Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - There's more to ornithology than binoculars and obliging birds. Add a nature preserve resonant with avian song; throw in an expert docent; garnish with breakfast fit for a kingfisher. You then have the Effie Yeaw Nature Center's popular spring fundraiser.

"Bird and Breakfast;" will this year be staged on Saturdays March 17 and March 24, at the center's Ancil Hoffman Park facility. Reservations are required; the two-event fundraiser sells out every year. Participants will likely see 40 or more species and no bird gets left behind; Sacramento Audubon guides get as excited about tiny finches as rock-star herons, snowy egrets and - yes, it's possible - a bald eagle fly-by.

Equally fascinating are home-building habits during the most industrious time of the avian year. Because Audubon scouts locate nests in advance, visitors will likely see wren, hawk, woodpecker and titmice abodes. Higher and harder to spot, some hummingbirds will have nested by March. Nest-watching is enhanced by on-site viewing scopes.

A 27-year spring tradition, the $40 ($35 for American River Natural History Association or Audubon members) safari is followed on March 17 by gourmet breakfast. The March 24 foray is for ages six and up. This family-friendly program invites adults for $10 and children for $5. Discounts apply for ARNHA or Audubon members. Groups are welcome. Carmichael Kiwanis will serve a pancake breakfast on this date.

Silent auctions of bird-related goodies accompany breakfast. Proceeds assist the Nature Center.

Neither weekend excursion is recommended for very young children. Participants should wear stout shoes and bring binoculars. Bird and Breakfast begins at 8 a.m., both days. Learn more about the fundraiser at www.sacnaturecenter.net ★

Ben Avey, Chief Public Affairs Officer Sacramento Steps Forward

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) announced recently that the Sacramento Continuum of Care has been awarded $20,180,083 this year to fund 31 programs that serve people experiencing homelessness.

This is an increase of $668,245 over last year's award and a $5.2 million increase since Sacramento Steps Forward took over as the Continuum of Care lead agency in 2011.

The award renews funding for 22 Permanent Supportive Housing programs and in doing so, retains housing and supportive services for people who were previously homeless. Without this funding, these individuals would likely return to a state of homelessness. It also renews funding for four Rapid Re-housing programs.

HUD funded four new projects this year including two Permanent Supportive Housing programs operated by Sacramento Self Help Housing, one Permanent Supportive Housing program run by TLCS and a new Transitional Housing/ Rapid Re-Housing project operated by TLCS and Wind Youth Services. Two awards were granted to Sacramento Steps Forward to administer the Homeless Management Information System and a

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

SMUD's Board of Directors recently recognized the 21 college students who have been awarded Powering Futures scholarships for the 2017/18 academic year. All students received scholarships between $1,500 and $3,535 and the opportunity to work at SMUD as a paid intern.

The awards were based on academic merit and financial need, and preference was given to students who have declared a major relevant to SMUD.

Most of the students who receive a scholarship also accept paid summer internships in a variety of SMUD departments, including Grid Operations, Customer Operations, Geographical Information Systems, Warehouse and Fleet Operations and others. The internships provide students with excellent opportunities to learn practical skills and help launch themselves into future careers.

"The Powering Futures scholarship program helps us strengthen our talent pipeline and meet our future workforce needs," said SMUD Human Resources Director Laurie

Rodriguez. "We're proud to support such an exceptional group of Sacramento students this year, and we look forward to seeing them back in the summer for their internships. They'll have a great chance to learn about working in the energy industry and gain real-world experience that will help them in all of their future endeavors."

The 2018/19 scholarship application period will begin on March 5. For more information, please visit smud.org/Scholarship.

Benefit Make-A-Wish by Donating Blood at BloodSource

By Alexander Sigua, BloodSource

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - During January, blood donors can double their impact by giving blood with BloodSource and benefitting Make-A-Wish® Northeastern California and Northern Nevada at the same time. BloodSource will track the number of blood donations received at all 15 BloodSource Donor Centers and nearly 150 community blood drives during the month. For each blood donation, BloodSource will make a monetary donation to Make-A-Wish®, up to a grand total of $7,500.

