Heroes and Now Movie Stars

Carmichael Neighbors for 20 years, Heidi Hansen (above, left) and Joyce Eskel are moms to Paris train heroes Alek Skarlatos and Spencer Stone. Together with friend Anthony Sadler, the young men are stars of a new Clint Eastwood movie, in which they play themselves. Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - In August 2015, the lives of three young Sacramento men changed forever. Travelling from Amsterdam to Paris by train, Spencer Stone, Alek Skarlatos and Anthony Sadler foiled a terrorist attack and saved countless lives. International fame, a book -- and now a movie -- followed the adventure.

Life will never be the same for their moms, either. Joyce Eskel and Heidi Hansen have a hard time believing their sons -- together with their Rosemont friend Anthony -- are the stars of "15:17 to Paris."

Directed by film legend Clint Eastwood, the movie opens nationally on February 9. Stone, Skarlatos, Sadler and their families enjoyed a private screening last weekend in Sacramento. "The boys had seen the movie once before," explained Joyce Eskel. "They were extra nervous this time because we were all there. We were anxious too: we were seeing our lives exposed for all the world to see."

"The boys are still in awe that they've made a movie with Clint Eastwood," says Heidi Hansen. "He's their

Obey the Law, Go To Jail

CA is Officially Out of Control

By MPG Staff

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - "We will prosecute those who violate the law," promised California Attorney General Xavier Becerra on Thursday, January 18th, as he threatened to fine employers, public or private, who voluntarily give information on employees, concerning their legal status to be in the country.

The State's Attorney General, willfully standing up for those breaking the law, warned that those who run business in California will be fined up to $10,000 if they offer any assistance to federal immigration authorities.

Becerra's threats are designed to prevent employers, public or private, from voluntarily sharing confidential employee information without a subpoena and requiring employers to notify their workers before a federal audit of their employee records. It gives the attorney general and labor commissioner exclusive authority to enforce new provisions of state labor laws. It also prohibits employers from re-verifying information on employment verification forms, unless compelled to by federal law.

The chief law officer for the State was blatant in his remarks, "It's important, to let people know, more specifically employers, that if they voluntarily start giving up information about their employees or access to their employees in ways that contradict our new California laws, they subject themselves to actions by my office."

The government of the State of California is officially out of control. ★

Kids Kindness Really Rocks!

St. Michael's 2nd-Graders Rock the Act of Kindness

Story and photos by Jacqueline Fox

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Does a rock have the power to generate peace, love and kindness?

Absolutely, say the second grade class at St. Michael's Episcopal Day School, who, after months of collaboration on how to generate more kindness and love at their school and the world at large, have put their intentions for doing so down in stone, literally.

Under a canopy of thick gray sky with pending rain rolling out on the horizon, St. Michael's second-graders and their teacher, Julie Buck, unveiled their new Kindness Rock Garden, the culmination of three-months of work around the concept of paying it forward.

The garden is filled with brightly painted rocks carrying messages of encouragement, such as "Remember to give Hugs," "Bloom Where You Were Planted," "Be Brave," and "Kindness Rocks."

The second-graders oversaw every step of the project, collaborating on each detail, from researching and crafting the garden's initial concept to its design and logistics, even crating the final list of rules for the garden's purpose and its caretaking.

"This is all 100% the kids' show of hard work and dedication," said Julie Bugatto, St.

Michael's second grade garden parent.

The concept, says Bugatto, is pretty straightforward. Take a rock and give it to a friend in need of support or encouragement. Or, if you need love and encouragement or kindness, take one for yourself. Keep it as long as you need to, but when you're ready, bring it or a different Kindness Rock back to the garden to make sure the river keeps flowing.

What Democrats Won't Tell You about the GOP Tax Cut and California's Lost Tax Breaks

By George Runner, California State Board of Equalization

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG)

In an effort to keep up with their self-described "resistance" movement, California Democrats are engaged in a full-fledged attack against recently enacted federal tax reform legislation that provides tax cuts for most Americans and Californians.

