Celebrity painters have donated canvases for auction at the May 30th Art Where Wild Things Are benefit. But the best news for Effie Yeaw supporters is the event's endorsement by Congress Member Doris Matsui and the VIP art team of Greg and Moni Kondos. As honorary event chairpersons, the team follows Supervisor Muriel Johnson and philanthropist/artist Marcy Friedman in this role.

"Just by being there," says Effie Yeaw Fund Developer Betty Cooper, "community figures like Doris Matsui, Congressman Ami Bera, Assemblyman Ken Cooley, and Supervisor Susan Peters demonstrate that the Nature Center's work is vital."

the facility and its preserve welcome more than 90,000 visitors per year. Betty Cooper notes, "The Center has a special history in this community and the support of caring people keeps us open and available for future generations." A portion of funds raised on May 30th will provide free Effie Yeaw science enrichment programs to schools that cannot otherwise afford them.

The Sacramento Fine Arts Center is a vital gala partner and the art show that supports the fundraiser will offer work from throughout Sacramento, juried by David Lobenberg. Celebrity artists include David Peterson, David Lobenberg, Tim Collom, Gregory Kondos, and Maria

Before the date, these can be viewed at the Sacramento Fine Arts Center on Gibbons Drive in Carmichael.

Summer Travel Kicks Off With More than 4.4 Million Californians Expected to Travel

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) -

This year, Memorial Day travel is expected to mark the highest number of California travelers for this holiday since 2005, according to the latest holiday travel forecast.

The travel survey projects nearly 4.4 million Californians plan on traveling 50 miles or more this Memorial Day holiday weekend. This represents an increase of 4.6% from last year's record

"A stronger economy and overall lower gas prices have boosted consumers' disposable income," said Cynthia Harris, AAA Northern California spokesperson. "This summer travel season is starting off with great potential as many Californians are eager to take that long overdue weekend getaway."

It is projected that more than 3.7 million Californians will drive this upcoming holiday weekend, a 5.5% increase from last year. Air travel will increase by 2.6% compared to 2014 figures, with just over 419,000 Californians intending to fly to their holiday getaways. Approximately 294,000 state residents are expected to travel by other modes of transportation, such as rail, bus, and watercraft. This represents a 3.4% decrease compared with 2014.

Nationally, it is estimated that more than 37 million people will journey 50 miles or more during the Memorial Day weekend, representing a 4.7% increase compared to last year.

The AAA Leisure Travel Index shows that hotel rates at AAA Three Diamond lodgings are expected to increase by 7% from a year ago, averaging $182 per night. Weekend car rentals rates will average $62 per day, $19 more than last year. Airfares are falling 2% for the top 40 domestic flight routes, averaging $222.

These projections are based on research conducted by IHS Global Insight. The Boston-based economic research and consulting firm teamed with AAA as part of an agreement to jointly analyze travel trends during major holidays. AAA has been reporting on

Blue Ribbon Awarded for Green Thumb

Story and photos by Susan Maxwell Skinner

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - Having woodland beauty at your doorstep is reward enough for maintaining the acre of Carmichael known as "Pauline's Garden."

But after a busy spring of cultivating and sharing their retreat with hundreds of visitors, Pauline and Irv Faria recently gained another bouquet. The octogenarians earned a statewide award for their lifetime project. As part of 2015 awards, California Garden Clubs (a federation of 340 gardening clubs) commended their property as an "Outstanding Private Garden."

The Faria garden represents the triumph of 50 years of green-fingered labor. In this time, the couple turned a valley filled with oaks and brambles into the terraced idyll that is the pride of their Carmichael Creek neighborhood. While raising a family and holding down full-time jobs, they nurtured hundreds of Japanese maple, dogwood, and camellia trees (many from seeds) to form a cooling secondary canopy in the valley. Beneath this umbrella, moisture is retained and shade plants thrive. Statues and small ponds add to the vista.

Through winding trails, garden tourists and many four-legged visitors seasonally traipse; Pauline's Garden was certified 20 years ago as a Wildlife Habitat. On their path to the American River Parkway, deer and wild turkey shelter their young. In trees and in Irv's many hand-made nesting boxes, new generations of birds are hatched.