"BloodSource and Make-A-Wish® provide young patients with hope, happiness and a new life," said Erin Frye, marketing manager for BloodSource. "Many wish recipients are also young blood recipients. We look forward to continue supporting Make-A-Wish® and helping them grant even more wishes for children throughout our community."

"We are honored to partner with another life-changing organization like BloodSource and that once again the local chapter of Make-A-Wish® was chosen as the beneficiary for this campaign. The funds raised will go directly to granting another local child's life-changing wish," said Make-A-Wish® CEO Jennifer Stolo.

In addition to giving blood, donors can also donate to Make-A-Wish® by logging onto my.bloodsource.org and giving their MyBloodSource Rewards to Make-A-Wish®, equating to a personal monetary donation.

Last April, more than 15,200 donors stepped up to support a similar campaign that raised nearly $8,000 for Make-A-Wish®.

To schedule a donation appointment, please visit bloodsource.org or call 866.822.5663.

Make-A-Wish® creates life-changing wishes for children with critical illnesses and are on a quest to bring every eligible local child's wish to life. Research has shown that a wish is an integral part of a child's treatment journey. Make-A-Wish® Northeastern California and Northern Nevada was established in 1983 as one of the early local chapters of Make-A-Wish® America. Since then, the chapter has granted more than 6,300 wishes to children within its 37-county service area. For more information about Make-A-Wish® Northeastern California and Northern Nevada, call 916.437.0206 or visit necannv.wish.org.

BloodSource has been this area's nonprofit community blood provider since 1948, and serves patients in more than 40 hospitals throughout Northern and Central California. ★

Come Celebrate Annual "Sacramento Museum Day"

Guests Can Enjoy Free or Half-Priced Admission to 26 Sites

By Traci Rockefeller Cusack

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

With 26 museums and local destinations participating during this celebratory year, the 20th Annual Sacramento Museum Day is proudly presented by Sutter Health and takes place on Saturday, February 3, 2018. To the delight of the greater Sacramento area community, the participating local museums will open their doors to offer free or half-priced admission to the community from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Most of the museums will offer free admission whereas two destinations located in residential areas – the Sacramento Zoo and Fairytale Town – will offer half-priced admission to offset parking and traffic control costs.

Coordinated by the Sacramento Area Museums (SAM) and Visit Sacramento, the annual event is a popular cultural tradition designed to encourage all members of the community to experience the Capital City's incredible wealth of art, history, science and wild-life – at little or no cost. Many of the museums are within walking distance of each other and easily accessible via public transportation. Event coordinators suggest that guests plan to visit no more than two or three different museums on this day in order to allow adequate time to enjoy the experience and to travel between individual sites.

In addition to offering free or reduced cost admission, many of the destinations are offering special activities during Sacramento Museum Day. The activities range from special staffing by docents (for some smaller museums not normally open on Saturdays) to the following:

- The California Automobile Museum will feature a special Story Time with a celebrity reader at 11 a.m. and 12 p.m. Also, some of the eye-catching class cars will be on display outside the Museum (weather permitting);

- The California State Library will be featuring water transportation in California and a special Haiku and Japanese Art exhibit. The State Library has the largest haiku collection outside of Japan. Plus, kids can visit with the Library's very own robo-dog, Browser;

- Maidu Museum & Historic Site will offer trail tours, children's activities, tables for grinding acorns and beaded bracelets or necklaces;

- Museum of Medical History will be staffed by retired physicians to answer questions and enhance the visitor experience on Sacramento Museum Day;

- Powerhouse Science Center Discovery Campus guests will have the opportunity to experiment with some of the hands-on engineering design activities offered in Design Lab and see live critters and insects up-close in the Nature Discovery Area. Additionally "Scooter" the Air Quality Management District's mascot is plans to make a special guest appearance;

- The Roseville Utility Exploration Center will present a special "Bird and Bug Bonanza" from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. This free family-friendly event will feature interactive activities such as a creek crawl in Cruddy Creek, joining the bug squad, story time with the library, exploring the local habitat and building a birdhouse (birdhouse requires $10 materials fee);