Ironically, these same Democrats who claim to be focused on the poor and needy are engaged in non-stop howling over two provisions of the new tax law: a cap of $750,000 on mortgage interest deductions, and a $10,000 limit on the deductibility of state and local taxes (SALT).

In other words, they're complaining the new tax law doesn't do even more to help the wealthy - who also happen to be their constituents. In Rep. Nancy Pelosi's San Francisco district, the average home is worth a million bucks. In Rep. Ted Lieu's West Los Angeles district - the second wealthiest in the nation - home prices are even higher.

Sure, if you can afford to live in an affluent area of the state such as the Bay Area where the median home price has skyrocketed above $900,000, there's a possibility you could be left with a higher tax bill.

However, if you live in poorer areas of the state such as the Central Valley or an inner city, chances are you probably won't come close to needing to write off astronomical amounts of mortgage interest.

As a matter of fact, the median home price for the rest of the state rests well below elite coastal areas like the Bay Area. Average inland home prices are typically in the mid $300,000s or lower.

Further, the mortgage interest deduction is a non-issue for the nearly half of Californians who don't own homes and are forced to pay the highest rents in the nation. ★

County Supervisors Approve New Contracts for Homeless Outreach

By Sacramento County Media

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG)

The Sacramento County Board of Supervisors has authorized the County to pool $5,092,500 to support contracts with qualified nonprofit agencies for the provision of intensive case management services (ICMS) and property-related tenant services (PRTS), under the Flexible Supportive Rehousing Program (FSRP). The FSRP is a new approach and program adopted last year as part of the County's homeless initiatives and will support 250 people experiencing long-term homelessness transitioning to permanent housing and stability.

The goal of FSRP is to engage and support people who frequently use County systems, including County jail and Behavioral Health Services, but who have not been able to resolve their chronic or long-term homelessness. A preliminary study showed an average annual cost of more than $42,000 for the top 250 individual most frequent recipients in Sacramento County. Success of this program will be measured by the number of enrolled individuals who are housed and retain housing within one year of housing placement.

There are currently six agencies who have submitted to be part of the program and are qualified to offer services: Transforming Lives, Cultivating Success (TLCS), Wind Youth Services, Wellness and Recovery Centers, WellSpace Health Center, Volunteers of America (VOA) and Sacramento Self-Help Housing (SSHH).

"TLCS is excited to be a part of this collaborative cohort to provide intensive case management in partnership with our colleagues who will be focusing on finding appropriate housing for a vulnerable population of people experiencing homelessness." Said Erin Johansen, Executive Director of TLCS, Inc. "We appreciate the spirit of true partnership on behalf of Sacramento County Department of Human Assistance that values the expertise of community partners to build an efficient system for the people who need it most".

permanently housed 890 individuals over two and half years. A recently concluded Rand Corporation study reported 96 percent retained housing for at least one year with a nearly 60 percent drop in the use of public services within that first year. LA County has pointed to the flexibility within service contracts to provide whatever it takes to engage and support re-housing participants as critical to replicating this success in Sacramento County.

"Knowing there are 18 to 24 year olds who are chronically homeless and are already frequent users of County systems is heartbreaking." Says Suzi Dotson, Executive Director of Wind Youth Services. "Intensive case management offered by our expert staff and the guarantee of housing is going to bring these young people back to where they should be: stability and community. Wind is excited to partner with Sacramento County as we embark on this journey together."

Oroville Dam's Senator Jim Nielsen Says DWR Must Do Better

By Nghia Nguyen

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Oroville Independent Forensic Team released its final investigative report on what caused the Oroville Dam spillway failure in February

2017. Senator Jim Nielsen (R-Tehama), who represents Oroville and the surrounding communities, issued the following statement:

"From my initial review of the nearly 600 pages of the independent report, it confirms our suspicions. The most important factor exposed by the report is the need to change the culture of the Department of Water Resources. There must also be more transparency to build trust with our community."

