For many the love of aircraft begins at a young age. Photo: CCA

California Capital Airshow Press Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The annual California Capital Airshow (CCA), presented by Sacramento County in partnership with the City of Rancho Cordova, would normally be setting up this week with jets, pilots and crew arriving from across North America to deliver a weekend of entertainment at Mather Airport. But there's much more to this nonprofit organization than what fans see overhead. Sacramento's popular Airshow is actually a fundraiser for its annual scholarship program, serving students from across the six-county region who dream of accomplishing great things and simply need a little help.

Thanks to the support of sponsors and ticket holders each year, CCA's deep commitment to inspiring young people has produced great results. The Airshow team's efforts, in the air, on the ground and throughout the year has delivered $262,000 in awards to 156 remarkable future leaders to attend 36 different education institutions across 14 states. These students plan to change the world in a variety of ways, from using artificial intelligence to end climate change to building filtration systems in third-world countries.

"My love of airplanes began at a young age and is likely attributable to attendance at the California Capital Airshow where I first saw the B-29 fly," said John Kroeger, recent CCA scholarship recipient. "An aerospace engineering degree will open up a world of possibilities for me. I plan to work on the next generation of machinery that will drive humanity into the future - designing safer, more advanced, and more efficient airplanes."

"Although we are all experiencing an unprecedented year, students still need our help in making their dreams come true and the public can help," said Darcy Brewer, executive director, CCA.

Fans are encouraged to help CCA raise $50,000 from September 28-October 4 to support other stellar high school seniors pursuing careers in science, technology, engineering, mathematics, aviation and aerospace go to college.

Sac Zoo Celebrates Birth of New Baby Giraffe

Momma and Baby Giraffe. Photo: Sac Zoo

By Lesley Kirrene, Sacramento Zoo

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - The Sac Zoo is thrilled to announce that Shani, a 10-year-old Masai giraffe, gave birth to a female calf during the evening on September 20. Mother and calf are spending time bonding in the zoo's giraffe barn and may have access to the public side yard periodically over the next few days to weeks.

The zoo's veterinarians performed a routine neonatal health check on the calf including a brief physical exam. Zookeepers had been monitoring Shani around the clock prior to the birth and will continue to closely watch the mother and her calf.

The Sacramento Zoo is now home to five giraffes: one post-reproductive female reticulated giraffe, one male Masai giraffe, two female Masai giraffe including Shani, and now the new calf. This is the 20th calf born at the Sacramento Zoo going back to 1964 when the species was first housed at the zoo.

This birth coincides with the launch of the Sac Zoo's online Auction 2020, running today through noon on September 29. Due to the pandemic, the nonprofit Sac Zoo is unable to hold its largest fundraisers of the year and thus created the online Auction 2020 as a way to raise much-needed funds to care for the baby giraffe and the hundreds of other rare, endangered and native animals that call the zoo home.

Zoo supporters are able to bid on an opportunity to name the zoo's new baby giraffe or have the chance to be one of the first to meet the baby and her mother up-close and personal. Other auction items include original art created by a troop of orangutans, the chance to spend a private holiday celebration at the zoo, or even the opportunity to have Breakfast Continued on page 4

Love of the Game

River Cats Broadcaster Writes Haikus on Baseball and Life

Story by Shauna Boyd

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - Johnny Doskow, the well-known TV and radio broadcaster for the Sacramento River Cats, recently immortalized his love of the game in a book of haiku focusing on his experiences in both baseball and in life.

Doskow was "raised with the game" and always knew he wanted to call baseball. "I've been fortunate to fulfill my dream," he said. His career began in 1991 calling local sports in Iowa. Two years later he started his first job in professional baseball with the Cedar Rapids Kernels. From there, he moved to California, where he worked with both the High Desert Mavericks and the Fresno Grizzlies before becoming the voice of the Sacramento River Cats in 2001. He also broadcast for the major leagues for 34 games in 2012 with the Oakland A's.

This past March, with

Sacramento River Cats broadcaster Johnny Doskow releases a book of haikus titled Goodnight Em. Readers will relate to the poems, which focus on love of the game, love of family, and love of life. Photo provided by Johnny Doskow.

the baseball season forced into hiatus by the coronavirus pandemic, Doskow had no games to call. During his first summer off in 28 years, he started writing. Originally, he didn't have plans for a book; he was just writing haikus about life and moments he wanted to remember. It was his wife Deb who suggested he write about his life's passion: baseball. Before he knew it, he had more than enough poems to fill a book. "It just happened organically," he said.

