Yep, Pot Goes Legit, Sort of

Story by Jacqueline Fox

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) -

In many cities across California, Sacramento included, the cultivation and sale of recreational cannabis becomes legal Jan. 1, opening the flood gates for an industry widely expected to generate a gold mine for municipalities who have said "yes" to the legitimization of the pot business.

However, Sacramento County, as well as the cities of Citrus Heights, Rancho Cordova and Folsom, among others in Placer County and points across the map, each have stuck to their guns and have banned what they view as the coming of the wild west of commerce.

Anticipating an uptick in violent crime, robberies, homelessness and headaches, coupled with a complicated process for management of the commercial side of the cannabis industry, these areas have echoed a resounding "NOT" to the cultivation of cannabis in their towns. There are also too many questions, they say, about how to affectively assess pot farmers on their profits from what is currently a cash-and-carry industry, not to mention the offense of the smell from burning weed wafting over their neighborhoods.

So pot is legit as of Jan. 1, and yet it isn't, depending on where you reside and how you intend to consume or even grow it.

If you're cloudy on the issues, there's good reason for it. The medicinal marijuana laws passed several years ago that ushered in the growth of the pot dispensary market made it legal for those with a "prescription" from their physicians to purchase limited amounts of pot.

Proposition 64, passed in for the personal cultivation of up

November 2016, effectively made it possible for weed growers who are lucky enough to obtain licenses from the state to come out of the shadows and begin cashing in on the commercial recreational pot market, which is expected to generate roughly $1 billion for the state annually. Tax proceeds on pot farmers' bounties will, in part, support enforcement and oversight of the industry, among other programs.

In addition, Prop. 64 allows medical purposes, provided they are grown inside a person's private residence or a green house, but not in a field or backyard, as many cultivators have been doing under the radar for years.

So, where and when will it be legal to grow, sell or possess pot? And are pot dispensaries legal or not?

Because marijuana remains categorized as a controlled substance under federal law, the state has left it up to individual counties and cities to determine to six living pot plants for non- if they wanted in on the action or not, giving them a Dec. 31 deadline to say so, in order for the approval process for applications from prospective growers to begin Jan. 1.

> The City of Sacramento voted this fall to join the party and is currently cultivating its own guidelines for commercial growing and distribution. Licensees will be taxed 4% of their proceeds, for starters. Applications for conditional use permits are required and renewable annually.

SMUD Board of Directors Approves 2018 Budget

SMUD special release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) -

The SMUD Board of Directors approved a $1.74 billion budget. The 2018 budget provides funding for all capital and operations and maintenance (O & M) programs needed to meet the Board's Strategic Directions in the year ahead.

The 2018 budget also positions SMUD for changes coming to the utility industry so SMUD can continue to meet our community's energy needs. The budget sets the stage for operational efficiencies and improvements, as well as expansions of customer offerings in the near future, and opens up SMUD to seek new revenue opportunities.

SMUD is in a strong financial position. SMUD has a robust cash balance and operating cash flow and will fund the majority of capital investment with cash on hand, only planning to borrow $200 million next year. Recently Fitch and S&P upgraded SMUD's credit ratings to AA, from an already impressive AA-, while Moody's continues to rate SMUD Aa3. This is the strongest SMUD's credit ratings have been in 33

The 2018 budget is $161 million more than the 2017 budget, due mostly to higher planned capital expenditures. SMUD continues to upgrade electrical infrastructure to maintain safe and reliable service, as well as invest in the technological foundations to meet future challenges. Offsetting these increases is a lower commodity budget due to declining natural gas costs, which SMUD locked in through hedging programs.

As the utility business evolves, SMUD is increasingly reliant on technological solutions in all business areas. As a customer-owned utility, SMUD continues to focus on improving the digital channels

Jamba Juice Opens in Carmichael

By Paul Scholl

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Good things often come to those who wait, but I was really getting tired of waiting for Jamba Juice to open. It has been a couple of weeks now, but one of latest foodie locations to come to the area is now open daily and ready to serve all those who love their juice to start the day.

This location was under construction for many months, held up by permitting and some other issues. Many people in the community were beginning to wonder if it was ever going to become a reality.

Jamba Juice offers a fundraising program for local organizations. It sounds like a good way to help raise funds for a good cause and to eat something really good for you. Stop by and ask the staff for more information.

