City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On August 14, 2020, Elliott Homes, Inc. and the City of Rancho Cordova broke ground on Rio Del Oro, the largest development in the city's history.

Rio Del Oro spans 3,800 acres in Rancho Cordova and could fit Downtown Sacramento in its footprint. The development will feature thousands of new homes, over 7.6 million square feet of commercial, professional and industrial space, one of the largest parks in the region at 130 acres, and the city's next high school.

"Elliott Homes is proud of our new Rio Del Oro community," said Price Walker, Vice President of Project Development, "and excited to finally begin this long-awaited project. Despite the challenges of Rio Del Oro's size, the efforts in this first phase will result in the construction of model homes by the end of 2021."

The City of Rancho Cordova is a thriving, safe and fun community where people live, work, learn and play. Rio Del Oro is the result of a long-term partnership between owner and developer Elliott Homes and the city and project plans have been in the works for more than 10 years.

"Today marks a milestone in the City of Rancho Cordova," said Rancho Cordova Mayor David Sander. "We are proud to join Elliott Homes and celebrate the start of construction for Rio Del Oro. This development will expand our housing options, attract new business, generate job opportunities, establish new roadway connections, and provide additional education and recreation spaces."

The development area is east of Sunrise Boulevard and between White Rock Road and Douglas Road. The first phase of Rio Del Oro begins with construction of new single-family homes adjacent to the White Rock Road corridor.

For progress updates on the development, sign up for the city's e-newsletters at CityofRanchoCordova.org/news or follow the city's social media channels. ★

New Small Business Micro-Grant Program Available

By Diann Rogers, CEO Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG)

The Rancho Cordova Chamber of Commerce announced their Small Business Micro-Grant Program in response to COVID-19 pandemic. The Micro-Grant program is designed to offer support and encouragement to the City of Rancho Cordova's small business community. Applications will be accepted until the grant funds are exhausted.

"Hundreds of small businesses call the City of Rancho Cordova home. Funds have been made available for small grants that allow us to assist some businesses to weather this COVID-19 pandemic" said Chamber Board Chair J. Scott Alexander of Murphy Austin Adams Schoenfeld LLP. "On behalf of the Chamber Board, we are thrilled to be able to offer support to our business community in these challenging times."

The Chamber will distribute $10,000 in immediate relief in the form of micro-grant awards ranging between $50-$1,000 to local small businesses. The goal is to assist in keeping the doors open through and beyond COVID-19. A small micro-grant may well go a long way when a business is in need.

Rancho Chamber Covid-19 Micro-Grant awards should be used to fund creative or simple ideas to help a small business respond to the impact COVID-19. Grant proposals should support projects, equipment/supplies, or other needs that have an immediate impact on employees, production, or serving customers, clients, and vendors. We ask the funds not to be used for salaries, rent, or rent-related items, mortgage, or lease payments.

Micro-Grant applications will be accepted beginning August 12, 2020. Grants are one time only and awarded on a first-come, first-served basis, provided the application meets eligibility requirements and award criteria. Grants will be awarded until funds are exhausted. Membership in the Rancho Cordova Chamber is not a requirement.

Micro-Grant criteria and application link can be found on the Chamber website www.RanchoCordova.org Application: Micro-Grant Application

California Capital Airshow Cancels

Special Release from CCA

After more than a year of planning the 2020 California Capital Airshow, presented by Sacramento County in partnership with the City of Rancho Cordova, it is with heavy hearts that we announce the cancellation of this year's event scheduled for October 3-4.

The safety of our guests, performers, exhibitors and volunteers is always our top priority. This is demonstrated by the safe and successful airshows we have hosted for the past 14 years.

We explored numerous options with our partners to provide a highly modified and socially distant event that would also work within established COVID-19 public health parameters. Unfortunately, we are not fully confident we can minimize the coronavirus risk to a level that meets our standards for health and safety. Please know we did not want to let you down - but ultimately, it is the right call for the safety of everyone.

The California Capital Airshow Board of Directors would like to thank ALL our partners at the state, county and local levels for helping us do everything possible to deliver a safe and responsible event. We all put in many hours towards a workable solution, and we are all deeply and equally saddened.

Despite this disappointing news, plans are well underway for the 2021 California

Capital Airshow, which is scheduled for September 25-26 featuring the world-famous United States Air Force Thunderbirds!