- The Sacramento Historic City Cemetery will offer tours that day and, if Museum Day guests make a donation to the Cemetery, they will have the unique opportunity to ring the big fire bell;

- The Sacramento History Museum will offer their interactive and fun gold panning activities for kids outside in front of the Museum;

- The Sacramento Zoo will have craft stations hosted by Zoo teens and docents available throughout the day to answer animal questions and share biofacts. Also, guests are encouraged to stop by the Reptile House Lawn at 11 a.m. to meet some of the Zoo's animal ambassadors during an Animal Encounter.

"We are thrilled to present the 20th Annual Sacramento Museum Day and invite the community to join us during this celebratory year," said Sacramento Area Museums Chair Lynda Walls. "And we'd especially like to thank our continuing sponsor – Sutter Health – for helping us to present this important event each year so we can introduce the community to the amazing array of arts, culture and museum offerings available in the greater Sacramento region."

While admission is free at most of the participating museums during Sacramento Museum Day, admission to two destinations located in residential areas are half-priced as follows: Sacramento Zoo is $7.50 for adults, $5 for children ages 2-11 and free for children under two; Fairytale Town is $2.88 per person and free for children ages one and under.

Due to the popularity of Sacramento Museum Day, some locations must limit the number of admissions for safety reasons. The event is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. but note the last guests will be admitted at 4 p.m. More detailed information about participating museums, addresses, limitations, suggested parking and public transit options is available at www.sacmuseums.org (click on "News & Events"), or by calling Visit California at (916) 808-7777.

Sagebrook of Carmichael Hosts Networking Mixer with Chamber of Commerce

By Paul Scholl

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Sagebrook Senior Living of Carmichael hosted a recent business networking mixer filled with great food and raffle prizes. Linda Melody, Executive Director of the chamber said "We want to thank all those businesses that support our event sponsors by attending the monthly mixers. It is a great way to get to know other business people and to learn more about the companies that host the events." Some of the fun shared was when one of the younger businessmen attending won a raffle prize of Red Skelton memorabilia. He had no idea who he was! Even better, when we tried to explain he was a beloved comedian and an American icon often seen on the Johnny Carson show, he said "Johnny who?" Yikes. Sagebrook is located in the heart of Carmichael at 7125 Fair Oaks Blvd., between Grant and Engle, just down the street from the post office. They offer assisted living, memory care and many options for families. Democrats Dig for Russians and Uncover Environmentalists

Commentary
by Merrill Matthews

Democrats and the media have been on a yearlong deep dig into Russian involvement into U.S. elections. But when you dig a hole you sometimes run across things you wish had remained buried—like the dirt pointing to Russian ties to the U.S. environmental movement.

Democrats hoped their digging would expose some kind of Russian connection to President Donald Trump. That hasn't happened.

But as the investigations have progressed, there is a growing realization that Russians were trying to influence the political process and policy debates, including environmentalists' efforts to limit or stop hydraulic fracturing, or fracking, an innovative crude oil and natural gas drilling process.

Back in 2014 Anders Fogh Rasmussen, then-secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and a former prime minister of Denmark, was publicly alleging that Russia was secretly funding the anti-fracking movement.

"I have met with allies who can report that Russia, as part of their sophisticated information and disinformation operations, engaged actively with so-called nongovernment organizations—environmental organizations working against shale gas—to maintain European dependence on imported Russian gas," Rasmussen asserted.

According to the World Bank, oil and gas revenue accounts for about 40 percent of the Russian government's revenues, which it uses to expand its influence and foment mischief and unrest around the world.

Fracking has dramatically increased U.S. crude oil and natural gas production, which has pushed prices down. Lower energy prices, and especially for gasoline, have been great for consumers and the U.S. economy.

But low oil and gas prices have been terrible for Russia and the OPEC countries, especially Venezuela and Iran. So it's easy to see why Russia might fund a covert campaign to undermine U.S. energy production.

