First Generation Farmers Return to their Roots

City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - In 2018, husband and wife, Greg and Alex Kerekez returned home to Rancho Cordova after living in San Jose where they attended college in the years after they graduated from Cordova High School. After returning home, they soon founded their urban organic farm, Rancho Roots.

Located in the historic Hachiya Persimmon Orchard just behind the Cordova Baptist Church and Preschool on Coloma Road, Rancho Roots is home to a variety of culinary herbs, fruits and leafy greens such as rainbow chard and kale. The farm is also home to quail, chickens, and even 40 rabbits who play a particularly special role in their farming process.

"We like to say that we are bunny owned and operated. And they really are great companions," said Alex.

Early on in their farming journey, Greg and Alex learned that to make sure the soil had proper nutrients to continue to produce well, they needed a healthy, organic compost. After some trial and error, further research led them to rabbits. The rabbits live in hutches constructed from completely repurposed materials and help by eating the remains of crops after they've been harvested, and provide healthy manure for an organic compost that feeds the next crop.

Alex and Greg practice a regenerative agricultural philosophy which mimics nature and feeds the soil naturally to produce all organic crops. In fact, the farm, which is on two-thirds of an acre, is planted underneath and between the existing orchard's rows.

You can visit Greg and Alex (and the bunnies) at the Rancho Roots Farm Stand every Saturday from 9 AM - 1 PM and every Tuesday from 2 PM - 6 PM at 10527 Coloma Road. Learn more about Rancho Roots at RanchoRoots.com or find them on Instagram at @RanchoRoots. ★

Licenses for Drivers 70 and Older are Extended

California Department of Motor Vehicles

SACRAMENTO, CA (MPG) - The California Department of Motor Vehicles is providing an automatic one-year extension to Californians age 70 and older with a noncommercial driver license with an expiration date between March 1 and December 31, 2020. This action delays the requirement for this population to visit a DMV office during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The DMV previously provided 120-day extensions to senior drivers with noncommercial licenses expiring in March through July. While the new extensions are automatic, drivers will not receive a new card or paper extension in the mail. As an option, drivers can request a free temporary paper extension online beginning July 15 through DMV's Virtual Field Office to document the extension, though it is not needed to drive. Californians with a suspended license are not eligible.

California law requires drivers age 70 and older to visit a DMV field office to renew their license but gives the DMV authority to issue extensions. The DMV has alerted California law enforcement of the extensions. The TSA accepts driver licenses for a year after the expiration date.

Commercial licenses, including those for drivers 70 and older, expiring between March and September are extended through September 30, 2020, to align with federal guidelines.

The one-year extension for senior drivers is the latest action to help Californians avoid or delay a DMV office visit during the COVID-19 pandemic. The DMV has issued extensions for expiring driver licenses and permits, expanded eligibility to renew a driver license or identification card online or by mail, and created new digital options for transactions that previously required an in-person office visit. The DMV continues to streamline its processes to limit the time customers spend at an office. Customers are encouraged to fill out the online application and upload their documents before they come to the office. The DMV is also contemplating other ways to safely serve seniors.

Summary of California Driver License extensions:

Age 70 & older (noncommercial) expiring between March-December of 2020 - Extended one year from original expiration date; Age 69 &

In addition, under the measure's definition of "real property used for commercial agriculture," fixtures and improvements such as irrigation systems, barns, tasting rooms and even fruit trees would be subject to reassessment, exposing the agricultural sector to a wave of new and higher taxes. Additionally, the nonpartisan Legislative Analyst's Office review of Prop. 15 indicates that rural areas may end up losing money overall if the initiative passes, even as their agricultural interests pay more in taxes, providing a double blow

Lincoln Village Neighborhood Celebrates New Monument Sign

City of Rancho Cordova

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - On Wednesday, July 8, the installation of the new Lincoln Village neighborhood monument sign was complete. The project was supported by a Community Enhancement Fund (CEF) grant that was awarded to two Rancho Cordova residents, Fayzah Mughal and Michael Dack, who are neighbors in the Lincoln Village neighborhood.