Until then, as a non-profit organization, we will turn our attention back to the mission of inspiring the next generation through free educational programs and scholarships, as well as honoring our region's rich aviation heritage.

We are tremendously grateful for your patience, support and encouragement during these trying times. Although we will miss our big and crazy airshow family, our team will use this time to make next year better than ever before. Can't wait to see you in 2021 - be ready to celebrate!

Stay safe,
California Capital Airshow

Scammers Targeting SMUD Customers

SMUD News Release

SACRAMENTO REGION, CA (MPG) - SMUD urges customers to be on the lookout for scammers claiming to represent SMUD and threatening disconnection if immediate payments are not made.

A common scam currently being used works like this:

Scammers contact a customer — sometimes from a phone number that appears to be SMUD's customer service number — and threaten disconnection if a payment is not made immediately via a pre-paid debit card, often at a pay station such as CVS or Safeway stores (not authorized SMUD pay stations). Some scammers have even asked for a cash payment to be made in person at a public location;

Then the scammer demands that the customer call back a non-SMUD number with payment details; When the customer calls the number, it is answered with a recording of SMUD's phone-based customer service menu; When the customer chooses a menu option, the call will go to voicemail or will be answered by a scammer posing as a SMUD employee.

Please note that SMUD representatives will never call a customer and direct them to a non-SMUD payment facility or require a specific method of payment such as cash, wire payment or money card.

A list of authorized SMUD pay stations can be viewed by visiting SMUD.org/Pay. The following are not SMUD authorized pay stations: CVS, RiteAid, Walgreens and Safeway. Also, SMUD does not accept payment via Green Dot, Money Pak, MoneyGram or Reloadit.

If customers receive a suspicious call, SMUD asks them to ask for a name and number, then hang up and call SMUD at one of the following published numbers:

- Residential customers:
1-888-742-SMUD (7683)
- Business customers:
1-877-622-SMUD (7683)

Customers can also email SMUD at scamreporting@smud.org with the same information.

To learn more about how to protect yourself from fraud, visit SMUD.org/Scam. ★

And Another Thing

Things that we are used to are being Canceled

On January 1, there were many people who celebrated the new year or perhaps took the new year to sleep in a little longer after the night before. At any rate, many of us were thinking of the many things we were going to enjoy through the year. In January, we knew of the crab feeds in which there were many people getting together and helping make money for the Cordova Marching Band or the Rotary Club or many other organizations. I am glad to say that almost all of the crab feeds were successful. And then everything changed with the coronavirus.

We are now in August, and as I work on this column on Saturday, August 15, more things are going the wrong way it seems. We just made a record today with the temperature hitting 111 degrees, and there will be more days coming up (we are told by weather forecasters) that will also be 111 or maybe even more degrees. There are wildfires going on in Southern California and Northern California, and now I have heard of more things that we are used to being canceled.

Some of the things that were canceled earlier this year were Kids Day in the Park, Cap-to-Cap, the International Festival (iFest), and our usual Memorial Day in which we are personally able to honor our veterans and their families. Some very sharp citizens created new ways to congratulate people who are graduating with a drive-through graduation instead of walking across a stage with many other people. The Fourth of July parade and all the fun things at Hagan Park were also canceled.

And now, the League of California Cities in-person convention is canceled, the California Capital Airshow is canceled, the normal Veterans Day celebration is going to be done differently, and the National League of Cities in-person convention is also canceled.

I am hoping, like everyone else, that there will be vaccines coming by the end of this year or the beginning of next year that will allow everyone around the world to be "normal" again, and we all will be able to get back to some of the things we enjoy.

From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we'll see you next time. ★

Ask Toni

Enrolled in Medicare Part B...

NOW I'm Receiving a Part D Penalty...Why?

Toni King

Hello Toni:

Turned 65 in August 2018, continued to work full-time with company benefits, until I was laid off on May 10th and that is when my employer benefits ended. I have enrolled in a Medicare supplement plan G and a Part D prescription drug plan with a September 1st start date because that is when my Medicare Part B starts.

Now my troubles are beginning because I have received a notice from CMS (Medicare) saying they do not have record of me having prescription drug coverage that "met Medicare's minimum standards from 8/1/2018 when my Medicare Part A started to 9/1/2020 and I am receiving a Part D late enrollment penalty.

I do not understand why I am receiving a Medicare Part D penalty. I thought applying for Part B keep me from a Medicare penalty. What is the 63-day window that the Part D prescription drug plan is talking about?