Reps. Lamar Smith, chairman of the House Committee on Science, Space and Technology, and Randy Weber, who chairs the Energy Subcommittee, have been investigating Russian involvement. They point out that last October WikiLeaks released Hillary Clinton emails that included a private 2014 speech in which then-Secretary Clinton said the State Department was "up against phony environmental groups, and I'm a big environmentalist, but these were funded by the Russians ..."

Smith and Weber recently sent Treasury Secretary Steve Mnuchin a letter outlining how money appears to be channeled from Russia through a Bermuda-based "shell company" known as Klein, Ltd., which doles out "tens of millions of dollars to a U.S. based ... private foundation, the Sea Change Foundation."

The letter alleges, "Sea Change then passes the money originating in Russia to various ... organizations such as the Sierra Club, League of Conservation Voters Education Fund, and others." Those environmental groups then use the money to oppose fracking, the congressmen claim.

To be fair, environmental groups on the receiving end may not know the initial source of those funds, which is why Congress should investigate the financial chain.

And that's why Rep. Lamar has asked Twitter, Facebook and Alphabet (i.e., Google) to turn over any information they might have on Russian-backed entities pushing anti-fracking advertising.

We don't know where this will all lead, but it appears that the green movement is much "redder" than some people thought—or were willing to reveal.

Dare to Live Without Limits

Drifting Aimlessly

by Bryan Golden

Imagine being in a boat on the ocean with no rudder, no motor, and no sails. You would be at the mercy of the currents and wind. You would have no control over where you went. You would be drifting aimlessly.

Now consider an example with a fully functional boat without any navigation charts or equipment. Although the boat can be steered, there is no ability for a sailor to pick a destination or plot the best course to get there. This boat will also be traveling without any objective.

Even a functional boat with a complete set of charts and navigation equipment that is not used will fare no better than the previous two examples. In order reach an intended destination, you must have working equipment, and materials, along with the skill and willingness to use them.

Too many people drift aimlessly through life. The reasons range from not having the right equipment, or lacking the ability or desire to use it. Either way the result is the same; people waiting for things to happen instead of doing what it takes to make them happen.

You are your boat. You are functioning properly when you are aware of your thoughts and proactively maintain a positive, can do, attitude. It's your attitude which controls the direction you are headed. It also impacts the situations and people you attract.

You determine the thoughts which program your brain. Positive, or negative, your mind follows whatever directions you provide. If you believe you can do something, you are right. Conversely, if you don't think you can do something, you are also right. It is your choice.

You are not functioning properly if you blame other people or circumstances for your situation. This is the equivalent of letting go of the steering wheel because of the false premise that there is nothing you can do.

Goals are your navigation charts. They identify where you want to go. You can choose any goals you want. The only requirement is for your goals to be your own rather than imposed by someone else.

Additionally, a timeframe for achieving your goals is necessary. A deadline provides the incentive to reach your goal. Without one, since there is no rush, you may never reach your goal at all. You will be operating under the false premise that time is infinite.

Your plan for reaching your goals is the course you must take to arrive at your desired destination. Your plan should be as detailed as possible with as many steps as necessary. Without this plan, you will drift.

Self-monitoring is the technique you use to stay on course. This serves the same purpose as navigational instruments on a boat. If you start moving away from your objective, self-monitoring enables you to get back on track.

In order to effectively utilize self-monitoring, you must always be aware of where you are headed. If you begin to drift off course, you want to identify the cause, along with the corrective action required to get you back on your intended path.

Caring about your life and where you are headed is imperative. Those who don't care one way or another about their direction are prone to drifting. They haven't taken the time to fully understand themselves. They cannot accurately identify exactly what they want out of life.

Time goes by too fast to waste it drifting aimlessly. You are capable of attaining your goals. It is well worth the effort required. Arriving at your desired destination is far more rewarding than waiting to see where you wind up. Be proactive in your life by staying focused on where you want to go.