The valley presents a stunning kaleidoscope in spring and in autumn. "We've had an incredibly lush spring," notes Irv. "Many plants and trees bloomed for longer than usual and the dogwoods and cherry blossoms were spectacular." In April, the Farias' two-day open garden hosted more than 200 admirers.

Gardening partners for 63 years, the Farias were delighted by the recent Californian award. "It's pleasing that people appreciate our effort," says retired university professor Irv. "People feel close to nature when they come here. In Pauline's garden, we try to live with nature and support it."

Shriners Hospital Volunteer Recognized for Exceptional Service

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Shriners Hospital volunteer Harry Norman was recently awarded the Doug Busath Lifetime Achievement Award at the Northern California hospital's volunteer recognition ceremony. The award is named in honor of Doug Busath, who volunteered in the hospital's Central Activity Area for 10 years after his grandson was treated at Shriners for severe burn injuries sustained in an automobile accident. The award is presented annually to a hospital volunteer to honor dedication, commitment, and joyful service to patients, families, and the entire hospital community.

Mr. Norman, winner of the 2015 lifetime achievement award, is affectionately known throughout the hospital as Hare Bear the Clown. Every Thursday rain or shine, Hare Bear can be found greeting families as they arrive for their clinic appointments. On his volunteer days, he gets up at 4:30 a.m. to put on his clown face so he can arrive at the hospital by 7:45 a.m. He has volunteered at the Northern California Shriners Hospital since it opened in April 1997, contributing more than 5,300 hours to the hospital clinic and thousands of hours in the community supporting both Shriners and Shriners Hospitals for Children.

"When I retired, I knew I wanted an active role in the Shrine, and the best way of doing that was to be part of the clown brigade," said Mr. Norman, who has been a Shriner for over 20 years. "I love to see the looks on children's faces when they see Hare Bear the Clown. If I can be a happy distraction for them, all the better," he said.

When Mr. Norman decided to become a Shriner clown, he said it was easy to come up with a clown name. As a term of endearment, his wife Edna nicknamed him Hare Bear years ago. Now, it is a name that endears him to many of the children who come to Shriners Hospitals for Children, Northern California. To those who know Mr. Norman, aka Hare Bear, his heart is even bigger than his player chaos.

COUCH THEATER

By Sam Struckhoff

May 25, 2015.

EDITOR'S NOTE: DVDs

reviewed in this column will be available in stores the week of

"Seventh Son" (PG-13) -- An ancient order of mystical knights once kept the world safe from evil CGI monstrosities, until their numbers dwindled to one. Jeff Bridges stars as the last of the "Spooks," monster slayers who are all the seventh sons of seventh sons. Bridges rambles his way to a little farm, where he recruits Tom, youngest of seven brothers (a bland teenage protagonist played by Ben Barnes, who is well into his 30s). Together, they set out on a formulaic adventure to battle a super-witch (Julianne Moore) and her menagerie of monsters.

Much like Moore's archvillain character, this fantasy adventure was sealed away, locked in a purgatory by production wizards, until it stirred within its cage and found its way into our realm. The special effects are impressive, but aging in the barrel has not helped this film ripen.

"The Loft" (R) - Five wealthy urban professionals share a luxurious loft apartment as their secret clubhouse, available whenever one of them has a rendezvous with a mistress or fling. One day, the guys open the loft to find the handcuffed body of a murdered blonde, totally killing the mood. The story is told in flashbacks, as the guys (Karl Urban, James Marsden, Eric Stonestreet, Matthias Schoenaerts and Wentworth Miller) recount what happened -- in sleazy detail -- to a pair of detectives.

Nothing tests the patience more than a movie full of tedious plot twists and set-ups all building to a tragically predictable conclusion. The five dudes are so greasy and unlikable that it's a struggle to feel for their struggles.

"Cut Bank" (R) - Tucked away in rural Montana, Dwayne (Liam Hemsworth) wants to get himself and his peppy blond girlfriend (Teresa Palmer) out of town, but witnesses a murder instead. By total coincidence, he had his video camera rolling and pointed in the right direction when the town's first murder takes place in a canola field. Well, maybe it wasn't a coincidence, and maybe it wasn't a murder -- the plot twists itself into knots, but it's not a tight fit. The movie owes a lot to the Coen brothers, mostly an apology for doing such a poor job of copying "Fargo."

