Merry Christmas

Wells Fargo
Donates $75K
for Women to Find Work

By Kristin Thébaud, Thébaud Communications

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Women's Empowerment has received $75,000 from Wells Fargo to provide workforce development skills, paid job training, job search assistance and housing support during the pandemic for women who are currently homeless or have recently experienced homelessness. Wells Fargo has been one of Women's Empowerment's longest funders, giving $442,450 since 2008.

"This profoundly generous gift from Wells Fargo will have a powerful effect on our community as we all work together to weather the storms of the pandemic, high unemployment and continued housing crisis," said Lisa Culp, executive director, Women's Empowerment. "We are grateful to Wells Fargo for its longtime leadership in our community and for recognizing the essential role of nonprofits like ours in addressing this triple threat that has the most devastating impact on women and children without homes."

Women's Empowerment's programs combine employment readiness, self-esteem courses, health services and education, counseling, housing assistance, job placement and paid job training to help women overcome homelessness across diverse ages, races and cultures. Women's Empowerment was featured on NBC's The TODAY Show in 2015 for offering the most comprehensive job-readiness program in the Sacramento area designed specifically for women who are homeless and their children.

"Women's Empowerment does more than provide women with the support, tools and resources needed to obtain a job and become self-sufficient," said Karen Woodruff, Wells Fargo vice president of social impact and sustainability in Northern California. "It also – and perhaps most importantly – helps its clients open their eyes to see their strength, worth and potential, and that's invaluable! We are honored to continue to support Women's Empowerment and the work it does to lift women in their time of need."

The award-winning organization has graduated 1,691 women and their 3,792 children. Last year, 70 percent of graduates found homes in the midst of the housing crisis, and 79 percent secured jobs or enrolled in school or training. Women's Empowerment is funded through private donations from the community and grants. To donate: WomensEmpowerment.org. ★

Good Tidings We Bring

By Margaret Snider

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - Logically speaking, Saturday, December 19, was seven days before Christmas. For some families and kids in Rancho Cordova, however, it was Christmas itself. "Combining the Holiday STAR program with the Christmas in Cordova event, we're helping 175 local families," said Police Chief Kate Adams. The Rancho Cordova Police Activities League carries out the two events. This is the tenth year for Christmas in Cordova, with the annual toy drive providing presents for families in need.

This fourth year of the Holiday STAR program saw 16 local schools participating, from preschool through 6th grade. The principal of each school chooses one student who is academically successful despite challenging circumstances. Each of these students receives a backpack, new shoes, new clothing, usually a hundred dollar gift card for a shopping spree.

Typically in the past, Christmas in Cordova was held in person at one of our local schools, and Holiday STAR was carried out at Walmart or Target. "Because of the COVID-19 pandemic . . . both of those are being transitioned to drive-through events," said Ashley Downton, Rancho Cordova communications officer. This year, gifts for both programs were placed in each family's vehicles as they drove through the parking lot at the future Rancho Cordova Youth Center on Investment Drive.

Rancho Cordova PAL came into existence soon after the incorporation of the City of Rancho Cordova. The organization is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that builds relationships between RCPD and youth through a variety of programs, at no cost to the kids. Each year, the program serves more than 3,500 youth in our community. “We do a lot of the sports activities throughout the year,” Adams said, “just anything where the officers can really get to know the kids, beyond the call for service, beyond just seeing the officer drive by. They look to form relationships with families and children.”

Adams is an advocate for officers getting acquainted with the youth in their communities. “Certainly we need to know the adults in the community as well, but oftentimes a child’s only experience with law enforcement is not positive,” Adams said. “Even if they weren’t the victim of a crime, they may see their neighbor, or they see something – it’s not a positive experience.” When police interact with children in helpful and friendly ways, families and children can see police as individuals. “It goes both ways,” Adams said. “. . . they hear each other’s story, and there’s usually an explanation . . . empathy is not even created, it just genuinely comes out. It’s invaluable.”

David Sander, still mayor of Rancho Cordova at the time of the events, is a fan of both programs. Christmas in Cordova, he said, was initially a community effort that dwindled away. “When that transitioned over,” Sander said, “Dan Skoglund was pretty integral in that happening back then. For a while it was actually called the Skoglund Family Christmas thing. He was also donating to support it.”

Sander feels that both of these programs are representative of the spirit of Rancho Cordova. “I think it’s a remnant of our military presence in our early days, and sort of space race atmosphere at Aerojet. All those inspired people to do things that maybe they wouldn’t normally do . . . This is fun and I suppose it’s aiming high because we’re all trying to see (how many) more families we can get in there. But also, it’s watching out for your neighbor.” ★

The appointment is effective immediately and will remain in effect while County Executive Nav Gill is on administrative leave.