“We wanted to show that we are proud to be a part of Rancho Cordova. We also wanted something that would not only act as an identifier for our community, but something that would generate a sense of pride,” said Fayzah.

After the CEF grant was awarded, Michael came up with a design concept for the monument by visiting local schools and other neighboring monument signs. With help from city staff and members of the It Takes a Lincoln Village (ITLV) neighborhood group, a finalized design was complete, and the sign was well on its way.

“We were really pleased with the amount of support we received from the City Council and from city staff,” said Michael. “It was very reassuring to know that we had their support,” he added.

The monument is located on Routier Road just north of Vanguard Drive.

The City of Rancho Cordova’s CEF is supported by Measure H, a half-cent tax measure that was voter-approved by Rancho Cordova citizens in 2014. To learn more about CEF, visit CityofRanchoCordova.org/CommunityEnhancementFund. ★

Cordova Graduate Authors COVID Survivor’s Thriller

Book Trailer
by Patrick Larenas

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA (MPG) - DM Coffman’s newest novel in the Net thriller series, The Panama Contagion, expands and updates the reader’s COVID-19 experience far and up close to the United States through an insider’s perspective into China’s complex, technical, military and political spheres. The Cordova High graduate, a survivor of several coronaviruses in her years living there, follows the suspenseful and inspiring survival of a family navigating during the turmoil unleashed from biochemical assailants and how it ultimately shaped their family relationships—and intensified romantic life — earning the book 5 stars from Readers’ Favorite.

Book reviewer Viga Boland said, “When you read a book as intricately plotted, with as many characters and as much technical and political information as depicted in The Panama Contagion, you wonder how the author knows so much about China.”

Coffman captures the vision of career Americans abroad and returning home, drawing from her experience of working in China. She says that her inspiration “did not come as a result of current events. It has been 19 years in the making.” She gathers extensive insight into how another great nation handles international hostilities present, and perhaps future, from the author’s first-hand experience of hospitalizations, restrictive measures and how government cover-ups impact world populations.

In her former capacity as an editor and consultant, Coffman’s breath of erudition and knowledge played an important role in informing China’s Ministry of Education, aiding in the publication of educational texts and now brings this very relevant, revealing information to America’s fictional readership.

Coffman’s time teaching law in China for the World Trade Organization gained her the staggering technical specialization and understanding to the existing global pandemic. By way of the Judicial Training Program for university students at Peking University with Brigham Young University, she has been influencing and been influenced by China’s next generation, adding new themes for the novel’s fresh and suspenseful development.

The Panama Contagion helps the reader visualize, compare and contrast how great nations strive to control and react in emergencies and the international theater. There is a great deal of interest in this topic considering the present situation especially for those wanting to remember a writer who still considers Rancho Cordova her home.

And Another Thing

There are so many basic rules and regulations that most of you are aware of

By Bob McGarvey

Have you noticed that for the last couple of months, most of the news in the “news media” is about coronavirus? I pay attention to the virus, but I also pay attention to other things in life, like bicycles. Especially when I’m driving down the road, and suddenly, there is someone on a bicycle who is riding on the wrong side of the road and not paying attention. I can imagine a head-on collision with that bicycle, and the picture is not pretty. I looked up some the non-motorized vehicle rules about riding a bicycle today, and they haven’t changed much from when I was riding one. The only real problem is that too many people are ignoring the non-motorized vehicle rules. For example, when there are bike lanes on the road, bicyclists must travel on the right side of the road-way in the direction of traffic. The other day, I had five bicyclists in a row on my side of the road going the wrong way. That was scary. A while back, I was going south on Zinfandel Drive, and I suddenly had to stop because a girl on a bicycle on Pedro Way had crossed Zinfandel Drive without stopping at the stop sign. She was hit by a car. Fortunately, they were both going fairly slow, but she was sitting along the side of the road after being hit and being cared for by the driver who hit her. They were waiting for the ambulance, and fortunately, she was awake and talking when they took her to the hospital. At night, bicyclists should have lights and reflectors and... There are so many basic rules and regulations that most of you are aware of, and I hope the kids who are taught what to do when on the road will pay attention to them. On occasion we talk about the weather, but it can be much more important than some people think. My wife and I think of Atlantic basin hurricanes and pay attention to the information because two of our children live in Florida and the first Atlantic tropical storm was given the name of Arthur. Many residents who live here have family members and friends who live back East, and they watch the weather too. I found a note online that said, “Hurricanes are given names according to a formal system that is managed by the World Meteorological Organization, not The Old Farmer’s Almanac.” Hopefully, none of us will have to worry about our family and/or friends as the hurricane season progresses. From Councilman Bob McGarvey, God bless, and we’ll see you next time. ★

