Survivor Recalls the Day "When Boys Became Men"

Story and Photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Bomb smoke over Pearl harbor cleared three quarters of a century ago. But for WW II veteran Samuel E. Clower, memories are clear as yesterday. "When I read names of the dead, I see their faces," says the Rosemont resident. "I remember them as kids who never had a chance to grow old."

The nonagenarian is among dwindling witnesses to the surprise attack that precipitated America's entry into WW II. He was 21. Now 97, he considers December 7, 1941 the day "when boys became men." As war in the Pacific continued, he took part in the New Guinea invasion and earned a Purple Heart medal for injuries. He later endured hungry months as a Japanese prisoner. He would

Raised on a Texas cattle ranch, Clower had a creamery job when he decided to enlist. "I'd read what was happening in Europe," he explains. "I wanted to be prepared for what might come. I figured after a few years in the Army, I could return to my creamery job and get promoted..."

Rosemont resident Colonel Sam Clower (97) is among few remaining witnesses of the Pearl 1941 Harbor attack. The Army/Air Force veteran holds plaques from the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association. TX, the 19-year-old spent months patrolling the US/ Mexican border on horseback. "In our barracks, I saw an Army poster promoting Hawaii as a place to serve," he says. "I thought: that's for me. Six weeks later, I was at Schofield Barracks (Oahu) learning weapons and administration with the infantry. The weather was great; duties were easy; people were friendly. On $21 a month, Hawaii was paradise."

By December, 1941 he was due for Mainland leave. Intelligence indicated a Japanese attack - somewhere in the Pacific -- was imminent. Sergeant Clower volunteered to lead a December 6 detail guarding a dam near Wheeler Air Field. At sunrise on December 7, he surveyed the sky. "I saw aircraft coming from the north," he recalls. "They were miles away; I thought they were our guys coming in to play golf."

Soon Japanese emblems were yards from where Clower visible. One wing of the massive attack headed toward Honolulu. The other wing

After that action, duty took him to the Solomon Islands. "Three hundred of us made camp on a supposedly uninhabited atoll," says Clower. "We woke up surrounded by Japanese. Health problems dogged the remainder of his war years. But Mainland duties enabled the Sergeant to meet and marry Pauline Wiopious from Capay, CA. His bride is now 96 and has supported him through 73 years of Army – then Air Force – service. Based all over the world, the Clowers raised three children. Season at Rusch Park

Capitol Pops Concert Band nears the end of its 19th season with a free, open to the public holiday concert at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 3, 2016, at the Rusch Park Gym, 7801 Auburn Blvd., in Citrus Heights.

Under the baton of Director Kurt Pearsall, CPCB will once again play traditional holiday favorites, seasonal musical hits and carols. Voice and instrumental soloists also will be featured. This performance is family friendly and a great way to usher in the holiday season. The two-hour concert includes a 20-minute intermission.

Various prizes will be on display for the raffle ticket drawings, and the public will have the opportunity to purchase decorative poinsettia plants after the concert concludes. Longtime CPCB supporter Eisley Nursery of Auburn has donated a large poinsettia plant as a grand prize in support of the band's student scholarship fund.

Attendees also can participate in a silent auction for a wide variety of baked goods, perfect for a family gathering or a holiday party. A portion of raffle and silent auction general expenses of the band.

The "Royal Court" of regional pageant winners will return again this year as concert assistants. The concert is sponsored by the City of Citrus Heights and the Sunrise Recreation & Park District.

Started in 1997, the CPCB has performed a diverse portfolio of high-quality, well-prepared music heard by thousands of concert-goers throughout Northern California. Based in Citrus Heights, the self-supporting, nonprofit community band of about 65 musicians represents a wide cross-section of the Sacramento area. FEAR NOT! I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. Today in the town of David a Savior has been born to you; He is Christ the Lord.

~Luke 2:10

The season of Advent and Christmas has arrived! Advent means "coming" and it signals a time of anticipation leading up to Christmas Day. Starting Sunday, December 4th, I will explore several reasons for people not to succumb to fear because of what happened on that climatic day when this announcement was made by an angel to stunned shepherds. Please make up your mind to attend church services during advent so as to fill your soul with the reasons to "fear not".