"We have a sustained neglect of addressing problems that should have been anticipated such as the deficiency of the geological composition on which the spillway was originally laid."

"I am not opposed to giving DWR a license. But we must not give a 50 year license to a dam operator - DWR - until they have addressed the deficiencies at Oroville Dam and implemented changes in their organizational culture to ensure more transparency with the community."

"And it is clear that making improvements to the state's infrastructure was not a priority. There was insufficient oversight of the dam, and communications with the community and local officials was also insufficient."

"That is why I, along with Congressman Doug LaMalfa (R-Richvale) and Assemblyman Gallagher (R-Yuba City), asked that the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission delay the issuance of a new license for the Oroville Dam until the issues identified in the forensic report and our community's concerns are addressed."

"It is important to fully review the details of the report. It is more imperative than ever for FERC to delay the issuance of a new license until we understand the forensic team's findings and their implications moving forward. DWR must do better for our community."

DWR Responds to Latest Independent Report on Oroville Dam

By Erin Mellon, Assistant Director, Department of Water Resources, Public Affairs

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Independent Forensic Team (IFT) recently released additional findings from its review of the February 2017 Lake Oroville Spillways incident. The report builds on the IFT's interim memo from September 2017 that identified physical causes of the incident. While DWR is in the process of fully reviewing this lengthy report, the Department intends to incorporate the latest findings into its ongoing efforts.

"We strongly supported having an independent assessment of the spillway failure and take the findings very seriously," said DWR Director Grant Davis. "This report is consistent with the independent team's initial technical findings from last May which were fully incorporated in the design of the reconstructed spillways. As we have done in the past, we will carefully assess this report, share it with the entire dam safety community and incorporate the lessons learned going forward to ensure California continues to lead the nation on dam safety."

The Department has already made significant progress to bolster the dam safety program to include comprehensive re-evaluations of every spillway with attributes similar to Lake Oroville's. These re-evaluations go far beyond the standard inspections to include extensive hydrologic, structural and geotechnical work and a thorough investigation of records.

In May, DWR began planning for a comprehensive needs assessment of the entire Oroville complex to understand what changes, if any, need to be made long term to bolster dam safety of the Oroville complex.

An evaluation of DWR's dam safety program is already underway, and as a result of the IFT's findings, DWR will also assess its existing organizational structures. DWR will continue to invest in resources to learn from other dam safety programs and plans to convene experts over the coming months to digest the findings and recommendations from this report to identify tangible actions in response.

In addition to identifying the combined causes that led to the incident, the latest IFT report also comments on decisions made as the spillway incident unfolded in February 2017.

"During the incident, our sole focus was protecting public safety," said Joel Ledesma, Deputy Director of the State Water Project. "DWR supported this independent assessment - so we can learn from the past and continue to improve now and into the future."

DWR agrees with the IFT's conclusion that all dam owners need to reassess current procedures. As the report notes, "the fact that this incident happened to the owner of the tallest dam in the United States, under regulation of a federal agency, with repeated evaluation by reputable outside consultants, in a state with the leading dam safety regulatory program, is a wake-up call for everyone involved in dam safety. Challenging current assumptions on what constitutes 'best practice' in our industry is overdue."

Kids Kindness Really Rocks!

St. Michael's Episcopal Day School's Second-Grade teacher, Julie Buck, cuts the ribbon on her students' Kindness Rock Garden.

or inspiration, the kids can take a rock and give it to that person," said Bugatto. "Or, if they need it for themselves, they can take one for themselves. But they do have to put a rock back in when they are ready to so that the river of kindness is always alive and there for anyone who needs it."

Isabella Aslie, 8, one of the second-graders who helped create the Kindness Rock Garden, said she was happy to have had the opportunity to help bring it to life.

"All of us created this together," Aslie said, cradling a purple rock with one red rose and the word "Love" painted neatly in pink letters.