The Carmichael location is in the same shopping center as Noah's Bagels and the recently opened Wing Stop, right at the split of Fair Oaks Blvd. and Manzanita Ave. The official address is 7423 Fair

When you stop by to visit tell them you are really glad they are now open and welcome them to the Carmichael community.

Farm Bureau Lends Support to Ambitious Irrigation Plan

Proposed South County Ag Program Would Reduce Groundwater Pumping

By Bill Baird, SCFB

ELK GROVE, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Farm Bureau (SCFB) testified in support of an ambitious recycled water project before the California Water Commission this week in downtown Sacramento. The Sacramento Regional County Sanitation District's (Regional SAN) plan would provide a safe and reliable supply of tertiary treated water for agricultural irrigation uses, which would reduce groundwater pumping and cause ground water tables to rise in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta region.

Regional SAN is attempting to obtain funding for the project through the Water Storage Investment Program (WSIP) contained in Proposition 1, the water bond that California voters approved in 2014. The WSIP set aside $2.7 billion in funding for water storage projects that improve the operation of the state water system, are cost effective and provide a net improvement in ecosystem and water quality conditions.

"Sacramento County farmers and ranchers smashed crop production records last year by producing a record high $507 million worth of wine grapes, milk, pears, nursery crops and other agricultural commodities," said SCFB Executive Director Bill Bird during testimony before the CWC. "Our members broke that record because they had access to clean and reliable irrigation water supplies. Any project that would increase the reliability and quality of irrigation water supplies for Sacramento County growers has the Farm Bureau's support."

Modeling presented to the CWC showed that the groundwater recharge facilitated by the project would lead to a 20-30-foot increase in the groundwater elevation in the South American Sub-basin, plus increase flows in the Cosumnes River, a tributary to the Delta.

According to testimony provided by Regional SAN during the CWC hearing, the project is consistent with the objectives and intent of Proposition 1, and provides substantial agricultural, ecological, and regional water supply benefits at a low cost, particularly when compared to surface storage projects.

"This project is an example of the type of innovative multibenefit groundwater projects California needs to implement to ensure our state has a more sustainable and reliable water supply," said Bird. "If Sacramento County growers are not forced to pump ground water for irrigation purposes because they can receive a reliable supply of water from another source at roughly the same price, they won't use those pumps."

The CWC is expected to start allocating grant funding for water storage projects early next year.

Senator Ted Gaines Named "Champion of Manufacturing"

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Senator Ted Gaines (R-El Dorado) today announced that he has been named a "Champion of Manufacturing" by the California Manufacturing & Technology Association (CMTA) on their 2017 Manufacturing Vote Record. CMTA represents 400 businesses from the entire manufacturing community – an economic sector that generates more than $230 billion every year and employs more than 1.2 million Californians.

"I have been a long-time champion of California's manufacturing industry and am proud to have earned this important designation," said Senator Gaines. "For many manufacturers, it's become increasingly difficult to do business in California. I've carried and supported numerous bills that would let businesses keep more of their money so they can reinvest it back into their businesses, create more jobs and boost the economy, instead of handing it over to the government. They should be rewarded for their contributions to our state, not continually penalized at every turn. I remain committed to fighting on their behalf."

Sacramento

The Vote Record looked at legislators' floor votes in the Assembly and Senate on 10 key bills impacting California manufacturers and technology companies. The results showed that only 44 out of 120 legislators supported California manufacturers at least 70 percent of the time, receiving the "Champion of Manufacturing" designation.

Senator Ted Gaines represents the 1st Senate District, which includes all or parts of Alpine, El Dorado, Lassen, Modoc, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, Shasta, Sierra and Siskiyou counties.

Governor Brown Grants Executive Clemency

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr. today announced that he has granted 132 pardons and 19 commutations.

Individuals who have granted pardons all completed their sentences and the majority were convicted of drug-related or other nonviolent crimes. Pardons are not granted unless they are earned.

A gubernatorial pardon may be granted to individuals who have demonstrated exemplary behavior and have lived productive and law-abiding lives following their conviction. The process includes eligible individuals obtaining a Certificate of Rehabilitation, which is an order from a superior court declaring that a person conbeen convicted of a crime in victed of a crime is now California may apply to the rehabilitated. This require-Governor for a pardon. Those ment was waived for a refugee who is currently detained as part of a federal immigration proceeding.