Edwards is the first woman appointed to the County Executive position. “I am pleased to announce that the Board of Supervisors voted unanimously to appoint Ann Edwards as Acting County Executive,” said Board Chair and First District Supervisor Phil Serna. “Ann has been a dedicated public servant throughout her career, and we are confident she will provide steady leadership in this new role.”

“I have accepted the Board of Supervisors’ request to stand in as Acting County Executive during this critical time,” said Edwards. “The public’s business is the Board’s and my highest priority. Together, we will work to provide the county with the stability, focus and leadership this moment requires.”

Edwards has served as Director of Human Assistance since 2014. Before that, she worked as the Director for Social Services for Solano County. Prior to Solano County, she worked for Sacramento County between 1998 and 2013, serving as Chief Deputy County Executive for

Mackenzie Scott Donates $10 Million to United Way Capital Region

By Kristin Thebaud
Communications

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - MacKenzie Scott announced that she has made a donation to United Way California Capital Region. The philanthropist chose the local United Way chapter to receive a $10 million gift because of the group’s work to fill basic needs while also addressing long-term systemic inequities that have deepened during the pandemic.

“This is a game-changer for our local United Way and our community as a whole,” said Stephanie Bray, president and CEO, United Way California Capital Region. “With a gift like this, we can expand our work to end poverty through our Square One Project so kids can succeed in school. This gift also will help us and our nonprofit partners provide more relief and forge a path toward recovery and resilience for our community. There truly are no words to express our gratitude to Ms. Scott. We are humbled and honored that she chose to invest in our work in the greater Sacramento area.”

Scott’s gift to United Way California Capital Region is part of the Giving Pledge she signed in 2019 to donate the majority of her wealth. Her donations to organizations across the country have focused in part on promoting economic parity, racial equity, public health and education. Scott is the former wife of Jeff Bezos, founder and CEO of Amazon.

“Last year I pledged to give the majority of my wealth back to the society that helped generate it, to do it thoughtfully, to get started soon, and to keep at it until the safe is empty,” Scott said in a Medium article she published in July. “There’s no question in my mind that anyone’s personal wealth is the product of a collective effort, and of social structures which present opportunities to some people, and obstacles to countless others.”

United Way California Capital Region has invested more heavily in addressing inequities this year with the onset of the pandemic. The group raised $572,000 in three months through the United Way COVID-19 Local Relief Fund to provide 1,145 families in need across the region with a one-time $500 distribution to help offset costs of rent, bills and other basic needs. Through a partnership with the City of Sacramento, United Way is working to bridge the digital divide that has widened during the pandemic, with a focus on low-income children and senior citizens. Through this Digital Equity Program, the partnership is providing free broadband access for up to 10,000 low-income Sacramento households, and free computers and digital literacy training for up to 1,000 Sacramento households. United Way also joined a partnership with the County of Sacramento to provide financial assistance to individuals and families in Sacramento County who are quarantined due to a positive COVID-19 test or are in isolation from being exposed to someone who has tested positive.

“Our team has been working tirelessly to stretch our resources as far as possible to help families in our community through this difficult year,” Bray said. “We cannot thank our staff, donors and volunteers enough for their investment in our work that is now being recognized on a national stage. This gift has brought us to the next level, and we are grateful to have our community of supporters by our side as we expand our Square One Project to create stronger, healthier and more compassionate communities across the greater Sacramento region.”

United Way’s current work includes removing barriers to success in school for low-income students, helping families achieve financial stability and self-sufficiency, and providing support to youth who are transitioning out of foster care.

For nearly 100 years, United Way California Capital Region has brought local people together to make community change happen. Today, the nonprofit is bringing people together across Amador, El Dorado, Sacramento, Placer and Yolo counties for its Square One Project, a 20-year promise to significantly increase the number of students in our region who graduate from high school ready for success in college and beyond. United Way believes ending poverty starts in school and is working to ensure kids meet important milestones and their families receive support and resources. # California May be Losing its Business Mojo

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

The timing could not have been more ironic. As veteran Democratic operative Dee Dee Myers – she was Bill Clinton’s press secretary at one point in her lengthy career – became Gov. Gavin Newsom’s new ambassador to business this month, three of California’s biggest and best-known corporate entities announced moves to arch-rival Texas. The splashiest émigré is Elon Musk, founder of the Tesla electric car company and other high-technology firms, who had already chosen Texas for expansions of his automobile and space businesses. Musk revealed his personal move at a business conference and compared California to a sports team with a long winning streak, saying, “they do tend to get a little complacent, a little entitled, and then they don’t win the championship anymore.” California, he said, “has been winning for a long time. And I think they’re taking them for granted a little bit.” Very quickly, two other stalwarts of the San Francisco Bay Area’s high-tech community also announced departures to Texas, Hewlett-Packard Enterprise Co. and software giant Oracle.