Wildlife officers patrol with trucks, off road utility vehicles, personal watercraft, large patrol vessels, snowmobiles and aircraft. They work undercover, conduct surveillances and complete in-depth investigations, including writing and serving search warrants. CDFW’s Law Enforcement Division has numerous specialized teams and assignments including K-9, wildlife trafficking, cannabis enforcement, marine patrol, and oil spill prevention and response. Successful applicants for warden cadet will attend a POST-certified law enforcement training academy, conducted by CDFW at Butte College in Oroville. Following the academy, probationary wildlife officers will work with seasoned field training officers for several months, where they will learn to apply their training in practical circumstances ★

PG&E Offers Personalized Emergency Plan Tool for Customers

By Brandi Merlo, Pacific Gas and Electric Company

SAN FRANCISCO, CA (MPG) - Whether it’s earthquakes, wildfires, winter storms, health pandemic or power outages, Californians need to be prepared for any emergency or disaster. That’s why Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) has launched a new tool on our online Safety Action Center that helps customers be prepared. By using the “Make Your Own Emergency Plan” tool and answering a few short questions, visitors to the website can compile and organize the important information needed for a family’s personalized emergency plan. This includes important phone numbers, escape routes and a family meeting location if an evacuation is necessary. It also includes reminders to check smoke-detector batteries and when to practice your family emergency drills. Once completed, the personal emergency plan can be printed and shared with the rest of the family. “Wildfire season in California had started. We want to help our customers and communities prepare for a wildfire, a safety power shutoff or a natural disaster,” said Laurie Giammona, PG&E chief customer officer and a senior vice president. “That’s why we have created the Safety Action Center. And we know that each customers’ situation is unique, which is why this new tool lets customers create a personal emergency plan that works for them and their families.” The Safety Action Center was launched in 2019 and includes videos, quizzes, step-by-step guides and tips to help keep families safe during wildfires, earthquakes, power outages and other emergency situations. On the site, you’ll find: Ten tips to keep cool during a heat wave; A video that shows you the six steps to put together an emergency kit; Tips on how to prepare for a power shutoff; Advice on creating defensible space around your house; How to help your community during the COVID-19 health crisis; And much more. The Safety Action Center is just one of many ways that PG&E is working to mitigate wildfire risk and enhance public safety as part of the Community Wildfire Safety Program. To learn more about safety progress so far in 2020 as well as how PG&E is going to make any needed Public Safety Power Shutoffs smaller in the number of customers impacted, shorter in duration and smarter by integrating new technology, visit the Safety Action Center at safetyactioncenter.pge.com. ★

DEMAND JUSTICE

Victims of sexual abuse by Catholic clergy have rights.

While nothing can undo you or your loved one's pain of abuse, many states are giving victims a short time to recover compensation from their abusers and the institutions that enabled them.

If you or someone you love were sexually assaulted by a priest or clergy member, you no longer need to suffer in silence.

TOGETHER WE CAN HOLD THEM ACCOUNTABLE.

GOLDEN STATE WATER COMPANY'S
NOTICE OF APPLICATION
REQUESTING TO INCREASE RATES
ARDEN CORDOVA SERVICE AREA
(APPLICATION NO. 20-07-012)

On July 15, 2020, Golden State Water Company (GSWC) filed what is known as a "General Rate Case" (GRC) application with the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC). The application filing by GSWC requests to increase rates over a three-year period, covering the years 2022 through 2024. This request to increase rates would be effective beginning January 1, 2022.