When a pardon is granted, the California Department of Justice and the Federal Bureau of Investigation are notified so that they may update their records on the applicant. The pardon is filed with the Secretary of State and the Legislature, and it is a public record.

The Governor also granted 19 commutations to current inmates. Inmates currently serving a sentence for a conviction by the California Courts can petition to have their sentence reduced by applying for a commutation. In the majority of these commutations, these individuals have been granted the opportunity to make their case before the Board of Parole Hearings, which will determine whether they are ready to be released from prison.

Pot Goes Legit, Sort of

Depending on the type of business you want to run, city fees for setting up a grow operation will run you anywhere between $9,000 and $15,000, and between $8,000 and $13,000 to renew the license each year.

But, since it's a cash flow operation, there are many unanswered questions as to how growers will deposit and move earnings, just one of the headaches fueling the Rancho Cordova City Council's "no"

"We have been watching all the things the city of Sacramento is going through and we see it as just a headache we do not want to deal with," said Vice Mayor Linda Budge following her council's 3-2 vote against lifting the ban on commercial operations Dec. 4.

Sacramento currently has roughly three dozen pot dispensaries, again built out primarily after the medicinal pot laws went into effect, but there is a moratorium on approval of new applications for licenses. Pot cultivation beyond the legal limit of six plants inside a residence, delivery services and pot dispensaries all remain illegal in Citrus Heights, Folsom, Rancho Cordova and countywide.

Proponents of Prop. 64 and the decriminalization of the marijuana industry site the stigma of pot and previous felony-level charges for minor offenses that, they say, often stood between offenders' abilities to find a job or, in some cases, obtain approval for adequate housing.

Opponents of the law, however, including city officials, law enforcement agencies and county prosecutors have repeatedly pointed to what they see as a direct through-line between cannabis cultivation and pot dispensaries and serious crime, including murder, which they expect will continue, despite the changes in the law.

"I've been a prosecutor for 30 years, and as long as I've been involved with cases involving crimes related to marijuana, it has always been a very highrisk, dangerous activity," said Robert Gold, assistant chief deputy district attorney. "It is always going to be a dangerous activity whether legal or not, because so many of the growers are less sophisticated. The bad guys are going to believe that they have a lot of product, a lot of money and probably guns. And the other thing is, they won't often report crimes against themselves, which makes them vulnerable victims."

Gold also cautioned that it remains illegal, regardless of where you live, to carry more than an ounce of marijuana, but conceded the misdemeanor charges that now accompany most minor pot infractions, make it difficult to justify the costs of prosecuting such cases.

"The law certainly has resulted in changing the laws in favor of those who want to make this a business," said Gold. "Whether you grow 25 plants illegally or 250,000 plants, it's a misdemeanor and 180 days in the county Jail. So even for a convicted felon, it's now like a speeding ticket."

New Device for Impending Earthquakes

Submitted by Zizmos

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

- Zizmos, a tech-based startup that is building a cost-effective cloud-connected seismic network providing earthquake early-warning and block-byblock risk predict, this week excitedly launched a Kickstarter campaign for their revolutionary earthquake detection system: the Earthquake Early Warning System.

Utilizing smart earthquakesensing technology that could save millions of lives, the system is about to provide an early warning of on average 15-20 seconds for all users.

"Regarding earthquakes, every second matters," said Battalgazi Yildirim.

Founder and CEO of Zizmos. "Having a 20-second head-start could be the difference between a severe injury or taking cover to protect oneself and one's family."

The system can provide up to a 60-second warning for users. Nearby sensors detect the earthquake precursor waves, communicating the information to the central server. When that server analyzes the sent information, it makes a decision whether the signal is an earthquake, or simply a local noise. If the system has determined that it is an earthquake signal, it searches for the earthquake epicenter. The Zizmos system keeps users updated during every step of the earthquake detection process.

"We rely on data from multiple sensors to analyze if rumblings are dangerous and worthy of an alert," said Yildirim. "The more sensors, the faster and more reliable warning we can deliver uses. The more money pledged to the crowdfunding campaign, the more sensors we will be able to install in major urban areas."

The Zizmos system is also able to monitor homes as the foundations settle into the Earth over time. Shrinking foundations can be a result of tree roots, sunlight and landscaping that transformed the soil around the home, plumbing leaks and moisture changes, and inadequate column support.