"See You in Valhalla" (R) - A death in the family reunites a bunch of dysfunctional siblings. At first it's awkward, then they bicker, fight, laugh, hug and cry. This should sound familiar by now -- it's been the drama-trope of choice for the past year or so. This time, it's "Modern Family's" Sarah Hyland playing the prodigal daughter, returning home for the funeral of her troubled brother. Her father and two living brothers are waiting with their own bundles of issues, and she also must deal with the latent drama of an old boyfriend she left behind. It's supposed to be a tearjerker drama, so it's a bad sign that the only laudable bit is the cartoonish comic relief (Stevie Howey), but kudos to him.

Nobody is hotter than the Golden State Warriors these days. In this historic season for the franchise, the Warriors stand at 75-17, overall, after completing their second-round elimination of the Memphis Grizzlies in six games. The "heat-check" games this week in the Western Conference finals against the Houston Rockets should answer the question, "How hot are they?"

The Warriors were in a bit of trouble of their own against Memphis, after shooting just 6-for-26 from three-point distance in back-to-back losses (including an unusual 4-for-21 in the two games by MVP Steph Curry) to fall behind two-gamesto-one in that semifinal series. Led by Curry's 18-for-35, the team heated up to shoot 43-for-95 from long-distance, while holding their opponents to an average of less than 86 points, through three straight wins to outclass the Grizzlies and advance.

Looking at a 42-3 homecourt record heading into the Rockets series for a team that has been on a season-long roll, it's easy for fans to get caught up in the lava flow and lose perspective of the magnitude of this Golden State eruption. The bandwagon-jumpers should absorb some sense of Warriors history by granting the long-suffering fans some time to reflect on the past. Oh, what those people have been through!

The W's reached the playoffs the last three years through their gradual climb into the NBA's version of the Final Four --- but so much has gone on before, since that great time in '74-75 when they won that one-and-only title. Prior to the recent rise, Golden State made the playoffs once in eighteen seasons --- the so-called "We Believe" season in 2006-07 when Baron Davis, Jason Richardson, Stephen Jackson and Monta Ellis led a mild resurgence, but no one really believed that team could go all the way and ing by 19 points late in the third it ended with a semifinals exit. It's easy to toss around the dates and the numbers, but how about a further look.

> Along the way there were some true warriors --- Purvis Short, Bernard King, Larry Smith, Sleepy Floyd, along with the Run TMC boys of Tim Hardaway, Mitch Richmond and Chris Mullin teamed with Sarunas Marciulonis.

> There were a number of bad moves, several serious draft busts. some interesting characters both bad and good, and a plethora of roster-fillers. Robert Parrish's spot was filled with Joe Barry Carroll (Joe Barely Cares). Richmond was replaced with Billy Owens and Chris Weber by Tom Gugliotta. Joe Smith was a No.-1 overall pick. We watched portions of the careers of Ricky Green, Sonny Parker, World B. Free, Chris Washburn, Tellis Frank, Manute Bol, Latrell Sprewell, Rony Seikaly, Todd Fuller, Vonteego Cummings, Speedy Claxton, Andris Biedrins, Ike Diogu, Patrick O'Bryant and so many others also unworthy of mention. Many of those images, re-imagined, are horrifying.

Over the course of 35 seasons, the Warriors topped the .500mark only nine times and reached the playoffs six times, and for the most part were bottom-feeders and a laughingstock around the NBA. Keep all that in mind while watching your current Warriors play on.

And while that is going on, your San Francisco Giants are now hot and your Oakland Athletics are not. After a 3-9 start, the Giants have gone 17-9 and climbed into second-place going into the threegame set against the first-place Dodgers this week. How did that go? The Giants were near the bottom of the National League in most offensive stats until scoring thirty runs while taking the last three games of a four-game series (featuring the return of Hunter Pence) at the Great American Launching Pad in Cincinnati. The A's, meanwhile, have the worst record in the American League, have lost a bushel of one-run games, and are committing errors (both physical and mental) faster than general manager Billy Beane can trade away their best players.

