Doing a Heart Good

Cuddle time. Gemily West wraps three of her new fur-babies in bandanas and love. Puppies Brumby, Ruby, and Daisy are among a full house of Australian cattle dog babies born to two of Gemily's dogs.

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Two litters of Australian cattle dog puppies have brought nostalgia and joy for Carmichael heroine Gemily West. "It's been my dream since I was a little girl to raise puppies of my own," says Gemily (28). "They're the best anti-depressant ever."

Five years ago, national headlines reported the local girl's heartbreak. During an evening walk on her home street, a drugged hit-andrun driver mowed down Gemily's boyfriend Hary Randall and her four dogs, Winry, Zury, Bindie and Evie. The beloved heelers were slaughtered. Two weeks later, Hary died from his injuries. Gemily needed 42 metal pins and a steel rod to rebuild her shattered right leg; she still suffers mobility problems and daily pain.

"My life will never be the same," considers the survivor. "I hurt from the time my feet touch the floor each morning." Her gradual recovery was aided by three new Aussie herders, Kiry, Breezy and Honey. Last year, Gemily decided one of them should be a mom. She did not count on two of them falling pregnant and giving birth just a week apart. "A squirming, licking litter of fur-babies is the best motivator anyone could ask for," observes the midwife. "They do my heart good."

Since one of the moms was a niece of the perished Evie, her springtime babies carry a precious bloodline. "They have her facial expressions and her famous head-tilt, observes Gemily. "I see it and I grieve for their beautiful great aunt Evie but oh, that expression is adorable."

Naming the new arrivals was challenging. Monikers like Ruby, Daisy and Brumbie litter the bunch. "I named them for their appearance and personality," she explains. "To the average Joe, they all look the same. I knew the babies apart from birth." With classic coloring that runs from red to the much-sought Aussie "blue", the new puppies quickly achieved Facebook fame and eager adoptive families. "It'll be bittersweet seeing them go," predicts Gemily. "I'll miss their squishy little faces but I'm excited for their futures. They'll go to people I know, so we'll stay in touch. Their new families have promised me pictures and E mails."

Moms Honey and Kiry will stay with Gemily; she will also keep a couple of their babies for her own menagerie. "The puppies are now the equivalent of teenagers," she says. "They're fun but they're hard work. You're always cleaning, feeding, hugging. Socializing is most important. You've got to expose them to new experiences: play with them; get them used to leashes. You can't neglect their moms,

Hearing in CHP Officer's Death Set for Sept. 11

By Jacqueline Fox

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - A July 13 preliminary hearing for the man accused of causing the death of CHP Officer Lucas Chellew February 22 in South Sacramento, has been rescheduled in order to give CHP investigators more time to complete their investigation of the accident.

Defense attorney Alice Michele requested an extension for the hearing for her client, Alberto Quiroz, 26 at the time of arrest, who faces one misdemeanor and three felony counts of vehicle theft, possession of a stolen vehicle and resisting arrest.

CHP Officer Lucas Chellew

Motorcycle patrolman Chellew was pursuing Quiroz, also on a motorcycle, on Fruitridge Road, when he was suddenly cut off by a passing car, lost control of his motorcycle and hit a pole. He was taken to UC Davis Medical Center where he later died from his injuries. Quiroz was arrested shortly after the pursuit.

Deputy District Attorney Aaron Miller confirmed that the hearing, which was stalled for several months for settlement conferences before being calendared, was delayed so that CHP officials conducting a detailed investigation into the crash that killed Chellew could have more time to prepare.

"They need more time to put together their report before we can move forward," Miller said, adding that the original charges have not changed in the case against Quiroz, but declining to say that they could.

The CHP report is expected to play a critical role in the case against Quiroz. Should it reveal willful recklessness on the defendant's part, charges against him could change to include at least one count of vehicular manslaughter.