Doskow has been fascinated by haikus ever since his older brother introduced him to the format as a kid. "I've always written them," Doskow said - even writing them in the margins of in-flight magazines as he traveled during the baseball season. "I never kept any of them," he said.

Doskow likes the rhythm of haikus (written in a syllable pattern of five, seven, five) and enjoys the challenge of "trying to tell a story in 17 syllables. It's not easy to do." Telling a story in such a small space offers the potential for both simplicity and depth. In "Patience," Doskow writes, "dark cloudy morning/sun squeezing through noon darkness/3 p.m. blue sky." Such poems ask readers to put themselves into that moment. Doskow hopes that readers can find something to relate to in these poems, something that connects these stories to their own experiences. Continued on page 3

The Capitol Annex Project Debate

Story by Shaunna Boyd

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - California's State Capitol Complex is comprised of the historic West Wing, with its iconic dome, and the adjoined Annex building, which houses the offices of the Governor and most of California's lawmakers. The Capitol also hosts millions of visitors each year. But the existing Annex has many health and safety deficiencies such as inefficient heating/cooling systems, failing plumbing, outdated electrical systems, and lack of fire sprinklers. Stairways, elevators, and exit doors are also oversized, and the building is frequently overcrowded—which has become an even greater concern during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Capitol Annex Project – overseen by the Joint Rules Committee (JRC) – plans to demolish the current Annex and replace it with a modern energy-efficient and ADA-compliant building. The project also includes an underground parking structure and an underground visitors center. The vision of the project, which is spearheaded by JRC Chair Assemblyman Ken Cooley, is to create a Capitol that is welcoming, engaging, and inspiring.

But Public Accountability for Our Capitol (PAC) – a group of preservationists, environmentalists, and fiscal responsibility advocates – believes the project is too expensive, lacks transparency, and will cause significant damage to Capitol Park's historic trees.

PAC members Richard Cowan and Paula Peper each resigned from their seats on the Historic State Capitol Commission (HSCC) in protest over the Capitol Annex Project. The HSCC is responsible for reviewing any development or improvement of the historic State Capitol and advising the Legislature on such projects. Both Cowan and Peper have stated that the HSCC was denied information about the project, which Cowan characterized as "shrouded in secrecy."

The members of PAC don't dispute the need for improvements to the Annex, but they believe that it is possible and more cost-effective to repair and improve the existing building. Cowan said, "We think the project could be re-planned to avoid damaging Capitol Park and its trees, avoid the destruction of a historically recognized building, satisfy all the valid health and safety concerns, and save hundreds of millions of dollars that are needed to address climate change and economic recovery."

Instead of an open public engagement process, Cowan said that stakeholders invited to participate in JRC meetings about this project

The design plans for the Capitol Annex Project aim to highlight views of the iconic dome of the State Capitol's historic west wing. Photo provided by Assemblyman Ken Cooley had to sign non-disclosure agreements (NDAs). "So much for transparency," said Cowan.

When asked about the NDAs, Assemblyman Cooley said that such agreements are standard in the post-9/11 world when discussing security issues in closed sessions. He also disputed the idea that the project has eschewed public input, stating that aside from those few closed sessions concerning security briefings, all the JRC meetings are open to the public. When he became JRC Chair in 2017, he moved quickly to launch a comprehensive website to share information about the project with the public. "We've been very public about the whole process," he said.

PAC's concern about the project's impact on Capitol Park trees was based on the Environmental Impact Report (EIR), released in September 2019 and updated in January 2020, which outlined the project footprint. Based on that footprint, PAC estimated that over 100 rare and historic trees could be at risk.

At a JRC meeting on September 9, 2020, Assemblyman Cooley revealed a detailed design plan with three potential styles for the Annex building (square, circular, or double-T). Cowan noted that the recently released plans deviated significantly from the EIR, with the parking garage location moving from the east lawn to the south between L and N streets. Cowan acknowledged that the new location would disrupt fewer trees, but he feared it could still endanger the trees in the Civil War Grove, "which is sacrosanct."