Here is a quote I found recently that speaks deeply to me about how utterly significant Christmas is to the

Fear Not! I Bring You Good News

Christian Religion and those lowered himself to our time and who claim to be Christians.

"How can you cope with the end of a world and the beginning of another one? How can you put an earthquake into a testtube, or the sea into a bottle? How can you live with the terrifying thought that the hurricane has become human, that fire has become flesh; that Life itself came to life and walked in our midst? Christianity (Christmas) either means that, or it means nothing. It is the most devastating disclosure of the deepest reality in the world, or it's a sham..."

NT Wright For All God's Worth, pg. IX, 1997

We have so cheapened the celebration of Christmas by commercial gift giving, decoration and parties. Let us celebrate the truth that the God of the Bible is by nature a "giving" God. On the day we call Christmas we celebrate a incomprehensible act of giving - God taking to his Divine Being a human nature and body and then appearing on the earth as a baby in a stable! God didn't do this because He was incomplete or some other selfish reason. God space, to our human limitations because of another essential character quality - LOVE. We all know that "love" isn't "love" until you give it away, until you bestow it on something or someone. For God to fulfill his essential character of love then God must express it for it to be authentic. That is what Christmas is about. The God who is love demonstrating that love to his creation by becoming like us in the person of Jesus. This is the message of the Christian community and we must proclaim it especially during this season but more importantly we must practice this type of self-giving love all year long in our daily relationships and by caring for other human beings.

For Christians, Christmas giving is something to be practiced all year long! Let's not wish each other a Merry Christmas! Let's Be Christmas!

H2oliday Water Saving Ideas

And if you're searching for holiday gifts make sure to look for WaterSense-labeled products. They are certified to use less water and work as well or better than similar appliances and fixtures.

by Sacramento Suburban Water District

Are you having a bunch of houseguests over the holidays or hosting a big party or dinner? Sacramento Suburban Water District (SSWD) has ideas on how you can have a fun and water-efficient h2oliday season.

- 1) Spread the word about using water wisely by posting a little note on the mirror in the guest bathroom reminding your guests to turn off the water when brushing their teeth or shaving, to limit their showers to five minutes or less, and to collect shower water in a bucket as it warms. SSWD has free buckets and shower timers available at their office.
- Save water and energy by letting your frozen food thaw in the microwave or overnight in the fridge, instead of running hot water over it.
- Wash fruits and vegetables in a small pan instead of rinsing under running water.
- 4) After the big meal scrape the plates into the trash instead of using the sink's garbage disposal. And if you want to really make a difference, compost the vegetable waste and use the compost in your yard.
- A full household means extra laundry and dishes. Remember to run your clothes washer or dishwasher only when full.
- 6) Water your poinsettias, Christmas tree and potted plants with shower water or water from the drinking glasses.
- 7) If you're using the good china or silverware that requires hand washing, fill one basin with soapy water and the other with rinse water.
- 8) And if you're searching for holiday gifts make sure to look for WaterSenselabeled products. They are certified to use less water and work as well or better than similar appliances and fixtures.

You can find WaterSense certified washing machines, dishwashers, toilets, showerheads, faucets and sprinkler controllers online or at your local hardware or appliance store and online. There are even rebates available for WaterSense-labeled weather-based sprinkler controllers from SSWD.

Funding a new business

Dear Dave,

We're completely debt-free with a fully funded emergency fund, and we have $350,000 sitting in the bank from a land sale a couple of months ago. My wife and I would like to buy a chicken farm with two houses and upgrade it to contract standards. This plus the stock — would cost around $290,000. I would keep my regular job, and my wife would run the farm. An investor friend of mine said I should finance the entire business purchase. What do you think about this scenario?

- Darryl

Dear Darryl,

Either do the deal with cash, or don't do it at all. Your investor friend is full of crap, and there's a good chance he doesn't have nearly as much money as you do. He's probably got more bad opinions than dollars.