MINDLESS ACTION DRIVES "THE COMMUTER" TO A FUN BLAST

A Film Review by Tim Riley

THE COMMUTER (Rated PG-13)

For a guy who should be collecting an old age pension, Liam Neeson proves remarkably fit for, as well credible in, the action roles he has perfected so well since the beginning of the "Taken" franchise launched his lucrative B-movie thriller career. "The Commuter" reunites the Irish actor with director Jaume Collet-Serra for a fourth time. That Neeson starred in the Spanish film director's "Unknown," "Non-Stop" and "Run All Night" should be all that anyone needs to know about what to expect in this latest thriller.

Neeson's Michael MacCauley, a mid-level manager at a faceless insurance company, lives with his wife (Elizabeth McGovern) and college-bound son, in a tidy suburb outside of New York City. As the film's titular character, Michael rides the daily train into Manhattan for his job.

The film opens with a series of routine sequences of his daily suburban life, such as waking up to the alarm clock, having a quick breakfast, discussing family matters and then catching the commuter train into the city, where he encounters fellow passengers on the same grind.

Then one day, he's unceremoniously cut loose from his employment with only five years to go for his company pension. He frets about what to tell his wife given the two mortgages to pay and the pending pricey college tuition bills for Syracuse University.

Before facing a family challenge, he heads to a local tavern where he meets up with old colleagues from the NYPD, former partner Alex Murphy (Patrick Wilson) and Captain Hawthorne (Sam Neill), the latter appearing somewhat aloof for Michael having retired for reasons unknown.

On the otherwise hum-drum ride home, Michael meets the mysterious and sexy Joanna (Vera Farmiga) when she parks herself on the opposite seat and starts a conversation about her study of human behavior before posing a pop quiz that proves intriguing.

The stranger on the train starts talking vaguely about someone on the ride to Cold Springs who doesn't belong, and then asks if Michael would be willing to locate this person for a payoff of $100,000 without knowing the consequences of his action in fulfilling this mission.

Well, you can probably guess where this Faustian bargain is headed. For a down payment of $25,000 hidden in the bathroom, Michael has been ensnared in a trap, and if he has any regret or wish to back out, a series of events come into play to dissuade his escape.

Without giving away too many of the surprises in store, Joanna has many tricks up her sleeve, including messengers that quickly disembark from the train after delivering messages, one of which is the ominous delivery of his wife's wedding ring.

Of course, tension is heightened when Michael has no clue as to the person's identity other than the name of "Prin," which could be a pseudonym loosely related to fiction.

Believing that his wife and son are in grave danger of being abducted, Michael swings into action, even though his old police instincts and training may be a bit rusty. Soon he is scooping out every passenger on the train.

It's not like Michael can flash a badge to elicit information, which would have been helpful to avoid the unfortunate demise of at least one passenger who may have played an accommodating role in the apprehension of the mysterious rider.

As it is, Michael is faced with several people that fit the profile of an interloper lurking in the midst of the regulars. What about the fidgety girl in the nurse's uniform carrying a package? There's also the young punk girl with a backpack full of fake driver's licenses.

A more obvious choice might be the guy with the neck tattoos and tough guy demeanor. But he's probably just one of the MacGuffins. A better option could be the obnoxious, arrogant Wall Street-type broker who treats others with condescension and bad manners.

Soon enough, Michael realizes that he's been set up and he's just a patsy that is supposed to find the witness to a conspiracy involving an alleged suicide of a city planner, an act seemingly orchestrated by a corrupt cabal.

The bottom line is that "The Commuter" is a mindless blast of fun, and the plot is irrelevant to our enjoyment of Liam Neeson's action career that one hopes he can maintain a few more years before a geriatric timeline derails his well-earned status of B-movie hero. ★

The Rich Pay Almost All Federal Income Taxes

Commentary
by Harold Pease, Ph.D

How many times have I heard said, "The rich need to pay their fair share?" But they already pay almost all of the federal income taxes while the poor receive government checks. A quick check with the Congressional Budget Office reveals that the top 20% of wage earners pay over 90% of all federal income taxes while the bottom fifth get more from the federal government than they pay to it. Normally around 45% of adults pay no federal income taxes. The top 40% normally pay it all. This does not change in the new Trump Tax Plan.