Bringing it all back home, the softball team has an opportunity to finish first in the Spring League, there is a reasonable shot at the team batting title and, for the first time ever, the taxes got done on time and a sizeable return has already come in. When you're hot, you're hot. On the other hand, there is a big stack of dirty dishes nearby, a huge pile of laundry to be done, and the grass is getting long. When you're not, you're not.

CARMICHAEL, CA (MPG) - The Meet and Greet Program by the Indian Association of Sacramento (IAS) was recently held in Mission Oaks Community Center.

The program started with a welcoming speech by the president of IAS, Mr. Venkat Mechineni. The program was a big success, and many honorable guests attended: Congressman Ami Bera; Assemblyman Ken Cooley; Nilda Guanzon Valmores, executive director of My Sister's House; Darren Suen, Elk Grove City Council member; K. Venkata Ramana, Consul at Indian Consulate, SFO (Community Affairs); Bobbie Singh Allen, Elk Grove Unified School District board member: Dr. Venu Kondle, nephrologist; Siva Yerramilli, Intel vice president; and Citrus Heights Mayor Sue Frost.

A speech by Dr. Ami Bera was the main highlight of the event, and the panel discussion conducted by Anupriya was very helpful to all the guests in attendance. Mr. Vijaya Bhaskar gave an address about IAS and its activities.

IAS would like to thank Selvi Jana for the beautiful job as MC, Rao Duriseti for working the audio system, and Vinod for the arrangment of food. The food, provided by Ruchi Indian Cuisine, was enjoyed by the guests, and the entertainment by Tithi Goshal during the Social Hour was very well received.

SB 277 Opponents Rally at California Democrats State Convention

Dozens of Participants Switch Party Affiliation to Protest Senate Bill Passage

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Members of Our Kids, Our Choice (OKOC), a non-partisan, grassroots advocate for parental rights and medical freedom in California, together with other like-minded groups, turned out by the hundreds for a peaceful demonstration against California's controversial vaccine mandate, SB 277 (Pan/Allen). Dozens of OKOC members also participated in a voter re-registration protest at the California Democrats Convention. Disaffected democrats gathered at the Anaheim Convention Center to send a powerful message to their party leadership.

'We've been talking to our Senators for weeks, and many of them are not listening. We hope effect. So many members of that after today, they will take the concerns of Californians more seriously," said Kristen Hundley, a spokesperson for OKOC.

Many OKOC members are concerned that SB 277 denies some children equal access to education, as it would prohibit children from attending school if not fully up to date with their vaccinations. "Right now all over California

there are thousands of families trying to figure out how they are going to homeschool their children; which of the parents will quit their job to stay home, which income is less necessary... trust me, they're not worried about getting a bullet train built, they're worried about how they will survive if this bill goes into the California Senate are out of touch with their constituents," noted Krissy Alonzo, an OKOC member.

OKOC members have enthusiastically reached out to their Senators in recent weeks to voice their objection to SB 277. Disregarding the 74% (from a SurveyUSA poll of 1,000 voters conducted in April 2015) of Californians who believe that vaccination decisions should be made by parents, not politicians, the Senate passed SB 277 with a 25-10 vote Thursday, May 14th.

Undeterred, opponents vowed to keep making their voices heard. OKOC is committed to keeping politicians out of the doctor/patient relationship.

Tips to Avoid Air Travel Delays

- Avoid unnecessary frustration while flying by following these defensive measures:
- Avoid delay-prone flights. Before you book, make sure you're on a flight that has a decent arrival history.
- Know your airline. Avoid airlines that are known for labor disruptions or major instances where flights have been
- Book a nonstop flight. If you fly direct, you won't get stuck in a connecting city.
- Fly mornings. Whenever possible, book the first flight of the day. Delays tend to worsen later in the day.
- · Leave enough time for
- connections. Schedule at least one hour for a connection. Give yourself more time if you have to change planes and go through security again.
- Use small airports. Avoid airline hubs whenever possible. Secondary airports are usually less congested and less prone to delays.

Baltimore, a Great Society Failure

President Barack Obama responded to the Baltimore riots with a heartfelt bout of self-righteous hectoring.