Now, the pro formas on the kind of thing you're talking about are incredible. They can Dave Says a lot of work — I mean real, hard work. Some are more high-tech than others, and that can mean a little less work, but someone's got to be out there every day with their hands on this thing or you're going to be in trouble. I don't know the ideas you have for divvying up the work, but I'm afraid it would just be too much for one and a half people.

I don't mind you doing the deal, as long as you pay cash for it. But if you're looking to invest, there's always real estate - it seems like you've done pretty good there — or maybe another small business idea. Whatever you do, you need to stop listening to your friend about borrowing money. You're liable to turn what was a blessing into a curse if the two of you go borrow money on a chicken farm.

—Dave

Micro investing apps?

What is your opinion on micro investing apps?

- Tammy

Dear Tammy,

Honestly, I'm not a big fan of micro investing apps. As you probably know, the word "micro" means small. So why would you want to mess with something like that? Are you going to have make a ton of money, but they're a micro retirement? Do you want to be micro wealthy? I don't. I want to be really wealthy with a big retirement and a big life full of outrageous giving.

It's fine if you want to give micro investing apps a try. I'm not going to be mad at you or anything like that. But these things function kind of like deals where the marketers say you get one percent back. It's like credit cards, where silly people spend $100,000 in order to get $1,000 in brownie points.

You've got to do more than micro, because micro means what it says — small. I guess you could argue that at least you're doing something, but if that's your only plan you should prepare to be pretty hungry during retirement.

When it comes to investing, why not go big? Go big, or go home!

Slim Randles' HOME COUNTRY

Steve slowly saddled his horse, Old Snort, and climbed stiffly aboard in the cold snap of morning. He pulled his hat down a little lower and pulled the wild rag up to cover his nose and mouth from the morning chill.

How many mornings had he done this?

As Snort trotted out into the meadows of the hills surrounding our valley, he looked with perked ears for cattle. That's what Snort does for a living. Those ears worked back and forth like radar, searching through trees and behind logs for the tell-tale movement or color of range cattle.

And Steve just grinned. How many horses has he ridden on a morning like this? A hundred? Well, fifty, anyway. And the mornings all stay the same in his memory even if he doesn't stay the same. On a morning like this, his daily dose of "cowboyitis" lets itself be felt. That aching hip? Oh, he remembers when that colt dumped him into the rockpile, putting him on crutches for two months.

The shoulder ache? Too many years with a rope in his hands.

But he also knows when the fall sun gets a little higher, he'll stretch and suddenly get younger. His gray mustache will, in his mind, turn brown again, and once more that young cowboy who terrorized stray cattle so many years ago will come back to life.

He began kicking cows out and heading them back to the home pasture, and both he and Snort watched and waited for that one rogue that would make the morning complete.

It was a black baldy cow who made a dash for the high-ups and Steve and Snort were flying through trees and over rock piles and finally headed her and turned her back with the others. A 19-year-old cowboy couldn't have done it any better.

Steve smiled and reached down to pat ol' Snort on the neck. Thanksgiving can be more than turkey and cranberry sauce. Straight-from-the-shoulder advice: "A Cowboy's Guide to Growing Up Right." Go to LPDpress.com.

Local Program Delivers Holiday Spirit to Seniors

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The holidays are a time to celebrate the joy and warmth of the season with friends and family. In Sacramento, the local Home Instead Senior Care® office is inviting the community to celebrate with local seniors who may be alone during the holiday season.

The Home Instead Senior Care office serving Sacramento is helping to facilitate Be a Santa to a Senior®, a community program that provides gifts and companionship to seniors who may be isolated from friends or family during the holiday season. The program is made possible through the generous support of Sacramento businesses, nonprofit organizations, retailers, numerous volunteers and members of the community.

"The holidays can be a troubling time for seniors. They may feel the absence or the distance of loved ones,' said Buck Shaw of the Sacramento Home Instead Senior Care office. "Be a Santa to a Senior provides a ray of hope for many seniors, and it means so much for them to know that people care and value them as members of our community."