Prior to the unveiling of the Kindness Rock Garden, the students gave a detailed presentation on its history and their process for creating the project. Using a power point presentation they each took turns reading through the steps they took to bring their idea to fruition, beginning with their singular mission to spread more kindness around the school and into the universe.

They sketched out their own idea. They designed it like a river, as a nod to Sacramento's waterways and the idea that peace flows like a river. They brainstormed on its final location and, finally, began the work of bringing it to life. Their overarching message: "Kindness is contagious." And they have proof.

The students' garden was directly inspired by the Kindness Rocks Project founded by Megan Murphy in Massachusetts in 2015. What began as a soul-searching walk along Sandy Neck Beach on Cape Cod for Murphy turned into a movement for love.

Murphy's successful career as a jewelry business owner was no longer serving her emotionally. She felt depressed and began searching for an anecdote and found it by painting words of inspiration on rocks and leaving them on the beaches of Cape Cod for others to find and benefit from.

Murphy sold her businesses and works as a life coach today. Her Kindness Rocks Project movement has spread like wild fire across the world. It has a social media following of some 19,000 people on Instagram and Facebook and is growing daily, as evident at St. Michael's. Across the country, hand-painted rocks of kindness and inspiration are being left on beaches and pathways from Boston to Bakersfield. They are finding their way into baskets for customers to grab from the counter at a Starbucks in Canada, being left in parking lots, and yes, they are forming a river of hope in a small garden in Carmichael, California.

St. Michael's second graders have spent a good portion of the year reading about kindness, learning that it comes in many forms. They have also learned that, the best way to have and hold on to it is to give it to someone who needs it just as much.

The randomness and compassion-filled outcome of one woman's walk on the beach in 2015 as she searched her soul looking for a way out of confusion and despair is permeating here in a garden, in a river of stone, sharing space with winter crops of sugar snaps, collards and kale, radiating vibrant words of hope and encouragement.

Perhaps it is best left to the student's own presentation to best describe the purpose and goal of their rock garden project. They put it simply as this: "You Matter. You are Loved. You Rock." ★

CHP Offers Free “Start Smart” Class for Young Drivers

CHP Special Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The leading cause of death for Americans 15-20 years old is motor vehicle collisions. In an effort to inform and to reduce motor vehicle collisions in California, California Highway Patrol (CHP) North Sacramento area will offer a free Start Smart class. According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA), mile for mile, teenagers are involved in three times as many fatal crashes as all other drivers. Recent collisions involving teenagers in our area demonstrate the importance of these types of classes. The classes are used to promote traffic safety to both parents and teens. We encourage both parent/caregivers and teens to attend the class. The CHP’s Start Smart program is a driver safety education class which targets new and future licensed teenage drivers between the age of 15-19 and their parents/guardians. The Start Smart class will cover collision avoidance techniques, driver responsibility, collision trends, distracted driving laws, alcohol related driving laws and the provisional license process. The program also offers an opportunity for new drivers and parents/guardians to ask CHP Officers clarifying questions. The class incorporates videos and classroom discussion. Persons interested in signing up for the class will need to register for the class by following the link to our Eventbrite page on our Facebook account at Facebook.com/chpnorthsac or Twitter account at @chpnorthsac. It is highly encouraged that at least one parent/guardian attend the class with their teen driver. Funding for CHP’s Start Smart programs is provided by a grant from the California Office of Traffic Safety through NHTSA. ★

Student Exchange Seeks Host Families for Upcoming School Year

NorthWest Student Exchange places international high school students with families all over the country, including here in our community. Visit the NWSE web page at <https://www.nwse.com> and click on Host an Exchange Student for more info.