Chellew's widow was present in the courtroom for the hearing. She sat flanked by CHP patrolmen, presumably colleagues of her late husband, as Judge Kevin J. McCormick asked Quiroz, clad in an orange jumpsuit inside a detaining cell, if he agreed to waive his right to have his case heard sooner. He did.

It's Not about Health Care, It's about Control

Commentary by Jane M. Orient, M.D., Executive Director, Association of American Physicians and Surgeons

As Congress struggles to do something about the ObamaCare disaster, Senators may be getting calls pleading, "Don't take my healthcare away!" But the more influential voices will be whispering, "Don't take my ObamaCare dollars away!"

Executive Director, Association of American Physicians and Surgeons

The American Medical Association (AMA), for example, is urging people to call about "cuts" (constrained growth) to Medicaid. Let's get the terminology straight: The government cannot "take away" or "give" you health care. Caring for your health is something you do-or don't do—yourself. It costs practically nothing; in fact, it saves you money. Nonsmokers save thousands of dollars a year. Walking around the block every day is free-and maybe you'll meet your neighbor. Healthy foods like fresh fruits and vegetables cost something, but less than Starbucks coffee-flavored milkshakes or fast-food lunches. Being faithful to your spouse pays huge dividends.

You can go to a "healthcare provider," get counseled on smoking cessation, and have all your bad habits, risk factors, and soon probably your DNA and political views recorded in an electronic data base, accessible to the government and thousands of other entities. They will constantly score you—on your value to society, eligibility to own a self-defense tool, suitability for a loan or a job, and eventually perhaps your qualifications to have a child.

Your health depends on basic necessities not included in the $3 trillion poured into the "health care system" every year. Lacking a place to stay warm and dry, one homeless person lost his feet to frostbite, while Medicaid Continued on page 4

Another Gas Tax Imposed on Californians

By Senator Jim Nielsen,

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -Following the presentations of Assembly Bill 398 (Eduardo Garcia) and Assembly Bill 617 (Cristina Garcia), two measures that push for the expansion of the cap-and-trade program and raise more taxes on all Californians, Democrat members of the Senate Appropriations Committee passed both measures along party lines. These two onerous measures are estimated to increase gas taxes by a minimum of $0.63* per gallon, on top of the recently passed $0.19 per gallon gas and car tax increase. Vice Chair of the Senate Budget Committee, Senator Jim

Nielsen (R-Tehama), issued the following statement:

"Californians were hit with a $52 billion gas and car tax increase in April.

"Today, we are hit again with another gas tax. We will soon have to pay another $0.63* per gallon to fuel our cars - a total increase of $0.82 per gallon based on estimates from the independent Legislative Analyst.

"This 'cap-and-trade deal' is for the elites, not everyday Californians, to pay for their pet projects. This is a crushing blow to California residents. When will it ever be enough for Sacramento politicians?"

Runner, BOE, Responds to Fire Fee Suspension

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - George Runner issued the following statement in response to the Legislature's approval of AB 398, which suspends the so-called "Fire Prevention Fee" until 2031.

"For six years, ruling Democrats have extorted money in the form of a fire tax from hundreds of thousands of rural Californians, including many seniors on fixed incomes.

"After blocking repeal efforts for years, state leaders finally acted today to suspend this unjust tax, but only because they needed to win votes for a costly climate change measure.

"In other words, they did the right thing for the wrong reasons.

"This seeming victory for California taxpayers is bittersweet. A suspension falls short of a full repeal, and it fails to provide refunds to homeowners who were forced to pay this illegal tax.

"It's never too late to do the right thing: Give us our money back!"

Berryhill Votes to Protect Rural California, Small Businesses and Farmers SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) by onerous policies, a void to

- Senator Tom Berryhill, R-Twain Harte, issued the following statement Monday in support for AB-398, a bill to extend the state's cap-andtrade program for a decade while reducing taxes, fees and regulations by more than $16 billion dollars.