The local Home Instead Senior Care office has partnered with Oakwood Village and Meals on Wheels to help with gift collection and distribution.

Holiday shoppers are invited to participate in Be a Santa to a Senior by picking up a paper ornament at a participating location. Participating locations will display Be a Santa to a Senior trees from Nov. 1 to Dec. 28, which will be hung with ornaments featuring seniors' first names and their desired gifts. Holiday shoppers can choose an ornament, buy the requested gift and return it back to the store with the ornament attached. There's no need to worry about wrapping - community volunteers and program partners will wrap and deliver the gifts to local seniors in time for the holidays.

"Be a Santa to a Senior provides a much-needed boost for seniors who may be isolated, not just through gifts, but through interaction and companionship," said Shaw. "We're so grateful to have a community that comes together to show our local seniors they are not alone during the holidays."

Be a Santa to a Senior trees can be found at the following locations: Eskaton Lodge Gold River, 11390 Coloma Rd., Gold River, CA 95670 - Brookdale Stock Ranch Road, 7418 Stock Ranch Road, Citrus Heights, CA 95621 - Sun Oak Senior Living, 7241 Canelo Hills Dr., Citrus Heights, CA

For more information about the program, visit www.beasantatoasenior.org or call Blair Sapeta, Program Coordinator, at (916) 920-2273.

A Reason for the Season

Live Nativity Encourages the Spirit of Christmas

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Live Nativity, admission free, returns this year after an enthusiastic response from the public in 2015. Like last year, visitors pass shepherds in the fields, see the Three Kings arriving from afar, and enter Bethlehem, where the marketplace bustles around them complete with census takers and Roman guards. Mary, Joseph, and the Baby enter, all accompanied by music and narration. Six babies will make their acting debut as the newborn Christ during the four-day run from Thursday, December 8, through Sunday, December 11. The show has four presentations per night: 6:30, 7:00, 7:30, and Rancho Cordova. "'The baby is real!' is a common reaction we've had," said Heather McCauley, who is in charge of casting and direction, as well as numerous other logistical matters. "(Visitors) felt like they were going back in time and being a part of the first Christmas." McCauley, who lives in El Dorado Hills, is a music and drama teacher.

8:00, at 2100 California Circle in

Manned by an all-volunteer cast and crew, one set of 100 actors perform on Thursday and Saturday, and another, different set of 100 on Friday and Sunday. There are also numerous behindthe-scenes workers taking care of costumes, lighting, sound, and such things as parking, checkin, and ushering, for a total of around 300 volunteers per night.

McCauley said that it is amazing to see so many people come forward and give so much of their time to make this event happen. "It is such a special gift that we're giving to the community, that people love, all different religions, and it's something that people are looking for at this time of the year."

Last year the count of visitors attending the presentations reached 7,400, several thousand more than expected. Because of that, this year's organizers have added a reservation process, more seating, and have made other arrangements for the convenience of the patrons.

The Live Nativity is presented by the Folsom Stake of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints. The Stake president, Daniel Harrison, presides over congregations of the Church in the Folsom/El Dorado Hills area. "The goal is to try to help people feel that they are actually in Bethlehem and that they have a meaningful Christmas experience remembering the birth of Christ, which is the reason why we celebrate," Harrison said.

This year reservations are recommended, but no one will be turned away. For reservations, directions, photos, and more information about the performance, see www.LiveNativity. org. The presentations are located at 2100 California Circle, off of Folsom Boulevard near Folsom Auto Mall, turning south onto Birkmont Drive, then left on California Circle.

Become a Sustainable BusinessToday

Certification is Free and Easy

Is your business taking steps to prevent pollution and conserve resources, would you like to and need free help? The Business Environmental Resource Center's (BERC) Sustainable Business (SB) Program is here to certify and promote businesses within Sacramento, Placer, Yolo, and El Dorado Counties that pledge to adopt environmentally friendly practices as well as conserve Sustainable Business Spotlight resources Becoming certified as a Sustainable Business is as easy as 1-2-3!