Hewlett Packard Enterprise is building a “state-of-the-art” campus near Houston for 2,600 workers and said, “HPE’s largest U.S. employment hub, Houston, is an attractive market to recruit and retain future diverse talent.” Oracle, which is moving its headquarters to Austin, said, “We believe these moves best position Oracle for growth and provide our personnel with more flexibility about where and how they work.” The three announcements – and Musk’s comments especially – renew a question that has hovered over California for several years: Do the state’s high taxes, high operating and living costs and a political drift to the left make it hostile to business? And, parenthetically, does Texas, which has no personal income tax and is a reliably conservative, pro-business state, benefit from that perceived hostility? “Anyone who doesn’t believe that this latest departure isn’t a threat to California’s economy is a business climate denier,” Jim Wunderman, president and CEO of the Bay Area Council, said in a statement. “We are watching the unraveling on one of the world’s mightiest economies and the consequences will be devastating. California for too long has willfully ignored our awful business climate, even as we’ve enjoyed incredible success and prosperity.” Wunderman added, “We can’t afford to dither any longer or California will permanently lose hundreds of thousands if not millions of jobs to states like Texas that place value on business and investment.” Clearly the COVID-19 pandemic has had an effect on corporate attitudes. Many employers are now embracing work-at-home arrangements that make physical location less important and the Bay Area has been seeing an outward migration to communities, such as Sacramento, with less congestion and lower housing costs as a result. In that sense, moving headquarters staff to low-cost Texas buys more bang for the buck and makes perfect sense. But there are other recent developments that may have a cumulative effect. They include state legislators’ calls for higher personal and corporate taxes, political efforts to help unions organize workers in the high-tech sector, legislation to dictate corporate board memberships, and direct slaps such as San Francisco’s new tax on corporations whose chief executives are paid over 100 times more than their rank-and-file workers. We may have reached a tipping point in which the disadvantages of doing business in California outweigh the advantages. We should remember what happened to Detroit, which was the Silicon Valley of its day a century ago, but took its prosperity for granted and paid a heavy financial and social price for its complacency. Good luck, Dee Dee. You’ll need it. Dan Walters has been a journalist for nearly 60 years, spending all but a few of those years working for California newspapers. ★

By Bob McGarvey

I don’t know if we will be able to see the ‘Christmas Star’ on December 21, 2020, but the McGarvey’s will be looking at the sky to see the beautiful ‘star.’ We know it will be the conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn planets aligned with each other and looking like a single star. On Sunday, December 20, 2020, there were too many clouds to see any stars and barely able to see the moon. The best night to see it is December 21, 2020. I hope some of you were able to see that beautiful sight in the sky, as it hasn’t been seen for 800 years. My wife and I went to the “Holiday Lights Drive-Through experience” during the December 11-20 nightly shows. It was done on the property that we know of as “The Mine Shaft”. There are quite a few people who were familiar with “The Mine Shift” of the past, when it was a place where there were

And Another Thing I hope all of you will be able to have memories of good things

games and get together places inside the building, while outside there was miniature golf; and baseball batting practice nets; and there were kids driving what I thought were going to be cars, but they drove miniature tanks instead. Eventually there were financial problems there, and all the initial things which were there had to end. Fortunately, that property is now under the ownership of the “Cordova Community Council”. They have changed that building for example as a “haunted house” around Halloween. And as I said earlier, they have turned the outside property into a place where they built the “Holiday Lights Drive-Through Lights experience” and there have been hundreds (or thousands) of vehicles which have driven through it and were able to find something wonderful to remember in this difficult year of 2020. I have to say thank you -to them. I have writing this column for over 20 years, but I must admit that this is the first time I wrote a column that is dated 12/25/2020, of “Christmas Day.” It means a lot to each of us because it is a time in which we remember our own pasts as children and what we enjoyed the most then. Now we are doing our best to help the children of today have good memories of their own. They can remember about colors and lights; family and friends enjoying things together; and definitely having fun and hope. I hope all of you will be able to have memories of good things now, even though most of the year has been very hard to almost everyone. Events of losing friends and family members, and more things which I don’t have to repeat. I will do my best to look forward to the coming year of 2021. One more column for 2020, and then it will start in a year which will have more positive things to write about and to see. I hope I’ll be ‘seeing’ you next week. From Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we’ll see you next time. ★