What I have written is not found on any news network or newspaper left of center. Why, because communism, socialism and liberalism, of which the left is comprised, share a hatred for the rich (some call it class envy) and believe in income equality as a major tenant of the faith. The government cannot give to anyone that which it has not first taken from someone else. The graduated income tax notion, first published in the Communist Manifesto by Karl Marks and adopted in full by the progressives in this country over a hundred years ago, historically destroys the rich but also in time impoverishes everyone except the ruling elite.

Those on the left normally go ballistic with the above and quickly change the wording from "federal income taxes" to "taxes" (dropping the word federal) noting, mostly correctly, that illegals and other low income peoples pay state and local taxes, perhaps as much as a fifth of their income. These however, are mostly required "use" or purchase taxes, not based upon income levels. Imagine a store having different prices for the same item based upon ones ability to pay. Actually, it is the only fair tax, as one cannot get the gasoline, food or etc. without paying the taxes associated with it. Please note, this column is about federal income taxes not state or local taxes, which are paid entirely by those considered rich by the bottom two-income classes.

Simply stated the bottom fifth of wage earners get more from the federal government than they pay in taxes to it. Such "government transfers" (handouts) come in many forms: food stamps, medical and housing subsidies, and various other subsidized programs including income and child tax credit programs—some tuition credits.

How can this be fair to the class that is forced to help pay their bills? Why shouldn't the "poor" pay their fair share especially since a large portion of the total is funneled back to them in welfare and the nation is nearing bankruptcy with nearly $21trillion in debt as a result?

We have the normal three solutions in dealing with this debt: tax more, inflate more, and cut more. We could double our taxes but that will destroy our incentive and resources to create jobs. We could inflate the dollar making every dollar already earned worth less as we have done for over 100 years. But that robs those on fixed incomes and seriously damages the lower classes who don't have the money to purchase gold or silver to ensure the value of what they have saved. Or finally, we could cut the free or subsidized "non-essential" programs and live within our means. But no recipient considers his "gifted" program non-essential.

I suggest a fourth solution? We are becoming a two-class society—those who pay federal income taxes and those who do not, with the non-tax payers still receiving generous subsidies from the pockets of those who do—some say "makers versus takers." Worse, those who are federal taxpayers are denied these same benefits their less productive neighbors receive. We all have able-bodied friends who choose not to work. How often do we hear of friends who won't work because they get enough on unemployment or that they might, in fact, make less by working?

Most use federal services in some way? As compassionate as we wish to be with the money of others, in fairness shouldn't all be required to pay federal income taxes? Even the widow paid her mite in the New Testament and was subsequently praised (not excused) for having done so by Christ himself.

All "freebie" benefits that the "poor" received during the preceding year should be added to their salary in this calculation. When they know this up front they may elect to opt-out of the benefit so that it doesn't put them in a higher tax bracket. When the "poor" pay federal income taxes they are vested in the system and hypothetically more responsible. When they do not the issue of taxation on the federal level becomes meaningless to them. "So what if taxes are raised, it does not affect me!"

When the non-federal income taxpayer class (presumably the poor) reaches 51% of the population they become the majority class and will never reduce the taxes on the "rich," which will always be defined as anyone making more than they. The working taxpayer class becomes the new slave class. Eventually when the "rich" are destroyed as a class, as happened in the U.S.S.R. under socialism, all become slaves and poor. With everyone participating in the tax burden, it is harder to gain support for tax raising issues, thus saving billions and the payment of taxes by non-taxpayers, the "poor," help reduce the national debt.

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

It was strange, Doc thought. All these years. All these people. It still hurts.

Old Tom had died around midnight, and Doc didn't get more than an hour's sleep since then. Just before he went, Tom reached out and gripped Doc's hand and thanked him for everything. He was smiling when he went.

Somehow that made it worse for Doc than just having death bring a pleasant new start for someone in pain and agony. Doc hadn't been able to patch him up this time. When someone Tom's age has his organs shut down, there just isn't much a doctor can do but make him comfortable and say goodbye.