1)Complete Business Application Checklist: (www.sacberc.org/sasb/Pages/checklist-and-publications.aspx) 2)Schedule a site visit to review and verify checklist 3) Your business is certified!

Sustainable Business Categories:

- Pollution Prevention
- Water Conservation Solid Waste Reduction
- Green Building
- Energy Conservation Transportation & Air Quality

Benefits to being a Sustainable Business:

•A certificate and window decal to highlight your environmentally friendly •Free assistance in making sustainable changes to your business

•Free advertising and promotion – searchable database by industry type

Cost savings through improved efficiency, energy and water conservation, and waste reduction

 Community recognition of your voluntary efforts to improve our environment •The opportunity to gain recognition through annual awards ceremony

The "Transportation and Air Quality" category certification is important especially in California where enhancing air quality is vital. The Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District has made great strides to improve air quality within the region, yet it is incredibly important for businesses and the community to take the initiative to improve air quality on their own accord to make Sacramento even more beautiful and sustainable.

Paladin Private Security

A local Business excelling in sparing the air quality is, Paladin Private Security.

Paladin Private Security was the 2016 recipient of the 'Transportation and Air Quality' Award. Paladin is one of the top private security organizations in the Sacramento community. Along with keeping the community safe, this 24/7 fleet also practices drastically reduce its contribution to air pollution.

•2007 fleet fuel switched to Compressed Natural Gas(CNG)

•90% or 70 Ford Crown Victoria's in their fleet are 100% operating on CNG

•CNG fueling is done on-site to reduce pollution during transportation to fueling source

•Vehicle monitoring is key to pollution reduction. Paladin practices tire pressure checks, and has developed a system to monitor and minimize multiple outings

The holidays definitely impact SHEs (Sidetracked Home Executives). Because we're creative, we can go into OPM (Over Production Mode). Our perfectionism kicks in and we want to recreate the magic we see on thinking about how fake it all is. We SHEs love the holidays, and since we're easily distracted throughout the year, this time of year can pitch us over the festive edge.

glossy magazine covers without

The holidays don't let us off the hook when it comes to the work involved in running a household. Imagine that you have a half hour specifically slotted for housework. You've got four 3x5 cards with specific chores on each to direct your work (if you're on the SHE system). There's an estimated time telling you how long each task will take written on each card. You're dressed for housework, so you won't wreck your good clothes and you've got sensible shoes on.

According to your math, you can do the tasks on the cards in half an hour, but what has happened to your good intentions when you find yourself at the mall buying Christmas presents?

You can find that out by thinking backward until you come to the point in your housecleaning that prompted the diversion. Maybe you were innocently dusting the dining room table with a couple weeks' worth of mail stacked on it and when you went to move the mail to dust you saw the coupon for 25% off Christmas pajamas at Nordstrom, and the sale ends today! So much for housecleaning, but at least you have some gifts to wrap.

The Secret to Being Organized

Pam Young's Corner

Staying on Track During the Holidays

If you are a champion at getting sidetracked read on, because there is a wonderful anti-sidetracking tool you can use and it's located in your head (well actually in your throat). You can read all about it at the end of this essay.

If you're tired of being a victim of distractions here are ten you need to be aware of before you start any housework whether it's during the holidays or any time.

- 1. Cell phone
- 2. Door bell
- 3. Pet
- 4. Refrigerator
- 5. Sun
- 6. Mailman or UPS guy 7. Physiological interruptions:
- bathroom, thirst, hunger
- 8. Computer games/ Face Book/Twitter
- 9. Child or husband 10. Your amazing mind

If you've been sidetracked in the past by any of these distractions, here's what you can do. When you set your timer for 15 minutes and plan to clean the refrigerator for example, promise yourself you are going to stay on task short of an emergency like a broken arm, a fire in the next room or a drone takes the top of your roof off. Once the vow is made, work fast and play with your time constraint. (Seeing how much you can get accomplished in 15 minutes will engage your inner child who loves races against time.)

There's no guarantee that one of the distractions won't occur, in fact, most likely one or more of them will crop up especially if the job at hand starts to get boring. No worries, you'll be ready!