When asked about the potential loss of 100 trees, Assemblyman Cooley said, "I couldn't bear that." He described the historic and memorial trees as "irreplaceable" and explained that safeguarding the trees is one of the primary goals of the design process.

The Capitol Annex Project has been in the works since Arnold Schwarzenegger was Governor, and initially the Department of General Services planned to create two new buildings in Capitol Park. But when Assemblyman Cooley took over as JRC Chair in 2017, he fought against that plan, because the design would have destroyed many historic trees, including the Civil War Grove. Assemblyman Cooley said he is committed to safeguarding the trees and vistas of the park. He explained that the construction footprint outlined in the plans is just a rough estimate of the area and not a specific blueprint: "We're not going to disturb all that ground." Protecting the historic trees is such a high priority that Cooley said the new parking garage design even has a "notch" designed to safeguard a tulip tree.

The Legislature originally approved $755 million from the general fund for the Capitol Annex Project. Assemblyman Cooley suggested additional authority be given to the JRC to authorize lease revenue bonds in case the government ended up needing those funds, "if the economy stumbles." That stumble came this year. Due to the recent economic crisis caused by the pandemic, the Governor's office has asked that those funds be returned to the general fund – and that the JRC pause the plans for the visitors center. As the project moves forward, the plan is to pursue the authorized lease revenue bonds to fund the Annex and parking garage.

PAC has voiced concern that the interest on the lease revenue bonds will increase the overall cost of the project by approximately 30%, money they believe is better spent on investing in the economic recovery. Cowan also said that the JRC decided to demolish and rebuild the Annex without conducting a study to determine the cost of restoration.

But Assemblyman Cooley views the project as a way to stimulate economic recovery by creating a variety of jobs in the area over the life of the project: "It would put people to work." And for Cooley, the reasons to move forward with a rebuild over restoration have been clear since the planning study was completed almost three years ago. The study found that the existing structural system of the Annex "limits the ability to provide new large hearing rooms or auditoriums with column-free view paths and appropriate ceiling heights." The study also found that a consistent floor plan that is easy to navigate for both visitors and staff is impeded by the "current building footprint and column bay spacing."

Cowan said he is "absolutely not persuaded" by those arguments against restoration. Further, for a project based on a need for more space, PAC was surprised to see that each of the three potential Annex designs feature large open-air galleries with skylights looking up to the Capitol dome. While Cowan acknowledges that the designs are beautiful, he still argues that a new building is not necessary.

PAC also believes it is shortsighted to build a large underground parking garage at a time when transportation is changing rapidly. As concerns about climate change increase, Cowan said California should be looking to the future. The idea of an underground parking garage "is not who we are. It's not how we lead," he said.

But for Assemblyman Cooley, the improved energy-efficient Capitol Complex will be a symbol of California's "positive, hope-filled outlook." The Capitol Annex Project started before Cooley's tenure as JRC Chair and will conclude after his term ends, so he said the project isn't about what he wants. As Chair, he reports to the JRC. He said it's his job to bring all the information and all the options to the members so they can make the best decision for the people and the future of "The People's House."

The City Council voted to approve $200,000 to provide individual grants of up to $10,000 to eligible businesses. The application period for the program opened on Monday, September 21 and will close on Sunday, September 27, at 5 PM.

Love of the Game

In “Scoring,” he writes, “keeping score at game/a religion for some folks/baseball love affair.” For true fans, the book will be like a reading a love letter to the game. Doskow called the writing process “a walk down memory lane,” and the book brings readers on that journey as well. Many of the haikus evoke memories of significant baseball moments – both triumphant and heartbreaking.

In “Sign Off,” Doskow explains the title of the book, Goodnight Em: “ever since her birth/in my broadcast conclusion/my words, ‘goodnight em.’” He started that signature sign-off during the 2006 season when his daughter Emily was just an infant. Long nights at the ballpark and frequent time away from home for away games meant he was often missing his young daughter. The signoff was a way to signify his love and connection to her. When trying to come up with a title for the book, Doskow’s wife Deb suggested Goodnight Em, and he knew instantly that it was perfect.