Seasonal Affective Disorder

By Evelyn Hill,
The Jason Foundation

HENDERSONVILLE, TN (MPG) - Seasonal affective disorder (SAD) is characterized as a type of depression that is related to changes in seasons, typically tied to the start of fall and persisting into the winter months. We know that depressive disorders don’t take holidays and this time of year can be stressful. For individuals who suffer from or are at risk for depression, though, the impact of holiday stresses and pressures can be much more severe than the momentary frustrations that almost everyone experiences. Typical symptoms of SAD, sometimes referred to as winter depression, may include the following (Mayo Clinic): Feeling depressed most of the day, nearly every day; A lack of energy; Losing interest in activities you once enjoyed; Feeling sluggish or agitated; Oversleeping or having problems with sleeping; Social withdrawal; Feeling hopeless, worthless or guilty; Substance abuse. Recently, more people are willing to engage in more meaningful conversations regarding mental health, but that has not always been the case. Many of the same symptoms listed above are commonly associated with warning signs of suicidal thoughts or behavior, the second leading cause of death for ages 10 – 24 in California. The Jason Foundation, a nationally recognized leader in youth suicide awareness and prevention, has developed a program designed to help reduce the stigma surrounding mental health issues and suicide. #IWONTBESILENT is an awareness campaign to raise the conversation on suicide prevention and mental illness, allowing open conversation regarding these serious subjects. Visit www.iwontbesilent.com to learn how you can become involved and make a difference within your community. Creating an environment where people of all ages feel comfortable to talk about their struggles is an important step in preventing unnecessary tragedies. Contrary to a prevalent myth, suicide rates do not peak during the holiday season. However, depressed individuals are hardly immune from either depressive episodes or suicidal ideation during this time. If you or someone you love is struggling with depression and/or thinking about suicide, get help now. The National Suicide Prevention Lifeline, 1-800-273-TALK (8255), is a free resource that is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, for anyone who is in suicidal crisis or emotional distress. ★

Walmart Issues $45.5M in Quarterly Bonuses

By Kimberly Ericksen,
Elevate Public Affairs

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) -Walmart announced an additional $700 million in cash bonuses to its U.S.-based associates bringing its total 2020 quarterly and special cash bonuses for its U.S.-based associates to more than $2.8 billion. The company’s latest bonus announcement includes $22,500,000 in quarterly bonuses paid to California associates in their Nov. 25 paychecks following strong third-quarter business performance and an estimated $23,000,000 in special cash bonuses to be paid to California associates on Dec. 24 in recognition of associates’ sustained commitment to customers during the pandemic. Full and part-time associates are eligible for both bonuses. “As we come to a close on this historic year, I’m filled with gratitude for how our associates have led through one of the most trying periods for our company and country,” said John Furner, President and CEO – Walmart U.S. “Our associates have stepped up to serve our customers, communities and each other when it was truly needed most, and we’re pleased to recognize their efforts with a quarterly bonus for strong store performance and a fourth special cash bonus.” Approximately 1.5 million full- and part-time Walmart and Sam’s Club associates working in the company’s stores, clubs, distribution centers and fulfillment centers will receive the special cash bonus on Dec. 24. It will be Walmart’s fourth special cash bonus paid to U.S. associates since the start of the pandemic. “This has been an extraordinary year and we’re so proud of how our associates have continued to make a meaningful difference in our communities,” said Kath McLay, President and CEO – Sam’s Club. “Today’s bonus reflects our appreciation for our associates, who show up to work each day to serve and provide relief for millions of members across the country.” All U.S.-based hourly associates are eligible for the latest special cash bonus. The bonus amounts will be similar to the previous three special cash bonuses Walmart has provided its associates during the pandemic; part-time and temporary hourly associates will receive $150 and full-time hourly associates will receive $300. More than 60% of Walmart’s hourly associates are full-time. Drivers, Managers and Assistant Managers will also receive a special cash bonus. Extension of Walmart’s COVID-19 Leave Policy Earlier this year, Walmart announced a first-of-its-kind COVID-19 Emergency Leave policy for part-time and full-time associates, which provides associates with up to two weeks of pay should they need to stay home for COVID-related reasons, including mandated quarantines, symptoms or illness. If they’re not able to return to work after that time, additional pay replacement may be provided for up to 26 weeks. Absences associated with an approved COVID-19 leave will not be counted against associates. Given the ongoing pandemic, the company is extending the leave policy through July 5, 2021. ★