Supposedly, we all know what's wrong with Baltimore and how to fix it, but don't care enough. Not only is this attitude highhanded, it rests on a flagrantly erroneous premise.

President Obama doesn't have the slightest idea how to fix Baltimore. His solutions fall back on liberal bromides going back 50 years. Dating back to the Kerner Commission after the riots of the 1960s, the left's go-to solution to urban problems has been more social programs. Since then, we've gotten more social programs -and just as many urban problems.

Exhibit A is Baltimore itself. The city hasn't been "neglected." It has been misgoverned into the ground.

It is a Great Society city that bought fully into the big-government vision of the 1960s, and the bitter fruit has been corruption, violence and

This is a failure exclusively of Democrats, unless the root causes of Baltimore's troubles are to be traced to its last Republican mayor, Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin, who left office in 1967. And it is an indictment of a failed model of

The city has been shedding jobs and people for decades, including in the 1990s when the rest of the country was booming.

Baltimore is a high-tax city, with malice aforethought. "Officials raised property taxes 21 times between 1950 and 1985," Steve Hanke and Stephen Walters of Johns Hopkins University write in The Wall Street Journal, "channeling the proceeds to favored voting blocs and causing many homeowners and entrepreneurs -- disproportionately Republicans -- to flee. It was brilliant politics, as Democrats now enjoy an eight-to-one voter registration advantage."

To counterbalance the taxes, they note, developers need to be lured to the city with subsidies, and the developers, in turn, contribute to politicians to stay in their good graces. This makes for fertile ground for the city's traditional corruption.

At the same time, the city has failed at the basic functions of government. Mayor Kurt Schmoke, in office for three terms beginning in the late 1980s, was notoriously soft on crime. As urban experts Fred Siegel and Van Smith write in City Journal, "During the '90s, tolerant Baltimore's crime rate, much of it drug-fueled, rocketed upward (75 percent of the city's murders were drug-related); toughon-crime New York's plummeted."

Under Mayor Martin O'Malley's subsequent, more strenuous policing, the crime rate dropped. But it is still a violent city. Baltimore has the fifthhighest murder rate among cities with a population of 100,000 or more.

The schools, predictably, are a disaster, run by and for the teachers unions. On top of all this, two-thirds of births in the city are out-of-wedlock.

What is Obama offering in response to this deep, decades-long decline? Among other things, more pre-K education and job training, even though these programs have a long history of ineffectiveness.

The imperative in Baltimore should be to think and act anew. But the left's takeaway will be that there's an urgent need for more of the same, as Baltimore and places like it continue

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My cat "Sandy" has had a weight problem for a few years now. His veterinarian recommended giving him less food and more exercise, but it hasn't helped. What else can I do? - Craig in Grand Rapids, Michigan

DEAR CRAIG: First, take Sandy in for a complete health evaluation at the vet -- if one hasn't been done lately -- just to rule out any underlying issues. Then, if his health is fine, start reevaluating his regime.

Like humans, pets can fall into routines where they get far less exercise and eat much more than an owner may estimate. Many pets also are masters at sneaking food when we're not looking. So, here are some tips to help jump-start Sandy's weight loss:

* Follow the vet's recommended feeding amounts exactly. Use a measuring

Fat Cat

* If you don't get a recommended amount, follow this guideline for indoor cats: about 20 calories per pound of weight. So, a 10-pound cat needs about 200 calories per day to maintain that weight, while a 15-pound cat needs about 300 calories per day. Lower those calorie amounts slightly -- about 40 fewer calories per day -- for weight * Double your pet's activity time. Do you swing a toy in front of your cat for 5-10 minutes each evening while your TV shows are on? Make it 20 minutes.

* Reset the routine for both of you. Carve out play or exercise time in the morning and evening.

* Provide your cat plenty of distractions from the food bowl: catnip-laced toys, scratching posts, etc.