"This legislation is the unfortunate result of years of aggressive climate-change policies forced on us by the coastal elites who run Sacramento. But instead of sitting on the sideline and watching everything go off a cliff, I was able to ensure farmers, small-business owners and rural Californians were well-represented and protected in the negotiation.

"Cap and trade fills a void created by onerous policies, a void that would otherwise be filled by regulations written by out-of-touch, unaccountable bureaucrats - the exact people I came to Sacramento to rein in.

"As an added bonus, this bill suspends the illegal fire tax and keeps Sacramento Democrats from increasing taxes on gas by substantially more than one dollar per gallon. Again, this bill is not perfect, but it is more reasonable after a bipartisan negotiation. I am very pleased to have given farmers, small-business owners and rural Californians a voice in the negotiation of a measure that would have been passed one way or another."

Two Mather Soil Vapor Extraction Units Achieve Cleanup Goals

Air Force Cleanup Program Takes Another Step Toward Completion

By Alex Grotewohl, AFCEC Public Affairs

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The Air Force's remediation program at the former Mather Air Force Base took another major step forward this summer when two Soil Vapor Extraction (SVE) units were found to have achieved their cleanup goals.

Late June, the Air Force Civil Engineer Center announced that two of the three remaining Soil Vapor Extraction systems accomplished their mission, a major step towards completion of the soil cleanup process at Mather.

Although the base closed in 1993 and all related military operations departed, the Air Force remained responsible for Mather's environmental cleanup. Since then, Air Force soil and groundwater cleanup activities have proceeded alongside community redevelopment efforts and the restoration work has provided a successful platform for Mather's redevelopment.

Today, all 5,718 acres of the former base have been transferred to local control for reuse. Mather has become a hub of general aviation and industry; approximately 6,600 people work on-base, employed by more than 60 individual businesses.

Historically, the military used chemicals, including fuels, solvents and oils at Mather in support of national defense from 1918 to 1993, although there were several breaks in service. In 1979, contamination was detected in water supply wells. Environmental cleanup began in the 1980s, years before Mather closed.

The cleanup primarily includes removing contaminants from the soil and groundwater beneath the AFCEC's Soil Vapor Extraction unit, known as "Unit 59," cleaned this area once occupied by an airplane wash rack. land surface. Currently, the Air Force uses Soil Vapor Extraction to remove contaminants from the soil before they can reach the groundwater.

The treatment systems have removed over 1 million pounds of volatile organic compounds and petroleum products from the ground and treated over 12 billion gallons of groundwater.

Douglas Self, AFCEC Base Environmental Coordinator at Mather, stated the closing of these two units marks a major milestone in the Air Force's effort to complete the cleanup and make way for successful reuse.

"The Air Force is committed to completing the last remaining activities necessary for the environment restoration at Mather," Self said. "Being able to shut these systems down means we are getting closer to achieving that goal."

The two Soil Vapor Extraction units operated since 1998. One was installed near an old wash rack, where airplane parts were cleaned and degreased. Contaminants at this site included jet fuels and trichloroethylene (TCE), an industrial solvent used as a degreaser at many Air Force installations. The second unit was located near an oil-water separator. Both units have been switched off since 2015 while the Air Force confirmed that cleanup was complete in those areas.

A third unit, also offline since 2015, is located near a former dry-cleaning facility where tetrachloroethene (PCE) was used. Removing vaporized contaminants from the deep soil in this area has been completed and the Air Force is working with regulatory agencies to achieve site closure.

Demolition of the unit near the oil-water separator is tentatively scheduled for this summer. The unit near the wash rack may be put back into service to treat a newly discovered site requiring additional remediation. TCE was recently found in the soil near an airplane hangar currently used by Mather Aviation.

Ongoing testing of the soil at this site will assist the Air Force and regulators with determining whether to use the already-standing unit for this cleanup process or construct a newer, more cost-effective unit.