Goodnight Em honors everything Doskow loves most in this world. The book can be purchased online at www.johnnydoskow.com. It can also be purchased locally at Face In A Book bookstore in El Dorado Hills or at either of the Sacramento locations of Patchamama Coffee (Doskow’s favorite coffee in the world). ★

And Another Thing

The one thing we all have to do on November 3, is to VOTE

There are many changes going on in our country, and changes in other countries too. Schools for example will be trying to bring the students back in the classrooms when it is safe again, and some businesses changed because of the coronavirus and had many of their employees work from home. Today is the 7th month in which the changes had to be done, and some are looking at having their employees continue to work from home.

I read in the news that there are some families today in which the father is working in one room, the mother is working in another room, and the kids are in another room 'going to school.' Now they save gas not driving to work or taking their kids to school; they are on time at work; and their children are at school on time. But I have also read about the stress many people are under because they don't/can't see their coworkers. Will it be better for the majority of the people to stay isolated from each other so much? That is only one example of the many changes societies and cultures are going through today.

All of us have times when there aren't enough hours in the days to get everything completed. This is one of those times. I will have to add more to my column next week. The one thing we all have to do on the 3rd of November is to vote. This troublesome year will end with some completed and some not, but we need to depend on each other as the year comes to an end. September is almost ended, and the last three months will be gone sooner than you can imagine. Take care.

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we'll see you next time. ★

Schmidt Announces Candidacy for Los Rios Area 7 Trustee

Scott Schmidt

From Scott Schmidt for Los Rios Trustee Area 7

This year, Los Rios trustees tried raising taxes on homeowners with Measure E for the construction of more buildings on campus despite continuous decline of enrollment - with 30,000 less enrollments since 2013. Yes, 30,000. With no immediate need for additional classrooms on campus, along with Covid-19, student homelessness and food insecurity continues to grow. On average, 19% of students face homelessness and food insecurity that leaves them going to sleep hungry. For the half of those who do obtain degrees, they often end up working in underpaid jobs and becoming delinquent on their student loans.

The System is Broken.

We need new leaders and ideas to fix these continuous issues that never seem to be solved. I am Vice President of the Sacramento Taxpayers Association and a Public Administration Graduate Student who understands how to manage our institutions and keep budgets solvent. If elected, I will make sure our students are cared for, teachers and staff do not face wage cuts or furloughs and trim high "Golden Parachute" executive and administrative salaries.

Deeper Dive with City Council Candidates Set

David Sander

Donald Terry

Robert McGarvey

Donald Childs

Cordova Community Council

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - The Rancho Cordova campaign trail comes to your telephone or computer next week during a Zoom edition of a candidate forum.

The Cordova Community Council and Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce are teaming up to present "Conversations with the Candidates," a series of 15-minute interviews with the six candidates looking to be elected to the Rancho Cordova City Council in November.

Three seats are up for grabs Nov. 3, with three incumbents running to hang on to their seats. Council members David Sander, Donald Terry and Robert McGarvey are all seeking re-election.

They are being challenged by a trio of candidates, all hoping to join the council for fresh four-year terms. They include Donald Childs, Siri Pulipati and Jack Zwald.

In a normal campaign year, candidates would have been knocking on doors and attending campaign events to promote their efforts. But the corona virus has changed that.

At 6 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 7, voters will be able to Zoom in from the safety of their homes to hear more in-depth conversations with the candidates - and pose a few questions of their own.

The Cordova Community Council and Chamber teamed up earlier in September for their election year "Campaign Whistlestop," but are responding to a desire by voters to know more about the City Council candidates by organizing the Oct. 7 event.

Here's How It Will Work:

Audience members will sign up in advance to receive a Zoom link to attend the event. To sign up, visit ranchocordova.org and follow the links for events, registering on the Campaign Forum link. Deadline to register is Oct. 6.

Siri Pulipati

Jack Zwald

On event night, all candidates will open with a three-minute statement about themselves and why they are seeking election. Following that round, the candidates will be interviewed by Shelly Blanchard, executive director of the Cordova Community Council and former longtime editor of The Grapevine Independent.

All candidates have been provided questions on three important issues: homeless response; support or opposition to the Measure R half-cent sales tax increase, which is also on the ballot; and a discussion of police performance in Rancho Cordova.

During the interviews, audience members may also enter questions into the Q&A function of Zoom, and the moderator will attempt to get to many of those questions, as well.

The process will continue with each candidate until all have been interviewed.