The initial Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is currently 4.25% for a new Home Equity Line of Credit (HELOC), and is fixed for the first 5 years of the loan which is called the draw period. After the initial 5 year period, the APR can change once based on the value of an Index and Margin. The Index is the weekly average yield on U.S. Treasury Securities adjusted to a constant maturity of 10 years and the margin is 3.50%. The current APR for the repayment period is 5.50%. The maximum APR that can apply any time during your HELOC is 10%. A qualifying transaction consists of the following conditions: (1) the initial APR assumes a maximum HELOC of $100,000, and a total maximum Loan-to-Value (LTV) of 70% including the new HELOC and any existing 1st Deed of Trust loan on your residence; (2) your residence securing the HELOC must be a single-family home that you occupy as your primary residence; (3) if the 1st Deed of Trust loan is with a lender other than El Dorado Savings Bank, that loan may not exceed $200,000 and may not be a revolving line of credit. Additional property restrictions and requirements apply. All loans are subject to a current appraisal. Property insurance is required and flood insurance may be required. Rates, APR, terms and conditions are subject to change without notice. Other conditions apply. A $375 early closure fee will be assessed if the line of credit is closed within three years from the date of opening. An annual fee of $50 will be assessed on the first anniversary of the HELOC and annually thereafter during the draw period. Ask for a copy of our "Fixed Rate Home Equity Line of Credit Disclosure Notice" for additional important information. Other HELOC loans are available under different terms.

The Final Salute

By Judy M. Zimmerman

My husband was a retired Air Force officer, and when he died I recalled how emotionally distressing it had been two years earlier to secure a Navy Honors Ceremony for my father's graveside. The funeral director assured me, however, that he would make all the necessary arrangements for a Military Honor Guard at the Fair Oaks Cemetery where my husband was to be buried.

Later that week, I became curious about the significance of a 21-gun salute and the familiar, haunting melody of Taps. The funeral director didn't know because "no one has ever asked. Surely the Non-Commissioned Officerin-Charge (NCOIC) of the Air Force Military Honor Guard will have the answer at his fingertips," the funeral director suggested. Although the NCOIC did not have a ready answer, he promised to research the information and send me a fax. The following is a summary of that fax:

The Twenty-One Gun Salute

The origin of the 21-gun salute is lost in the shadows of history, but it is believed it started as a multiple of the number seven's astrological and Biblical significance. Seven planets had been identified and the phases of the moon changed every seven days. The Bible states that God rested on the seventh day after creation. Three was the number of omnipotence and the deity. Therefore, three times seven was the ultimate honor that could be bestowed on a VIP.

The impressive 21-gun salute is rendered on the arrival or departure of the President of the United States, the sovereign or chief of state of a foreign country, and for members of a reigning royal family. A 21-gun salute is fired at oneminute intervals on the day of internment of a president, ex-president, or president-elect. Such a salute is also rendered at five-second intervals as a final farewell at the graveside of all soldiers who served this country with pride and honor.

Taps

During the Civil War, the American armies used the French Tattoo ("Lights Out") for Taps, which had been used in Europe to notify soldiers to cease an evening's drinking and return to their garrisons. It was sounded an hour before the final bugle call to end the day by extinguishing fires and lights.

But this call did not suit General Daniel Butterfield of the Union Army. With the help of the brigade bugler, Oliver North, General Butterfield wrote Taps one night in July 1862 while in camp at Harrison's Landing, Virginia. He considered it a more peaceful and soothing call to signal the end of the day's activities. (The last five measures of Tattoo resembles Taps.)

Apparently, Taps was also first used in connection with military funerals during the same campaign. It was unsafe to fire the customary three volleys over the grave due to the enemy's proximity, so the sounding of Taps was substituted as the most appropriate ceremony. Although there are no official words to Taps, the following is often thought to be the original set of lyrics: Day is done, gone the sun

From the lakes, from the hills,

All is well, safely rest

from the sky

God is nigh. Fading light dims the sight

And a star gems the sky, gleaming bright

From afar, drawing near

Falls the night.

Thanks and praise for our

Neath the sun, neath the stars, neath the sky

As we go, this we know God is nigh.