By Sheryl Longworth

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Responsible parents looking for ways to supplement the educational and personal growth opportunities for their children should consider hosting a teenage exchange student for an academic semester or year. Children and adults alike, by interacting daily with a new, international family member, broaden their perspective on the world and discover new facts and ideas. NorthWest Student Exchange places international high school students with families all over the country, including here in our community. Exchange students add a dimension to the family dynamic that cannot be achieved in any other way. The benefits to the exchange student are obvious: honing their English language skills; learning about the educational system in this country; understanding U.S. social, political, and cultural values; and establishing international friendships. Benefits to the hosts are similar: Not only can host families learn about another culture and its values; they can view the U.S. through another’s eyes, and thereby gain a broader understanding of our own country. Families do not need to have children at home to host! Many childless couples, empty nesters, and single-parent families have enjoyed exchange students. NWSE places students from dozens of countries who have varied interests. I will do my best to match a student to your family’s lifestyle and interests. Those who cannot host can earn financial incentives for referring to us families who do host. While host families are not compensated for hosting, tax deductions may be available. Check with your tax preparer. NWSE exchange students are closely screened for appropriate motivation, academic and language skills; our students have solid emotional and practical support from NWSE professional partners abroad, and from the students’ natural parents in their own countries. Our students come with their own spending money and health and accident insurance. NWSE local

Academic Coordinators recruit, screen and orient local host families and provide close support throughout the program. My family has personally hosted students from France and China and we keep in touch with every student even years later! While they stayed with us, they shared games they play with us and cooked their favorite meals for my family. We also have been invited to stay at their family’s homes when we go to their country. One of our French students even calls me his “American Mom.” It’s easy to get more information about hosting. Potential hosts can call me, Sheryl Longworth, Area Coordinator at 916-833-1218 or sheryl6663@yahoo.com; or by contacting NWSE at 877-850-3312 or info@nwse.com. Or, you can visit the NWSE web page at <https://www.nwse.com> and click on Host an Exchange Student. Student placements for the fall must be made before 8/31/18. Spring semester-only placements will be available towards the end of this year. ★

Slip-Sliding into the Job

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Stepping into the Recreation Supervisor job at Mission Oaks Community Center, Rodney Dahlberg recognizes he has big shoes to fill. Dahlberg (54) began 2018 leadership after predecessor Terri McAdam's 34 years in the pivotal gig.

"Terri has always been lively and full of optimism," considers her replacement. "People miss her; I'm eager to keep the same atmosphere of fun she created. At the same time, I have some new ideas. We're looking to catering for more mixed age groups - as well as adding to our large number of senior activities. Science, language and cookery classes are possibilities."

Originally hired by Mission Oaks Recreation and Park District when he was 20, Dahlberg first specialized in sports and camp programs. His recent promotion coincided with farewell celebrations for Terri McAdam and long-time recreation staffer Pat Sieberg. Sieberg was a Mission Oaks activities specialist for 12 years.

The change of guard comes during staffing realignment for the 35-year-old facility. "We're working hard to maintain the level of service the center always provided for our community," says the new chief. "So far, we're accomplishing this with the help of many wonderful volunteers."

Trump and Mental Fitness

Commentary by Dennis M. Scholl, PhD

To my knowledge there is no published guideline, guidebook, code of conduct or the like for someone to behave “Presidentially.”

As a Licensed Professional Psychologist with forty-three years of doctoral level experience I do know there are professional standards, ethical guidelines, and codes of conduct in my profession as well as for physicians and for other mental health specialties – including psychiatry.

I acknowledge many, especially Democrats and the MSM (Main Stream Media), are concerned about the “Unpresidential” sometimes blunt, perhaps hurtful to others, brash, and at times crude comments and “tweets” by our Commander-In-Chief.

But more troubling to me as a responsible mental health professional is the audacity of other mental health specialists rendering “professional” opinions and even diagnoses for anyone, let alone our President, when they’ve not met a person face-to-face!

We may not like some of President Trump’s behaviors – but such emotional reaction does not ethically justify rendering professional opinions or diagnoses about mental or emotional stability or sanity! It is harmful, if not outright wrong, for qualified mental health professionals to make public technical pronouncements about our President’s stability and character.

Such unprofessional behavior further amplified by biased MSM could lead the public to unduly worry there is present some genuine danger to our national security from unsubstantiated attribution of mental and emotional problems for our President.