Dr. Yildirim founded Zizmos in 2014. He received his M.Sc. in Applied Mathematics in 2008, and Ph.D. in Engineering from Brown University in 2012, specializing in numerical methods and high-performance and scientific computing. He has amassed a team of highly skilled and trained mathematics, programmers, engineers, and seismic experts for the development of the Zizmos Earthquake Early Warning System.

Curling in Sacramento? Yes, and the Winter Olympics are Almost Here!

By Katie Feldman

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Winter Olympics are almost here and with that comes the crazy, quirky sport of CURLING. Curling is an ice sport that requires players to slide 42-pound stones over an ice sheet to a target at the other end, known as the house. Considered to be one of the most captivating sports, curling is popularly known as chess on ice and a hybrid of bowling and shuffleboard. Americans flocked to the sport with intrigue and fascination when the Winter Olympics were televised from Torino in 2006, Vancouver in 2010, and Sochi in 2014. The same will be true come February 8th when the Winter Olympics begin in South

Wine Country Curling Club is dedicated to promoting the sport of curling in Northern California. They curl out of Skatetown Ice in Roseville and offer leagues, learn-to-curl programs, corporate events, tournaments, and adaptive curling (wheelchair curling, blind curling, deaf curling, stick curling, and Special Olympics curling). WCCC curls on Sunday mornings but also offers the occasional Saturday night event and they are one of 4 clubs in California. WCCC is a volunteer-run, 501(c)3 non-profit organization and is a member of USA Curling and the Mountain Pacific Curling Association (MoPac). They hold two tournaments each year which brings over 40 teams (including past Olympians) to the area to compete in a 3-day event.

Hundreds of Area Pets Saved by Bissell Pet Foundation Grant

Funding Prevents Pet Homelessness By Reducing Surrenders And Saving Pets' Lives

Each year in Sacramento, there are more animals in need of homes than there are homes available to adopt

By Holly Kroeze, Bissell Pet Foundation

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Bissell Pet Foundation has awarded $10,000 to assist the lifesaving efforts of the Sacramento SPCA (SSPCA). Grant funds will prevent pet overpopulation, as well as helping area residents needing assistance with proactive veterinary care.

Each year in Sacramento, there are more animals in need of homes than there are homes available to adopt them. While all breeds are at risk for overpopulation and homelessness, a high percentage of animals surrendered at Sacramento community shelters are Chihuahuas. In 2016, at the SSPCA, 21% of dogs surrendered were classified as Chihuahuas or Chihuahua mixes. The Bissell Pet Foundation grant will fund the SSPCA's 'We Pay to Spay' program targeted at Chihuahua owners to reduce unplanned litters of this breed, thereby reducing future surrenders and saving lives. Grant funds will cover the cost of 200 spay/neuter surgeries.

"The greatest reward is to help our partners save thousands of animals' lives each year by supporting their efforts," explains Cathy Bissell, Founder of the pet foundation. "We hope to see the day when every pet has a loving, forever home."

Bissell Pet Foundation provides much-needed financial assistance to animal welfare organizations with the goal of finding every pet a loving home. Since its inception, the foundation has given more than $4 million in support to organizations like Sacramento SPCA.

Bissell Pet Foundation is a charitable 501(c)(3) non-profit organization with a mission to help reduce the number of animals in shelters through pet adoption, spay/neuter programs, microchipping and foster care. Founded in 2011 by Cathy Bissell, BPF is an extension of her long-standing love for animals and commitment to their welfare. The foundation is supported by generous donors and BISSELL Homecare, Inc. Up to $10 for every pet product purchased helps fund the foundation's mission.

its customers use to do business with SMUD. The 2018 budget includes initiatives to deliver a new SMUDapp with bill pay and outage communications functionality, as well as increasingly personalized customer experiences on SMUD's digital

In 2018, SMUD embarks on exploring new business opportunities that open new markets and revenue streams. These include expanding opportunities for new revenue in traditional wholesale energy markets, such as successfully selling excess transmission capacity, plus new net revenue from non-traditional sources such as the new e-commerce solution, the SMUD Energy Store.

SMUD signed a contract in 2017 with Valley Clean Energy Alliance (VCEA) to provide Community Choice Aggregator (CCA) services. SMUD's work with VCEA, which launches next spring, will create a new revenue stream for SMUD and creates possibilities for expansion into other CCA markets.