AROUND THE HORN

How important are bullpens today? The top six bullpen ERAs belong to the six division leaders, led by Kansas City's 1.60 followed by Houston (2.15), St. Louis (2.21), New York Mets (2.59), New York Yankees (2.62) and the Dodgers (2.64). Another contender, Detroit, is seventh at 3.02...The Texas

Rangers are the only team that hasn't tossed a shutout this season...Not that Miami Marlins owner Jeffrey Loria has ever really run his club by the book, but Monday's announcement of manager Dan Jennings caught the entire baseball world off guard. Jennings, the team's general manager, has never managed or played at the professional level... According to Baseball-Reference.com. Jennings is the first non-player to manage since Ted Turner's infamous game leading the Braves in 1977. Prior to that, the distinction goes to Judge Fuchs, who managed the Boston Braves in 1929...On Sunday, May 17, there were seven shutouts. Writer David Schoenfield informs us that the only day with more was June 4, 1972 (eight). On Sunday, Shelby Miller's two-hit gem over Miami was the only complete game. Of the eight in 1972, five were complete games, including two two-hitters by Hall of Famer Catfish Hunter and Don Wilson. The total also included two shutouts by Oakland over Baltimore in a doubleheader...Last year's American League Cy Young winner Corey Kluber was off to a rough start in 2015, losing his first five decisions thanks to an ERA north of 5.00. But last week, he found a lineup he could handle. It belonged to the best team in the majors, the St. Louis Cardinals. Kluber allowed just one hit over eight innings and whiffed 18 for his first win...The Atlanta Braves recalled outfielder Todd Cunningham last week and inserted him in left field on Friday. In three games, the 26-year-old posted eight hits in 12 plate appearances. He may be in Atlanta to stay...The Giants welcomed back Hunter Pence to their lineup last week. The inspirational leader began his season 4-for-8, including a home runs and five runs in two San Francisco wins over Cincinnati...And we're still trying to understand just why the Angels were so anxious to rid themselves of Josh Hamilton. Los Angeles left fielders are batting .147 and rank last in the majors in OBP, slugging and OPS. And their designated hitters aren't faring much better, trudging along at a .242 clip with just one homer

Home runs given up to St. Louis by David Price in Detroit's 4-3 win over the starts, Price had allowed just three hom-

Redbirds last week. In seven previous and 12 RBIs.

Evaluating Teams, Players at the Quarter Pole

Charlie Miller

Athlon Sports

Baseball Editor

he 30 MLB teams will pass the quarter pole this week, and that means it's report card time. We'll take our first glance at the MVP and Cy Young races as well as evaluate some surprising and disappointing teams. As you might recall, at the close of spring training, the predictions you read here included division winners Boston, Detroit and Los Angeles in the American League, and Washington, St. Louis and Los Angeles in the National League. The White Sox, Mariners, Pirates and Giants were tabbed as the four wild card teams.

The National League has pretty much followed form now that the Nationals have righted their ship in the NL East. But there's no doubt that the New York Mets have been the biggest surprise in the league, clinging to a 0.5game lead over Washington at the close of play on Sunday. The pitching has been the story in New York. The Mets pitchers have the second-best ERA in the majors at 3.00 behind the Cardinals' 2.87. The staff suffered two major blows in the spring with the injury to Zack Wheeler, which required Tommy John surgery and the suspension of closer Jenrry Mejia for PEDs.

But the return of ace Matt Harvey from Tommy John surgery, and the smoke-and-mirrors act of Bartolo Colon, have given the team a huge lift. The Mets are 11-4 in the two pitchers' 15 starts and the two have combined for an 11-3 record.

Erik Goeddel and two Torreses (Alex and Carlos) have combined for 13 holds in front of closer Jeurys Familia, who has yet to blow a save opportunity. Familia has 13 saves and a hold for his efforts.

Five candidates have separated themselves in the National League Most Valuable Player derby. Bryce Harper of the Nationals is the leader at the moment. Harper leads the senior circuit in on-base percentage, slugging, home runs and RBIs. The rising star's injury history is the only red flag in handicapping this race.

Anthony Rizzo of the Cubs, Paul Goldschmidt of Arizona, Adrian Gonzalez of the Dodgers and the Cardinals' Matt Carpenter are all building impressive resumes this season. Rizzo and Goldschmidt likely won't have the natural boost of playing for division winners. Gonzalez leads the NL with 26 extra-base hits and is second in OPS at 1.110. Carpenter has 24 hits for extra bases in just 33 games.