The percolator finished, and Doc knew he should get a cup and start the day, but something made him leave the coffee behind and walk into the back yard.

He would come out here later, too, he knew. He wasn't in the mood for coffee with the boys at the Mule Barn today. This will be a day where Doc, quietly and alone, will raise his coffee cup to Tom. And after 9:30, he'll be able to hear the little girls screaming happily on the playground at the school, three blocks away. Yes, he thinks that's the way to start this day, listening to the happiness of children and watching the life around him. And sipping coffee in the back yard. Just Doc and Old Tom.

Listen to Home Country come to life on the radio. Check your local classic country station for the times. Doesn't cost them a thing, either.

planning grant, which covers the cost of the Point-in-Time count, among other programs.

"This funding continues our response to a homeless crisis that has overwhelmed the west coast in recent years," said Sacramento Steps Forward CEO Ryan Loofbourrow. "We're relieved that so many formerly homeless individuals will stay housed and thankful that new funding will house people who are currently homeless."

The grant application was submitted to HUD last September following a six month competitive process to select and prioritize local projects for funding. Great care is taken to ensure that the process is fair and maximizes federal resources for programs dedicated to ending homelessness.

"Prioritizing one program over another, when they are all doing amazing work, is incredibly difficult, but that is our charge and we do what we think is best for the community," said Loaves and Fishes Advocacy Director Joan Burke, who also Chairs the Continuum of Care Advisory Board. "Thankfully, we have chosen wisely and have been rewarded with additional resources that will help people end their cycle of homelessness."

The Continuum of Care (CoC) Program is designed by HUD to promote community-wide commitment to the goal of ending homelessness. ★

As a part of the program, HUD awards grants annually to non-profit providers, State and local governments to rehouse individuals and families experiencing homelessness.

In Sacramento, the Continuum of Care is led by 25 community stakeholders who make up the Continuum of Care Advisory Board. Stakeholders include representatives of homeless service providers, advocates, local government, business groups, law enforcement, and individuals who are formerly homeless. Sacramento Steps Forward is a nonprofit organization and has been the lead agency for Sacramento's Continuum of Care since 2011. ★

Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Convicted of Assault and Torturing Toddler

DATE: January 5, 2018

CASE: Lovely Ocean Williams (Case #16FE012205)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Nancy Cochrane, Special Assault & Child Abuse Unit

Lovely Ocean Williams pled no contest to torture and assault by means of force likely to cause great bodily injury.

Between February and April of 2016, Williams was in a relationship with the victim, who had a daughter younger than 3 years old at the time. During the two-month period, Williams assaulted the victim and tortured the victim's daughter. Williams burned the child with the heated end of a drug pipe and a hand-held butane blow torch. The child was burned over her entire body, and was specifically burned on her genitalia with the blow torch. Many of the burns have resulted in permanent scars.

Williams will be sentenced to 7 years to life in prison. Sentencing is scheduled for March 6, 2018, at 8:30 a.m. in Department 61 before the Honorable Michael Sweet.

Defendant Sentenced for Deadly Stabbing

DATE: January 5, 2018

CASE: Rodney Bruno (Case #16FE019105)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Caroline Park, Homicide Unit

The Honorable Michael Kenny sentenced Rodney Bruno to 86 years to life in prison. On October 10, 2017, a jury convicted Bruno for the first-degree murder of Virgil Torres. The jury also found that Bruno used a deadly weapon in the course of the murder. Bruno was sentenced under the three strikes law and the court found that Bruno had previously been convicted of a 1980 strike conviction for voluntary manslaughter and a 2008 strike conviction for robbery.

On October 2, 2016, Rodney Bruno was upset with Virgil Torres. Bruno and Mr. Torres were at a home in the Tahoe Park area when they began to argue. The argument quickly escalated into a physical fight. Bruno stabbed Torres multiple times in the course of the altercation. Torres died as a result of those stab wounds.