The capital budget includes funding for improvements and investments to support

- Construction of the new Franklin substation in Elk Grove
- Rehabilitation of the SMUD Headquarters building Re-purchase of Solano Wind 3

The O&M budget includes funding for the work associated with SMUD joining the Energy Imbalance Market (EIM) in 2019. The EIM is a realtime, wholesale power market managed by the California Independent System Operator that enables participating utilities to buy low-cost energy available across eight western states—the resulting efficiencies of pooling power resources across a wide geographic area provides cost savings and environmental benefits. SMUD customers continue to pay significantly less for electricity than most Californians, and as of November 1, 2017, about 32 percent less than residential customers who are supplied by neighboring PG&E.

As the nation's sixth-largest, community-owned electric service provider, SMUD has been providing low-cost, reliable electricity for 70 years to Sacramento County (and small adjoining portions of Placer and Yolo Counties). SMUD is a recognized industry leader and award winner for its innovative energy efficiency programs, renewable power technologies, and for its sustainable solutions for a healthier environment. SMUD's power mix is about 50 percent non-carbon emitting. For more information, visitsmud.org.

NAFTA Renegotiations Must Advance Innovation and Creativity

Commentary by Bob Barchiesi, James C. Greenwood, Charles H. Rivkin, Cary Sherman, and Stephen J. Ubl

Diplomats from the United States, Canada, and Mexico recently met to re-negotiate the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA).

Many Americans feel NAFTA has disadvantaged U.S. workers. Others have complained about U.S. companies relocating factories to Mexico to take advantage of lax labor regulations. The Commerce Department has called out Canadian softwood lumber subsidies.

These are legitimate concerns and negotiators certainly need to address them. But they also need to address what's missing in NAFTA: strong protections that foster innovation and ensure competitive conditions for creative and innovation based industries. These protections are crucial to millions of workers and to our economy.

The economic value of creative and innovative based industries is captured in a person or company's ideas and inventions. These assets are often protected through intellectual property rights such as patents, trademarks, and copyrights, which prevent others from stealing or replicating original ideas without permission.

These robust sectors wouldn't exist without laws and policies that respect the substantial value they add to their products and services and enable them to reap the benefits of their work.

That's because these businesses and inventors all face massive upfront costs.

Film studios must spend hundreds of millions of dollars to create a major motion picture. Biopharmaceutical companies frequently spend billions to research and develop a single medicine with no guarantee that medicine will ever make it to market. Record companies spend more than a quarter of their revenue on discovering and promoting new artists.

If rivals could swoop in and produce cheap, knock-off copies, after all the hard creative work has been done, there'd simply be no way for the creators and innovators to earn back their investments.

Needless to say, that would cripple significant segments of the American economy. All told, IP-intensive sectors added more than $6 trillion to U.S. GDP in 2014. Together, IP-based start-ups, small businesses, and larger companies support more than 45 million jobs in the United States with workers earning nearly 40 percent more than their counterparts in non-IP intensive sectors.

On top of the many benefits to the United States, the products developed by creative and innovative based industries are shared around the world. The United States exports roughly $130 billion of IP-intensive products each year.

Unfortunately, illegal actions that deprive inventors of the economic rights to their IP, such as counterfeiting, piracy, and other intellectual property theft, threaten the ability of creators and inventors to continue investing and creating jobs. For instance, U.S. companies lose a cumulative $250 billion annually to digital theft.

Innovation and creativity drive the American economy. This is our comparative advantage. To safeguard this, U.S. negotiators ought to insist on trade policies that respect innovation and creativity, and ensure strong protections for IP and creative content in the new NAFTA. If they succeed, the new agreement could become the gold standard for all future trade deals.

Rivkin is the CEO of the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), Cary Sherman is the chairman and CEO of the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA), and Stephen J. Ubl is the president and CEO of the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers of America (PhRMA).

POPPOFF!