Lawmakers Tell ABC to Stop Enforcing on Restaurants

Commentary by Assemblyman James Gallagher

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Following Wednesday’s San Diego County Superior Court Judgement that suspends enforcement of COVID-19 restrictions on restaurants, a group of 16 lawmakers urged the California Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) to immediately cease all enforcement on restaurants that have continued indoor and outdoor dining operations. The legislative effort was spearheaded by Assemblyman James Gallagher (R-Yuba City), the same lawmaker who prevailed in a COVID-19 related lawsuit early this year against Governor Gavin Newsom. “Restaurants statewide have been crushed by the Governor’s arbitrary dictates. Yet to this day, the state has not provided any evidence showing that restaurants are responsible for the spread of COVID,” said Gallagher. “Dining establishments are just as capable as big box stores when it comes to following best practices like social distancing and other measures. The lack of science and the recent court decisions in Los Angeles and San Diego should be a wakeup call for the Governor and his minions at the ABC.” Already an estimated 30 percent of California’s restaurants are at risk of closing permanently. ABC actions against restaurants will further damage the industry and destroy the jobs for the 1.4 million Californians who rely on their continued operation. Assemblyman James Gallagher represents the 3rd Assembly District, which encompasses all of Glenn, Sutter, Tehama and Yuba counties as well as portions of Butte and Colusa counties. ★

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - The Sacramento County Board of Supervisors has adopted a resolution declaring a climate emergency and identifying the County’s efforts to mobilize and contribute towards a safe climate. The resolution, brought forward by Board Chair and First District Supervisor Phil Serna and Second District Supervisor Patrick Kennedy, declared climate change an emergency requiring urgent action to achieve carbon neutrality by 2030. “With this resolution, we are pledging to build on the County’s existing climate action commitments and take significant further steps to develop a climate plan that incorporates actions necessary to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and achieve carbon neutrality by 2030,” said Serna. “This is a lofty goal that we’ll reach with regional collaboration involving multiple partners, including the engagement of community-based and grassroots organizations.” Sacramento County approved the Phase 1 Climate Action Plan Strategy and Framework document on Nov. 9, 2011, which is the first phase of developing a community-level Climate Action Plan. Subsequently, the County approved the Phase 2A Climate Action Plan for Government Operations on Sep. 11, 2012, and is now in the process of preparing for adoption the Phase 2B Community Climate Action Plan. “The Communitywide Climate Action Plan will be built on recommendations and analysis from community members and will be guided by science, data, best practices and equity concerns,” said Kennedy. “The need for immediate action is urgent, and the County has already seen the impacts to the region’s public health and safety, most recently with the extended wildfire season and resulting poor air quality and prolonged power outages.” The resolution also states the County will establish, within 60 days of approval, a permanent Climate Emergency Mobilization Task Force. The task force will be composed of climate experts, including representatives of the scientific and academic communities, to oversee the development and implementation of a climate emergency response plan. ★

Covid-19 Testing Available

Sacramento International Airport has partnered with City Health Urgent Care to offer on-site COVID-19 testing beginning December 16. Photo credit Sacramento County

By Samantha Mott, Sacramento County

SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CA (MPG) - Sacramento International Airport has partnered with City Health Urgent Care to offer on-site COVID-19 testing beginning Wednesday, Dec. 16.

Testing is by appointment only and will be conducted in the parking lot between AMPM and the East Economy Lot (formerly the taxi waiting area). Participants must make an appointment 48 hours in advance and anyone with a valid travel itinerary will receive priority booking. Testing appointments can be made via the City Health website. Passengers can book appointments through the passenger portal. Non-traveling community members wishing to be tested can book appointments through the community portal. Proof of identity is required as well as the appointment confirmation.

“Partnering with City Health to provide convenient no-cost COVID-19 testing for passengers, airport employees and community members is another layer of health safety for those traveling through SMF and the Sacramento community,” says Airport Director Cindy Nichol.

City Health Urgent Care will conduct PCR testing, which has a projected turnaround time for results of 48-72 hours after the sample has been received by the lab. There is no out-of-pocket cost for testing. Those being tested for travel to Hawaii will be required to pay an administration fee of $20 as part of Hawaii’s pre-travel testing program.

Hawaii’s pre-travel testing program requires passengers five and older to take a Nucleic Acid Amplification Test (NAAT) from a Clinical Laboratory Improvement Amendments (CLIA) certified laboratory within 72 hours from the final leg of departure and produce a negative result in order to avoid the state’s 14-day mandatory quarantine. A trained professional must observe all tests. Only test results from trusted testing partners approved by the Hawaii State Department of Health, such as City Health, will be accepted. The full details of the program along with answers to Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) can be found on the State of Hawaii’s COVID-19 website. ★