Institutional controls (ICs) will be used at each site to ensure inadvertent exposure to contamination does not take place. The ICs require future developers to take steps to prevent human exposure to any remaining contaminants in the shallow soil and gives regulatory agencies the ability to ensure these steps are taken.

"The Mather cleanup program is progressing very well," Self said. "Our state-of-the-art soil and groundwater remedial systems are in place and running smoothly. The Air Force has completed the cleanup process at nearly 90 percent of contaminated sites and we will be here until the cleanup job is finited."

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Landis Avenue just got traffic lights. Ahead of time, inhabitants of the Carmichael artery managed by fair means or fowl.

When nature recently called, wildlife and humans joined forces to ensure road safety. Twenty-two webbed feet paddled riverward down the street, stopping traffic from Sizemore almost to Marshall Avenues. Enroute, a proud mallard mom and ten new hatchlings crossed several precarious

At the busy California Ave intersection, an immigrant Slavic couple climbed from their car to protect the family. Further down Landis, this author joined the parade, warning drivers to slow. Enchanted by the mom's courage and her brood's waddling obedience, motorists complied without grudge.

Such is the charm of our Carmichael neighborhood and its (web-footed or otherwise) residents.

Bera Introduces Bipartisan Health Care Improvements

Working to Protect Consumer Access to Vision Care

WASHINGTON, D.C. (MPG) Congressman Ami Bera, M.D., along with Congressman Jim Renacci (R-OH), introduced the Protecting Consumer Access to Vision Care Act of 2017 today. This bill would provide relief from the health insurance tax (HIT) for stand-alone vision plans under the Affordable Care Act.

"As a doctor, I know how important eye health is to whole health. This simple, bipartisan idea puts the patient first and helps keep care affordable for seniors and families. These fixes are exactly the kind of reform both Democrats and Republicans can get behind," said Rep. Bera.

"Access to vision care is

critical, especially for those 88 million Americans who are served by SAVPs, with over 4 million covered in Ohio alone. Since vision plans provide limited-scope health coverage, they are not subject to ACA market reforms and therefore should be exempt from other ACA taxes and fees," said Rep. Renacci. "In fact, unlike other traditional health insurance subject to the fee, SAVPs are excluded from being offered directly on the Exchanges per the ACA."

Stand-alone vision plans cover routine eye exams and are critical in revealing other conditions such as diabetes, hypertension, tumors, and undiagnosed strokes. The health insurance tax can place an undue burden on vision plans, leading to higher prices and limited eye care.

It's Not about Health Care, It's about Control

was paying someone $563 every month just to have him on a list of enrollees. Last year, Nevada Medicaid paid managed-care companies as much as $213 million for more than 30,000 people who received no care at all. Maybe that money was taken from housing or law enforcement.

Does the money given to Medicaid contractors perhaps pay safety-net hospitals to care for the needy who do need care during the year? We don't really know where all the money goes. A preliminary look at publicly available documents of Arizona's Medicaid system, allegedly the most efficient in the U.S., revealed that managed-care contractors made more than $225 million in pretax profits in just one year. And in 5 years, nearly $400 million of Medicaid funding was transferred to other state agencies.

From a basic economics standpoint, it is just absurd to use third-party payment schemes for routine, predictable (hence uninsurable) costs. It doubles or triples the costs, while making services look free or worth $5 at the time of service. It perpetuates the illusion that somebody else is paying, while managed-care stockholders, administrators, arbitrageurs, and purveyors of ridiculously overpriced drugs or procedures rake in profits.

Of course, there is the risk of a car crash, cancer, heart attack, or other true emergency. I'd like to buy catastrophic insurance to cover my risk for those things, without buying everybody else's contraceptives, fertility treatments, smoking cessation counseling, drug abuse treatments, and blood pressure pills. Such insurance became very difficult to obtain years ago, and ObamaCare outlawed it.