Why is GSWC requesting this rate increase?
The CPUC requires GSWC to submit a GRC application every three-years. GSWC is requesting authorization to increase revenues in the Arden Cordova service area by $2,876,700 (or 19.03%) for 2022, $622,600 (or 3.44%) in 2023, and $691,600 (or 3.66%) in 2024. The total requested increase for all three years combined would be $4,190,900 (or 26.13%).

The purpose of this GRC is for GSWC to cover its anticipated costs from 2022 through 2024 for improvements to the water supply system, federal income tax, property taxes and cost for other operating expenses (such as lab fees for testing and conservation, etc.)

On May 27, 2020, GSWC filed Advice Letter No. 1818-V with the CPUC regarding the acquisition of Sutter County Water Works District No. 1's (WWD1) Robbins Water System (Robbins). GSWC will provide service and water supply for Robbins customers and they will be served through the Arden-Cordova Customer Service Area. The acquisition of Robbins, which is reflected in this application, does not increase the rates requested for the existing Arden Cordova customers.

How could this affect my monthly bill?
If the proposed application is approved by the CPUC, the average residential customer with a 5/8 x 3/4" meter using 13 Ccf would see a monthly bill increase of $6.96 (or 18.76%), from $37.10 to $44.06 in 2022. In 2023 the average residential customer would see a monthly bill increase of $1.54 (or 3.50%), from $44.06 to $45.60, and a monthly bill increase of $1.70 (or 3.73%), from $45.60 to $47.30 in 2024, excluding any applicable surcharges.

How does the rest of the process work?
This application will be assigned to a judge, who will consider proposals and evidence presented during the formal hearing process. The judge will issue a proposed decision which may adopt GSWC's application, modify it, or deny it. Any CPUC Commissioner may sponsor an alternate decision. The proposed decision, and any alternate decisions, will be discussed and voted upon by the CPUC Commissioners.

The Public Advocates Office may review this application. The Public Advocates Office is the independent consumer advocate within the CPUC with a statutory mandate to represent customers of investor-owned utilities to obtain the lowest possible rate for service consistent with safe and reliable service and the state's environmental policy goals. Social Security Matters

About Working While Collecting Social Security

By Russell Gloor,
AMAC Certified Social Security Advisor

Dear Rusty: In 2019 I was out of work for an extended period. I was eligible to begin receiving retirement benefits (at age 63) and started to do so in August. My part time job was limited so it did not conflict with my Social Security amount, but in October through the end of 2019 I went back to my old industry at four times the pay rate. My understanding is that I will need to pay Social Security back about $1.40 for every benefit dollar they have paid me while I worked at the higher wage. When and how is that paid?
Signed: Part Time Again

Dear Part Time Again: If you started your Social Security benefits in August of last year at age 63, for the remainder of 2019 you were subject to the "first year rule" which means you had a monthly earnings limit of $1,470 after your benefit started. If you exceeded that monthly limit starting in October of 2019 and for the rest of the year, you won't be entitled to benefits for the months of October, November and December. Social Security will consider that an overpayment, and they will want you to repay all those benefits to them. However, if it would be to your advantage to do so, you can request that Social Security use the annual earnings limit for 2019, instead of the monthly limit. For example, if using the 2019 annual earnings limit ($17,640) would result in a smaller impact to your benefits, Social Security may accommodate your request to use the annual limit. Depending upon your total earnings in 2019, you may want to consider asking that the annual earnings limit be used, instead of the monthly limit, when determining your 2019 impact for exceeding the earnings limit.

Starting in 2020 you'll be subject to an annual limit of $18,240 (limit changes yearly). If you exceed the annual limit, SS will take back benefits equal to $1 for every $2 you are over the limit. If you've again stopped working at the higher amount, and now only working part-time and won't earn more than $18,240 for this year, you'll not be subject to the annual limit. But exceeding the 2019 monthly limit last year will still affect you.

You will receive a form from Social Security asking you to specify your 2019 income month by month for the months you were receiving benefits. Since you exceeded the monthly limit from October through December, they'll be asking you to repay all of the benefits you received for those months. They will give you the option of either repaying them in full in a lump sum, or they will recover what you owe by withholding your monthly benefits until the overpayment is satisfied. That will mean you'll go some months without benefits, the number of months dependent upon your monthly benefit amount and how much you owe them. Remember, you have the option to request the annual limit if it will benefit you.