So, let's say something in the fridge speaks to you, like a leftover chicken leg and the thought comes to your amazing mind, 'I'm kinda hungry.' Speak to the chicken part and say, "Shut up! It's not time to eat! I'll eat you later." If that dialogue works, keep cleaning the refrigerator. If it starts to nag you or another food item tempts you, it's time to bring out the big gun. The ultimate and tried and true solution is the air horn (you know the sound of the horn at a basketball game). Now in the course of the 15-minute fridge clean-out you may have to use that obnoxious horn more than once, but it's such a brutal sound and it's hard on your vocal chords, so your sweet soul probably won't want to hear it more than once.

You can also use the air horn while at the grocery store when you're tempted to put a package of Christmas ginger snaps in your cart for example. (If there happens to be someone in the cookie aisle when you blast the horn, just touch your throat and say, "I hate it when that happens," and continue shopping.

United Way Offers Holiday Donation, Volunteer Opportunities

"The Sacramento region is filled with generous people wanting to give back during the holidays, so we've gathered numerous opportunities in our online Volunteer Center to make it easy to choose the project you're most passionate about," said Stephanie Bray, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region.

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG)

- Local residents looking for holiday donation and volunteer opportunities can visit United Way California Capital Region's online Volunteer Center at www.yourlocalunitedway.org to find more than a dozen needs in one place. Holiday volunteers and donors are encouraged to post photos of their work on social media using #happy2help.

"The Sacramento region is filled with generous people wanting to give back during the holidays, so we've gathered numerous opportunities in our online Volunteer Center to make it easy to choose the project you're most passionate about," said Stephanie Bray, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region.

Anyone can sign up to volunteer or donate, and most nonprofits across the region are eligible to add their volunteer opportunities, and can do so through the website. For questions, contact volunteer@ uwccr.org. United Way launched its online Volunteer Center in 2014 to provide an organized, community-wide portal that connects the Sacramento region's volunteer and donor base with United Way's 160 local nonprofit partners and other local organizations. The center is designed to connect individual donors and volunteers, as well as corporate or group volunteers, with opportunities of all sizes and commitments throughout the year. Community members can log onto the website and create a profile that lists their interests, become fans of participating nonprofits, join volunteer groups, donate unused materials and household items to nonprofits in need, learn about upcoming special events and fundraisers, and advocate for causes. The center was partly launched in response to United Way's 450 corporate partners looking for a coordinated way to engage employees in corporate social responsibility through volunteer work, donation opportunities and events.

United Way's Volunteer Center is part of United Way's Square One Project, which recognizes the importance of volunteers in making sure nonprofits and schools are equipped to provide a full support system for kids. The Square One Project is a 20-year promise to significantly increase the number of local students who graduate from high school ready for success in college and beyond. Through nine decades of work and research across Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, Placer and Yolo counties, the local United Way now believes ending poverty starts in school and is working to ensure kids meet important milestones for success in college. To donate or volunteer, visit www.yourlocalunitedway.org.

The Exciting New World of Implant Supported Dentures

• Has the Security of a Fixed Bridge! • Easier to Maintain Good Oral Hygiene

There are millions of people in the U.S. who are edentulous (meaning without teeth) who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or illfitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Lower dentures almost never fit properly. They are loose fitting due to less surface area which can't create a suction, shrinking gum tissue and bone loss, which can cause irritation in the mouth, sores and pain. The only relief is using sticky dental adhesive to help it, but it is very messy, hard to clean off and needs multiple applications throughout the day.

Upper dentures are better than lower dentures due to a suction in the upper palate that keeps the denture in place. However, having the palate covered reduces the tastes of foods and the ability to tell the temperature of foods.

Partial Dentures can be a source of discomfort due to lack of supporting teeth or an illfitting partial. Partials also use clasps to secure to existing teeth which can be noticeable and can put added pressure to the existing teeth.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. We make your denture or partial fit and function in harmony with the space available in your mouth, and give custom attention to the delicate fabrication of your snap on denture.

If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retainedsnap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