Knowing President Trump is a “counter puncher” I would not be surprised to learn his personal attorney files lawsuits or complaints to appropriate professional licensing authorities against unprofessional actions – although malpractice might be excluded because the President WAS NOT A CLIENT/PATIENT OF THE “Professionals” involved nor was any responsible party such as Congress or the President’s physician!

It is doubly unprofessional for mental health “experts” to opine or publish derogatory or defamatory assessments of anyone, let alone the US President, without first engaging the health/medical professional having a doctor to patient relationship. And, of course, the actual professional/physician involved must first receive the patient’s permission to disclose the information.

It is a blessing in America that we are free to express personal opinions – but I would not, ethically, render a “professional” opinion without having done a qualified professional assessment and evaluation up to appropriate standards – and I would only provide my professional findings to those with a legal right to the information.

My personal opinion is Americans, and others, should be more confident about the truthfulness of statements and more comfortable about the stability of behavior of a duly elected President [who from the outset stated he would not be politically correct - if attacked personally he would respond in kind, and who has been a successful businessperson, entertainer, and now effective Leader from outside the political class] than they should be in “Experts” who appear unable to act responsibly within the ethical guidelines of the Professions to which they claim adherence.

Certainly, those professionals who are behaving badly should be aware they have done harm to the public reputation of their professions.

Dennis Scholl, PhD, an eminent psychologist for 42 years and has done psychological analysis of personnel for both the US military and civilian agencies. ★

Slim Randles’ HOME COUNTRY

“This Here Doc?”
Said the Caller.
“The Doc What Lost
His Squirrel?”

“Only thing is, Doc. Need to be sure this is your squirrel, right? So can you describe him for me?”

“All gray squirrels are gray, now, ain’t that right? How about any distinguishing marks? Tattoos?”

“No tattoos.”

“So far so good. Now you said in the ad his name is Chipper. Well, I called him Chipper and the son of a gun bit me.”

“He did?”

“What I mean to ask here, Doc, is ... did you and your squirrel get along? No squirrel problems? He looks like he needs a square meal to me. You feed him good?”

“What?”

“You know ... like Squirrel Chow free choice, or did you put him on a nut ration? I mean, he ate like there was no tomorrow. Dang near ate up the whole five dollars and a quarter reward money in squirrel food.”

Steve and Dud walked back into the café, then, with the cell phone still at Dud’s ear, and the laughing began.

“You were right all along, Doc,” said Bert. “In winter, everyone can use a good hoax.”

Doc bought the coffee.

Stories, laughs and great classic country music. Tune in to Home Country with Slim Randles. Check your local stations for the times. ★

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF DEBRA NOVO
CASE NO. 34-2017-00222794
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, and contingent creditors of and persons who may be otherwise interested in the will or estate, or both of Debra Novo. A Petition for Probate has been filed by Richard Novo Jr. and Nicholas Novo in the Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento, requesting that Richard Novo Jr. and Nicholas Novo, be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the executor to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the executor will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or have consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows February 21, 2018 9:00 a.m. in Dept 129 at Superior Court of California, County of Sacramento 3341 Power Inn Road Sacramento, CA 95826. IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. The name, address and telephone number of the attorney for the Petitioner is: Douglas W. California Must Follow Trump's Lead and Cut Taxes Now taxpayers lead another Prop. 13-like revolt and tear down the high-tax, high-spending edifice that so comfortably houses fat cat politicians and their political allies?

By Senator Ted Gaines

It's this fear that's led to the absurd, over-the-top howling about the tax bill, with embarrassingly apocalyptic rhetoric about this much-needed reform and the tired talking point that the Trump plan, by letting people keep more of their own money, was somehow "looting" the treasury. That would only be true if all money you earned belonged to the government and was doled back out to you by their grace. But that belief says much more about entitled legislators than the legislation itself.

The problem is not SALT deductibility, it's the taxes themselves.

California's top marginal tax rate of 13.3 percent is the nation's highest, by far. Our state's base sales tax rate of 7.25 percent is also the nation's highest, and local add-ons push it above 10 percent in some cities.