Though you'll lose benefits for some number of months now, when you reach your full retirement age (66 years and 4 months) they will automatically give you time credit for the number of months they withheld benefits and move your SS claim date forward. That will increase your monthly benefit amount slightly, and you'll get that slightly higher benefit for the rest of your life.

One final point: In the year you reach your full retirement age the annual earnings limit will go up by about 2.5 times and the penalty for exceeding it will be less ($1 for every $3 over the limit). And when you reach your full retirement age the earnings limit goes away entirely.

Aerojet Rocketdyne Completes its Propulsion for NASA’s Artemis II Mission

By Mary Engola,
Aerojet Rocketdyne

EL SEGUNDO, CA (MPG) - Aerojet Rocketdyne recently completed all of its propulsion hardware for the first crewed flight of NASA’s Space Launch System (SLS) rocket and Orion spacecraft. The engines and motors, which Aerojet Rocketdyne produces at its major space operations sites across the country, will support NASA’s Artemis II mission. The Artemis II mission is the second flight of SLS and Orion and the first to send an astronaut crew to fly around the Moon.

“These are very exciting times for both NASA and the nation,” said Eileen Drake, Aerojet Rocketdyne CEO and president. “The United States is sending humans beyond low Earth orbit for the first time in nearly 50 years, and we are traveling even farther with Artemis than we did with Apollo.”

Four Aerojet Rocketdyne RS-25 engines collectively provide two million pounds of thrust to power the core stage of SLS, the world’s most powerful rocket. The company completed upgrading the Artemis II RS-25 engines with advanced components and controllers in November 2019. Engine assembly and testing was completed at Aerojet Rocketdyne’s facility at NASA’s Stennis Space Center in Mississippi, and all four engines are ready for integration with the Artemis II core stage.

Aerojet Rocketdyne’s RL10 engine powers the Interim Cryogenic Propulsion Stage (ICPS), or the second stage, of the SLS. This engine provides the power to accelerate the Orion spacecraft to speeds over 24,000 miles per hour and set it on a course for the Moon. Design, manufacture, assembly and test of the RL10 engine for the Artemis II mission took place at Aerojet Rocketdyne’s West Palm Beach facility in Florida. The engine is ready for installation on the ICPS being manufactured by Boeing and United Launch Alliance in Decatur, Alabama.

Aerojet Rocketdyne provides a number of propulsion systems for the Lockheed Martin-built Orion crew module and the European Service Module that will be used on the Artemis II mission. The biggest of these is the jettison motor which generates 40,000 pounds of thrust for the Launch Abort System (LAS). The jettison motor pulls the LAS off the crew module during both nominal operations and abort modes. Qualification testing was conducted at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Alabama, and assembly of the Artemis II motor was completed in October 2019 at Aerojet Rocketdyne’s facility in Orange, Virginia, and delivered to Lockheed Martin in February 2020.

Once in space, the Orion Main Engine (OME) on the service module will maneuver the spacecraft. Aerojet Rocketdyne is the original manufacturer of the OME, which was originally built and used for the space shuttle program. In March 2019, Aerojet Rocketdyne provided key valve and thermal components to NASA to complete the refurbishment of the Artemis II OME.

Also aboard Orion, Aerojet Rocketdyne is responsible for eight auxiliary engines on the service module and 12 reaction control thrusters on the crew module. The auxiliary engines, built in Redmond, Washington, each generate 110 pounds of thrust to provide position control while backing up the OME for required thrust. They were provided in March 2019 to Lockheed Martin for shipment to Europe for integration into the service module.

The reaction control system thrusters, also built in Redmond, each generating 160 pounds of thrust, will be used to control and properly orient the Orion crew module during its atmospheric reentry. Those thrusters were delivered in March 2020.

“The Artemis II mission will be the first time the Space Launch System and Orion will send astronauts into orbit around the Moon, and it is a key precursor to landing the first woman and the next man on the Moon,” added Drake. “Aerojet Rocketdyne propulsion systems will play a critical role in making this endeavor a reality.” ★