I have been quarantined due to contracting coronavirus and was not able to explore my Medicare options. Is there a way that I can appeal this Part D penalty due to COVID-19 issues?

~ Thank You, Sydney from St. Louis, MO

Sydney:

Generally, when there are Medicare special enrollment problems due to weather issues, Medicare will give extra time for enrollment periods such as Medicare Annual Enrollment in October. My advice to you is to call Medicare at 1/800-633-4227 or the Medicare Part D plan which you have enrolled in and explain that you have been in quarantine due to being exposed to coronavirus. IRS extended the April 15 tax filing date due to COVID-19, so I would ask for an appeal to the penalty due to being unable to take care of your personal Medicare business because of being in quarantine.

Taking the "Request for Employment Information" form to Social Security to avoid the "famous" Medicare Part B penalty informs Medicare that you have had employer benefits since turning 65. The form does NOT inform Medicare that you had "creditable" prescription drug coverage. The Medicare & You handbook states: "Creditable prescription drug coverage could include drug coverage from a current or former employer or union, TRICARE, Indian Health Service, the VA or health insurance coverage. Your plan must tell you each year if your drug coverage is "creditable coverage." Keep this information because you may need it when or if you join a Medicare drug plan late.

Creditable drug coverage should "meet or exceed" what Medicare's Part D plan minimums are for that current year.

Medicare does not regard discount prescription drug cards or low-cost generics programs such as GoodRX as "creditable coverage". These types of plans cannot keep you from the Late Enrollment Penalty.

Your Late Enrollment Period (LEP) does not begin from the day you lose or leave your company health plan, BUT from the month you turned 65 or began your Medicare or is based on when Part A of Medicare begins not Part B.

This LEP (Late Enrollment Period) penalty can be because:

- 1) You waited past 63 days without "creditable" prescription drug coverage when you are leaving company benefits and you are older than 65 years old and 90 days. (which technically is what you did, Sydney) Do not wait past 63 days to get Part D when leaving company health plans.
- 2) Your company prescription drug benefits (not health benefits) are not "creditable" as Medicare declares.
- 3) You simply never enrolled in Medicare Part D when you were first eligible and want to enroll.

Ninth Circuit Court Rules on 10 plus Firearm Magazines

By Dave McCulloch, Capitol Media

WASHINGTON, DC (MPG) - The California Rifle & Pistol Association received the much-anticipated ruling in the long-fought Second Amendment case Duncan v. Becerra. This is the same case that led to "Freedom Week" where thousands of Californians were able to lawfully purchase standard capacity magazines much like the rest of the country.

CRPA has been fighting this case since the 30,000+ member-driven organization filed it in 2017, and has led the fight through the courts with the assistance of the National Rifle Association.

Initially won through a positive ruling by the United States District Court in San Diego, the state quickly appealed — and Judge Benitez was forced to stay his ruling to allow the purchase of magazines holding more than 10 rounds of ammunition until the appeal was made to the Ninth Circuit. CRPA's legal team quickly answered the State's appeal and presented oral arguments.

"Today's decision in Duncan v. Becerra is a major victory for the Second Amendment, both in California and across the country," said Chuck Michel, president and General Counsel of the California Rifle & Pistol Association.

In its case, CRPA demonstrated how prohibiting law-abiding citizens from manufacturing, obtaining, selling, transferring, or even possessing standard-issue magazines for firearms violates the constitution.

"After years of fighting, the Court decided in favor of our plaintiffs' challenge against the state's ban on standard capacity magazines that hold more than 10 rounds," said Michel.

The court noted that the state's efforts to ban these magazines does not pass the strict scrutiny or intermediate scrutiny tests and is a heavy burden on the Second Amendment rights of Californians.

"This is a huge win specifically for the right to possess these valuable self-defense tools. But more generally, this case may present the Supreme Court with an opportunity to set things straight on the underlying issue of what the standard of review test should be when considering any Second Amendment challenge," Michel said. "The Supreme Court seems inclined to do away with the complicated subjective tests that many courts have wrongly applied in Second Amendment cases, in favor of a clearer more objective "originalist" approach that considers the text, history and tradition of a law to determine what infringements might be tolerated," he concluded.

CRPA continues to fight in nearly a dozen major court battles to protect and defend the Second Amendment in California.