We're moving toward the end-game of single payer, which assures the continued diversion of funds to the Swamp. These funds are no longer available for people to choose to spend. And worse, the System will carefully control the funds that actually provide care, say by punishing doctors for deviating from governmentdictated "best practices." It will allow nothing it calls "snake oil" (things like vitamin D, hormone supplements for aging, or other generally benign items that people find worthwhile but that drain profits from government-approved treatments). Nothing "futile" like experimental treatment for Charlie Gard. Nothing experimental outside the control of the FDA (that might compete with lucrative drugs). Nothing that is not "value based" (such as lifesustaining treatment including food and water to patients not valuable enough to treat for pneumonia, heart failure, or a bleeding ulcer).

The system is also striving

LEGAL ADS FOR

to eliminate nonadherence. Patients will take all their vaccines or lipid-control medicine, like it or not, because the benefit (to "society") is claimed to outweigh the risk (to them personally).

The system wants Americans to trade their freedom for the illusion of "health care." But Americans will soon learn that freedom is of the greatest importance when life is at stake.

Happy Days

I don't know anyone that doesn't remember the iconic TV series "Happy Days." It's still in reruns and probably will be for decades. Of course, it revolved around the lives of three good friends... Richie Cunningham, Ralph Malph, and Potsie Weber. Well, I got to have a great time talking with Potsie... in real life, Anson Williams. But what I learned about this special person was far more interesting than his character on "Happy Days." Did you know Anson's birth name was Anson William Heimlich? And yes, he is related to Dr. Henry Heimlich of the Heimlich maneuver to treat choking victims. They are actually cousins, but Anson always called him uncle. But Anson had a special message he wanted to share with me on POPPOFF. Have you ever thought about Drowsy Driving? You have to admit that you and everyone you know has had one of those moments in their driving life. And Anson was no exception.

Here are some stats that will really get you thinking. It is a silent epidemic with some 100,000 police-reported crashes each year according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration as a result of driver fatigue. Here are the gruesome facts. These crashes result in at least 1,550 deaths, 71,000 injuries, and $12.5 billion in monetary losses. Approximately eleven million drivers admit they have had a crash or near crash because they dozed off or were too tired to drive.

Anson shared his own story. "I was having considerable trouble staying awake while driving home after long 15 hour workdays. My uncle, Dr. Heimlich recommended keeping a lemon or a hot pepper in the car, and whenever I started to feel drowsy simply bite into it. He explained how capsaicin from natural citric acid or pepper are the two ingredients that stimulate the tongue's sensory neurons, immediately alerting the brain to wake up. Your own adrenaline naturally kicks into a reflex action. I chose the lemon and it instantly worked, making me naturally alert and awake at the wheel without having any unnecessary stimulants or bad ingredients in my system. Actually, nothing even entered my system again. My immediate alertness was caused by a natural reflex action that stimulated adrenalin." From then on Anson always kept lemons in his car. But he wanted to make it even more simple, and so he worked with Dr. Heimlich to come up with a tiny mouth spray with the natural ingredients mentioned above. And he did it. You can check it out at www.alertdrops.com.

This "Happy Days" star has dedicated his life to others as did his uncle Dr. Henry Heimlich. This project is closer to his heart than any other endeavor, but he has so much more that he shared with me from his battle with colon cancer to his appearance on "Battle of the Network Stars" coming soon on ABC. He will be coming back to POPPOFF so we can get into more of Potsie's...I mean Anson's life

Rental house being foreclosed

Dear Dave,

I've been living in a rental house for some time now. I was just told by the owners that the house is being foreclosed on next week. I've tried to call and email them, but haven't heard anything back. Should I go ahead and pay rent for this month?

- John

Dear John,

I wouldn't. The bottom line in a situation like this is: You're giving them money and they're not paying the bills. I wouldn't give the owners another dime until they return your phone calls or talk to you in person and let you know the details as to what's going on with the house you're living in.

In the meantime, I'd advise speaking with an attorney and a real estate professional in your area to find out exactly what your rights are at this point. Many places require a 30-day notice before renters are required to vacate a property.