Diann Rogers, Chamber President and CEO, said that providing candidates with some questions in advance is meant to produce thoughtful answers on important topics. The "speed question" portion of the conversation is provided to get to other issues on the minds of voters in the city.

There is no charge for the event, which is being organized as a public service by both organizations.

Registration for "Candidate Forum: Conversations with the Candidates" is now open at ranchocordova.org and will close Oct. 6. A link will be sent to all voters who register for the event as it draws closer. ★

California Reaches 21 Million Registered Voters

From the Office of Secretary of State

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - California officially surpassed 21 million active registered voters for the first time in history. This milestone comes 60 days before the November 3, 2020 General Election. The Secretary of State's next official Report of Registration will be issued later this month with breakdowns of registration by party, political jurisdiction, and age.

"2020 is another record setting year for voter registration in California," Secretary of State Alex Padilla said. "Even during the COVID-19 pandemic, our democracy remains strong and resilient."

"If you've recently turned 18, recently become a US Citizen, or even if you've never voted before – don't wait. Register to vote today at registertovote.ca.gov. It only takes a few minutes to register and to make your voice is heard in one of the most consequential elections in our nation's history. And if you're already registered to vote, I encourage you to verify your registration status and to sign-up for ballot tracking."

Starting on October 5, 2020 all counties will begin mailing ballots to every active, registered voter in California; Voters will be able to vote early, in-person at their county elections office.

Tips for Voters

Californians are encouraged to take the following steps to prepare for the General Election: Check your voter registration at VoterStatus.sos.ca.gov; Update your voter registration if you've moved or changed your name at RegisterToVote.ca.gov; Sign-up for automatic updates on the status of your vote-by-mail ballot at WheresMyBallot.sos.ca.gov

Voter Registration Deadline

October 19 is the traditional voter registration deadline for the November 3, 2020 General Election. If an eligible Californian misses the October 19 deadline, they can complete the same day voter registration process and cast their vote that day. However, this option is only available at county elections offices and in-person voting locations. ★

Is Newsom Serious about Banning Gas-Powered Cars?

By Dan Walters
CALMatters

Gov. Gavin Newsom flatly declared Wednesday that “In the next 15 years we will eliminate in the state of California the sales of internal combustion engines.”

It was the latest example of Newsom’s fondness for headline-grabbing pronouncements of “big hairy, audacious goals.”

The classic example was his flat campaign declaration that he would solve California’s chronic housing shortage by building 3.5 million new homes.

That was impossible, as anyone familiar with housing issues could attest, and after his election, Newsom backed off, calling it an “aspirational” goal. Actually, housing production has declined during his governorship.

The governor’s declaration that by 2035 new car buyers in California must buy only “zero emission vehicles” (ZEVs) seems to be in the mold of his housing promise. In fact, his executive order does not command that it happen, but rather says “it shall be a goal of the state that 100 percent of in-state sales of new passenger cars and trucks will be zero-emission by 2035” and directs the Air Resources Board to figure out how to do it “consistently with technological feasibility and cost-effectiveness.”

Even if he’s serious about it – and one is never certain that he is – there are immense hurdles to overcome, not the least being Californians’ obvious reluctance to embrace battery-powered ZEVs as their primary motor vehicles due to their cost, relatively small size and limited range.

While California accounts for about half of the ZEVs on American roads, they are still fewer than 2% of the nearly 30 million cars and light trucks in California. And despite state and federal subsidies, they are a fraction of the state’s current goal of having 1.5 million in use by 2025.

Newsom’s declaration, and a request to the Legislature to phase out fracking to produce oil and natural gas, cheered environmental advocates who want California to be bolder in reducing its emissions of greenhouse gases. He blamed global warming for the destructive wildfires that have swept through the state this year.

However, business leaders, particularly those in the affected industries, warn about the pitfalls of trying to wean California’s economy off hydrocarbons. California is one of the nation’s leading producers of oil and gas, particularly since fracking regenerated older fields, and the state consumes immense amounts of both fuels to not only directly power transportation but to generate the electricity that ZEVs must have.

During recent hot spells, as California’s air conditioners drove electric power consumption to levels requiring blackouts, natural gas-fired power plants supplied more than half of the juice.