Natural Blood Pressure Control

It's holiday time and craziness! Did you know that High blood pressure, also known as hypertension, kills over nine million people worldwide each year? That's 100 times more lives than all natural disasters. Millions more are permanently crippled by pressure-related strokes, heart attacks, kidney failure, and blindness. Here's an even worse fact. One in every three people in the United States presently has hypertension with as many as 75% of us being destined to develop the condition as we age. But Dr. David Rose shared information with me on my POPPOFF Radio Show that has ten easy steps that anyone can do today to lower your blood pressure and no drug-side effects. He gives us the insider information in his book "30 Days to Natural Blood Pressure Control." It's the No Pressure Solution. Dr. Rose is a board-certified specialist in internal and preventative medicine. Thirty days doesn't seem like a long time when it can save your life, so I asked him for the abbreviated version for this column.

So here goes. We start with 1) Nutrition and eating your way to lower blood pressure. There are three principles to follow... Increase consumption of Whole Plant Food, Control calories (lose weight if overweight) and Decrease Salt intake. 2) Eliminate or drastically curtail soft drink consumption. Water might be your substitute. And yes, avoid alcohol if you want the best blood pressure. 3) Social Support and the blood pressure benefits of social connectedness. Why? Actual measurement has been done and researchers discovered that low social support was associated with higher levels of the stress hormone epinephrine (adrenaline) a compound known to raise blood pressure. 4) Movement lowers blood pressure. Pooled studies (called meta-analyses) show that regular exercise typically lowers systolic blood pressure by 4-6 points and diastolic BP by 3 points. 5) Sleeping your way to better blood pressure. Sleep and rest may seem like passive, relatively unimportant activities, but Dr. Rose assured me that's not true. 6) Environment: Fresh air, quiet, sunshine, and nature itself as hypertension remedies. So unplug and relate to nature. 7) Stress management. It's a critical ally in hypertension control. I'm not surprised since I've had many docs on who tell me stress can cause all sorts of health problems. 8) Use of natural adjuncts like herbs and supplements as aids. But, he added that we must be careful because some natural things could be harmful with serious side-effects. 9) Refraining from pressors and excesses and avoid "false friends." Greek philosopher Xenophon used the word temperance to connote "moderation in all things healthful; total abstinence from all things harmful." 10) Exercising faith in God and spiritual connections to high blood pressure. The topic of spirituality, and its impact on blood pressure, is complex and powerful, but the link is undeniably there, and therefore

There is so much more to share, but you'll have to get the rest of the story in "30 Days to Natural Blood Pressure Control: The no Pressure solution." It's a start to taking control of your health! ★

Brundage Returning to Manage River Cats in 2018

New Pitching Coach Steve Kline and fundamentals Coach Nestor Rojas to Join Returning hitting Coach Damon Minor

By Daniel Emmons

WEST SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento River Cats, in conjunction with the San Francisco Giants, are thrilled to welcome back Dave Brundage for his second season as manager of the River Cats for the 2018 season.

Brundage will be joined by a few new faces for the 2018 season at Raley Field. While Damon Minor will return for his third season as the River Cats hitting coach, he will be joined by new pitching coach Steve Kline and fundamentals coach Nestor Rojas. The new training staff will be made up of athletic trainer David Getsoff and strength and conditioning coach Andy King. Travis Higgs will round out the club's 2018 field staff, and will serve as bullpen catcher and team administrator.

An Oregon native, Brundage joined the River Cats in 2017 and compiled a 64-77 record in his 20th season as a minor league manager. Before coming to Sacramento, the veteran manager spent the previous four seasons with the International League's Lehigh Valley IronPigs. In 2016, Brundage led the IronPigs to an 85-58 record, the second best mark in all of Triple-A baseball.

Brundage, 53, made his managerial debut in 1995 with the Riverside Pilots (Seattle Mariners Class A-Advanced). He made his Triple-A debut in 2006 with the Pacific Coast League's Tacoma Rainiers. Brundage has a career record of 1,435-1,392 (.508) in 20 seasons as a manager including a 857-858 (.499) mark at the Triple-A level.

Drafted in the 4th round of the 1986 Amateur Draft out of Oregon State University, Brundage spent 10 seasons as a player in the Minor Leagues with the Phillies and Mariners organizations.

Minor, 43, returns to the River Cats for his third season as hitting coach. In his second year with the team, Minor worked closely with Triple-A newcomers and top Giants' prospects Christian Arroyo, Chris Shaw, and Ryder Jones as they prepared for their Major League debuts.