Founded in 1875, the California Rifle & Pistol Association provides training in the safe, responsible, and enjoyable use of firearms; sanctions competitive shooting state championships; and fights for the Constitutional right to keep and bear arms for those who choose to own a gun in California for sport, hunting, or self-defense. California's Crisis of Competence

By Dan Walters,
Cal Matters

Year by year and article by article, Ralph Vartabedian has revealed to Californians the woeful shortcomings of the state's largest public works project, a north-south bullet train.

Vartabedian, a writer for the Los Angeles Times, has made a virtual career of uncovering the project's managerial, financial and political failings, lending factual credence to the conclusion that the wisest course would be to cut our losses and give it up.

Although the project enjoyed strong personal support from two previous governors, Arnold Schwarzenegger and Jerry Brown, Gov. Gavin Newsom came very close to calling it quits when he took office 19 months ago — then backtracked and proposed a modified version that's still unrealistic.

Vartabedian's latest revelation in the Times underscores that fact, describing that "a series of errors by contractors and consultants on the California bullet train venture caused support cables to fail on a massive bridge, triggering an order to stop work that further delayed a project already years behind schedule..."

"Hundreds of pages of documents obtained by the Times under a public records request show the steel supports snapped as a result of neglect, work damage, miscommunications and possible design problems."

"High-strength steel strands supporting the 636-foot-long structure began to snap on Oct. 22, one after another," Vartabedian wrote. "Ultimately, 23 of the strands, which are composed of seven individual wires each, broke unexpectedly, according to rail authority documents and officials. The order to stop work was issued Nov. 4.

"A forensic engineering analysis, obtained by the Times, found that the strands corroded from rainwater that had leaked into the internal structure of the bridge and then broke."

Vartabedian quotes Robert Bea, emeritus professor of civil engineering at UC Berkeley and co-founder of its Center for Catastrophic Risk Management, as calling it "a horrible sequence of mistakes."

Vartabedian's article not only once again demonstrates that the bullet train is a multi-billion-dollar boondoggle, but exemplifies why a vigorous and unshackled press is invaluable in overseeing the conduct of public officials.

Unfortunately, the failings of the bullet train that Vartabedian has so consistently and thoroughly revealed are also emblematic of a larger malaise: the erosion of competence in a state government that once prided itself on doing big things well.

California once built highways, bridges, university campuses, dams, canals and other public works quickly and efficiently. It even dispatched its crack highway engineers to other nations to provide can-do advice.

Those days are long gone. For example, it took two decades, with huge cost overruns, to replace one-third of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge even though building the entire bridge originally took just four years in the 1930s.

The bullet train's managerial shortcomings are also reflected in recent meltdowns in the Department of Motor Vehicles and the Employment Development Department, largely due to managerial neglect of their outmoded information technology systems, a condition that plagues numerous other state agencies.

The underlying syndrome is the obsession among bureaucrats and their political overseers with short-term actions to get public attention while ignoring consequences and long-term issues.

The bullet train is a prime example. It was launched without a well-thought-out plan, without complete financing, without an effective organizational structure — and without a valid factual need. The folks in charge have been making it up as they go along and the result has been a disaster.

It's something to ponder every time a politician proposes some grand scheme, such as the universal health care system that Newsom often touts. Why should we believe it would be any more functional than the DMV, EDD or the bullet train?

Speaker is Sent Letter for Oversight Hearing and Investigation of COVID-19 "Data Glitch"

Kevin Kiley

By Joshua Hoover,
Office of Assemblymember
Kevin Kiley

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - Assemblyman Kevin Kiley (R-Rocklin) submitted a letter to Assembly

Speaker Anthony Rendon calling for an immediate joint oversight hearing and investigation of the recent COVID-19 "data glitch."

The letter requests that a hearing include testimony from Governor Gavin Newsom himself, as well as former Public Health Director Sonia Angell, who resigned from her position Sunday evening.

"Oversight is a vital role of the Legislature, never more so than in the wake of a failure by the Executive branch that could impact the lives and livelihoods of 40 million Californians," Kiley said. "To restore public confidence, it is critical that the Legislature determine the full extent of the state's COVID-19 'data glitch' and receive a full account of the steps taken to assure we now have accurate data to guide decision-making."

Assemblyman Kevin Kiley represents the 6th Assembly District, which includes the Sacramento, Placer, and El Dorado County communities of Cameron Park, El Dorado Hills, Fair Oaks, Folsom, Granite Bay, Lincoln, Loomis, Orangevale, Penryn, Rocklin, Roseville, and Sheridan. ★