Good luck, John!

Threaten to garnish Dear Dave,

I got a call from a debt collector regarding $2,000 I owe in medical bills. I'm trying to get my finances in order and pay this off, but I'm afraid they'll follow through on their threat to garnish my wages. Can you give me some advice?

- Mike

Dear Mike,

First, I want you to take a deep breath and calm down. Debt collectors like to play on your emotions because they think you'll give in and do something you can't really afford to do. Most of them don't care about you or your situation as long as they get some

They won't garnish your wages because they can't. They would have to go through the formal, legal procedure of first suing you and then winning the case. They broke federal law by saying they would garnish your wages but hadn't sued you. If I'm in your shoes, I'd be filing a complaint against these bozos with the Federal Trade Commission.

Don't react with fear and panic in the face of debt collector threats. Talk to them and explain your situation. See if you can work out a compromise. If they get nasty or break federal law again, let them know you'll be filing another complaint with the FTC. You'd be surprised how reasonable these people can be when faced with the possibility of government intervention.

In the meantime, do everything you can to scrape up as much cash as possible. Have a big garage sale and sell everything in your attic or basement you don't need. Then, when you get this mess cleaned up, pay off the rest of your debts – if you have any — and start living on a written monthly budget!

Record Amount of Waste Collected in Neighborhood Clean-Up Effort

Cars line up to drop off 24 tons of e-waste, wood, metal and other debris in an Arden Arcade neighborhood. Photo

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG)

- On June 3, the El Camino/ Howe neighborhood in Arden Arcade lost 24 tons - of junk that is. Sacramento County Code Enforcement collected their highest volume of electronic waste ever, 6,500 pounds, in addition to 3.99 tons of wood, 11.26 tons of trash and 5.42 tons of metal during their neighborhood clean-up collection event.

Code Enforcement first launched this community event on May 31, 2008. Currently, Code Enforcement hosts three collections a year. It takes approximately 35-50 people to execute each clean-up, including staff, family, friends and community members. Sacramento County Probation often assists with efforts.

Various woods and metal are recycled by the County or Atlas Disposal, which provides the 50 yard bins and their removal. E-waste is collected by the Sheriff's Crime Prevention Unit; they use the funds to purchase items for their Christmas Giving Campaign and other programs.

Supervisor Susan Peters, who represents the district, visited

hank A Veteran Today

the two temporary neighborhood collection sites where residents could drop off their items. "The system was very organized and moved smoothly - allowing neighbors the convenience to get rid of stuff in a hassle-free environment," she said.

Code Enforcement Chief Barry Chamberlain said, "We enjoy these events. Each one provides us the opportunity to interact with the community, to fill a need, and to give back to residents."

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Bert and Maizie were down at the swimming hole on Lewis Creek the other day. Saturday it was. The sun was bright hot and these two lovers had found a nice patch of shade near the tire swing tree where they could sip iced tea and watch the youngsters.

The little kids were in the shallow wading area, some in underwear, some in none-derwear, and all of them squealing and splashing. The kids who had turned 13 or 14, however, waited by one they swung out, flashing in the sun, arching and stretching and knifing into the water. The boys wanted to be seen and impress the girls, and the girls ... well, same thing.

It is coming a time of muscles for the guys and curves for the girls, and fun watching for those who aren't that curvy or muscular any more. Like Bert and Maizie. Maizie looked over at her husband of 40-some years and smiled.

"I can remember," she whispered.

"There was a time," he smiled and nodded back at her.

And when he looked at her, he didn't see the settled body that plumped there after all the children and grandchildren. He saw the girl, Maizie, who almost their turns at the tire swing. One took flight and jackknifed into the deep part of the pool, and he could remember her coming up to the surface and shaking the water out of her long hair and smiling with the simple joy of being there and being alive.