A former Giant, Minor was drafted by San Francisco in 1996 and made his Major League debut in 2000. In 136 games over parts of four seasons, Minor hit .232 with 13 home runs. He set a career-high in 2002 when he played in 83 games and slugged 10 home runs, helping the Giants claim the National League pennant.

Kline, 45, joins the River Cats as pitching coach after serving in the same role for three seasons with the Double-A Richmond Flying Squirrels and nine seasons overall with the organization. While in Richmond, Kline helped in the development of several River Cats standouts, including Tyler Beede, Andrew Suarez, and Tyler Rogers. Kline led the Giants Double-A affiliate to a top-five pitching staff (in team ERA) in each of his three Eastern League seasons, including a league-leading 3.12 team ERA in 2015.

Kline completed his 11-year Major League career as a lefty reliever with the Giants in 2007. The Pennsylvania native was an 8th round selection by the Cleveland Indians in the 2003 draft out of the University of West Virginia. He set the single -season record for appearances (89) in 2001 while with St. Louis, and led the National League in games played as a pitcher for three consecutive seasons (1999-2001).

Rojas, 34, will join the River Cats as fundamentals coach after managing the Class-A Advanced San Jose Giants in 2017. Since retiring at the end of the 2010 season, Rojas immediately began his coaching career and has been a bright up-and-coming coaching talent in the Giants organization. Rojas landed his first managerial job in 2013 at age 29 with the Arizona Rookie League Giants, and led them to a 41-14 record.

A native of Venezuela, Rojas played for six seasons in the Giants organization, including two stints with Triple-A Fresno in 2009 and 2010.

Rounding out the field staff will be a new athletic training and strength and conditioning duo. David Getsoff will join the River Cats as the athletic trainer in his 10th season with the Giants Organization, while Andy King will be the River Cats strength and conditioning coach in what will be his fifth season with the Giants. Travis Higgs will return as the team's bullpen catcher in 2018.

The Sacramento River Cats are the Triple-A affiliate of the three-time World Champion San Francisco Giants. The team plays at Raley Field in West Sacramento, consistently voted one of the top ballparks in America. For more information about the River Cats, visit www. rivercats.com. Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Sentenced to 25-Life for Murder of 13-Month-Old Girl

DATE: December 8, 2017

CASE: Guyland Washington (Case #14F04826) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Dawn Bladet, Homicide Unit

The Honorable Maryanne Gilliard sentenced Guyland Washington to the maximum sentence of 25 years to life in prison. On October 5, 2017, a jury convicted Washington for the second-degree murder of 13-month-old Leila Shehadeh, and child assault causing death.

On the morning of July 11, 2014, Guyland Washington's then girlfriend left her 13-monthold daughter, Leila Shehadeh, in Washington's care. When the girlfriend returned that afternoon, she discovered her daughter was not breathing and unresponsive. Paramedics brought Leila to the UC Davis Medical Center, where she was pronounced dead shortly after her arrival. When doctors observed bruising and multiple injuries to Leila's head, body and anal areas, they reported suspected child abuse to law enforcement. An autopsy showed Leila suffered a skull fracture with associated brain swelling, rib fractures and significant bruising on various parts of her body. Her cause of death was determined to be intentionally inflicted blunt force injuries.

During the sentencing hearing, Judge Gilliard stated, "In my nineteen years of being a judge this has to be without a doubt one of the worst actions I have seen another human being do to such a vulnerable sweet innocent little child."

Defendant Pleads to Forcible Rape During Commission of Burglary

DATE: December 14, 2017 CASE: David Hamilton (Case #17FE00245

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Maria Wilson, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit

David Hamilton pled no contest to forcible rape and admitted an allegation that the rape occurred during the commission of a first-degree burglary. Hamilton also admitted a prior 2014 robbery strike

At approximately 3:00 a.m. on February 7, 2017, Hamilton entered the victim's home through her kitchen window. Hamilton, who was a stranger to the victim, grabbed a knife and entered the victim's bedroom. Hamilton told the victim to get on the floor and threatened to kill her if she did not cooperate. He then bound the victim's hands, choked her and raped her. After the assault, Hamilton began walking around the house. The victim, who was scared he would hurt her sleeping children, was able to distract Hamilton by offering him food and drinks. During this time she was able to call 911 and send a text for help. When officers arrived, they found Hamilton hiding under the victim's couch with the knife.