Even those punitive rates might be tolerable if California delivered first-class infrastructure or schools, for example, but our roads are crumbling and our schools hug the bottom of the achievement curve. What exactly have California taxpayers been getting for their money, whether it's deductible or not?

At the very least, SALT changes could spotlight the terrible bargain California taxpayers get and drag state legislators into an era of greater accountability.

But until then, California politicians will be working overtime to figure out an end-around on the President's tax plan that will keep taxes high but allow continued SALT deductions, so they can pull the veil back over the people's eyes.

I have a better solution and I'm going to introduce a bill to make it happen: Cut California taxes. By lowering our income tax rates, we could help people in every tax bracket keep more of their paychecks, spreading prosperity throughout the state.

Instead of investing time and energy scheming a way around the Trump plan, let's take this opportunity to provide tax relief to California's citizens.

Instead of complaining about deductibility, let's take a page from the majority of states with far lower taxes and give Californians lower taxes themselves. Why not aim to add to the tally of the six states, including deep blue Washington, with no state income tax at all.

Letting people and businesses keep more of their money expands our economy and personal freedom. Trump knows this far better than California's leading politicians, who will fight tooth-and-claw to keep state taxes among the highest in the country.

Here's hoping they fail, and President Trump's tax cut becomes the catalyst for a tax cut in the Golden State.

Senator Ted Gaines represents the 1st Senate District, which includes all or parts of Alpine, El Dorado, Lassen, Modoc, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, Shasta, Sierra and Siskiyou counties. ★ sales using plastic are higher than with cash.

I'm a cash guy. There are some situations where I might walk away if someone wouldn't accept hard, cold cash, but in most cases I don't think anything about it. I'll just use my debit card, and buy what I need.

—Dave

No cash businesses?

Dear Dave,
 What is your opinion of businesses that no longer accept cash?
 - Heath

Dear Heath,

Honestly, I think the whole scenario is kind of silly. Businesses that are suddenly into the "no cash" thing lose out on a lot of transactions. Believe it or not, there are still tons of people out there who make purchases only with cash. So, from a business owner's perspective this philosophy can cut into your market share.

I really don't spend a lot of time thinking or worrying about the situation, though. When it comes right down to it, most businesses are doing that kind of thing for one or two reasons. Some of them just think cash is old school, and they want to give the impression they're cutting edge and into technology. Others do it — depending upon the space they're in — because their

When can I have some fun?

Dear Dave,

At what point can you spend, and have a little fun, when you're following the Baby Steps plan?
 - Jen

Dear Jen,

Everyone likes having fun, and there's nothing wrong with spending some cash if you can afford it. I just want people to make sure they have their finances in order first.

I recommend completing the first three Baby Steps before you run out and buy a bunch of toys. Just to review, Baby Step 1 is saving $1,000 for a starter emergency fund. Baby Step 2 is where you pay off all debt — except for your home — using the debt snowball method. In Baby Step 3, you go back and fully fund your emergency fund with enough cash to cover three to six months of expenses.

Completing the first three Baby Steps puts you on pretty solid financial ground. At this point, once you've saved up the cash, it's okay to take a vacation or buy a reasonably-priced toy. But don't have so much fun that you forget about the other Baby Steps. Baby Step 4 means putting 15 percent of your income into pre-tax retirement plans, like mutual funds and Roth IRAs. Don't neglect saving for college if you have kids. That's Baby Step 5. Baby Steps 6 and 7 are paying off the house early, and building wealth and giving like never before.

Remember, there are only three things you can do with money — spend, save, and give. You can do all three without putting yourself in a bind by following my plan!

"They're Still Our Boys"

hero." The screen legend befriended the boys after he presented them with a "Guy's Choice" award in 2015. The irrepressible 22-year-olds suggested he should make a movie from their book. Eastwood read "15:17 to Paris" and struck a deal. His casting people considered many actors to portray the heroes but Eastwood liked Stone, Skarlatos and Sadler as is. "He loved the connection between them and felt it might translate well to screen," explains Hansen.