“Unless California, along with other states and countries, supports a market for ZEVs that ensures vehicle performance, range, safety, functionality, price, and choice for automobile consumers, then California residents alone will be left with higher energy and transportation costs without a material effect on global (greenhouse gas) emissions,” the California Chamber of Commerce said. “Forcing this transition through a mandate will burden the consumers least able to afford it, either by pricing them out of the new vehicle market or increasing the cost to maintain and fuel a used vehicle with a combustion engine.

Predictably critical as that statement may be, it makes valid points about the practical and socioeconomic challenges of doing what Newsom insists will be done.

Finally, there’s the political/legal question of whether California can do it. It would require the federal government to continue California’s “waiver” from federal air pollution rules and that would probably hinge on whether Republican President Donald Trump is re-elected or is defeated by Democrat Joe Biden.

Glass Fire live updates: Newsom declares state of emergency as wildfires rage in Sonoma, Napa counties | 29 Sept 2020 | A growing wildfire complex is burning in the North Bay in Napa and Sonoma counties as the Glass Fire spawned two new spot fires: the Shady Fire and the Boysen Fire. The Glass Fire began Sunday at 4 a.m. on the 200 block of North Fork Crystal Springs Rd. in Deer Park and has been spreading at a “dangerous rate,” CAL FIRE said. The Shady Fire and Boysen Fire started Sunday night just west of St. Helena near the Napa-Sonoma county border. Sept. 28, 9:36 p.m.: Governor Gavin Newsom issued an emergency proclamation for Napa and Sonoma counties due to the Glass fires and for another wildfire burning in Shasta County. The fires have burned tens of thousands of acres, destroyed homes and critical infrastructure and caused the evacuation of tens of thousands of residents.

Justice Dept. calls on SF to end ‘draconian’ coronavirus rules for houses of worship – San Francisco’s city attorney called the letter ‘careless legal threats’ | 26 Sept 2020 | The Justice Department on Friday called on San Francisco Mayor London Breed to increase the allowable capacity in houses of worship, accusing the city of impeding on “religious freedom” amid the coronavirus. In a three-page letter, Assistant Attorney General Eric S. Dreiband and U.S. attorney David Anderson of the Northern District of California called San Francisco’s policy of allowing just one congregant inside at a time “draconian.” The letter acknowledged the city has the obligation to protect its residents from the deadly virus, but added, “there is no pandemic exception for the Constitution.” “Even in times of emergency, when reasonable, narrowly-tailored, and temporary restrictions may lawfully limit our liberty, the First Amendment and federal statutory law continue to prohibit discrimination against religious institutions and religious believers,” Dreiband and Anderson wrote. “These principles are legally binding, and the Constitution’s unyielding protections for religious worshipers distinguish the United States of America from places dominated by tyranny and despotism.”

CDC and Fauci’s NIAID Add Non-Pneumonia Deaths to US COVID-19 Totals Unlike Other Countries - If These Deaths are Removed, US Has 86,000 COVID-19 Deaths | 26 Sept 2020 | For months doctors and investigative journalists have wondered why state coronavirus death counts include motorcycle accidents, homicides, birth defects, gunshot wounds and thousands of intentional injuries and poisonings to the US Coronavirus death totals. It’s almost as if the medical elites are doing all they can to pad the coronavirus death counts? In Singapore the medical experts follow the World Health Organization guidelines and DO NOT INCLUDE non-pneumonia coronavirus fatalities in their death counts. If the US followed the same system as much of the world the total number of coronavirus deaths in the US would be 86,000 or something you’d see in a bad flu season. In 2017-2018 the US had an intense flu season. 61,000 Americans died.

Trump $500B Black America plan designates KKK, Antifa as terrorist organizations – The plan calls for making lynching a national hate crime | 26 Sept 2020 | President Trump’s plan for Black America designates the KKK and Antifa as terrorist organizations and calls for making lynching a national hate crime, while pledging to increase access to capital in Black communities by nearly $500 billion, Fox News has learned. The president on Friday is expected to roll out details of what the campaign is calling the “Platinum Plan,” which details “opportunity,” “security,” “prosperity,” and “fairness” for the Black Community. “For decades, Democrat politicians like Joe Biden have taken Black voters for granted. They made you big promises before every election – and then the moment they got to Washington, they abandoned you and sold you out,” the president is expected to say Friday, according to remarks exclusively obtained by Fox News. ★