> And when Maizie looked at her husband, she wasn't seeing the puddling of his body and the gray hair and the wrinkles. She saw the dark hair and the flashing eyes, and the muscles that carried him out into space and took him straight down into a cannonball that got even the old folks wet.

And she reached over and took his hand and he gave it a squeeze. There has always been a lot of love at the old swimming hole.

Brown's Broken Promises

While running for Governor in 2010 Gov. Brown pledged he would not raise taxes without a vote of people.

\He broke his promise when he signed the recent gas tax plan passed by the state legislature and with all of its additional car fees. How Gov. Brown did this was by promising reluctant legislators million dollars' worth of stuff for their districts if they would vote yes.

Most California citizens would love to have a vote on the raise the gas tax plan and other issues that have an impact on our lives.

For example, would California and Sacramento voters approve taking twelve million dollars out of the general fund to provide legal services to undocumented individuals facing deportation? A gift to lawyers.

But when voters do decide an issue and the Governor or Legislature disagrees with the people's vote, Gov. Brown and the legislature go to work to do their best to not implement the voters' decision. They think they are smarter than the voters and know what's best for us. Examples are legion but the one that comes to mind is when the voters voted to make sure all the tax money they pay when buying gas goes to building or fixing the roads, the Democrats ignored the voters and took the money and dumped it into the general fund and then spent the money on what they favored.

STATEPOINT CROSSWORD • 1980S MOVIES

Now I believe elected officials should be representing the voters but it seems to me, in California, they represent special interest groups and not the citizens.

We have an opportunity to stop Gov. Brown and the Democrat Legislature's gas tax plan if we sign and circulate the petition by Assemblyman Travis Allen to repeal the highest gas tax in California history. Voters going to the polls in Nov. 2018 can stop the gas tax.

I believe California voters should be deciding important or costly issues. We pay for them, so we should decide.

THE ENTREPRENEUR'S SOURCE "Your success is our only business"

Do you know your I.L.W.E.?

Louis McNerney

I.L.W.E. – What is it? It stands for Income, Lifestyle, Wealth and Equity—each of these components plays a vital role in achieving overall happiness and satisfaction in your life. Setting the big picture through Goals, Needs & Expectations. This is one of several ways The Entrepreneurs Source can help your define your Goals, Needs & Expectations is the determination of your I.L.W.E.:

- Income is defined as: Your reoccurring short term earnings through employment and investments. What do you envision your income to be in the next 3 to 5 years?
- Lifestyle is defined as: a manner of living that reflects your values and attitudes. What do you envision your lifestyle to be in the next 3 to 5 years?
- Wealth is defined as: the state of being rich and affluent; having a plentiful supply of material goods and money. How do you envision your wealth portfolio in the next 15 to 20 years?
- Equity is defined as: the interest in assets you have built up. What assets will you own that will provide you and your family with long-term equity over the next 10 to 20 years?

When we ask our clients why they want to start a business, the number one response isn't money, it's lifestyle. Being your own boss and earning unlimited income potential is all great, but the priceless possibility of being able to have the life balance you can't achieve in corporate America is often more important to aspiring entrepreneurs

From Employment to Empowerment® –

The Coaching Advantage
A coach will help identify your transferable skills by learning about your professional background, including previous roles you've had, what you enjoyed and what you didn't enjoy, to help create your profile and skillset. If selfemployment is a viable option, a coach will help to establish your specific goals for business ownership based on your I.L.W.E. Some questions a coach will help you to answer might include:

- What's your income target that you would like to have by being involved in the business?
- What are your lifestyle goals? Do you want to work Monday to Friday, nine to five?
- Do you want to create and invest in a business that will allow you to build wealth and start to create a positive financial situation for your future?
- How much equity do you want to be able to build up in a business, so to that point it's going to be worth something to someone else?

Each of these components is a vitally important piece in defining your overall goals, needs and expectations to find the best business opportunity fit.