Gobsmacked, the boys asked if they should get acting lessons. "Clint said no," says Eskel. "He wanted them to be themselves. He took a risk but he was right; the boys did a great job. The way they interact on screen is exactly how they are together. They hardly had to act at all."

The 90-minute drama leaps from their childhood to August of 2015. Then Sadler was at college in Sacramento; Skarlatos was in the Oregon Army National Guard; Stone served the US Air Force at Travis. Spencer and Alek had been inseparable since grade school. They battled war games in Schweitzer Grove and played on the Del Campo High football team. "The script explains how they grew to trust each other; how they always had each other's back," explains Eskel. "Though Anthony Sadler and his family lived further away, the three boys had been friends most of their lives."

Carmichael scenes were restaged in an Atlanta neighborhood. Actors played the two moms and Anthony's dad, Pastor Anthony Sadler. "They never met us or got a chance to get to know us," says Eskel. "Heidi and I are always laughing. The two screen moms are so serious. But the movie's a drama and actors have to play the script they're given."

The reenacted train attack was painful for all the parents. "It brought back how August 21 could have been the worst day of my life," explains Hansen. Watching the same scene, Pastor Sadler reached for his son's arm. "I was aware of the violence from what the guys had shared with me," he said. "It was challenging to watch. I really felt how close we came to losing Anthony. Our pride in him is secondary to our gratitude to God for saving his life."

"The moment when the attacker lifted his gun to Spencer's face and pulled the trigger was overwhelming," says Eskel. "Even though I knew the gun malfunctioned. It was awful watching all the other weapons come out and seeing my son being slashed. It was a miracle everyone survived. I was worried when the boys told me they were taking that train to Paris. I was uneasy; I asked God to watch over them."

The morning after the film screening -- as often before -- the young men attended Pastor Sadler's Shilo Baptist Church in Sacramento. All three were raised in Christian homes and have good reason to believe providence shaped their lives. Before Alek served his 10-month National Guard tour in Afghanistan, his mom invoked divine protection. "I prayed and felt God telling me Alek would be all right in Afghanistan," says Hansen. "But He also told me that something very exciting was in store for him. I told Alek this.

"After the train attack, Joyce and I flew to Paris and met the boys at the American Embassy. I remember running up the embassy stairs, holding my son and saying: 'this is what God was talking about.' Alek just smiled."

Both now 25, Alek and Spencer are honorably discharged from military service. Alek placed third in Dancing with the Stars and Spencer bounced back after a stabbing incident outside a Sacramento restaurant; he now lives in Southern California. Alek has returned to Oregon and Anthony (also 25) has graduated from CSUS with a degree in sports medicine. All three are interested in acting careers and for now, are committed to weeks of promotional touring for their movie.

"They're living exciting lives and it's thrilling we get to share it," says Joyce. "But our sons are still the boys they always were. When they visit, they sleep in their own beds. I still tell Spencer to pick up his room."

"Alek leaves candy wrappers around," reports mom Heidi. "America may see them as heroes and movie stars but to us, they're just our boys." ★

Why 3/4 of Homesellers Do Not Get the Price They Want for Their Carmichael Home

Carmichael - A new report has just been released which reveals 7 costly mistakes that most homeowners make when selling their home, and a 9 Step System that can help you sell your home fast and for the most amount of money.

This industry report shows clearly how the traditional ways of selling homes have become increasingly less and less effective in today's market. The fact of the matter is that fully three quarters of homesellers don't get what they want for their homes and become disillusioned and - worse - financially disadvantaged when they put their homes on the market.

As this report uncovers, most homesellers make 7 deadly mistakes that cost them literally thousands of dollars. The good news is that each and every one of these mistakes is entirely preventable. In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "The 9 Step System to Get Your Home Sold Fast and For Top Dollar".

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-800-665-3596 and enter 1000. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