Former Police Officer Sentenced for Drugs, Weapon Possession

DATE: January 11, 2018

CASE: Isaac Richard Knutilla (Case #16FE021432)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Neil Ferrera, Special Investigations Unit

Isaac Richard Knutilla pled no contest to all charges filed in this case; specifically, felony possession of controlled substances with a firearm and felony possession of an assault weapon. The Honorable Lawrence Brown sentenced Isaac Richard Knutilla to 150 days in jail and five years formal probation.

On November 4, 2016, Isaac Knutilla was contacted at a local hotel and found to be in possession of heroin, methamphetamine, cocaine, and marijuana while armed with a loaded .40 caliber firearm. Police officers later searched his residence and located an illegal assault weapon. At the time of these crimes, Knutilla was employed as a police officer with the Sacramento Police Department.

District Attorney Anne Marie Schubert states, "The men and women in law enforcement do a tremendous job in protecting and serving our community. However, if a law enforcement officer or any citizen engages in criminal activity, they will be held accountable regardless of their profession or any other status they may have."

Defendant Convicted for Kidnapping, Car Jacking, Sexual Assault

DATE: January 12, 2018

CASE: Eddie Ray Jones Jr. (Case #16FE019308)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Kevin Jones, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit

Eddie Ray Jones Jr. was convicted by a jury of two counts of kidnapping during a carjacking, two counts of robbery and one count of oral copulation by force or fear with kidnapping and use of a dangerous or deadly weapon or firearm allegations. The jury also found true a use of a firearm allegation on all counts.

On September 10, 2016, Jones was inside a restaurant on Mack Road when the female victim entered the restaurant with her 2-year-old granddaughter. After purchasing food to go, the victim returned to her vehicle and began placing her granddaughter in her car seat. Jones approached the victim from behind, told her he had a gun and pointed it at her through his coat pocket. He proceeded to order the victim into the vehicle and to drive. Over the next hour, the victim was forced to drive around while Jones smoked drugs. He then pulled out the gun, switched seats with the victim and drove to a secluded area where he forced the victim to orally copulate him. He then stole money from the victim's purse, dropped her and her granddaughter off on the side of the road and drove off in her vehicle. Jones was arrested later that month after leading police on a high-speed vehicle chase and attempting to escape on foot.

The victim was able to describe Jones' distinctive tattoos and picked him out of a photo lineup. DNA evidence found on the victim's shirt was also analyzed by the District Attorney's Crime Lab and was a match to Jones.

Jones faces a maximum sentence of 69 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for February 8, 2018, at 1:30 p.m. in Department 62 before the Honorable Patrick Marlette. ★

Dave Says

Renting to family?

Dear Dave,
 I have cousins who are thinking about moving back to Connecticut from Virginia. They'll be renting for a while, and I have an unoccupied rental house. Do you think renting to family is a bad idea?
 -Katherine

Dear Katherine,
 Renting to family can work out just fine, as long as there are clearly understood rules and boundaries in place ahead of time. Both parties should understand there must be a landlord and tenant relationship with regards to all aspects of the rental agreement. Tenants have the right to expect a landlord to make needed repairs promptly, pay the taxes and insurance on a property on time, and do all the other things a landlord should do as outlined in the rental agreement. As a landlord, you have the right to expect the rent to be paid early or on time, and for the tenant to respect the property and guidelines in the rental agreement. A landlord also has the right to evict a tenant through fair, legal process if they violate the terms of the agreement.

don't get to play that game to avoid your duties as a landlord. Phrases like, "Well, I just thought because you're my cousin" have no place in these situations. Make plans to have a full-blown, in-depth conversation about every aspect of the rental agreement and relationship before anything is signed. If you don't, there's a possibility someone will develop a sense of entitlement about something.

And that's no good in any type of relationship!
 —Dave

When it comes to these business dealings, you're wearing the landlord cap, and they're wearing the renter's cap. At Thanksgiving, Christmas, and other family events, the caps come off and you're family. But you don't get to play the cousin card as a way to keep from paying rent, and you

The River Cats will host a pre-game VIP meet and greet with Zito, which will include those who have purchased a Giant Pack. He will also be available for autographs on the concourse after throwing out the first pitch.

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