So, ask yourself: Are you currently meeting your income expectations? Are you living the lifestyle of your dreams? What about your wealth or equity: Is it growing or declining? How much control do you have over your destiny? An Entrepreneur's

Source Coach can help you paint the "big picture" of your life through a discovery and education based process.

Sacramento County DA Reports

Defendant Convicted for Shooting at Vehicle Near Arden Fair Mall

DATE: July 11, 2017

CASE: Robert Faler (Case #14F05242)
PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney
Laura West, Gangs & Hate Crimes Unit

Robert Faler was convicted by a jury of attempted murder, shooting at an occupied vehicle, and being a felon in possession of a firearm. The jury found true allegations that the crimes were committed for the benefit of and/or in association with the Sureño criminal street gang, and that Faler personally used and discharged a firearm during the commission of the offenses. It was also found that Faler had been previously convicted of robbery and served a prison term for that offense.

On July 18, 2014, the victims crossed paths with Robert Faler and his former co-defendant, Alexis Lopez, while at a gas station on Arden Way. Lopez drove to the station with Faler in the front passenger seat. Faler and Lopez were both Sureño gang members, and Lopez believed he recognized the victims as rival Norteño gang members. After the victims drove away, Lopez followed them and caught up to them as they drove on Arden Way near the Arden Fair mall. Faler fired multiple shots at the victims' car and flashed gang signs before Lopez drove away. The victims' car was hit by three bullets, one of which entered the front passenger compartment.

Faler faces a maximum sentence of 55 years to life in prison. Sentencing is scheduled for August 4, 2017, at 9:00 a.m. in Department 23 before the Honorable Geoffrey Goodman.

Defendant Sentenced for Multiple Sexual Assaults

DATE: July 14, 2017

CASE: Steven Anthony McCarter (Case #16FE002313)

PROSECUTOR: Deputy District Attorney Tate Davis, Adult Sexual Assault Prosecution Unit

The Honorable Bunmi Awoniyi sentenced Steven McCarter to 151 years to life in prison. On June 5, 2017, a jury convicted McCarter of two counts of rape by force with personal use of a deadly weapon, two counts of assault with a deadly weapon, two counts of assault by means likely to produce great bodily injury and assault with the intent to commit rape against two separate women.

On November 21, 2015, a homeless victim was sitting on a street curb near Sacramento State. McCarter offered to drive her to get food, which she accepted. McCarter then provided her with alcohol and asked her to stay in his motel room. The victim agreed to stay in his room with the understanding there would be no sex. The victim later awoke to find McCarter naked with his arms around her neck. McCarter punched and elbowed the victim in the face several times, choked her until she couldn't breathe, and wrapped his belt around her throat in an attempt to suffocate her. When the belt broke, the victim begged McCarter to stop beating her. McCarter proceeded to rape the victim twice. The victim escaped the next morning and was taken to a hospital for her injuries and a sexual assault exam. The District Attorney's Crime Lab analyzed DNA collected from the exam, which was later matched to McCarter's DNA.

On January 23, 2016, a second victim was walking and carrying grocery bags in south Sacramento. McCarter offered to give her a ride, which she accepted. The two talked about meeting again later that night. When the victim became stranded at a light rail station, she called McCarter and asked for a ride home. McCarter picked her up and drove to a liquor store. He then stated he was too drunk to drive and asked if they could stay in a motel for the night. The victim agreed with the understanding there would be no sex. When the victim was in bed, McCarter demanded she remove her clothing. When she refused, McCarter punched her in the face and hit her in the eye with a liquor bottle. The victim was able to fight McCarter off and escape. The next day, the victim went to a hospital and reported the attempted rape. She later identified McCarter in a photo

McCarter was released early from prison as a 'non-violent' second striker on September 23, 2015. Two months later, he raped and assaulted the first victim. Two months after that attack, he assaulted the second victim. ★

The Exciting New World of Snap On Dentures!

There are millions of people in the US who struggle daily with dentures.

A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or ill-fitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
