel. I suspect that many families have similar campaigns. There is no doubt that our kids have been to places they never thought about. That's the beauty of travel: going places you've never really thought about.

Oh yes, the great ending of each trip! Succinctly, there is no place like home. My experience is that while travelling abroad is certainly enlightening, I am always delighted to come back home where the roads are paved, the law is not uncertain and the water is safe to drink. What a great ending to every trip it is when those wheels hit the runway in the good old USA! ★

Dave Says

I do know neither of you have managed your money very well in the past.

If you make $50,000 a year, and you have $70,000 in debt, you should sincerely and apologetically bow out. Explain that you made a big mistake, and just be honest about why you can't provide the laptops. If you make $200,000 a year, but you've just been incredibly silly and lazy with your money, you should buy the laptops and then get serious about growing up and getting control of your finances.

Don't make promises, financial or otherwise, you can't keep. I know this is a tough, embarrassing situation, but it's what I would do if I were in your shoes.

—Dave

Laptop dilemma

Dear Dave,

My husband and I are just starting Baby Step 1 of your plan. Prior to this, we told my two nephews we would buy them laptop computers for college. They don't get a lot of encouragement or support from their immediate family, so we try to help them when we can. Should we go ahead and honor this commitment, postpone getting our starter emergency fund in place, and possibly take on a little more debt, or bow out of the agreement?

—Lisa

Tiny home depreciation?

Dear Dave,

Do you think the value of a "tiny home" would depreciate like a trailer?

—Romeo

Dear Romeo,

That's a tough one. I'm not certain they would depreciate like a trailer, but I don't think they would go up in value much, either.

Anytime there's a very limited demand for something, the price or value doesn't generally increase. And there are very few people looking to buy tiny homes. The tiny home movement is kind of a niche thing. It's a very narrow market, and something that doesn't have a lot of demand isn't going to appreciate.

I would avoid the tiny house movement if I were you, Romeo. Don't invest in things that don't have proven track records and don't go up in value. I love real estate, but not tiny real estate!

Qualifying Veterans and Japanese American Citizens May Receive Belated High School Diplomas

By Operation Recognition

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Office of Education (SCOE) wants to honor the many contributions of those whose education was interrupted due to wartime circumstances. Current and former Sacramento County residents who left high school to serve in the U.S. military during World War II, the Korean War or the Vietnam War, and received an honorable discharge, may contact SCOE to receive their high school diplomas. SCOE also presents diplomas to Japanese American citizens forced to leave high school due to WW II internment. Individuals may request diplomas on behalf of themselves or qualifying family members, including persons now deceased. Those who earned a G.E.D., or graduated from high school while in an internment camp, are still eligible for diplomas. To be considered for the spring 2017 awards ceremony, submit applications by April 26, 2017. Applications are available from the Sacramento County Office of Education by calling (916) 228-2416 or visiting scoe.net/or. ★

"O SON OF SPIRIT!
The best beloved of all things in My sight is Justice; turn not away there from if thou desirest Me, and neglect it not that I may confide in thee. By its aid thou shalt see with thine own eyes and not through the eyes of others, and shalt know of thine own knowledge and not through the knowledge of thy neighbor. Invalid Property Tax Assessments Remain Unpaid to Thousands of Businesses and Commercial Properties in Carmichael

The following is a copy of the letter sent to all Sacramento County Supervisors regarding: Refunds to Carmichael Taxpayers – Sacramento County Taxpayers Association, et al v. County of Sacramento, Carmichael Recreation and Park District, et al, Sacramento Superior Court Case No. 34-2014-80001869.

Sacramento County Supervisors Peters, Kennedy, Frost, Nottoli and Serna:

It has been nearly two years since Superior Court Judge Christopher E. Krueger ruled that the Carmichael Recreation and Park District (CRPD) violated state law by charging an illegal assessment on approximately 13,000 residential home owners, apartment and commercial properties for the tax years 2014-15 and 2015-16. To date, it is estimated that less than 10 percent of the more than $1.3 million collected has been returned to taxpayers. This latter figure has also now increased with the addition of ongoing interest.

As the Presidents of the statewide Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association and the Sacramento Taxpayers Association, we are formally requesting that the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors direct the County of Sacramento to issue a refund to all affected residential and business owners, who were subject to the unlawful collection of this property tax assessment over the foregoing two tax-year period.

CRPD's property tax assessments were held to be invalid in accordance with the Sacramento County Superior Court decision, Sacramento County Taxpayers Association, et al. v. County of Sacramento, Carmichael Recreation and Park District, et al., Case No. 34-2014-80001869, court order dated May 19, 2016. The ruling by the Court negated the assessment on the grounds of numerous violations of the California State Constitution (Proposition 218), designed to protect taxpayers by limiting the methods by which local governments can both establish or increase taxes, fees and property tax assessments such as the subject case. Please refer to the Court's decision for further information regarding these thousands of unlawful property tax assessments.

Currently, taxpayers must apply for a refund through a circuitous, arduous, and complex written refund process that also includes disclosing otherwise confidential, non-public full property tax bills for these two separate tax years. Many people do not even have bills going back several years; that process becomes another refund barrier, or disincentive.

Any purported refund process was designed to fail and limit the refunds rightfully due your taxpayers. In fact there was only one undated (and personally unaddressed and without property reference) cryptic letter that was apparently mailed to some, but possibly not all, taxpayers.

The letter, sent in the fall of 2016, contained the following incorrect and ambiguous reference of an application deadline: "Applicants are encouraged to mail a completed refund application with required supporting documents by November 30, 2016 as directed on the form." (SCI Consultants, which oversees the refund process, confirmed the application deadline to be June 30, 2018 for FY 2014-2015 assessments; and June 30, 2019 for FY 2015-2016 assessments).

This is a serious matter affecting more than 13,000 of your taxpayers, and should be diligently addressed now.

As background, the proponents' campaign never disclosed the actual thousand dollar-plus levies on businesses, apartments and commercial properties. Further, nowhere in any written materials were the true facts disclosed. The assessment barely passed, and with a related vote count largely out of public view. This issue is not about parks, but fairness and accuracy by our local government and their proxies.

Additionally, information on the taxpayers, and amounts paid, are all computerized and readily available. The County was able to originally bill everyone within CRPD boundaries, and we only ask that refunds be coordinated in a like process. This should not be politically complicated if there is a will.

Property taxpayers within CRPD boundaries who were unlawfully assessed and had previously paid an additional direct levy tax on their residential or commercial properties, are entitled to a full refund. The simplest way is for the Sacramento County Board of Supervisors to order forthwith the return of these already-paid property tax funds to your 13,000 constituents and taxpayers. After all, they followed what they were told was the law.

Thank you for your timely attention and cooperation. Please do not hesitate to contact either of us should you have any questions.

The Sacramento Taxpayers Association is a member-supported, 501(c) 4 non-profit corporation, with the mission to bring about more accountable, effective, efficient, reliable government. To join and attend monthly meetings, please visit www.sactax.org