Hamilton will be sentenced to 30 years to life in prison. Sentencing is set for January 9, 2018, at 8:30 a.m. in Department 60 before the Honorable Stephen Acquisto.

Former Correctional Officer Pleads to Arson, Domestic Violence

DATE: December 15, 2017

CASE: William Joseph Babbitt (Case #17FE005738) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Neil Ferrera, Special Investigations Unit

William Babbitt suspected the victim had dated his estranged wife. On August 20, 2016, Babbitt went to the victim's apartment and set fire to the front door while the victim was asleep. A neighbor saw the fire, alerted the victim and extinguished the fire. Later that morning, Babbitt's wife confronted him regarding the incident. During this confrontation, Babbitt threw her to the ground causing a scrape to her left arm. Investigators determined that Babbitt used an accelerant to set the fire. At the time of these crimes, Babbitt was employed as a correctional officer with the California Department of Corrections and Babbitt will be sentenced to 3 years in state prison. Sentencing is set for January 23, 2018, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 37 before the Honorable Stephen Acquisto.

Former High School Teacher Sentenced for Sexual Relationships with Students

DATE: December 15, 2017

CASE: Byron Wallace (Case #15F06533) PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Maria

Wilson, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit The Honorable Laurel White sentenced Byron Wallace to 8 years, 4 months in prison. On October 31, 2017, a jury convicted Wallace of four counts of committing sex acts with a person under the age of 18, communicating with a minor with the intent to commit a sex act, molesting a child under the age of 18, three counts of unlawful sex with a minor, and dissuading a witness. Wallace was a math teacher at Inderkum High School. He also ran the Christians in Action club as well as the HOPE program. A high school freshman met Wallace when she was a student in his geometry class. She got to know Wallace throughout her high school years from math classes and as an active member of the Christians in Action club. During her senior year, Wallace and the victim began exchanging flirtatious text messages. Eventually, they began meeting before and after school and became physically intimate. Over the course of their relationship, the victim spent more than $3,500 on Wallace – buying him expensive shoes, belts and watches. Another student met Wallace her senior year when she asked him for help in math. She also became active in the Christians in Action club. Wallace and the victim began exchanging flirtatious text messages. Soon after, their relationship became physically intimate. Wallace also sent nude photos of himself to both victims.

Gift cards for grandkids?

Dear Dave.

What's an appropriate amount for gift cards to send each of our five grandchildren for Christmas? - Liz.

Dear Liz,

How much do you spend on your grandchildren? Enough to make their parents nervous!

Seriously, I think it depends on two things. First, are you two debt-free, or at least able to provide gifts without going into debt or hurting yourselves financially? There's nothing wrong with spoiling the grandbabies once in a while. But don't use Christmas as an excuse to lose your minds, blow your budget, or go into debt every December. The amount you spend on gifts? I would suggest making it reasonable, not over the top, and relative to your income and that of the household in which the kiddos live.

The second thing I wonder about is the ages of all the grandchildren. I can't imagine a four-year-old getting excited general age range we're talking about, have some fun with it! Head down to the store, and really put some thought into these decisions. On the other hand, it might be just the thing for a teenager — especially if you know where they like to shop and hang out. Older kids want to make their own decisions, so depending on the personality of the grandchild, a gift card might be the way to go.

Interview follow-up

Dear Dave,

What is the proper etiquette after the job interview process? I recently had an interview for a sales management position. I've sent a couple of follow-up emails in the last few weeks, and I know I'm still under consideration, but I'm not sure what to do now.

- Krista

Dear Krista

Next time, since you obviously have a sales background, how about treating it like a sales call? If you're on a sales call, and the customer needs to perform some due diligence before deciding, a smart salesperson will ask to schedule a follow-up.

over a gift card. So, if that's the Ask if checking back on a certain day in the next week or two will work. You don't want to be obnoxious, but you want an appointment of sorts — a time frame — so you'll know when to follow up without being pushy. In this situation, I would recommend sending another email. You want to walk right up to that fine line that separates bold from obnoxious, because that's one of things a good sales manager should be able to do. Respectfully tell them you understand the decision-making process takes time, but you need to know when you can expect an

Use the idea that you're a great sales person, and you're treating this as a professional sales call. And don't be afraid to have a little fun with it. If you're still under consideration, that means they like you. You could even hint at the fact they don't want to hire a sales manager who doesn't know how to follow up! —Dave

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