Going into the season, every baseball expert had already handed the NL Cy Young to Clayton Kershaw of the Dodgers. But to this point, he hasn't been the best pitcher on his team, much less the league. Shelby Miller of Atlanta and Kershaw's teammate Zack Greinke are the leaders in the Cy Young race. History suggests that Grienke is more likely to sustain a Cy Young pace than the young

> The biggest story in the American League has been the play of the Houston Astros. Few expected the rebuilding Astros to contend before next year at best, but Houston owns the best record in the AL—a game better than Kansas City—and is perched 5.5 games better than second place Los Angeles in the AL West. There's no secret to the Astros' success. The team is dead last in the AL with a .229 batting average, and only the Angels and Mariners have lower on-base percentages. Spark plug Jose Altuve is making a run at defending his batting crown with a .323 average. Only one other regular, Jake Marisnick, is hitting above .240. The bullpen has been tremendous. Will Harris, Tony Sipp, Pat Neshek, Chad Qualls and Luke Gregerson have all done some heavy lifting. The pen owns a WHIP of 0.84 with 127 strikeouts and just 73 hits and 25 walks in 117.1 innings. The Astros know how to win close games. They are 10-2 in one-run

It is a fair question whether this young team can continue to pile up wins as the pressure of a pennant race intensifies. Only the Angels have shown any semblance of a contender in the AL West, so the Astros may be on their way to their first postseason appearance since 2005.

The usually suspects are emerging in the AL MVP hunt. Mike Trout of Los Angeles, the Tigers' Miguel Cabrera and Nelson Cruz of Seattle. Lorenzo Cain of the Royals may be the best dark horse in the race.

Only three candidates are in the lead pack of the Cy Young race. Favorite Felix Hernandez of Seattle took his first loss of the season this week. Sonny Gray of Oakland has just one loss despite pitching for the worst team in baseball. Houston ace Dallas Kuechel is undefeated (5-0) with a 0.954 WHIP in eight starts.

The Exciting New World of Implant Supported Dentures

community. Your life. Your choice.

• Has the Security of a Fixed Bridge! • Easier to Maintain Good Oral Hygiene

There are millions of people in the U.S. who are edentulous (meaning without teeth) who struggle daily with dentures. A majority suffer from discomfort as a result of loose or illfitting dentures. Many prosthetic wearers simply withdraw from any type of social engagement as a result of having to wear their dentures.

Lower dentures almost never fit properly. They are loose fitting due to less surface area which can't create a suction, shrinking gum tissue and bone loss, which can cause irritation in the mouth, sores and pain. The only relief is using sticky dental adhesive to help it, but it is very messy, hard to clean off and needs multiple applications throughout the day.

Upper dentures are better than lower dentures due to a suction in the upper palate that keeps the denture in place. However, having the palate covered reduces the tastes of foods and the ability to tell the temperature of foods.

Partial Dentures can be a source of discomfort due to lack of supporting teeth or an illfitting partial. Partials also use clasps to secure to existing teeth which can be noticeable and can put added pressure to the existing teeth.

Now there is a solution to these issues: Implants with "Snap On" Dentures!

Whether you are new to dentures or have worn them for years, a snap on denture is a great solution to uncomfortable chewing and slippery painful dentures. There are several types of snap on dentures available, including snap on partials. We make your denture or partial fit and function in harmony with the space available in your mouth, and give custom attention to the delicate fabrication of your snap on denture.

A snap on denture gets some support from the implants that it snaps onto. Unlike conventional dentures that rest on the gums, a snap on denture is anchored to multiple implant snaps and is therefore much more stable and comfortable.

Two or more implant snaps can be used on the upper and/or lower jaw. The more snaps that are placed, the more stable the denture will be. Much like a four legged chair would be more stable than a three or two legged chair, the use of denture snaps keep the denture stable, secure and comfortable. These snaps are designed with different levels of retention, customized to the needs of the patient. When the snaps wear out, replacing them is a simple and inexpensive procedure.

If you already wear a conventional denture or partial denture, we can sometimes use your denture to accommodate the snaps to fit on your new dental implants.

If you are interested in learning more about improving your quality of life with an implant retained snap on denture or partial, please contact us for a FREE CONSULTATION today!
